Cotton Checks Being Distributed Among Growers

$15,228.70, First Payment by Government on Advances in Cotton Pool for this County Being Distributed This Week

The County Agent reports that 173 checks have been received and Wednesday they were being claimed by the cotton growers of Schleicher County. The checks amount to $15,228.70 and will be a boom to the County's preparation for another crop, as many no doubt were in need of the cash.

This is the first payment on cotton certificates and the government advanced two cents per pound on the first loan.

The certificates that were not sold will be returned at a later date. For those that are sold money will be sent in form of a second payment.

It is requested that those having cotton certificates in the Bankhead Pool come in and call for them as soon as possible.

SAN ANGELO FAT STOCK SHOW AND RODEO BIG EVENT

HAS CREATED WIDE-SPREAD INTEREST IN SPAN OF FEW YEARS IN SOUTHWEST TEXAS

In a few years time the San Angelo Fat Stock Show has established itself as a major exhibition. And with the Rodeo added it is predicted that it will become one of the greatest meetings of its kind in the world. The increased number of entries has caused each show to double in attendance.

The San Angelo Show was founded in the interest of the 4-H Club boys and Vocational Agricultural students of West Texas.

"Stunt Nite" Program Benefit of Library

The "Stunt Nite" program sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association and put on by the High School and a number of clubs was a success financially as well as entertaining.

Fifteen stunts were presented by the High School students and members of different clubs. Receipts were more than $80, which will be used for the benefit of the County Library.

For presenting the best stunt the Eldorado Home Demonstration Club received $5.00. Miss Melba Calcote received $2.50 for best books donated to library.

Clown and His Mule Visit Eldorado Friday

Tony Slaughter, and John Lindsay, and the latter's pet mule, "Hoover", were here Friday on a tour of West Texas. They are advertising the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo.

Approximately 100 of the outstanding professional rodeo performers of the United States and Canada will be in San Angelo for the show and $2,000 in prizes offered, they said. Most of the stars are at Tucson now and will be in San Angelo before going to Ft. Worth shows.

GOVERNMENT HAS PURCHASED 2,013,972 HEAD OF CATTLE

College Station, March 8.—The government has purchased 2,013,972 cattle from 150,205 drought-stricken cattlemen and livestock men from 233 counties in Texas in the last seven months, spending an average of $12.14 per head, according to the final report issued by George W. Barnes, assistant drought director at College Station.

More than $24,000,000 was appropriated and used in Texas buying these cattle. An average of 13 head was purchased from 150,000 livestock men needing immediate relief.

NOTICE

We have the new woolen contracts for 1935. They are being signed as fast as possible.

It is requested that those cotton growers who wish to sign would come in at the earliest possible time and see your County Agent, C. Snell.

FAT LAMBS SHOWN BY 4-H CLUB BOYS CREATE INTEREST

BILL WILLIAMS, VOCATIONAL TEACHER AT MERTZON ACTED AS JUDGE

Approximately three hundred people were present Saturday, March 2 to witness the Fat Lamb Show held on the Court-house lawn in which a number of 4-H club boys exhibited their lambs.

Mr. George Williams exhibited a 2-year old ram that was a dandy. Mr. Williams is a well known breeder of Registered Sheep and is an exhibitor at the Fat Stock shows in Ft. Worth, San Angelo and other points. He always brings home his share of the ribbons.

Those entering in the First Class singles were Cecil Moore, Gene Koy, Joe Alexander, Jim Tom Roach, Edgar, Clemens and William Sauer.

Prizes awarded were as follows: First, R. J. Alexander, $3.00; Second, Cecil Moore, $2; third, Gene Koy, $2; Fourth, R. J. Alexander, $1; Fifth, Gene Koy, $1; Sixth, Cecil Moore, $1. Those who failed to win a prize were presented $1 each by J. F. Runge.

In the group of five best lambs prizes were awarded, first Cecil Moore, $5; second, Gene Koy, $4; third, R. J. Alexander, $3; fourth, Edgar Sauer, $2. To those who were non-winners J. F. Runge gave $1 each.

