Hoover's Speech Of Acceptance Heard Around The World

Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for President, gave his speech of acceptance, in California, Saturday evening before a crowd of 75,000 people. The speech was also broadcast by radio and was heard around the world, especially by every nation where the English language is spoken. This speech was probably heard by more people than any other ever made in the world. He stands for farm aid and enforcement of prohibition. When he reached the prohibition section of his speech, the nominee paused.

"I do not favor the repeal of the 18th amendment," he said, speaking slowly. A wave of applause greeted that declaration and another rolled around the stadium with his declaration that the "social and economic" experiment of prohibition must be worked out constructively.

Again the crowd roared its approval at his declaration that crime and disobedience of law "cannot be permitted to break down the constitution and laws of the United States." Equal approbation was given to the declarations that modification is nullification and that the Republican party denies the right of any one to seek to destroy the purpose of the constitution by indirection.

"I would be untrue to my oath were I to declare otherwise," he said.

"We are with our Herbert," a voice shouted from far down in the stadium. Another wave of applause indicated approval of that sentiment.

Eldorado School Opens September 10.

Mr. E. C. Hill, president of the Eldorado School Board, announces that the Eldorado school will open Monday, September 10th. The opening of school in Eldorado has always been a happy occasion for our people.

With production in fourteen great Chevrolet factories running at a record pace for this period of the year and sales continuing at the highest summer level in the history of the company, W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company and R. H. Grant, vice president in charge of sales, left Detroit last week for a three week business tour of the entire western half of the United States.

In the course of the tour, which will include the leading business centers of the west, the Chevrolet executives will visit with Chevrolet dealers in each community, discuss individual problems and study local business conditions as they pertain to Chevrolet.

Before leaving Detroit, Mr. Knudsen announced that production in the first seven months of the year to August first totaled 869,297 cars and trucks breaking by a wide margin all former marks for this period and definitely indicating that the millionth car built in 1928 will come off the production line early in September. More than 800,000 of the "Bigger and Better" model are now in the hands of owners.

Included among the cities to be visited on the executive tour are the following and will be visited in this order: Chicago, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Oakland, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Butte and Minneapolis. In Kansas City, Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Grant will check the progress of construction work on the newest Chevrolet assembly plant now rising in that city. When completed this fall it will have a capacity of 350 cars a day and will bring Chevrolet's production facilities up to 1,250,000 units annually.

The party will return to Detroit September first in time to witness the production of the millionth Chevrolet of 1928 about ten days later.

A Storm Brevin

Mayfield Scores Connally

Greenville, Texas. — In an address here in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to a second term in the United States Senate, Earle B. Mayfield scored Tom Connally heavily, stating that Mr. Connally has deliberately undertaken to deceive the Democrats of Texas by saying that their junior United States Senator is not the author of the Amendment that directed the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate the uses of cotton, with a view of bringing about an increased utilization of that commodity, but that he, Connally, is responsible for that legislation.

"When there is any difference in Mr. Connally and myself," said Senator Mayfield, "I am willing to let the Congressional Record speak. It is true that Mr. Connally offered in the House an amendment to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill, providing $50,000.00 for a scientific investigation to discover new uses for cotton, but it is also true that his amendment was defeated by two votes, as is shown on page 853 of the Congressional Record of December 21, 1926. When the Agricultural Appropriation Bill came before the Senate, I secured the adoption of the following Amendment to the bill: 'Including the scientific and technical research into American grown cotton and its by-products and their present and potential uses, including new and additional commercial and scientific uses for cotton and its by-products.'

"My amendment is practically the same Amendment which Mr. Connally offered to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill in the House, the only difference being that his Amendment was defeated by two votes (Congressional Record, December 21, 1926, page 853) and my Amendment was adopted as is shown by the Congressional Record of January 4, 1927, page 1054. The law as printed (Public Document No. 552) carries my Amendment on page 24. Surely Mr. Connally ought not to get peevish and misrepresent my record on this matter simply because he could not do in the House of Representatives what I did in the United States Senate.

