Mighty Display of Navy Slated For Tomorrow

5,000 Officers And 35,000 Sailors To Take Part

NEW YORK, May 30. —The power and pomp of the American navy will be high commander, President Roosevelt.

From the deck of the cruiser Indianapolis, stationed outside New York harbor near Ambrose Lightship, 14 miles from shore, the president will see the great armada steam past and into its Atlantic home.

It has been four years since the fleet was concentrated on this side of the continent, and not since the post-war review of 1919 has New York seen a complete display of the nation's maritime weapons.

Fresh from war games in the Caribbean, 86 ships will participate. Their full complement is 5,000 officers and 35,000 sailors.

The warships range from the mighty battleship, Pennsylvania, flagship of the fleet, down to comparatively tiny tenders. All will have their role in the pageant.

Here's The Program

Here is the program of the review:

The two 10,000-ton treaty cruisers Indianapolis and Louisville will be the review ships.

The former will carry the president, Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, Admiral William H. Standley, chief of navy operations, and other distinguished guests.

On the Louisville will be, among other notables, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Henry L. Roosevelt.

At 11 o'clock in the morning (eastern standard time), the flag ship Pennsylvania, flying the four star blue flag of Admiral David P. Sellers, commander of the fleet, will steam past the Indianapolis.

The Pennsylvania will then take a position alongside the Louisville.

Next, the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington will pass the reviewing ships and go to positions favorable for launching their planes.

New Ships In Parade

The United States' newest, most modern craft, seven 10,000-ton cruisers which are sister ships to the Louisville and Indianapolis, will follow, trailed by several lighter cruisers.

Next a flotilla of destroyers, and then the bulldogs of the navy, the battleships. They will be led by the California which will fly the four-star flag of Admiral J. M. Reeves.

A miscellany of boats, supply, fuel, hospital and repair, will bring up the rear. There will be no submarines in the parade.

The review is expected to last about an hour.

The ships pass the reviewing, cruisers at a distance of 500 yards steaming at 15 knots in column formation.

As they pass the presidential boat, the big ships will fire 21-gun salutes. Their crews will stand at the rail in full dress. Their hands will play.

As a display of potential strength 17 combat planes will be catapulted from the decks of the airplane carriers and go through maneuvers—formation flying, dive bombing, laying of smoke screens. This will be the grand finale to the show.

After that, the fleet will follow the Indianapolis into harbor. The president will disembark and the ships scatter to berths along the Hudson and in the East Rivers—San Angelo Standard.

With this issue of The Success, the writer lays down the pencil for the present and turns the paper over to Copeland and McCutcheon, two bright young men filled with the newness of the age and with a desire to become noted in the field of Newspaperdom. They are qualified, have the desire and with the cooperation of the subscribers and our business people, will give you the kind of a paper that you will appreciate and perhaps expect. With this issue I finish my month, 23 years as Editor and publisher. I am sure you will feel relieved and enjoy the change and I know I will. I will devote my time at the present to the mercantile business in which I am also engaged and have been for the past twelve years. I enjoy the publishing business, but was never prepared by schooling for the job, therefore I was plain, easily understood and made many blunders by not soft soaping along. I bespeak a good and better day for the young men that have leased my plant. Trust you will appreciate them and encourage them along the lines of business and patronage, and help them to make The Success the best paper in West Texas. Eldorado is the best town why not make it the best paper. It will take your undivided patronage and cooperation.

John W. Brown, M. D. Urges Vaccination

AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 31— Parents of children who will enter school this fall, are reminded by Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, that vacations are a good time to have their children vaccinated against smallpox.

"The family physician is expected to vaccinate every baby and young child under his care," Dr. Brown said, "and the parents should see that it is done. The earlier it is attended to, the better it is for the child. Until the child enters school, the responsibility for having him or her protected against smallpox rests with the parents. After this it is shared by the teachers."

"Children, if vaccinated in the first year of life and again in the tenth or twelfth year, will be immune to the disease, practically for life. Single vaccinations usually last from seven to ten years. In part, this explains why most of the cases that have developed in the past few years are in adults, who were vaccinated only once."

"Smallpox is a disease of ignorance and indifference. It attacks the rich and the poor, the healthy and the weak, with no discrimination; but it does not attack the immunized person who safeguards his health by taking advantage of modern preventive medicine."

"To stop vaccination would be relaxing our vigilance and the result would be rapid infection of non-immune people. There were 854 cases of the disease last year in Texas, every one of which could have been prevented by recent vaccination."

