Catholics around the world are mourning the passing of Pope John Paul II, who died Saturday in Rome at the age of 84. Here in Eldorado, parishioners of Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church celebrated a special Mass for the late Pontiff on Monday, April 4, 2005, where this beautiful display greeted worshippers. Funeral services are planned for Friday in the Vatican in Rome.

Traffic stop leads to Carlsbad drug bust

A traffic stop in the north edge of Eldorado last Thursday resulted in the seizure of 182 lbs. of marijuana a few hours later in Carlsbad. The bust also sent two men to the Tom Green County Jail. They are Juan Francisco Salinas-Davila, 43, of Mexico, and Fernando Cornejo, 20, of San Angelo.

DPS Trooper Danny Nunez made the traffic stop. Information he developed from the stop eventually led other DPS officers to a residence on Deer Valley Drive in Carlsbad where they seized 38 bundles of marijuana. The pot reportedly has street value of $86,450. Officers say the bust was one of the largest marijuana seizures in Tom Green County in recent years. A shotgun was also confiscated.

After the arrests, Salinas-Davila was transported back to Schleicher County Jail. Cornejo was jailed in Tom Green County.

Audio tapes reveal FLDS leader's racist teachings

The Eldorado Success has obtained audio recordings of Warren Jeffs, prophet of the Fundamental Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The recordings seem to support claims by former FLDS members that Jeffs teachings are racist, especially as they concern African-Americans.

The recordings were provided by a confidential source who said the audio was secretly recorded during FLDS meetings and training sessions as recent as one year ago.

In one of the clips Jeffs says, "You see some classes of the human family that are black, uncouth or rude and filthy, uncomely, disagreeable and low in their habits, wild and seemingly deprived of nearly all the blessings of the intelligence that is generally bestowed upon mankind."

Yet another of the clips has Jeffs saying, "So I give this lesson on the black race that you can understand its full effect as far as we are able to comprehend. And that we must beware, if we are for the prophet, for priesthood, we will come out of the world and leave off their dress, their music, their styles, their fashions, the way they think - what they do, because you can trace back and see a connection with immoral filthy people."

The clips are currently posted on the Eldorado Success website at www.myeldorado.net.

In another clip Jeffs explains that the black race, which he calls the "seed of Cain," survived the flood of Noah because Noah's son Ham was married to "a wife of that seed." He identified Ham's wife as being black. He claimed it was necessary for the black race to be preserved "because it was necessary that the Devil should have a representation upon the Earth as well as God." He continues by saying, "So, the day of the Negro is continued and today is the day of the Negro, as far as the world is concerned."

Jeffs goes on to say that anyone who "mingles their seed with the seed of Cain, the Negro, they also would lose all rights to priesthood blessings."

Strangely, another of the audio clips reveals Jeffs instructing a group of teachers on the history of rock and roll music. In it Jeffs claims the Beatles, a 1960's rock group, were trained by an unnamed homosexual black man who was a drug user. Jeffs said that before they received the training the British singers were "pingy-pangy, unnoticed, useless people nobody would hire." However, after learning the black beat,

Sheriff dismisses suicide predictions for YFZ Ranch

Schleicher County Sheriff David Doran, Texas Ranger Sergeant Brooks Long and Texas Ranger Captain Barry K. Caver, met with YFZ Ranch officials Wednesday morning, April 6, on the ranch property. The lawmen later appeared at the now famous ranch gate for an impromptu press conference.

Doran told a throng of reporters who had gathered there that he attached no significance to the April 6th doomsday predictions attributed to FLDS Prophet Warren Jeffs.

He said the lawmen had met with ranch officials and were assured that nothing of significance would be happening on the ranch that day.

Doran told the Success that the FLDS church does hold a yearly conference on April 6, but that the meeting was not being held on the YFZ.

"I think they are meeting today, but they met somewhere else," Doran said.

The sheriff went on to note that construction continues on the ranch and that the residents there say they "just want to be left alone."

The story seemed to placate most of the reporters gathered at the YFZ gate, many of whom left quickly after snapping a few photos, or shooting a few minutes of video.

Later in the day, however, Doran confirmed for the Success that while the media's attention had been focused on the lawmen at the front gate, other law enforcement resources went largely unnoticed.

Texas Ranger Sgt. Brooks Long fielded questions from a Phoenix television reporter Wednesday, moments after leaving the YFZ Ranch where he, Sheriff David Doran and Ranger Captain Barry K. Caver met with ranch officials.

"I cannot confirm the exact steps we took. Just know this, the situation was under control and we had an eye on things throughout the day," Doran said.

For months, anti-polygamy activists and former FLDS members have insisted that Warren Jeffs was predicting the end of the world for April 6. Many of them pointed to an secretly recorded audio tape in which Jeffs told a group gathered for a weekly "work day" that the church would be "lifted up" on that day. The lift-up was to be followed by world-wide "destructions."

It was the third such prediction since the beginning of the year. The fact that the date coincided with the 175th anniversary of the founding of the mainline Mormon church by Joseph Smith, Jr., had many

Eldoradoans endure doomsday week with double dose of humor

Series of comic spoofs serve to calm jittery nerves

Despite dire predictions of impending doom made by some followers of Prophet Warren Jeffs and his Fundamental Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, many Eldoradoans chose this week to look for the black cloud's more humorous silver lining.