"Mr. Connally has also endeavored to deceive the Democrats of Texas by saying that I am not the author of the Cotton Classification Law, that directs the Secretary of Agriculture to make a survey of the carry-over cotton in the United States by staple length and grade, but attributes the authorship of this law to my good friend, Congressman Jones of Amarillo. I would not for one moment deny credit to Congressman Jones for the splendid work he has done for the farmers of our state, but I again say that where there is any difference between Mr. Connally and myself on legislative matters, the Congressional Record is the best evidence. On December 13, 1926, the second session of the 69th Congress, I introduced in the United States Senate S-4746 being 'A Bill Authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to Collect and Publish Statistics and Grade of Staple Length of Cotton'. This Bill passed the Senate on February 2, 1927. Congressman Jones of Texas as had introduced in the House a Bill along similar lines, but his measure contained a section providing that the Secretary of Agriculture should make monthly cotton reports instead of semi-monthly reports. My Bill (S-4746) was amended by the House Committee on Agriculture so as to include this section of the Jones Bill, which has no relation whatever to the Cotton Classification Bill, but relates alone to the number of cotton reports that the Secretary of Agriculture may make during a month. My Bill was amended, was returned to the Senate for concurrence or rejection of the House Amendment and on February 23, 1927, page 5089, as shown by the Congressional Record, upon my motion, the Senate concurred in the Jones amendment. My Bill (S-4746) as amended, was approved by the President March 3, 1927, and the printed law carries the number of my bill which was S-4746.

"One or two things must be true. If I am not the author of the Cotton Classification Law, I have deceived the Democrats of Texas. If I am the author of this law then Mr. Connally has deceived the Democrats of our State by charging in every speech he made during the first primary that I am not the author of this law. If I have imposed on the Democrats of Texas in this matter, I am unworthy of their support, and I now agree to retire from the Senatorial race if I am not the author of the Cotton Classification Law, provided Mr. Connally will agree to retire from the Senatorial contest if I am the author of this law. I suggest to Mr. Connally a plan by which the matter can be speedily determined. I am willing to leave it to the Secretary of Agriculture, whose duty it is to administer the law to say who is the author of the Cotton Classification Law. I call upon

OUTDOOR ADVERTISING

We understand the status of billboards and other signs along public highways to be, in part, as follows: the Kansas supreme court has upheld the right of the highway commission to order removal of unsightly signs along state roads. Arizona ordered all signs off of its state highways by August 1. Georgia has done the same or taken similar action, but has included a ban on cutting trees needlessly. Efforts are being made to have the New York legislature tax billboards. Various states requires licenses.

A movement is on foot to regulate outdoor advertising rather than confiscate it. It is a question now far the law can go, but public opinion precedes good laws and public opinion is being formulated strongly against billboard and especially the innumerable "hot dog" type of sign along the roads.

A discriminatory tax would be self-evidently illegal if imposed against property used for billboard purposes or for the maintenance of billboards themselves. A reasonable license would be legal enough, but not sufficiently prohibitive to do away with billboards. The power to tax being the power to destroy, the act of taxing excessively would itself raise the question of legality.

It seems that grounds of safety alone would warrant the strict regulation, if not the elimination, of highway advertising. No one denies that inattention causes the most automobile accidents; that is inattention in its various forms of carelessness. Reading billboards and driving a motor car do not mix very well. Billboards at points of danger such as curves, grades and narrow places tend to cause inattention and confusion.

It is the governments duty or business to keep its public roads free from ugliness, especially since the greater portion of the population spend much of its time on the roads. To abolish billboards, some would say that it would destroy great industries, but the history of mankind is the history of the abolishment of industry when something better takes its place. Beauty and safety are always better than ugliness and danger.

Mr. Connally to say if he will accept my proposition. If he refuses to accept the proposition, then he should apologize to the Democrats of Texas for misquoting the record as to the authorship of the Cotton Classification Law".

