Schleicher's Big Gas Well Is Temporarily Shut Down

INTERPRETATIVE FLASHES OF CURRENT NEWS

The national treasury is to buy over one billion ounces of silver, enough to make silver constitute twenty-five percent of our metallic stock. This is double the present amount of silver in the treasury. The purpose of this act is to expand currency and improve the general circulation of metal money. It is just another step toward bimetalism in the United States.

Carl Estes, Tyler editor, urges the curtailment of secretary Ickes power in handling the oil production control bill. Mr. Estes favors the bill which will systematically control production but he does not think it is a good idea to let one man have too much power. One man with complete power can become so dictatorial as to do more damage than good.

Drought in the Midwest and South west has sent the price of wheat soaring to above a dollar per bushel. The cattle market will soon begin to climb. The government drought relief in the form of cattle buying is now under way in Texas and other states.

A survey by the U. S. department of justice reveals that there are more criminals of nineteen years of age than of any other age. It seems a shame that such should be true of our youth. 55.8 percent of the criminals in the U. S. are less than thirty years of age. The whole trouble lies in our present-day education. It is not the system of education nor education itself that is incorrect; but we are instilling the wrong attitude into the youth of today. Wealth is not the gauge of success and we should not teach the youth that it is. It leads them to seek wealth at any cost.

General strikes and wage wars throughout the U. S. are thermometers of today's social and industrial unrest. Something is wrong somewhere; something must be done and done quickly. Our social and economic machines have two or three screws loose in them and they don't run in tune with our industrial progress.

The stock market control bill becomes a law, effective July 1. Just another break for the poor people. Since the government has stepped in, we won't be losing so much money now from the soars and crashes of wall street.

The reciprocal tariff bill was passed by the U. S. congress, giving President Roosevelt power of regulating tariff treaties to his own satisfaction. The boys were caught in a power which no other president has ever yet enjoyed. But we have a president who has the interest of his people at heart. He seemed surprised. (Continued on last page)

CARL RUNGE

RUNGE IN ELDORADO

Carl Runge of Mason, candidate for United States Congress from this district was in town the past week meeting the voters. Runge is well known in this section and should get good support. He has been active in public service for the past several years, and is qualified for any position of public trust.

HEADS WOMAN VOTERS

Miss Margaret M. Wells of Minneapolis is the newly elected president of the National League of Women Voters. She has had an important part in the development of the organization serving in various important capacities in the local, state and national leagues. She is a graduate of Smith college.

Sheriff Conner Arrests Two San Angelo Boys

Early this week, Sheriff Conner arrested Joe Good and Jack Demoville, both of San Angelo, for taking a gun from an unknown party in San Angelo. The boys were caught in Eldorado and returned to officers of Tom Green county. Just what disposition was to be made of the boys has not yet been learned. Both of the boys were minors.

The John M. Cooper No. 1 Bert Page, Schleicher county's newly developed oil and gas interest, has been temporarily closed down at 5,404 feet. A big flow of gas, estimated conservatively at one to one and a half million cubic feet per day, was struck early Friday morning. The gas flow was strong enough to raise the tools in the well.

The fine spray of high gravity sweet oil which accompanied the big gas flow has been increasing slightly since drilling was discontinued Friday. According to reports from San Angelo, the oil showed a 48 gravity test. Temperature tests register about 128 degrees.

The well is located in the northwest quarter of section 40, block L, T. C. Railway survey, about nine and a half miles from Eldorado. The elevation of the well is 2,270 feet. It is thought that the well has drilled into the Bend, basal Pennsylvanian stratum, which, in this territory, is supposed to lie immediately above the Ordovician stratum.

Much interest is being manifested in the well at Eldorado and elsewhere. Oil men throughout the state are watching the Schleicher wildcat closely and several interested parties from various parts of the state have visited the site of the well. Several deals for leasing are pending.

No authentic date for the resumption of drilling could be verified, but it is probable that drilling will be resumed in the early part of next week.

Two Eldoradoans Appointed to Centennial Board

Mr. J. A. Whitten and Mrs. E. C. Hill, both of Eldorado, have been notified of their appointment to the Texas Centennial Advisory Board from Schleicher county. Both Mr. Whitten and Mrs. Hill have accepted the appointment according to report.

