Pesticide Control

submitted by the Schleicher County Extension Agency May 24th to May 28th is estimated to be the best time for Schleicher County to apply pesticide to control the Pecan Nut Casebearer. The pesticides recommended to use are Diazinon 50%wp or 48%ec or Malathion 57%ec.

TEC Seminar Set

submitted by the Community Resource Center

Are you having trouble finding EMPLOYMENT in Eldorado or San Angelo? You may not realize that the Texas Employment Commission offers a free Job Search Seminar to interested individuals. Topics of discussion range from, the Do's and Don'ts for filling out applications; the 45 most commonly asked interview questions; types of resumes that are the most effective in getting you the job interview; where to go to look for the jobs; and much, much more.

TEC will hold the seminar at the Community Resource Center on Friday, May 21, 1993 from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Individuals attending the seminar may also register with the San Angelo TEC if they have not already done so.

Please contact Becky Lux at (915) 853-2574 or drop by the Community Resource Center to sign up before May 21, 1993.

Spring Fling Held

submitted by Marcy Willis

Two hundred anxious middle school students held their breath as names were drawn for over fifty prizes at the Spring Fling last Thursday. Almost $1,000 worth of prizes ranging from beach towels to C-D players were given to lucky students whose names were drawn. Every student who attended the Fling was eligible to win, and being on the honor roll or earning a Citizenship award increased the number of times a student's name was in the big drawing. The top prizes this year went to Shianne Middleton, stereo with C-D player; Michelle Kirkendoll, stereo with cassette player; and Mitzi Lux, portable C-D player.

The prize drawings were not the only fun at the Fling. Students could also compete in tournaments in ping pong, 2 on 2 basketball, washers, and horseshoes. Winning teams were Sundi Nix and Toni Whitten, ping pong; Justin Leggett and Zane Bruce, basketball; and after it was determined that no contestant could be older than the washers, Coach Mitchel and Coach Wink had to relinquish their win to their opponents, Fonzie Covarrubiaz and Lorenzo Pina.

Music for dancing the night away was provided by local d.j.'s Codybill Whitten, Tommy Robledo, and Victor Belman.

The Spring Fling could not have been possible without the hard work of the EMS Student Council members and their parents who helped with the many bake sales to raise money for prizes. The Student Council members would like to recognize the following for their contributions to the Fling: First National Bank, Kathy Mankin, Cardinal Sporting Goods, Dr. Pepper Co., Mrs. Janet Curtis, EES faculty, EMS faculty, and Student Council parents.

FFA Banquet Held

The chapter officers of the Eldorado FFA attended the district banquet held in Sterling City this past Tuesday. Will Edmiston ran for district office and was elected secretary. Landon Neal and Eric McGinnes were selected to represent the Eldorado chapter as voting delegates. Lindsay Johnson, the former district sentinel, completed a successful year as a district officer. District competition banners were also presented at the banquet. Obtaining banners were the Senior Chapter Conducting Team, the Farm Radio Team, and Lindsay Johnson. The Chapter Conducting Team placed 3rd at district, and the Farm Radio Team placed second. Lindsay Johnson was awarded a first place banner in Extemporaneous Speaking. The Eldorado Chapter was represented well this year, and we look for good things from them in the future.

5 Eldoradoans Receive Degrees From ASU

Friday night, May 14, at the San Angelo Coliseum, 571 capped and gowned graduates moved into the arena to receive their degrees at Angelo State University's Spring commencement. Those students from Eldorado receiving degrees are: Craig Allen Griffin, Sandra Sue Short Billingsley, Teresa Ann Sullivan, Jimmy Dan Doyle, and Melinda Lee Hunley.

Craig Allen graduated cum laude, having achieved a grade point average of 3.50 to 3.69 with a Bachelor of Science degree. Craig Allen is the son of Dan and Julia Griffin.

