GET SHEEP KILLER

Palmer West and Reuben Dickens were driving along one day last week when they saw a bald eagle—a regular "lamb getter" in this section. They declared war on the bird, firing three shots into him as they drove along before he was brought to the ground. They brought the eagle into town. He had a wing spread of 6 feet and 10 inches.

BITTERWEED TROUBLE

The Joyner's who reside in the Reynolds community, are having trouble with bitterweed which has been killing their sheep.

We met Pat Joyner one day last week, and he was grazing his sheep along the right-of-way of the county roads, looking for a place to pasture them. Pat had a contraption fixed up in his truck, and was making his temporary home there, staying with his sheep day and night.

Pat had some 100 sheep that were sick from eating bitterweed and several had died. He had the sick ones penned up at home and was doctoring them.

AN IRREPAIRABLE LOSS

The Success suffers the loss of a personal friend in the sudden death of Ora Davis, superintendent of operations at the Shell Pipeline Co. pump station. News of his sudden death was a distinct shock to us.

Davis lived the life that exemplified true Christian manhood. He was a valuable asset to his company, to this county and its citizenship. In the home he was a devoted father and husband, and his passing has left a vacancy that can never be filled. We had occasion to visit in the Davis home recently, and there we found devotion to his wife and children, a welcome for friends and acquaintances and a warmth of friendship in that Christian home that made one feel happier for having visited there.

Davis never greeted you without that cordial, friendly greeting, a hearty handclasp and a

RESULTS OF LAMB FEEDING IN COUNTY GIVEN IN REPORT

Editor's Note.—The following article, showing the results of lamb feeding projects among the 4-H Club boys of this county, was taken from the annual report of C. Snell, county agent, which has been sent to the Extension Service at College Station.

Boy's 4-H Club Work

Boys' 4-H Club work has been one of the major activities of Extension Work in Schleicher county. The enrollment was increased from 9 boys to 21 boys during 1936. These boys fed out two different bunches of lambs this year, one bunch for the spring show and the second for the fall show. The following is the result of the spring show.

Twenty-one club boys of Schleicher county finished their club demonstration for the year during the month of March. These boys fed out 227 lambs showed them and finally sold them for $1,906.80. They received $621.00 in prize money, making a total for their year $2,527.00.

Forty-four lambs were trucked to Houston to be shown there. One lamb was sent to Ft. Worth to be shown there, and the remaining 43 were sold in Houston. Eighty-four lambs were trucked to San Angelo to be shown there, and 12 of these were sent to Ft. Worth to be shown there, the remaining 72 being sold in San Angelo. All other lambs which were left at home were trucked to Ft. Worth for the show. After being shown, the lambs were sold in Ft. Worth.

The following is the result of the fall show: Nine 4-H Club boys put 142 lambs on feed in

It's "Happy Holidays" For Many Parents When Boys And Girls Return From School

SEVEN COLLEGES OF STATE ARE REPRESENTED BY ELDORADO STUDENTS

Many parents in Eldorado have enjoyed "happy holidays" this Christmas, as the dozens of students who are away in the colleges and universities of the state came in to spend the holidays with home folks. Happy as these young folks are to be home for this short vacation period, their joy is equalled by the happiness that radiates from the hearts of these parents as they welcome their children to the home fireside again.

It's a happy experience to be able to "go home" for Christmas, to have the family gather about you as you tell of the "happenings" on the college campus. And such, we imagine, were the scenes in many homes of Schleicher county this season. Holidays over, these college students will begin returning to the various Texas institutions during the latter part of this week. Among those who were home from school for the Christmas holidays were the following:

Texas University—R. L., Jr., Bell and Jim Edgar Sample, Mary Jess Koy, Zona Clare Koy, Jetty Grace DeLong, Margaret Hill, John E. Rodgers and Roberta Milligan.

Howard Payne—Joe Turner Hext, Ruby Quinn, Aris Carr, Felix Susen, Gene Lewis, John Alexander and Kenneth Green.

