County Takes Over Relief Work Here

Since the Federal Government has withdrawn from direct relief it is evident that cities and counties will have this responsibility fall on their shoulders.

The Texas Relief Commission is operating on surplus money left over from the general program. When this is gone, the T.R.C. will be discontinued.

After intensive study of the situation there is being organized in counties of Texas, County Family Welfare Associations.

Schleicher County Commissioners Court sponsoring such an agency, employed Mrs. Grace Roberts, who will be case worker in Schleicher, Sutton and Crockett counties.

It is the purpose of this agency to use every means possible to assist those persons who have been placed in an unfortunate situation; to do everything possible to improve general health conditions; to establish an employment agency that will make it easier for persons needing work done to secure help quickly, and to contribute any service that tends to improve our general standards of living.

In order to accomplish this purpose, Mrs. Roberts asks the cooperation of the entire county. Knowing the people of this county she is confident that the work will be a success.

When any individual or organization has information concerning this work, get in touch with Mrs. Roberts. If you have a surplus of food, clothes, wood, or anything you would like to contribute to those who are in need, it will be gratefully received. An accurate account of its disposal will be available.

If any jobs are available, one day or permanent, you will render a community service by reporting to this agency.

Farmers Conference Favor Protection

Never in history have national farm leaders united so harmoniously in a declaration of a protective policy for agriculture as in the national farm conference in Washington January 10-11, according to reports received here from Texas farmers attending.

A seven-point platform embodying the guiding principles for building a new farm program was unanimously adopted.

Representatives of the Texas Agricultural Association and Texas Cooperative Council present at the conference declare that a new farm program can be formulated that will protect farmers and at the same time meet the requirements of the Supreme Court decision.

"Whether such a program enacted into law will depend on farmer sentiment," according to H. G. Lucas, president of the Texas Agricultural Association. "Business men should join farmers in demanding legislation to safeguard the gains to business and labor from the old AAA program."

"Farmers seek no selfish advantage for themselves, but demand protection from the damaging effects of the tariff. A fair deal for farmers means continuation." (See No. 3 Last Page)

Newt Williams lives on the farm and the feed belonged to him. The fire started when two small boys struck matches while playing around the shed, according to residents of the place.

The Sonora fire truck was called immediately and precautions were being taken to keep the blaze confined to the feed stacks, protecting the barn in which a large quantity of feed was stored.

Subscription $1.50 per year, in advance. Subscription will be discontinued promptly on expiration.

On January 1, American business, large and small, found itself with a new item of operating expense to pay. The item is labeled "Social Security."

This year, unemployment insurance will take 1 per cent of each employer's total payroll—and it is to be paid by the employer, not the employee. Next year the tax will be 2 per cent, and in 1938 it will be 3 per cent, the maximum under the present law. Forecast is that the tax will produce total revenue of $250,000,000 during 1936. If business conditions remain unchanged, it will obviously produce $500,000,000 next year, $750,000,000 per year thereafter.

However, hope is that business betterment, with its corollary of increased employment and higher wages, will steadily increase the revenue even though the percentage of tax remains constant.

Next step in the program will come in 1937, when the federal old-age insurance plan goes into operation. That will start with a 1 per cent tax on employers and 1 per cent on employees, which will mount slowly until it reaches 3 per cent on each in 1949. Total federal tax will thus be 9 per cent of all payrolls by 1950, of which employers will pay six per cent, employees 3 per cent.

In addition to these federal levies, states are studying ways and means of bearing their share of the expense—in the case of old-age insurance, for example, the federal government will match state donations dollar for dollar. A number of states already have various taxes for this purpose, others are planning them. In some cases, state funds are created by payments by the employer alone, in others by payments by both employer and employee. And there is a certain amount of agitation, in Texas and elsewhere, for a general sales tax to create funds for the unfortunate.

State-federal cooperation involves certain legal difficulties. Requirement is that state funds shall be turned over to the federal government for distribution. In most states, it seems that this would be unconstitutional under present state constitutions. If that turns out to be true, states which wish to cooperate will have to go busily to work remaking their laws and amending their constitutions.

Further legal troubles arise from the fact that, in the view of many able attorneys, the social security act was hastily written, lacks the clarity it should have. Some think, as Business Week recently reported, that present legislation should be thrown overboard and a new start made. However, there seems small chances that this will be done, though it is expected the present Congress will make an effort to clear up some of the more vague parts of the law and thus make it legally sounder.

Dismissing these legal and technical difficulties, which must be eventually settled by the courts and Congress, it may be said that business views social security with mixed emotions. Many leading corporations have liberal pension plans of their own, established long before a federal law was conceived. They agree with the principle the legislation represents, confused as they are by some of the details. Many industries are considerably worried as to where to get the money, at a time when, in spite of raising sales, net profits of numerous businesses are at comparatively low levels. Hope of the Administration is that business conditions will continue to improve so rapidly that profits cannot help but raise, that increased costs will thus be automatically taken care of, for under the law, these new costs become fixed overhead regardless of any profit.

There, in brief, is the status of social security at present. It could be changed overnight by the passage of another kind of law, such as the Townsend plan with its demand for $200 a month for all people over 60. Most economists feel that if this happens, the whole cause of social security will be endangered. The President also seems to reflect this view.

Comment on the President's speech to the Congress, on the state of the union, fell into partisan channels, except for that portion dealing with foreign policy.