J. F. Runge won the loving cup given annually by the First National Bank of Eldorado. This is the second time that Mr. Runge has won this cup. If he is presented with it again next year, he may take possession. The lambs fed and shown by Cecil Moore were bred by Mr. Runge.

By winning first prize in the singles R. J. Alexander now will enjoy the privilege of having his name engraved upon the loving cup presented by Wm. Cameron Lumber Company. Last year Cecil Moore had his name engraved on this cup but was edged out by a close second to Alexander this time.

Bill Williams Vocational Agriculture teacher at Mertzton did the judging.

County Agent Snell, and Vocational Teacher Roy Cook along with the 4-H Club boys and others deserve much credit by the interest being created in the sheep industry, one of this county's foremost enterprises. These showings bring out the best and reveal the growth and improvement from year to year. It is hoped that each year more people will attend this event.

Mrs. J. W. Lawhon, Jr., and children visited in San Angelo Saturday.

Dave DeLong Says Future Bright For Schleicher County

A progressive and successful ranchman who has faith in this country and one who looks to the future and believes that times will be good again is Dave DeLong.

Mr. DeLong is improving his ranch by erecting a 16-foot Aero-motor windmill, purchased from the West Texas Lumber Company of this city. Also he is building three miles of net fence and a large concrete tank.

Now is a mighty good time to add the necessary improvements. Spring time is here and everyone will be clearing house, yards and fence corners. A little paint will help the looks of the old place wonderfully, and will add years to the life of buildings, fences, chicken coops, and what have you.

Mr. C. E. Knight manager of the local yard of West Texas Lumber Company says that business is looking good and he expects to be busy this summer and fall.

We want to call your attention to their advertisement in this issue of the Success. You will find it there each week. Read it! You will be surprised to know how much one can learn about quality, prices and service just by spending five minutes each week reading advertisements.

Ft. Stockton Officers Here for Man Wanted On Felony Charge

Officers came here from Fort Stockton this week to get Ed. Nickens, who is wanted there on a felony charge.

Authorities say he is wanted in numerous localities. It is charged that Nickens passes as a wealthy ranchman seeking a ranch. In this way he comes in contact with commission companies, gains their confidence and they cash checks.

Sheriff O. E. Conner arrested Nickens here last week after recognizing him shortly after he arrived in our city.

4-H CLUB GIRLS HAVE DEMONSTRATION GARDEN

Girls of the Bailey Ranch 4-H club have started a demonstration garden on their school campus. They have a good garden plot about 60 feet by 100 feet, which is watered from a windmill near by.

The Boy Scouts in the Bailey Ranch school assisted the girls in getting the garden prepared for planting. They now have beans and onions planted in it, and have tomatoes planted in hot beds at their homes which they will transplant in their garden. Other vegetables will be planted this month in the garden.

Each girl has her responsibilities in the planning, planting and care of the garden.

Lions Club Appreciated By 4-H Club Members

Wool Man of Boston Talks of Market Conditions in East—Texas Wool is Best IN United States

At the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday, C. Snell, County Agent, thanked the members for providing prizes for the Fat Lamb Show which was held on the Court House lawn Saturday March 2.

After other matters were attended to Lion President C. E. Knight turned the meeting over to the program committee chairman who introduced J. W. Hunter of Boston. Mr. Hunter addressed the club giving valuable information on the present condition of the wool market. He said that this year there would be 2,000,000 pounds of substitute used by unscrupulous manufacturers. "The public is getting tired of being fooled by substitutes," Hunter said. "Worsted woolens cannot be substituted and 80% of Texas wool is suitable for worsted goods."

It was pointed out that Texas was the best wool producing state in the United States and that in a radius of 75 miles of San Angelo, with the exception of the Kerrville section, is to be found the highest grade product in the nation, and of the world with the exception of a small area in Australia, where the finest fiber of the world is grown, but in limited quantities.

We should each of us be interested in this one of the greatest products of this section. It behooves us to talk wool, demand worsted woolens, the best. While our representatives are hurrying around in circles trying to figure out what it is all about they could manufacture a few laws to protect the public from substitutes.

Certainly they claim it is wool but don't mention that it is mostly old woolen rags, short waste wool.