Sandra Sue is a December graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Sandra is the daughter of Roy and Maudie Short of Ft. Stockton and the granddaughter of Curtis and Frankie Short of Eldorado.

Teresa Ann is a May graduate with an Associate in Applied Science degree. Teresa Ann is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Frank Williams of San Angelo and formerly of Eldorado.

Jimmy Dan is a May graduate with a Bachelor of Arts degree. Jimmy Dan is the son of Jimmy and Nancy Doyle of Eldorado and Anne and Bud Davidson of San Angelo.

Melinda Lee is a May graduate with an Associate in Applied Science degree. Melinda is the wife of Tommy Hunley.

EVFD Acquired New Truck

Eldorado Volunteer Fire Department officials recently acquired a flatbed truck at no cost through the Rural Community Fire Protection program, a federal-state cooperatively funded program administered by the Texas Forest Service. The state forest resource and rural firefighting agency had obtained the truck as federal excess property and, in turn, made it available to the department.

Late last year the fire department obtained a 5,000 gallon federal excess property tanker through the cooperative fire program.

Cost-sharing aid for trucks and for slip-on pumping units is also available to qualified rural fire departments through the Rural Community Fire Protection program. The state forest service has placed over 2,200 trucks, slip-on pumping units, and other fire apparatus with rural fire departments and firefighting associations across the state with fire program aid.

Another forestry agency program allows rural fire departments to obtain purchasing discounts of 20-30 percent on bunker gear, fire resistant Nomex clothing and other wildland firefighting gear. Rural departments have purchased almost $1.6 million worth of this equipment through the Fire-Safe Fund.

TOP OF THE DIVIDE

by Thomas Giovannitti

"I spend my life getting my children out of bed." Nicolas says lately I have been using that same expression for nearly everything I do. He claims I can't be "spending my life" doing one thing or another since he knows I do several different things. He's right, of course, but what I mean is that is how I feel, not how things really are.

Quite often how I feel has little to do with reality. For instance I feel that my wife only asks to have a talk with me when I turn on the television. If I sit quietly she does not ask to talk to me at all. Of course, this is not true, it is just that when I do sit down and turn on the TV she appears magically before me with a whole list of topics to discuss (amazingly none of which have anything to do with the ball game on television.) Sure there are other times she wants to talk, but those times she is not interrupting anything important like an NBA playoff game. (I don't even remember the times she asked to talk or for me to do something when I was not watching sports on TV.)

I don't consider myself a sports fanatic. During regular season I don't watch very many games. For one thing professional basketball doesn't really look like basketball until the playoffs.

I have to admit I may also be the only local person who watches ice hockey or admits that he watches ice hockey. I don't get quite so upset if Maxine interrupts an ice hockey game since I usually miss the scores and have to watch the replay to see the puck go in the net.

Even if I miss a fight, if I'd just wait there will be another fight sooner or later, usually sooner.

How Maxine knows that not only is a game on but that there are only twenty-four seconds left and it is tied and then she interrupts is beyond me. Maybe she has one of those mini-televisions and she watches to see when would be the most inopportune time to get between me and the set, rushing in just as the ball is sailing for the hoop with no time left. Last night I had to wait until she was asleep to sneak out to the living room and find out if the Bulls had eliminated the Cleveland Cavaliers, and all that was on ESPN (The all Sports Network) was motor cross racing from Baja California (which was won by some guy from Van Nys by the way.)

Insights

by Dr. Lee Brewer

In Plato's Republic he states, "that love of money and adequate self-discipline in its citizens are two things that can't co-exist in any society; one or the other must be neglected." By self-discipline Plato means the ability to balance all of life properly. One may indeed be disciplined in pursuing wealth, and yet neglect other areas of humanity and wisdom which are certainly as important, and usually more so.

In people's pursuit of wealth, wisdom is often replaced with cleverness, and personhood with possession. It is consumption, appetite that is in control. Society as a whole suffers as it transfers real needs and goals for monetary ones.

