G. L. ABBOT, 63, PIONEER RANCHER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

George Lancaster Abbott, 63, who continued on to West Texas after coming to this nation from England in 1886 and pioneered in the ranching business, died at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at a local hospital. Mr. Abbot was brought in Sunday from Eldorado. Death was caused by bronchial pneumonia.

Funeral services are to be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church with the Rev. Paul Reese officiating and burial in Fairmount Cemetery. The body is to lie in state at Johnson's Funeral Parlor until funeral time. Pallbearers will be Aubrey Baugh, Milton Baugh, J. Willis Johnson, Ray Johnston, Frank Findlater and Theodore Herring.

Born in Halewood, Liverpool, England on February 1, 1861, Mr. Abbot was graduated from the Liverpool Art Institute and received a comprehensive musical training which he utilized when he joined the West Texas pioneers. He became organist of the Episcopal Church here, helping Bishop Johnson in his mission work.

A resident of San Angelo for 30 years after coming to this country, Mr. Abbot resided in Fort Worth and San Antonio for a few years but then returned to resume ranching near Eldorado. Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Captain H. S. Heffley; a grandchild, Mary Heffley, two brothers Earnest and William of Eldorado, and two sisters, one residing in London and the other in Liverpool. —San Angelo Morning Times.

Mr and Mrs. M. B. McKnight and son Tom, were in Eldorado a few hours the first of this week, spending the noon hour with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Conner. They had been to the S. E. McKnight ranch near Mayer and were returning to their home near Sterling City.

A. Carr of San Angelo, brother of J. C. Carr, was here Wednesday visiting his brother and looking after business.

LIONS HAVE LUNCHEON

Wednesday the Lions Club met in weekly Luncheon with several visitors present and several good musical numbers were rendered. Among the out of town visitors were Mr. Carl Heideman, J. H. Elder, R. T. Holmes, and A. Carr. Mr. Irby and Misses Andrews and Jones were local visitors. Mr. Irby made the club a talk on citizenship.

The Lions took up a plan to assist in getting the Fair Park here out of debt. A Committee of four men were appointed to try and make a county wide campaign for funds to clear the property of debt. The committee were J. E. Hill, J. A. Whitten, Don McCormick and W. F. Meador to be assisted by the entire Lions Club, after the plans are submitted at next meeting, in carrying on these plans.

Every person in Schleicher County should be interested in the Fair Park and its preservation for public use. The Fair Association needs the help of every one in raising about $3,500.00 to clear the property. Why let $0,000.00 worth of property be sacrificed for a third? Schleicher County needs the Park so lets all pull together in saving it.

The meeting hour for the Luncheon has been changed to 12:15 instead of 12:30.

EDGAR WITT FOR GOVERNOR

Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt of Waco has announced his candidacy for governor.

His home folks in his race for Lieutenant Governor gave him almost unanimous support and they are endorsing him for the promotion he seeks.

Mr. Witt was born in Bell County, a son of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Witt; was educated at the public schools, the Thomas Arnold High School at Salado, and graduated at the University of Texas. He largely made his way through the University working at boarding houses and one of the State Departments. He began practicing law in Waco in the year 1906 and has been for almost a quarter of a century the senior member of the firm of Witt, Terrell & Witt, one of the leading law firms of Waco.

Mr. Witt resigned the office of City Attorney in 1918 to enter the army during the World War. He was elected in December, 1918, at a special election to fill a vacancy that had occurred in the State Senate. His name had been placed on the ticket by friends and the election was held before he reached home. He was re-elected by the 13th Senatorial District three times, resigning when he was first elected Lieutenant Governor in 1930.

He made a brief statement in announcing for governor, and his home folks hope that his candidacy will meet with the generous support of all Texans.

Witt's Announcement

Waco, Texas, Dec. 10, 1933. The people of Texas have done much for me, and I am extremely grateful. By their patriotism and self-sacrifice, they have provided a public school system by which I benefited, and the University of Texas, where I graduated. The voters of the Thirteenth Senatorial District elected me to the State Senate in December, 1918, before I returned from military service. They continued to return me to the Senate until the people of the whole state elected me Lieutenant Governor in 1930. I was re-elected Lieutenant Governor in 1932 by the largest vote ever received by a candidate for office in Texas. Why should I not be truly grateful?