The wool buyers for the past two years, at this time of the year, have come with the squall about the large carry over of wool and how they were afraid that they wouldn't be able to pay much for the crop on account of the condition of supply. They are beginning now. The boys in the sage brush who have the wool, would do well to count up their sheep this year, and take a good squint at the dead ones and the largeness of the feed bills before letting some Boston slicker set the low price on the commodity and turning the clip over to him.

In 1933 wool brought 26 cents and up, and the products manufactured from the commodity, were as cheap as dirt. In 1934 wool goods went out of sight again and the boys "just couldn't pay very much" on account of the carry over. They offered to buy, and before setting the price, they asked Scheiner and Russell Mentzes how much they would take for their large holdings. The stuff was sold at a price reported to have been 20 cents per pound.

Site For Woolen Mills At Angelo

The site for the proposed San Angelo unit of the Texas Woolen Mills Corporation has been selected and the order laid out for the equipment which will be installed. M. C. Cotton, promotions manager, said. The site of nearly 100 acres is within three miles of the center of the city. He refused to give its location.

The mill, which the Texas-wide institution would set up in the heart of the wool producing country, will be a 10 set plant of 100 looms, 70 broad and 30 narrow, and will include approximately 7,000 spindles. Mr. Cotton said. The cost of site, buildings and equipment was estimated at around $500,000 by Mr. Cotton.—San Angelo Times.

County Agent Snell laid off terraces on Joe Edman's farm three miles west of town this week. Also he helped Paul Nason with his terracing six miles out on the Ozona road.

SCHOOLS ENTER ONE ACT PLAY TOURNAMENT

Austin, Texas, March 8.—A total of 483 schools have enrolled in the one act play tournament of the Interscholastic League this year, as compared with 346 last year, according to Morton Brown, dramatics director of the University of Texas Bureau of Public School Interests, which serves as the State executive office for the League.

Through a series of elimination contests in the county, district and region, the contestants will be narrowed down to eight casts. These will participate in the State tournament to be held in Austin during the State Meet of the League in May.

"For the most part, casts which reach the finals are seasoned troupers, quiet, business-like in their preparations, and with a back-stage discipline which would do credit to professionals," Mr. Brown said. "In the finals each year, we find a fine spirit of sportsmanship among the contestants. They are becoming better losers year by year."

LOCAL V. A. BOYS WORKING HARD

Roy F. Cook, Vocational Agriculture teacher says that his class has twenty some odd lambs on feed and that most of them are fat. The boys exhibited them here Saturday, and will show at San Angelo and Fort Worth Fat Stock Shows. They are also feeding four breeding rams to show.

This is the first time that Vocational Agriculture has ever been taught here. The local F. V. A. Chapter has set up the following objectives for 1935:

1. To obtain State F. V. A. Chapter. 2. To exhibit livestock at San Angelo and Fort Worth.
3. To hold local shows. 4. To attend summer encampment at Junction. 5. To hold "Father and Son" banquet. 6. To send judging teams to state judging contest. 7. To conduct concession at football games. 8. To send delegates to the state convention. 9. To learn parliamentary procedure. 10. To practice the opening and closing ceremony in chapter meetings."

RUBBING HIM OUT

It is only a matter of time before that despicable desperado, Raymond Hamilton, will be shot down. But so desperate is this fugitive from the death-house that his freedom constitutes an ever-growing menace to the State. Surrender would avail him nothing. Bloodshed is likely to result wherever his forays extend.

The manner in which he has eluded traps in many counties augurs strongly for a centralization of police effort in Texas. It has even been charged that county officers are in such competition for the honor of bringing him down that they keep their plans quiet and work independently of each other. This is what comes of our defecation of criminals. The opportunity to stand before newsreel cameras, gun in hand beside a riddled automobile and the prostrate body of Public Enemy No. 1, is no mean distinction for an offender to confer upon himself.

Until a unified State police force is organized we may expect incidents of bungling to occur repeatedly. And in the case of fugitives like Raymond Hamilton one such incident can prove extremely costly.—Texas Weekly.