The work of the Texas Centennial Commission is to initiate and help carry out plans for the celebration of Texas one hundredth birthday which comes in 1936. The first meeting of the commission will be held at Austin on June 6 at the Driskill Hotel. The Advisory Board to which Mr. Whitten and Mrs. Hill have been appointed is a subsidiary division of the Centennial Commission. The Advisory Board will meet with and help the Commission. Will H. Mayes, a well known Texas journalist, is secretary of the Commission.

Mrs. Hill and Mr. Whitten have been honored by their appointment to this board and it is certain that they are the logical choices for such an appointment.

Much Needed Moisture Falls In Parts Of Schleicher County

Rainfall during Sunday night and early Monday morning was reported the north and northeast of the county. According to the reports, the rain was spotted. Some communities received as much as an inch, while others reported only a drizzling shower.

Move For County Library Is Being Initiated

Schleicher County's having a county library is almost a reality. At the last meeting of the commissioner's court, a group of representatives from various organizations met with the commissioners to stress the need of a county library.

Those meeting with the court and the various organizations which each represented are as follows: Mrs. Orlie Alexander, general Missionary group of all churches; Mrs. George Williams, Self-Culture Club; Mrs. E. C. Hill, Rev. Frazier, and Rev. Marshall, the Lions' Club; Mrs. Robert Milligan, P. T. A.; and Mrs. R. D. Holt, Woman's Club.

The commissioner's court listened to the statements of the committee and the court appeared very anxious to help in any possible way to establish a county library. Investigation of the need and value of a county library is now under way; and it is thought that in a short time Schleicher county will be boasting such an institution. Schleicher county now has a circulating library used for the schools.

School Election Held Illegal; Second Election Set For June 30

Pat Martin Announces For Commissioner Precinct 3

While spending a few hours in Eldorado Monday, shaking hands and talking to his many friends, Pat Martin, prominent Schleicher county ranchman took time out to announce his candidacy for the commissioner's race in precinct 3.

Mr. Martin who prefers to go by the name of "Pat" has lived in Schleicher county for about thirty years. During all of this time he has been known to the people of this county as one of the most desirable of all citizens. "I don't know a thing on Pat," one man said, "which is more than I can say for most other people."

Mr. Martin is thus far unopposed in his race, but should he be opposed, he deserves your most sober consideration. He will make the voters of precinct 3 a good commissioner.

PAT MURPHY

E. E. (Pat) Murphy Speaks To Large Crowd Here

Pat Murphy, San Angelo candidate for congress from the 21st district, spoke here Wednesday night before a good-sized crowd. Music and comedy preceded the speaking. Short talks were made by Jack Spraf, a faculty member of the San Angelo Junior college, and Ed Riedel, San Angelo American Legion commander, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Murphy was introduced by Judge Campbell, prominent local attorney. Murphy, in his speech, criticized his opponents for not taking any definite stand on the Roosevelt administration. Murphy pledged his wholehearted and undivided support to the administration. He also played the politicians who were more interested in getting jobs for themselves than in relieving the starving millions of unemployed and the general strained conditions of the country.

Murphy advocated protective tariffs on the major products of West Texas; and stated that he would support the "truth-in-fabric" bill which will force the manufacturer to state the amount of cotton, wool, or mohair contained in the finished product. The aim of this bill is to increase the consumption of such raw materials.

Murphy favors a Federal Department of education. He believes that such a department will raise the standards of education and aid in the distressed school situation which now exists throughout the country.

Murphy also advocated the redistribution of wealth, pointing out that 30,000 millionaires and a few billionaires owned 90 per cent of the country's wealth while the other 10 per cent of the wealth was broadcast among the remaining 130,000,000 people. The wealth of the nation, he said, is concentrated in New York while the rest of the country is begging.

Murphy also advocated a realignment of political power, stating that he intended to deal direct with the people, cutting out the political bosses and special interests. He stated that he would support any legislation that was economically sound that would help the farmer and rancher.

Mr. Murphy advocated a system of Universal Service which is designed to take the profits out of war and eventually stop war. He stated that he would vote for an adequate national defense but that he would not vote to send the American Boys off to be shot down. Murphy, himself, is a World War veteran; both a brother and a brother-in-law of his were killed during the war.

CAMP ALLISON BARBECUE AND CELEBRATION TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Camp Allison celebration this year is planned to be the biggest celebration in years. The program includes ball games, goat roping, saddle horse riding, music, free barbecue, and dancing. Speaking and program (Continued on last page.)