The President said that 85 or 90 per cent of the world's people were peaceful, that 10 or 15 per cent endangered peace. He denounced dictators, and made bitter, thinly-veiled allusions to saboteurs. He said the U. S. must provide an adequate national defense and at the same time keep absolutely neutral and free from dangerous foreign entanglements. These views received general approval by U. S. commentators.

The following industries established new production records in 1935, though some were not so fortunate in the matter of profits: Radios, washing machines, refrigerators, electric power, nickel, gasoline, shoes, aviation, rayon, oil burners.

WHERE TAXES GO
 * It took 115,000,000 dollars to operate the state government in Texas in 1934. Here is how each dollar was spent: Highways, 30.9 cents; schools, 30.5 cents; relief, 9.3 cents; * eleemosynary instructions, 5.3 cents; higher education, 5.5 cents; Confederate pensions, 2.5 cents; judiciary, 1.79 cents; miscellaneous items consumed the remainder.
 * Gasoline taxes brought in 39.94 cents of each tax dollar, real estate, 26.86 cents, and gross production tax on oil, 7.17 cents. The balance came from miscellaneous sources.

Unkind language is sure to produce the fruits of unkindness—that is, in the bosom of others.

 PLASTERED BARN
 A N D FENCES
 * There are many ways of getting one business message before the people.
 * Some men plaster barns and fences with signs or stick up little painted boards along the highways. Others cover the community and countryside with printed circulars.
 * These do some good, but men in autos ride to fast to read signs today, and unless one weight down advertising dodgers the wind soon scatters them beyond the reach of the people.
 * To this writing no one has found a better way to advertise your merchandise than to tell your story often in your local paper, printed next to live news and local comment.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui
 Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

Young Mothers Benefit from Two Generations' Proof of This External Treatment For Fighting Colds.

IT AVOIDS CONSTANT "DOSING"

There's nothing like a child's cold to upset a young mother. And mothers of two generations, anxious to help end colds, have depended on Vicks VapoRub. It is effective—external—and safe. It avoids the risks of constant "dosing," so often upsetting children's delicate digestions.

Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub acts two ways at once:

1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—
2. By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to inflamed air-passages.

Continuing through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers
Each year, more and more families are being helped to fewer colds and shorter colds by Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub.

servicing at the school building Monday, January 20. Miss Hinyard, home economics instructor, will be in charge of the cafeteria, and the home economics classes will serve the lunches. The cafeteria will be a non-profit venture with no object other than serving a hot lunch to student at a very low cost.

Tentative plans for the cafeteria were made at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Parent Teachers Association, with Mrs. John Williams, President; Mrs. Luke Thompson, Mrs. W. O. Alexander, Mrs. Aubrey Baugh, and J. Carlton Smith present. These plans have been approved by the Board of Education, and an effort will be made to have all arrangements completed in order to begin serving lunches Monday, January 20.

Referee for the tournament will be Thurman Saxon of Mertzon and O. P. Adams of Sonora.

An All-Tournament ticket sale drive was begun Monday, with the pep squad in charge. All-Tournament tickets sell for 25c and 50c and will be quite a saving in the long run, especially if an individual plans to see a number of games. Admission of 10c and 25c will be charged each time an individual enters the gymnasium. A person with an all-tournament ticket may leave and return at will by merely presenting his ticket at the door each time. These tickets are nontransferable, that is only the person whose name appears on the face of the ticket may enter on it.

The results of the last weekend games with the San Angelo Bobcats demonstrated beyond a doubt that Coach Bynum's Eagles are rapidly becoming one of the strongest teams in this part of West Texas, and they are expected to make a strong bid for the tournament championship. With the leadership of Johnnie Clement, Jack Shugart, R. J. Alexander, Milton Spurgers, and Paul Davis, the Eagles will be prepared to give even the strong Ozona quintet a close race for honors. Two or three of the Eagles will also make the race for placement on the all-tournament five, to be selected by the coaches present. Each player will be awarded a miniature silver basketball.

ed good business for every-body" he states.

Texas was represented at the conference by Lucas, C. H. Day, Plainview; J. R. McCrary, President of the Texas Cooperative Council, Calvert; C. H. Matthews, Eagle Lake; V. R. Marshall, Heidenhimer; Hayden Perry, Robstown; L. T. Mayhugh, director of the National Grain Corporation, Kress; and Lamar C. Trousdale, American Rice Growers' Association, Houston.

The platform adopted by the conference includes seven points, abbreviated as follows:

(1) Rental of surplus lands Secretary of Agriculture to conserve the soil, suggested rentals to be based on percentage of total cultivated acres where practicable, otherwise on basis of either volume production or combined acreage and volume production.

(2) That Congress provide adequate funds for such program.

(3) That reasonable taxes be levied on livestock and dairy products whenever approved by producers for purpose of expanding foreign and domestic outlets for these products in a manner to be profitable to producer.

(4) That all valid parts of AAA be retained and strengthened. This refers to marketing agreements and the use of 30 per cent of import duties for expansion of foreign and domestic markets of farm products.

(5) That all farm products coming into hands of government through this program be sold or distributed wherever possible through cooperatives.

(6) That the American market be preserved for American farmers, and foreign markets be expanded for surpluses.

(7) That all farmers unite on the single problem of an adequate substitute for AAA, leaving other important agricultural legislation for later consideration.