HONESTY OF THE YOUNG

Scientific investigators are learning many facts about children which it is suspected parents have long known. After the experts have learned all there is to learn from their three years' study of "honesty" among school children, they will probably know no more than every parent of a normal child already knows.

Tests have been devised to discover tendencies to lie, cheat or steal. At the same time ordinary intelligence tests were given in order to show the relation between good sense and good character, if any. The results indicate the most intelligent child is likely to be most honest.

A number of questions designed to probe the religious and filial feelings were answered as might have been expected, and the children have been convicted of "overstatement." Apparently they all thought it desirable that they should seem pious and dutiful, and they said that they thought it their duty to read the Bible every day, to pick up broken glass in the street, to speak kindly to their parents and instructors, and to try to get the license number of a motor vehicle if they suspected the driver of speeding.

Most children have an uncanny knack of reading the mind of a questioner. They are as shrewdly observant as monkeys, and a really intelligent inquirer often has to resort to trickery to get to the bottom of their busy little minds.—Miss Messenger.

THE LITTLE MAN AND THE CODES

We note that the tobacco code has at last been adopted. We don't know what difference it is going to make in the price of cigarettes, if any. For that matter, we are not quite clear just what difference the code in general have made or are not likely to make.

There are certain things in which it is reasonably easy to determine what "fair practice" consists of. It certainly is not fair practice to make a profit by paying wages below what the same workers could earn somewhere else, or by compelling them to work longer hours than do other businesses in the same line. But we have never been able to see it as unfair practice for the man who has special advantages of location, facilities or access to raw materials, to profit by those advantages.

The small business man who lives in the rear of or over his shop, for example, and perhaps owns the property, ought not to be compelled to charge for his product as much as the big industry in the same line that has a heavy overhead burden of interest, taxes and rent. The most that the little fellow can do will make no appreciable dent in the big fellow's earnings, but if the big fellow will have to charge out of all proportion to his expenses, then it won't be long before the little man is put out of business. We hear complaints about the hardships they work on small business men, in many lines.

In coal mining, oil production, steel making, perhaps a number of other industries in which there is no material difference in the product, it may be all right to fix prices by means of a code. It would take a standing army ten times as big as the largest force America ever turned loose on the liquor bootleggers, to police the entire business and industrial system of the nation.—Upton Co. Journal.

THE GREAT PARADOX

In order to make the most of yourself, you must get out of yourself.

In order to enjoy yourself, to improve yourself, to build happiness for yourself, you must, very largely, forget yourself.

This essential paradox of human nature has been stated in many ways by sages in many eras. Buddha, Lao-Tse, Mohammed, the stoics, and so-called pagan philosophers generally were acquainted with it.

In recent years we have heard from some of our more popular writers on abstract subjects of the need for a new sort of faith. That is to say, getting out of yourself.

Psychologists, at least those who are not immersed in their study of human abnormalities, are telling us that the first essential in the making of a civilized man is the conquest of the ego.

And how can you better get out of yourself acquire "disinterestedness", conquer the ego, than by having a sincere interest in someone else—in many other people—in the welfare of all human beings everywhere?

That is to say: Isn't service to your fellows, care for you fellows, the open sesame to happiness and soul welfare for yourself?

Perhaps if we pursued the thought far enough we would come to a better comprehension of the rich significance of that verse in the tenth chapter of Matthew which reads:

"He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."
—Houston Chronicle.

Lectures predict a cheerless old age for us unless pension acts are passed. Why cheerless? We can always pull out the album and look at the hats women wore in 1984.—Wellington Leader.

Due to the pastor's absence from town most of last week, he was unable to give the members of the church sufficient notice about 'Kerrville Sunday'. So we are calling next Sunday 'Kerrville Sunday', and again urging the members of the church to contribute one penny for each year of their age to our summer encampment at Kerrville. Almost two thirds of our membership have already done this, and it is our desire to complete this gift in the next few days.

When we set the dates for our revival meeting some days ago we were mistaken as to the date of the closing of the local school, and now change our meeting date to a week later than previously announced. The date now agreed upon is May 29th to June 9th. We expect to be able to announce definitely next week the preacher for the meeting. The regular monthly meeting of 'The Men-of-the Church' will be held on next Wednesday evening.

