Officials with the Salvation Army were out Friday evening setting up Angel Trees in hope shoppers will aid in providing a merry Christmas for area children and seniors.

On the trees, which are located at Walmart, Heritage Museum and Scenic Mountain Medical Center, are tags with the names, age and gift wish list of area children or seniors in need of a Christmas gift. People who want to help can take a tag, purchase a present, write the code located on the Angel tag on the unwrapped present and bring it back to the business or the Salvation Army.

"Clothing is very important," said SA Capt. Missy Romack. "Most of these children are very satisfied and happy at just having a gift for Christmas. A lot of the parents have lost their jobs or are barely making ends meet. This is just extra help for them. The bit they give them makes a big difference. A little goes a long way. They are actually giving hope to the child that things are

The first of these events will be Friday evening, when the local VA Medical Center hosts its annual tree lighting ceremony at 6 p.m.

Chamber toy drive continues

Herald Staff Report

As holiday shoppers are out taking advantage of deals, the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce hopes they add a few extra toys in the basket to help children who may not have a present on Christmas Day.

Toys are still being accepted for the Chamber's annual Toy Drive through Friday, Dec. 12.

The drive collects new, unwrapped toys for boys and girls ages 2 to 18. When the drive is done, the toys are dispersed to four organizations — CASA, the Cossacks Motorcycle Club,

Kurdish civilians endure battles with IS in hopes of rebuilding lives

KOBANI, Syria (AP) — One of the few signs of life in this northern Syria border town is the old bakery, revived by Kurdish fighters battling the Islamic State group.

Closed down for some 20 years, the production line now bakes two tons of doughy bread every day to energize the fighters and feed the spatter of civilians left behind.

"We came and fixed up (the bakery) for use in these difficult times," said Fathi Misiro, a fighter with the People's Protection Units, or YPG, who works in the bakery. "Ten days ago...it was worse here. We've been helping people and sending bread to them daily."

An exclusive report shot by a videojournalist inside Kobani late last month offered a rare, in-depth glimpse of the destruction that more than two months of fighting has inflicted on the Kurdish town in northern Syria by the Turkish border.

Outside the bakery, children playfully jump in and out of foxholes — barely fazed by the thunderous explosions nearby. Kobani as it was has been virtually erased. Rubble is all that remains of people's homes and their memories. Shops are gutted. Schools are flattened.

Ferguson mayor: No severance package for Wilson

FERGUSON, Mo. (AP) — Ferguson police Officer Darren Wilson did not receive a severance package when he resigned over the weekend, the St. Louis suburb's mayor said Sunday.

Wilson, 28, won't receive any further pay or benefits, and he and the city have cut their ties, Mayor James Knowles told reporters a day after Wilson tendered his resignation, which was effective immediately.

Wilson, who is white, had been on administrative leave since he killed Michael Brown, an unarmed black 18-year-old, during an Aug. 9 confrontation. A grand jury decided Monday not to indict him, sparking days of sometimes violent protests in Ferguson and other cities.

Wilson wrote in his resignation letter that his "continued employment may put the residents and police officers of the City of Ferguson at risk, which is a circumstance I cannot allow."

His lawyer, Neil Bruntrager, told The Associated Press that Wilson decided to step aside after police Chief Tom Jackson told him about the alleged threats on Saturday.

"The information we had was that there would be actions targeting the Ferguson (police) department or buildings in Ferguson related to the police department," Bruntrager said. Benjamin Crump, an attorney for Brown's family, said Wilson's resignation was not a surprise.

"It was always believed that the police officer would do what was in his best interest, both personally and professionally," Crump said. "We didn't believe that he would be able to be effective for the Ferguson community nor the Ferguson Police Department because of the tragic circumstances that claimed the life of Michael Brown Jr."

Reed Voorhees said he hoped Wilson could find similar work "someplace where he would enjoy life, and move on with his life."

Wilson has spent his career as a police officer, first in neighboring Jennings, then in Ferguson. Bruntrager said it's all he's ever wanted to do.