Upton County Has Election Contest

W. C. Fowler, defeated candidate in the Sheriff's race in Upton county is contesting the election in that county and is asking for a run off in the Sheriff's race. Judge J. F. Sutton, is representing Fowler. There were 651 votes in the race divided among four men, Barfield 220 and Fowler 194, the two highest.

Judge Sutton filed application for writ of mandamus and at the same time entered suit to contest the entire election in Upton county.

Notice

To the patrons of Eldorado School whose children I taught during the last 6 weeks of the long term and during the 6 weeks summer session which I have just closed, I wish to extend my appreciation of your hearty cooperation. From every home the child seemed to receive an incentive to work and win. I have thoroughly enjoyed my work from the first day to the last — it is a pleasure to work under such conditions. I wish to express my regrets that I am not to be a teacher next year. I am confident that I would have been just an efficient teacher married as single and I attribute my success so far to the fact that I have never neglected duty for pleasure and that is my watchword and in no wise would I have neglected your interest had I been allowed to hold the position which I had been elected.

I did not decide to get married now until after Mr. Uller had secured his position in San Angelo. I wish for each parent and child the best and wish in this way to make a public expression of the appreciation my work here has received from the people.

LIONS LUNCHEON

The Eldorado Lions Club was royally entertained at the Methodist Church, Wednesday, August 15, with a chicken barbecue prepared by the ladies of that group to be real Lions in deavouring the chicken and other food that was placed before them.

The club was honored with two guests, Rev. J. C. Young, Cotulla, Texas and Mr. Munce, County agent of Jackson county.

Music was rendered by the Ford sisters and was enjoyed by all present.

The Club meets again at the Methodist church, Wednesday September, 5th.

Bert Page closed a deal several days ago for the Loftin Henderson ranch, about 8 miles east of town. This ranch consists of ten sections of land. We did not receive the price paid. Mr. Page recently sold his ranch near Mayer to the Wardlaw Brothers.

High Line For Eldorado

Mr. J. D. Westbrook, manager of West Texas Utilities, here, reports that work on the High Line from San Angelo to Eldorado will begin within two weeks. This line will carry 66,000 volts. The Company will also build a large brick business house in Eldorado, this will be completed by January 1, 1929. As soon as the High Line from San Angelo reaches here Electricity for all purposes will be available.

Eldorado welcomes this news with enthusiasm and looks forward to the completion of the projects as it means much to our city.

J. A. Whitten, one of the leaders of the Eldorado Baptist Church, was re-elected to head the Christoval Encampment for another year. The Encampment closed last Sunday night. The attendance was not as large as usual but the changing of the weather probably was the cause.

A CENTURY OF

RAILROAD HISTORY

Probably few Americans, to whom the spectacle and service of great railroad train that carries them swiftly and safely over thousands of miles of track is nothing unusual, know that it was but one hundred years ago that the modest, experimental antecedents of the great monsters of today came into being in this country.

In 1828 work was started on our first railroad line, the Baltimore and Ohio. And two years later, in 1830 there were but 13 miles of rail in use. In 1926, after the passage of less than a century, railroad mileage totaled 412,361; there were 1,833,398 employes, and the lines paid combined federal, state and local taxes of over $1,000,000 a day.

The story of this tremendous progress is one of the greatest of modern romances. What our grandfathers laughed at were destined to become the necessities of the future. Few people of the time would have believed that the absurd little engines and cars were the beginning of an industry which was to be called the backbone of modern life.

The railroads were built by men of vision, working towards an ideal. They are an example of what American initiative, efficiency and science can do.

REAL PROTECTION FOR INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE

"Some farm leaders, fortunately they represent but a minority of our real farmers, have declared if they could not get legislation which would raise the price of farm products they would insist on legislation which would reduce the price of manufactured goods," said the Cando, North Dakota, Herald, recently. "This is taken to mean that if they cannot get prices raised by statute—always an uncertain and perilous undertaking—they will insist that the protective tariff rates be reduced. They threaten this action under the mistaken impression that it would help the farmer.

