Schleicher County Sheep Take More Honors

Competes Against Many High Class Breeders

The First National Bank was again decorated with ribbons on the return of Mr. George Williams from the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth. Mr. Williams is one of Schleicher County's Registered Sheep Breeders and has taken many first prizes as well as a large number of other awards at different shows over West Texas.

The competition at Ft. Worth was the toughest that he has ever encountered, Mr. Williams states. He showed against the best sheep from A. & M. College of Texas, A & M. College of Oklahoma, and many other noted out of state breeders.

Mr. Williams entered only five sheep in this show and won three prizes. The best average made by an individual. He placed first in the C. type of sheep, which was the best lamb ram. He took a second place in the B. Type and a fourth in the best sire.

Mr. Williams has been breeding the Rambouillet sheep for several years and takes great pains in the classification of his flock, giving them plenty of green feed during the winter months and has separate pastures for each class of sheep. He is very proud of his flock and has a very good right to be as he has one of the highest grade flocks of sheep in West Texas as has been shown in many of the show where he has been awarded high honors on his Rambouillets over many of the largest sheep breeders in Texas and several other states.

Sewer System Lines Are Being Surveyed

Bond Issue To Be Voted On Soon

The lines for the Sanitary Sewer System are being surveyed and maps of this system will be placed before the city officials at an early date. The engineers are running the lines and getting a complete survey as to the cost and system of which it may be carried out.

After this has been completed and passed on by the city council it will be placed before the citizens in a Bond Issue. The system, if the bond issue carries will be owned by the City. The bond to be voted on will be approximately $45,000.

The citizens will not have to pay taxes on this issue but for year as after that time the system will take care of itself, and it will be possible for the city to own it within a period of seven years.

The system will be of the most up to date, sanitary systems, with the disposal plant near Mexico in one large lake there. The water will be practically pure when it comes through this plant.

The company will put up this system and give the city an option to put it over within five years but the council thinks that if it would pay a company to put one in here that it will pay for itself and be self sustaining after one year and the city will have the advantage of owning its own plant.

T. F. Green and Wilson Parks were in the city Thursday. Mr. Green is just recovering from a tussle with the measles.

State Health Nurse Gives Suggestions for School Sanitation

To the Eldorado P. T. A., School Staff and School Trustees I make the following suggestions for the bettering of sanitary conditions and furthering of Health Education.

I earnestly hope that every effort will be made to carry them out, if not all this year, that you may continue them in the fall. "Be not weary in well doing." Do not stop until you have a county nurse and then begin to work.

In order to carry on some system of follow up work, I suggest that the first seven grades carry on a Health Button Contest as outlined by the Bureau of Child Hygiene. It has been done elsewhere with very encouraging results. A prize may be given to room receiving most buttons.

That a Nutrition class be organized in each room for those ten or more per cent underweight. That they bring milk to school daily, one pint, that they drink it under supervision at ten o'clock recess and at noon, or afternoon recess for those going home for lunch. That these children be weighed weekly at the same hour and that a graphic chart be kept. I further suggest that a prize be offered to the room gaining the most pounds (on per centage basis).

To assist in providing ways and means for children whose parents are not able to have defects corrected.

That a Health Bulletin Board be placed in the Hall of both floors for matters pertaining to health or sanitation.

That the children of entire school be required to eat their lunches indoors daily in as few rooms as it takes to seat them. That they shall take 20 min. to eat lunches. This keeps the grounds from being littered up and the entire school building being used as lunch rooms. Children will develop better manners will bring better lunches, and a number of other beneficial results.

I urge that the school subscribe to "Hygeia", the best health magazine and that additional sum be sent for three helpful books, i. e. Health Education Healthy Land and Improvised Equipment.

That the partitions in both toilets be repainted to obliterate markings on wall. That liquid soap and paper towels be furnished in both lavatories.

That two large cans be placed on school grounds for waste papers and peelings from fruit. These to have lids which push in like one in basement now.

That the board require all new children entering school to have small pox vaccination and for immunization against diphtheria under 12 years.

That calisthenics be given out doors, weather permitting, for ten minutes each morning before 9 or at recess.

That all children be required to march across the street at noon who live across the highway, in formation while traffic is held. A patrolman be stationed on either side. I consider it very dangerous for them to run at every angle making it hard for both pedestrian and driver.

That fire drills be given at intervals during school terms.

That all teachers have a yearly physical examination.

That a cup be placed around drinking fountains. As they are now, they are not sanitary. A great many diseased gums may be result of them.

Patronize the home merchants.

COUNTY AGENT DESERVES MUCH CREDIT FOR WORK DONE WITH 4-H CLUB

L. E. Sumner, Schleicher County Agent can not be praised too much for his untiring efforts in helping the members of the 4 H Club in placing several winning lambs in the show at Fort Worth. With his work and the cooperative spirit displayed by the boys of this club brought much publicity and honor to the Schleicher County stock. Seven prizes were won during the Stock Show by Schleicher County lambs, the largest winning of any one County entering the contest at this show.

The First National Bank of Eldorado gave the boys their first incentive to work in putting their stock in the best of condition by offering a beautiful loving cup and several prizes of gold. This cup was won by the best Five lambs in the entry, belonging to Jess Koy, and fed by Mr. Koy's son, Gene.

Mr. Sumner who has been very busy in the work with the boys club has not overlooked his duties with the farmers. He has been on the job helping done on several farms in the county now.

Drilling To Be Resumed In Page Test Fri

After considerable trouble in under reaming the hole being put down on the Page ranch, in testing for oil, the water has been cut off and drilling will start again Friday morning or afternoon. The well is 2380 feet deep. Ashowing of oil was found at a depth of 2200 feet but only showed a small amount of about a barrel daily. Water was immediately encountered after a few feet of drilling. Quite a bit of trouble has been had in shutting the water out of the hole but with good luck the drilling will again be resumed today.

ELDORADO P. T. A. AND LIONS CLUB TO SPONSOR PLAY

A play sponsored by the P T A and Lions Club of Eldorado will be given in the near future for the purpose of raising funds to be divided between these two clubs and used to any advantage that becomes necessary. The play will be ordered this week and rehearsals will start immediately. The play will be under the supervision of Miss Orsborn, Public Speaking teacher in the Eldorado high school. All talent will be obtained in Eldorado, from the Lions Club and P T A organizations and probably some outside characters will be asked to help.

Watch for later announcements of this play, the date and character will be announced later.