A & M. College—D. E. DeLong, Jr., Clement Sauer and Cecil Moore.

Hardin-Simmons, Grace Ratliff.

Texas Tech—Jack Shugart and Jack Meador.

John Tarleton, Margaret Powers.

C. I. A., Celeste Tisdale and Nell Campbell.

Two Eagle Players On All Southwester Football Eleven

CLEMENT AND BRUTON ARE NAMED; JACK HEXT GETS HONORABLE MENTION

Tony Slaughter, conductor of "The Southwester" in the San Angelo Standard-Times, with the aid of coaches, officials and fans, has selected the All Southwester football squad for 1936. The squad was selected from high school team comprising a territory from Lampasas on the east to Alpine on the west, Rocksprings on the south and Wink and Midland on the north.

Eldorado High School came in for her share of the honors when two players, Johnnie Clement, q. b., and Richard Bruton, tackle, were selected on the all southwester team out of the 1,500 boys.

"Johnnie Clement," says Slaughter, "Eldorado's modest and cool signal barker, proved to be one of the most deadly passers in all West Texas, completing 41 out of 78 heaves, nine of which went for touchdowns. He intercepted 14 enemy tosses and returned four for touchdowns. A deadly tackler and good blocker, Clement changed the Eldorado club from a tail ender to a title contender."

This was Clement's last year of high school football, but Bruton still has two more years with the local squad and promises to be the mainstay for Eldorado next year.

Jack Hext, halfback, received honorable mention in the Southwester.

This is a distinct honor to both the school and the boys who were named on the squad. It reveals that football is taken seriously as a clean and important sport in Eldorado High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ratliff and two children returned to their home in Shreveport, Louisiana, Wednesday after spending the Christmas holidays here with Mr. Ratliff's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff.

Ora Davis, Supt. At Shell Station, Claimed By Death Friday

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK ON HUNT; LIVES ONLY ABOUT THIRTY MINUTES

Ora Davis, well known resident of this county for several years, died suddenly last Friday afternoon at his home at the Shell Pipeline Company's pump station in this county. Mr. Davis, who was chief engineer and superintendent of operations at the station, suffered a heart attack while duck hunting, and died before medical aid could reach him.

Mr. Davis, 50 years old, had been a resident of this county for several years, during which time he was employed at the Shell station. Although a member of the First Christian church, Mr. Davis was active in the Methodist church of Eldorado. He stood for the higher things of life, and his Christian character radiated its influence among those with whom he came in contact.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Kate Davis, two sons and a daughter, who are Chas. W., Ora D., Jr., and Katherine Pauline. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Rachel S. Davis of Big Cabin, Okla., and three brothers, William, of Big Cabin, Fred H. and M. L. Davis, both of Kansas City, Mo.

The body was prepared for burial by the Eldorado Funeral Service and was shipped to Big Cabin, his former home for burial. Fred A. Watson accompanied the body, while Ben Hext

COMPLIANCE SUPERVISORS ARE GETTING CHECKS

Compliance supervisors, who measured the land of Schleicher county farmers for compliance in the 1936 conservation program, are receiving their final checks this week.

The checks, which represent payment for the last work done by the supervisors, arrived at the county agent's office during the first of this week.

Funeral Services For Mrs. W. C. Benton Held On Friday

RESIDENT OF COUNTY FOR 29 YEARS PASSES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. W. C. Benton, for many years a loved and respected citizen of Eldorado, passed away at the Benton home in Eldorado at 12:05 a. m. Christmas day. Mrs. Benton had been ill for a period of several months.

A resident of this county for 29 years, Mrs. Benton was known by practically every citizen. She was a native Texan, having been born near Quitman, Wood county, Texas, on May 21, 1871. She was a member of the Baptist church, a true Christian mother and neighbor, and as such won the love and respect of everyone, both young and old.

Surviving her are a son, Jarvis Benton of Eldorado, and a daughter, Mrs. W. F. Meador, also of Eldorado.