Afghan president to overhaul security by firing military, civilian leaders

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Facing an intensified Taliban insurgency, Afghan President Ashraf Ghani plans to fire senior civilian and military leaders in the country's most volatile provinces to reinvigorate the battle against militants, officials have told The Associated Press.

Already, Kabul police chief Gen. Mohammad Zahir has resigned following a string of attacks in the capital over three days that killed four foreigners — including an employee of the British embassy — and several Afghan civilians. Officials and diplomats who spoke to the AP say Ghani next will remove governors and generals in five provinces where the Taliban have held territory for years.

With Afghan security forces suffering high casualties in the run-up to the official Dec. 31 end of the U.S. and NATO combat mission, the newly elected president is eager to chart a new course. But the question remains of what effect the shake-up will ultimately have in a war-torn country mired in corruption and riven by complex ethnic and tribal rivalries.

Supreme Court to consider free speech rights on Facebook

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is weighing the free-speech rights of people who use violent or threatening language on Facebook and other social media.

The justices will hear arguments Monday in the case of a man who was sentenced to nearly four years in prison for posting graphically violent rap lyrics on Facebook about killing his estranged wife, shooting up a kindergarten class and attacking an FBI agent.

Anthony Elonis of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, says he was just venting his anger over a broken marriage and never meant to threaten anyone.

But his wife didn't see it that way, and neither did federal prosecutors. A jury convicted Elonis of violating a federal law that makes it a crime to threaten another person. A federal appeals court rejected his claim that his comments were protected by the First Amendment.

Republican education committee leaders seek to fix outdated law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The No Child Left Behind education law could be making a political comeback.

Sen. Lamar Alexander, the Tennessee Republican who is the incoming chairman of the Senate committee overseeing education, says his top education priority is fixing the landmark Bush-era law. His goal? Get a bill signed by President Barack Obama early next year.

Doing so will require bipartisanship that's been elusive since the law, primarily designed to help minority and poor children, came up for renewal in 2007.

The law requires schools to show annual growth in student achievement or face consequences, with all students expected to be proficient in reading and math this year. It has been credited with shining a light on how schools handle minority, low-income, English learners and special needs students, but led to complaints that teachers were teaching to standardized tests and that mandates were unrealistic.

Awards will be presented in the following categories: Best of Show (best interpretation of the parade's theme of "Yeehaw! A Texas Christmas!"); best use of lighting; and best costuming.

For more information, contact the Herald at 263-7331.

The Living Christmas Tree

This Big Spring holiday tradition will hold its 36th rendition at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at First United Methodist Church.

The event is free to the public, but tickets must be obtained at the church office. A dress rehearsal at 2 p.m. Saturday also is open to the public and no ticket is required for that performance.

The Living Christmas Tree, for the uninitiated, is exactly that — a 2,000-pound Christmas tree populated by more than 130 singers dressed as ornaments.

While the event will be familiar to those who have attended before, the program is tweaked every year to provide something new. Aside from long-time classics, newer holiday standards will be performed.

For more information, contact the church office at 267-6394.

Breakfast With Santa

Santa and Mrs. Claus will be stopping at the Heritage Museum Saturday.

This won't just be a normal stop though, the Claus' will be having breakfast with the children of Big Spring, helping them decorate a gingerbread house and Christmas ornaments.

Later that day, the museum will hold its annual Parade Watching Party beginning at 4:30 p.m.

To make reservations, call the museum at 267-8255 or send an email to heritagemus@gmail.com.

Eddleman runs for 6 TDs in loss to Loraine

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

ROBERT LEE – The Sands High School Mustangs saw their 2014 football season come to a stunning end on Saturday evening at Griffith Stadium as Loraine rallied from an early deficit to claim an 82-70 victory in the Class A, Division II state quarterfinal round.

Loraine reeled off a 34-point run in the third quarter and then held off a late SHS threat to claim the victory – and earn the program's first-ever trip to the state semifinals.

With the loss, Sands finished the year at 6-7.

Sands, one of the state's highest-scoring teams over the last month, got off to a quick start against Loraine. The Mustangs scored on their first two possessions of the game and built a quick 14-0 cushion.