"No theory could be farther from the truth. In the first place, it is to be doubted whether removing the tariff would reduce the cost of living. Certain it is that the cost of living was not increased by the passage of the Fardney-McCumber tariff. And certain it is too that all of the products which are used exclusively on the farm are now on the free list anyhow."

Behind all of the talk about the tariff is one unalterable fact: The tariff is our protection against competition from countries where the wage scale and living standard is so low as to be hardly imaginable in this nation of high wages and luxuries. And the farmer and the industrial worker are two great classes of citizens who benefit from this necessary protection.

ANCIENT BELLS

More than 150 years ago King Carlos V of Spain presented a set of chimes to Santa Clara Mission, Santa Clara, California, with the request that the bells be rung each day at nightfall. This request was faithfully carried out for more than a century and a half, during which the mission became the nucleus of Santa Clara University, founded in 1851.

The old mission recently burned down, but the chimes were saved and will be installed in the belfry of the new mission now being built. In this they are to be rung by electricity, and will continue their evening peal as asked for by Carlos V.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment Providing For A State Board Of Education And Relating To Terms Of School Officers.

H. J. R. No. 14.)
Proposing to amend Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto Section 16, providing that the term of all officers of the public free school system, including State institutions of higher education, may be fixed not to exceed six years; proposing to amend Section 8 of Article 7 of said Constitution, authorizing the appointment or election of a State Board to serve not to exceed six years; requiring said amendment to be submitted to the people for adoption and making appropriations therefor.

Be it resolved, by the Legislature of the State of Texas, Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 16 as follows: "The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the State institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

Sec. 2. That Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"The Legislature shall provide by law for a State Board of Education, whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 3. The foregoing constitutional amendments shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held on the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

(1) "For the amendment to Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

Article 7, adding Section 16, providing that school officers, including boards of institutions of higher education, shall serve for a term not exceeding six years."

(2) "For the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

"Against the amendment to Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a State Board of Education."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the Above listed clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment to which it relates.

Sec. 4. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendments set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and the laws of this State. And the sum of five thousand (5,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

Not all men who look for stenographers want letters written.

Another funny thing is, so many dyed-in-the-wool Democrats raise cotton.

It is strange how hard men will work to become public servants.

A man is known by the company he keeps and the company that keeps him.

It's a good thing that fat man is jolly. He doesn't sit down on us so often when he's that way.

It is not so much an economic loss taking the marines to Nicaragua. They are certainly earning their money, they get.

Commissioner Doran announces that dry agents will wear distinctive caps and shields when on the highways. Why not make them ring a bell like they do in China?

The opposing parties will try to travel to the White House by punching each other's tickets. That seems better than punching each other's face like they used to do in the olden days.

The Hungarian government decree orders 50,000 gypsies to give up their nomadic habits and other characteristic ways of living and settle down as responsible citizens. This would be a good order to impose on motorists in this country.

CITATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Schleicher County, Greetings:

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in Schleicher County, Texas, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County, where a newspaper is published once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof you summon E. Roberts whose residence is unknown to the plaintiff, and the heirs and assigns of E. Roberts, deceased, whose names and residences are unknown to the plaintiff to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Schleicher County, Texas, at the regular term thereof to be held at the Court House in Eldorado, Texas, on the second Monday after the first Monday in September, 1928, same being the 17th day of September, A. D. 1928, then and there to answer the plaintiff's petition, filed in a suit in said court on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1928, wherein W. B. Roberts is plaintiff and E. Roberts, and the unknown heirs and assigns of E. Roberts, deceased and J. E. Estes are defendants. File number of the said suit being No. 394.