Schleicher County Citizens Enjoying Presence of Work Train

Dream Of Twenty Years At Last a Reality

The keen whistle of the work train is sweet music to many of Schleicher County's old time residents, for after almost twenty years of waiting has at last materialized and the citizens that worked and spent almost $125,000 in trying to secure this means of transportation for the many products that are sent out of the country annually, have been awarded for their efforts after many years of waiting. The train is here and the people are enjoying its presence to the greatest extent.

The first work on securing a railroad began about twenty years ago, when the citizens of Schleicher County raised a bonus of $100,000 dollars for the building of this road. They were awarded a railroad dump for this hundred grand. This was worthless until the Santa Fe took charge last summer and said that they would build a railroad into Eldorado for a $20,000 bonus. This was raised very easily and now the Santa Fe work train is in Eldorado and rapidly completing their work toward Sonora, the present destination of this road.

Stock Pens Being Built
The stock pens for Schleicher county are now under construction and according to Santa Fe officials are to be the best in West Texas. There are fourteen and a large trap connected with these pens, that comprise a total of approximately ten acres. Ample room for several thousand head of stock is being put in these pens.

The scales for weighing the stock has already been purchased by Mr. Luke Thompson, one of Schleicher County's progressive stockmen. These scales are Fairbank scales and are of the same style of carload lot scales that are being used in practically all of the shipping points in Southwest Texas.

Grounds For Hold Over Trap Not Secured Yet

The trap, consisting of from fifty to a hundred acres to be used for a hold over trap has not been secured yet. This was brought up before the Lions Club some time ago and a committee was appointed to work on this project but as the Chairman of the committee, J. A. Whitten has been in south Texas on account of his health, the work has been rather slow. This trap will be used by stockmen who wish to come to Eldorado to ship their stock, in helping to keep the stock in good condition during their wait here. It is believed that a convenience of this kind offered the stockmen will draw many ranchmen here that would go elsewhere provided conditions were the same. This trap will afford grazing facilities and will keep from having to herd or place the stock in a small enclosure.

Work on Street Paving To Begin Within Thirty Days: Three Blocks To Be Paved With Heavy Uvalde Rock Asphalt Covering

Record Cattle Deals Are Made

Waggoners Sell 6000-7000 Head; 3500 Others

Three cattle deals involving approximately $862,500 and nearly 10,000 steers were reported here Monday night. Two of them, handled by Rhodes Runkles of the Mann Commission Company, were the first this year in West Texas.

Two thousand head of big steers were sold for Charles Koathman & Sons of Menard and Mason Counties and C. G. Brannenburger for $170,000 to Kansas buyers. They are for delivery May 1.

Fifteen hundred head of steer yearlings went to Kansas buyers from Math Hickman of Big Lake. Sol Mayer and Willie Wilkerson of Sonora for $75,000 in Runkles' other deal.

The sale of one of the biggest strings of steers in Texas was disclosed here Monday night when it became known that the Waggoner estate of Vernon had, sold to J. Huddleston of Pomona, Kan. between 6,000 and 7,000 head of three and four-year-old steers at $95. Last year the steers brought $105. —San Angelo Standard.

Much Improving to be Done on Water Works

Approximately $30,000 to be Spent on Improvements

The Eldorado Water Works will start work on the improvements of the works early next month. Approximately $30,000 will be spent during the work. Larger mains will be placed in the business district of Eldorado and also in parts of the residential sections fire plugs will also be installed, which will probably give the citizens of Eldorado another reduction in the insurance. The rate has already been lowered 15% on the strength of the fire ordinance passed by the City Council.

A regulation on water tower will be erected, giving a much greater water force in all sections of the city.

The mains in the business at present are only two inch mains which furnish very little amount of water force and the smaller mains in the residential sections being some what smaller than this does not furnish the homes with an adequate supply of water during the summer months. But with the enlarging of all the mains in the city limits, promises ample amount of water for all the people of the city.

The City of Eldorado will finance the installation of the fire plugs and Mayor Green has been unable to ascertain the exact cost of installing these plugs but he states that they will be well worth the money spent and will give the property owners more fire protection.

The Senior Editor received an announcement Thursday from Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carothers, of Dallas, announcing the marriage of their daughter Miss Doris Deane to Mr. Cone Johnston, on March 16, 1930. Mr. Carothers was the first Newspaper man to publish a paper in Eldorado. Miss Doris came into the home after leaving Eldorado.

At the last meeting of the City Council Tuesday night, the contract for the paving of three blocks on the main street of Eldorado, was let to Thompson and Simpson of San Angelo. The work will probably start around the first of April. Several bids were considered from contractors from different cities but the bid turned in by these contractors was much lower than any other and they were considered as being the more local contractors than the others.

The bid for this contract let to this company was $5.55 per front foot, the property owners paying five dollars and the city paying the fifty five cents. This contract calls for a complete job, including the paving, curbing and gutter. The contract for a six inch sledge stone base, with an inch topping, graduating to a half inch at the curb of Uvalde Rock Asphalt. The contractors will furnish a five year maintenance bond, guaranteeing the work for five years and if the work proves defective the pavement is theirs for the price paid or rebuilt.

Three Blocks To Be Paved

There will be three blocks on the main street paved. The paving will begin at the Court House and run south to the inter section of the street running north and south beyond the Shoemaker & Sons, Feed Store. The mapping and engineering work on this project was done by French and French, Engineer and Landscapers. They are doing much work in remapping and straightening out many different faulty surveys in Eldorado.

Opportune Time For Work

Mayor Fred O Green thinks that this is the opportune time to get the paving done as there is little work being done over the country and work will be available at low prices and the contractors are wanting the work.

Cheapest Contract Ever Let

This is the cheapest contract that has been let in Texas according to Mayor Green. The reason states Mr. Green is that work is scarce and again the contractors Thompson and Simpson really wanted to do the work for Eldorado to prove contractors and it will probably lead to future work here. These men are well known in San Angelo and have established a record that will stand for itself when it comes to paving that will stand the traffic and smoothness. The council is very proud to have secured these men for the work.

Home Labor To Be Used

It is also stated in the contract that home labor as for as (Continued on page 8)

RAILROAD SPECIAL

EDITION

The Success will publish a special edition for the coming of the Railroad to our city, it is now planned to get this out about the time Service is opened on the new road. We ask the co-operation of the citizenship of the county. The business men especially in the advertising portion of the edition. Mr. Ranchmen if you have any fine stock, which you have, lets have an ad together with a write up of the kind of stock you raise and have for sale. The Success would suggest that we have some kind of a celebration and welcoming day for the Santa Fe. Lets celebrate this great event in our march in progress.

