OF AND FOR ELDORADO AND SCHLEICHER COUNTY. ALL THE TIME

VOL. XXXII

Eldorado, Schleicher County, Texas. Friday, Texas. Friday, March, 4, 1932.

Help Us Beautify Our Cemetery

Thelma Taylor
Do you realize how much the cemetery needs attention? Of course, there is no force to make you help keep the Eldorado cemetery as pretty as any cemetery in this part of the country, but don't you think that you would feel as if you had done a good deed if you would come out and help us.

As you all know there are a few women here who never forget their duty for other pleasures. If you could see some of the graves and how pretty they appear, I know you would want all of them to be the same way. These women wish to see all of the graves as pretty as those that are now fixed. They would like to have some volunteers of the young people to go out to the cemetery this Saturday and see what they could do. Mrs. Ed Ratliff, Mrs. C. C. West, and Mrs. Orville Conner will chaperone the group and probably serve lunch to them. Two persons could take one grave and see who could fix theirs up to be the best looking. If there is enough response a club will be organized and offices elected.

If you wish to know more about this and are interested in the project call any one of the three women listed above and they will furnish the required information. This has been talked up a little already and there are about five or six girls and boys who are willing to help the town by aiding in doing this worthwhile thing. Here's hoping the rest of you won't be slackers of Schleicher County.

MR. S. I. NICKS HAS GIVEN UP HIS DOUBTS

Uncle Sam Nicks, a West Texas Pioneer, says he has convinced his wife that a newspaper can publish the truth. He was reading to her about a man finding a small egg inside a large one, "I don't believe it," said Mrs. Nicks. The next morning while cooking cooking breakfast Mrs. Nicks broke a large egg, expecting to find two yolks, but instead, she found a small egg just as perfect as the larger one, and sent it in to The Success for evidence. Of course we did not see the egg opened, and we are sure Mrs. Nicks could not feel too bad if we did not believe her story, but we do just the same. When our hens get to laying two eggs in one, it is enough to run the market down.

OIL WELL NEWS

J. D. Wesner, No. 1 W. R. Nicks, is still idle with three strings of tools in the hole, waiting on a new cable. Stanlind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 W. H. Williams 18 miles northwest of Eldorado in Irion has drilled to 7,356 feet, in black lime.

PIONEER MUSIC CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

THIS AND THAT

By Jimminy
LET'S BE FAIR
With Japan and China fighting for supremacy of the Orient the milk producers and milk distributors in Houston battling for supremacy of the "bacteria count," and attorneys for 15 major oil companies contending for supremacy of the "oil code." We are not lacking in "war" news in Texas.

Thirty-two Madison county 4-H club boys produced an average of 47 bushels of corn per acre last year on 98 acres at an average production cost of 22 cents per bushel. Olan Farris made 111 bushels on one acre.

Santa Fe Special March 16th

The Santa Fe Railway is operating a farm and home demonstration train this spring over all its lines in Texas, including the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway. This train is scheduled to reach Eldorado March 16.

This train is operated in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College which will present the entire program.

Four cars of exhibits are carried by the train, an up-to-date agricultural and livestock show of interest to every farmer and livestock grower in this territory, carrying a message of greater profit and better living. The exhibits include dairy and beef cattle, hogs, poultry, angora goats, and sheep.

The program includes talks by experts from the College on the problems that face the farming and livestock industries in west and northwest Texas today. The College has in the course of many years developed a practical and broad program for better and safer farming, lower production costs, and a balanced farming system for the entire year.

The train is conveniently located at the Santa Fe Railway station. After the speaking program the people have the opportunity to pass through the train and inspect the varied exhibits provided by the College. Representatives from the College will also be at every exhibit booth to answer questions.

The program will have something for everyone, including the women and the boys and girls. All are welcome. The Santa Fe is glad to be able to bring this school on wheels to the communities along its lines in west and northwest Texas.

MOVING BACK

This week our old friend Emmitt Billings is moving back to Eldorado. He will open up a filling station, one owned by J. F. Isaacs, but has never been opened; has been under lease to the Humble people. Mr. Billings will run an Independent Station and handle Independent gas.

MARCH 4, 1932

With plenty of good rains and warm weather, there will be plenty of spring grass for the lambing season, put plenty of grease in the early spring wool and make the fleeces heavier, in fact the week's rain over our county is hard to estimate in dollars and cents.

Governor Ross S. Sterling will lead the Governors race again this year. He has been faithful to his public trust and has filled the office in a most creditable manner.

Speaker John Garner slipped back from the seat of a statesman, into the seat of a politician when he denounced Hoover as being to blame for the present depression. Most any peanut politician knows better. Garner should have been too large for such a statement.

