Need of Funds for Livestock Work Is Cited

Commission Has Been Careful In Framing Budget, Whitten Says

The work of the Livestock Sanitary Commission in safeguarding the industry in Texas cost only a very small fraction of the amount paid in ad valorem taxes alone by the ranchmen, Judge J. A. Whitten, chairman of the commission, said yesterday in emphasizing the necessity for an appropriation this year sufficiently large to carry on the work.

"Five hundred million dollars conservatively represents the value of livestock and domestic fowls in Texas today," he said. "The $500,000,000 valuation of property brings into the state in ad valorem tax alone the sum of $1,750,000 which, based on the amount used by the commission last year, which was less than $600,000, cost approximately one-eighth of 1 per cent to handle this half billion dollar business which could not be considered extravagant management."

Basic Industries

"The livestock and poultry industries are indeed basic factors in the support and maintenance of our government, furnishing directly or indirectly employment and living for literally thousands of people. The products of this industry, such as all kinds of meats, lard, butter, milk, eggs, and so on, are absolutely indispensable as foods, without which our people could not subsist. We might go further and mention wool and mohair, which is used in some way by every person in Texas, but instead of enumerating further the many useful products of this industry, we are adopting the language of Will Rogers just here when he said 'If the cows should fail to come up some night to be milked, the failure would cause more suffering than the stock market exchange crash of October, 1929.' And we believe it is true that we are dependent on the livestock industry largely for our daily living. Then why should not the State provide sufficient funds in the management of such an important business?"

"In order to perform the duties required of the commission, a thoroughly departmentized organization has been set up with a high class gentleman who is thoroughly qualified at the head of each of the following departments: Tick eradication, scabies eradication and veterinary. Every bit of economy and the best business methods known to us have been put into use in the handling of all matters pertaining to the work of the commission. It requires in the handling of this vast amount of work, an employment of an average of some 350 people, and of course requires money not only for salaries, but for expenses as well."

Safeguards Health

"The laws of the State direct the commission to investigate and eradicate all contagious, infectious and communicable disease among livestock and domestic fowls and to supervise also the destruction of predatory animals, and to enforce the laws governing movements of livestock in this State, as well as such movements interstate and intrastate, as the laws of this and other states require. The commission, through its veterinary department is eradicating so far as finances will permit, such diseases as bovine tuberculosis, contagious abortion and so on. The milk and meat from such diseased animals will, and does, transmit to human beings such diseases as tuberculosis, undulant, and Malta fever. This is only one of the many instances where this department is not only protecting the interests of the industry but the health and even the lives of the people throughout the country."

"Just at this time when all requests for appropriations are being considered by the Legislature, and knowing that it is necessary for the State to economize and to appropriate only such sums as are actually needed and will be used to advantage in the administration of the State's affairs, I have briefly attempted to give some information regarding the work done by the commission and the importance of it. The commission during the past, so far as my knowledge goes, has not asked for appropriations except those which in its judgement are necessary, and has always received liberal appropriations, thereby enabling the commission to do the amount of construction

Bev McCormick Name Of Eldorado Legion Post

Tuesday night, the Schleicher County Ex-service men met at the Court House and organized what is to be known as Bev McCormick Post of the American Legions.

The meeting was called to order by B. H. Murphy, of San Angelo, who introduced Milton Heath, who served the J. J. Goodfellow Post as Commander last year in San Angelo, who made a brief talk explaining what the American Legion was trying to do, and how important it was for all Ex-service men to belong to the organization and lend a helping hand in securing the rights of the Ex-service men and obtaining the compensation they justly deserve.

The vote was unanimous for organizing a local Post and the following 18 men signed up and paid their dues for making application for a charter.

E. W. Brooks, Jim Griffin, Don McCormick, Lester Henderson, Judd Brannon, H. T. Finley, Author J. Mund, Wilson Parks, Jess L. Thompson, Ed Kerr, Clyde Keeney, Joe A. Williams, A. D. Richie, F. S. Stanford, W. I. Riggs, H. H. Murchison and Finas Hamby of Sonora.

Don McCormick was then chosen as Post Commander, and E. W. Brooks as Adjutant. Other officers will be named at a later meeting.

Others from San Angelo besides the two above mentioned were John L. Spurgers and Joe Laehica. Now since the Post has been organized all ex-service men in the county should get into the organization and swell its membership to its war time strength.

Profit of $15 Per Head

W. H. Booth of Schleicher County, Texas, according to L. E. Sumner, county agent, has shown that a nice side profit can be made from the feeding of livestock in the late fall and winter months. Last fall he fed out a car of forty head of good Hereford calves on his farm, using as a ration ground bundle milo, milo heads and cottonseed meal. After reducing the cost of the meal and the feed at 5 cents per bundle, his feeding operation showed a profit of $15 per head for his labor.

This man uses self-feeders. He is feeding another load this season.—Farm and Ranch.

We have always tried to tell every body who wanted to farm to move to Schleicher County, and if we can get a little more of the actual happening of our farmer in Caper's weekly and Farm and Ranch, we will have an influx of farming people to our county where a farmer lives in luxury. If our readers do not know who W. H. Booth is, that's Bill, one of our best and most progressive farmers. Another thing our county Agent is on the job.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD ANNUAL SCOUT SERVICES

The Eldorado Troupe No. 18, with Elvin Geron Scout Master, held their annual Scout Service at the Methodist Church, Sunday night, with the W. B. Gray, of the Presbyterian Church preaching the sermon. A goodly number were present notwithstanding the muddy conditions of the roads. This was the only service held in our city all churches taking out for the Scout Services.

CARD OF THANKS

The Ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, desire to thank Mr. John Flynn, for his many courtesies and assistance with his building and show room, when they gave the Minstrel. Also desire to thank the orchestra and other for help rendered in anyway.

Mrs. J. E. Tisdale.

Five work which has been done. In asking for appropriations to be used by the commission during the next two years, we are basing our requests on the importance of the work to be done as well as economical expenditure of funds appropriated for its use, and we feel confident that the Legislature will grant our request in so far as financial condition will permit."