During my service in the Senate, I was chairman of several of its most important committees, and a member of many others. I served as a member of many special committees. As Lieutenant Governor I have had the further opportunity of becoming acquainted and having to do with the many problems of government, and with the laws affecting the people of this great state. I believe that my education and my experience and ability have qualified me to discharge the duties and responsibilities of the office of Governor of my native state, and I announce my candidacy and pledge the people that if elected, I will discharge the duties of the office fairly to all viewpoints and with the sole purpose always to serve the best interests of the whole people.

In the course of the active campaign I shall make, I will express myself fully on all issues that may arise. At this time I think it sufficient to say that I hope my candidacy offers the opportunity to bring about a desirable co-operation between the executive and legislative branches, so that the government may be administered harmoniously, and constructive legislation enacted. Too much partisanship and factionalism have been hampering governmental activities in Texas. I think Texas is as much in need of a new deal and a square deal as is the nation. I will advocate, therefore, a constructive, economic, honest administration of the state's affairs.

Among the most pressing needs of Texas are a reduction of taxes of all kinds, and especially

TOM HUNTER STATES VIEW ON CANDIDACY

Wichita Falls, Jan. 23— A tax free home and a tax free vote, revision of the state tax system to distribute the burden of raising revenues upon all in proportion to their ability to pay, submission if the prohibition repeal amendment for an edict of the people, limitation of capital stock issue and abolition of holding companies, assessing the death penalty for public officials convicted of taking bribes and of prison terms for state employees accepting fees from private interests while holding office, election of the state auditor by the legislature, creation of a board of public relations, rigid control of public utilities and reduction of rates, a tax upon out-of-state chain stores, coordination and unconsolidation of overlapping and duplicating departments of government, the abolition of more than a hundred of our units of state government, and the reorganization of the state education system are among the principal planks announced by Tom F. Hunter, of Wichita Falls, in making public his platform for his race for governor in the 1934 Democratic primaries.

"Big business for a number of the plain people, that its organized effort prevail over the true political division of the ranks of years has financed both 'ends' of some 'ism' of prejudice for a will of the people. The prohibition question will probably be the one upon which the division is sought this year. Though one's belief on the subject of prohibition is not indicative of his capability, in announcing for the office of Governor of Texas, I recognize it."

"The state constitutional amendment for the repeal of prohibition shall be submitted for the edict of the people. It would be just as wrong to refuse submission of the repeal amendment now as it would have been to refuse submission of the prohibition amendment when its adoption was sought. We shall, though, if and when the sale of liquor is permitted, make sure that the old saloon and its attending evils do not return. The highways must be kept safe, life held sacred. The youth, not yet at the age of discretion, shall be protected, temperance must be taught. The sale of liquor, if and when permitted, must be well regulated. Enforcement of the law shall require respect to the voters edict, county and or state."

"Our tax system has broken down. The value of our basic wealth, real estate, has been destroyed. Real estate producing only 15 per cent of our income, pays 77 per cent of our ad valorem taxes. The state ad valorem tax shall be abolished. A blended tax system shall be adopted, one that will require the combines to pay proportionately with the plain man. A tax shall be levied to recapture for the benefit of the state a part of the proceeds of the sale of its natural resources outside the state and nation, including natural gas, salt and sulphur."

"A conference of the officials of oil producing states shall be called and a uniform production tax levied upon oil so that a part of our gasoline tax burden may be transferred to the consumers of the nation, and that the automobile registration fee be reduced."

"A state supervised and tax free annuity fund shall be established so that the aged citizens of Texas may be assured of support in their declining years."

"A tax levy upon the net earnings of the big brackets, reaching those corporate interests that do a statewide business, and a select or luxury tax will help replace the county and school ad valorem."

"Requirement of a poll tax is discrimination and except for a registration fee every citizen shall have a tax free vote."

MENARD PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Mr. Callan has been at Menard for many years, and has seen this country develop from a vast no mans land into a land of many villages and homes. He was at one time President of the Texas Cattle Raisers Association, and served two terms in the Texas House of Representatives.

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR RANCHMEN

Trouble was started here Wednesday when Tom Smith started to get his shearers ready to begin tagging, they refused to go, most of them have been on the relief work. County Administrator L. T. Barber, Sheriff O. E. Conner and County Judge Bradley, want to Mexican town to investigate, the Mexicans claimed they belong to a union and could not work for a non-union man like Smith.

Just what the ranchmen can do is yet to be seen, trouble has also happened in Sutton county where twenty Mexican were jailed for interfering with some non union shearers that were at work. Of course the Mexicans have a right to form a union and demand higher wages, but have no right to interfere with other who do not belong to their union and want to work.

