Evans Motor Company Campaign on Used Cars Sale Gets Results

Largest in One Month Period in History of Business; Success Attributed to Advertising Campaign Stressed

The Evans Motor Company has just closed one of the most successful Used Car Sales in the history of the business, according to a statement made by the manager Mr. C. F. Evans. The sales topped all previous Used Car Sales Campaigns by several cars. The campaign was launched the first of March and thirty used cars were delivered to various owners in the county. Last October the Company put on a Used Car sale and sold twenty one but the Management states that times were much better then and it did not take as much sales talk as it did during the recent campaign.

Much of Success Attributed to Program of Advertising
When the sale opened Mr. Evans planned a very interesting and impressive advertising program and carried it out throughout the entire sale which netted the best results. He used the local paper along with printed cards distributed through the mail, giving a full description of the cars they had on sale and the O. K. that was behind these cars.

Mr. Evans, for some time was not a very strong believer in advertising but since the recent sale which topped all previous ones he has come to the conclusion that if you have an article for sale it is best that you place it before the public.

Up to the present date the Evans Motor Company has delivered eighteen new Chevrolet cars since the first of January. More new cars could probably have been sold during the last month but all stress was laid on the sale of a very large stock of used cars.

Coming of Railroad Causes Much Building

The whistle and rumble of the work train as it passes thru Eldorado each day is sweet music to the ears of the citizens of this town and county, which have waited patiently for twenty years to greet coming of the first train into the county.

Work on the road is progressing rapidly on toward Sonora and the contractors are busily building stations here and at other towns on the road. The station at Christoval has been completed. The section house and stock yards are under construction. Material is on the ground for the station here. A large and convenient yard for stock to be shipped out will also be built.

A hold over trap is being planned by local capital near the railroad yards so that inland shippers may hold their stock here and need it prior to shipping. Stock will be shipped from many miles round in all directions.

Much Building Going on in Towns on Line

With the construction of the railroad, which will tap this rich territory, building activities in the towns touched by the line are passing all previous records. Residential sections are being opened in Christoval, Eldorado and Sonora. Streets are being paved, sidewalks are being built. The construction activity is not of the boom type. Substantial buildings are being erected by people who have lived here a number of years, who are expanding in business and who are building homes for themselves and for investment.

A bond issue is to be called soon for the amount of about $45,000 for the purpose of installing a sanitary sewer system, and $30,000 will be spent on improvements on the water system. Larger mains are to be placed in the business section of town and also in some of the residential sections. Five plugs will be installed.

Included in this program will be the new water tower in order that sufficient water force will be available in case of fire and to provide a reservoir with continued growth of the city in view.

Along with the other building program is the street paving in Eldorado. Three blocks are to be paved, work to begin in about in days.

There are thousands of acres of land in this section on which cattle and sheep are grazing that would produce as good crops of cotton and all kinds of feed stuff as any in Texas. With transportation facilities improved, the armpits that are being developed will gradually encroach upon these ranch lands and provide homes to the score of families where now there are only one or two.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method to express our heart felt thanks for the many kind words and deeds expressed and rendered us during the illness and death of our beloved sister and aunt.

The many beautiful flowers, a token of your love and sympathy will ever be remembered by us. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

Sarah Viola Nowlin

Mrs. Sarah Viola Perkins, was born in Missouri, August, 16, 1853, and departed this life, April 8, 1930, at Eldorado, Texas, being 76 years, 7 months and 23 days old. She moved with her parents to Georgetown, Texas, when a child and in 1890 married A. J. Nowlin, who preceded her in death about 9 years ago. She professed religion in early childhood and united with the Methodist Church, being loyal to the institution until death claimed her. During her life she has helped educate three young girls, also took her niece Louise Branch, at her mother's death and gave her a home for 10 or 12 years. Mrs. Nowlin came to Eldorado about 5 years ago to make her home with her niece Mrs. S. L. Wright, she has made many friends in our midst and received the very best of attention from the good people during her last illness. Mrs. Nowlin died just two weeks from the day Stephen Wright with whom she made her home died, which brings sorrow upon sorrow in that home.

She is survived by two brothers, L. P. Perkins, of Florence, Texas; Emmitt Perkins, Leander, Texas and two sisters, Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Wharton, Texas and Mrs. J. T. Rankins, Austin, Texas. Her niece Mrs. S. L. Wright, and many other nephews and nieces.

The remains were laid to rest in the Eldorado Cemetery Wednesday afternoon following services from the First Methodist Church, Service being conducted by the Rev. L. D. Hardt, Pastor, with Robert Massie Funeral director.

The sun has set for another life, The angles of heaven sing anew, The anxiety, toils and strife rest sweetly and calmly for two.

ONE OF THE OLDEST BUILDINGS IN ELDORADO BEING TORN AWAY

One of the oldest business buildings in Eldorado is being torn down this week and will be replaced by a modern fire proof brick building costing approximately $12,000. The building was formerly owned by J. Keeney and recently purchased by T. K. Jones, prominent ranchman of Schleicher. The new building is being erected for a new Theatre. A Vitaphone machine will be placed in this building and all of the new vitaphone equipment will be used. The building is being leased by J. A. Flynn, local theater manager.

Resolutions of Respect Old Trustees Re-elected With Little Opposition

WHEREAS: the all-wise Ruler of the Universe has deemed it well to bring grief to the heart of one of our members, Sister Louise Wright, by taking from this world her aunt, Mrs. M. E. Nowlin; and
WHEREAS: her brief is on grief;
WHEREAS: we desire to express our sympathy and love to the bereaved;

THEREFORE: be it resolved; that the members of the Missionary Society, of the M. E. Church, of Eldorado, Texas. Herby express to Sister Louise Wright, our deepest sympathy in this hour of distress; And be it resolved: that we spread these resolutions on the minutes of the Missionary Society, and that a copy be sent to the bereaved.

The committee:
Mrs. O. E. Conner
Mrs. Ben L. Isaacs
Mrs. Sherman Shoemaker

FOR SALE: A bargain. Practically new, 7 room house. sheetrocked throughout, 3 lots, garage. Also lots to trade for livestock.
J. S. May

The four trustees that have served the past term were again elected to their position to serve on the school board for another term with very little opposition. The four placed on the ticket were Doc Kerr, Jess Koy, W. R. Nicks and I. W. Ellis. The present school board have made many forward steps in aiding the up building of the Eldorado School. Considerable improvements have been made during their term and the people are satisfied to make their interests in the school in the hands of these men for another term.

FOR SALE: 1 Fresh Milk cow, four year old Jersey, heifer calf. Also 2 Male Guinea Essex Pigs.
S. W. Mather (c 16)

Mr. Harold Jackson returned to his ranch near Tierra Alta, Monday. He has been visiting in San Angelo, Abilene and Waco.

"So you were held up and robbed last night after bragging that you could lick any man on earth hands down?"
"But he didn't give me a chance. He made me put 'em up."

Election Of City Officers To Be Held Saturday

An election which should be looked upon with much interest is to be held at the court house Saturday. The term of the city officials expire, including the mayor's office. This election has not been receiving the interest it should among the town people. The town has been incorporated only a year and any one coming into the city will be impressed at the signs of progress that has been going on since the incorporation and the election of officers.