J. A. Whitten Heads Livestock Sanitary Commission

The Senate Wednesday, approved the appointment of Judge J. A. Whitten, to again head the Livestock Sanitary Commission, he was given the appointment by Gov. Ross Sterling last week, and was confirmed Wednesday by the Senate. Judge Whitten has held this position under the Moody administration and the Judge's many friends here are glad to know that he has been reappointed to the place.

LEE DUNCAN KILLS MEXICAN LION NEAR ALPINE

Lee Duncan returned to Eldorado Wednesday night with a large Mexican Lion, that he had killed on a ranch 15 miles south of Alpine, on a ranch which his Brother Bruce Duncan operates. The lion showed to be several years old and had been depredated on stock for several months. Mr. Duncan was visiting his brother and with his dogs treed the lion and shot him from the tree. He will take it to Del Rio and have it mounted. It attracted much attention while being exhibited on the sidewalks of our town Thursday morning and as to what it was, was of several opinions, Mexican Lion, Cougar, or Panther.

OIL WELL NEWS

Eastland Oil Co's No. 1 Tisdale, 8 miles northeast of Eldorado has drilled to 1,090 feet in hard lime.

The Stanolind Oil & Gas Companies No. 1 W. H. Williams ranch, 18 miles northwest of Eldorado in corner of Irion has drilled to 1,235 in redbeds.

The Nicks well one and a half mile from Eldorado northeast is drilling below 1000 feet as we go to press.

Cows Return $12 A Head

FIVE Jersey cows milked by B. E. Moore, Schleicher county, Texas, increase his farm income each month. During September he received $80 from the sale of milk and butter besides that consumed by his family of five. He raises his own feedstuffs. In September he fed 300 bundles of maize and 15 bushels of cotton seed. Valuing feed at what he could get for it at his farm his feed bill for the month was $27. This leaves $59 or approximately $12 a head for profit and labor.

The above clipping appears in the February issue of Capper's Farmer, a national farm magazine. Mr. Moore is one of our progressive farmers and no one here questions the statement; it only demonstrates what a Schleicher County farmer can do, and does do. If you want a good farm move to Schleicher County.

Bishop Cannon Jr. Cleared Of Church Charge

Bishop Cannon Jr., who has been under trial for conduct not becoming a minister, has been exonerated by 12 Methodist preachers, who have been listening to evidence offered by 4 other Methodist ministers, who preferred the charges.

This is the second time The Bishop has had to defend himself. The Bishop made some enemies during the 1928 campaign when he stumped the Nation Against Al Smith, and was a factor in his political defeat. He has been attacked from every angle since, even within the border of his own church his exhonoration was to be expected.

Miss Sue Williams Buried In San Angelo

Many Success readers learned with regrets the untimely death of Miss Sue Williams at Victoria last Thursday afternoon, from gun shot self inflicted. Miss Williams was a graduate from the Eldorado school several years ago, and made her home in this county for many years of her life. After finishing here she attended C. I. A. and later taught in the Hawaiian Islands.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams who still own large ranch interests in this county, was a personal life time friend of The Success Editor, and we knew her to be a lovable young woman, filled with the sweet Christian graces that it takes to make real womanhood. Ill health is given as the probable reason for the rash act. She was about 30 years years old and her many friends in Eldorado extend condolence to her parents, sister and brother.

Mrs. Mary Davis announces that Friday afternoon February, 13, the Parent Teachers Association will meet in regular meeting and urges all to attend.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met in regular Social of January in the Pastor's neat home remodeled home with Mrs. J. D. McWhorter as hostess, assisted in entertaining by Mesdames McClatchey and DeLong.

An excellent program was rendered on Stewardship that called to mind many opportunities for 1931 at our doors, with report from Bulletin and little of business nature being on hand. All spent an enjoyable social hour, as one feature, we were shown over the nice new parsonage "entirely new."

Coke R. Stevenson Opposes Inquiries Into Income Taxes

THE RIGHT NOTE was sounded during the debate over the resolution to inquire into the income and the taxes of corporations in an address by Representative Coke R. Stevenson in opposition to that measure.

"We do not need and we should not order a smelling committee to disturb the equilibrium of business institutions," he declared, "for business is as sick as the cotton farming industry. It is not the function of charity to take care of the bread line. It is the duty of business to take care of it and find a way to prevent it, and to that end, business must be allowed to recover." Mr. Alfonso Wasson, staff correspondent of the Dallas News, in discussing Mr. Stevenson's speech, points out that he contended that to increase corporation taxes at this time would mean only an increase of Government expenditures, and not reduction of the little man's taxes. "This argument," writes Mr. Wasson, "that to increase the tax toll taken from the corporations would not be productive of any lessening of that taken from individual property owners, was advanced by Mr. Stevenson in a notable speech, which probably converted many members, who were predisposed to vote for it. Mr. Stevenson made the additional argument, that however grievous the inequities of the existing scheme of taxation, its inequities were less harmful at the moment than excessive taxation would be. It was the argument that the tax levies which the resolution was designed to facilitate would be cumulative of existing taxes, and hence would retard economic recovery. He declared himself opposed to every measure that would increase the State's revenue at a time when the utmost economy was an imperative need." Certainly it is reassuring to have such sentiments expressed so ably on the floor of our Legislature. And it is doubly reassuring to contemplate that the resolution which Mr. Stevenson opposed was defeated by the overwhelming vote of 80 to 47.—Texas Weekly.

MRS. TOM R. HENDERSON ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Tom R. Henderson entertained the Eldorado Bridge Club at her ranch home near Eldorado with a luncheon at one o'clock.

After arrival of guests a delicious luncheon was served to a number of twelve. A few rubbers of Contract was then played which was followed by each member cutting for the prize; Mrs. Luke Thompson cutting highest.

T. E. L. CLASS ENTERTAINED

The T. E. L. Class was entertained on Thursday evening February 5 in the basement of the Baptist Church. The hostesses were Mrs. L. M. Hoover Miss John Alexander and Mrs. H. L. Archie.