Superintendent Holt who returned from Austin Tuesday night reports that the attorney-general held the school bonds, which were voted last May 19, to be illegal in the technical point that bonds can not be voted for purposes other than the building of new buildings. In the election of May 19, the proposition of the $75,000 school bond, which carried by the large majority of 164 to 25, included an amount of $29,500 which was to be used in refunding outstanding bonds of the district. This was the technical point upon which the attorney-general held the bond issue illegal.

The board of trustees can, at any time, refund outstanding bond issues through its own action. No election for such was necessary. However, the local board wished, more than anything else, to get the sentiments of the people of this district regarding the refunding of bonds rather than to act without the will of the people.

SECOND ELECTION SET

A petition asking for a new bond election was circulated Wednesday, and twenty-five voters, five more than were necessary to file the election, signed the petition in only a few minutes after the petition had been put into circulation.

In a meeting Wednesday night, the board called a second bond election for June 30. The exact amount of the new bond issue is not yet decided, but it has been estimated at about $45,000, depending on conditions which will be determined by the end of this week.

URGENT NEED OF NEW BUILDING

The purpose of the school bond issue is to build urgently needed new buildings. Last year the enrollment in the elementary school averaged considerably more than forty pupils per room. According to most authorities on the question, thirty-five pupils per room is a maximum teacher load. The Texas State Department of Education recommends only thirty pupils per room. With more than this number of pupils, school work generally falls below the norm for several reasons: the teacher has more pupils than she can easily take care of and still do thorough work, a crowded room is unsanitary, and discipline problems are more difficult.

Without the additional room, there is no place in high school for vocational agriculture, home economics, and other vocational subjects which are now absolutely necessary to a well-rounded education. Superintendent Holt and the school board are planning on adding several courses which are essential to present-day education as soon as adequate room has been provided for such courses.

The plan of the new building includes eight class rooms and a gymnasium. The gymnasium has been a minimum requirement of the state Department of Education for unannexed schools since 1900. The department has announced that it will enforce this requirement in the future, and in order that our school keep abreast with the progress and developments of the modern school system, we must have a gymnasium. It is an essential part of our educational program today. And, incidentally, the school, along with our churches, is our most important local institution. We must develop it!

As the plans now stand, the new building will be used for grammar school purposes and the old building will be used for high school purposes.

LET'S BACK OUR SCHOOLS!

Lions Club Honors

Retiring President

The local Lions Club honored Mr. J. H. Jarvis and wife last night with a farewell dinner at the Hotel Eldo. Mr. J. H. Jarvis, president of the club is being transferred from the Shell Station in Schleicher county to Iran, Texas.

Mr. Jarvis has served as president of the local club only since May 1, but he was vice-president during the previous year. He has been a very active member of the local club and is one of the three Master Key members of the local organization. The Lions as well as the community at large regret the loss of Mr. Jarvis. Loans Refinance Farmers Debts In Schleicher County

From the office of W. F. Meador, secretary-treasurer of the Eldorado National Farm Loan Association, comes the following report on the work of the Farm Credit Administration in Schleicher County.

A total of $623,800 of Federal land bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Schleicher County, Texas, from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Schleicher County used approximately $596,400, or 95.6 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scale-downs of indebtedness occurred in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefited farmers primarily. Secondly, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Schleicher County for refinancing their debts, about $83,600, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $225,800, their debts to insurance companies; $1,200, their taxes; $255,500, their debts to "others", or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $57,400 of loans in the county was used for purposes other than the refinancing of borrowers' debts. Of this sum, $32,400 was used for the purchase of land and equipment, the construction or improvement of buildings, and for general agricultural uses including the provision of capital, while $25,000, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

Throughout the United States approximately $675,000,000 of land bank and Commissioner's loans were made from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934. Most of these loans were made to refinance debts resulting from the long period of low farm income.

Generally farmers pay considerably less interest each year on the new than on the old loans. Land bank loans made through national farm loan associations carry an interest rate of 5 per cent, but there is a reduction to 4 1/2 per cent until July, 1935. Loans made direct by banks carry a rate of 5 1/2 per cent, but here is a reduction to 5 per cent until 1935. The rate on Commissioner's loans is 5 per cent. Against these rates farmers in most cases had been paying from 5 per cent to 8 per cent, but on numerous loans had been paying 9 per cent, 10 per cent, and even above 10 per cent.