There has been much done for future development of the city by these men on the present board. A few of the important factors of development are: the passing of the Stock Law, which made way for a more beautiful Eldorado. Yard fences that were on the verge of falling down, and forming a trash retainer have been removed and flowers and shrubbery have been planted in their places. The fire Ordinance, one of the most important steps that has been taken by the present board, was passed, prohibiting the erecting of any kind of a business house that was not of fire proof substance. This ordinance put a stop to one of the most complete tin shag building program that could have been started. During the recent oil boom, when Eldorado was for just a few days a typical oil boom town. Every body with a map on hand joining the well or town property, wishing to erect a oil town shack that would have been a detriment to any town in West Texas and had it not been for this ordinance the city of Eldorado would have had many tin shacks or worse, as a problem facing them, by means of relieving the town of this class of buildings. The Eldorado Water Works was sold to the Texas Water and Power Company and a franchise let to be made on the present system, the installation of larger mains and fire plugs. On the strength of this, the fire insurance rate has been lowered 15 per cent. The paving of three blocks on the main street, was put over by the present board. The work on this project will be under way soon. The securing of a dumping ground by the city council solved a problem that has been facing the people of Eldorado for many years past. Many other minor projects were carried out by the board which is in evidence of progress that will be seen in Eldorado in the future from the foundation laid by these men.

Trailers Of Farmers Are Free Of Tax

Vehicles on Which Many Have Paid Exempted By Bill

Farm trailers and farm-semitrailers, on which many farmers throughout the state have already paid taxes, are included in an exemption clause under the provisions of an emergency House bill which has been passed by the legislature and is to go into effect on April 10. Restrictions in the bill are of the gross weight to 4,000 pounds, and the maximum speed of metal tired vehicles to 15 miles per hour.

Furthermore, a second bill will go into effect April 19 because of the fact that the law now on the statutes of Texas regulating the operation of motor vehicles owned by non-residents is burdensome and should have some substitute. Copies have been and are being received by the tax collector here who will issue the license casting 50 cents plus a weekly fee of 25 cents. A non-resident license is good for only 120 days after date of issuance. The exempted farm tractors, farm trailers, farm semi-trailers, and implements, "or implements of husbandry", have been a continuous source of trouble for the tax payer, collector, and the county attorney here in Tom Green county.

Trailer Regulations Defined

Inquiries about the "farm-semi-trailers" and "well-drilled machine trailers" have been the subject of many inquiries. Some of those who were in doubt bought licenses when they shouldn't and vice versa.

Section 2 of House Bill No. 82, relating to "trailer" definitions and the regulation of licenses thereof, reads as follows: Every owner of a motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer used or to be used upon the public highways of this state, and each chauffeur, shall apply each year to the State Highway Department through the County Tax Collector of the County in which he resides for the registration of each such vehicle owned or controlled by him, or for a chauffeur's license, for the ensuing or current calendar year on unexpired portion thereof; provided, however, that owners of farm tractors, farm trailers, farm-semi-trailers, and implements of husbandry, operated or moved temporarily upon the highways shall not be required to register such farm-trailers, farm-trailers, farm-semi-trailers, or implements of husbandry, provided, however, that such farm-trailers and farm-semi-trailers are operated in conformity to all provisions of the law save and except the requirements as to registration shall license and providing further that the exceptions in this section shall not apply to any farm-trailer or farm-semi-trailer with metal tires shall be permitted to operate at a speed in excess of fifteen miles per hour and further provided that the exemption in this section shall not apply to any arm-trailer or farm-semi-trailer with steel tires of a width less than three inches operating in excess of fifteen miles per hour, and providing further the exemption in this section shall not apply to any farm-trailer or semi-trailer when the same is used for hire, provided, however, it should be unlawful to operate any trailer or semi-trailer at night without a rear red light or reflector.

Telegram Received From G. D. Hines In New Mexico

A few weeks ago the columns of The Success carried what was supposed to be the death of G. D. Hines in New Mexico, but we are very glad to have a correction of this statement appear in this issue. Mr. Hines has written to the County Clerk, John E. Isaacs, stating that he is much alive and in the best of health. A telegram was also received by A. F. Leukecke, Sheriff of Schleicher County. The telegram gave an explanation in part of the error made by several papers in this section in writing the death of this man. There was a man in Roswell, New Mexico, by the name of Nat Hines that died and the report received here and other places were considerably mixed. But we are again glad to have the pleasure of correcting this error and hope that it will be many seasons before the report becomes a reality.

G. A. Caraway and L. E. Clement Station A made a business trip to San Angelo Saturday.

An announcement card was received by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wright, Thursday night, announcing the arrival of Betty Sue Williamson, on April 6, 1930 to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williamson 3205 Ave. M, Fort Worth, Texas.

Only Screen Beauty?

Gloria Swanson surprised Chicago by saying there that Governor Griffith, pictured above, is the only beautiful woman in the movies. "The rest of us are just types," said Gloria.

Resolutions

WHEREAS: It has been the wish of our Heavenly Father to take from us our Brother, Friend, and Fellow Worker in His work.

WHEREAS: Because of his faithfulness to the Church in every department, because of his friendliness to every one, young and old, because of his heartfulness under trying difficulties, his cantagious optimism, we, each of us, so sincerely miss him from his usual place among us, both on Sunday and through the week.

THEREFORE: Be it resolved by the Church and Sunday School assembled, that we express to the family of Brother Steve Wright and his relatives our sincere sympathy in their sorrow.

2nd: That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of the Church, a copy sent to his family, a copy sent to Mr. A. T. Wright and Albert Wright, and a copy placed in the next issue of The Success. Respectfully submitted by your committee:

TWELFTH INSTALLMENT

Luke finds out by telephone that his old bachelor apartment is still untenanted, and enters it by the fire escape. The police become suspicious and call on Margaret for the key to the flat. She accompanies a detective to the place. Luke hears her voice outside and locks himself in an inner room. The detectives and Margaret away before they burst in the door and seize Luke. They find a gun and a license in his pockets and immediately suspect him of being concerned in the jewel robbery, although they do not recognize him as Maddison. He manages to escape down the fire ladder and jumps into a passing taxi.

Maddison goes to his old bachelor quarters, is taken for a burglar, escapes from the police and tries to get in touch with detective Bird. The Connor gang learn of this, sandbag and imprison him in an underground cell near the river where he is certain to be drowned when the tide rises. Meantime Margaret, revisiting Luke's old rooms, finds a sheet of paper on which Luke had begun a letter to his friend and lawyer saying that he is desperate trouble. Margaret's joy over the discovery that Luke is alive and in London is tempered by the statement of Detective Bird that the man concerned in the jewel robbery, whom she now knows was Luke, had been going around for two years with the woman whose accomplice he was.

Gunner Haynes drops into Joe Connor's hiding-place just as Connor's men are fastening Luke's feet with a chain to a large block of rock salt, intending to throw him in the river, where the salt will dissolve, the chains drop off and the body will be found without marks of violence. Haynes defies the Connor gang and takes Maddison into the yard, pausing as he sees two men climbing the fence.