Dubberly - Hardt Wedding Held At Paint Rock

Couple Honored By Bride's Parents At Informal Wedding Supper

PAINT ROCK, May, 28. —Of wide interest throughout this section was the marriage of Miss Fannie Alice Hardt of this city to Lennie Dubberly of Dallas Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. D. Hardt, father of the bride, at the First Methodist Church.

The altar was banked with ferns and tall baskets filled with larkspur in pastel shades and rambler roses were placed at either side. Wedding bells heralded the entry of the wedding party, Misses Pearl Dalchau of Qastell and Elizabeth Caldwell of Sonora entering first. Before the ceremony, Miss Dalchau, accompanied by Miss Caldwell at the piano sang "All the World is Waiting for the Sunrise." Miss Caldwell played the bridal chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the processional and during the ceremony she played "Sylvia" by Spinks. "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life, was used as a recessional.

The bride and bride groom entered unattended and were met at the altar by the Rev. Mr. Hardt. The bride wore a dress of cream colored crepe with accessories of white and carried a shower bouquet of snap dragons and maidenhair fern. Her veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms.

Ushers were Oliver Hardt and Jess Perry Roach.

The bride, a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Hardt, is a graduate of the Eldorado High School and continued her education at Southwestern University at Georgetown where she has a senior standing. Mr. Dubberly is a graduate of Southwestern, receiving his degree there last year. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for Dallas where they will make their home.

Lady Says She Took CARDUI for Cramps; Was Soon Relieved

Women who suffer as she did will be interested in the experience of Mrs. Maude Crafton, of Belleville, Ill., who writes: "For several years, I suffered from irregular trouble and cramping. There would be days when I would have to stay in bed. I would get so nervous, I was miserable. My aunt told me to try Cardui. She believed it would build me up, regulate me and help the nervous trouble. I knew after taking half a bottle of Cardui that I was better. I kept on taking Cardui and found it was doing me a world of good. I am in good health, which means a lot to me. . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. . . . Price $1.

The Great Distinction Government Behind Home - Building

Ernest Haycox, successful young western author, has a lot of hard common sense along with the imagination that enables him to turn out entertaining fiction for national magazines. Here is a thought from an article by him in Spokes, weekly publication of the Portland, Oregon, Rotary Club:

"There is only one highly important distinction between private business and the constant necessity of remaining solvent. Public business and loss. No private executive breathes who can turn out an effect year after year without going out on his ear. But a senator may sponsor a bill that costs the government half a billion dollars a year and be regarded as a great statesman because he hasn't lost a whole billion."

That is the inescapable corollary of politics in business. Case after case in the records where waste, inefficiency, bureaucracy, red-tape have lost the taxpayers many millions. When government steps in, personal responsibility steps out. The seemingly bottomless purse of the treasury is always there to make up the deficits.

Able executives have occasionally been appointed as managers of government business enterprises men who, in private business, would be successful and would produce profit and not losses. But under political domination their hands are tied. Constant pressure is brought against them to do this or that, for purely political reasons. And if the manager complains too loudly when that happens he is liable to suddenly find himself without a job.

Some day there will be a complete report made on what government-in-business has cost the American taxpayer and he had better be sitting down when he looks at the total; inasmuch as it is more dangerous to faint standing up.

Jimmie May Patton Gets Arm Broken

Jimmie May, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Patton fell from a horse Sunday afternoon and got her arm broken in two places, she was on the Bill Edmiston ranch.

The next major activity of government will be an attempt to stimulate heavy industries which normally provide the bulk of employment, were hit hardest by depression, and have been the most lethargic in recovering from it. And the first step in doing that will be to unloose capital for home-building and repairing, through Federal guarantees of mortgages. Mr. Roosevelt has sent a special message to Congress to expedite such legislation.

Ergerts estimate that it is possible to unloose credit to the tune of $1,500,000,000 or more in this manner. That money would go to painters, carpenters, masons, plumbers, contractors. It would buy cement, steel, paint, lumber, roofing, electric fixtures. It would pass through a hundred great industries, creating jobs and opportunities as it went. It doesn't take much imagination to visualize the extent of its influence in pulling business of all kinds out of the doldrums.

Here's a thought for the wise property-owner to start considering right now: If building is greatly accelerated, prices for everything involved are going to rise. They're going to leave depression levels behind and return to the normal average that, in fact, is one of the cardinal aims at this time. Those who can afford to repair and build now have an opportunity that may never be repeated in their lifetimes.