Marriages suffer as the partners see the success of their marriage in terms of things: keeping up with the Jones's becomes more crucial than keeping up with each other. Families suffer as parents put in long hours for things but have no time for real relationships with the children. Friendships are allowed to fall by the wayside as moving up the financial ladder becomes paramount. One may eventually gain numbers of dollars but pay an inestimable price in missed relational opportunities.

There is nothing inherently wrong in wanting financial security, but there must be a balance between our wants and our true needs as people. We must consider what truly makes life worth living and invest in those areas. It is a discipline that far too many have forgotten today.

On our death-beds, very few of us will say "I wish I had more money in the bank." There will be many, however, who will wish for more time with those they loved and the true joys of life.

* Recycling a four-foot stack of newspapers produces as much paper as a 40-foot pine tree.

Texas

Recycling Facts

More and more Texans are finding out that recycling is the best grass roots way to help save our environment. Many Texas cities have already instituted curbside recycling programs, even more are considering it. According to Texas Water Commission figures, here's what recycling can do for Texas:

* Each ton of recycled paper saves 17 trees.

* Paper and paperboard make up more than 40 percent of the waste stream.

* Texans throw away enough office or school paper each year to build a six foot high wall, one foot thick from El Paso to Beaumont.

Recycling Trivia

* Each person in North Texas generates an average of three to four pounds of garbage every day.

* In a lifetime, the average adult will leave a legacy of almost 90,000 pounds of trash.

* The amount of garbage increased by 60 percent from 1960 to today.

* During the same period, the number of operating landfills decreased from 20,000 to 6,500.

* New federal regulations could close nearly half of the existing landfills by 1994.

* Recycling can reduce the waste stream by as much as 25 percent.

* Recycling conserves natural resources and reduces the demand for both foreign and domestic raw materials.

Open Letter

Editor's Note:

Listed below is a congratulatory letter to the town of Stephenville from Rick Perry. Ronnie Sauer requested that we print this letter to demonstrate some of the benefits a dairy can have on a community.

Dear Editor,

I noticed an interesting story in the newspaper the other day, which said Stephenville is one of the best small towns in America, because it honors the dairy industry by having "Moola the Cow" in front of the courthouse.

I want to congratulate Stephenville for being selected one of "The 100 Best Small Towns in America," according to Simon and Schuster's new book by that title.

Having grown up in Paint Creek, I appreciate the charm and values of small towns.

I know all the folks in Stephenville take great pride in your town and realize the importance of the dairy industry to your local economy.

One of my main responsibilities is working to keep the agricultural economy strong so that our rural towns survive and thrive.

I wish Stephenville and "Moola" continued success.

Library Update

by Jeri Whitten

In the past several years there has been steady, and at times even dramatic, growth and progress in the usership of the library. In the three-year period from 1990-1992, books and materials checked out (including magazines and cassettes) have risen 51% (from 7590 to 11,464), while reader-visits rose 73% (from 3115 to 5391) and program attendance rose 126% (from 186 to 428). Total hardback inventory in the stacks of the library increased 55% in the 5-year period 1986-1991 (from 10,401 to 16,147).

Part of the reason for the success is being able to expand into larger and more comfortable surroundings through the provision of a new building. Also, we have recently been able to expand the hours of the library an extra 15 hours per week (including over lunch our) through the addition of a federal "Green Thumb" worker. However, we also believe that our success is attributable to our outstanding library staff and dedicated board members, who strive always to be responsive to the needs of our reading public and offer the best services and programs possible.

Some of the services offered by the Schleicher County Public Library are: Book Delivery, Photocopier Service, Summer Reading Programs for Children, Large Print, Reference Service, Memorial Program, Income Tax Forms, Genealogy Forms, Children's Section, Inter-Library Loan, Birthday Program, Main Street Day, Rare and Old Books, Book Review Club, Audiocassettes, and Videocassettes.