The nature of the plaintiff's cause of action being as follows:

Suit in trespass to try title by plaintiff against defendants and for the title and possession of Lots number Two (2), Five (5), and Six (6) in Block Forty (40) to the Town of Eldorado, Schleicher County, Texas. Plaintiff alleging that on or about July, 30, 1928, he was lawfully seized and possessed of said land and premises by fee simple title and that he and those whose estate in said lands he has held have paid taxes due thereon for a period of more than five years claiming to have good and perfect right and title thereto, have had and held peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of same, cultivating, using and enjoying the same for a period of more than three years and for a period for more than five years, and for a period for more than ten years after the defendants cause of action, if any, accrued therefor, and before the commencement of this suit; such possession being under memorandum of title specifying the boundaries of said land duly recorded in the County Clerk's office of Schleicher County, Texas, prior to said ten year period. Plaintiff alleging that defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected him therefrom on or about July 30, 1928, and alleging the annual rental value thereof to be $5,000.00 plaintiff sues for $250.00 damages and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness John F. Isaacs, clerk of the District Court of Schleicher County, Texas.

Given under my hand and seal of said court in the town of Eldorado, Texas, this 10th day of August, 1928.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment—Authorizing Legislature To Exempt From Taxation Parsonages, And Certain Property Of Associations For Religious, Educational And Physical Development.

H. J. R. No. 20.)

House Joint Resolution, Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution of the State, so as to authorize the Legislature to exempt from taxation any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society, and property used exclusively and reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; providing for an election upon such proposed Constitutional Amendment, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution be so changed as to read hereafter as follows:

All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority levying the tax; but the Legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship, also any property owned by a church or by a strictly religious society for the exclusive use as a dwelling place for the ministry of such church or religious society, and which yields no revenue whatever to such church or religious society; provided that such exemption shall not extend to more property than is reasonably necessary for a dwelling place and in no event more than one acre of land; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons necessary for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools; and any other property the use of which is reasonably necessary in conducting any association engaged in promoting the religious, educational and physical development of boys, girls, young men or young women operating under a State or National organization of like character; also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit; and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages, that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1928, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry"; and all those opposed shall write on their ballots the words "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, exempting from taxes property owned by churches or strictly religious societies for the exclusive use as dwellings for the ministry".

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) or such thereof as may be necessary, hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of said publication and election.

160,000 ACRES OF COTTON

"WHAT OF IT?... Supposing Dunlop does require all the cotton from 160,000 acres. What does that mean to my pocketbook?"

Just this. Dunlop has grown great because Dunlops save money. Over 26,000,000 Dunlops are now in use—each one saving money for its owner.

Last year, Dunlop required the cotton from 160,000 acres, and all of this cotton was spun into cable-twist cord at Dunlop's own cotton mills.

Dunlops are better tires—with greater safety, greater tread mileage, and greater carcass strength. Otherwise they couldn't have justified their slightly higher initial cost.

Yes... the 26 million Dunlops now in use are your guarantee that Dunlop must build only the best.

Save money—equip with Dunlops!

ELECTRICITY AND MACHINERY REVOLUTIONIZING AGRICULTURE

In the past few years an agricultural revolution has been taking place that has given the farmer new standards of living, efficiency, speed and economy. The weapons of the revolution have been rural electrification and machinery.

Electricity does a great deal more than merely enable the farmer to earn more money through the use of power. It is freeing him from much of the drudgery and discomfort that has been associated with agricultural pursuits since time immemorial.

Modern machine equipment is working improvements along the same line. "If the eight leading crops of 1923 had been produced by hand methods a century ago it would have required over 1-1/2 billion more days than was actually expended," said the Progress

THERE is nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin for all sorts of aches and pains, but be sure it is genuine Bayer; that name must be on the package, and on every tablet. Bayer is genuine, and the word genuine—in red—is on every box. You can't go wrong if you will just look at the box when you buy it.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic Acid

MORE POWER, LESS EXPENSE

Electric plants in the United States generate 12 times as much energy as the plants of England and serve ten times as many customers, but with only seven times the investment. The British government owns and operates the electric industry in England.

sive Farmer recently. "With wages at $3 a day, except for cotton at $2, the total saving in favor of the machine methods was over 3/4 billion dollars."

