P. H. McCormick Succumbs To Illness

P. H. McCormick was born September, 14, 1846, near Dilliam, South Carolina, died at his home in Eldorado, March 7, at 4:00 o'clock a. m.

Mr. McCormick remained in South Carolina until 24 years of age. He joined the confederate in 1863, and remained in the war until the surrender, at Appomattox, he fought under General Robert E. Lee.

He came to Texas in 1870, settling in Travis County, remaining there until 1883, when he moved to what is now known as Mills County.

Mr. McCormick was among the trail drivers that drove cattle to Kansas and Nebraska and spent two years in this service, in 1873 and 1874.

He was married to Sallie Ann Gardner, November 3, 1873, in Travis County; to this union was born six children, 5 sons and one daughter. All survive him save one son, Bev, who was killed in action during the World War.

Mr. McCormick with his family moved to Schleicher County 31 years ago landing here on Christmas Day, 1900, and has been identified with the public life of our county ever since; was elected County Treasurer in 1902 and served through 1908 and was re-elected 1918 serving 4 more years.

He was interested in the Mercantile business in our city for a good many years, contracted for and built a part of the old Orient Railroad dump.

When the first Gin in Schleicher County was built in 1904, Mr. McCormick was selected to manage and run same, he being one of the largest contributors. He later bought out all the stocks and he and his sons improved the gin until it was one of the most modern gins in the state, and sold it three years ago to R. T. Crain of San Saba.

Besides his worth to our community as a public man in the commercial lines, he was a real builder on the side of education and morals. He united with the Methodist Church in early life, and when he reached Eldorado, then a town only 5 years old, he found no houses of worship in the new town and his first thought turned toward the erection of a Church for the city, and through his efforts and others equally as interested the First Methodist Church was erected, where all met for worship and for many years Mr. McCormick and his good wife were among the leaders of this congregation. He was always true to the cause of his Master and was always ready and willing to testify for the Master. His beloved wife preceded him in death having died March 25, 1921, at 5 o'clock.

The funeral service for Bro. McCormick was held at the First Methodist Church, Monday, afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the local pastor, Rev. J. D. McWhorter, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. J. C. Young, who came from Cotulla, for the service, and his Christian life was beautifully told in the presence of many friends and all his children. He is survived by 4 sons, Rex, Ren, Van and Don, and one daughter, Mrs. May Tisdale, also survived by one brother, J. H. McCormick, who came to Schleicher county with his brother, Phill, besides a number of Grand children.

The funeral service was in charge of the Frances J. Wood Funeral Service and after the service by the pastor, the Masons took charge and gave him a Masonic burial conducting the service at the cemetery.

The active pall bearers were F. M. Bradley, H. E. Sharp, E. W. Brooks, O. W. Smith, F. H. Watson and Will McAngus.

Honorary pall bearers were: C. I. Dabney, W. F. Benton, A. J. Roach, W. M. Bearce, C. M. McWhorter, D. E. DeLong, C. C. Doty, J. B. Christian, W. H. Parker and J. F. Johnston.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, Our Supreme Grand Master has deemed it wise to call from this field of labor our brother, P. H. McCormick;

Whereas Brother McCormick was a charter member of the Eldorado lodge and during all these years has remained faithful, not only to his local brethren, but to the fraternity in general, careful in the observance of its basic principles and tenets and faithful in attendance on our meetings; and

Whereas, In the home-going of Brother McCormick our lodge has lost from its membership a faithful, conscientious brother, the community a progressive, upright citizen and the family whose influence was always with the moral side of every question; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, his brethren, bow in humble submission to the Divine Will, remembering that He makes no mistakes and "doeth all things well," that we remind the loved ones of our departed brother that they have in Jesus an elder brother who sorrows with them in their sore trouble; sympathizes with them in their sorrow and will aid in their distress and that in Him is hope and consolation and that to Him they may go with assurance that He will give them satisfying comfort and consolation.

T. P. Metcalf, district representative of Tom Green, Schleicher, Concho, Menard and Irion Counties, for the loaning of the Federal Farm Aid recently passed by the U. S. Congress, was here Monday. He came to confer with the local board, composed of J. E. Hill, B. E. Moore, L. E. Sumner, county agent, and V. H. Humphrey for Schleicher county, but he found Mr. Hill and Mr. Moore out of town. But if you need a farm loan from the government you can get in touch with these men and they can explain the proposition to you.