The most pressing need of the library is for funds for the acquisition of books, cassettes, magazines, and reference works. The cost of books and other materials continues to escalate, and the library struggles to stay current and to be responsive to requests of patrons for new titles. At a time when the Commissioners Court of Schleicher County, like that of many other counties, remains under constant budgetary pressures, the need for additional funds for book acquisition is critical.

The library has several programs to encourage donations. Over the years the library has also been the beneficiary of some significant bequests, especially the Tom Meador bequest.

Members of the Library Board or the librarian will be happy to sit down with any individual, family, company, agency or foundation to discuss ways in which to make a gift to the library that fulfills the desires of the donor and benefits of the Schleicher County Public Library.

There is outstanding interest and support in the community for the Schleicher County Library. We are proud of our library, and we are committed to making it even better.

First keep the peace within yourself, then you can also bring peace to others.

Allergy Update

People who suffer from seasonal allergies do not need to be told when the allergy season starts. Their sneezing, itching and congestion tell them.

"Some people suffer almost year-round from such allergies because they live in temperate climates where the pollen count remains high most of the time," said Dr. David P. Huston of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

In temperate areas, tree pollens usually are heavy in March, succeeded in the coming months by other pollens. January and February are relatively irritant-free for many areas.

"Air pollution compounds the problem," Huston said. "Chemicals and smoke can definitely aggravate allergy symptoms."

Some people are afflicted with perennial allergies in addition to seasonal allergies.

These are the people allergic to things which, unlike a specific pollen, are present in their environments year-round, Huston said.

Many people are allergic to the dander of animals they keep in their homes.

Others have what is commonly called a dust allergy but is actually reaction to contaminants found in dust. Roaches and mites contribute heavily to this.

Molds are also common causes of allergic reactions. Air conditioning systems and air ducts frequently harbor these allergy villains.

"Avoidance is clearly the best of all alternatives," Huston said, "but we have to be realistic. Avoidance is not always possible."

Over-the-counter relief is available for allergies that cause runny noses, itchy eyes and congestion. Those most commonly used are antihistamines, but they can cause drowsiness.

Prescription drugs, including antihistamines that do not cause drowsiness, are available through physicians.

"Allergy shots are not necessarily the first line of therapy," Huston said. "The shots do help some people, but they should be reserved for patients whose allergy symptoms cannot be adequately controlled in other ways."

Allergies and allergy-like reactions can result from conditions other than pollens and perennial irritants. Foods, for example, can be a source of allergies, and some dyes and other substances can cause allergic-like reactions.

Careful screening by allergists can help people pinpoint the cause of their suffering, Huston said.

May Older American's Month

submitted by Concho Valley Council of Governments

May is Older Americans Month, and 55+ Experience. . . WORKS! and Green Thumb, Inc. invite community leaders, employers, public officials and people of all ages to join in the celebration by recognizing contributions made by older Americans.

Older Americans Month is an opportune time to honor mature workers from these programs. The older Americans being honored have been employed by various businesses and work places all across the nation. They diligently work in a variety of fulfilling full and part-time jobs in our community. We appreciate and thank our older Texans for their time and effort, and for sharing their life time of skills and experience with us.

The 55+ Experience. . . WORKS! Program and Green Thumb, Inc. have successfully worked together in providing employment opportunities and training to meet the needs of older workers as well as local businesses and non profit agencies of the Concho Valley.

As the older population increases there is a necessity for programs like 55+ Experience. . . WORKS! and Green Thumb, Inc. Across the nation, businesses and organizations are becoming aware of the advantages of hiring the mature worker. They are valued for their loyalty, reliability, less absenteeism and fewer accidents. Mature workers understand the value of a job well done.

The Concho Valley council of Government's 55+ Experience. . . WORKS! program is funded through the Texas Department of Commerce. For more information, please contact Virginia Tate, director, 55+ Experience. . . WORKS! in San Angelo at (915) 944-9666.

