Louis Schreiner Sees Improvement

Kerr Banker Says All Depressions Leave

(San Angelo Morning-Times) SONORA, Feb. 8.—"Anyone who has been in business for any length of time knows that these depressions come and go," Louis Schreiner, of the Charles Schreiner Bank of Kerrville and the head of the influential banking and wool house founded by his father half a century ago, said here today.

"They always come—and they always go," Mr. Schreiner said. "Let's not get too excited about it and let's not lose faith or heart. All we have to do is to keep a stiff upper lip and stay in there and we will all work out. I wish I knew what wool was going to bring this year. I don't—but I believe that it will bring as much as it did last year—17 1/2 cents. I hope it will bring 20 cents—and see some signs that make me believe it has a chance to bring a price of this kind. But nobody knows what wool will bring.

"The only serious feature of our situation is that we are so desperately overstocked. If we had some place to put the lamb crop we are raising this year, so we could get the benefit of the advance in price that is to come—it would be much better. As it is something has got to go somewhere—we can't keep them all," he concluded.

REVELATION STUDY

Our next lesson in Revelation consists of the 13th chapter, wherein two great enemies of the church are delivered. The chapter closes with a challenge to our analytical ability. We are challenged to identify the beast by his number. Read Dan. 12:11 II Thes. 2:1-12; Matt. 24:15.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Mund were among the ranch people that visited in the city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Burk were in the city Friday from the Rudd neighborhood.

Miss Lucile McWhorter was in from her school at Rudd, the past week end visiting home folks.

Schleicher County Has 850 Voters 1932

The poll tax payment were heavy this year and the voting strength of the county is stronger than ever. 850 have qualified for votes in 1932, against 546 in 1931.

Sheriff O. E. Conner reports that about 72 per cent of the taxes have been paid. This is an excellent showing for the condition of the country.

Jailed For Chicken Stealing

Clevis (Fat) Kinser and Elton Spencer were arrested Tuesday morning and put in jail, for the theft of 14 chickens from Mrs. T. F. Green. Sheriff O. E. Conner caught the men with the chickens.

Eldorado High School Teachers Report On Professional Reading

In a meeting called by Sup't. R. D. Holt last Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 3, the high school teachers gave reports on "The best professional article I have read recently." The reports were given in an informal and interesting manner and the meeting proved to be a success in every way.

Mr. Holt gave the first report on an article entitled "Are We Educating for War?" taken from the Texas Outlook. During the course of his report Mr. Holt brought out the fact that "although the world has had several peace conferences since the World War, the agreements made have actually resulted in nothing more than mere scraps of paper." He further stated that the question we are facing in the schools at the present time is "Whether or not we are doing our utmost to end war," and said that our history books devote much space to war but fail to show its evil consequences; also that our national songs glorify war.

Miss Allen reported on "Tacit in the English Journal." She stated that teachers must be very careful not to kill the interest of the student, and that many teachers did not cultivate interest by praising the child when he had done something to justify praise. She further said that "some teachers can see nothing of the student for the subject matter, and that others subordinate the subject matter to the interest of the student."

Miss Bradshaw reported on "Why Study Mathematics?" taken from The Mathematics Teacher. She discussed the values of the mathematics under six heads: the practical, historical, mental, moral, religious, and aesthetic values. Since it is rather unusual to think of mathematics as having such values as moral and religious, her talk proved extremely interesting. She brought out the fact that industry and science depend to a great extent upon the use of mathematics, and that this use is increasing as our civilization becomes more complex.

Miss Karr gave a report on "What We Should Make of Our Assemblies," taken from School Activities. She said that it is the business of the schools to arrange for the pupils to get practice in good citizenship. She further stated that "assembly activities make the student body conscious of itself as a united group." She discussed the objectives of the assembly programs under two headings: Objectives which pertain to the pupil, and objectives which pertain to the public. Among these objectives were: "develops character of pupil; develops self-control; gives training in responsibility; trains in proper conduct at public performances; and creates pride in school." Miss Karr ended her report by saying that "Assembly programs develop a better understanding between the public and the school of what the teachers are trying to accomplish."

Miss Meyer reported on "A Study of Interscholastic League Contests," an article taken from The School Board Journal. She stated that "The fault with school contests usually lies not in the system used, but in their administration." Some people consider contests undemocratic because they are selective, but "almost all of the situations to be next in life are so selective." "Contests also teach students to show sportsmanship to strangers and teach the student to compare his school with other schools."