A cordial welcome awaits all at the services of this church.

NECESSARY SERVICE

Electricity has brought a new era of dependable service to West Texas in recent years. Twenty-four hours of the day, approximately 43,000 homes and places of business served by this Company in 160 towns and communities rely on this service in some way every minute of the day.

Its large variety of uses acclaim its acceptance as a necessary service. Homes employ it as a means of lighting, washing and ironing, refrigeration, cleaning, water heating, cooking, air conditioning; for the operation of the radio and many small appliances. The uses of electricity in industry are innumerable. Almost every task has in some way been lightened and more nearly perfected by this necessary service. It has truly served all the people in some way and has shared immeasurably in our progress.

The West Texas Utilities Company has provided this service practically uninterrupted and economically cheap. No greater words of praise could be spoken of this service than that our customers have become so accustomed to its reliability, until today it has become a commonplace item of the household and place of business.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

EAGLES WIN THIRD PLACE IN VERIBEST TRACK MEET

By Milton Spurgers
Ten of the Senior High school track team, including Coach Williamson and one junior, went to Veribest, Texas to a track meet last Saturday. The athletes were not in as good shape as expected and did not take so many honors. Eldorado won two first places. Bill Smith won the hundred-yard dash and the relay team, (B. Smith, L. Kerr, Joe Hext, and H. Susen,) won first place. Bill Smith received a gold medal, and each of the relay runners received a gold medal. Eldorado took many places but not enough to win first place in the meet. San Angelo won first with thirty-two points, Miles second with twenty-one points, and Eldorado third with eighteen points.

The boys seem to be somewhat out of shape and intend to improve a great bit this week. They could have done much better had they been in good shape.

HAS CHANCE OF TRIP TO WASHINGTON D. C.

By Jack Hext
Zona Clare Koy was selected this morning by the pupils of Eldorado High School and by the teachers, as the candidate for the trip to Washington D. C. given by the Daughters of the American Revolution.
The method is to select one girl from every affiliated High School and send her name in to the district supervisor where names will be drawn and sent into Austin to be drawn again.
Sending one girl from every state in the United States.
Some requirements of the girl selected are dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.
This is an honor to be elected to be the candidate of your school. We are hoping Zona Clare luck because the winner will be lucky through all the drawings.

TWENTY HI-SCHOOL PUPILS ENTER DECLAMATIONS

By June Hooker
There are ten boys and ten girls in the declamations this year. The 12th of March there is to be a practice declamation in chapel. This is to be combined with Miss Howell's seventh grade students. In the future try outs are to be made and some pupils will be eliminated. Little work on declamations has been done yet but the pupils seem to be interested and we expect to have some good declamations this year.

AUTOMOBILES VS. WAR
People who are concerning themselves about the horrors of war should give a little thought to the horrors of the highway.
Keeping down war by disarmament is all right in theory, but men have always found something with which to beat their enemies. It's the same way with cars. You may take their cars away from them, but they will find something on which they can ride. As long as people ride, they are going to get hurt in some way.
So it is with temperance. Prohibiting the sale of booze is all right in theory, but men have always found something on which to get drunk.
To keep people from fighting, riding or getting drunk is a big problem. The best way I know of is to teach them to be careful. Even then some of the horseheads will fight, ride and get drunk. We must not expect too much of these fool mortals or we will scratch a disappointed head.

Why Southwestern Life Registers Every Policy It Issues

INSURANCE laws of the State of Texas provide how a life insurance company of Texas may register its policies. A registering company must deposit approved securities in an amount adequate for the protection of policyholders.

The Registration Law requires the segregation of policyholders' funds, thus preventing substitution of assets without the knowledge and consent of the State Insurance Department. Experience of the last five years has demonstrated the effect and value of registration laws.

The Registration Law makes mandatory the valuation of the required securities at the current market. A company which elects to operate under a market valuation law evidences the intention to invest policyholders' funds with added caution.

Many good companies do not elect to register their policies, and we urge policyholders of such companies to maintain their insurance in force.