The third annual Elgoatarod festival got under way over the weekend on the Schleicher County Courthouse square, a mere four miles from the FLDS enclave on the YFZ Ranch. With the national news media gathering in town to await the "worldwide destructions" Jeffs was said to have predicted for April 6, Eldoradoans met on the square to watch goat races and hear their own Jon Cartwright sing "Plural Girl Blues" (see lyrics on Page 6). Cartwright said the song was inspired by the plural, or polygamous marriages, practiced by FLDS members.

Reporters from the Salt Lake Tribune and the Canadian Broadcasting Company, worked the Elgoatarod crowd Saturday, looking for local reaction to the YFZ Ranch story, but they soon found themselves sampling the many food and vendor booths arrayed on the courthouse lawn.

"Eldorado, Polygamy Capital of Texas" souvenir baseball caps quickly sold out, leaving many who wanted an Eldorado keepsake to settle for a "Polygamy Marriage License" or a "V.I.P. Parking Permit" for the "Texas Polygamy Games."

Jim Runge, who organized the event, said he thought the tongue-in-cheek answer to the Iditirod Dog Sled race had come at a good time for Eldorado. "After a year of reading about and hearing about Warren Jeffs, most people here are ready for a good laugh," Runge said. "They want to be entertained and that's what the Elgoatarod is all about."

Runge's Elgoatarod stage played host to goat kissing contests, a goatee contest, a best dressed goat contest and a number of other goat-related events. There were also songs by Wendy Dunagan and Jon Cartwright plus the Lone Star Cloggers and West Texas Cloggers.

Then, of course, there were the goat races, with goats of all types and sizes pulling a strange assortment of carts with the winner claiming a custom-made trophy. One of the carts even resembled flying saucer.

Runge said the two-day event was Eldorado's Jim Runge looks for humor everywhere. He found it Tuesday evening near the entrance to the YFZ Ranch where he posed as the Grim Reaper. FLDS Prophet Warren Jeffs, whose followers built the temple pictured in the background, reportedly predicted the end of the world for April 6, 2005, on the 175th anniversary of the founding of the LDS Church by Joseph Smith, Jr. The FLDS is a sect that broke away from the LDS Church over the practice of polygamy, a practice still prevalent among FLDS members.

Beware of work-at-home scams

by Greg Abbott
Attorney General of Texas

On February 22, 2005, my office took legal action against the owners of three work-at-home schemes operating in Texas. The suits came in support of a national effort led by the Federal Trade Commission to crack down on illegal business opportunity and work-at-home schemes. Operation Biz Opp Flop should serve as a warning to con artists we will not tolerate get-rich-quick rip-offs.

Chances are you have encountered an outlandish work-at-home advertisement. These types of advertisements abound on the Internet, on television, and in newspapers. Unfortunately, these offers rarely deliver on their promises. Consumers lose thousands of dollars on work-at-home scams every year.

Most ads fail to mention that you must work many hours without pay. In addition, you usually have to spend your own money for supplies such as newspaper ads, envelopes, paper and stamps. You may also be asked to pay for instructions and tutorial software.

One online company we sued claimed that by purchasing its software and services, consumers would be able to set up websites and sell various products or services at a large profit. The company charged a $500 fee for the Web package, as well as support and mentoring.

After consumers paid the $500 set-up fee, the defendants approached them with an offer of "expert technical assistance" costing an additional $4,000. Consumers who complained to my office said they were led to believe the expert technical assistance was part of the $500 start-up fee.

Another classic work-at-home scheme involves medical billing. The ads offer pre-packaged businesses, known as billing centers. You may also be told that many doctors are turning to electronic billing to save money. Promoters may say that you can make a substantial amount of money processing these claims for doctors. The promoter may even supply you with a list of "eager" clients. No experience is needed.

What you might NOT be told is that you have to market these services to the medical community. The promise of "eager" clients is usually a hollow one. The seller rarely has reliable contacts within the medical community.

Another infamous work-at-home scam is envelope stuffing. This type of deceptive advertisement promises you information on how to make money stuffing envelopes at home. After you pay the promoter a "small fee," you will receive a letter telling you to place the same envelope stuffing ad in newspapers and magazines and on the Internet. You'll only make money if people respond to your ad. Some promoters are so brazen as to suggest soliciting family members.

Assembly work is also a very popular work-at-home scheme. In this case, you may be told that you can make thousands of dollars assembling items for a company that has promised to buy them from you. You must first buy certain types of equipment to produce the goods for the company. The equipment typically costs hundreds of dollars. However, after you perform the work, the business in question will usually refuse to pay you, citing lack of quality.

The ads may vary in how they get your attention, but they are consistent in their quest to relieve you of your money. I urge you to be very cautious when considering a work-at-home opportunity. As always, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

The sun will come out tomorrow

"The sun will come out tomorrow
Bet your bottom dollar that tomorrow, there'll be sun!"
— Little Orphan Annie

If you are reading this, then yet another of Warren Jeffs' end-of-the-world predictions has come and gone...and we're all still here. It was the third since January 1st, but I'm probably one of the very few who even bothers to notice anymore.