Tom Williams, prominent stock farmer, from 18 miles west of Eldorado, was looking after business and buying supplies in Eldorado Friday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs. A. L. Stewardson were here from the ranch near Fort Stockton the past week end Mr Stewardson reports the ranchmen of his section have not fed their stock any this winter.

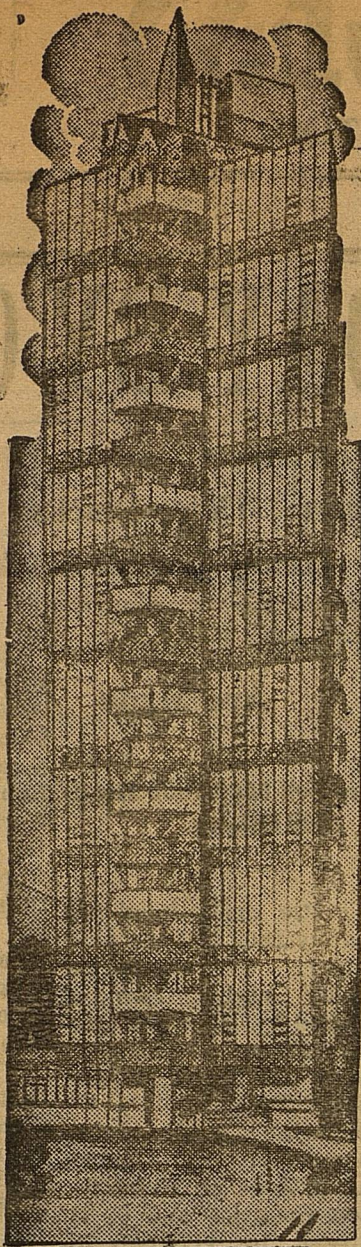

"What do you think of the new typist?" asked the boss. "How is she doing her work?" "Well," replied the clerk, "I don't know. But she spells atrociously."

"Really," replied the boss, she must be pretty good then. I can't spell it myself."

"Now, James," said the teacher, "if your father can do a piece of work in one hour and your mother can do it one hour, how long would it take them to do it together?"

"Three hours," answered James, "counting the time they would waste in arguing."

House of Glass

Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, whose original designs have produced some of the world's most interesting buildings, has been engaged by the ancient Church of St. Marks-in-the-Bowery, New York, to build apartment houses with glass walls on property owned by the church. As Mr. Wright's drawing, shown here, indicates, the walls will be of plate glass, admitting every possible ray of light. Heavy curtains will insure privacy.

Mayor Green Believes It Is Time to Pave Street

Cheap Labor Available

The call for bids for the paving of the streets of Eldorado has been issued and the paving will probably start soon. Mayor Green says that he believes that this is the opportune time to do this work as much labor is available and it can be done much cheaper at the present time than it will later on when work is plentiful. He believes in using all the home labor that can be used. Mr. Green is very strong in favor of using home talent when it is possible to do so and will place this in the contracts that the home labor should be used if possible.

The street paving project has met with much favor on the part of the people of Eldorado and with only one or two objections. The cost of the paving will cost approximately $150 per lot of thirty foot front, according to surveys and estimates given out by the city surveyors French & French, who have been re-mapping the town section and the street that is to be paved. They state that the paving will be one of the easiest problems that they have faced in some time due to the fall of the water line on the main street. Very little dirt will have to be excavated and this will add greatly to lessening the cost of the paving.

Dr. Morrow who for a quarter of a century has been lecturing against the outlawed liquor traffic, will speak at the Methodist church next Monday night at 7:30, on law enforcement. Dr. Morrow is a distinguished speaker, having plenty of wit and humor to keep the attention of his hearers.

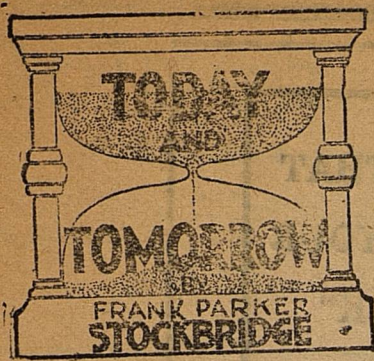

He will also show a real moving picture in connection with his lecture, no charge will be made, but children must be accompanied by their parents, this picture is not a slide but a real movie, it shows up Bootleggers, Moonshiners and officers chasing them. NEVER wait to see if a headache will "wear off." Why suffer when there's Bayer Aspirin? The millions of men and women who use it in increasing quantities every year prove that it does relieve such pain. The medical profession pronounces it without effect on the heart, so use it as often as it can spare you any pain. Every druggist always has genuine Bayer Aspirin for the prompt relief of a headache, colds, neuralgia, lumbago, etc. Familiarize yourself with the proven directions in every package.

EDISON

Think for a minute of what one man, still active in his 84th year, has done to change the word in a single lifetime. He made the telephone a practical instrument. He invented the incandescent light. He invented the phonograph. He invented the motion picture. Imagine a world without those inventions. It is impossible, except to those whose memories, like my own, go back to the time when Edison was known only as the inventor of the multiplex telegraph.

Now he has found a way to get rubber out of goldenrod, not as a commercial product but as a war reserve resource. And he is still working.

"A man can't die so long as he keeps busy," he told me once.

MUSIC

Good music is increasing in popularity, but there are more musicians out of work than ever before. We are getting our music more and more by mechanical methods of reproduction.

First the phonograph, then the radio, now the sound motion pictures, have brought the very best music, played and sung by talent, within reach of everybody. The largest piano company in America went into bankruptcy recently. Pianos are still sold, and always will be. There will always be youngsters with talent coming along to produce the good music of tomorrow. And there are more "freak" instruments being sold than ever—saxophones, ukeleles and the like. There are probably more first-class singers of American birth and training, appearing in public now than ever before. But the second-rate and hopelessly third-rate musicians no longer command audiences. The American people have developed a higher taste in music.

CHURCHES

"I could empty every country church and half the city church on Sunday mornings by broadcasting better sermons and services than all but a few great churches offer," the head of one of the great broadcasting chains said to me the other day.

The time is coming when smalltown churches will install radio sets and get their music and their sermons out of the air. They will need no local preacher, but instead will become centers for community work in the name of God, making in their charge to protect the moral and physical health of their communities, to inspire the amusements and elevate the educational standards of their young folk.