Haynes defies the Connor gang and takes Maddison into the yard, pausing as he sees two men climbing the fence.

Now Go On With The Story

"But—" she began.

"I believe he's in Spain. If a man's in Spain he can't be in London, can he? And if he's a gentleman at large in Spain, taking long hikes through the country, he can't be burgling Taffy's or getting himself mixed up with Connor."

"Now Mrs. Maddison, I'm going to ask you that impertinent question all over again; exactly why did your husband leave you? No, no, I don't mean that. I know why he left you. But why did you suddenly leave him flat? I don't know that; I'll bet your husband doesn't know that. Only you know—and Danty. I guess Danty knows."

She was silent; but she realized at that moment just why she had not destroyed Rex's last note. She had kept it to show Luke some day, and demand from him the explanation she should have asked for when it came to her. It was her justification—the only one she could have for her conduct.

"That is an extraordinary request for a stranger to make, Mr. Haynes, and I don't know whether to enlighten you or not."

She stood for a moment silent, and then, turning abruptly, walked out of the room. Haynes picked up his hat from the floor and rose, thinking the interview was at an end. But in three minutes she was back again with a little envelope in her hand.

"I'm telling you something that nobody knows but me and Mr. Morell," she said. "When my poor brother shot himself, this note was found in his room."

She took from the envelope two telephone slips and passed them to him. Gunner Haynes read:

Margaret darling, I have lost, for months I have been gambling. To-day I took a desperate step on the advice of Luke Maddison. He has led me to ruin—money is his god. I beg of you not to trust him. He has led me from one act of folly to another. God bless you.

Rex.

He read it twice and then looked up.

"Is this your brother's handwriting?"

She nodded.

"Could you swear to it?"

"Yes, I'm sure it's his. I've had hundreds of penciled notes from him, and I couldn't possibly be mistaken."

"Who found it?"

"Mr. Morell found it in Rex's room. Poor, dear Rex had a servant, a very trustworthy man, and he saw the note before Mr. Morell put it in his pocket."

"He didn't read it, of course?" suggested the Gunner. "The servant, I mean?"

"I don't think so. He only saw the note, and Mr. Morell held it."

The Gunner had an amazing memory. He could from that moment have repeated every word in the letter—there was no need for him to take a copy, and he handed it back to the girl.

No man wasted less time or effort than Gunner Haynes. His method represented the very economy of labor. He was satisfied that Connor had carried away his victim, but was wrong when he associated Danty Morell with the abduction.

He called upon Connor but was told vaguely that the man had gone into the country. He did not attempt to seek an interview with Danty Morell, but after a day spent in a vain search of Connor's wharf, made his way to Half Moon Street, watched the house until he saw first Danty and then Pi Coles leave. To get into Danty's flat was a very simple matter—a key blank, a piece of lampblack, a quarter of an hour spent in Green Park filling the soft metal procured him an entrance.

Once inside the flat he proceeded at his leisure. He was not at all anxious at the thought of Danty's return. His hatred of Morell was in one sense illogical. They had been friends and partners, though he had lost sight of the man and the partnership had broken off. He had no direct proof of the duplicity he suspected. Gunner Haynes had loved that feather-headed little wife of his, and when she had disappeared, never to become more to him than a record in a workhouse register, a tremendous part of his life had been cut away from him. He might suspect Danty as the cause of his agony; he had no clear evidence that the story the man had told was untrue.

Danty had said the girl had disappeared, and that he was as ignorant of her whereabouts as her husband. Yet, for all this, the suspicion in Gunner Haynes' mind amounted to a certainty. He was a just man, and so long as that proof was missing, Danty Morell would come to no harm.

He made a quick but thorough examination of the two rooms. There were letters which had to be scanned, pocketbooks to investigate, drawers to be opened and searched, but in none of these did Haynes find the slightest clue to Luke Maddison's present place of imprisonment. He did find the note which Connor had scribbled, giving the address where Luke was staying, but no more. There remained only the safe, which was not so much a safe as a steel cupboard fastened with a spring lock—the type that is found in most business offices. To open this was a matter of five minutes' patient work.

There were four shelves and each was crowded with letters, bills, and curious souvenirs which Danty had collected—as only a man without method could create. On the third shelf he found a wooden box, the lock of which he forced. There were papers here—bundles of letters tied up with shoelaces, bits of old string—there was nothing romantic in Danty's disposition.

The first bundle did not interest him. At the sight of the writing on the second his face went gray. He brought the box into the dining-room and sat down, read three of the letters, glanced at the others, and very slowly and deliberately tied them up again and put them back in the box. As he did so he caught sight of a scrap of paper exactly the size of that on which Rex had written his last message. He took it out—yes, it was scrawled in the same handwriting. But the message was unintelligible. It ran:

Danty Morell. The man is a common swindler. I was warned against him by—

And then in a flash he realized. He had an extraordinary memory, and could repeat almost word for word the supposedly complete message Rex had left. With these words added it would have read:

Margaret darling, I have lost. For months I have been gambling. To-day I took a desperate step on the advice of Danty Morell. The man is a common swindler. I was warned against him by Luke Maddison. He has led me to ruin—money is his god. I beg of you not to trust him. He has led me from one act of folly to another. . . . That was it! Danty had found that the first and last of those scraps made a complete message; he had put the second in his pocket (it still bore marks of being screwed up).

It came as something in the nature of a shock to Margaret Maddison to discover how completely changed were whom she had passed through stages of toleration to liking, and from liking to a sort of passive affection, and from that again, in the cataclysmic revolution of feeling that her brother's death had brought about, to the bitterest loathing.

For the first time in her life Margaret was in love, and in love with something which was neither a memory nor an idea, but something which was to her as real as her own hand. She had gained that sense of possession which is the wife's own sense—an understanding of her obligations. She could not afford to waste time in regrets at the amazing follies and wicked errors of the past; in the days that followed her mind was occupied with schemes for helping him out of the morass in which he struggled. She did not hear from Gunner

Haynes, although she stayed up until nearly two o'clock the next morning, having the telephone switched through to her bedside. Nor bringing news. She was out when Danty called, and having no occasion to go to her check book, she did not discover his theft.

After she discovered it, she called on him.

Danton heard her voice and was coming across the hall to meet her before the door was closed.

"This is an unexpected pleasure, Margaret," he said. "Is anything wrong?"

She did not answer until she was in his room.

"Before I tell you why I've come," she said. "I think it is only fair that you should know I have left instructions that, unless I am back in my house in three-quarters of an hour, my butler will ring up Mr. Bird and tell him where I have gone."

He frowned at this.

"What's the idea?" he asked harshly. "That's an extraordinary way to behave—why the dickens shouldn't you be back in three-quarters of an hour?"

"Where are the remainder of those checks that you stole from my check book when you called the other day?" she asked.

She saw his face go red.

"I don't know what you mean," he said loudly. "I steal checks? What nonsense you're talking—"

"You came into my house and you were in my sitting room long enough to extract ten checks. One of them was brought to the bank to-day, made out in Luke's name and signed by him. On my instructions the check was not honored."