Unfortunately, there will likely be more such predictions in Eldorado's future. I wish it were otherwise, but as my old Grandad used to say, "Wishin' don't make it so."

Kudos to Jim Runge

Congratulations are in order for Jim Runge. His persistence and hard work are paying off for Eldorado. His Elgoatarod Festival gets bigger and better each year.

Now if we can just get a few of the "Ol' Stick in the Mud" types to get out and help pull the wagon instead of complaining so much about the bumpy ride.

You know the type I'm talking about, they stand in the rain and complain that their head is getting wet.

If only it were true

A friend brought it to my attention this week that the Success was being criticized on the Texas

Polygamy Weblog for spending too much time reporting on the YFZ Ranch. I logged on and finally found the post and had to laugh. It seems some dipstick thinks we like to keep things stirred up here so we can sell stories to the Associated Press.

Sorry, but that's not how it works. First you have to be a member of the AP, which the Success is not. We can't afford it. I don't know of many weekly papers that can.

A final farewell to Pope John Paul II

I'm not a Catholic, but one doesn't have to be to be saddened by the passing of Pope John Paul II.

I didn't always agree with the Pope, but I never doubted his sincerity and his love for the Lord.

John Paul II is widely credited with helping end the stranglehold that Communism once had on Eastern Europe, and rightfully so. He was a man of great power who was willing to exercise that power for good.

I have admired the Pope for many years and I fear that we are not likely to see his kind again. May he rest in peace.

Government works best when it works for its people

State Representative Harvey Hilderbran introduced two bills recently at the behest of Schleicher County citizens.

The first will allow Schleicher County Hospital District to change the way it elects its board members from an at-large to a single-member district system. That bill sailed through committee last week. Hospital Administrator Sharon Dietz was there to testify in favor of the measure. It will now go to the full house for consideration.

The second bill, H.B. 3006, or Thirty-Ought Six, as its being called, is a little more complicated. It would raise age at which teens can marry with their parents' permission from 14 to 16. It also beefs up the Texas bigamy law.

It's a new day

And, that brings us back to where we started. Here we are, alive for yet another day. Please make the best of your day. I will try to do the same.

Water bill would tack on per-gallon fee

by Mike Cox

AUSTIN — The latest single-digit measure expected to make a big splash in the legislative hoppy could affect consumers' water bills.

Sen. Ken Armbrister (D-Victoria) was expected April 4 to file Senate Bill 3, a major water bill that would establish a water conservation and development fee to pay for water infrastructure needed over the next half-century.

Consumers would be allowed 5,000 gallons of potable water per month at whatever rate their provider charges without having to pay the fee. But for each 1,000 gallons of water used after that point, water utility customers would pay a fee of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Armbrister hopes the new fee would raise $200 million a year money that could collateralize loans and stimulate grants for badly-needed water projects across the state.

Among other provisions, the bill would give the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality authority to set a minimum flow needed to keep the state's streams, rivers and estuaries viable. Water rights could not be granted if the amount would drop the flow below the set point.

Governor's "race" heats up

Gov. Rick Perry's campaign recently admitted releasing a clandestinely-shot video showing U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison and Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton being cordial to each other at a Washington event.

A few days later, a five-paragraph letter Perry wrote the then First Lady on April 6, 1993, to say he found her health care initiative "commendable" magically reappeared after nearly 12 years.

Whether Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn has ever said hello to Sen. Clinton has not yet been uncovered.

All-female appeals court...

Gov. Perry has appointed Bexar County District Judge Rebecca Simmons to the seven-judge 4th Court of Appeals.

If the Senate confirms her appointment, the court will become the first all-female appeals court in Texas and perhaps the nation.

The judicial glass ceiling in Texas hasn't been shattered so thoroughly since the first term of Texas' first female governor, Miriam "Ma" Ferguson. She appointed an all-female state Supreme Court.

Sex offender database free...

The recent slaying of a 9-year-old girl in Florida, allegedly at the hands of a convicted sex offender who lived nearby, underscores the importance of knowing your neighbors.

To see if any registered sex offenders live in your neighborhood, you can check the Department of Public Safety's sex offender registry for free online at records.txdps.state.tx.us.

Texas Yes! communities honored

Ten cities participating in the Texas Yes! program have been recognized by the Texas Department of Agriculture as winners of its 2005 Hardworking Rural Community Awards.

Representatives of Claude, Brownwood, Eden, Fort Stockton, Post, Quitaque, Rio Grande City, San Augustine, White Deer and Yoakum received the honor March 31 in Austin.

Coordinated by TDA, the Texas Yes! program promotes economic development and tourism in rural Texas. For more information on the program, visit the Web site www.agr.state.tx.us.

Dallas develops the Trinity

Dallas is in the beginning stages of its largest public works project since the construction of the DFW airport. This time the city is looking at the Trinity River. The $1.2 billion dollar investment by the citizens of Dallas along with state and federal governments will create one of the world's largest urban parks. It will contain downtown lakes with a whitewater run and the country's largest urban hardwood forest. The project will be ten times the size of Central Park in New York City.