TO THE VOTERS OF SCHLEICHER COUNTY

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of County and District Clerk of Schleicher County, subject to the Democratic Primary on July 23rd 1932. I wish to state that I am not opposing either of the three good people who are now in the race. They are my friends and I want them to be my friends when the election is over.

The present incumbent, Mr. J. F. Isaacs, is not asking for the office again, so, having been solicited by some of the best men and women in the county to offer myself as a candidate for the place, and knowing that some one must and will take Mr. Isaacs' place, and believing myself to be qualified for discharging the duties incident to this position, I have decided to ask your support for the office.

I believe that the County Clerk's office is the most important office in the County, and that therefore it should have a competent person to preserve the care of the records.

These records contain, among other things, the titles to your homes and ranches, without these records, or even if they are not properly kept, all who are interested would be quite handicapped.

I have been in business in Schleicher County for nearly four years; and expect to continue making this my home. I have endeavored to do what I could for the betterment of every interest to the people, and if I am elected to the office of County and District Clerk, I will do everything in my power to render the service to which you are entitled.

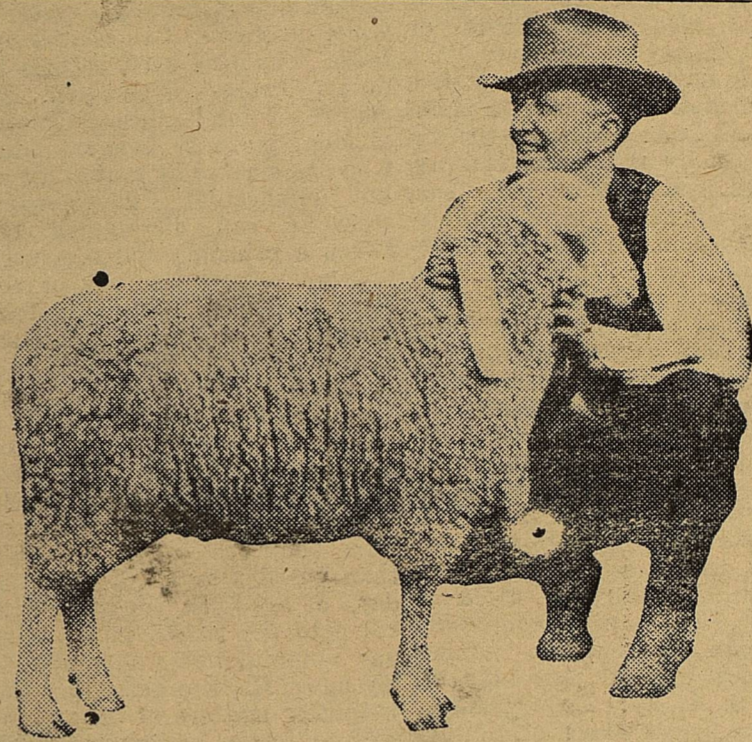

I have not had the pleasure of meeting personally all the voters of the County, but I shall try to do so in the near future.

I sincerely solicit your careful consideration of my candidacy; and, if in your judgement, I am worthy and qualified, I shall appreciate to the fullest extent your influence and support.

Your very truly,
D. C. ROYSTER

LOCAL COMMITTEE TO MEET, MARCH 11TH

In response to a call made by Owen Sherrill, under whose direction loans will be made to farmers by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, Mr. V. H. Humphrey went to Abilene yesterday to attend a meeting where information concerning the plans and methods of securing loans was given by Mr. Sherrill and others. Each county has a committee of three through whom all applications for loans must be made. The Schleicher committee is composed of Mr. Humphrey, J. E. Hill, and B. E. Moore. Mr. T. P. Metcalf, who is now located in San Angelo, will have general supervision of this work in five counties, including Schleicher.

Mr. Humphrey advises that Mr. Metcalf plans to meet our local committee Friday, the 11th and give them such assistance and information as they may need to put the plan in operation. Further information will be given out by the committee within the next week. Mr. W. O. Alexander of The First National Bank accompanied Mr. Humphrey to Abilene.

Allred Wins In Ouster Actions

All Defendants To Be Joined In Main Trial Of Oil Suit

(San Angelo Morning-Times)
AUSTIN, March, 7.—Texas' young attorney general, James V. Allred today scored his third straight victory in his anti-trust ouster suit against 15 major oil companies and two petroleum associations.