Until March 26 the land bank and Commissioner's loans were made in cash. Commencing on that date they were made mainly in the government-guaranteed bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. These bonds are exempt from all Federal, state, municipal and local taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes. They are guaranteed fully as to principal and interest by the United States government. In a relatively short period after they were issued, they sold above par and had met a favorable reception from farmers and their creditors all over the United States. With the use of these bonds, the refinancing program is going forward rapidly.

ELDORADO AND THE DEAD SEA

Editor Kellis of Sterling City doesn't seem to regret that Eldorado country has been placed in the Dead Sea by James Suter's map of the Western New Jerusalem. We don't regret it either. We could stand being swallowed up by a sea of water here for awhile; and if it were the Dead Sea, it wouldn't make any particular difference because Schleicher county has enough potentialities to turn the Dead Sea into a veritable Garden of Eden. We may not be Concho county's "Eden" nor Sutton county's "paradise" here at Eldorado, but we are better. We are part-way between the two and partake of the good points of both. That's it: "Eldorado, between Concho's Eden and Sutton's paradise."

LIONS RETURN FROM STATE CONVENTION

Lions Bradley, Knight, and Sample returned Tuesday night from Mineral Wells where they have been attending the State Lions' Convention. Each of these Lions gave a report, (mostly on one another) of the trip at the Lions' regular luncheon Wednesday. Lion Sample reports, "the trip was worth the money to us. We learned much that we didn't know about Lions."

SPORTS

BASEBALL

Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock the Lions club, dressed in feminine attire, played the I. F. E. club. The game was good. All Lions did all their playing left handed, and eventually left the I. F. E.'s holding the smaller score? ? ?

"Izzie" Leaman and Glenn Ratliff furnished cause for much laughter. While "Shorty" Doyle was one of the best dressed "ladies", his ball playing was not up to standard. More power to the I. F. E.'s. At least they tried.

The I. F. E. lineup is as follows: Catcher, Margaret Bradley; Pitcher, Frances Ballew; 1st base, Victoria Jones; 2nd base, Isabelle McCutcheon; 3rd base, Inez Cobb; 1st short stop, Elizabeth Ballew; 2nd short stop, Pauline Kent; Left field, Margaret Powers; Center field, Lolette Kerr; Right field, Eva Whitley.

GOLF

Eldorado has a golf pasture about 4 miles north of town. The course is in fairly good shape, at the present, and there is some golfing being done. Those who follow this sport are Jonny Isaacs, A. J. Atkins, Dr. H. W. Wiedenmann, and Luther Gunter.

TENNIS

Eldorado has a group of tennis players that would be hard to find their equal. Jim Hoover is one of the best players and an enthusiastic promoter. Glenn Ratliff, at the present time is about our best tennis player. If you don't agree, take him on. Others who use rackets for pastime are: Forrest Alexander, Joe Turner Hext, Jack Ratliff, R. D. Holt, Lum Davis, Kenneth Gary, and Luther Barber. More power to Jim Hoover and his tennis gang.

MAC'S MESSAGES

(All in fun, but "it's an ill wind that bloweth no good.")

Not being too great a believer in predestination, I think luck (good or bad) caused this former tiller of the soil to write pieces for the newspaper. You may think this struggling journalist is a horrible example of misdirected effort, or a victim of error in the choice of a vocation. If you could see a specimen of his farming I'm sure you would all agree that he should stick to the newspapering. Whatever the eventual end is, the fault is not his. But then maybe it is; he should have chosen wealthy parents so as not to have been bothered with work at all.

One lady, already seeking our assistance, complains that her neighbor's dog is causing considerable mental anguish to the residents of the west end of town by giving voice to his feelings in a very disturbing way. I regret any such incidents involving the misbehavior of canine curs and I shall have the matter attended to immediately.

We have a club in town that bears the title I. F. E. Just add the initials A. W. to those the club already bears and the club will take care of itself, get it?

Cooperation is a great thing. Let us all work together, play together, and live in the same town together with peace, quiet, and tranquility. We all know what must have happened to the boy who "stood on the burning deck" when all but him had fled. Let's all go together, else we may get scorched.

I suppose it is a sort of minor sin of mine to mention the weather, but I have vowed to tell the truth. I have noticed that this time of year we always some kind of weather—so there!

In a recent beer election, Eldorado voted dry. I do not have the space to give a tangible example of the blessings of the Volstead Act; that is not necessary anyway. Now that we are dry, let us be dry. Water has often kept us (as well as other things) from falling to staves; so let us depend on it more. Being of peaceful nature, I hope I have not offended anyone who is in need of liquid stimulants. Just let me name you a good one: coffee! I have, at times, been foolish, mistaken, and perhaps indiscreet, but I hope no one will doubt the innocence of my intentions.