RUBBER

Rubber gets its name because its first use was to rub out pencil marks. The Spanish conquistadores found Mexican and Brazilian children playing with balls of this peculiar gum, but it was three hundred years before it became a commercial product. Macintosh, the Scotchman, used it first to waterproof cloth; Good-year, the American, found how to take the stickiness out while retaining the elasticity.

A very small amount of commercial rubber is grown in the United States, in California and Arizona, where it is produced from the guayule shrub. Most of it comes from the East Indies and South America. Harvey Firestone is planting a million acres to rubber trees in Liberia, Africa. Unskilled cheap labor is necessary to keep the price of rubber down. A difference of 50 cents a pound in the price of crude rubber may mean a difference of $10 in the price of automobile tires.

The next step will be the discovery of a method of reclaiming old rubber and using it again.

LAWS

It ought to be apparent by this time that the effort to make people good by passing laws is a failure. The other day a judge in New York sentenced a young woman to prison for life. He had no option; it was her fourth conviction for larceny and under the Baumes law a fourth offender must be locked up until he or she dies. That isn't going to do this girl or society any good. The time when something could have been done about her case was when she was a child. She grew up with out education, without moral sense, without any feeling of responsibility.

The only reason we put people in prison or execute them is because we are afraid of them. Our prison population has doubled in twenty years. As we grow more prosperous we become more afraid of the unprosperous. It might be a good plan to spend as much money trying to keep people out of prison as we spend now to keep them in it.

COMPARE VALUES

BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

OUR LARGEST AND BEST INVESTMENT

Taking the whole nation into consideration, it is probable that we spend more money every year for education than for anything else beyond the necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter. Certainly we spend, as a people, more money on schools and colleges than do the people of any other nation. School appropriations rank next to those for highways in most communities, ahead of road funds in many. And there is no other cause to which so much money is given by men of wealth who wish to prove their right to accumulated means by their wise disposition of their money.

Henry Ford has recently announced that he plans to spend upward of one hundred million dollars on education. Mr. Ford has a very practical theory, which is that the average boy ought to be taught a trade after he has gone as far in the general schools as his circumstances permits. In the Ford Industrial School at Dearborn several hundred boys are constantly passing through courses which turn out the most highly skilled mechanics and junior engineers in the country. Those who have the will and the intelligence to do so go from the Ford school to the great technical universities and become expert engineers the others never fail to find and hold highly paid jobs.

That is one purpose of education—to enable its recipient to develop his talents to the best economic advantages to himself and society. Another purpose is to enable him to get the greatest possible enjoyment out of life. The joys which last are those which have their roots in the cultivation of the emotional perceptions. Of these, Mr. George Eastman believes, music is the most enduring. So out of the sixty million dollars which he has already given for educational purposes, nearly all of it has gone for the teaching of music and cultivation of the appreciation of music.

There is no compilation available of the amounts of money which private contributors have given for educational purposes in America. George Washington set the example when he founded and endowed a free school in Alexandria, Va., which is still going. John Smithson, the legitimate son of an English Duke, gave half a million dollars a hundred years ago to establish a great scientific educational institution in America, the Smithsonian Institution of Washington. A hundred or more of Andrew Carnegie's millions went into educational funds, not including the libraries which he founded, themselves educational institutions. John D. Rockefeller is estimated to have given away more than seven hundred and fifty millions, nearly all of it for education.

The only cure for the troubles of humanity is education. It is the slow but sure method of changing human nature. No revolution, no legislation, no "reform" movement, ever gave humanity a new outlook on life. The right sort of education can do that—in time. It is worth all it costs.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO BREATHE?

I once had the misfortune to know a pessimist. There was some excuse for his pessimism. He was a narrow-chested chap threatened with tuberculosis.

He had given himself up for lost. One night somebody induced him to go to a singing school.

A year later his chest was filled up; there was a sparkle in his eye; his laugh could be heard a city block away.

He had learned how to breathe.

Even when you practice deep breathing exercises you probably do not fill your entire lung capacity. You expand your chest; but the really important part of your breathing is done with your diaphragm—a big flat muscle that forms the floor of your chest.

And the abdominal muscles are the boys you need to train if you are to get the most out of your diaphragm.

Fill your lungs until you feel your stomach muscles hard against your belt.

That means that your diaphragm has straightened down and is massaging the top of your stomach and intestines—helping along with the process of elimination.

When you breathe out, do it forcibly, with the stomach muscles: like a horse snorting—but without the snort.

Your stomach and intestines will be forced up against the diaphragm again and given another massage.

Breathing in is important, but breathing out is much more important.

Read sometime a book by a man like Thureau, or John Burroughs, or Stewart Edward White—one of the great open-air writers.

Then, while the impression of its rich, bounding optimism is still strong upon you, pick up a book written by one of the Russian novelists, or by one of our modern longhaired writers who believe that realism necessarily means murder and drunkenness and prostitution.

What a difference! And what makes the difference?

The realist will tell you that it is because he thinks deeply, while the optimistic writer thinks superficially.

As a matter of fact, the difference is not in the brains of it is not the depth of their thinking so much as the depths of their lungs.

The corpuscles of the one are red and fed with oxygen; the corpuscles of the other are pale and fed with cigarette smoke and germs.

"For what, after all, is life?" asks an old Sanskrit quotation. And answers:

"Life is the interval between one breath and another—he who only half breathes only half lives."

WHAT NEXT?

"The blushing maiden" is a thing of the good old days. But what of blushing boys? They can exist.

There are very few girls that can be made blush. In the days of our grandparents a pretty blush was a girl's greatest charm. But today if a girl blushes she is called "Old fashioned."

It seems to be the style for boys to blush now instead of girls. I saw a boy turn all the many colors of a rainbow one night but, the girl he was escorting didn't blush. The boys are taking up blushing for the girls. They have already taken up the habit of painting and powdering. The women have taken up business and politics and men have taken their places in the kitchen. I wonder what men will do next, don't you?

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen in this high school have not been initiated this year. Mr. Holt does not believe in hazing the "Poor Fish", and the upper classmen have not molested in any manner. However if the Fish don't get better and behave themselves, they will get "theirs" on April the first.

SENIOR DAY

There has been some talk of having a senior day among the seniors. I see no reason why there should not be a senior day. The class should get together and decide about this.