Private individuals and city, state and federal governments are funding two futuristic bridges, designed by Spanish architect Santiago Calatrava. Work on one of the bridges starts in November of this year.

The Trinity project, due for completion in 2011, encompasses seven miles of river and six thousand acres of forest. The river will be able to accommodate small sailboats and paddle boats. A reverse-flow lake is planned with a seventeen feet drop,

by Tumbleweed Smith

creating rapids. In August, Fort Worth opened its whitewater course on the Trinity and it is already a big hit. The Fort Worth Park's popularity sets an example of how Dallas citizens will respond to recreational opportunities on the river.

The Trinity gives companies and people a reason to stop moving north.

Eventually residential and commercial development will fill the space between downtown and the river. The most visible benefit will be Oak Cliff, which will have easy access to downtown, great views and direct entry into the country's largest urban park, home to more than 1,300 species of plants and animals.

In May of 1998, the largest bond package in Dallas history passed and the Trinity River proposition won by a bare margin: 51.6 percent to 48.4 percent. It was in August of last year that the first work on the project began. It consisted of removing sheet metal from a long-abandoned shed.

The great Trinity Forest is mostly ash, oaks, elms and cottonwoods. The ten square mile tract was largely neglected and grew up over the past 45 years. It is home to raccoons and bobcats. Poachers sneak in to hunt deer.

An interpretive and equestrian center is planned in an area of southeast Dallas that used to be a trash dump. Antoine Predock, known for his "green" buildings, is designing it. Tourists from around the country and the world will go there to hike, watch birds and enjoy the outdoors.

For years the river was ignored in Dallas unless it threatened residents. That's not the case now.

Eagles lose 4-3 in Wall

The Eldorado Eagles were unable to hold onto a three run lead in Wall and fell to the Hawks by a score of 4-3 on Friday, April 1. The lack of clutch hitting by the Eagles hurt as they left 8 runners in scoring position in the first five innings.

The Eagles were able to scratch early in the first inning as Jared Grubbs led the game off with a walk and would later score on a Kolby Dombroski RBI fielder's choice. The Eagles would again strike for two in the 2nd when Ryan Cathey and courtesy runner Terrell Boysaw would score on a Frank Edmiston single up the middle to make the score 3-0. That would be all the Eagles could manage as Wall would come back and score 3 in the 5th and then one in the 8th to take the victory.

Ryan Cathey had an excellent outing on the mound as he pitched all 8 innings. He struck out seven and walked only three. The loss puts the Eagles at 2-4 with a crucial game coming up Tuesday in Big Lake. The Eagles are currently one game out of third place.

Broncos slip past Eagle 3-2

Sonora managed five runs in the 2nd and made this hold up for an 8-5 victory in 2-2A baseball. Behind the consistent pitching of Anthony Longoria and the untimely hitting of the Eagles they fell to 2-3 in district on March 29, 2005.

The Eagles came out strong scoring 2 runs in the top of the 1st. Frank Edmiston singled to left as Caleb Nixon had already reached on a fielder's choice, courtesy runner Tico Robles advanced to third on the play and later scored on a passed ball. Edmiston later scored on a Jared Grubbs infield hit. The other Eagle run came in the 5th with Frank Wipff getting on with an infield single and later scoring on a passed ball. The Eagles struggled all evening at the plate only producing five hits.

On the mound Ryan Cathey pitched four strong innings giving up only four hits and striking out four. Jared Grubbs came in and pitched the final two innings allowing a hit with four strikeouts. Coach Grubbs said "the pitching was outstanding Ryan and Jared did a great job. We are struggling a little at the plate right now. This is a great group of young men, they will hit their stride. We have a crucial stretch of games coming up we need to win certain ones if we want to contend for a playoff spot."

Eagles JV nine win in 7th

Trailing 4-0 at one point the Eagles came back for a thrilling 6-5 win over the Sonora Broncos on Monday evening March 29, 2005. Clutch hitting and the consistent pitching of Jaaron Crawford paved the way for the Eagles to improve to 5-0 on the season.

The Eagles scored 2 in the 3rd, one in the 5th, two in the 6th, and one in the 7th to claim the victory. Hits were earned by Sammy Estrada, Louie Buitron, Jaaron Crawford, and Jorge Mata. The decisive run came in the 7th. Jaaron Crawford singled up the middle and courtesy runner Clayton Sauer came in the game. With two outs and Sauer on 2nd Jorge Mata hit a sharp ball to second which was thrown away at first allowing Sauer to score the winning run.

Crawford recorded seven strikeouts with seven walks. Coach Grubbs said "Jaaron got outs when we needed them. I was very proud of how he competed out their. We really scratched at the plate and that was the difference." The JV Eagles are now 5-0 on the season.

Ozona Jr. High Invitational Tennis Tournament results

Eldorado competed against Ozona, Sonora and Wall in the Ozona Invitational Tournament this past Saturday, March 26, 2005.

The Eldorado athletes did a wonderful job competing and having a great time. It was a great day and the weather was perfect.

Rance Cathey and Austin

Grubbs took first place in the 8th Grade Boys Doubles and Milo Vallejo and Dustin Ramirez won Consolation.