HEALTH MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A meeting was held at the court house Wednesday night for the benefit of the health of the county, with a goodly number of citizens present, the meeting was presided over by Mayor J. N. Davis and the following officers were elected. Mrs. A. J. Roach, secretary, Dr. Pennington, assistant County Health Officer to assist Dr. Patton, and Mrs. F. M. Bradley publicity.

The work will be carried on under the Supervision of Miss Luth Jones State Health Nurse and will include the entire County, work is a part of the National Reconvert plans and all children will be treated or given vaccinations for Typhus, diphtheria and small pox if they desire, nothing compulsory, but the co-operation of all is desired. Mrs. Rose Holland is the City Health Inspector and is working at the job, let's all co-operate with her.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY GLENN R. LEWIS ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION

Glenn R. Lewis, District Attorney of the 51st Judicial District, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

The district attorney now serving his second term, having been nominated over two opponents in 1930, and being unopposed in 1932. He began the practice of law in San Angelo just after graduating from the law school of Texas University in 1926. He solicits your vote and assistance, and says:

"I wish to express my gratitude to the people of Schleicher County for the confidence already placed in me, and to say that, if retained in office, I shall continue to render as fair, impartial and efficient a service as my ability and judgement will permit, improved and better balanced, I hope, by the experience that has been given me."

A. A. Bush of Amarillo, Texas was here Saturday shaking hands with his many friends and looking after business. Mr. Bush reports that he has a good job and likes his work fine, he owns a nice farm near Eldorado and also some nice business property in town, he thinks he will dispose of the town property.

W. A. Schueller was in from the stock farm Wednesday.

An unenforceable law, is a headline in The Texas Weekly, on Jan. 20, where in the Editor of the weekly comments at length, and quotes from the Dallas Dispatch and also the Dallas Journal, that the Dean Law could not be enforced in Dallas County, that is they could not find enough men in the county that would qualify as jurors to try a person that violated the Dean Law. If the above represents the facts, and a jury could not be secured in Dallas County to try a Dean Law violator, then the question arises does the Dallas County citizens believe in law enforcement. The Success would rather believe they do, and we also believe that a jury could be found to try a Dean Law violator the same as any other violator of law if not, why not?

We agree with Morris Sheppard that prohibition will come back, twofold stronger, and will be accepted by two thirds of our citizenship as the means of controlling the liquor traffic. Instead of repealing the Dean Law why not make the penalty of violating the Dean Law more severe. There is no such thing of making a law to suit those who want to traffic in liquor, there will always be those who will not respect any law. We have men in Schleicher County who are anties in belief but we believe 90 per cent of those could give any one a fair trial on any law violated.

SHALL WE DANCE?

Thousands of American cities will celebrate, on Tuesday, January 30, the fifty-second birthday of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. But these public dances will comprise no ordinary birthday party. Proceeds will be turned over to the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation for use in combatting infantile paralysis.

There is something singularly appealing in observing the birthday of the distinguished American in this manner. Himself redeemed from the insidious malady to a life of surpassing usefulness, the President has not forgotten many thousands of stricken children. The project is worthy, and all Texas sends good cheer. Fox-trot, Waltz, or Virginia reel—on with the dance!—The Texas Weekly.

The Editor of The Success was requested by the National committee at Washington to name a leader or one who would promote a dance to benefit the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation but a place large enough to use for an occasion of this kind is not available, so as to be profitable, but we do believe that Eldorado should make a contribution to the worthy cause, it will not be necessary to have the dance, but another medium could be resorted to to raise a small sum.

THE FORGOTTEN LAND

In West Texas there are seventeen counties that comprise the "forgotten land." It is a country that somebody thought would always be valueless. Hence it was deeded to the State University. It is the land known as a barren plains country, a land of cactus, greasewood, the yucca plant and rolling sands.

It was a land where man found life hard where only half a dozen ranchmen lived to the county. It was the land of last romance, that land through which wind the alkalied waters on the Pecos. In this forgotten land, cities and towns were unknown. Even as late as ten years ago, some of the counties now boasting a population of twenty to thirty thousand people, had a population of two and three hundred. Crane county, with its present population of around five or six thousand people, ten years ago was unorganized as a county and had a total population of less than fifty persons.

Nobody wanted this "forgotten land." The University had no use for it, but by leasing the wide sections of land to local ranchmen, a steady income was provided to the University, and yet, the rancher could lease cheaper than to pay taxes on the property. As originally planned, this system of giving to the University about half the land in the area, worked out very well to all concerned.