She made, however, no move to obey him, and with a gesture of exasperation, he suddenly seized a rope that lay conveniently near him and bound her slender limbs to stakes he had driven in the ground for that purpose, muttering as he did so: "I warned you."

DEBATE

Vera Wade and Lorene Shoemaker debated with Elzie Moore and J. C. Bullion last Wednesday in chapel. The girls had the negative side of the question "Resolved That The Sterling Plan for Financing a State System of Highways Should Be Adopted," and the boys had the affirmative.

There were many funny things happening throughout the debate. Elzie wrapped his legs around the table leg several times and his poise was rather peculiar. J. C. was almost frightened to death when the time keeper stood up.

The girls team did some funny things but not so many as the boys.

This debate was only practice and both teams expect to do better the next time.

LEAGUE WORK

The Inter scholastic League work does not seem to be progressing as rapidly as it should. There has been so much sickness that very little work can be done.

There seems to be little chance for the whole school to get a holiday the fourth of April to go to the district meet.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE SUSPENDED

Because there has been so much sickness Basket Ball practice has been suspended for an indefinite time. Alta Stevens, Captain, is seriously ill.

There are several pupils that remind me of an old negro preacher I once heard about. The negro went to a small town to preach. The first day he got into a crap game with several of the young negroes and won their money. That night when he started to preach he looked down and on the first row on the Amen bench sat ne of the negroes from whom he had won money. The preacher gulped, swallowed several times, and finally said, "I take fo' my text dis evenin', 'If you see's me, and recognizes me, keep you mouth shut and I'll see you later!!'"

SENIOR PLAY

A committee consisting of Victoria Jones, Vera Wade, William McAngus, and Bill McGilvray has been selected to choose the senior play and present it to the class. The play will be selected this week and work started on it by April the 1st.

P. T. A. MEETING

The Eldorado Parent Teacher Association met Friday afternoon. Only a business meeting was held at this time. The members are looking forward to a good program at the April meeting.

SPORTS

The track team did not go to Eden Saturday. Mr. Smart went to Fort Worth and some of the boys had other places to go. "Lefty" Smith went down but did not enter. It seems that the track team has about stopped working.

There are thirteen men out for baseball practice. "Fat" Williams sensational tackle, reported full of pep and rarin' to make the team. We extend him our best wishes and hope he runs some fat off during practice.

Elzie Moore, the so-called high school hero, alias "Blondy," alias "Scratcher" alias "Millionair," wants to announce to the town and school that he thinks he can pitch a baseball game-if his arm he hurt is in good shape. We expect Elzie to try for pitcher.

There is no reason why our school should not have a good base ball team and we are going to try to have one.

Some of the boys seem to be thinking of quitting it. We do not know for certain whether they have or not.

HAVE YOU NOTICED

That Elizabeth, the heart-breaking vamp of this high school, had her a new "date" Friday night?

That Fred, J. C., Edwin, "Big" Bill, and Lefty get quiet when a certain big man with a big "sombrero" and boots on is around?

That Gusta V. is looking happy about something?

That Elizabeth had a new blue sweater with a big white "W" on it?

That Morris Whitten was back and that he seems to be giving a certain boy's girl friend the mad rush?

PERSONALS

Miss Allen spent the week end with her family in Graham, Texas. She reports a good time.

Miss Bradshaw went to Abilene. She also had a pleasant time. There must have been rain up in that part of the country from the looks of Miss Bradshaw's car.

Several of the teachers left town. Mr. Smart drove a car to Abilene and then went to Fort Worth by train. We suspect he also had a good time.

Lawson Edmiston is back in school after a short illness.

Margaret Sheen is back at her old place working hard. We are glad to see her back.

Many of the pupils that have been ill are back in school this week.

Chevrolet announces

A NEW

SERVICE POLICY

The Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealers are pleased to announce a new service policy—one of the most liberal ever offered on a low-priced automobile.

Put into force as a written agreement given to the purchaser by the Chevrolet dealer when the car is delivered—it offers the following provisions:

1 Every Chevrolet owner receives his car from the dealer in perfect condition—thoroughly lubricated, properly adjusted, and ready to operate efficiently from the first mile of ownership.

2 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection and adjustment of his car at the end of the first 500 miles of usage.

3 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free inspection of his car every 1000 miles thereafter, so long as the car is in operation.

4 Every Chevrolet owner is entitled to free replacement of any part which may prove defective in workmanship or material, within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. This includes both parts and labor.

5 Provision number 4 will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States. As a result, the Chevrolet owner may travel to any part of the country, with assurance that the guarantee on materials and workmanship will remain in force.

This new policy constitutes proof of Chevrolet's high quality—for such liberal provisions could only be made in connection with a car built of fine materials to exacting standards of workmanship.

Back of this policy, and assuring its successful operation, is one of the most complete and efficient service organizations in the world.

There are more than 10,000 Authorized Chevrolet Dealer Service Stations in the United States alone. Each employs skilled mechanics thoroughly trained at Chevrolet Service Schools. Each has specially designed tools and machinery developed exclusively for Chevrolet service work. And each has on hand, at all times, an adequate stock of genuine Chevrolet replacement parts.

Chevrolet's flat-rate charges, including both parts and labor, are the lowest in the industry on many service operations!

In considering the purchase of a low-priced automobile, think what this service means—in terms of lasting satisfaction, as well as in increased economy.

Electrical Servants for Your Home

"The application of Electricity to household appliances has done more to raise the standard of home-life than any other single factor," is the opinion of a well known home economics authority.

Just contrast the difference between the Modern, Electrically-equipped home of today, and homes of similar means a few years ago.

No longer does the housewife grow old before her time . . . no longer does she slave and toil about her kitchen and household tasks . . . no longer is she shut off from the rest of the world because of lack of time to enjoy and appreciate the better things of life.

Does your home reflect the spirit of this New Day? Are you receiving all the economical benefits possible through the intelligent application of electricity to your home?

One of our Household Engineers will be glad to show you how cheaply you can secure the enormous advantages of "Complete Electrical Service."

GUNMAN'S BLUFF

Edgar Wallace
COPYRIGHT BY EDGAR WALLACE

NINTH INSTALMENT

Luke finds out by telephone that his old bachelor apartment is still untenanted, and enters it by the fire escape. The police become suspicious and call on Margaret for the key to the flat. She accompanies a detective to the place. Luke hears her voice outside and locks himself in an inner room. The detectives and Margaret away before they burst in the door and seize Luke. They find a gun and a license in his pockets and immediately suspect him of being concerned in the jewel robbery, although they do not recognize him as Maddison. He manages to escape down the fire ladder and jumps into a passing taxi.