Dylan Tindol capped Sands' first scoring drive by catching a 20-yard touchdown pass from Will McMorris. Tindol's reception capped a quick 3-play, 44-yard run that lasted a mere 1 minute and 27 seconds.

Moments later, after forcing Loraine to turn the ball over on downs on its own 28, Dayton Eddleman plunged into the end zone for the first of his six rushing TDs and put Sands up by two touchdowns with just 2:30 having expired off the game clock.

Loraine, now 8-5 overall, managed to recover from there. The Bulldogs garnered a 36-yard run from Sebastian Benivamondez and a 12-yard romp from Patrick Tillis in the fourth quarter.

Tillis finished the game with 288 yards rushing in 18 attempts.

Sands answered the Bulldogs' offensive firepower with a burst of its own. On the second play of the second quarter, Eddleman finished off a 7-play, 41-yard drive with a 2-yard scoring run with 9:12 left in the half.

Following a 41-yard TD pass from Tillis to Benivamondez that gave Loraine a 24-22 lead – just 9 seconds after Eddleman's run, the Mustangs went back to work. Sands scored on its next possession, grabbing a 30-24 advantage on an 11-yard TD reception by Tindol.

Eddleman tacked on a 26-yard scoring run later in the frame and gave Sands a 38-24 cushion with 1:06 left in the opening half.

Tillis cut the Mustangs' lead to six, at 38-32, seconds later when he returned the SHS kickoff 49 yards for a TD.

Loraine, which finished the game with 412 total yards, scored on all four of its possessions in the third quarter and rallied for a narrow 60-54 lead.

Both of Sands' third-quarter touchdowns came on runs of 1 and 18 yards by Eddleman, who finished the affair with a game-high 298 yards on 18 carries.

The Bulldogs caught a break late in the third, ending a SHS threat at their own 30 by recovering a Sands fumble. Seven plays later, Tillis opened the fourth quarter of play by tossing an 11-yard TD pas to Oscar Gonzales that put the Loraine up 66-54.

The Mustangs didn't go down quietly. Backed by an offense that averaged almost 75 points per game over the past five weeks of play, Sands rallied back. Eddleman tossed a 5-yard scoring strike to Austin Nichols on Sands' next series and cut Loraine's lead to 66-62.

Eddleman finished the game by completing 15 of his 29 passing attempts for 145 yards.

As a team, the Mustangs moved the ball almost at will against Loraine. Sands rolled up a game-high 30 first downs and 507 total yards.

Unfortunately for Sands, the Loraine offense moved with ease, too. Loraine scored on all seven of its second-half possessions, including two in the final 5:03 of play that enabled it to weather Sands' late push.

Tindol led all SHS receivers by catching seven passes for 90 yards.

AP: Clemson's Morris to become SMU coach

Clemson offensive coordinator Chad Morris will be SMU's new football coach, a person familiar with the school's decision told The Associated Press on Sunday.

The person spoke on condition of anonymity because the school had a news conference planned Monday to introduce the new head coach.

The Mustangs (0-11) have one game left in a dreadful season, during which coach June Jones stepped down after two games. They've been outscored 441-97 and end the season next Saturday at Connecticut.

The 45-year-old Morris is a Texas native and longtime high school coach in the state, including at Stephenville High School. He has been Clemson's offensive coordinator since 2011 and is one of the highest paid assistants in college football.

Big Spring's Erin Pollard was recently named to the Texas Girls Coaches Association' all-state volleyball team for the second time. She helped lead BSMS to the Class 4A regional tournament.

Lady Steers' Pollard named to TGCA all-state volleyball team

By TOMMY WELLS
Sports Editor

Big Spring High School standout Erin Pollard added to her impressive volleyball resume – again – last week, thanks to the Texas Girls Coaches Association.

A senior at BSMS, Pollard was named to the TGCA's all-state volleyball team for the second straight year last week. She was one of just 24

Class 4A players earning the all-state honors by the TGCA.

A multi-sport standout for the Lady Steers, Pollard turned in a stellar season en route to leading Big Spring to the Class 4A regional semifinals despite dealing with a nagging shoulder injury. For the season, she posted 489 kills – a feat which ranked her 13th in Class 4A in total number of kills – and earned the District 2-4A co-MVP accolades.