Coach Teresa Baker-Shirley stated that the 8th Grade Doubles teams were awesome! Lindsey Pridmore and her partner April Porras played their teammates of Veronica Belman and Haley Higgins for first and second! The team Lindsay Pridmore and April Porras won first and Higgins/Belman won 2nd.

7th Grade Girls Singles Crystal Hamilton won consolation
7th Girls Doubles Emily Espinosa and Alicia Corrales won 3rd place.
7th Boys Singles Mason Baker won 2nd and Wes Brown won Consolation.
7th Boys Doubles Dylan Dombroski and Dustin Ramos won 2nd.

Other players participating: Marcela Huerta, Maegan Self, Tracy Brenner, Corey Williams. The boys were: Marty Powell, Josh Taylor and Chris Minor. The players appreciate the parents that have been able to come out and support all the players.

August Roden marks 80th birthday

August Roden celebrated his 80th birthday on Saturday, March 26th, 2005 with a surprise party in the barn of his daughter and son-in-law, Rita and John Ed Meador. Approximately 50 party goers enjoyed a delicious catered steak dinner by Crossroads Restaurant and a birthday cake by Kim-et Nelson.

A Memory Book made by his children and a special scrapbook of his childhood and family history made by his sister, June Porter, were on display. Also, picture slides from his early days in Kansas in the 1950's to the 1970's in Eldorado were converted to a CD disk and viewed by television for all to see. The video production was produced by his daughter Rita. Lee Ann Richardson and Dee Ann White planned and coordinated the beautiful decorations.

The festivities continued on Easter Sunday with a family barbecue cooked by grandson, Matt Lloyd, son-in law Monroe Dacy, with other family members providing salads, desserts, etc. We celebrated Mary Roden's 74th birthday on this special day. Family and friends from Colorado, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Lubbock, San Antonio, Mansfield, Midland, San Angelo and Eldorado came to share this wonderful day with our "Dad."

The party was given by his children: Dorothy Dacy, Brad Roden and stepson, James Reese.

Jeffs audio clips reveal prophet's racist teachings

 the group became world famous and all other music has followed that pattern, Jeffs said.

Jeffs then cautioned his audience that when they listen to rock music, they are "enjoying the spirit of the black race," an activity he says will "rot the soul and lead the person to immorality, to corruption, to forget their prayers, to forget God. Thus the whole world has partaken of the spirit of the Negro race."

In other audio clips, Jeffs tells girls that they should not date or seek their own husband, but that instead they should pray that they will be prepared and will be given to a husband who will be faithful to the end.

Jeffs, in yet another of the clips, cautions women to build up their husbands by being submissive. "That is how you will give your children the success," Jeffs states. "You will want your children to be obedient and submissive to righteous living."

A final clip, running for nearly 12 minutes, contains the voice of Jeffs' now dead father, Rulon Jeffs. Apparently recorded in 2002 during the FLDS annual conference in Colorado City, Arizona, the recording is one of the last known of the former prophet.

The audio clip contains long pauses and at several times another voice, believed to be Warren Jeffs, can be heard prompting his elderly father. At one point, Rulon Jeffs says, "All I want to say is... to prepare for the judgements and establish Zion. Looking forward to moving to Zion. You know what I mean?"

To which the congregation responds in unison, "Yes!"

The recording continues for several more minutes, mostly consisting of long pauses in which background noise and noise of the congregation can be heard.

At one point Rulon Jeffs says, "The call of God Almighty is on me to establish the Holy United Order in Zion and that's what I'm about to do...God being my helper...I am going forward and continuing building the storehouse and living the Holy United Order and God is going to handle anyone who fights against it."

Following another long pause the senior Jeffs can be heard asking someone nearby, "Do we have the lawyers?"

To which a second voice, believed to be Warren Jeffs replies, "Yes we do."

That is followed by a short pause and then Rulon Jeffs proclaiming, "We have the lawyers!... and God will fight our battles...we will continue celestial law and God will fight our battles."

Still another long pause is ended when Rulon Jeffs asks the crowd, "Are you worried about what the State of Utah and the State of Arizona are going to do?"

That draws a resounding, "No!" from the congregation.

"Okay, we'll go on," the elder Jeffs says.

Yet another long pause ends abruptly with Rulon Jeffs saying, "Smile! God will fight our battles."

He can then be heard asking, "Are they going to come against us?"

The second voice responds, "They have already started their attack."

"They have already started their attack!" Rulon Jeffs proclaims, "but we are going to go on...we are going to fight the battles and those who (garbled audio)."

The clip ends with Rulon Jeffs asking, "Can I say more?"

The second voice answers, "Whatever you desire."

Rulon Jeffs then says, "God is on our side. Okay?"

Prompting the congregation to respond in unison, "Okay!"

"God bless you in the name of Jesus Christ," the elder Jeffs says, the adds. "Amen."

The congregation replied, "Amen!"

As with much of the story surrounding Warren Jeffs and the FLDS church, no one on the inside of the group is willing to make public comment. The audio clips provide the first peek inside the thinking of the man who now leads the nation's largest polygamous group and that of his father who preceded him as prophet.