J. D. Moore, Travis County district judge before whom the case is being tried, overruled pleas in abatement and misjoinder filed by all defendants, sustaining the state's argument that it was proper to join all defendants in a single cause of action since the pleading of the attorney general alleged each defendant conspired with other defendants to violate the anti-trust laws through an agreement designed to control oil and gasoline market outlets.

Previously Judge Moore had held Allred had authority to require the personal presence of R. C. Holmes of New York, president of the Texas Company and his vice presidents, before a commissioner in Austin to give testimony preparatory to the trial of the ouster suit. Allred's second victory came when Judge Moore held that writs of attachment and garnishment on which Allred based his claim of jurisdiction over non-resident foreign corporations were valid.

MARCH 11, 1932

A friend in need is a friend indeed. Our sweet life is when we live for others, when we can forget self and live for others. Thus did our good friend Dave DeLong do this week when he drove up to the home of the Editor and unloaded a goat, "shucked and shelled" ready for the oven. So if we butt into things this week we are not in the habit of doing, over look our impudence for we have been feasting on chevon, formerly the "but-insky" tribe. Here is thanks to our friend and may his mother goats all bring twins for his goodness and kindness.

The coming of the Special Santa Fe train March 16 at 3:30 p. m., to our city, should not be passed up lightly. The coming of this special train with its exhibits should be worth something to our people and will if we take advantage of its coming and visit its exhibits and hear their talks.

In the passing of Mr. P. H. McCormick, the cause of righteous has lost a friend and supporter. He was out spoken against wrong and a prominent worker in his church for many years. In his home the early ministry found a welcome and shelter, it being a place of refuge for the friends of his master. What greater things could be spoken of man. He lived to bless mankind.

Japan landed a new lot of troops in China, Sunday, notwithstanding they have notified the world that hostilities had ceased and they would probably withdraw at an early date.

The Success Editor has sit in court rooms and heard many citizens disqualify themselves by not believing in capital punishment. When the thing was brought home to them in the proper way they would believe in it. Any person who is guilty of kidnapping innocent children and killing them for ransom, is a menace to society and when caught should pay for their sin by death.

Capital punishment is a necessity for society.

TOLERANCE

During the past few years, this word, "tolerance", has been over-worked, much to the damage of society. We are being urged to compromise in the interest of peace. Now peace is a very valuable asset and should be sought by all, but even peace can be priced too high.

Early in life, one should become well grounded in the really important principles that guide human beings toward a worthwhile destiny and then stick by those principles even though to do so, brings upon you the charge of intolerance. The individual is to be congratulated who has arrived at that stage of his intellectual development when he can distinguish between a principle and the mere trimmings that beautify or obscure it. He has passed the barriers that separate ignorance from knowledge. We should never quarrel over non-essentials. They are not as valuable as peace and peace should never be sacrificed in their behalf. We should always stand ready to defend principles, cost what it may since they are more valuable than peace. Our Lord, in the days of his flesh, imputed little value to the tithes, mint, anise and cummin but was ready to lay down His life defending the weightier matters of the law, such as justice, mercy and truth. There is a certain amount of belligerency plugged up in human nature and it is bound to vent itself on something. It remains for the individual to determine how he shall expend the pent up energy. He may waste it on trifles or he may conserve it against the day of need when some great principle is at stake. Jesus leads the world because He gave all his energy to the task of furnishing a remedy for sin—the seed evil from which all human ills are bred. Washington became the Father of his country because he refused to be led into jealous bickerings with his subordinates. And this has been the secret of great achievements in all ages.

Our modern churches have expended much precious energy quarreling over non-essentials. Christianity will begin to move forward when all Christians concentrate on one vital thing, viz, faith in the Son of God. Then, if they still need a vent for their contentious energy, let them expend it in striving to surpass their fellows in glorifying God and blessing their fellow men. Never quarrel over trifles. They are not worth the price of peace. Never surrender essentials, they are worth more than peace. Be sure your lives harmonize with the plans of the Great Architect, then how to the line and let the chips fall where they may.

CASH BENEFITS FROM GOOD ROADS

The public at large probably gets more value from money spent in road building and improvement than from any other kind of government expenditure.

As a spokesman for the American Association of State Highway Officials recently said, every dollar spent in road betterment makes the automobile worth more. When needed road work goes undone the utility of the automobile, and, consequently, its value to its owner, is reduced. And there are now some twenty-odd million automobiles in use.