Numerous interesting games were played, some of which, reminded us that Valentine Day is near. The plate favors, which were tiny Valentines, carried out the Valentine motif also.

The class has a party every month and this was the third one since they decided to entertain monthly. Those present were: Mesdames D. C. Hill, H. Keller, Roy Andrews, W. O. Alexander, Joab Campbell, W. M. Davis, J. L. Ratliff, Tom Wilton, Ed Finnigan, E. W. Brooks, H. D. Aehle, L. M. Hoover and Misses Nettie Isaacs, Chris Enoch, Una Lee and John Alexander.

Mrs. D. C. Hill teaches the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School and anyone who is a member of this class, and is not attending, is missing a great deal, as Mrs. Hill is a very little of business nature being on able teacher.

A cordial invitation is extended for membership in this class. Come to Sunday School next Sunday.

Amos and Andy probably have the largest radio audience that any program on the air.

Our friend G. B. Shoemaker wants the public highways widened and opened up to the public for any commercial use they see fit with the tax off of the trucks.

The tax on the trucks should be reduced but the gas tax should be sufficient to pay for the widening of the highways and their upkeep. What the people want and must have is cheaper freight, regardless from which source it comes.

New since General Butler has merged from his remarks about Mussolini without a court martial trial, we suggest that if he wants the public to know the facts about the case, that he visit Senator Hoplin and present him with the facts and let him tell the lowdown. If Mussolini did run down a child and kill it the American people should have the information.

USE COTTON BAGGING INSTEAD OF JUTE

Under the present state law the people have no competition in freight rates, regardless of who hauls it. The rate is fixed by the state and trucks and railroads are required to make the same charge, yet the people need a cheaper rate, just how soon we can expect relief is not known.

The need of permanent roads beds can be seen now by the many roads you may travel from Eldorado, if you try to go any direction from town, it makes you appreciate good roads. Of course we won't have mud always, but we are having a double supply of it now.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 9th. "Buy your bagging at home."

That is the slogan placed on a bale of cotton which was set in the rotunda of the state capital here after the legislature had approved a resolution which requested permission to place it there.

The bale is wrapped in bagging made of cotton, demonstrating the possibility of substituting lower grade cotton for jute, from which bagging is commonly made. Jute is a foreign product.

It was pointed out in an explanatory sign that the jute consumed annually in the wrapping of American cotton was the equivalent of 255,000 bales of cotton, and that the substitution of cotton bagging for jute might open a market for the corresponding amount of cotton.

Farmers were urged to tell their ginners they wanted their cotton wrapped in cotton bagging. The weight of the two kinds of bagging is nearly the same.

COMMISSIONER J. E. McDONALD URGES PLANT GARDENS

AUSTIN, Tex. Feb. 10.—Radishes for more rapid recovery from business reverses; green beans when you can't afford the store variety; in short, a garden to lessen the drain on lean pocketbooks—that is the seasonal advice offered by J. E. McDonald, not only to farmers but to townspeople as well.

Investment of a few cents in seed, a few hours effort in cultivation, and a few weeks of Texas sunshine should return huge dividends in health and food for the table.

Farmers, particularly, with little prospect for improved market conditions for cotton, should concentrate on raising their own food stuffs this year, McDonald said, including not only vegetables, but poultry, hogs and other eatables.

THRIFT

The week beginning January 17 is National Thrift Week. It is a good idea, to turn people's minds to the subject of thrift at least once a year. This year it is particularly timely.

We have been going through a year of hard times, and those hard times were brought about in large part by unthriftiness. There is thrift that is injurious, to be sure. The sort of thrift that hoards money in stockings and keeps it out of circulation benefits nobody and is a definite detriment to prosperity. But that is not the cause of the financial depression which now seems to be passing. Much of our trouble has come from thriftless spending.

One can spend money and still be thrifty. The careful buyer, who insists upon getting his money's worth, is thrifty so long as he does not spend or promise to pay more than he is certain he will be able to pay. The thrifless ones are those who obligate themselves without regard to their ability to meet their obligations. In the New York recently, one family whose head earned $150 a month, but who was destitute because he had committed himself to installment payments on an automobile, a radio set, an electric washing machine and an electric refrigerator, which called for payment of more than his total salary! That is a perfect example of thriftlessness.

Installment buying in itself is not vicious; it is only when it is done without regard to consequences that it is harmful. We think that the normal business condition for the next few years will depend less upon installment payments and more upon careful saving of earned money, put out at interest in savings banks or in mortgages or bonds. We do not believe we shall see soon a return of the speculative wave in which everybody seemed to be gambling on the stock market and trying to get something for nothing.

Thrift, as we understand it, means spending less than one earns, buying carefully as to value and also as to ability to pay out of surplus earnings, and building up a reserve that will tide one over a period of unemployment or illness and eventually take care of old age.

It is that sort of thrift which those back of National Thrift Week are trying to teach. More power to them.

T. W. Talbot was attending Commissioners Court Monday from Precinct 2.

HOW THE GOVERNMENT HELPS

One hundred and sixteen million dollars for public works, forty-five millions for the relief of farmers who were affected by the 1930 drought—that is the sum which Congress has put into the President's hands since December 1, as a further effort toward getting money into circulation and getting men back to work.

That ought to help a lot. Many important Federal highway projects have been held up because the states concerned were not in a position to appropriate their share. Under the new appropriation Federal money will be lent to the states, in addition to what the Federal Government pays as its share. It is definite now that the largest road-building program of any year will be carried through in 1931.

The trouble with public works as a means of relieving unemployment emergencies is that they can not be begun instantly. Until money has been appropriated by Congress, State Legislatures or municipal governments, the preliminary plans cannot be drawn. Everybody knows that the building of even a simple house takes a great deal of preliminary time in selecting the lot and drawing the plans before the hauling of materials to the job can commence. How much more time it takes to start work on such a project as the Hoover dam few of us realize. Engineers have been at work for a year on the plans, and are only just now ready to get bids for materials and work, in the sense of employing any considerable body of workers, can be begun.