Political Races Are Attracting Much Attention

Even this early in the political big game season, much attention is being drawn to the political races of the state. It is the intentions of this paper to keep the voters of Schleicher county enlightened as to just what is happening. In the governor's race, most of the interest is being centered around four candidates whose names are Tom F. Hunter, Clint Smalt, James V. Allred, and McDonald. McDonald is drawing much of the big Ferguson vote; Allred is gaining strength in Central and South Texas; while Hunter, third man in the race two years ago, will split the West Texas vote with Clint Smalt, who has also been a favorite in previous elections. Either Hunter or Smalt will make good choices for the people of West Texas; but in order to elect either one of these men, the people of West Texas will have to center their support on one of them. A split vote is the thing that often lands undesirable men in office.

Walter Woodward, a West Texas man, is going strong in the attorney general's race.

This congressional district is very lucky or else very unlucky, we can't decide which. With four good men making the race, the voters of this district will have a hard time picking a man. As the case happens, however, any one of the four men will make a good choice. Pat Murphy who spoke here last Wednesday, has been a pre-season favorite; both Runge, who visited in our city last Saturday, and Judge South of Coleman are gaining in popularity and Cullerson Deal has no little following in this district.

It is not the intentions of this

PROFIT!

When a name drops out of sight for a time, it is soon forgotten. Do you ever think nowadays of Pearl White or "Fatty" Arbuckle? Why not. Because you never hear or see enough about them any more. Yet a few years ago, people could not say enough about them. It pays to keep your name and the name of your products before the public. Keep them constantly reminded. It is a point in psychology that a man buys those products and trades with those merchants about which he has read most. Try this on yourself: when you think of yeast, what brand do you think of first? Why do you always call for that brand. It is because there are no others? What cold drink do you usually think of first, Why? Because there are no others. You know why! Let's get wise to ourselves. Our business is progressive only when we are progressive.

SHREDS AND PATCHES

What Eldorado needs most of all at the present time is one of Harry Schwenker's "Million Dollar Rains." But that will come in time. All we need between now and the big rain is a little work, a lot of faith, and plenty of courage.

We might start one of Jim White's rain campaigns for this territory, but I think he has a copyright or patent on such. These campaigns generally work like this: Jim White, editor of the Brownwood Bulletin, begins gabbling in his column about needing rain. Then he shows how he can furnish the rain through one of his rain campaigns which he starts to going in the paper. The campaign runs for about a month or two while Jim's hot air is burning up all the crops and grass around over the country. After it gets good and ready to rain, it rains. Jim then declares his rain campaign a success. As a rule, the chief trouble with editor White's rain campaigns is that it ends generally by his having to start another campaign to stop the rain when it does start for "when it rains it pours." Another thing, Jim's rain campaigns are always a success as far as rain is concerned because he never lets up until it does rain, even though there is not a stalk of anything left in the fields. No s'reee, we don't have any faith in rain campaigns. But we do believe it will rain soon, so let's all get a happy smile on that face or mug whichever it may be and make the best of things as they are.

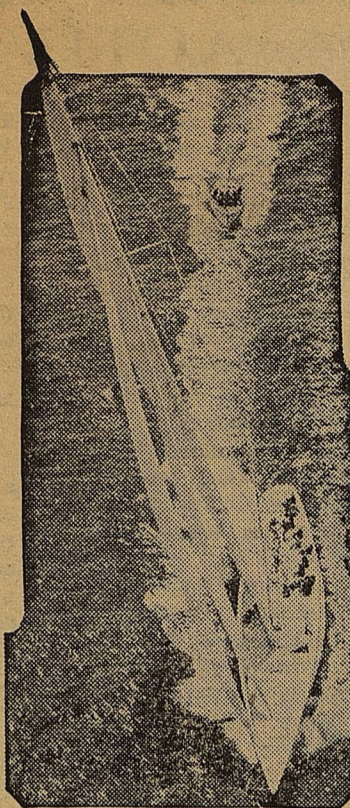

Speaking of faith reminds us that we can tell our readers what is the biggest trouble with the United States today: it is lack of faith. We are not speaking of religious faith at the present (though most of us do need more of that, too); but we mean confidence in our government, ourselves, our fellowmen, and things in general. If we had more confidence in business conditions, we would turn loose more of our money. We don't spend our pennies and nickels among ourselves because we distrust each other too much. The depression is over, but get someone who has a little cash to put it into circulation will you?