The Schleicher County 4-H Club have fattened their lambs and calves, have showed them in San Angelo this week and are now in Ft. Worth with them. They have the lambs and calves to make a good showing with this year.

The Schleicher County wheat and oat crops are looking good since the rains.

And now since Schleicher county won everything on the 4-H lambs at San Angelo, except the Grandstand, we will move on to Ft. Worth and compete with larger showings. Our continuous winning will soon make our county famous for feeder lambs and a place to feed them also.

Garden Of Experience

F. G. Clark

SELFISHNESS

There is an exhibition of this passion going on in the United States today, that gives verity to Saint Paul's declaration that "The love of money is the root of all evil."

When the stock market broke in 1929, the small investor was wiped out first. The market declined one-third in a single day, and the small investor could not make good his margins so as a consequence, he lost all his investments. The loss of each investor was comparatively small, but as there were millions of him, the aggregate ran into billions. But their losses did not end here. They had put their savings into stocks, depending on the profits from these to make payments on homes and other property, purchased on the partial payment plan. Not only did he lose his savings but in many cases he lost his job, also, owing to the shutting down of the factory in which he worked. He found himself utterly cleaned out. This result is known as the poor man's panic. At this stage, viz., when stocks had fallen about one third, the rich man believed they had reached the bottom and began to buy. But the market continued to tumble and he found himself continually called upon for more margin. He must make his margins good or lose his investments, but as there was no sale for non-dividend paying stocks, he was forced to sell his dividend paying stocks, in order to cover. Thus he found himself, when the market reached the bottom, loaded up with these dud stocks.

In the meantime, the President and Congress are doing everything in their power to revive business, but every time the market has shown signs of reviving, these men have broken it by dumping their stocks on the market. They have no regard for the millions out of employment at the thousands of closed factories. Their only concern is to save their vast fortunes from being impaired. Some of these men are worth hundreds of millions and while looking the starving nation in the face, their only concern is to save their vast hoards and gain more. The love of money kills human sympathy and destroys the last vestige of human brotherhood. "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn." But the President and Congress are getting fed up with human hogs. They are called "bears" in the stock market vernacular, but "hogs" would be more accurately descriptive. The government threatens to reveal their names and thus expose them to public scorn and if this will not check their selfish operations, pass an emergency measure that will put them out of business. If the big financiers would co-operate with the government, the depression would end as suddenly

By Jimminy

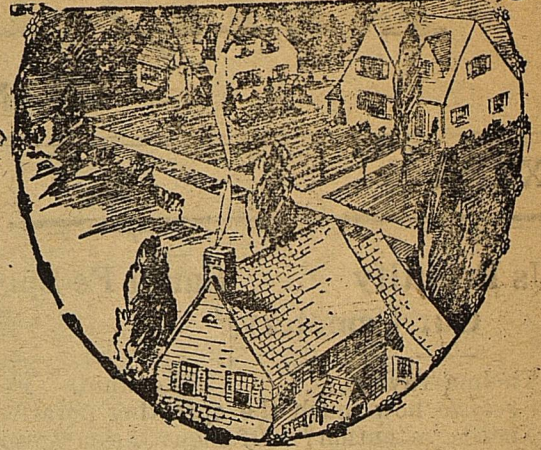

The Chinese-Japanese dispute continues, with the Japs showing some progress and the Chinese a great deal of determination. Last week the bombing was a little more terrific than usual and as a result the casualties were heavier. Evidently the Japs have found another place besides Wall Street to borrow money. Otherwise, why all the shooting?

In the United States where battles for economic existence are being waged in all sections, it is interesting to watch the milk "war" now in progress in Houston. So far neither side has made any notable gains, but public opinion and the cows are on the side of the producers. and it is said the distributors will soon have to give ground in the face of such tremendous odds. To this "war correspondent" it seems that the producers occupy the most advantageous position by having the cows on their side. At least they control the "ammunition base." And ammunition is the big thing in at it began.

But the dream of Jesus to establish the brother-hood of man under the Father-hood of God, seems as far away as ever. Must we await His second coming before this class can be put out of business forever? This is the only hope the Bible holds out and the age long experience of man is proving its truth.

The producers have also enlisted the attorney general to investigate alleged anti-trust law violations. Between oil trust and milk trusts, Attorney General Allred is having a strenuous year of it. But he doesn't seem to mind; he was in the "big war", and a little thing like having gasoline poured down his back or being slapped in the face with a gallon of buttermilk is not likely to stop him from trying to do right by his constituents.

Some people say he is radical. Maybe he is—at least he's "All Red." But even so, it doesn't make a great deal of difference—some of the greatest men the world has ever known were at one time or another branded as being radical.