Now Go With The Story

"Paddington," he said, and swung himself deftly inside. Evidently the driver was in some doubt as to whether he should continue. He went about two blocks and then pulled the car up by the side of the curb. "Where have you come from?" he asked. "I can't take you, guv'nor. You look as if you were running away from somebody."

"I was," said Luke. It was not a moment to argue. He threw a two-shilling piece into the man's hand, turned down a narrow street conveniently near, and doubling back, reached the main road. Here he found a taxi moving at leisure, and a driver who did not question his bona fides.

The cab drew up at the entrance of Scotland Yard and Luke went swiftly down the declivity and into the gloomy entrance hall. A police officer on duty challenged him and asked his requirements.

"Mr. Bird's been gone for two hours sir. I think he's gone into the country. Would you like to see anybody else?"

Groaning inwardly, Luke shook his head. He came out on the Thames Embankment at one end of the Yard as Gorton and his Flying Squad came in at the other. Turning left, he walked toward Waterloo Bridge. At Charing Cross Underground he made another attempt to get in touch with the Sparrow. There was a chance that the policeman was wrong and that Bird was still in town. He went to the telephone directory, but there were so many Birds that it was impossible to tell which was which. And then he remembered one of his initials—an unusual "Z" (Mr. Bird's middle name was Zachariah). He scanned the list again and going into the telephone booth, gave a number.

At first he thought his luck was in. "Yes, this Mr. Bird's house," said a voice, "but he's out of town. Who is it speaking?"

"It's vitally necessary that I should get in touch with him as soon as possible," said Luke urgently. "Can you tell me where I can find him?"

"Who are you?"

"Will you tell him it's Mr. Maddison speaking? I have been to Scotland Yard..."

He felt a sudden draught. The door of the telephone booth was ajar; an unconcerned man was standing near by, and apparently had no interest either in him or his conversation. Luke shut the door again, and then, to his annoyance, found that whoever had spoken for Mr. Bird had hung up her receiver. Still, that was a start. He almost felt a sense of relief as he came out on to the cold Embankment and pursued his way toward Waterloo.

He had not gone twenty yards before two men, walking quickly, overtook him and fell in one at each side.

"Hullo, Smith. Connor wants to see you."

He had never seen the man before. His tone was offensive and peremptory.

"And who may Mr. Connor be?" asked Luke coolly. "My name is not Smith, it is Maddison."

"That's all right, sir," said the other more respectfully, "but Mr. Connor does want to see you pretty badly."

"Where is he?" asked Luke after a moment's thought. "At the top of Savoy Hill—there goes the Squad."

A car flashed past at that moment; the red light disappeared along the Embankment. "They call 'em busies and they are busy," said the second man bitterly.

They did not go up Savoy Hill but turned aside, passed one entrance of the Savoy Hotel and up a steep and narrow street. They turned again to the right.

"Where is Connor?"

"I'll tell you in a minute, when I've got a light for my fag," said the smaller of the two. He struck a match, and Luke's eyes instinctively went to it. That is all he remembered. He did not feel the pain of any blow, but dropped limply to the pavement under the impact of a rubber cosh.

His head was splitting when he came to his senses. He was lying on the hard floor of a jolting motor car; he discovered afterward it was a tilting Ford wagon that bore innocuously enough the name of a respectable firm of greengrocers. The two men were squatting by his side; one was smoking, and they were carrying on a conversation in a low voice.

"... That's what Connor told me," said one. But then, Connor always thought this nut would put up a squeal.

Luke lay motionless; his head was throbbing, but he felt no other discomfort. Apparently, although he could guess there was a bump as big as an egg on his skull, the blow had not drawn blood.

The car stopped. There was the creak of a gate being opened and then they went forward again, jolting over uneven ground presently the car stopped and the engine was shut off.

"Are you awake?" asked a voice.

"I'm awake all right," said Luke.

"Then get out of this. Why was you so foolish, Smith?"

A mild question for a man who, only ten minutes before, had stunned him.

He found himself in a room not only furnished but over furnished.

Connor was sitting at a table shuffling a pack of cards. He looked up as Luke entered the room.

"Did you have to cosh him?" he asked pleasantly.

The man who held Luke's arm grinned.

"He wouldn't be sensible," he said.

"Sit down," Connor pointed to a horsehair sofa against the wall, and Luke was glad to accept the invitation. "Tried to pull up a squeal, did you, Smith?"

There was nothing unfriendly in Connor's tone, but he did not cease shuffling the cards as he spoke.

"I thought you were a man when you did that bust—yes, one of my lads saw you get into that at, and saw you when you bolted. But you're nthing better than a dirty squealer. Went in the Yard and asked for the Sparrow, did you? Is he a pal of yours?"

"I know him," said Luke.

Mr. Connor nodded pleasantly. "And then you tried to get him on the phone—what was the squeal about? Don't trouble to tell me: I know. I never trusted you from the first, Smith—I don't trust Australians."

Despite his aching head, Luke could not but smile at this libel. "I shouldn't think they trust you a great deal, do they?" he asked.

"Not much," said Connor. He cut the pack into, shuffling them scientifically, and all the time his eyes were on Luke.

"So you know the Sparrow? That's good. I'll bet you know Danty, too."

Luke started.

"Danty Morell?" he asked. Why had Danty gone out of his mind? Why had he forgotten that Danty was the confidant of his wife—that his one desire in seeking freedom from the sinister environment in which he found himself, had been to expose that confidence man?

"Know Danty, too." Connor's voice was almost admiring. "And Pi Coles?"

Luke nodded. "Yes, Coles—that's his servant."

Connors smiled broadly, and there were grins on the faces of the other two men.

"Pi is his servant all right. You seem to know the whole darn shoot! I'm telling you, Smith, that a man that knows Danty and the Lewing gang, and calls at Scotland Yard to see his friend the Sparrow, isn't a healthy fellow to have around the house."

There was a long pause, and then he added: "That's why you're not going to be around the house."

He looked up at one of the thoughtfully.

"When is high tide?"

"Four o'clock."

Connor nodded. Again his dark eyes fell on Luke.

"You a good swimmer?"

"Fair," said Luke coolly. "We'll give you a little dip tonight," said Connor. "Put him in the cooler, Harry."