Funeral services were held from the Benton home at three o'clock Friday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. J. L. Ratliff, and interment was made in the Eldorado cemetery by the Eldorado Funeral Service.

Pallbearers were John Williams, C. L. Meador, Jr., Don McCormick, J. W. Lawhon, Jr., T. P. Robinson and Palmer West.

Honorary Pallbearers were A. P. Bailey, L. M. Hoover, C. M. McWhorter, H. W. Finley, D. C. Royster, Sam Oglesby, T. W. Johnson, Joe B. Edens, J. E. Spencer, J. E. Hill, D. E. DeLong, J. A. Whitten, W. T. Whitten, F. M. Bradley, Jas. B. Sammons, Leslie L. Baker, F. H. Ellington and L. W. Steen.

The Success extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

OYSTER DINNER IS SERVED LIONS CLUB MEMBERS WEDNESDAY

Lion D. C. Royster gave the Lions a real treat at the regular meeting Wednesday. Believing that they had eaten enough turkey to do them until next Christmas, he served them with an oyster dinner.

Reports were heard from several committees, among which was a report of the committee which worked with other clubs and organizations of the town in distributing Christmas packages to various families of Eldorado. The work of each individual club member was complimented very highly.

Lion C. Snell acted as chairman in the absence of Lion President Whitten. Twenty members and three visitors were present. The visitors were T. K. Jones, Dutch Ohlenburg and N. G. Lyles of Ft. Stockton.

VISIT IN KENT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Alsop and daughters and, Miss Pauline Kent, all of San Antonio; Edwin Kent of Wickett, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Waldrep of Melvin were visitors in the home of Mrs. A. E. Kent and family for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Leudecke who are stationed at Hamilton Field, California are spending the week with Mr. Leudecke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Leudecke.

Schleicher Lambs Gaining Reputation In Other States

PHOTOGRAPH OF LAMBS TO BE PUBLISHED IN WYOMING BOOK

The reputation which has been gained by Schleicher county lambs through the feeding operations of Schleicher county 4-H club boys is borne out in a letter received recently by Ed Hill, manager of the Eldorado Wool House, from J. M. Jones, chief of the Division of Range Animal Husbandry, A. & M. College of Texas.

In the letter to Mr. Hill, Chief Jones advised that Prof. F. S. Hultz of the Animal Production Department of the University of Wyoming is preparing a text covering the history of the Rambouillet breed of sheep. Prof. Hultz desires to obtain for publication in this book an actual photograph of a group or carlot of fat Rambouillet wethers.

To meet that requirement, Mr. Jones requested that Prof. Hultz be furnished a picture of one of the champion carloads of lambs which have been exhibited by Eldorado Club boys.

$69,000.00 IS DUE SCHLEICHER COUNTY IN 1936 FARM PAYMENTS

A total of approximately $69,000 will be paid this county in the agricultural adjustment and conservation program for 1936, according to the annual report of C. Snell, county agent.

It is estimated that $62,010 is due this county for compliance in the 1936 agricultural conservation program, and cotton subsidy payments amount to $7,060.57, and has already been received.

Citizens of this county are due to get their checks soon after the county analysis is adjusted. The analysis is now in the county agent's office, and ready for adjustment.

EMPTY STOCKING FUND

Christmas cheer was taken to twelve homes in Eldorado by means of the "Empty Stocking Fund." In these homes there were altogether about fifty children. Gifts were distributed late Christmas Eve by some members of the Lion's Club. The committee in charge of raising funds and purchasing gifts was composed of representatives from almost all service organizations in town. There was splendid cooperation, and the members of the committee worked diligently.

A sum of $67.36 was raised. Of this amount $42.16 was spent for clothes, $6.54 for groceries, and $5.83 for toys. In addition to these purchases there were generous donations of fruit, bread and cookies, and toys by various merchants in town. Several individuals gave enough chickens and turkeys for every family to have a fowl for Christmas dinner.

There remains a balance of $12.83 which the committee will appropriate to some needy local cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Chrise-man spent Christmas in Big Lake visiting with Mr. Chrise-man's parents.