Woman's Club News

submitted by Ethel Etheredge

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's club was held in the club room of the Memorial Building on Tuesday, May 11th.

A salad luncheon was enjoyed by sixteen club members and two guests, Pat Pitts and Joyce Whitten.

The serving table was centered with a big yellow plant of chrysanthemums and the dining tables were beautifully decorated with vases containing yellow and purple flowers. Each member prepared their favorite salad, which was served with hot bread sticks, coffee and tea by the hospitality committee.

A short business meeting was held following the meal. A motion was made by Shine Spigarelli that the club donate $100 to the Schleicher County Library.

As this was the last meeting until September, each club officer and committee chairman turned in their reports for this term of club work. Pat Pitts was presented by Imogene Newport for membership. Her membership was voted on by secret ballot. She was unanimously accepted and welcomed as a new member of the Woman's Club.

Five members, Ora Deal, Charlene Edmiston, Mary McGinnes, Florence Williams and Willie Johnson were recognized as having attended all the meetings for this term.

The meeting adjourned with the reading of the Club Collect.

Sallee Benefit Held

Barbara Arendt is pictured above at the Rummage Sale that was held to benefit the Allan Sallee family.

by Rene Calcote

The Allan Sallee Committee would like to thank the First Baptist Church for hosting the Sallee Rummage Sale. The fund-raising event made over $2,000 to help Allan and his family.

A special thanks goes to committee member, Robbie Heald, who worked many hours to make the sale a success. A special thanks is extended to all the others who worked, donated and helped.

The next big project is an "Allan Sallee Cookbook." If you have any recipes you would like to submit, please take them to the Eldorado Success by Monday, May 17th.

Thanks for helping this family in their time of need!

Emergency Farm Loan Applications Being Accepted

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by drought are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Eden, FmHA County Supervisor Fred J. Greenway said today.

Schleicher County is one of 5 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production lost resulting from the drought.

Greenway said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," Greenway said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until April 30, 1994 but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Greenway said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Eden is open from 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Are You Eligible For WIC?

WIC provides health information, nutrition consultation and healthy foods for infants, children up to age 5 and pregnant, postpartum and breast feeding women. There is no charge for this service.

To qualify for WIC, you or your child must: live in Texas, meet income guidelines and need improved nutrition.

For more information, please call the WIC Clinic at 387-2234 or the Community Resource Center at 853-2574.

This is an equal opportunity program. If you believe you have been discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap, immediately call the state WIC office at 1-800-WIC-FOR-U.

Few things are harder to put up with than the annoyance of a good example.

Well-Balanced Diet For Teenage Athletes

A well-balanced diet will help teenage athletes go the distance, said Dr. Marta Fiorotto at the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston.

"If young athletes neglect their diets, their performance and, ultimately, their health may be affected," said Fiorotto, an assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine.

Athletes must adjust their diet to match the energy needs of their sport, which often means adding extra calories to the recommended daily allowance.

"A good diet should provide all the minerals, vitamins and protein that young athletes need," Fiorotto said. "Eating enough can be a challenge because teens often have poor eating habits and may not eat at regular times," she added.

The ideal diet consists of foods from the four food groups that provide about 15 percent of energy from protein, 30 percent from fat and 55 percent from carbohydrates, Fiorotto said.

Athletes participating in sports involving prolonged exertion, such as swimming, running, or cycling, should get 70 percent of their energy from carbohydrates and decrease fat intake to 15 percent. This can be done by adding bread, potatoes, pastas and rice to the diet.

To keep energy reserves "topped up," Fiorotto recommends a well-balanced diet divided into frequent meals throughout the day including breakfast, lunch, dinner and at least two between-meal snacks.

Many teens rely on candy for quick energy, but Fiorotto encourages them to snack on granola, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, bananas, a glass of low-fat milk, or dried fruits like dates or raisins.