Just one little dollar can be a lot of grease to the big financial machine. What could several dollars be? Recently, in one city in the United States, a dollar was marked so that it could be easily identified. Persons who received that dollar during the week were asked to make a report on its circulation. After the week had ended, the report showed that this particular dollar had passed through 167 hands, excluding the fact that it lay for three days of that week in the tight vaults of the bank. There you are: one little dollar had done the work of one hundred sixty-seven dollars. Thus the value of that dollar for that particular week was $167. It was only a dollar bill, but it bought me six pounds of meat, my neighbor's wife a new dress, my friend six gallons of gas, and so on. The circulating dollar is IT.

The truth of the matter is this: the man that wishes things were as they were is an old fossil; the man that dreams of what things will be tomorrow is an idle dreamer; but the man that works today to make tomorrow what it should be is a real man.

The rumor of John Dillinger's death is probably no more than a hoax to save that rascal from the punishment that he really deserves. It all came to an end too quietly for that type of character. No one need celebrate the death of that notorious gangster until he has proof that the death is really death rather than a mere ruse to escape the nets of the law. The law was just getting too hot for him so he dropped out of the picture.

Beetle Saves Millions Yearly

A small insect known as the Vedalia beetle is declared by entomologists to have saved citrus fruit growers of California millions of dollars each year. This beetle is a parasite on the cottony-cushion scale which once seriously threatened the commercial production of citrus fruits in that state. The scale was known to have come from Australia and the Vedalia, which was found to be a natural enemy of the scale in its native country, was imported for the express purpose of helping suppress it in America.

Black-Draught Good For Biliousness and Bad Taste in Mouth

"I have found Theford's Black-Draught so good for biliousness, bad taste in the mouth and other disagreeable feelings due to constipation," writes Mrs. Mary Garner, of Burleson, Texas. "My mother used it for a number of years and we do not think there is a better medicine. I was pleased when I saw Syrup of Black-Draught advertised. I sent for it and gave it to my children (as a laxative) for colds and when they felt bad. Soon they felt fine." . . . N. R. A.

It seems that the N. R. A. has been drawing considerable adverse criticism of late. Nevertheless, no one can deny that the president's intentions were good. It was one of the most noble attempts ever made within the last century to balance the ever-growing chaotic conditions in the business and social world. Anyone who knows the existing conditions of our country will admit that some such move is necessary. It would be narrow to contend that the N. R. A. has no defects; but the need is constructive criticism — not backbiting and undermining propaganda. The N. R. A. has been a partial failure, not so much because it has been misunderstood, but because the majority of those concerned did not have the interests of humanity at heart. Most business firms gladly shortened working hours and raised prices to code levels; but at the same time, those businesses shortened business hours as well as the working hours. Did they hire extra help? No. Some did of course, but the majority did not. The chief object of the N. R. A. was to shorten working hours, not business hours, and to hire unemployed men to fill the remaining business hours, thereby giving practically everyone employment. Instead business hours were generally shortened, naturally shortening the working hours, but leaving no place for reemployment. Only those firms managed by men who had the interest of humanity at heart employed extra men. It seems rather disgraceful that American citizens can not get wholeheartedly behind such a move and put it over. But everyone of us blames the other fellow for our failure. Is there anything to that old saying: "Above all else is humanity?"

COTTON ACREAGE REDUCTION

There is certainly some truth and logic in the W. L. Clayton's protest of the Bankhead cotton bill. His interpretation of facts, however, is not entirely accurate. In the first place, there should have been, long ago, a systematic control of production in all fields, both agricultural and industrial. The world at large should be convinced that system and control are more profitable in the long run than an unlicensed and haphazard way of doing things.

The price of cotton is based upon the supply and demand in the world markets as Mr. Clayton states; and not by supply and demand in the United States; but the United States is the determining factor in the world's cotton market, for America, one out of the fifty-one cotton producing countries, supplies forty per cent of the world's cotton.

Mr. Clayton's most illogical remark was that nobody could complain of a huge surplus if the price were satisfactory. Surplus is the primary cause of low prices, and if there is a surplus, it is impossible for prices to be satisfactory. A man who has plenty of water wouldn't pay a red copper for more water; but a man on a dry hot desert would gladly pay any amount for one good cool drink. There is no question about the effect of surplus on prices.