The Hoover dam is going through, however, and so are the new Federal highways at a great program of new Federal buildings. The preliminaries have been largely attended to in 1930. 1931 will see the money beginning to flow into pockets of hundreds of thousands of workers.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

SEASONABLE HINTS

The crisp, invigorating days of autumn somehow inspires one with renewed courage and faith in the things about us. The appetite becomes keener, the breathing deeper; the morning walk in the open drives away the fatigue of mid-summer. The machinery of digestion takes on a new hum; in short, we "feel better all over."

The rural housewife finds much for her capable hands to do. Think of the canning of pears, the preserving of late plums, the pickling, canning, catsuping of the luscious fall tomatoes! Such substantial for the winter-day dining table! How we anticipate, as we carry out autumn details!

I am in direct touch with the National Canners Association of America, and with great benefit to myself as an advisor to the public in the interests of more and better health. I find the great canning industry striving, with every improved facility known, to give our people the best in sealed provisions, employing the most skilled scientists in laboratory tests, in order to provide nutriment of unparalleled flavor and purity for our people. The winter fruit-canning holds the juices, vitamins, proteins, so acceptable to right living. Our canned products reach outward to the four corners of the earth.

In time, the housewife will escape the exacting duties of canning fruits; they can be put up fresh by the great and expert technicians, cheaper, more convenient to handle, and can be obtained ready to use with little outlay, compared with the drudgery of home canning.

We are well past the age when copper was used to color the glass jar of commercial pickles. Poisons are no longer used as bleaches or preservatives. The tin can is used where such employment is scientifically appropriate. I hear of little or no illness caused by the impure canning of fruit and vegetables. The summer, with its host of invaders of the partially-eaten canned food is gone. The "culture season" is over. But I am horribly afraid of the partly-used, hot-weather can of pigs' knuckles and other potted meats!

Electricity Assures Dependable Refrigeration

To safely preserve perishable foodstuffs—to protect them from spoilage or bacteria-infection—a method of refrigeration which will maintain a constant temperature of less than fifty degrees is a vital necessity. In no other way can you be sure that the foods you are serving are safe beyond the shadow of a doubt.

Electric Refrigeration is as certain as Electricity itself. Regardless of where you are, dependable and efficient electric service guarantees the constant low temperature advocated by leading medical and food authorities. Foods may be left without attention in the Electric Refrigerator for an indefinite period without harmful effects.

REDUCE EXPENDITURES

"The most certain way of providing tax relief is to start the study of expenditure control," says J. R. Seaman, of the Colorado State Tax Commission. "Some means must be devised of checking public expenditures without depriving the people of essential governmental services. This is the only way to solve the tax question."

"No tax relief will ever be brought about by shifting the burden from one group to another, or by finding new sources of revenue."

The people of Colorado should give a vote of thanks to a public official who is honest enough to make such a statement. They should pension him for life if he can help them get actual tax relief.

Mr. Barron hopes to have the present session of the legislature authorize submission of the necessary constitutional amendment to the people, and many an astute politician believes that he has more than a fifty-fifty chance to succeed. Then, of course, the battle is transferred to the newspaper forum, and such a battle promises to be a merry one.

T. C. U. STUDENT COMMUNITATES WITH ALL COUNTRIES

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9.—Communicating by radio with other continents and talking with foreign tongued stations; exchanging radiograms with ships on the high seas and with airplanes in flight, is but a daily occurrence for Elbert Haling, Texas Christian University junior, owner and operator of WSHY, Fort Worth.

With a power of but 50 watts, Haling's call letters are familiar wherever there happens to be a short wave receiving set. Back in 1920, when radio was in the oatmeal box and crystal stage, Haling passed the government examination for amateur radio operators and became one of the youngest licensed operators in the United States at that time.

During the past 10 years Haling has transmitted radiograms direct to nearly all points in the world, including Admiral Byrd's Little America in the Antarctic, and the McMillan expedition when it was exploring the North Polar regions several years ago. Using a three-tube, home made receiver, he received the signals from the Graf Zeppelin when it was flying over Germany recently.

Haling uses radio merely as a hobby, and does not plan to make it a life work. He is majoring in journalism at T. C. U., and plans to enter newspaper work upon graduation.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH TEXAS?

Nothing's wrong with Texas, except entirely too many of us get up in the morning at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, button a pair of Ohio suspenders to a pair of Chicago pants.—Put on a pair of Massachusetts shoes, wash in a Pittsburg tin basin, using Cincinnati soap, and a cotton towel made in New Hampshire, sit down to a Grand Rapids table, eat pancakes made from Minneapolis flour spread with Vermont maple syrup, and Kansas bacon fried on a St. Louis stove. Buy fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices, and sweetened with Colorado sugar. Put on a hat made in Philadelphia, hitch a Detroit mule fed on Oklahoma gasoline to an Ohio plow and work all day on a Texas farm covered with a New England mortgage, send our money to Ohio for tires, wondering why Texas taxes are $2.75 per acre while Ohio farmers pay $1.00 tax and drive on paved roads, and at night we crawl under a New Jersey blanket to be kept awake by a bull dog, the only

TOO MUCH SURPLUS

When production exceeds demand for any commodity, drastic action is essential. Copper production was high at the beginning of 1930 and during the year demand dropped alarmingly. The result was that copper producers found themselves with tremendous surplus-stocks which they were forced to sell—when it was possible to sell at all—at profitless prices.

The western states will be especially interested in the establishment of mining on a sound basis. In several of those states mining is the principal industry, employing more workers and paying more in taxes than any other.

A metal depression always has a direct bearing up on all other business within the state.

When mining does come back to normal the states should have learned at least one lesson from the experience of the past year. That is, to do everything that is possible to treat this great and necessary industry fairly. If that is done, it will go a long way toward helping mining weather unfavorable periods in future years.

"Prosperity cannot be restored by raids upon the Treasury," declared President Hoover recently.

His statement is hardly open to doubt, even though it is not so spectacular as those of the politicians who like to hand out the private citizen's hard-earned tax money on the theory that such a proceeding always gains many votes.