"Not honored?" he stammered, and in his embarrassment he betrayed his share of the guilt.

"I'm less interested in the check than in my husband," she said quietly. "Where is he?"

He strove vainly to recover his self-possession and forced a smile.

"Really, my dear girl—" he began.

"You'll address me as Mrs. Maddison, if you have to address me as anything," she said. "I want you also to tell me exactly where Luke is."

"As far as I know, he's staying with a convicted thief named Haynes," the man answered roughly, and to his surprise she nodded.

"I thought so too. I went down to see him—but he had gone. I think Mr. Haynes was surprised to find that he had gone, and I'm only now understanding that Luke did not go of his own free will. Then I thought he may have wandered out by himself in order to escape association with Mr. Haynes. But the check explains a great deal. Where is Luke?"

He shook his head.

"I don't know."

"In that case I am going to do what I was trying to avoid," she said. "I am going to the police, and I shall charge you with stealing the blank checks, and leave it to Mr. Bird to connect you with Luke's disappearance."

She half turned to the door, but he caught her by the arm.

It takes a fisherman anywhere from two to seven or eight hours to land a 900-pound swordfish after he has once sunk the harpoon in it. The swordfish is one of New England's favorite foods and is found in large numbers off Block Island and in Nantucket Sound. To speed up their capture a method of electrocuting the fish has been devised. The harpoon line carries a wire core connected with a generator on the fishing schooner. Another wire attached to a metal plate completes the circuit.

The method is not exactly "sporting," but commercial fishermen are not sportsmen, and the more fish they catch in a given time the greater their profits.

POLITICS

Presidential politics always become a topic of conversation in any President's second year. Some people are hinting that Mr. Coolidge would like to run again in 1932. Mr. Coolidge is reported to have said to a friend that there are only two possible candidates for the Presidency next time, Herbert Hoover and "some Democrat." The Republicans have always renominated their President's and must do so in Hoover's case, whether they like it or not. So the only point worth discussing is who will be the "some Democrat."

From here it looks certain that it will not be Mr. Smith. It also looks certain that it will not be Governor Ritchie of Maryland. Both are avowed "wets" though there are other reasons given why they will not be serious contenders. Many people are looking carefully at Governor Franklin Roosevelt of New York. Gov. Roosevelt is "dry" but has a "wet" party organization back of him. Some suggest Owen D. Young; others think he has too close a connection with power interests. Others are whispering "Keep an eye on Harry Byrd." Byrd is a dry Democrat who has just retired from the Governorship of the dry Commonwealth of Virginia. He is a newspaper man and a brother of Admiral Byrd, the explorer.

REDUCING

We can blame a good deal of the trouble of the wheat growers on the worldwide effort to avoid surplus fat, according to Professor James L. Boyle of Cornell University. Bread consumption in the United States has declined 20 per cent, Professor Boyle says, because women—and men, too—are afraid that eating bread will make them fat.

The taste of the ultimate consumer is the controlling factor in every line of industry. Short skirts injured the textile manufacturers but made fortunes for the silk stockings-weavers. Makers of dress goods the world over combined to establish a new fashion with longer skirts, which is beginning to make headway. It will be harder for wheat growers, millers and bakers to convince women that a reasonable amount of fat makes them more attractive.

KINGS

There are a few kings left, but they are mainly figure-heads. Mussolini rules Italy; Prince de Rivera, up to a few weeks before his recent death, ruled Spain; Admiral Horthy rules Hungary; King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia, King Christian of Denmark, King Albert of Belgium, Queen Maria of Roumania and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland hold their thrones only because they do not attempt to run their nations.

The Countess of Warwick, a descendant of King Charles II of England and of Oliver Cromwell, who has been an intimate of royalty from girlhood and a power in the British Republic under the name of David Windsor. If that proves true, and stranger things have happened, he will have more real power than his father has ever dared to exercise.

Guadalupe River Survey

The Federal Government is making a survey of the Guadalupe river from its mouth to Cuero. At one time the river was navigated as far as Victoria. While the engineer in charge of the survey says it is for the purpose of ascertaining if there is a four foot river navigation depth, Cuero citizens are hopeful that the project may establish the feasibility of a nine foot canalization of the river, thus fixing possibilities for a combination of practical uses.

Wright's Paragraphs

Some writer wants to know what grandma will look like in 1970. Just as soon as we can interview R. L. Sample we will try and answer.

It has been whispered around town that the Whitten Well, over flowed three times Saturday night, this came from the straits of oil found last summer and comes out between the casing if we understand it right it does this ever once in awhile.

Sun-of-a-gun over at San Saba would like to live another 70 years. Just whether we are at home or in North suburbs, San Angelo.

When Eldorado gets through her new building spell, we won't know whether we are at home or in North suburbs, San Angelo.

Tuesday morning while we were penning these lines a big stout looking man dropped into our office with these words of greeting, "can you help a tramp", upon looking him over close we declined, then came the words, "can you give him the price of a cup of coffee". What we want to know is are we condemned for not responding. By his own acclamation he was a tramp, s there need for such humanity in the world, or is there sufficient cause for people to have to tramp for a living, and does the scripture, "Am I my brother's keeper," apply to tramps some body put me straight, so if I have sinned or neglected a just duty, I may not err no more.

Teh Baptist meeting starts next Sunday, why not each of us start with the meeting, that will start things off right, and another thing, we need the preaching and the preacher needs us, nets get started of in high.

The trustee election was calm last Saturday, four good men were elected in fact there was no opposition, which shows that Eldorado can get in harmony on elections.

Next Saturday is election day for city officers, and all indications that it will be calm also.

The Schleicher County History is now off the press and is being distributed to those who have placed their orders, all orders received from now on will be filled promptly, until the supply is exhausted. This little book is worth more than the $1.00 for which it sells. Part of the proceeds from this book will go to the Eldorado School Library in fact about 50 per cent of the profit sales will go to the school. The period of time covered in this book is about 80 years.

Our friend Elmer Bruton failed to tell us this week how long he has postponed the rain, but we presume it was until after the 15, so Aubrey Miller would be ready for it.

We don't know what the reason was but we saw quite a few married men with their heads all bandaged up this week.

Work on the new gin started Monday, the gin people believe Schleicher will raise lots of cotton this year.

Miss Mary DeLong who is attending McMurry College at Abilene is home for the spring holidays. She will return to her school Wednesday.

John Irving King was in from the ranch Saturday shaking hands and visiting with friends.

Again Feels As a Young Man Should

"I have been suffering from stomach disorders for six months when I started taking Argotane, and now I am in line condition," said T. P. Backer, of 301 Eighth Street, a well-known young resident of Austin, Texas, in a statement to the Austin Representative of the Argotane Company.

"I suffered from constipation and indigestion," continued Mr. Backer. "I seldom eat like eating, for when I did, I was in misery from the gas that formed on my stomach. I suffered frequently from headaches and had a tired, dull feeling when I got up in the morning.