"I have used Black-Draught . . . and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness. ### PLAY— WHILE YOU WORK

ces, I know the saying goes like this: "Work while you work and play while you play," but can one play without working? I hardly think so. It takes a little work if we play a game of ball or a game of checkers. We work not only our bodies but our minds as well. We are compelled to work, our bodies in most play and our minds in all plays.

The same holds true in dramatic play—we must work. To really accomplish something in this field of work one must first be a thinker. When one hears the word "dramatic" he usually thinks of the stage. Is the stage the only place where dramatic work is used? No, it is not. We use dramatics every moment. Sometimes we are not conscious of it but we are doing what we have seen some one else do or say, or what we have read about some one doing. Take the Kerr Dramatic Club for instance they act a play some one has written like Miss Karr tells us to do. Life itself is one dramatic scene. As Shakespeare said "The whole world is a stage and we are mere players." Let us learn to play our part well.

The C A R Dramatic Club

has a new member last time, Hassell Ratliff. We are very glad to have Hassell, because we know he will be a help to our club. We hope we will be a help to him.

E—H—S SENIORS, HERE LIE YUOR FUTURES

Gustav V. Graves
One night, as I lay dreaming, a vision of our seniors came before my eyes. Some of our seniors held wonderful positions of worldly importance. Indeed it gave me great pleasure to have known them during their high school career.

Lucile Oglesby, my dear classmate, do you know what you were doing? Well, get an ear full of this. You were teaching commercial work in the leading University of Virginia. Now, as we all know, Lucile has been very interested in work along the commercial line. She has taken every course along this line that our school has offered. It gave me great pleasure to be guided from room to room that state University in Virginia by the college president. I had more pleasure awaiting me in the commercial department when the president introduced a Miss Oglesby. I needed no introduction. Lucile and I traveled through our eleven years in grammar and high school together. I had not seen her since our graduation from high school in 1932. It was then 1940, and she was an important member of the college faculty. I spent the hours of the day very profitably listening to Miss Oglesby instructing her various classes. The day ended and I had to catch the six o'clock train for "other parts".

As I was reading my newspaper, I felt a light tap on my shoulder. Who do you think it was?

Watch this space next week for the next senior's future!

IN OLDEN TIMES

Thelma Taylor
Did you see the program Friday night at the school auditorium? If you didn't then you have missed a good program. The old fashioned ladies were there in abundance. I wonder if they used to have any trouble going up and down steps with those long dresses on? I suppose though that they were used to them and didn't notice it. We sure did notice it though because we all nearly fell down every time that we tried to get up the steps to the stage to try to sing. I said try and not just to sing.

There was a large crowd out to witness our achievements. The auditorium and balcony were pretty well full. The first thing on the program was a march played by the third grade band. They were really good, especially little George Whitley, who certainly can keep time.

Next the whole audience sang the Washington National Theme song. The smaller children seem to be developing into great singers. The Third Grade gave a musical and vocal number combined called "Little George Washington." This was about little George Washington who never told a lie and who cut down his daddy's cherry tree with his new hatchet.

Wilson gave a reading about George Washington and told us that if we want to be great like Washington when we grow taller "then we must do the little things that he did while we are smaller." This young gentleman looked very dignified in a orange pair of trousers and blue coat with a white lace collar.

Maxine Wilton gave an illustrated reading about the music during Washington's time. The Choral Club helped her out in this by doing the illustrating for her.

The high school folks gave a short play in which Hollis McCormick looked very much like Washington did. He had on a pair of cowboy boots though and I don't know whether to believe there were such things during Washington's time or not.

The Sixth and Seventh grade gave a few numbers to illustrate parts of Maxine Wilton's reading. I had nearly forgotten about the two talks one the life of George Washington that were given by Jim Edgar Sample and Samuel Cloud. These were very interesting if not also educational. The last number on the program was a song about Washington and the popular song "My Task."

These programs are prepared and given by Miss Karr and we want to thank her for her help in preparing us to give our parts.

E.—H.—S.— ALUMNI AND SOCIETY

Thelma Taylor
Miss Meyer was absent the first of the week on account of the death of her aunt at Fort Worth. She and her sister attended the funeral.

Miss Karr was ill this week with the flu. You never can tell who will be next. It was a great pity that she had to go to bed just when her mother came to see her all the way from Brownwood. Maybe she found out that Miss Karr had been a naughty little girl and needed to be punished.

Mr. Holt is back at school and looks like he never was sick a day in his life. We hope he feels that way too. At any rate we are grinding through history again. Wish us luck!