ADVERTISING SELLS COMMODITIES

Before Thanksgiving this year, progressive food stores of the country carried on an aggressive turkey sales campaign. More turkeys were sold than ever before, and at prices that were attractive to consumer as well as producers.

Sales methods varied some what in different localities—but the participating stores seemed to appreciate the value and necessity of newspaper advertising. For example, here is an excerpt from the report of one large system carried in all the principal metropolitan and rural newspapers in our territory. "Before our Thanksgiving demands had been filled there was a decided scarcity of turkeys of the top grade in our market." Another concern reported: "We have advertised turkey in approximately 250 newspapers this week as well as 750,000 circulars which were distributed to the consuming public's homes. Present indications are that we sold about 30 per cent more turkeys for Thanksgiving this year than a year ago."

Newspapers have been a potent factor in other food sales campaigns—such as the recent beef and real drive. Similar future campaigns—of which the first will feature grapefruit—are planned.

It is apparent that this is good business all around—for the farmer, for the merchant, for newspaper and for the consumer. In the past, some retailers have attempted to eliminate newspaper advertising—and they have usually found that it was the poorest kind of economy. "The paper"—whether it be a daily or weekly—is a fixture of the American home and finds an eager audience.

Food stores which have not yet joined in special selling campaigns would do well to take a leaf from the book of the stores which have. Pay the farmer a fair price, charge the consumer a fair price, advertise extensively—and consumption of commodities soars.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National political interest has naturally been focused on Washington during the past year. As a result, local governments have come in for only a modicum of attention.

In 1937, however, local politics will be of vital importance. During January, no less than 43 state legislatures will convene.

Before these legislatures will be many highly important questions. One of those questions is that of relief—Federal appropriations for this purpose are gradually being reduced, and tremendous pressure will be brought on states to appropriate funds to supplement the lost Federal dollars.

Only a handful of states have yet passed laws to bring their citizens completely under the Social Security Act. In the bulk of states such laws will be up for debate and considerable dissension is in prospect.

Furthermore, in practically every state local problems of more than ordinary significance will be an issue. The question of public economy and taxation is looming larger every day—and the collection and disbursement of public funds is being more closely scrutinized. In at least one state, California, revision of the state constitution is considered.

Thus, during the next month or two, more of the political news in your newspapers will be given to state activities.

Long debated has been the proposal that the President of the United States should be restricted, by law, to but a single term of six years' duration.

Prime argument in favor of the proposal is that under present conditions, Presidents are virtually forced to build political fences during their first term in an effort to assure their reelection. The single term would stop that long established practice.

A bill to pave the way for a Constitutional amendment making the proposal the law of the land will probably be introduced in the Congress.

IN THE INTEREST OF PEACE

At this writing, President Roosevelt is on his way to the inter-American Peace conference at Buenos Aires, where he will make a speech the first day and then return. He was preceded south by an imposing American delegation headed by Secretary of State Hull—implacable fighter for better commercial and diplomatic relations between countries.

There has been considerable discussion concerning the value or the futility of the conference. Some point out, with truth, that there is no danger of a war arising in North or South America, that Europe and the East are the danger spots.

However, it is the President's belief—which is shared by many—that if the nations of the Western Hemisphere show Europe that a round-table discussion of issues can lead to amicable settlements and agreements, some progress toward world peace will be made. And it is likewise believed that if the President takes a forthright and aggressive stand for peace and throws his vast prestige against armed conflict, heads of powers which are now close to war may think again before giving the command to open hostilities.

The President's trip to Buenos Aires is thus in the nature of a gesture in a world which was never nearer to armed chaos. As a matter of fact, in recent months there have been more occurrences contributory to war than there were in 1912 and 1913.

Everyone hopes that gesture will be productive of good. In the meantime, it seems that every seasoned news commentator and every old-time war correspondent, is certain that war in Europe and Asia is inevitable—one of the leading correspondents recently stated, on departing for Europe, that he was going to cover the next war.