One statement of Mr. Clayton's is true. Foreign competitors have a chance to increase their cotton production. We admit that the entire world should cooperate in a systematic control of production. (Here again we find the old stories that cooperation is better than competition, and that a nation can not live to itself.) But little we need worry about that. The United States is and forever will be king of the cotton producing countries. Last month's consumption of U. S. cotton in foreign markets showed a very marked increase over previous months.

Cotton Broker Protests Curbed Production

HOUSTON, TEX. — W. L. Clayton of the Anderson, Clayton & Co., Houston cotton brokers, is making a vigorous campaign against the nations cotton policy, better known as the Bankhead bill. Clayton declares that the price of cotton is now low because the channels of trade have been blocked and not because of the huge surplus supply about which "nobody would complain if the price were satisfactory." He states that price is based on demand and supply in the world markets rather than in our national markets.

Clayton thinks that if the United States reduces the current cotton crop, the other fifty cotton producing countries will increase their production in proportion. In this way, Clayton claims, the effect of America's curbed acreage will be counterbalanced, the price of cotton will be kept low, and the American farmer will be the loser. The broker is inclined to believe that American farmers will never be able to gain back the acreage which they have surrendered to foreign competitors through the Bankhead bill.

Clayton also states that about 50,000,000 in labor will be lost. He figures this on a differential of 5,000,000 bales between the normal average of 15,000,000 and the Bankhead allowance of 10,000,000 bales. He figures the average labor bill per bale for ginning, picking, transportation, etc. at $10 per bale.

TELLING THE TRUTH

Iowa publishers have devised the following supplementary provisions of the code, which we hope General Johnson will hurry up and approve. Their adoption will mean millions to us small town publishers: For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen when everybody knows he is as lazy as a government mule—$2.70. Referring to a deceased citizen as one who is mourned by the entire community when we know that he will only be missed by the poker circle—$10.13. Referring to some gallivanting scandal-monger female as an estimable lady when every business man in town would rather see the devil coming—$3.10. —Gazelle, Stillwater, Minn.

ODESSA, Tex. — Serious death losses among lambs from ravens which picked out the eyes of those newly weaned resulted in a spring drive against these pests in Ector and Andrews counties with about 10,000 ravens killed the first month. It is reported by H. L. Atkins, Jr., county agent. Corn poisoned with thallium was distributed in safe spots, pre-baited with rabbits.

A 5-cent jack rabbit bounty in Andrews county posted the last week in December resulted in county authorities paying off for 7,359 rabbits up to May 1st. In addition wide-range poison warfare was adopted in May. It is estimated by ranchers that rabbits destroy more than 100 sections of grass in the county every year.

PUBLIC OPINION AND THE BANKS

By F. N. SHEPHERD
Executive Manager
American Bankers Association

WHILE banking today appears in a wholly distorted light in the eyes of some, the more reasoning elements in our population undoubtedly have a less jaundiced view than would appear from certain irresponsible orators, often posing as spokesmen for that indefinite quantity called "the mass" of our people.

F. N. SHEPHERD

Anti-social acts on the part of some bankers formerly have been the subject of spectacular exposures, but I can say without reservation that they were in no way typical of the acts and attitudes of the vast majority of their fellow bankers. The public mind was shocked into the belief that these untypical instances were far more representative than they really were, and this belief has been encouraged by political and demagogic elements.

The Bankers Today

The bankers who are in charge of our banks today represent men who withstood the temptations and avoided the economic pitfalls of the great boom. If they had not they would not be there, or their banks would not have been able to survive the rack and ruin of the economic hurricane, by which even many banks and bankers, whose conduct was above reproach, have been destroyed. The other types of bankers, those that fell below the high standards of professional ethics and business prudence that characterized those that remain, have passed out of the picture. But they have left for those that remain a difficult heritage of suspicion and ill will.

How irrational this is, when we reflect that not more than three or four per cent of our entire population suffered personal loss because of what any banker did or neglected to do, whereas literally millions of bank depositors did not lose a single cent as a result of banking difficulties and really owe a vote of confidence and thanks to their own bankers who were true to the highest conceptions of their stewardship and brought their institutions and their customers safely through the greatest business disaster the world has ever seen. It has been a peculiar feature of the psychological distortion of the times that many who owe nothing but gratitude to their bankers joined in blaming the banker far out of proportion with any rational consideration of the facts.