Miss Turney gave a report on "Teachers as Leaders For Training the Youth for Home and Family Life," an article taken from The Home Economic Journal. She brought out the fact that it was the duty of the schools to train the students for home and family life so that they would be better fitted to enter a successful life as good citizens. She said that the

Mr. Smith reported on "Trends in Business Education in the Secondary School," an article found in The Balance Sheet. He brought out the fact that there has been a 72 per cent increase in enrollment in business subjects from 1922 to 1928, and that 20 per cent of the high school enrollment in the United States is taking commercial courses at present. "The present trends in commercial education are for an improved program in guidance, placement, follow-up, promotional, and extension training. More emphasis is also being placed upon the essentials of a good business education because of its personal use and practical value to everybody." He stated that some of the courses would soon be required of all students because they form such a necessary and vital part of any well-rounded general secondary school education.

Most of the teachers reported on an article in their special field of work selected from their professional magazine, and the reports were valuable in giving each teacher an insight into the special problems of the other members of the faculty.

Al Smith announced Monday morning over Radio, that if the Democratic party would nominate him to lead the party, he would gladly accept the place and run again for president.

John Garner or Alfalfa Bill, either, would suit The Success as a candidate for President, because they came from the producing section of the nation and live and mingle among others than millionaires. Johnson of California would be a good man on the Republican ticket, but that's up to the Republicans.

The good book teaches us that it is hard for a richman to enter the kingdom of heaven, and we say it is a hard thing for a rich man to place the burden of tax where it belongs.

A tax on one hundred billions in the United States would clear up the deficit in our government, instead they place it on gas and tobacco, so every one will come under the tax.

The Success editor is not trying to defeat any Schleicher county candidate for we doubt if any of them could be classed as Billionaires.

The people may go wrong for a while, but they will some day put on a thinking cap, and a right things. The time has come for the common herd to see who goes into office as long as we have billionaires running things at Washington we will continue to hoard money.

What we call the common herd is the real producers, and backbone of the country, such people as you find in Schleicher County. They have armed themselves with poll tax receipts and are prepared for the coming election.

And now Brady has a candidate for Governor, should he be elected wouldn't Harry spread his stuff.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens, of Rocksprings, who had been to Colorado City to visit Mr. Owens' brother, were in Eldorado Tuesday on their way home. Mr. Owens reports that his store at Rocksprings was robbed of about $850.00 worth of goods one night last week.

Garden Of Experience

F. G. Clark

PAST AND PRESENT

My conscious boyhood was spent in the hill country of southeastern Ohio, in the late seventies and it seems to me that our young people should be informed of the manner of life we enjoyed in those days.

Our means of locomotion was confined to wagons and sleds, drawn by oxen or horses. As a result, we didn't move about much. I was twelve years old before I visited our county seat, five miles away.

Money was almost unknown and consisted entirely of paper, even the nickles and dimes. Nearly all trade was carried on by barter and exchange of goods. If a person appeared in a community "with store clothes on, all over," he was preceded by a wild eyed youngster to arouse the neighbors that they might behold the marvelous sight.

If we boys had a plaything, we made it ourselves. We sawed off the end of a gum log and by boring a hole thru the center we had a cart wheel. The axles were made of oak cut from our forests. Most of the houses were built of logs and the corners pinned with wooden pins. Our shingles, or clapboards, as we called them, were rived from the oak blocks with mallet and crow. They were laid on the roof and held in place by means of slender saplings, running at right angles, the full length of the building and tied at the ends. Why not nail them? Nails cost money and the saplings could be had for the cutting. Our only lumber was obtained by cutting down a huge forest tree, sawing a cut from it of proper length, loading on bob sleds and with two or three teams slowly dragging it to the water mill. This consisted of an up and down saw, propelled by water power. It moved so slowly that the sawyer could set the saw and go about another job until it slowly cut its way thru.

His other job, usually, was pouring a farmer's corn which he had brought in a sack on horse back, into a hopper, where it slowly fed thru the mill stones and was ground into meal. When the water was low, the process was so slow that even our patience was exhausted. Said one exasperated farmer to the miller: "I could eat meal as fast as your tanel mill grinds it." "And how long could you do that?" asked the miller. "Until I starved to death," returned

The gradual spread of alfalfa has been noted in Matagorda county by the county agent who reports that three farmers who sowed the crop last year at a cost of $4.50 per acre for seed, obtained 11-2 to three tons of hay per acre, worth $10.00 per ton in the field.