Road building last year furnished employment to about 750,000 men. Without this work these men and their families would, for the most part, have been forced to endure a year of want and despair. Thus the good roads movement has been immensely valuable as an alleviator of unemployment—and relief measures of this kind are very different from such propositions as the dole or gigantic federal bond issues, inasmuch as the money is legitimately spent and benefits all.

Modern materials plus construction technique, have made it possible to build full-width, weather proof long wearing roads, of the asphaltic type, at but a fraction of the cost of "high-type" highways. Such roads are eminently suitable to rural localities—and, indeed, all localities where traffic is not excessively heavy—and make the road dollar do many times the work it did a few years ago. —Industrial News Review.

SEVENTEEN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS RECEIVE HONOR CARDS

Beginning with this year, Mr. Holt has begun the practice of issuing honor cards to students making an "A" in one or more of their subjects. Seventeen of the high school students received these cards at the end of the first six weeks term of the second semester. These cards give the name of the student, the subject or subjects in which he made an "A" grade, a statement to the parent, and the signature of the teacher. The names of those who received the cards with the subjects in which they have an "A" rating, are given below:

Frances Ballew, Bookkeeping; Bernice Bricker, Algebra II and Spanish I; Morris Bricker, Texas History and Bookkeeping; W. B. Gibson, Spanish I and Biology; Gusta V. Graves, Spanish III; Margaret Hill, English I, History I and Algebra I; Willie Ruth Johnson, English III, History III, Plane Geometry and Spanish II; Melba Jones, Bookkeeping; Lillie B. Kent, Spanish II; Hollis McCormick, Bookkeeping; Lawrence Morgan, Bookkeeping; Lucile Oglesby, Bookkeeping; Clyda Pruitt, English IV and History III; John E. Rodgers, Algebra II; Anna R. Spurgers, Biology; Lois Whitley, History I and Algebra I.

ALUMNI AND SOCIETY

Thelma Taylor
Coach Williamson was absent the latter part of last week and the first part of this week. It's time for Mr. Smith to take a few days off now.

John McElroy was in town this week-end. It had been so long since we had seen him we thought he must be hibernating somewhere.

R. J. Page is working on his dad's ranch east of town. He was in town Saturday and Sunday enjoying the city sights.

William McAngus says if you go with somebody else's girl, it's liable to cause trouble.

A. J. Roach didn't get home this week-end. I guess he thought the fare would dig too deep into his weekly earnings.

Willie Ruth is back with us this week. She looks kinda pale but says she feels fine.

Miss Karr arrived safely back and we hope she doesn't get sick again. Jim thinks she can give more to outline than Mr. Holt can!

Cecil Johnson was home for the week end. This is the first time Cecil has visited us in a long while.

Miss Allen went home last Friday and we really hope she enjoyed it. She ought to have because she has looked forward to this event with much joy.

VALUE OF A SCHOOL PAPER

The values of a high school paper are so manifold and far-reaching in extent that it is impossible to list them in a brief space. Furthermore, some of the values which are the largest are those which are intangible and one cannot always specifically name them.

In listing the concrete values of a high school paper, however, I should list the building up of the school's esprit de corps. Nothing, aside from athletics, I think, so draws the student body of an institution together into a large family as does a high school publication. It is an activity which can and should touch every student and to which every one connected with the school can point with pride as "our paper."

Another value is that the editing and writing of material for the paper provide a project in which many of the students can use the lessons they have learned in the mother tongue. No subject, I think, needs more attention in our high schools at present than does the study of English and its corollary study-spelling. The complaints coming from many sections of the business world that high-school graduates are poor spellers can at least partly be overcome by the students having occasion to prepare or do copy for a school paper.

Then the school paper reflects the student life of the school. Years later when the students have gone out into business life they will secure many a hearty chuckle or rhapsodic recollection by perusing the files of the old school paper—and they will be glad if they keep these old papers for future reference. Furthermore, the paper can and should provide an accurate history of the institution, that the school generations to come may consult for the inspiration that a vivid historical narrative in which one is interested always gives.

A snappy, well written, well edited and well-made-up school paper is a splendid piece of advertising for the school. "That must be a school where the students are on their toes," will be the comment of the outsider, if he is favorably impressed with the paper issued by the student body of a school.