The Eldorado Success has made repeated attempts to contact Warren Jeffs and the leaders of the FLDS church. It invites Jeffs to comment on this story as well as other aspects of the overall story surrounding the FLDS and the YFZ Ranch.

Jon Cartwright sang "Plural Girl Blues" Saturday for the crowd at the 3rd annual Elgoatarod festival. Cartwright was inspired to write the song by the openly polygamous FLDS Church, whose members are building a new town on the YFZ Ranch.

Plural Girl Blues by Jon Cartwright

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Anniversary today...can't remember whose.

But then first few weddings I remember well- Lucille, Elizabeth and Annabelle, Then Gracie, and Maudie, I think JenniFERR- After that, it's kind of a blur...

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Hey Lord I got 'em-plural girl blues

Oh you'd never believe how hard it gets With 13 wives and 40 somethin kids- You can't even think, with all the noise- And you'll be wore plumb out--spankin the boys.

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues Gotta head up to Walmart and buy a hundred pair of shoes.

Well, I got this one wife that I won't mention- Says she don't get enough attention. I said "Woman, Good Lord Almighty, Don't I see you every other Friday?"

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- I have thirteen pages of honey-do's

I told this other wife I need some time off- I got the sniffles and a real bad cough- I got a headache, I'm down in my back- That woman wouldn't cut me no slack-

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Thirteen pages of H-H-Honey-do's

You know a guy my age when duty calls, Might need some pharma-ceuti-cals- I went to the Doc, I said "What's my choices?" He recommends twelve divorces.

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- He said "Your body cannot take this much abuse."

(instrumental break)

Well, I had a little chat with one of my sons- I was tryin to catch a nap, and in he runs- He wants to tell me what he's doin, and where he's been- I said "That's great--what's your name again?"

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Livin out here like this I get so confused.

My old bones is tired, and my hair is thinnin- Causa all them kids and all them women- And people say "You couldna made a bigger mess- You old polloggermist."

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Hey Lord I got 'em- Plural girl blues.

Well, a guy come out to take the census- To get up here he had to climb some fences- As he was countin my growin population He said "What is this? A livestock operation?"

Plural girl blues...plural girl blues- Anniversary today--can't remember whoo-oo-se.

EHS Eagles tennis news

The Eldorado Eagle Tennis Team claimed third place in the region with a 12-7 win over the Wall Hawks. After the doubles matches the Eagles lead by the slim margin of 4 - 3 and then overwhelmed the Hawks in singles by recording the first six wins in singles to secure the match at 10-4.

On Thursday March 24, 2005 the Eagles hosted a flighted tournament here with Menard, Sonora, and Wall.

The doubles teams of Taylor Baker and Maxie Holley and Ryan Cathey and Frank Edmiston won their respective divisions. Logan Jones and Abel Montalvo placed second in their division and Jessica Robertson and Katey Blair won junior varsity girls doubles.

Getting to know Vera Bradshaw

Vera was raised in Eldorado and has continued to live here all of her life. She has two children and two grandchildren. Before coming to work at SCMC she was a licensed daycare provider in her home for 12 years.
Vera has had a variety of tasks as the business office has changed with the times. Currently she serves as our Trust Fund Coordinator, Notary Public, Activity Fund Coordinator, and Business Office Receptionist.
Most people know her as a familiar face in the window of the business office. Vera say, "I have been in Eldorado so long that most faces are familiar, and I enjoy that."
When Vera is not at work she enjoys gardening, embroidery, animals and above all spending time with her grandchildren.

TEXAS COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM COMPLAINT AND GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Schleicher County has adopted complaint and grievances procedures regarding its Texas Community Development Program. These procedures outline the steps for a citizen to follow if he wished to file a written complaint about proposed TCDP activities or implementation of past TCDP assisted activities. The County will make every effort to respond fully to such written complaints within 15 working days. Citizens may obtain a copy of these written procedures at the County Courthouse between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on Monday through Friday. Citizens may also request the procedures to be mailed to them by calling Judge Griffin at 325/853-2766.

A delegation of local leaders traveled to Austin last week to meet with State Senator Robert Duncan and State Representative Harvey Hilderbran concerning the controversy surrounding the YFZ Ranch sewer plant. Here the men meet with Senator Duncan in his Capitol office. (L-R) Eldorado Mayor John Nikolauk, Schleicher County Commissioner Matt Brown, County Judge Johnny Griffin, County Commissioners Kirk Griffin and Johnny Mayo, and Senator Duncan.

The Polygamists are Coming!

Eldorado is being invaded by polygamists from Colorado City. Texas "outsiders" unfamiliar with what they do and how they do it are aggressively seeking information about the group. And they should...

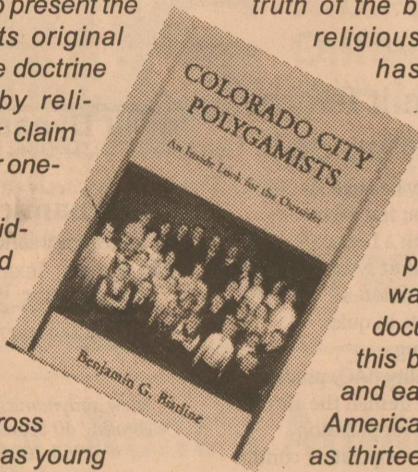

The public needs to know how the one-man dictatorship developed and how maniacal Warren Jeffs rules today. He and his lieutenants are highly skilled and articulate business men who have mastered the art of deception and therefore pose a threat to any community they inhabit.