J. M. Peterson in Dawson county is a dairy herd demonstrator who financed the growing of an 800-acre crop last year without aid from the bank, by milking 15 cows fed on home grown feed. They made a gross return of $1,530.

There were 25,000 acres sowed to Nortex oats in Brown county last year, all the progeny of 100 bushels introduced by the county agent from the Denton Experiment Sub-station two years ago.

Spraying for San Jose scale, curculio and brown rot last winter and spring, seven Newton county orchard demonstrators produced 70 per cent more No. 1 fruit than from unsprayed trees, and received 50 cents more per bushel for their fruit, the county agent reports.

Over $20,000 worth more food in the pantries of 135 women in Montague county, more appropriate clothing at less cost in 103 families, and 53 farm home living rooms made over, are the features of home demonstration work there in 1931.

Part of the work in dressing better for less money by 152 Bexar County home demonstration club women last year included the making of 914 garments at an average saving of $1.02 per garment. Club girls made clothing valued at $321.80. Other phases of the work consisted of keeping clothing accounts, building clothes closets, and making foundation patterns

In "The Arizona Republic", published at Phoenix, in the edition of January 31, there was a full-length picture of Louise, who is attending college in Phoenix. The information accompanying the photo was as follows:

"Louise Williams, auditor, is the newly elected vice-president of the Women's Athletic Association and an outstanding leader in women's sports."

Louise attended the Eldorado High School from 1295 to 1929, graduating with the largest class that ever left the school. She was an outstanding leader in girls' athletics in high school and in student life.

Thelma Taylor

As Jack Shugart, natal of Eldorado, was matriculating down the street he had foretold of the arrival of Bob Evans, another natal of Eldorado. Now Jack was a little peeved at Bob because he was just a shade dogma and was always trying to pull witticisms. When Bob matriculated close enough to him Jack keked him with his pedal extremity and stepped on Bob's pedal digit. Bob called Jack by his cognomen but Jack had lots of vigor and he scampered down the street very rapidly. When he was jay walking across the street an automobile collided with him but it did not damage the car. Jack was buried the next day with much grief. When the man was carving on his tombstone he put "Let him rest in peace" and Bob came along and with much, ego, he put under this "Til I get there."

'HIS HANDS AND FEET BECOME BOTHERSOME TO HIM'

Lola Davis

Perhaps I should have used "our" instead of "his" in making the preceding statement because I am sure Hollis was not alone in this position. I suppose you are at least wondering by this time what the title of this marvelous writing is about.

"Fine! But remember 'curiosity is what killed the cat.' Seriously, I shall try to explain—when I get ready. The assignment for the 'Karr Dramatic Club' was declamations for our last meeting. We have not practiced these as much as some of the other phases of speaking, but judging from our last meeting they will prove very interesting. When Hollis Alexander had finished declaiming Miss Karr asked for criticism. Aris Carr replied 'his hands and feet became bothersome to him.' We all had a good laugh, but that is all right. Hollis. You were not by yourself. As a usual thing speakers do not get over the frightened stage until they have had more practice than most of us.

The majority of the declaimers are inexperienced but we shall have some very good speakers with a little more training. It is rather peculiar that we never know who can talk until they 'just happen' to get into some speaking class or club. The 'Karr Dramatic Club' certainly has progressed and will continue to do so. One good thing about public speaking and dramatics is that we never know so much that we can not learn more.

SCHOOL TO OBSERVE GEORGE WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL, FEB. 22-26

The Eldorado Public School is planning to observe the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Father of Our Country in a series of programs during the week beginning February 22. Practically every pupil in school will have some part in this nation wide celebration. The subject of each program follows:

1. Monday, February 22: 8:45-9:30 a. m. "The Youth and Young Manhood of George Washington."
2. Tuesday, February 23: 8:45-9:30 a. m. "The Social Life of George Washington."
3. Wednesday, February 24: 8:45-9:30 a. m. "George Washington, the Leader of Men."
4. Thursday, February 25: 8:45-9:30 a. m. "George Washington, the Ideal Citizen."
5. Friday February 26: 8:45-9:30 p. m. (Night program) "George Washington, The Builder of the Nation."