If I were called upon to give advice to the staff of a school—and I realize fully that giving advice is the easiest thing under the sun—I should stress three things—perspicacity, originality, and accuracy. Get all the news of the school and its activities into the record, as reflected in the school paper; avoid worn-out and meaningless expressions and use your own style, making descriptions vivid and terse; and get the news correctly, so that there will be no criticism of the veracity of any statement that your paper may print.

THE BOOK LOVER'S CLUB

Frances Ballew
We are having more good times and learning so many important things in the Book Lover's Club.

Miss Allen seems to know just what it takes to please us. We always have in interesting program, and sometimes we tell stories, work cross word puzzles, write essays, and do other things that industrious and studious persons like Billy Kerr and Samuel Smith enjoy.

Bill Smith, our most dignified president, is a good one sometimes. I shall admit that he blunders many times, but who doesn't? Bill's main fault is that he wants the club to have a party. He is not the only one, either, from what I hear.

COACH WILLIAMSON ABSENT FROM TRACK BY FLU

Coach Williamson's absence from track practice has been felt very much. His help and encouragement has been the main thing. The boys did not know how much he did help them until he was absent. He probably will not make the trip to Menard or Ft. Worth. He is expected to be back in practice in a few days. The whole track squad sincerely hopes that he will have a speedy recovery and will be out to help and encourage them in a few days.

SPORT SLANTS

The boys will go to Menard, Saturday, to attend a track meet. Coach Lane, of Menard did not state whether there would be cups or not but there probably will be cups and medals awarded. The Juniors as well as the Seniors will attend the meet. Coach Williamson probably will not attend the meet but Coach Terry of the Juniors will take charge of the complete squad. Since the sickness of Coach Williamson, the boys will not attend the meet at Ft. Worth. They will all go to Menard and try to bring home some bacon.

The tennis courts are being repaired and given a coat of clay. Mr. Smith is in charge of the construction and will be in charge of the tennis. There are only a few boys that are going to play tennis.

The Sophs are on a rampage for the interclass baseball title. They nosed out the Seniors in the best game of the season 6-4. The Seniors had just walloped the Juniors 21-10. The Sophs also hold a win over the Fish. According to dope, the Sophs will win the title but they are a long way from home.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL

The Sophs are the only ones that have a perfect record. The Seniors have a game and have lost a game. The Juniors and Fish have each lost a game. They tied Monday, but the game will be played over again.

DEATH FOR KIDNAPPERS, ENNIS MINISTER URGES

"If modern law were patterned more after the law of Moses, there would be, I am sure, much less crime," says a statement from C. V. Dunn, minister of the First Christian Church of Ennis, which deals with kidnaping.

"It seems to me that few acts are more dastardly than kidnaping," Mr. Dunn said. "Murder seems to me little, if any worse, and often kidnapers prove to be murderers. A person that is so completely bereft of sensibility to human sorrow as to cause, without remorse, pain and anxiety to those whose loved one is taken, and this for material gain, is of no longer any use to society. Instead that there is one chance in a thousand ever to make a good citizen out of him. To say the least such a person should be placed where further contact with society is impossible. But why should such a heartless person be made an expense to society. Why house, feed and clothe one so utterly inhuman?

"Though a minister of the gospel, I am in favor of capital punishment for such inhuman wretches. They care not for the lives of others. Why should their own be spared? Swift punishment for such offenders would undoubtedly reduce the number of such heinous crimes."

SCHREINER STEERS NET ABOUT $120 EACH ON CHICAGO MARKET

(Kerrville Sun)
One car of five-year-old Hereford steers shipped last week by L. A. Schreiner were sold Tuesday on the Chicago market at $7.75, netting the shipper about $120 per head.

The 20 head of big steers had been on feed 144 days and averaged 1,894 pounds when they were weighed out in the Kerrville yards Wednesday of last week. The settrs averaged 1,500 pounds when they were placed on feed October 3, 1931. The average gain per head after 144 days in the feed pen was 394 pounds, approximately 2.3-4 pounds per day. After five days in the car en route to Chicago, the animals shrunk from 1,894 to an average of 1,754 pounds on arrival at the market.

Three cars of three-year-old steers shipped out to Chicago at the same time by Gus F. Schreiner averaged 1,457 pound when sold Monday and also brought $7.75. These steers were fed at the Schreiner Paint Creek Ranch.

L. A. Schreiner expects to ship a car of three-year-old steers to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show this week end. Gus F. Schreiner is completing preparations to ship another three cars of three-year-olds to Chicago.