"A friend who knew of my trouble induced me to take Argotane, and I can never thank him enough for doing so, for this wonderful preparation has brought me great relief. When I get up in the morning now, I never have headaches, and I feel better generally than I have felt in the past six months. My bowels are always open, and I am always hungry.

"I am glad to recommend Argotane, for it has brought me real relief, and I feel once more like a young man should."

Genuine Argotane may be bought at Eldorado at the Hoover Drug Co.

Eldorado Eagles Loses To Ozona

The Eldorado Eagles, playing a fairly good game of base ball during the largest part of the game, lost to the Ozona team by a score of 15 to 12. The home boys led the visitors through out the game until the last of the eighth when the Ozona boys, together with two errors and three hits put over three runs to untie the score and put them far enough ahead to win.

New Gin Being Constructed

Work on the construction of the new gin on the Ozona road, on the site recently bought by Keeney and Luttrell of Bronte, Texas, began Monday. The gin will be modern in every way and will be ready for work when the ginning season opens this fall. This will give the farmers adequate means of ginning their cotton.

L. E. Clement was trading in the city Monday from Station A.

Mr. W. R. Word returned home last week from a visit with his sister who lives near Corpus Christi. Mrs. Holland of Fort Stockton, a sister of Mr. Word's accompaniment him on the visit. On returning home their mother accompanied them.

Everybody who has tried to heat a house by electricity knows that it is expensive. But also everybody knows that there is a time between midnight and daybreak when electric power plants are practically idle. In those hours the power companies have surplus to sell for which they can and usually will make a very low rate.

A New Jersey inventor has devised a way of using this cheap current. A large tank of water in the basement is raised to the boiling point. The tank, being thoroughly insulated, retains the heat through the day and the hot water circulating through radiators keeps the house warm until the hour for cheap current again arrives, when the "juice" is automatically switched on.

Baseball Game Turns To Track Meet

What started out to be a baseball game last Sunday afternoon, between the Sonora town team and the Eldorado Town team, was immediately reversed into a track meet, the visitors being the high point team. The game began with Edwin Newlin tossing for the locals but was relieved after the second inning by McGillvray, who held the visitors for two or three innings, and then after the dust had cleared, the Eldoradoans were man, scores behind. In the ninth inning the help of the high school pitcher had to be called upon in order to get them out as Eldorado was unfortunate in not having a fire department.

The Eldorado team consisted of farmers, clothing store men, filling station men and printers, all combined made quite a show for the spectators.

Features of the game on the home team was errors and boneheads galore. Fly balls often went for home run after tossing it first from one side of the lot to the other.

Pillars should have been used to keep several of the ball players from being injured, but fortunately they escaped the misfortune of receiving any injuries from flying ball from the enemy's bats.

The arms of the old timers that have served for Eldorado in the past are being to get limber and feel the call of diamond and are anxious to organize a ball club for the summer months.

Rain Badly Needed For Schleicher County

The farmers and ranchmen have been living in hopes for the past month of receiving a rain so as to put the range and farm land in good condition. The ranchman at present is suffering the worst. The grass that usually is high enough for the stock to have sufficient grazing can not be found only in the low places. Many of the ranchmen are still feeding, but farmers are needing rain but can wait without future damage for several days yet. The land is being placed in first class shape and planting will begin as soon as enough moisture for sprouting is available.

Hard time talk can be heard on every corner but past records of farming and ranching in Schleicher county still prevail and hopes of their usual bumper crop is predicted.

Even though February was the shortest month in the year, I believe I have accomplished more than in any longer month in any year, and all because the field was ripe, and the co-operation splendid all over the county. There was from 90 to 100 per cent attendance of parents at every rural school. They brought their lunches and spent the day.

I arrived on Saturday and the diphtheria immunization program, among other things, was offered them. They voted to put it on. The following Friday, it was given to 234 children from all over the county. They had read of the same work being done in Kerrville, so you see it pays to advertise public health.

Every child of school age in the county had a physical inspection; fifty-four infants and pre-school children were inspected. —Miss Celia Moore State Itinerant Nurse, Schleicher County. —Farm and Ranch News.

THE FIDDLERS

It was at a concert in New York where a celebrated teacher of the violin was exhibiting his pupils. A boy of eighteen stepped on the stage and began to play. A hush fell over the room. His face, his fingers, every move and look proclaimed an embryo artist.

With easy assurance, in which was no trace of effort, he played one number after another, the audience urging him on with enthusiastic applause. Each of us felt the thrill of personally discovering this new star in the musical heavens. The concert over, a gentleman rushed forward to congratulate the teacher.

"You must be wonderfully proud of that brilliant boy!" he exclaimed. The teacher was unresponsive. "Not very proud," he said.

"But surely he will be a master." "No. He will probably be a fiddler in a restaurant."

The man was a bit indignant. Was this coolness born of professional jealousy? The envy of an older man for the brilliant youth? The teacher did not leave him long in doubt.

"The boy could be a master," he explained, "but he never will. Some of the others who performed less well today you will hear from later. But he—no. He will be a fiddler. It comes too easy; he will not work."

If you have read much of biography you will know that the teacher was right. Nothing is more impressive than the infinite pains which great men have taken, not merely to achieve position, but to keep it. Emerson tells of a letter from an artist friend describing Michelangelo's huge mural painting of the Last Judgement, which the friend had the opportunity of seeing very near, and was astonished at the minute finish of muscles and nerves, finished like a miniature. No detail was too small for the artist whose shoulders were bent by the long effort of finishing his immortal pictures under the dome of St. Peter's.

Both, the great actor, was never satisfied. One night, after a performance in which he seemed to the audience to have surpassed himself, a friend went to congratulate him. He "found Booth with his head in his hands in the deepest dejection, from which not even the praise of an old friend could arouse him, disgusted at having given so miserable a performance."

Whether great success is worth what it costs or whether mediocrity is a happier state are debatable questions, but there is no secret about the formula. Eternal work is the difference between the artist—and the fiddler.

Battery Inspection Week

Beginning next Monday April 13th, for a period of one week, will be battery Inspection Week.

Your battery should be inspected often and we are putting on this inspection week to help our customers in giving longer life to their batteries. We are equipped to give you the best service on your battery and will do so at any time you may bring it to us. Let us look it over and inspect it thoroughly so that you may receive much more service out of your old battery.

Don't forget to bring your battery in next week and get a free inspection.

A Few Things That We Do For Your Battery.

1. We furnish an efficient battery charger for your service.
2. We supply you with rental battery while your battery is being recharged.
3. We keep a modern repair department for your convenience.
4. We inspect your battery every week, replace evaporated water, clean it and tighten the battery in its box.

"A BARGAIN IN EVERY PURCHASE"

TEXAN AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES
Austin, Texas
"All Texans for all Texas"

TEXAS ROAD PROGRAM

Texas has a road building program for 1930 that will cost $58,500,000, the expenditures being made possible by the cooperation of the Federal Government. Of this amount $41,500,000 will be spent on State highway construction and $17,000,000 on local roads and bridges. It is estimated that 1,650 miles of Texas roads will be improved.

Road building in Texas appears to be going along pretty satisfactorily, and the money being spent for road work is almost sufficient in itself to prevent any serious unemployment situation.