INTERESTING BREVITIES

Although Texas is eighth in electrical output, it stands ninth among the states in number of electric customers with a total of 700,000. It stands tenth in number of homes receiving electric service with 557,365 residences so served. It has moved up one place in rank since 1925, supplanting Missouri by a gain of 161,755 in five years.

Texas stands twenty-fourth in number of farm homes served by high lines, the large farms and long distances being a major factor in this result. Only 1.5 per cent of Texas farms are electrified against 53.3 in California. Florida with 5.7 per cent leads the Southern States.

A few years ago one out of every 22 persons gainfully employed was a public employe. Now the ratio is one out of every eleven, and the tendency is steadily upward as governmental bureaus and commissions increase.

Newspaper proponents of the income tax constitute a formidable list—a great many of the stout country weeklies, almost a score of the healthy small-city dailies, and even one or two of the big city newspapers.

Both of them realize that submission of another constitutional amendment to the people at this time has certain obvious disadvantages, yet they have laid their plans with full cognizance of that fact.

$700,000,000 TO BE SPENT

During 1931, according to official estimates, electric light and power companies will spend about $700,000,000 for new construction, and extension and betterment of facilities. While this is somewhat below the 1930 figure, few other industries will be able to show budgets of equal magnitude.

At the end of 1931 the electric industry will have spent, in four successive years, the gigantic total of $3,256,000,000. The effect this has had on maintaining wage scales, living standards and industrial progress is almost incalculable. Last year was generally considered to be one of the worst in several decades, yet the industry spent $850,000,000 for new construction and improvements alone.

In short, the electric industry is one of the most important and stable spokes in our industrial wheel. It has gone ahead, in the face of many obstacles, with its work of providing the public with better and cheaper service. It has made decentralization of industry possible by giving thousands of semi-rural communities the same standards of electric service provided in large cities, thus putting many small towns on the industrial map. It has made the American home the most efficient and comfortable in the world. It has given American workers a greater productivity, and hence a greater earning power, than the workers of any other country.

America has been called a utility-built country. The facts and figures show that that is not so exaggerated as it might seem on first glance.

PLANNING FOR BETTER COTTON IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 23.—Unqualified support by the banking fraternity of Texas for the program of the Texas Certified Cottonseed Breeders Association, in its campaign to eliminate low-grade, short staple cotton from the fields of the Southwest, was pledged here by the Agricultural Committee of the Texas Bankers Association at a recent special meeting.

Under the plan, the Texas State Certified Cottonseed Breeders have united with the A & M College, the county agents, Texas Cotton Association, Texas Cotton Corporative Association and other leading agricultural interests, to distribute to 50,000 Southwestern farmers this spring sufficient Texas State Certified Cottonseed to plant seed blocks equal to 10 per cent of their respective cotton acreages. From this seed will be grown this year, sufficient seed to plant the entire cotton acreage of these farms in pedigreed longer-staple seed in 1932, and eventually the program plan to make available to all Southwestern farms this pedigreed seed at prices little above the oil mill price.

"We go on record as giving our unqualified endorsement to Texas State Certified Pedigreed Cottonseed, believing that cottonseed produced under the Texas Certified Cottonseed Law represent the best known supply of really highbred pedigreed cottonseed of standard varieties available for planting in this state," declared the bankers' resolution.

"We recommend the distribution of this available supply of Texas State Certified Pedigreed Cottonseed for use as pedigreed foundation seed blocks on as many farms as can be supplied."

"We call upon all member bankers of the Texas Bankers Association to cooperate in the distribution of these Texas Certified Pedigreed Cottonseed stocks in every way possible. We believe the program and plan of distribution to be absolutely sound and constructive in its nature and we appeal to the member bankers to make financial provision, if necessary, for at least 100 of these Texas State Certified Pedigreed seed blocks in their territory for this spring. We consider the mobilization of Texas State Certified Pedigreed Cottonseed for intelligent distribution so as to be passed on to the farmer at the lowest possible cost and at the same time utilized to the greatest possible extent the most progressive step taken in years to correct the cotton production problem of the Southwest. It should have the undivided support of every agency interested in our basic money crop and the re-establishment of its prestige in the markets of the world."

"THIS AND THAT"

By Jimmy

Well, all your favorite lawmakers, such as senators and representatives, were bundled up and shipped to Houston last Saturday to be toasted and toasted and honored by the Salesmanship club of that city. It was the first heavy shipment any Texas railroad has been able to make since good roads became familiar sights in Texas.

Something had to be done. The students at the deaf and dumb school were complaining that they couldn't get their lessons for the noise of some of the legislators, yelling for "more and heavier taxes."

Just why they took them to Houston is not known, unless it was to get them out of Austin long enough to find out who were legislators and who were lobbyists. It's hard to distinguish them now that the legislators have had their pay raised.

Governor Sterling and his party, consisting of department heads and others who ask nothing but a chance to make an honest dollar were there, as well as many prominent personages throughout the nation. Ex-governor Moody went along. He felt like he ought to be there, in view of the fact that he had called them back to Austin so many times during his term of office. He sort of feels like a brother-in-law to those boys and wants to be with them and watch them. Gene Howe, the Amarillo editor, was a guest. In fact, almost every Texan who has taken a "rap" was there except Jim Ferguson. Jim has his own ideas about "panning" people and probably was content to stay around Austin and mingle with the "plain people" who work for a living.

Governor Sterling invited the boys to his Bayridge home for a little visit before the "big show", Saturday night. The governor has a palatial home on the bayshore, and it may be that he wanted the legislators to know that honesty pays in the long run.

Two or three mayors were invited just to make the lawmakers think they were not the only unimportant people there. A. Atwater Kent, president of a large radio manufacturing company was present and left with a new idea on volume control for his radios. L. W. Baldwin, president of a large railroad was another distinguished guest. No bus or truck driver was there so far as is known. They were probably too busy in Austin, where they are sure to have a nice little party of their own.

All in all it was a nice party and one that will be long remembered by those who took the "jabs."