Then came a change. Land-hungry people drifted westward. Irrigated farms, and dry farmers invaded this land, where the more timid had feared to tread. They prospered. Broad sections of ranches were cut up into small tracts, and two, three and half a dozen families lived where formerly there was only one. Even the very elements seemed to favor this forgotten land, for the rainfall increased, and the landscape became beautiful in the spring time with a riot of wild flowers, of every hue and color. The former barren plains took on a vesture of green and fat-ted cows and sheep roamed this land of West Texas.

Counties became organized. Schools were established. It was the pride of these West Texans that their children, even though some times they journeyed far to school, they were provided with a school system equal to the best anywhere.

And then came oil. A mad rush followed. Thousands of people swarmed to this forgotten land, and cities, and towns came into being. Wealth, hitherto unthought of came to the land owners. But behind the scene in all this new development, there remained one institution, silent, though with a keen eye of business management. That institution is the State University of Texas. Overnight, their great holdings comprising 2,325 and 3-4th sections of land, scattered about over an area of seventeen counties, became very valuable. No longer did they need lease this land to some friendly ranchman at ten cents an acre. It brought fabulous sums and a steady royalty of one-eighth of all wealth through oil and gas, that was produced.

Andrews, Ward, Crane, Upton, Reagan, Crockett, Pecos and Winkler counties are all producing oil in large quantities and have beef for nearly ten years. These counties in this forgotten land make our State University the richest educational institution in the world. Those who live in this "forgotten land" have the same pride, and the same kindly feeling toward the State University as the small farmer or land owner who may live in the black land district, of East Texas, may have. Yet, in that black land district, in any part of Texas, save the seventeen counties where the University was given these special land grants, every citizen and every corporation pays taxes.

Our University is amply able to pay school taxes on this land where school taxes are needed to provide proper school facilities for school children.

The Success believes that The University should pay a school tax on this land in counties where the land lies, and that will embrace Schleicher County, other land holders have a tax to pay and since the University has been blessed so richly in finding liquid gold under its surface, and it has become so immensely rich it should divide its wealth and on November 6th this year the voters of Texas will have a say as to whether they shall pay or not. H. J. R. No. 30 provides the way.

Nagging Pains

are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

EDITORIAL ON ATHLETICS

by Jack Meador

When one mentions athletics, they speak on a somewhat broad field. It is hard to say which is the most beneficial toward physical training of the more common sports, namely, football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis. Probably any one of these is sufficient training for an athlete physically. It is much easier to discuss the most interesting of the five different sports. Although baseball is the national sport, football, beyond a doubt, surpasses baseball in the interest of sport fans. The largest crowds assemble in the fall at football games throughout the country. It seems that football is rising to general popularity much faster than the other sports. For many years, baseball was the leading sport, but in the last few years football, the youngest sport of them all, has surpassed in popularity to other sports. Football, is without a doubt, the most dancous game or sport, but this factor seems to attract, rather than repel, the sport fans. Football probably develops the athlete, physically, more than the other common sports. However, it does not develop the athlete, physically alone but to some extent mentally. It trains the mind of the athlete to think and act quickly.

THE SPANISH CLUB HOLDS MEETING

by Marguerite Chick

The Spanish club met last Friday night January 12, at the home of Jetty Grace DeLong. There were numerous members who attended the meeting.

The program was furnished by two pupils taught by Mrs. W. M. Davis. They played the guitar and sang several Spanish songs. This was enjoyed by all who were there.

After the songs two spanish games were played. One of these was a game using the "cuenco humano" or the parts of the body.

After the games a short business meeting was held and it was decided to meet next Feb. 2, at the home of Louise Boyer.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

by Celeste Tisdale

Have you heard a roaring noise that reminds you of thunder when you have been in the chool house? If you have don't think the house is falling in or that it is going to rain either because its just the drum practice. We are learning rapidly. The drum part has learned four pieces already and the bugle part is even ahead of us. Two bass drummers and one symbol player have joined us recently. The drums and bugles have practiced some together.

We plan to go to Sonora during February to return the chapel program that they came up here and put on for us. We also plan to have a program here at home in the near future.