Young athletes, especially girls, need to get enough iron and calcium.

Iron carries oxygen to the muscles for the production of energy. Fiorotto recommends servings of lean red meat and other iron-rich foods such as fortified cereals and grains to prevent anemia. Daily servings of dairy products such as cheese, milk and yogurt provide calcium, which is essential for the development of strong bones.

All athletes should remember to drink plenty of water to replace the fluids lost through perspiration. Fiorotto encourages athletes to drink a cup of cold water every 20 minutes while working out to prevent dehydration, heat cramps and heat exhaustion.

Fiorotto suggests that teenage athletes talk to at school nurse, dietitian or family doctor if they have questions about their dietary needs. "Making sure teenage athletes get enough energy from a good diet is critical because these are the body-building years," she said. "Diet can affect the strength and endurance of young athletes as well as their growth and development."

Shopping Guidelines.

1. Check labels for the recycling symbol to indicate if recycled or recyclable.
2. Check paperboard cartons to see if they are gray the inside. These usually have high post-consumer content.
3. Glass recycling is usually closed-loop. The glass packaging industry claims to average 30% post-consumer recycled content nationwide.

4. Aluminum is continually recyclable, and, according to the aluminum industry, cans average more than 40% post-consumer content.
5. Ask the store manager to stock and label products with recycled content.
6. If a product you buy doesn't have recycled content, call or write the manufacturer and ask them to provide it.

Schleicher County Appraisal District Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- * the value placed on your property;
- * exemptions that may apply to you;
- * cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- * whether your property is taxable;
- * which local governments should be taxing your property; or
- * you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affects you,

Informal Review: For an informal review of your Property value, contact Ray L. Ballew, Chief Appraiser, at the appraisal district office located at 1 W Warner Ave, Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board.

The appraisal review board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. It has the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 1 W. Warner Ave, Box 936, Eldorado, Tx 76936, Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires you to sign an affidavit saying that you haven't done so before the ARB hears your case.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $ 1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More Information: You can get more information by contacting the Schleicher County Appraisal District, Box 934 Eldorado, Tx 76936, 915-853-2617. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Property Tax Board 4301 Westbank Drive, Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Tx 78746-6565.

Deadline for Filing Protests with the ARB

(The deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday)

On or before May 31 (or 38 days after a notice of appraised value was mailed to you, whichever is later).

Late protests are allowed if you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.

Late protests are due the day before the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact your appraisal district for more information.

Special Deadlines:

For change of use (the appraisal district informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of determination was mailed to you.

For ARB changes (the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed), the deadline is before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

TRAVEL RULES

(NAPS)—“Over the valley and through the woods, to grandmother's house we go...”

While such a trip might bring happiness for some, for many others it brings the nausea, dizziness and vomiting associated with motion sickness. Whether by car, train, bus or plane, motion sickness can affect anyone at anytime. More than 6 percent of the U.S. population regularly suffers the effects of motion sickness. Yet, only half of these people actually seek treatment with a medication.

The most common treatments for motion sickness are over-the-counter antihistamines, such as Dramamine. The reasons most often cited by sufferers for not seeking relief include not having the medication on hand when they need it or being concerned about potential drowsiness. If drowsiness is a concern, a less drowsy, longer-acting formulation was just introduced, called Dramamine II.

While scientists don't know exactly how they work, clinical data suggest that antihistamines depress specific sensory signals to the brain that cause motion sickness. Women in their mid-30's to upper-40's have the highest incidence of suffering and treating motion sickness. Yet, even children can suffer the condition's distressing effects. Treatment is available without a prescription for children two years of age and older.

Most people travel by car somewhere everyday, so it's not surprising that a majority of motion sickness centers around car travel. However, other travel modes are just as likely to cause motion sickness. Interestingly, though, most people do not take a medication to prevent car sickness, yet they often will take a motion sickness remedy prior to a cruise or plane ride. While it may not be generally recognized, motion sickness medications prevent as well as treat the illness, even for car travel.