The Italo-German recognition of the Spanish rebels has further widened the cleavage between these powers and France and Sussia. The greatest force existing today in both Europe and Asia is the force of hatred.

REALIZES AMBITION

Austin, Dec. 30.—A young man's ambition formed nearly thirty years ago materialized on December 14 when Dr. George W. Cox was chosen State Health Officer. Through busy years in the practice of medicine and surgery Dr. Cox nursed the desire to engage in public health work. Dr. Cox as a youthful physician accepted appointment of Governor Thomas M. Campbell to be in charge of quarantine stations at Brownsville and Corpus Christi. During that four years of service he developed an abiding interest in public health work.

Dr. Cox has had a varied and interesting career in medical and health service. He was born at Gonzales and educated in public schools there and at Polytechnic College at Fort Worth. Later he was in the University of Texas and Vanderbilt University, where he studied pharmacy and advanced chemistry. He was for a time a pharmacist and in the drug business at Corpus Christi. He studied medicine two years in the University of Texas Medical College at Galveston and received his degree after two more years of study at Tulane University, in 1906. It was shortly thereafter that he was appointed by Governor Campbell in the quarantine service, then maintained by the State and later taken over by the United States Public Health Service. Later he practiced medicine at Corpus Christi and was at Ozona for a time before moving to Del Rio, where he has practiced general medicine and surgery for the past seventeen years.

Dr. Cox was a charter member and is past president of the Del Rio Rotary Club and has been active in all civic affairs of his town. Since he was appointed by Governor James V. Allred as a member of the State Board of Health in January, 1935, Dr. Cox has devoted much of his time to an intensive study of public health problems in America. A few months ago he resigned his membership on the Board and since then has been engaged in a study of the public health systems in Kentucky and New York, and the United States Public Health Service in Washington.

Mrs. Cox, wife of the new State Health Officer, also has had an extensive career in civic work. She is president of the fifty-two counties extending from Austin to the Rio Grande border. She is a director of the Del Rio Red Cross and past chairman of the Board. She is a past president of the Federal Church Auxiliaries and past president of the Bible Literature Committee of the State Federation. She is a past president of the Pioneer and New Century Club in her home town.

W. C. Mund of Fredericksburg spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mund, and with other relatives here.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICES FOR NYA ARE BEING OPENED IN STATE

Austin—Two employment offices to serve Texas youths who have had little or no work experience will be opened this week at Dallas and Houston. One similar office, which is a junior division of the Texas State Employment Service, has been operated at Fort Worth since early Spring.

Youths seeking employment may register at these offices. The service is open to all youths those of relief status and those not on relief alike. The youths are interviewed and a record by occupational classifications is kept for each youth, based on his work experience, education, and aptitudes.

The representatives of the junior division office contact employers of youth in each community, offering to supply employees believed qualified for particular types of work when needed. There is no charge for this service, either to the youth or to the employer.

At Houston, the National Reemployment Service will establish a junior division office in cooperation with the National Youth Administration.

At Dallas, the Texas State Employment Service will establish a junior division office in cooperation with the National Youth Administration.

The Fort Worth junior division office has been operated by the Texas State Employment Service in cooperation with the National Youth Administration, with Paul E. Spruill as supervisor. Because of the good record of his office, Mr. Spruill has been asked to advise the Houston and Dallas offices during the first few weeks.

Byron Mitchell, state director of the National Reemployment Service and associate director of the Texas State Employment Service, and Lyndon B. Johnson, director of the National Youth Administration in Texas, announced the establishment of these two junior division offices.

"Our Service is attempting to aid employers in matching men and jobs," Mr. Mitchell explained. "If an employer needs young workers, to fill ten jobs, using our Service will relieve him of the necessity of interviewing a great many applicants, of whom only some or perhaps none may be qualified. The employment office will send him the best qualified youths available, from whom he makes his own selections."