But in the matter of building roads as in most other phases of modern life, those who help themselves are those that get helped. The section that waits for roads to be built for it, without doing anything to speed the building, will not likely get much help in 1930 or at any other time.

Texas Life Insurance Loans

Life insurance has become largely an essential of modern living. The benefits are not only to those insured, but are extended to many others. Texas Life Insurance companies in January loaned $1,168,258 in the State, some of it to policy holders on real estate and other securities. The growth of Texas life insurance companies within the last decade illustrates well the trite adage, "What Texas builds, builds Texas."

Texas Harbor Projects

At least three Texas harbors seem assured improvements within the year under the rivers and harbors bill now pending in Congress. These are the Aransas Pass-Corpus Christi harbor, in which $15,000 will be spent; Galveston, $700,000; Houston ship channel, $953,600.

Tomato Acreage Increased

From all reports the Texas tomato acreage will be largely increased this year, perhaps doubled. DeWitt county growers plan planting 1,500 acres; San Marcos growers are doubling the acreage. A number of sections that have been raising only for the local markets will plant for carload shipments. East Texas will doubtless have a larger acreage than usual. Several tomato centers are establishing canneries to handle the surplus crop.

Point Isabel Causeway

It is announced that finances have been assured for construction of a $1,000,000 causeway from Point Isabel to Padre Island, and that the company that will build it also has plans for a $3,000,000 resort hotel on Padre Island. Although Point Isabel is at the extreme west tip of Texas, this huge enterprise will benefit the entire State.

Texas Gauze Mills

The construction of a mill at Marble Falls for the manufacture of medicated gauze for surgical dressings, which is to be in operation by June 15, is the beginning of many large industrial enterprises that are sure to follow the building of the Colorado river power and irrigation dams. A company at New Braunfels has been successfully manufacturing gauze for the last two or three years, and the Marble Falls enterprise will not be an industrial experiment.

Farmers' Luncheon Club

When some 20 farmers met at Killen recently and formed a luncheon club they started a movement that is likely to reach large proportions. The club will meet every two weeks at lunch and discuss matters in which the farmers of the community are most interested. While they will doubtless invite Killen business over with them from time to time, it will be distinctly a farmers' club. The Killen Herald offers a suggestion worth passing along to other communities when it says: "Why not farmers meet in some form of luncheon and service club as well as men in other walks of life?"

Benefits of Co-operation

Farmers need, as much as any others, to co-operate, and no doubt the Killen farmers will talk cooperation at their luncheon meetings. At Crystal City, spinach had fallen to 35 cents a basket, with every prospect that it would go lower and with the bulk of the crop not harvested. The growers got together and fixed definite marketing rules. The price was advanced almost immediately until 65 and 75 cents a basket was realized, a fair price for the product. "In union there is strength."

Demonstrating Farm Success

J. P. Jameson, living near Dilley, is making a practical demonstration of diversified farming. He maintains a flock of about 1,000 hens, from which he has sold more than 11,000 dozen eggs during the last year at an average of 54 1/2 cents a dozen. Except for a moderate amount of commercial mash, he raised hogs and milo maize for grain feed, also feeding skim milk from several good milk cows which furnished milk and butter for family use and some to sell. He raised 19 head of hogs and operated his own chickens hatchery. It is easy to understand that he is not complaining of the hard luck of farming.

Town and Country Unite

At a recent meeting of the Floresville Chamber of Commerce, approximately 300 were in attendance, about half of the number being farmers who have joined the organization. A tamale supper preceded several short talks from business men and farmers. It is safe to say that if these meetings which are to be held monthly, are kept up the entire county will profit by them. Such gatherings strengthen the trade and the good feeling between town and country.

from coming to Texas by prohibiting certain realtors from operating in that State in the sale of Texas lands. The secretary of the board came to Texas with a train load of prospectors. He saw Texas, was convinced, bought 10 acres of Rio Grande Valley land, returned to Wisconsin and was promptly fired from his job for buying land in Texas. He will be welcomed back to Texas, and it is highly probable that many others will come with him. Even Wisconsin folks know a good thing when they get a chance to see it. ## THE FALSE INVITATION

Jimmy opened the envelope that the mailman had handed him. It was an invitation to a dinner and bridge party at the home of Jane Colby, and he was to bring Daphne Rover, a girl on Maple Avenue. He looked forward to the party with much interest and enthusiasm. Bridge was his favorite indoor game, and Daphne was a beautiful young high school girl. The party was only one week off and he was ready for it.

On Friday evening he parked his father's coupe at the curb in front of Daphne's beautiful home. He rang the door bell and asked the maid, "Is Daphne ready?" In a few minutes Daphne entered the room, beautifully dressed in evening attire.

"Jimmy," she said, "I am ready to go to a dinner and bridge party and can not go."

"Can not go? Sure you can go for my car is out here," he said.

"But—" began Daphne.

"Oh I do not mind taking you. In fact I think it is wonderful that I am going to have the privilege of taking such a beautiful girl with me," he said gaily.

Daphne was embarrassed and perplexed for she had not been able to get a word in edgewise. She said sternly, "Jimmy, I can not go with you; I am going to the party."

"I know you are going to the party, and I am going too," he said without hesitation.

"Oh! said Daphne, "I did not know that you were going to the party."

"Sure!" said Jimmy, "You certainly did not think that I would back out of going to a party when I could go with a beautiful girl like you, did you?"

Daphne did not question him further but put on her evening coat and went with him. All of the other guests had arrived at the Colby home when Jimmy and Daphne got there. When Daphne and Jimmy entered, they all had an astonished expression on their faces. There were no other boys there. It was simply a girl's party. Jimmy looked around and finally asked, "Where are all of the boys?"

Jane said, "Jimmy, I did not invite any boys. This is just a girls' private evening vacation from you boys."

About the time the sound of boys' laughs were heard on the porch, and they entered the room saying, "Jimmy, we did not know that you attended girls' private parties without an invitation he had received was a false one and that a mischievous boy named Red had written it."

They all laughed and teased Jimmy, but he did not get angry, for he was mischievous and enjoyed playing jokes on anyone. Finally Jane invited the boys to stay and one false invitation served for the purpose of inviting all of the boys to the girls' party.

SENIOR DECLARATION

On Wednesday morning, April 2, the student body met in the auditorium for the purpose of hearing the final try-out in declamation.

The senior girls gave their declamation preceding the boys. There were five participants in this group. Fannie Hardt, who was first speaker gave the well known declamation, "Patriotism." This was followed by Victoria Jones who gave "Texas, Undivided and Indivisible." Lorene Shoemaker gave "The Homeland." Garnette followed her with a very pathetic piece entitled "The Man Without a Country." Ruby Wilson, the last speaker gave, "The National Flag."

Fannie Hardt won first place, while Victoria Jones and Lorene Shoemaker tied for second place.

The senior boys who were participating in this event were Elzie Moore who gave "The Battle of the Alamo," and Kenneth Green who presented "Liberty Day."

Elzie Moore took first place. A number of the patrons attended the meet and we want them to attend the district meet.