Connor carried on a legitimate if unprofitable business. He was a dealer in certain building material, and barges came regularly but at rare intervals to this wharf and were unloaded. He bought and sold scrap iron, cement, any commodity which offered an immediate profit. The wharf could be, and was, hired for a fee.

A few paces from the door of the sitting room the yeoman to another. Luke could not help wondering whether the little chamber into which he was thrust had been used before for the same purpose. It had no windows, but in other respects was curiously like a prison cell. It might have been employed for the storage of coal, but there was nothing in it now, not even a bed or a stool. In the light of the man's electric torch he saw that the walls were of brick and white washed. Then the door slammed on him; he heard a bolt shot, and he was left alone with the unpleasant knowledge that it would be high tide in five hours, and that Mr. Connor, in his amiable way, had planned "a dip" for him.

My dear Hulbert, I am in a most terrible—

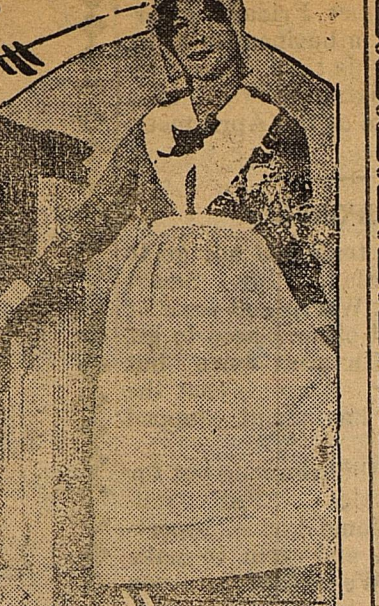

It was Luke's writing! It was Luke who had been there that night. She found another sheet covered with smudged writing; this also was addressed to the solicitor, but the three scrawled lines were undecipherable. He had deliberately crossed them out. Evidently he had sat down to write a letter to Hulbert, had made two attempts and then changed his mind.

It was so like Luke; he could never resist temptation offered by a sheet of note paper—he must write to somebody, he had often told her.

Luke had been here; Luke was the burglar. But why? She turned to the detective, and it was on the tip of her tongue to make the revelation when he said something that struck speech from her lips.

"He must have been a pretty bad man, that fellow—one of our men recognized him as the chap who was driving a car this

"Ah, you've read about it in the papers—a bearded man. That's right madam, he's taken his beard off this afternoon. Johnson—that's the officer—saw him driving with a girl around the park."

Again speech died on her lips. "They got her to-night," said the communicative detective. "Mr. Gorton's pretty certain she will put up a squeal—I mean to say, she'll tell who her companion was. From all accounts he's a man who's been seen about with her a great deal in the past year or two."

Miscellaneous Shower For Bride to Be

On last Friday afternoon Miss Bernice Jones, elect, was honored with a miscellaneous shower by the ladies of the Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church, of Eldorado, at the new manse. Mesdames Sam Oglesby, Dick Trail, and Jim Willoughby were the hostesses.

The lovely new brick manse which has just been completed and which was a gift to the Presbyterian Church by Mr. and Mrs. T. K. The mantle was lovely in long yellow tapers placed in crystal candle holders.

A knock at the door was answered to find Mrs. Jim Williams dressed as an expressman carrying a package for Miss Jones. When opened this was found to contain many useful and beautiful gifts.

Little Miss Genevieve Ramsey entertained the crowd with a number of readings. A most unique program was given by Mrs. West. A delicious refreshment plate in the three colors, with violets as plate favors, were served to 45 guests.

UTILITIES GREAT ASSET TO COMMUNITY

Every community should be proud of the opportunity of having the services of the West Texas Utilities Company. The Company has been serving Eldorado for nearly two years and have reduced the rates on power twice in this time. When they first began operating here the light rate was 16 cents and the first reduction was made to fifteen cents and then the rate was cut to twelve cents. They have also been ready to help on any project that comes up that is for the progress of the town and community. They have made several extensions to out of town homes, giving them electrical services.

When this Company came to Eldorado the minimum rate for the month was three dollars and it was immediately reduced to one dollar and fifty cents. The stove rate minimum is two dollars. They install meters for the different currents, this being to the customers advantage, giving each service a separate rate. In most home controlled plants the rate is much higher and all electric current going through one meter giving the same rate on power and lights combined which will run the cost up much higher.

The service rendered by this company since they came to Eldorado has been very satisfactory to the people of Eldorado. The Company installed the street lights that has added much attraction to the beauty of the little city. The cost of installing the street lights, and the upkeep of these lights are in the hands of the Utilities Company. The only charge made for the lights to the citizens of Eldorado is the paying of five dollars a month for each light. This is being paid by the business houses in town, and was sponsored by the Eldorado Lions Club here. All this work done by the Utilities Company has been done without a contract or franchise held by this company with the exception of the franchise received from the Eaton and Son light plant before the town was incorporated.

The town having the services of this company or any other company that has the capital to work with can easily get service much cheaper than a home owned plant. The home owned plant has to get the money through the taxation of the people to insure the upkeep of the plant. In having a corporation furnishing the power, the responsibility rests on them and not the people.

WHO SHOULD TELL THE FARMER WHAT TO DO?

Is the American farmer getting so dumb that they have to be dictated to in order that they know what to plant in their fields? It seems that the people of the cities and high ups are taking it on themselves to tell what the farmer should grow on their farms. A meeting not long ago in a western town of Texas, where the farm problems were discussed, not a farmer was asked to be present. All the bankers, cotton buyers, lawyers and different men that probably never was on a farm in their lives were present giving dictation to the good of the farmers. The American farmer certainly must be getting dumb. The cotton acreage at present seems to be too great but the farmer should be able to see that and cut down of his own accord. The farm relief which has been the subject for the last few years is getting to be a joke. The people that have their hands in the pie are not doing much to aid the farmer. All that they are able to do is cry reduce the cotton acreage. This might help in a way but if the farmer got higher prices for his cotton if he raised less of it would, on the other hand have to pay more for his clothes and supplies. Where would he be gaining? The cotton brokers might make more money quicker but would the poor farmers profit by this?