ALL-STARS ATTEND CHRISTOVOAL TOURNAMENT

The all-stars finished the basketball season at Christoval, Saturday. The all-stars were defeated by Water Valley. The Zocahs of San Angelo won the trophy. The San Angelo Rainbows were runnerup.

—E.—H.—S.—

SPORT SLANTS

The all-stars were unlucky, as usual, in drawing. The Water Valley team went into the semifinals. There was not an Eldorado man placed on the first or second team of the tournament. The Zocahs placed one on the first and three on the second. Christoval placed two on the first and one on the second.

The track team is showing down since the flu struck all of them. Every one on the team is considerably weaker and all of their time has been chit by several seconds. They will be rounding out into shape in another week.

—E.—H.—S.—

ill the last week. We missed you Willie Ruth and hope you don't ever feel the least bit bad again. Every one knows that school is lots more fun than staying in bed and taking castor oil.

Jack Kerr, Billie Kerr, John I. Jones and Carl Kerr went to San Angelo the first of the week to enjoy the Stock Show. The Kerr brothers have four sheep in the show.

Elnora Andrews and some of the girls were at San Angelo Monday taking in the stock show. Wonder if the show is half as interesting as the talk we had Monday. I'm not sure but what I would have chosen the talk.

Margaret Bradley and Dahlia Fae Johnson, the sponsors of the boys from Eldorado went to San Angelo early Monday morning and had a wonderful time. The boys had to wear overalls if they wanted anything to eat and of course they all wore them. Who wouldn't?

Mr. Terry is back with his pupils this week after a siege of the flu. He doesn't seem to mind the work at all but seems to be glad to be able to do it. You would be the same way if you had had to stay in the bed for almost a week and not be able to do anything.

Mr. Pruitt is back but he does not seem to be very lively and looks just a little bit pale. He'll be all right soon, or rather we are hoping that he will, because the school house don't seem like the same place when he isn't here to tease us.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

Aletha Faught
Freshman History is becoming very interesting. In fact we have been studying about crusades and as you all know, they are very interesting. We will have a debate on the mnext Friday. Louise O'Harrow and Lois Whitley will debate against Joe Turner Hext and Samuel Smith. We are all expecting some "real" arguments.

—E.—H.—S.—

JUNIOR NEWS

Thelma Taylor
As Aubrey won't ever write and tell you people what the Juniors are doing and why they are doing it (mostly because they have too) then I will. It looks like he is ashamed of us but you can't ever tell by looking.

The Juniors were scarce Monday and Tuesday because they went to San Angelo to the Stock Show. We Juniors don't need any more than a hint to find out that excuses are rare and so use them when you find them.

Our work is coming on very well but not as good as it is possible for it to be. Some days we feel fine and other days I guess we just have the spring fever and don't feel like lifting one hand in front of the other one. We can tell you more about this next week as the report cards are coming out right away.

—E.—H.—S.—

Correct Lighting Will Save Your Eyes and Add to Your Enjoyment

THERE'S nothing quite so cozy—these long winter evenings—as a good book, a restful chair, comfortable slippers and the old briar pipe. The finishing touch, to make the evening at home a rare treat and to add to the enjoyment of your reading, is good light.

Good lighting, more than anything else, will make your reading a genuine pleasure. The print will stand out plainly and your eyes will follow the text untiringly. This absence of strain will double your enjoyment.

Lighting fixtures combining beauty and efficiency are so inexpensive—and the cost of adequate light so insignificant—that truly it's wise economy to use plenty of light. A courteous representative will be happy to inspect your home-lighting arrangements, and suggest beneficial changes if they're necessary. There's no obligation, of course.

HATS OFF TO THE RAILROAD MEN

One of the biggest things that ever happened in the United States, from an industrial standpoint, is the decision of the unionized forces of our railroads to take a 10 per cent wage reduction, effective at once and to be in force one year.

For the first time in history, presidents of the railroads and the heads of the labor organizations sat down at a conference table and worked out a wage agreement based on the plain facts involved, without threats of strikes or arbitrary action on either side. Lawyers were used only to help word the articles of agreement.

David B. Robinson, an ex-fireman, who rose to the head of his own brotherhood and then to leadership of the entire railroad labor structure, made it clear that in signing away part of their pay at this time, the workers were not accepting the theory that such reductions are to be regarded ordinarily as the appropriate means to promote prosperity." He pointed out that the men recognized the present unparalleled situation affecting both the railroads and the public, and said: "In the hope that our action may improve the health of our industry, may improve the cooperative relations of management and employes, may stimulate revival of business and may advance the general welfare, we have decided to accept the proposal."

Thus, railroad labor and railroad executives have established a new precedent in settling a problem of industry. This is an outstanding step toward stabilizing business conditions in the United States and its effect will be far-reaching.