JUNIOR GIRLS DECLAMATIONS

There were eight girls who took part in the junior declamation. Those girls and the topics they spoke are as follows:

1. Carmen Evans, "America For Me."
2. Jessie Martin, "Little Giffen of Tennessee"
3. Jetty Grace DeLong, "Liberty Bell"
4. Olive Ruth Newlin, "The House By The Side of the Road"
5. Celeste Tisdale, "For Others"
6. Carmen Hardt, "Our Country"
7. Winona Enoch, "Liberty Bell"
8. Josephine Clayton, "Little Giffen of Tennessee"

Josephine Clayton won first place, Jetty Grace DeLong, second; and Celeste Tisdale third.

All of the speakers did exceptionally well and we are proud of those junior declaimers. By the time they get to high school, they will have improved lots and we hope they win our high school declaiming in the future.

JUNIOR BOYS DECLAMATIONS

The junior declamations would certainly be hard to beat. There were seven to enter and they all did exceptionally well. The boys in the declamations were as follows:

1. Oliver Hardt, "Old Ironsides"
2. R. L. Sample, "Are You For Me or Against Me?"
3. Saramie Cloud, "Your Flag and My Flag"
4. Dee DeLong, "The Liberty Bell"
5. Jim Edgar Sample, "Your Flag and My Flag"
6. James Page, "What Constitutes a State"
7. Pancho Bradley, "Your Flag and My Flag"

The winner of the junior boys were R. L. Sample, first; Dee DeLong second place; and Saramie Cloud third. We are expecting R. L. Sample to win at the District Meet at San Angelo.

The District Track Meet April 19

The Eldorado High School track will be represented at the district track meet and Field Meet at San Angelo April 19.

About eleven boys are in training and expect to make good in the district meet. Our team took second place at Sonora; that shows that there is a good chance in the district meet, so why not encourage the boys to prove their ability? We know that Eldorado has excellent material for the 100 yard dash, 1 mile run, 120 yard high hurdles, high jump, shot put, javelin and discus throw. Let's try to have first place in these, and make it hard for other teams to win the other events.

The following will probably be the entries at the district meet: 120 yard high hurdles, William McAngus, Bill McGilvray; 100 yard dash, Aubrey Smith; 220 low hurdles, Bill McGilvray, J. C. Bullion; 220 dash, J. C. Kinchen, Raymond Smith; 440 dash, J. C. Kinchen, Raymond Smith, Kenneth Green; 880 run, Edwin Kent Logan; 1 mile relay, J. C. Kinchen, Raymond Smith, Aubrey Smith, William McAngus and probably Edwin Kent.

FIELD

Running broad jump, William McAngus
Running high jump, William McAngus and Bill McGilvray
12 lb shot put, Bill McGilvray, Bill Curry, Kenneth Green
Discus throw, McGilvray, Bill Curry, Javelin, Bill McGilvray, Elzie Moore.

FRESHMEN

Speaking of clowns reminds me of the boys in the Fish class. Most of the Freshmen boys do not seem to realize that they are in school to work. They sit up and try to act like clowns or monkeys. Miss Allen told them that she was sorry this school was not a circus so that they might perform. "Rooster" Chick would look and act better in a monkey cage than he does in a study hall.

High School Girls Take a Slide

Back to "childhood days" went Elizabeth Bradley and Lorene Shoemaker Thursday afternoon. They came up to the school house to play tennis and as the court was occupied they decided to slide down the little children's slide. The slide, but what results. Elizabeth failed to stop at the end of the slide and scooted over when Jack Smith was put off the diamond for wearing track shoes. There was no fight, however.

William McAngus spiked a man on first base and Buck Kent made a mad plunge at third and knocked the third baseman down. The Eldorado boys did get kind of rough.

VISITORS

Ola Mae Watson visited school Thursday afternoon. We are glad to have her visit this school. Margaret Kent was also a visitor. We are glad to have her visit us. Many parents visited school Wednesday and heard the declamations contests. The teachers and pupils are always glad to have the patrons of the school visit at any time.

BRONCOS DEFEAT EAGLES

The Eagles were defeated Friday at Sonora by the Sonora Broncos. Both teams played good baseball and the score was Sonora 5 and Eldorado 2.

Carl did better than any man on the team. He knocked one over the fence but was only allowed second base on it because it went over the fence.

There was quite a little excitement when Jack Smith was put off the diamond for wearing track shoes. There was no fight, however. William McAngus spiked a man on first base and Buck Kent made a mad plunge at third and knocked the third baseman down. The Eldorado boys did get kind of rough.

The greatest excitement came when "Fat" Williams tried to steal second. "Fat" moved like a slow train thru Arkansas and slid on second. He was out!

OZONA WINS VICTORY

Ozona won the game here Saturday. Ozona has a very good team. The game was Ozona 15, Eldorado 12. This was not as close a game as the game with Sonora.

The Kerr Brothers, Jack and Carl, did some good playing. The rest of the players also played a good game.

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy in today's market. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the chassis, the body, the passengers and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate: Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve the efficiency of the engine.

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet.

This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine or clean it.

The new Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from modern advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles maintain quiet.

With low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has excellent proportions.

Its impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.

The gasoline tank is in the rear, for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—costly car style, with the permanent quiet of Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction.

Body by Fisher also gives you a genuine non-glare windshield, adjustable driver's seat, more space, deeper and wider cushions, clearer vision, finer fabrics and fittings.

There is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with its Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gas tank, honeycomb radiator and all the other features of this day and age.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a difference six cylinders make.

GROUND FOR ENCOURAGEMENT

The first detailed report of the National Business Survey Conference appointed last Fall by President Hoover is encouraging to everybody except chronic pessimists and those who for personal or political reasons would like to make conditions appear worse than they are.

In many lines of industry, Chairman Barnes reports, conditions are actually better than they were a year ago. In the few where they are not so good, the difference between this period of 1930 and the corresponding period of 1929 is very small, and is diminishing.

Credit is getting easier everywhere.

A third more long-term bonds have been marketed this Winter than last year. Bank rates are steadily declining. Saving bank deposits are increasing in the East. Life insurance companies wrote 3 percent more business in February than one year earlier, this justifying the estimate of increased investment reserves in their hands. Building and loan associations report increased deposits. More farm loans are being made, but there is a marked falling off in foreclosures and delinquencies. Instalment sales are up to last year's and payments are being kept up. Public utilities have begun a program of new construction which will run about $400,000,000 more than 1929. Construction work, except in residential building, is much ahead of last year. Road building contracts let in January and February are 82 percent over 1929. New building contracts in the second week in March were the highest in eight weeks, and are expected to increase as mortgage money becomes more freely available.

Railroads have orders out for more rails, more locomotives and almost as many new cars as last year, and railroad payrolls for February were higher than in February 1929. The commitments to the railroads call for spending $14,000,000 more in the first six months of this year than in the first half of last year. Electric railroads are spending $4,000,000 more for the year. Shipments are active, employing 28 percent more men in February a year ago and 10 percent more than in November.