The value to agriculture of such a machine as the tractor, for example, is inestimable. It has performed miracles, in points of efficiency, service and labor saving.

In the farm home electricity has found its place with the result that the housewife is relieved of a multitude of burdens. Electric stoves, lights, cleaners, and various other appliances are emancipating her from toil and giving her leisure.

It was but a short time ago that we heard of a movement of young men from the farms to the cities. They were unwilling to suffer the rigorous life of their ancestors, and they were eager to take advantage of modern progress.

The growth of farm electrification and modern machinery is changing that. It is bringing about a back to the farm spirit instead.

Electricity and farm machinery are immeasurably increasing rural health and happiness and comfort and prosperity. In the past few years modern farmers have progressed more than their forebears did in a whole century.

IN THE MATTER OF THE (IN THE COMMISSIONERS' QUARTERLY REPORT OF COURT SCHLEICHER CO.

Mrs. A. E. Kent, Treasurer, Schleicher County, Texas, August Term, 1928.

FLEXIBLE BANKING AND INSURANCE ESSENTIAL

Fire and casualty insurance must always deal with an unknown quantity as the hazards which surround property and individuals are constantly changing. As an illustration, who can predict the probable risk to life and property that will follow the increasing use of the airplane in the next ten years.

There is periodic agitation in some quarters to have the state attempt to set fire and accident insurance rates. Insurance companies base their rates on their average loss experiences over a long period of years. Any competent rate making body would have to adopt the same policy or simply "guess" at suitable rates.

It is well for the state to regulate insurance companies from the standpoint of assuring financial stability for the protection of the insured, just as it insures greater safety for deposits in banks by subjecting such institutions to state and federal examination and regulation. But when it comes to attempting to make rates for fire and casualty insurance, public regulatory bodies are getting into deep water and are tampering with the whole structure of our industrial and business life. It would be as dangerous to do this as it would for the state to tamper with the actual management and operation of our banks.

Given sound public regulation as to financial set-up and assurance of security to customers, banking and insurance should be left free to adjust their costs of

TAX REFORM BEGINS AT HOME

"Clearly the solution of our local tax problem is local," said the Wall Street Journal recently. "New England is already beginning to perceive that imposing heavy tax burdens on the textile industry is no way to secure employment, profits and prosperity. The farmer in the west is carrying a much heavier burden in taxes than freight rates ever imposed. It was his own politicians who imposed the taxes after they had fooled him into believing that somebody else would pay them. Here is another case where reform begins at home."

"This is a subject that requires much more discussion than it has received. Our local tax burden is more than twice as heavy as that imposed for Federal purposes and it is growing worse at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year. Various ways of bringing about a reform have been suggested. Many of them are valuable and practical, such as more explicit and standardized budget laws. But the difficulties in the main are unsolved and the tax burden imposed by local units of government continues to soar skyward.

The tax situation must be considered one of the most important problems of the times. If the reason is the obvious one—that politics has deserted business methods—it is high time that we put business again into government before the expense reaches such dimensions that it permanently damages our prosperity.—Industrial News.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 51, of Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

"The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporation whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to individual and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient, and to their widows in indigent circumstances under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; to indigent and disabled soldiers, who, under special laws of the State of Texas, during the war between the States, served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raids or Mexican marauders, and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia who were in active service during the war between the States, and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances, and who are or may be eligible to receive aid under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient; and also grant for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederate and limitations as may be provided for by law; provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2 The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances, and authorizing tax levy therefor," and "Against the constitutional amendment authorizing aid to Confederate soldiers and sailors and their widows in indigent circumstances and authorizing tax levy therefor." Each voter shall scratch out one of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum-Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

The pilgrimage to the motion pictures centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag

Twenty-four "estates" representing 5 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

Not surmising that he is being trapped and seeing only the big inheritance which he is led to believe he will soon receive, he draws the amount necessary from his savings account and sends it on, not knowing he is actually throwing it away. But he is, for like thousands and thousands of other rainbow chasers, he parts with it for the last time.