On Texas Farms

BY W. H. DARROW,
EXTENSION SERVICE EDITOR

Farm record keeping has taken a fresh start in Texas because farmers have had to sweat for a year piecing together past records of farm production. The new AAA farm record book is in great demand. In Shelby county 45 community demonstrators are keeping the book and holding meetings with neighbors to encourage and help them in record keeping.

An 8-acre alfalfa pasture has meant the difference between profit and loss in the dairy business to Bradford Lewis in Gonzales county. For two months this spring he kept 20 cows on the patch four hours daily and then had to mow it to keep the growth in check. Four tons of hay were cut.

Improvements Made On Texas Cowboy Reunion Grounds At Stamford

STAMFORD, Texas, June 1st.—The most elaborate building program undertaken in any year since the Texas Cowboy Reunion was organized in 1930 is now in progress on the Reunion grounds one mile southwest of the city. Having weathered four depression years with a remarkable yearly increase in attendance, the Reunion is now a well-established institution. Attendance last year was estimated at 42,000.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion, Incorporated, the organization responsible for the financing of the annual meeting and improvement and maintenance of the grounds, has several projects under way. Among these is a new grandstand on the east side of the rodeo arena which will increase the seating capacity 25 per cent. The new stand provides a more comfortable type of seat than the old stands. This project is to cost $1,575, and will be completed before this year's celebration, to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 2, 3 and 4.

Another improvement which has been contemplated for several years and which is now under construction is a large pavilion on the grounds to serve as a place for meetings and for dances at night. The pavilion is to be 48 by 60 feet. The roof will be built of height to allow for a second floor to be built in the future. The present building will cost $1,500.

Improvements on corrals, chutes and sheds at the rodeo arena will cost approximately $400. These additions will give greater conveniences for John Selmon, arena director, and his crew, in handling the rodeo contests. Another $225 is being spent on stalls and pens to be leased to visitors for their horses.

Besides these improvements being made by the Reunion management, the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association, a separate organization made up of pioneer cowboys, is erecting a permanent headquarters building and bunkhouse on the grounds. The first unit of this stone structure will be completed before the 1934 Reunion at a cost of $3,500. The building as designed will cost $6,000 when completed. The unit now being built is the central part of the structure, consisting of a living room 30 by 50 feet and in front of this a broad, concrete terrace, 36 by 50 feet. Wings of the building will be added later.

Rural Work Center Now Within Means Of Any Community

COLLEGE STATION, May 30.—How Texas farm communities can get financial assistance to build, equip and develop rural work centers for carrying on small farm and home manufactures is outlined in a circular just issued by the Texas A and M College Extension Service. It is known as C-101, is entitled "Rural Work Centers," and is available an application to county farm and home demonstration agents.

Advanced by extension director O. B. Martin in response to a call for sound plans for permanent rural rehabilitation, the rural work center idea has been adopted by the Texas Relief Commission as the mainstay of the Texas program. It is in charge of J. E. Stanford, director of rural rehabilitation, Austin.

The object of the rural work center is to furnish a means for worthy families on relief rolls, one or more of whose members are mechanically skilled, to make themselves at least partially self-supporting from small manufactures which may be exchanged or sold locally. This would supplement the usual agricultural living-at-home enterprises. In addition, the work centers and their equipment will be permanent in the community and available to all families.

To secure assistance in building a rural work center a community must first show that it can supply at least 10 suitable vacant houses to be made habitable for relief roll families by the labor of the occupants. The Texas Relief Commission will pay for the labor and a limited amount of material for repairing these houses. It can also furnish labor and some material for new construction for the use of relief roll families. The community will have some choice in the families which are to make their homes in the community.

The community must also donate the land for the center, and furnish half the material and equipment for it. A plan for maintenance and use of the work center should be made to show that facilities requested will be ample for local needs and that every family will have fair privileges. It is also desirable to make a list of locally needed commodities. Applications for rural work centers should be made to county relief administrators.

CHOOSE THE TIRE CHAMPIONS BUY

Firestone

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race — the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength — Greater Safety — and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST!

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber.

This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in separation.

COME IN AND MAKE THIS TEST FOR YOURSELF

THE NEW Firestone AIR BALLOON FOR 1934

The new Firestone Air Balloon for 1934 embodies all the improvements in the new Firestone High Speed Tire. The lower air pressure provides maximum traction and riding comfort. Gum-Dipping safety-locks the cords, providing 30 to 40% greater deflection and blowout protection.

Get 1935 low-swing style by equipping your car today with these new tires and wheels in colors to match your car.