A three-year starter on the Lady Steers' varsity, the 17-year-old standout was a first-team all-district selection this fall, and was named to the Region I-4A all-tournament squad.

Pollard, who is scheduled to undergo surgery on her shoulder later this month, has signed to play collegiately next season at Western Texas College in Snyder

Lady Hawks drop two games in Kansas

The Howard College Lady Hawks were probably happy to leave Kansas in the rearview mirror this past weekend after dropping a pair of tough games in Arkansas City.

The Lady Hawks saw their recent skid reach four games after dropping decision to Coffeyville Community College and Cowley County Community College.

Howard College kicked off the trip on Friday with a 67-44 loss to Coffeyville Community College. The y suffered a 58-37 loss to Cowley County on Saturday.

With the two losses, the Lady Hawks fell to 4-7 for the season.

HC will kick off Western Junior College Athletic Conference play on Dec. 3 when they host rival Midland College in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The game is scheduled to tip off at 5:45 p.m.

The HC men's team, off to a 9-3 start to the season, will also be in action, starting at 7:45 p.m.

'Hawk Buddies' hoops clinic slated for Dec. 6

The Howard College Lady Hawks' coaching staff will be holding their annual "Hawk Buddies" clinic on Dec. 6 in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. The clinic is open to all area boys and girls in kindergarten through eighth grade.

Registration is $20 per person.

As part of the clinic, each player will receive a Hawk basketball, free admission for all family members to HC home games. Buddies will also be recognized at an upcoming HC game.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

High-Energy
Aries Moon

The Aries moon harmonizes early in the day, first with Mercury in fellow fire-sign Sagittarius and then with the Sagittarius sun. Passions align, missions intertwine and powers converge. Evening brings complications, so get as much accomplished as you can before sundown.

HOLIDAY
MATHIS

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Mischievous ideas will cross your mind. Fooling people can be a fun and affectionate way to give attention, though much will depend on the spirit and cleverness of the trick.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Think of the action you take today as a move you make in a chess game against fate. Strategize first because it's not all about this turn. Think several plays ahead.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). How are you to draw a sufficient conclusion from insufficient evidence? In your sincere desire to be fair to all, you may decide that it's best not to express a definitive answer.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Appearances may lie, but you're still an excellent judge of character, as people show you exactly who they are and where they are coming from through their speech.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Beyond the classrooms of wrong and right, there is a playground where the students work it all out during the recesses of life. Today you'll hit some gray area near the swing set.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). What can't be accomplished via force can come about through a creative approach. An environment that encourages and supports personal expression will be key.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Halfway between two different ideas, you are unlikely to find favor with either side. Ask yourself: In order to do what I want to do, is their approval really necessary?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Beware those who use their remarks to cut people down, even if those remarks are only slightly snarky. With enough strokes, even the smallest ax can cut down a mighty timber.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). This is your day to get organized, and the efforts you make in that regard will make everything else easier. You won't get to everything on your list, but you'll hit the top three, so prioritize carefully.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Because you care deeply for a certain someone and because your imagination is getting an extra dose of star power, you'll express your feelings in eloquent and memorable ways.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Much good comes of your efforts to try to understand how things work and why people do what they do. Later you'll be sharing what you learned, so take notes.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Problems may arise from having too many leaders, tools or methods. Pick what works best, and follow or use only that. You will be empowered by simplicity.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Dec. 1). Whatever the temperature is on your birthday, this year feels like coming in from the cold. In the next seven weeks, you make a disciplined effort toward improving physically, and your mind feels renewed for the effort, too. March brings the chance to reconnect with someone from the past. April is like a romantic rebirth. Aquarius and Scorpio people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 2, 14, 40, 1 and 30.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTIONS: "I'm a Pisces, born March 11, 1964, in New Orleans. I lost my husband five years ago. He was a Cancer. I'm currently in love with another Cancer. It seems every major relationship in my life has been with a Cancer -- and oddly enough, these Cancers have had serious relationships with Pisces women! Will my current boyfriend marry me? Should I marry him if he asks? We've been dating almost two years, but he's never been married, and he has yet to even mention the word "marriage," even though he says he wants to spend the rest of his life with me. My husband asked me to marry him on our first date! These two Cancer men seem to be exact opposites when it comes to commitment."