So-called estate schemes which have produced thousands of "heirs" and at a

TELEPHONE GROWTH RESULT OF RESEARCH

Fifty-two years ago there were two telephones in the world, both of them inventors models. Today the United States alone has more than 18,000,000 and the world's total surpasses 29,000,000.

The public has a fair understanding of the more concrete facts of telephone progress; of the extensions, the gradual perfection of the mechanics of transmission, of the constantly bettered service.

It knows less of the intensive research, behind the scenes, that has made our telephone history possible.

The industry has taken the best science can offer to solve step by step the many problems that have presented themselves. Perfection of the telephone art, or any other, can only be reached by the most continuous experimentation.

No difficulty, no matter how imposing, can discourage these workers of progress. And in half a century they have paved the way for transforming those first two rude instruments into a gigantic industry absolutely necessary to modern life and business.

Today 3,700 people make up this laboratory division. We have seen fruits of their labors recently, in television, and transatlantic telephony. Every citizen, whether he uses his telephone to settle a great business venture with a party miles away, or to make a date to play golf with Jones down the street, owes them a debt.

STOP THE KILLING BETTER THAN PAY AS YOU KILL

Compulsory automobile insurance instead of reducing accidents would have the opposite effect of the United States Casualty, said Edson S. Lott, President of the United States Casualty Company, in a recent address.

According to Mr. Lott a recent survey showed that 15,000,000 automobiles in the United States caused 600,000 injuries. Of the latter, 400,000 of the injured persons were themselves at fault, leaving but 33 1/3 per cent of the cases with possible indemnity.

The consequence of such enforced insurance would be that 14,900,000 automobiles would be burdened with expense in order to provide for the possible 100,000 which would be entirely at fault.

We can't understand why accidents would be lessened by automobile insurance, Mr. Lott continued. On the contrary persons compelled to carry insurance against their will would be inclined to be more careless.

I prefer a slogan of stop the killing to pay as you kill.

This opinion seems logical. It takes a peculiar mental process to reach the conclusion that, if a reckless or irresponsible driver is covered by an insurance policy that makes him safe from financial responsibility, he will immediately become careful or responsible.

Compulsory insurance is the theory that would place a great burden on the majority of the drivers who are careful and capable, without curing the evil it is aimed at.—Industrial News.

THE ENLARGED SPHERE OF SERVICE

No one can say who does the most good in the world. There is no well defined list of "Who's Who" in the field of service to humanity and advancement of the race. Loyalty to one's own community in a particular activity may result in as much good as devoted work toward a national or world ideal. The attainments may not be heralded as far and wide, the doer may not shine in the public light as one who receives the greater acclaim yet in his humble capacity he may have accomplished things more permanent and lasting.

We are not all fitted for work requiring great executive ability, but we can all do our part in maintaining a well ordered government and advancing the cause of morality, social intercourse and education.

It may be questioned that community cooperation and loyalty are stepping stones to national solidarity. Yet every man or woman who has achieved prominence in nation from good works was once, and is still, if living, a man or woman thought of right at home in his or her own community. One can not step from humble station into fame that comes from honest accomplishment — into eminence because of merit — without having had the background of responsibility to his or her own people. [Transients have come and gone, paraded before the spotlight of fame, soon to be forgotten. But behind every truly great effort has been a background of simplicity, of obedience to law, of honest intention and of service to the institutions of civilization all along the line.]

The ways of success are hard. The steps to success are high and steep. A well rounded career is the product of service to home and county, state and nation. It is no easy task to fulfill the obligations of citizenship unless one is willing to sacrifice selfish interest for public good. Then the rewards are ample and cumulates and becomes its own reward.

The enlargement of the sphere of service is not necessarily the attempting of great tasks, but the performance of any work or obligation with a view of perfection. To enlarge one's sphere of service is to concentrate upon the humble jobs that are laid out to be done. To do them well is to gain the capacity for larger things.

A citizen's first obligation is to his community, which includes his home, his schools, his church, his business and all other factors and institutions