These programs will consist of short talks, pageants, One-act plays, songs, marches and drills. The life of George Washington will be shown from boyhood on through the presidency. During the week of February 22-26, the school is merely trying to portray George Washington as the Ideal Citizen, an example for the citizens of the present day to follow. To the youth of America George Washington spoke as follows: "Tis to close application and constant perseverance, men of letters and science are indebted for their knowledge and usefulness; and you are now at that period of life when these are to be acquired, or lost forever. But you are well acquainted with my sentiments on this subject, and know how anxious all your friends are to see you enter the grand theatre of life, with the advantages of a finished education, a highly cultivated mind and a proper sense of your duties to God and man—Let no bad example—have an improper influence upon your conduct. Let this be such, and let it be your pride, to demean yourself in such a manner as to obtain the good will of your superiors, and the love of your fellow-students"

EAGLES TROUNCE SONORA, 36-14

Jack Ratliff

The Eagles walked over the Sonora Bronchos, Monday, at Eldorado. Three of the Sonora men were out on fouls. Archer was sent out early in the game. Kring and Ory soon followed. At the end of the game, there were five men on the court for Eldorado that had three fouls each.

SPORT SLANTS

Jack Ratliff

ball. Coach Terry played two full teams but they could not catch Mrs. Davis's boys.

Several boys ran their race against time on the local track, Friday. Hollis McCormick led the race in the 220 yard dash with 23.1 seconds. Raymond Smith came second with 24.1 seconds. Jack Ratliff was third with 25.1 seconds. J. R. Conner came fourth with 25.2 seconds. Coach Williamson was well pleased with their showing because this is very early in the season. They have almost a month to cut their time.

The Eagles are planning to go to the district meet in basketball in San Angelo. The boys did not go to Big Lake because of transportation.

They are going to Ozona, Saturday, to a tournament. Coach White of Ozona says that he is going to send invitations only to teams of their class. There will not be any fast teams there. The meet will afford a lot of fun. Coach White did not say what he would give to the winner.

One team has stayed on the court all of the noon period since the new basketball has been started. Marshall Chick and his pals were contented on the field and would not get off. His team was Hollis Alexander, Bell Sample, Gerald Gafford and Jack Shugart.

The basketball squad is still getting better. There is only six on the team now. Several have dropped out. The team is composed of Captain Junior Isaacs, Jack Kerr, Gerald Gafford, Billie Kerr, John Edwin Rogers, and Hollis McCormick.

Miss Lelia Parker has not started tennis yet but she will start as soon as the tennis court have been prepared. The backstops that were constructed last year were torn down by the tornado that struck Eldorado.

Miss Willie Allen, coach of the girl's basketball, is giving the girl's some real practice. They have played only one game this year. They beat Sherwood. They are planning a game with Sonora.

DIRTY CLOTHES VACATION FROLIC TO THIS STAR

Has Everything and Likes Less

A six year old boy has shattered one of the pet theories of stage and screen.

For years it has been stated that when naturalness is wanted, correct types, people who have actually brushed up against the right experience, should be chosen.

Many players make good livings by specializing at playing gangsters, molls, butlers, invalids, or sleuths.

And Robert Coogan has won screen success by being a tattered, dirty little ragamuffin.

And the thousands who see his work in "Sooky," Paramount successor to "Skippy", beginning Sunday at the Ritz Theatre and a Percy Crosby creation in which he resumes his Shantytown adventures with Jackie Cooper, will be relieved to know that never in real life has he actually had to know this condition.

Your Home Deserves GOOD LIGHTING

ATTRACTIVELY arranged lamps... the intimate glow of soft, shaded light... modern, scientifically-designed fixtures—these important adjuncts to harmonious lighting effects display your good taste as much as your home furnishings.

Tasteful, adequate lighting... more than any other single thing... will add to the distinctive charm and cozy appearance of your home, and when electric service is the smallest item in the average family's household budget—surely you can't afford to stint its use.

A courteous representative will be happy to consult with you regarding your lighting arrangements.

Perhaps the use of a larger lamp... the changing of some inexpensive fixture... the addition of a floor-plug... or some simple rearrangement of the facilities you already have, will increase the effectiveness and attractiveness of your lighting. There's no obligation, of course; this service is free for the asking. Just telephone the Merchandise Showroom.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

FEBRUARY

Raymond Smith
The chapel program was given by the second grade last Wednesday, and it was exceptionally well performed. Edd DeLong Jr. was announcer, and he really "put it over."
First was a reading by "Little" Miss Bodine; the title was "February". Next was a reading by Pete Rampeau; the title was "Little February." Following the two readings was a play by the members of the class. This play showed the importance of February.

The play was very simple but was greatly enjoyed by every one who saw it. It proved that the younger students have a great ability to speak and it gives the Juniors and Seniors one consolation, and that is: there will be better speakers in our high school ten years from now, or even eight years from now.