The National Recovery Administration Strengthens Weak Points

HOUSTON, TEX. June 7.— With most of the new codes already adopted, signed, and approved, the N. R. A. has made some changes of late which are designed to rectify those points where the Recovery Act was a failure last year. According to the latest news from president's office, "no employee can dismiss or demote any employee for making complaint or giving evidence with respect to alleged violations of the provisions of any code of fair competition as proved under said title." The penalty for doing so is set at six months imprisonment or $500 fine.

The new insignia, the Blue Eagle is almost ready for distribution. Any code violators will not be given the emblem. There are over 700,000 industries and businesses which have already signed the new codes.

The small businesses have been taken into full consideration in making the new code. The new regulation of competition has been so designed as to permit little businesses to survive the struggle of "every man for himself."

The N. R. A. is making a new fight against child labor. No business operating under a code shall be allowed to use child labor in any form. Miss Ruth Scandrett of the national industrial division of the Federal Children's Bureau is agitating a Federal amendment which will forever prohibit child labor anywhere at any time.

General Hugh S. Johnson recently commented that 90 percent of the complaint of business against the N. R. A. was propagated by firms which were trying to make their profits by paying poor wages and living off of child labor. "The results of the president's recovery program are all on the plus side," General Johnson asserts, "and the man who asserts the contrary is assuming a heavy responsibility to a distressed and abused people."

Road Work North Of Eldorado Is About Completed

Road improvements north of Eldorado on highway 30 between Eldorado and Christoval have been completed for the time being. One very dangerous curve has been taken out of the road and the road bed has been built up in several places. The topping remains to be laid yet on two stretches one of which must settle, before it can be topped.

Whether or not road improvements in this county will be continued at an early date could not be learned this week, but it is rather probable that highway 30 will receive more needed attention soon.

prised to think that the people of the U. S. should be worried over what he should do to the tariff treaties, and he gives us full assurance that no treaty will be arranged so as to lower farm and ranch products. If any changes are made in the tariff treaties, their affect will be that of raising the present prices of farm and ranch products. Didn't Dame Rumor make an awful mistake on what the president was going to do? Wool prices won't drop any because of the tariff arrangements. If anything, wool prices are going to climb; so don't let anyone kid you.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TRUST INSTITUTIONS

New Move by Federal Banking Authorities Welcomed by Banks and Trust Companies, Says Bankers' Organization

FEDERAL examination of trust departments is the latest development in banking supervision and trust companies and banks operating trust departments are welcoming this development because it fills a long-felt want, it is stated by the Trust Division of the American Bankers Association.

Despite the growing importance of American trust business in recent years examining officials have never given to trust departments the attention paid to commercial banking departments, this authority points out. Now the Federal Reserve System, in conjunction with the Comptroller of the Currency, has undertaken to bring the examination of trust departments up to the level of commercial bank examinations, it says.

Experts in trust work are being employed by the various Federal Reserve Banks. These experts will head the special staffs of trust examiners in the twelve Federal Reserve Districts. Special staffs are already at work in some of the Reserve Districts, including Boston, Atlanta, Richmond and Chicago. The Federal Reserve will examine the trust departments of state-chartered members of the Reserve System.

Uniform Supervision
Meanwhile, the Comptroller of the Currency has built up over the past two years a staff of special examiners for the trust departments of national banks. All national banks are members of the Federal Reserve System. Since nearly all state-chartered trust institutions are members of the Reserve System the new plan will bring about what amounts to Federal examination for the trust business.

State examining authorities probably will follow Federal supervisory policies to a considerable extent. Hence, coordination of the procedure of the national banking system and the Federal Reserve System is expected to result in a uniform system of examinations for trust departments in all banks. This in turn should produce considerable standardization in the operation of trust departments, the division declares.

Relief Work In Schleicher County

A report on the relief work in Schleicher county, which is under the supervision of Mr. Van McCormick, reveals some interesting and encouraging facts. The work is progressing nicely. Altogether, there are less than thirty men on relief work in this county. Several projects in the city, such as the improvement of sanitary conditions and the removal of the dump ground, have already been completed.

PROPOSE CANNERY
It has been proposed that a cannery be established in Eldorado to aid in relief work in the county. Persons who furnish produce may get canning done at the cannery by giving a percent of the canned goods to the relief work. At the present time this phase of relief work in Schleicher county is still in the form of a proposal, but the prospects for establishing the cannery here are good.