They're not so opposite. Both made a serious commitment to you. The big issue you are facing with your boyfriend may not be marriage so much as cohabitation. Sharing a home is a big deal for middle-aged Cancer bachelors. Unless you are religiously opposed to moving in together, my advice is to suggest this to your boyfriend as a next step. If you live well together for one year (and I can't see why you wouldn't), then your boyfriend will have no resistance to the idea of getting married.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: In keeping with her fire-sign nature, sharp-tongued Sagittarius Sarah Silverman has a talent for making incendiary remarks and pushing into uncomfortable territory in the name of comedy, liberty, feminism, decency and the many other causes she takes on. With Mercury and Neptune also in Sagittarius, Silverman likely isn't even trying to be a brave trailblazer -- she can't help herself.

Annie's Mailbox

Dear Annie: When my son was a teenager, he attempted suicide three times. My daughter has attempted suicide twice. Her 16-year-old son left a note, but she discovered it and took him to a hospital.

I have moments of complete sadness, but I have never tried to kill myself. Does this suicidal tendency run in families? Is there a "suicide gene"? - Granny to Eleven

Dear Granny: We contacted the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, and here is what they said:

Suicide is often misunderstood. Genetics is only a part of the story. In fact, there is no single cause for suicide. Mental health problems are also a contributor to suicide risk, and they run in families, too. Most people who have a mental illness don't try to kill themselves, but it does put you at a higher risk: Nine out of 10 people who die by suicide have a mental illness at the time of their death. These illnesses are often treatable, but unfortunately, people suffering from illnesses like depression and anxiety do not seek treatment; they think they have to battle these problems on their own. You would not try to fight cancer on your own, so why tackle depression alone?

Suicide attempts -- or even thoughts about killing yourself -- are clear signs of distress, and you should consult a mental health professional as soon as possible. Since your family has a history of attempts, it is especially important that you all stay on top of your mental health by regularly "checking in" with a mental health professional or your doctor, and with each other. You can't make someone suicidal by talking about it, and they may feel relief when you ask.

You can learn more about suicide research and prevention at afsp.org. If you or your family members are in crisis, call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255.

Dear Annie: My husband and I grew up in the Midwest. We moved to Arizona 25 years ago to get out of the cold and snowy winters and hot, sticky summers. We live in a beautiful town.

My pet peeve is that family never comes to visit. They expect us to do all of the traveling in order to see them. Meanwhile, they go on lovely vacations elsewhere and tell us they have limited vacation time and can't get to us. Well, so do we.

I can count on one hand the number of times we have had visitors, and every time it has been for a major event. To our families: Please come visit. You can stay with us, no hotel room needed. We live in a beautiful area. Planes go both ways. Why should we do all the traveling? --

Getting It Off My Chest

Dear Getting: People who move away from their hometown often find that they are expected to return for visits more often, simply because it is "home" and usually there are multiple relatives you can see at the same time. For those same relatives to visit you, it requires planning an individual vacation. We agree that it is unfair, but it's unlikely to change. Make sure your family members know that they are welcome and you'd love to see them. You can't do more than that.

Dear Annie: This is for all of the grandparents who live near their children but don't get to spend as much time with them as they'd like.

My son and daughter-in-law have three young children under the age of 5. I invite them to our home for a meal once a week and offer to bring a meal to their home once a week. This lightens their load and gives us time to visit. And I feel greatly appreciated and have become close to my grandchildren. -- J.

This Date In History

Today is Monday, Dec. 1, the 335th day of 2014. There are 30 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On Dec. 1, 1974, TWA Flight 514, a Washington-bound Boeing 727, crashed in Virginia after being diverted from National Airport to Dulles International Airport; all 92 people on board were killed.