EDGAR WITT

ially those on farms and homes, and a fairer distribution of the tax burden. As Lieutenant Governor at the session of the Legislature in 1933, when I appointed the Senate Finance Committee, I urged upon this committee and every member the necessity of reducing state expenses at least twenty-five per cent. This was done for the first time in the history of Texas. The only way to reduce taxes is to reduce expenses. A real beginning has been made. I shall continue the program.

All able bodied Texas citizens should be afforded an opportunity to work and earn their own living. Relief to the unemployed by means of a dole will not only make tax burdens mount higher and higher, but will afford no permanent relief, and will ruin morale and character. There are ample fertile acres available for those who can and want to cultivate them and be self-supporting and self-respecting. The State should protect its unemployed at the same time its tax-payers, and provide for by providing some method whereby those who desire may purchase and live on a farm homestead.

Recent Congressional investigations and other disclosures have shown that the people have been exploited by big business. I think the state should follow the lead of the national government in preventing, as far as possible, business racketeering and profiteering for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many. However, our laws should not interfere with the conduct of business, both large and small at a profit, because only by profitable commercial and industrial activities can employment be provided for workers and a market created for the products of our farms and ranches. Our laws should therefore recognize the distinction between profitable business and profiteering business.

While the economic situation and its problems are paramount, the liquor question will claim the attention of the voters and interfere with the unbiased consideration of other questions, and of all candidates for office until the question of state prohibition is again submitted to the people. Therefore, I think the question of repeal of state prohibition should be submitted to the voters at the earliest possible moment. In the event of the repeal of state prohibition, I shall advocate such regulations of liquor selling as will prevent a return of the saloon and bring about the extermination of the boot-legger and require that the sale of liquor be conducted under such regulations as will promote temperance and bring the traffic in its every phase into the open.

I have always given my support to measures that I thought would make better our schools and all departments and institutions of government. As Governor, I hope to contribute more effectively to those same ends. I hope that my candidacy will afford the voters an opportunity to cast their votes FOR a candidate, rather than AGAINST one.

"It is manifestly unfair that real estate be required to pave our roads. No part of the road bond issues of the counties shall be paid by the levy of an ad valorem tax. Those who use the roads shall pay for them. Adjustments shall be made with counties, not bonded, by road improvement."

"Reduced tax burdens and a fair price for his products is the greatest relief that can be offered for the farmer. A sales tax on out of state produced or processed substitutes for state produced commodities will stabilize his market prices."

"The practice of a state official receiving compensation from a corporation is wrong. This practice shall be made a felony. One who betrays his trust to the extent of taking a bribe should be executed."

"Our primary election laws shall be rewritten so that voters are permitted to express first and second choice when the number of candidates exceeds two and three when the number exceeds three. This will prevent organized combines from setting the stage for a run-off with "bumper" candidates."

"Permenete relief and reforms shall be had, affording every person the opportunity to provide for himself and his family. The provisions for subsistence and maintenance, homesteads are advisable; though a national question, the state should co-operate."

"Trusts and monopolies shall not be permitted. Holding company operation of subsidiaries shall be denied permits to do business. A combine of wealth will not be permitted to sell at a loss in one community for the destruction of independent business while making its profits elsewhere."

"Out of state chain stores must go. A levy upon the number of stores operated and a sufficient sales tax upon their gross sales will remove the cancer. These master chains are committing us to a rule of plutocracy. In one Texas county these chains are responsible for closing more than 1000 stores."

"The state owes every boy and girl an available free accredited high school education. The scholastic apportionment shall be maintained at $16.00 and above. Higher education shall be encouraged."

"Our state's business cannot be effectively and economically administered through its present 131 units of government. An individual's or a corporation's business operated so incoherently would soon be bankrupt."

There shall be created a board of public relations of five to seven members. The act of creation shall provide for the abolition of all statutory created boards, commissions and bureaus and by resolution for constitutional amendments for the abolition of elective offices as recommended by the 43rd legislative committee on that question.

"Officials that fail to keep campaign pledges or those found inefficient or for other good cause should be removed. The recall shall be authorized."

BASKET BALL GAMES by R. J. Alexander

The Eldorado High School Boy's basket ball team went to Christoval last Friday night and played the Christoval high school team. It was a very fast game but Eldorado managed to keep the lead through out the game. The score was 25 to 19 in Eldorado's favor.

Saturday night the boys played the Ozona team and beat them 24 to 20. Then the Eldorado second team played the Ozona substitutes and beat them 13 to 11. The Ozona independent team matched a game with the Eldorado independent team but all of Eldorado's team did not get there, so they used some of the high school boys and won 16 to 14.