Colorado City historian Benjamin Bistline's first deeply documented book, The Polygamists: A History of Colorado City, Arizona was written to present the truth of the beginnings of the group and its original religious doctrine. Over the years, the doctrine "rewritten" by religious leaders to have been verbally supported their claim of their one-dictatorship.

For "outsiders" to whom Colorado City and the first book with deep offer you simplified, people across it is that girls as young to marry, and not even to how it is that women are treated as chattel and belong not to themselves or their husbands, but to the Priesthood; and how it is that wives and children can suddenly be reassigned to a "more obedient" man; and how it is that teenage boys are cast out so older men can have more wives.

And finally, how is it that tax dollars of American citizens are not only supporting many large polygamist families, but helping their communities expand. Polygamy abuses in America remain in the public eye thanks to Oprah, CNN, ABC Primetime, A&E Television and other media sources, including newspapers The Salt Lake Tribune, The Spectrum of St. George, Utah, The Phoenix New Times, The Arizona Republic, and The Deseret Morning News. With polygamists setting up an enclave in Texas, The Eldorado Success, San Antonio Express-News, Fort Worth Star Telegram, The Dallas Morning News, and others are working to make their citizens aware.

speculating that Jeffs followers might attempt mass-suicide if their prayers for God's return went unanswered.

Doran explained that there are currently 80 to 150 people living on the ranch and that he hoped this would be the last round of media hysteria connected with the YFZ Ranch.

"I know this story isn't going to go away," Doran said. "That would be too much to hope for. I just wish the media would try to put things in perspective and not buy into every doomsday scenario that comes along."

The Blotter is a summary of the previous week's activity by the Schleicher County Sheriff's Dept. For practical reasons of time and space, The Blotter does not include every call made to the Sheriff's office, nor does it include routine security checks, minor traffic stops or routine patrols. Incidents of major impact will be reported separately. Subjects reported to have been arrested are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Eldorado 4-H & FFA members conclude livestock show season

by Scott Edmonson & Will Self

Over the past several months, Schleicher County 4-H and Eldorado FFA members have been competing at the major livestock shows throughout Texas. This began in January with The Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa and concluded with the Star of Texas Fair and Rodeo in Austin. In between those, these young people participated in Kerrville, Fort Worth, San Antonio, San Angelo and Houston. Results of earlier shows have been previously reported and the following is a list of shows since then.

The San Antonio Livestock Show & Rodeo was held on February 6-18. During the Junior Boer Goat Show, Neal Higgins exhibited the Reserve Champion Fullblood Doe and the Overall Reserve Champion Junior Doe, Haley Higgins had 5th place Fullblood doe. Macey and Miles Mikeska also exhibited breeding goats. In the open Angora Goat Show, Robert Buchholz exhibited the Grand Champion Buck with his 1st Place Buck Kid. Franklin Buchholz exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion Buck with his 2nd Place Buck Kid while Dalton Buchholz exhibited the 4th Place Buck Kid. Robert also exhibited the 3rd Place Doe Kid in the Open Show. During the Junior Show, Robert Buchholz exhibited the 3rd Place Buck Kid, 2nd Place Yearling Buck and 2nd Place Yearling Doe.

In the Junior Angus Heifer Show, Mark Bybee took 8th place honors with his heifer that he purchased using a scramble certificate that he won at last year's show.

During the meat goat show, Jaymie O'Harrow took 5th place honors while other exhibitors included: Lauren Brown, Wes Brown, John Cody Brenner, Tracy Brenner, Allison Reynolds, Briley Ledbetter and Jackson

O'Harrow. In the barrow show, Mark Bybee won 2nd place and Marcus Hinojosa won 3rd place. Exhibiting in the steer show were Justin Friar who won 3rd place and Jeffrey Friar who won 6th place. Participating in the lamb show was Ridge Ann Sudduth. Other participants were Will Griffin and Emily Newman who assisted with the school tours program.

During the San Angelo Stock Show & Rodeo, Mark Bybee won 4th place with his Angus Heifer. He also utilized a scramble certificate from this show to purchase the animal. In the meat goat show, Wes Brown won 1st and 8th place and Jaymie O'Harrow won 2nd place. Other exhibitors in the goat show were Briley Ledbetter, Carli McAngus, John Cody Brenner, Tracy Brenner, Lauren Brown, Kevin Dykstra, Chris Whid-don, Allison Reynolds and Jackson O'Harrow.

During the steer show, Jeffrey Friar won 1st place honors, Justin Friar won 8th place, Will Griffin won 9th place and Meg Griffin won 12th place. During the barrow show, Josue Chavez won 6th place in the Yorks and other barrow exhibitors were: Marcus Hinojosa, Mark Bybee and Brian Parsley. Exhibiting in the lamb show were Ridge Ann Sudduth, Neal Higgins and Haley Higgins. Tres Whitten and Justin Whitten participated in the Rabbit show.