In their favor, on the other hand, is the financial situation in which the average small land, or property owner finds himself. The doctrine that those should pay who can afford to pay listens mighty well to men whose purses are tied tightly around slender savings—savings depleted by the ravages of unemployment and high taxes.

Texas' political pot boiling since last July, continues to steam and sputter, and the income tax campaign will put more fire under the kettle.

RADIO TO BROADCAST "THE POWER TRUST" SUBJECT.

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 2.—"The Power Trust," a subject of wide interest at the present time, will be discussed from the viewpoint of one of the outstanding public utility executives of the country on the Halsey Stuart & Company radio program at 8:00 P. M. Central Standard Time, Wednesday, February 11. The program will be broadcast on the NBC red network.

The speaker will be Martin J. In-sull, president of the Middle West Utilities Company, whose subsidiaries render essential service in 30 states, and with which the West Texas Utilities Company is affiliated.

As Mr. In-sull has been aggressively supporting the utilities in the controversy over the so-called "power trust" his talk should attract widespread attention.

JANUARY OUTPUT FOR CHEVROLETS WERE 70,765

January production of Chevrolet Motor Company was 70,765 cars and trucks, according to W. S. Knudsen, president. Output schedules for February, with three fewer days, call for 67,420 cars and trucks, exclusive of schedules in the company's Canadian plants.

January's production compares with an output of 61,019 in December, the largest December month in the company's history.

The month just ended is the third in succession to establish new high production marks over previous months since Chevrolet brought out its new line of cars in November, when 45,000 cars were made, setting a new output record for that month in any year.

According to President Knudsen, output in February likely will exceed tentative schedules now set and each month during the remainder of the year is expected to show an increase over the preceding one.

Chevrolet factory employment as of Saturday, January 24, totaled 34,447 an increase of more than 2,000 over the corresponding date in December and 8,000 more than when the company commenced production of its new cars in early November. During the current month employment is expected to reach 40,000, Chevrolet's normal operating force.

Vester Hughes of Mertzson sends in his renewal to The Success this week for which he has our thanks.

FRESHMEN AND SOPHS TIED IN BOYS DIVISION

By "Hoot" Gibson

Due to bad weather during the last week, only five interclass basketball games have been played. There has been much intense rivalry between the various teams of the boys division, which consists of the sixth grade, seventh grade, freshmen class, sophomore class and junior class. There is no senior entry in the boys class because of the lack of enough eligible men.

Freshmen Defeat Seventh Grade

The freshmen class won their game with the seventh grade by a score of 8 to 2, the first game of the tournament played last Wednesday, February 4. The fish team consists of Alfred Sharp, John I. Jones, John E. Rodgers, W. B. Gibson, and Dee DeLong. The freshmen substitutes are James Page, R. L. Sample, and Avis Carr.

The seventh grade team is made up of Eugene Koy, Bill Smith, Billy Kerr, R. J. Alexander, and Richard Jones. Their substitutes are Bob Evans and Samuel Smith.

Sophs Defeat Sixth Grade Thursday

The Sixth Grade was badly defeated at the hands of the Sophomore Class team which is composed of Jack Ratliff, Bell Sample, Hollis McCormick, John Alexander, and Buddy Henderson, with Jim West and Raymond Smith for substitutes.

The lineup for the sixth grade was as follows: Staten Bodine, John Luedecks, Milton Spurgers, Vernie Logan and Rodney Cates, with Jones, Green, Davis, and Moore acting as substitutes.

Ratliff and Smith tied for high point man of the game with 6 points each. The score for the Sophs was 16 points, against 2 for the sixth grade. Juniors "Skunk Seventh Grade Fri."

On Friday, February 7, the Juniors and Seventh Grade played, the score being 11 to 0 in favor of the Juniors. The lineup for the Junior team was made up of Hollis McCormick, Carl Kerr, Lawrence Morgan, Vance Morgan, and Morris Bricker, with Bernard Carr acting as substitute.

The lineup of the Seventh Grade was: Bill Smith, Samuel Smith, Billy Kerr, R. J. Alexander, and Richard Jones. Substitutes for the Seventh Grade were Bob Evans and Eugene Koy.

The high-point man of the game was Hollis McCormick, who made up 4 of the 11 points for the Juniors.

Fish Defeat Sixth Grade 5 to 4

The Freshmen won an easy victory over the Sixth Grade, who were badly outclassed, Monday. Three different teams took the field for the Freshmen, all the boys in the class getting to play that wanted to do so.

The starting lineup for the Freshmen was: Alfred Sharp, John E. Rodgers, John I. Jones, W. B. Gibson, and Jack Childers, with Dee DeLong, J. T. Kerr, Billy Pat White, Ramon Reynolds, R. L. Sample, James Page, Glen Green, W. C. Spurgers, and Jack Meador acting as substitutes.

The lineup for the sixth grade was composed of John Luedecke, Robert Mathers, Paul Davis, Rodney Cates, and Staten Bodine, with Milton Spurgers, Cecil Childers, Vernie Logan, Frank Bradley, and John Ballew for substitutes.

The high-point man honor went to John E. Rodgers, who scored two field goals for 4 points for the Freshmen, and Rodney Cates, who scored 4 points for the Sixth Grade.

Sophs Beat Juniors in Extra Period

The Sophomores and Juniors staged the hardest fought game of the tournament Wednesday, it being necessary to play an extra period of two minutes to break the tie of five points each. Carl Kerr for the Juniors and Jim West for the Sophomores tied for high-point man with 4 points each. The Juniors held an early lead of four points until the last quarter, during which time Jim West made two field goals in about two minutes to tie the score.

The Sophomore team consisted of Clifford Archie, Buddy Henderson, Jim West, Hollis Alexander, Raymond Smith and Jack Ratliff.

The Junior team was composed of Carl Kerr, Hollis McCormick, Vance Morgan, Lawrence Morgan, Morris Bricker, and Bernard Carr.

There are still several more games to be played in the interclass tournament, the winners of which will be given 20 points toward the final championship.

EAGLES GO TO BIG LAKE TOURNAMENT

By Fred Logan

The Eldorado basketball team left home Friday morning on their way to the tournament basketball meet at Big Lake.