Prevention can be the key to having a satisfying, enjoyable trip. Taking a motion sickness medication in advance of a trip could be the difference between arriving at grandma's house with a smile on your face, or some queasiness in your stomach.

Bicycle Facts and Fancies

(NAPS)—From the invention of the bicycle in 1790—a scooter-like vehicle—to today's high-speed racing bikes, bicycles have certainly gone the distance, but you may not have to go far to find state-of-the-art, quality bikes for the entire family.

A store known for its quality children's bikes also has some of the best quality bikes for the adult rider available at affordable prices. Some of the best bike buys adults can make are: the 10 speed Coyote Pass which comes in male or female styles for $87.88 and the 21 speed Scorpio which comes in a 26" male style only for $199.

There's more to bicycle safety than wearing a helmet. The staff at Toys 'R' Us can help you choose the bike that's right for you and make sure every ride is as safe for you and your children as it is fun.

May is Bike Expo Month at this popular store. If you shop there for a bike during May you'll get a free bicycle safety guide filled with tips to keep youngsters and adults on the road to safety; a free sports radio with the purchase of any bike 16 inches or larger; and savings of up to $111 with in-store coupons for bikes and accessories. You can also enter to win a trip to Bermuda in the Bike Expo Sweepstakes.

Entry forms for the sweepstakes are available at Toys 'R' Us stores. The sweepstakes begins on May 1, 1993 and all entries must be received by May 31.

512 Calls No Longer Automatically Switched To 210

On November 1, 1992, the 512 area code split into two area codes -- 512 and 210. Austin, Corpus Christi and surrounding areas remained in the 512 area code, while San Antonio and surrounding areas acquired the new 210 area code.

Beginning May 2, 1993, recorded messages began reminding those who dial the incorrect area code that they must use the new 210 area code when placing calls to that number. Callers no longer will be automatically switched to the correct number "as they have been since November. The reminder recording will remain in place until November 1993, when callers will be expected to use the correct area codes for 512 and 210 area code calls.

The new area code was established due to an almost-exhausted supply of phone numbers available in the 512 area code.

Everyone in both the 512 and new 210 area codes kept the same seven-digit telephone number that they had prior to the area code split. The change hasn't affected long-distance rates, although there were some changes in long-distance dialing.

The following GTE exchanges are in the 210 area code: Blanco, Boerne, Floresville, Fredericksburg, Gillett, Gonzales, Johnson City, Kosciusko, Lavernia, Marble Falls, Nixon, Poth, Round Mountain, Smiley, Stonewall, Sutherland Springs, Weslaco and Willow City.

These GTE exchanges retained the 512 area code: Agua Dulce, Aransas Pass, Bertram, Bishop, Blessing, Bloomington, Briggs, Buchanan Dam, Buda, Burnet, Coupland, Dale, Dripping Springs, Faliurrias, Fentress, George West, Georgetown, Granger, Ingleside, Jarrell, Kyle, Lytton Springs, Martindale, McDade, Odem, Orange Grove, Paige, Palacios, Point Comfort, Port O'Connor, Portland-Gregory, Premont, Robstown, San Gabriel, Seadrift, Taft, Thorndale-Thrall, Three Rivers, Tivoli, Vanderbilt and Waelder.

As one of GTE Telephone Operation's four operating areas, GTE Central Area - " headquartered in Irving, Texas, -- serves 2.5 million customer access lines in 13 states: Arizona, Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Utah and Texas.

Buying Recycled saves resources

Buying products made of recycled materials has many benefits. For example:

- * One soft drink packaged in a recycled aluminum can saves enough energy to run your TV set for three hours.

- * Newspapers printed on recycled paper prevent the cutting of more than 25 million trees a year.

- * Re-refining used motor oil saves two-thirds the energy required to refine from crude oil, and re-refined