Northwest Orient Airlines Flight 6231, a Boeing 727, crashed near Stony Point, New York, with the loss of its three crew members (the plane had been chartered to pick up the Baltimore Colts football team in Buffalo, New York).

On this date: In 1824, the presidential election was turned over to the U.S. House of Representatives when a deadlock developed between John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, William H. Crawford and Henry Clay. (Adams ended up the winner.)

In 1860, the Charles Dickens novel "Great Expectations" was first published in weekly serial form.

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln sent his Second Annual Message to Congress, in which he called for the abolition of slavery, and went on to say, "Fellow-citizens, we cannot escape history. We of this Congress and this Administration will be remembered in spite of ourselves." In 1921, the Navy flew the first nonrigid dirigible to use helium; the C-7 traveled from Hampton Roads, Virginia, to Washington, D.C.

Stampeders claim Grey Cup with 20-16 win over Cats

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) — Hamilton star Brandon Banks' 90-yard punt return for an apparent go-ahead touchdown with 35 seconds left was wiped out by an illegal block, and the Calgary Stampeders held off the Tiger-Cats 20-16 on Sunday night in the Grey Cup.

Calgary won its seventh Canadian Football League title and first since 2008.

Banks stormed out of the Hamilton locker room as the media waited to get in. Several reporters tried to get a comment, but he kept moving. The former Washington Redskins speedster just looked back and said: "I ain't talking to nobody."

Hamilton linebacker Taylor Reed was penalized for the block.

"I didn't make my block," Reed said. "I made it close enough that they called a penalty on it. That's 100 percent my fault. I've got to be better than that."

Tiger-Cats coach Kent Austin said he couldn't comment.

"You know I can't answer that," Austin said. "And quite frankly I'm not in a position right now to answer that. That's the honest truth. I have to look at the play. I haven't reviewed it. I haven't looked at it on film. But I know a lot of things happen on special teams in this league. A lot of things. Some get called, some don't get called."

Lang leads Texas over No. 4 Vols

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas is turning heads and looking every bit like the powerhouse the program wants to be.

The latest attention-grabber: a dominant 72-59 win over No. 4 Tennessee that the sixth-ranked Longhorns controlled throughout behind forwards Kelsey Lang and Nneka Enemkpali.

Lang scored 18 points and Enemkpali scored 17 as the Longhorns (5-0), snapped a five-game losing streak in the rivalry.

And it was another big step in third-year coach Karen Aston's mission to return the Longhorns among the elite after a decade of struggling to make an impact nationally or in the Big 12. Texas started this season ranked in the Top 10 and backed it up with an impressive victory at then No. 6 Stanford.

"I think it's really big from a confidence standpoint. We have players who have never been in these situations because they are young, or older players who haven't had these kind of wins," Aston said.

Enemkpali, the Longhorns' only senior starter, had never beaten Tennessee. She called the win "amazing."

"I came to Texas in order to be part of a program that I knew would be able to get back to the top," Enemkpali said, while also warning her teammates that it's a long season leading to the NCAA tournament in March.

"We have to remain humble and remember this is just the beginning," she said.

Bashaara Graves scored 15 points for Tennessee (4-2), which has lost two in a row.

Sunday's matchup was the latest in a 36-year-old rivalry that began when Tennessee's Pat Summitt and Texas' Jody Conradt were building their schools into national powers. Summitt visited Austin when a statue of Conradt was dedicated in 2012. Conradt made the trip to Knoxville last year for the dedication of a statue in Summitt's honor.

The Lady Vols had dominated the series in recent years, winning eight of the previous nine meetings, but Texas controlled everything Sunday night, most notably near the basket.

The Longhorns had four players score in double figures and shot 62 percent in the second half. Together, Enemkpali, Lang and Brianna Taylor shot 20 of 26. The Longhorns also had more assists than turnovers.

Bashaara Graves scored 15 points for Tennessee (4-2), which has lost two in a row.

"They (Texas) have a lot more heart than they did last year," Graves said. "They came out real strong. I didn't see that last year."

Texas led 30-20 at half-time behind 12 points from Lang, who had no trouble establishing position under the Lady Vols basket.