Telephone expenditures for the year will run $66,000,000 above 1929. More radio sets were sold since New Year's than a year ago. Electric light and power companies are carrying out their promise to spend $65,000,000 more this year than last. Iron and steel output is increasing. Automobile production is proceeding at rate to build 4,600,000 cars this year, with payrolls in the industry for February 25 percent higher than January and 28 percent above December. Farm implements business is about 5 percent off. Textiles are from four to 17 percent below normal for the season.

Book and job printing was two percent greater than last year and newspaper production three percent higher in February.

Those are not generalizations or guesses. They are specific facts. They are something to show to the grumbler who declares that things are getting worse instead of better. As a matter of fact, this country has never before experienced so wide-spread a depression from which recovery began so quickly. It started in the East, and recovery is coming first in the East, but the reestablishment of the high level of industrial and commercial activity and general prosperity which we were enjoying a year ago is bound to overtake the wave of depression everywhere before the Summer is over, unless all signs fail.

WILL IT HELP THE FARMERS?

The United States Senate has at last agreed upon a tariff bill. It has yet to be accepted by the house of Representatives, and there may be a long battle in the conference committee of the two houses. But the outlook is that the tariff question will be settled, for a few years to come, within a few weeks.

That in itself is good news. There is no question that the delay in fixing tariff rates has held many manufacturers back from proceeding to "business as usual". So long as nobody knew how far any particular industry might be exposed to foreign competition, capital has naturally been timid about investing in it.

The evident purpose of the Senate in raising rates generally to the highest levels in history is to keep the American market for American industry and agriculture. How far it will succeed in doing this is another question, which only time can answer. And how far it will prove a boon to the farmer to have foreign competition eliminated is a question which all the argumen n the world will not answer. The large farmers growing staple crops probably will get better prices for their produce, on the average, whether these increased receipts will be eaten up by higher prices they must pay for what they buy with their incomes remains to be seen. That it will make very much difference one way or the other to the general run of small farmers is much to be doubted.

School Notes

B. Nick still holds festivals. Why Kirk-Alloway Was Haunted. Kirk-Alloway, as you no doubt remember from learning of Tam O'Shanter's fate had just cause to be haunted. Now, dears, if you will only listen for a while, I will tell you how Kirk-Alloway became a place to be feared, especially by those under full influence of the "nappy".

It was many a year ago, when Old Nick and his active consorts, the witches of Scotland decided that they had collected the souls of so many men that there was not enough room in Hades.

It was n't just such a cold wet day as this, dears, that Old Nick came storming into his wife's bedroom which was made of men's skulls and said in a loud and threatening manner:

"As men will fall for my wiles, I intend to teach them a lesson. I am too clever for any mortal man to dupe or resist. Woe be unto the one that does! I need more room. I am going to vacate Hades. It is too hot here, anyway. I am going to betake myself to the Earth and do as I please there."

"Very Well," Replied Mrs. Nick, "Nanny and I will go along". Mrs. Nick had been taught to be a dutiful wife by her affectionate husband.

Nanny was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick. My, my do you mean to tell me you did not know that, dears. It is queer how little children learn these days. If I had known that when I was a tot, pa would have cut me off with a shilling.

Well, to continue my story, Nick brought his family and his collection of dead men to Earth with him. He had quite a number for he had been collecting men's souls in Hades every since the world began.

Why did they choose Kirk-Alloway? I am coming to that. Old Nick, as soon as he had arrived in Scotland, left Nanny and his wife with a friend and went in search of a place to carry on his work.

Now, it just chanced that there was a wicked old priest who inhabited Kirk-Alloway. Old Nick knows things like that, and he went in and took the old priest who had killed seven men and took Kirk-Alloway for his abode.

Do not think that Old Nick stopped there he changed the Old priest into a buzzard and made him help him. Kirk-Alloway became even more wicked after that, and old Nick and his associates were happy here.

Every since then Kirk-Alloway has been a haunted place, and the Diet holds his festivals there yet.

Bristow Is Released

By Bandits Unharmed

J. E. Bristow, San Angelo Oil man who has been held by bandits in Old Mexico for a ransom, was released Wednesday morning after 3,000 pechos in gold was handed over to the bandits for his freedom. Mr. Bristow has been in the mercy of these bandits for over a month. The first ransom claim ed was 3,000 pechos, then raised to 30,000, which was about 15,000 in American money.

Further provisions are set forth in the following excerpt from the bill:

Section 3. The non-resident owner or operator of any passenger car shall within twenty five days after commenting to operate such vehicle or causing r permitting it to be operated within this State, apply to the Department, through any county tax collector or for the temporary registration thereof upon the appropriate official form stating therein the name and home address of the owner and the temporary addresses, if any, of the owner or operator while within this State, the registration number of said vehicle assigned hereto in the State or country in which the owner is a resident, together with such description of the motor vehicle as may be called for in the form and such other statements of facts as may be required by the Department. Said application shall contain authorization for the Chairman of the Texas State Highway Commission to accept service in behalf of said owner in any suit arising out of damages resulting from injury caused by said owner operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of Texas. Provided this provision relating to acceptance of service shall be construed as culminated of all other laws or parts of laws relating to the service of non-residents. Each such application shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty cents to be retained by the Tax Collector and fifteen cents to be placed in the general fund of the county where collected and twenty five cents to be remitted on Monday of each week to the State Highway Department, together with a copy of such receipt.

Section 4. The County Tax Collector shall file each application received, and issue to the owner a temporary registration certificate of distinctive form to be furnished by the Department containing the date it is issued, a brief description of the vehicle and a statement that the owner has procured temporary registration of such vehicle as a non-resident. Said certificate shall entitle the owner or operator of said vehicle to operate it in this State for a period not

VERY LATEST

New fashions bring with them new problems and new responsibilities to the woman who wants to be well dressed. And the revival of the separate wash blouse will make it necessary for you to allow a larger outlay for fine laundry work or to devote more time to the gentle art of washing and ironing at home. Certainly no woman should deny herself the luxury of wearing freshly laundered blouses with her spring suit just because of this added responsibility.

Lingerie blouses should be chosen with care, especially if you intend to wash and iron them yourself. You should bear in mind that fine cotton and linens withstand repeated washings better than chiffon or georgette, and that fine pleats come out in the wash and cannot be put back again without the service to a professional pleater. Yet fashion looks with favor on frills and flounces and the new jacket suits demand some sort of jabot or frill at the throat. There are blouses with ruffled or finely pleated frills that are bound to be popular this spring because they are easy to iron and are as frilly and feminine as fine peats.

The sketch shows a blouse from one of the important French dressmakers that has already gained quite a following in this country and can easily be copied by the clever home dressmaker, either in silk, batiste or fine handkerchief linen.

Middle Life Suffering

THREE years ago, I was in bad health," says Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas. "I was going through a critical time, and I suffered a lot. My back hurt almost all the time, and my legs and ankles ached. My head hurt me until sometimes I would be almost past going. As I had used Cardui before, and knew how much I had improved after taking it, I got a bottle and started taking it. I continued to use it for several months. After awhile I regained my health, and I feel that I could never have gotten through that awful time without Cardui."