The first thing we did when we arrived at Big Lake was to get a place to stay for the night. After seeing after this matter, we went up to the High school building where the games were to be played.

The plan for running off the tournament games proved to be as follows: each coach drew a number, and the number, which represented some team that each coach drew determined the team that he would play. Coach Williamson drew number 2 and we played the second game of the tournament with Crain City. The first game was played at one o'clock Friday afternoon and the last game was played at ten o'clock that night.

After drawing, all the boys began to talk about dinner, and kept asking the question, "when do we eat?" We soon found a suitable eating "joint," and were not long in getting started. Coach would not let us eat any place because it would hurt our wind, but you ought to have seen him order a piece the first thing. We did not eat much dinner, as we were to play soon after lunch.

The first game of the tournament was between Stiles and Eden. Eden won by a score of 39 to 11. The second game was between Crain city and Eldorado. Eldorado won by a two-point margin, the score being 6 to 4. All the boys played heads-up basketball. The starting lineup was as follows: Eli McAngus, Center; Jack Kerr, Forward; Fred Williams, guard; Fred Logan, guard; Albert Martin, Forward. "Lefty" Smith was high point man of the game.

There were sixteen other teams entered in the tournament besides Eldorado, which were: Sterling City, Veri best, McCamey, Water Valley, Garden City, Mertzon, Wall, Eagle Cove, Iraan, Lakeview, Sonora, Rankin, Sherwood, Ozona, San Angelo, and Big Lake.

After we had beaten Crain City we had to play Eden. We played them Saturday morning and lost by a score of 11 to 24.

The final game was between Eagle Cove and Big Lake, Eagle Cove winning the game by a 6 point margin.

Starnes of Rankin was voted to be the best allround player in the tournament. He was awarded a gold basketball with a diamond set mounted in the ball.

After losing our game with Eden we watched the other games until about four o'clock Saturday afternoon and then started home. The trip was enjoyed by both Coach Williamson and all the boys, and trip is believed to have been a profitable one, even though we did not win but one game.

FOOTBALL TEAM AWARDED SWEATERS

By Vance Morgan

Last Thursday morning in the study hall, Coach Williamson officially awarded the sweaters to the 1930 football squad.

Only twelve of the boys were lettered. Those receiving sweaters were: Carl Kerr, Eli McAngus, Aubrey, Smith, and Fred Williams for the second time; and Joe H. Moore, Albert Martin, Hollis McCormick, Garland Bullion, and Fred Logan receiving sweaters for the first time. Albert McGinty received his third football sweater from the school. He has been Captain of the team two consecutive years and has been elected Captain for the 1931 squad.

Coach Williamson announced before giving the sweaters out that each boy must make a short speech before it would be given to him. He need not have said "short" because I think they would have been anyhow. All the boys expressed their pleasure in having been on the 1930 squad, each paying a high tribute to Coach Williamson.

Eli McAngus failed to appear on the scene early enough to receive his sweater at the morning assembly, so Coach Williamson very impartially gave him an opportunity to make his speech before the study hall just before dinner. Several of the boys were of the opinion that Eli never would have showed up if he had known that he would have to make a speech anyhow.

Most of the boys are of the opinion that the sweaters this year are the prettiest that have ever been awarded at this school. The letters are made of chenille and bring out the school colors, Black and Gold.

Mr. Holt made a short talk after the sweaters were awarded in which he complimented the boys for their work in receiving the awards and pointed out that the sweaters were not so valuable in themselves, but that they stood for a high standard of sportsmanship. He further added that it ought to be the ambition of every boy in high school to win one of these awards before finishing school.

OUTLOOK AND INDEPENDENT

By Miss Willie Allen

"Outlook", a weekly magazine published in New York City, takes for its major purpose a summary of the present day trends in politics, business and literature. The name itself furnishes an excellent index as to the sort of material one would expect this magazine to contain. The front page lists some of the most important discussions of each issue. Here are found some forty pages of three columns each on interesting and important tendencies of life today.

The magazine is divided into three distinct parts: The Trend of Events, in which the editorial is featured; Articles, in which such pertinent titles as "Good-bye to H. G. Wells," "Lawbreakers in High Office," or "From Naples to Algiers by Car" arouse the reader's attention; The Leisure Arts, in which we find subdivisions on books, the theatre, the movies, and music. The divisions of the magazine tend to stimulate interest in themselves, for surely anyone can find something to suit his tastes in so varied and well-arranged a selection.

Of course, the editor is an important contribution to such a magazine. The purport as expressed by him is to present a spirited, readable magazine, edited with vigor and insight and to discuss those subjects which are the intelligent and practical concern of the most influential people of this country. Other contributors are numerous, and each gives us an article well worth reading.

Each article is illustrated with cartoons or with pictures of the persons or scenes concerned. Naturally these pictures clarify our understanding of the article given.

Advertisements in this magazine are principally of books and of travel. The travel advertisements are made attractive by pictures of scenes to be witnessed in the land mentioned; for instance, Australia is illustrated by the kangaroo.

Certain features of "Outlook" were especially interesting to the writer. One of these was alist of the ten best selling books of the week, five fiction and five non-fiction. Another was a list of the best current shows of New York City. Still another good feature was the column reserved for letters from readers, in which opinions as to former publications were given. And finally, our interest in the next issue is aroused by a brief mention of articles which are to appear at that time.

All in all we find this an instructive and engaging magazine. As the latter part of the title "Independent" implies, we find expressed here some ideas which may not meet with the approval of the majority of readers, but we can assume that each person has the right to judge for himself. At any rate a study of what capable and well-informed persons think on such subjects as prohibition or world peace is very beneficial to us who would settle these things in a fair and unprejudiced way. Such a magazine as this thus serves a felt need for the thinking people of our day.