SIDEWALK PROJECT DROPPED FOR THE PRESENT

The building of the long discussed sidewalk that was to be built from the school house to the city of Eldorado to keep the school children off the highway, has been postponed indefinitely. This seems in the writers estimation one of the greatest mistakes that could have been made in Eldorado. Not only for the civic pride, of the town in paving the way for more beauty but for the preservation of life of some child that might be seriously injured. Nothing so far has happened in the way of accidents when the children come down the highway and pay as much attention of an approaching car as a herd of sheep or cattle. The responsibility lies solely on the driver and someday this driver is going to get careless and then the time to build will be too late.

This project was taken by many people and especially the school board less seriously than it should have been. The cost of this would be very cheap compared to the life of a child. Some claim that is not time to build as some of the property owners do not want to spend the money and that some of the people do not want to spend their money on something that will be worn more to someone else. Should this project be thought of as a money making scheme for the property owners that the walk will increase in value or should be looked upon as a community affair, where every one should be interested? There has been many people in the county that do not live in town at all that are more interested in the building of this walk than those that are living or own property lying beside the proposed walk.

CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD SOON

The election of city officers will be held on the 12 day of April to elect a Mayor and two aldermen. Personally we are very well satisfied with the present board and more that satisfied with the work of the Mayor. They have certainly made rapid progress during the short time that they have been serving. The important factors that they have been doing their best in for the improvements of Eldorado are: securing a better water system, a proposed sewer system; street paving project, which will start in the near future; building ordinance, which is one of the greatest steps forward in the building of a real city and getting rid of the tin shack town that it appeared to become or was already in the making until the far-sighted city officials put their foot down and passed an ordinance that will compel the builder to put up a real building that is a credit to any town or move on. We want all the people that will come to Eldorado and build here, but if they are not interested in the building of the town we cannot use them to any great extent. All the officials are broad minded, progressive men and all the citizens are more than satisfied with the services of these men and are willing to let them run the affairs of our little city for another term. Although we regret very much to see all the money paid these officials stay in just a few hands but we suppose that we could stand it for another term at least.

CONTRACT LET

(Continued from front page) possible and practical is to be used in this work and the home people can rest assured that most of the money spent on this project will remain in Eldorado and most of it returned in a direct or indirect way to their business after the work is done. Co-operation Asked By Mayor The representatives of these contractors will call on each property owner and will explain the proposition thoroughly and find out just what amount of cash that will be available when the work is under way. It will require $30 cash from the property owners to begin the work and if they do not want to pay the entire amount, arrangements can be made to pay it out in five years, notes not bearing over eight per cent interest. The Mayor asks that all people concerned give the representative their heartiest cooperation. He also states that he believes that there will be sixty or seventy per cent cash available which will greatly reduce the cost of the paving.

An engineer will be on the job at all times, supervising the work and will see that everything comes up to the requirements of the contract.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

(Continued from front page) very good game as the Rock-springs team has always given Eldorado some strong competition in baseball. The "jinx of the baseball diamond" they could easily be called. Especially in the last few years. As T. J. Bailey says, "they are not so good looking in their form, but can hit a baseball off their ear n standing on their heads." This is quite a tribute handed the ball players of Rocksprings. The form does not count so much in making the little black marks on the paper that counts much in the end but it is the smacking of the old apple that marks the score.

The announcement of this game was made at the Lions Club meeting by Supt. R. D. Holt and asked that the Club get behind the school athletics and be out to the first game of the season.

THE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

Leadership and success, in a general way, are synonymous. They are both founded upon simple codes of thought and action, upon the realization that he who wins the laurels must be a doer, not a waiter, that application of energy, not time or luck, is what counts most. A rabbit's foot is a poor substitute for horse sense.

Both success and leadership, if they be of the highest quality, are the result of service to humanity. Service has been aptly described as "the supreme commitment of life." Analyze the lives and times of all great leaders of history and you will find that those whose names are enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen are those who sought to render a needed service to the populace.

Leadership, like success, need not, however, be international or national to achieve great results. There is room for each of us to be a leader in his community, in his work, in his church, and in various organizations. One of the indispensable qualities of leadership is the ability to persist steadfastly in the face of discouragements. If George Washington had not possessed the quality of persistence, he and his soldiers would never have survived the hunger and privations which were theirs at Valley Forge.

We have too many young men and young women these days saying a job cannot be done. Too many spend their time explaining why a thing can't be done, instead of saying, with firm resolve, that it can be done, and then going out and doing it. Anything that ought to be done is capable of being done. And anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. The fellow who handles a little job in a big way is always on the road to greater fields.

BANKERS STUDY CHAIN BANKING

The Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association has been specifically instructed by the general convention of the association to study and report on chain and group banking developments, and also on the proposal of the Comptroller of the Currency for an extension of branch banking in the national banking system, to permit those banks to conduct branches in the trade areas surrounding their locations.

R. S. Hecht, President Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, New Orleans, Louisiana, is chairman of the commission. The members are: George E. Roberts, Vice President National City Bank, New York, N. Y., President chairman; Nathan Adams, President American Exchange National Bank, Dallas, Texas; Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Frank W. Blair, Chairman of Board Union Trust Company, Detroit, Michigan; Walter W. Head, President Foreman-State National Bank, Chicago; W. D. Longyear, Vice President Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, California; Walter S. McLucas, Chairman of Board Commerce Trust Company, Kansas City, Missouri; Max B. Nahn, Vice President Citizens National Bank, Bowling Green, Kentucky; Melvin A. Traylor, President First National Bank, Chicago; Paul M. Warburg, Chairman of Board International Acceptance Bank, New York, N. Y.; O. Howard Wolfe, Cashier Philadelphia National Bank, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gurden Edwards, American Bankers Association, New York City, secretary.

A survey showing the extent to which chain and group banking has been developed in the United States has been made and issued in booklet form by the American Bankers Association of New York City.

SECTIONS WHERE SAVINGS DECREASED

A regional analysis of the drop in the nation's savings deposits in banks, as recently reported by the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division in its annual compilation for 1929 showing the first recession in national savings in the twenty years during which it has published this data, reveals that all sections except the New England and the Pacific States groups recorded losses.

The published figures showed that on June 29, 1929, the total savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States stood at $28,217,656,000, which was $195,305,000 below the similar total for 1928, when there was an increase of $2,200,000,000. The regional analysis by state groups discloses, however, that the six New England states as a group gained more than $33,800,000 in savings and 152,984 in savings depositors, while the seven Pacific states as a group gained over $19,000,000 in deposits and nearly 278,000 in number of depositors. The gains in these two sections, however, were smaller than the gains recorded there for 1928. The sections which showed losses are the Middle Atlantic States, Southern States, East Central States and the West Central States.