During the Boer Goat Show, Neil Higgins had Grand Champion Percentage Doe and was honored with Premier Percentage Junior Breeder. Jaymie O'Harrow exhibited a 2nd place Buck. Miles Mikeska, Macey Mikeska and also exhibited in the Boer Goat

At the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo Jaymie O'Harrow won 6th place with his steer. Other steer exhibitors were: Will Griffin, Meg Griffin, Justin Friar and Jeffrey Friar. In the Barrow Show, Marcus Hinojosa won 20th place and other exhibitors included: Jorge Chavez, Josue Chavez, Robert Chavez and Mark Bybee. Participating in the Market Goat show were Jaymie and Jackson O'Harrow and participating in the lamb show were Ridge Ann Sudduth, Neal Higgins and Haley Higgins.

And to close out the year at Austin, Marcus Hinojosa won 5th place with his barrow. Steer exhibitors included Will Griffin, Justin Friar and Jeffrey Friar. Meat Goat exhibitors included Jaymie and Jackson O'Harrow.

Our young people did an outstanding job representing us at all the majors and we congratulate them all. And, yes, we will soon be getting started for next year's shows. Thanks to everyone who has supported us during this last show season and we look forward to another successful outing next year.

bigger and better than the two previous Elgoatarod festivals. "It started out a little slow on Saturday, but the crowd was steady all day long," Runge said. "Sunday's crowd was much bigger than last year's. All in all I would say it went well."

Runge's antics didn't end Sunday with the closing of Elgoatarod, not by a long-shot.

On Monday, he hosted dozens of reporters at his EOBEC (Eldorado Olympic Bid Organizing Committee) World Headquarters, actually just an old gas station located at the town's only stoplight. There he regaled them with stories, and directed them to his "Hysterical District" at the south end of town.

Eldoradoans awoke early Tuesday morning to see the sign "Tomorrow is Cancelled" on the marquee in front of the Courthouse. Again, it was Runge's handiwork, and again he was trying to lighten things up as yet another barrage of reporters streamed into town.

Some people were put off by the sign, however, still others had questions and by midday calls to the Sheriff's office became such a nuisance that Sheriff Doran asked Runge to change it, which he did. The sign then said, "Just kidding, tomorrow has not been cancelled after all."

"Some people just didn't get it," Runge said of the marquee.

Still, he had a message to get out, so he quickly painted to new signs and placed them near the road at this EOBEC Headquarters.

One of the signs said, "Repent and Sin No More -or- Repaint and Thin No More," mimicking one of the signs in the Hysterical District.

The second sign said, "The Last Issue of The Success will be out LATE Tomorrow - Collector's Copy for Martians."

Runge said he knew the Success was going to delay its press time as much as possible because of Jeffs' April 6 prediction. "Warren said we're all going to get wiped out," Runge told the Success Tuesday night, "But his followers, well they're gonna be lifted up. That leaves only space aliens to read the paper."

The comedian's final stunt surprised even the most seasoned Runge-watcher, and had the out-of-town reporters rolling on the ground laughing when he donned a black cape, put on a set of stilts, picked up a scythe and appeared as the Grim Reaper.

For several minutes, Runge stood between his freshly painted signs and waived at passing motorists. Many stared, others laughed, still others honked and waived back.

Then, as one last defiant gesture to the seriousness Warren Jeffs had brought to Runge's once carefree hometown, he carried his Grim Reaper act to County Road 300 near the entrance to the YFZ Ranch. There, he posed for photos with the FLDS Temple in the background.

"Nothing's going to happen here tomorrow. Warren will tell his people they haven't been faithful enough and he will send them back to work," Runge stated. "But...not before he passes the collection plate."

Second annual San Angelo A&M Center Spring Field Day slated for April 28th

The second annual natural resources field day of The Texas A&M University System Agricultural Research and Extension Center at San Angelo is set for April 28.

The program will be from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the center, located on U.S. Highway 87 north of San Angelo.

Dr. John Walker, the center's resident director of research, said this year's theme is "Just Add Water...A Look at Texas Rangeland Water Issues." Options for conserving rainfall and groundwater sources will be the main topics of discussion.

"The field day focuses on strategies and techniques landowners can use to keep the rain that falls on their rangelands from becoming 'water under the bridge,'" conserve and stretch their range water resources Walker said. "We'll also feature an extensive trade show of exhibitors with ties to rangeland restoration and water conservation."

The morning session will include talks on rangeland health and the hydrologic cycle, mechanical "Intensive Management practices for retaining water and reducing evapo-transpiration, riparian health for improving the hydrologic cycle and grazing management for healthy rangelands. Extensive Management and

The afternoon session starts at 1 o'clock following a catered lunch. Topics will be developing water catchments for domestic use, wildlife water development, wellhead protection to prevent water pollution and cost share programs.

The field day concludes with a speaker panel discussion.

Two Texas Department of Agriculture continuing education units will be offered.

Individual pre-registration is $25. After April 21, registration is $40. Student registration is $10. Lunch is included.

For more information call the center at (325) 653-4576.