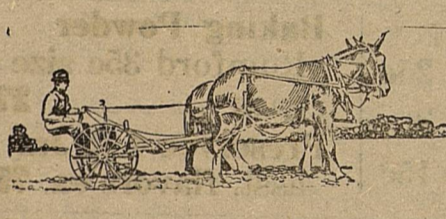

THE VALUE OF THE NEWS-PAPER TO A STUDENT

By Gusta V. Graves

A newspaper is valuable to a high school student, or a grammar school student either, because first, it helps him to appreciate journalism, second, he learns what is going on in the world.

AMERICA'S FIRST GREAT MAN

Benjamin Franklin, born on Jan. 17, 1706 was the first native of America to win international fame. He was in many ways the greatest man in this country produced in its early days. His services to the cause of the Colonists and to the infant Republic were immeasurable. Hon. Charles E. Hughes Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, has called him "the greatest diplomat of all time." Franklin is the patron saint of printers, the first journalist of consequence produced on American soil, the father of the postoffice, the propagandist of thrift, the most prolific inventor of his time, the founder of libraries, the discoverer of the identity of lightning and electricity, a great humanist, a prolific writer—of lightning and electricity, a great humanist,—no wonder that he is often referred to as "the many-sided Franklin."

Unconsciously almost everybody quotes Benjamin Franklin in everyday commonplaces of speech. He was the first to write and put in print such phrases as "Honesty is the best policy," "Experience is a dear school but fools will learn in no other," "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." When you say "God helps those that help themselves" you are quoting Ben Franklin. To speak of a person seeking a favor as one "having an axe to grind" is another Franklinism. Hundreds of common phrases which many people think are from Shakespeare or the Bible originated in "Poor Richard's Almanac," the humorous, kindly collection of wit and wisdom which had made Franklin famous long before the Revolution.

He was a human, entertaining and lovable personality, according to all who knew him, as well as a statesman and a philosopher. It is well as to remember Franklin and to celebrate his birthday by beginning to apply some of his maxims about thrift, not the least popular of which is "A penny saved is a penny earned."

WE DON'T CARRY UMBRELLAS

In calling on the members of his party in Congress not to tie President Hoover's hands in the matter of relief appropriations, but to give the President authority to use the money where it may be most needed to help the unemployment situation, Alfred E. Smith displayed a breadth of view which might be emulated by lesser politicians in both parties. The former Governor of New York knows from his own experience as an administrator what a handicap it is to an executive to be bound to a specific program in which every detail is prescribed by law, and not to be able to perform the function which properly belongs to the executive, that of deciding on the way in which the purpose of the law can best be carried out.

Regardless of political belief, we think the intelligent public will commend this attitude of Mr. Smith and hope that it will have an effect upon those in Congress and elsewhere who would rather make trouble for the Administration than to have the economic situation improved.

Mr. Smith, in the same newspaper article, "said a mouthful," in a phrase which undoubtedly will be widely quoted. "American people never carry an umbrella," he says. "They prepare to walk in eternal sunshine." He points out that in time of prosperity the political leader who tries to call a halt on reckless expenditure and to prepare for the depression which has always followed every prosperity wave in not be elected to any office.

We are prone to think that whatever the conditions are today they will always be the same. In time of sunshine we think it is never going to rain. And similarly there are millions today who think that prosperity is never coming back. Both beliefs are equally wrong. Nothing is constant except change. Whatever the conditions, the old Persian Kink was right when he said:

"This, too, shall pass away."

Conveyors Carry Ford Car Parts

Trains unload in the plant.

Bodies starting through the shop.

Conveyors carry wheels with mounted tires over a line on which cars pass to completion.

The highly important part played by conveyor systems in all Ford Motor Company manufacturing and assembly plants is graphically shown in the above three pictures taken in the recently opened Edgewater, N. J., plant. One of the pictures shows how parts may be unloaded from freight cars within the plant only a few feet from the various assembly lines. Another picture shows automobile bodies starting their trip on a conveyor while the third view is of the conveyor system used to bring wheels to the chassis which are also moving on a conveyor. As indicated in the picture, a constant flow of wheels on which the tires have already been mounted moves around and over the chassis assembly line. As a chassis enters the section, workers, in groups of four, each take a wheel from the hooks and fasten it to the chassis.

THE HI-DIVIDE

world about him, and third, the newspaper broadens his knowledge of the better things of life.

To thoroughly appreciate journalism one has to read a newspaper and see examples of it. In school the student studies all about how things should be written and in the newspaper he can see the rules carried out. To be a good journalist is not merely luck; it requires hard study. In reading the newspaper the student is able to get all points of write-ups.

By reading the newspaper, the student learns all the happenings of the day and all the important things taking place in the world about him. I say "world," because he learns about things in other countries as well as in his native land. If a person making an invention, the student may keep up with it in the paper and profit by the report of the paper. When some one is doing something to help science the student learns all about it if he only reads the papers. Through the papers the students learn all about any incident that it to go down on history's pages. For examples, when Byrd made his expedition to the South Pole, the papers published his reports each day, and the people profited by these reports the newspapers gave. When any historical happening is taking place, the student finds it much more interesting if he has read about it in a paper or magazine before hand.

The third value of the newspaper to the high school student is that it broadens his knowledge of the better things of life. He can see what other persons think about a certain thing. The boy or girl in high school needs some one else's ideas and beliefs to compare with their own.

I think the newspaper is more valuable to a high school student probably than the elders sometimes, because the student is influenced more by it for the reason that he is younger. A student needs to read the paper because soon he will be out on "his own" and he must realize a few things about the world as portrayed through the newspaper before he makes a "real go" of it.

E. H. S. — ECONOMIC CLASS

By Pauline Rape
The Economic class has studied what economics is, and the four divisions which economics consists of. We have studied thoroughly the following four divisions of economics: production, exchange, distribution, and consumption.

The Economics class is studying stocks and bonds, and also the organization of industry, from the first weaving up to modern manufacturing. Also the development in agriculture and railroads, and the advantages and disadvantages of single enterprise, partnerships, and corporation.

Economics is very valuable to the high school student, because it teaches him how to invest money in large investments by paying a little at a time and it teaches him how to save. Economics is valuable to the student, because he or she will sooner or later become husband or wife and should know these things in order to have a successful home or lead a successful life.