An example of the service rendered was reported recently by Mr. Spruill. A Fort Worth concern wanted 60 youths to work in their mailing division. One requirement was that all must be right-handed. Mr. Spruill and his staff consulted the records and finally sent the employer 75 youths from whom the 60 were hired. All of the 75 were qualified as clerical workers, and all were right-handed.

"The employer might have had to interview 200 to 300 applicants before he got 60 youths qualified as clerks, all of them right-handed," Mr. Mitchell commented.

The National Youth Administration is seeking to obtain primate employment for the youths who make a good record on NYA work projects, Mr. Johnson said.

"We give these youths some work training. They learn to work with other youths. They learn what an employer expects. When they have developed the right attitude toward a job and some skill in performing it, we want to get them into private industry or business," he commented.

Through cooperation with the national and state employment services, the NYA hopes that placement of youths prepared for private employment will be increased. During recent months more than one thousand youths so trained on NYA projects have been placed through the employment services and cooperation of NYA representatives.

Since the staff for each new junior division employment office has been organized, there will be no opportunity to employ other workers in these offices now, Mr. Mitchell said.

PERIODIC HEALTH CHECK IMPORTANT

Austin, Dec. 31.—"Check up on your health assets and liabilities during the first month of this new year, and establish a working balance in health that will carry you through the year," is the advice urged upon all citizens of Texas by Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Destruction of human beings by the forces of nature is often unavoidable, but sacrifice of life to preventable diseases results from neglecting the principles of health," he said, "and is due largely to man's supreme indifference to his physical welfare.

"The purpose of the periodic health examination is not the diagnosis of a disease but the detection of physical defects or predisposition to disease and faults in living habits, the correction of which would have even a remote beneficial action on the life of the person examined. Disease, physical failure, and ultimate death are due not to time alone, but to definite physical causes. The periodic examination endeavors to determine the causes or defects so that they may be removed or corrected.

"Innumerable surveys and examinations have been made of preschool groups and of children in school to detect conditions that might lead to illness later on or to a physical handicap of some sort, if allowed to run on without correction.

"The annual physical check-up is the great bulwark against death dealing conditions of middle-life such as certain heart ailments, diabetes, nephritis, and other so-called degenerative diseases. These maladies oftentimes sneak up on one, so to speak, and work unannounced, up to a certain point. It is during this period that they are discoverable by the trained diagnostic ability of the physician.

"The unfortunate increase in premature deaths of middle-age and beyond, in a measure at least, can be credited to the public's lack of appreciation of the inestimable life-saving and disease-preventing value of the periodic physical examination."

EMPLOYERS MAKING DETAILED REPORTS TO AUSTIN COMMISSION

Austin, Texas, Dec. 30.—Status reports from more than 20,000 employers have already been received by the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, R. B. Anderson, chairman, announced today.

The Commission last week mailed status report forms, known as Form TUC 1, to more than 90,000 Texas employers, requesting data on the number of men employed, the type of business engaged in, the basis of pay for employees and other pertinent information.

"In spite of the Christmas holiday season employers in every section of the state have been very prompt in sending in their filled-out reports," Anderson said.

"While we sought to send these forms to all employers in the State who might come under the Act, we realize that our list is incomplete," he declared.

"We therefore urge all persons and firms who have not received these forms and who have employed as many as six (6) people at any time during 1935 or 1936 to write to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, Austin Texas, immediately for their forms, specifying the number of employees they now have."

"These preliminary reports must be in before we can determine the employer's status under the law," Anderson asserted, "and a delay in filing the reports will penalize the employer."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin.—The growing strength of organized labor as a political factor in Texas, particularly during the past four years of Roosevelt government, when labor has had its greatest "break" in history, is a development to which politicians are giving close attention these days. Texas, in the past, has been an overwhelmingly agricultural state, with little industrial development, and that confined largely to a few larger cities where the labor vote was given consideration by campaign planners. But growth of industry in the state, particularly production and processing of petroleum, has jumped the strength of labor from 15,000 to 150,000 or more members within recent years, and there are now more than 400 active labor unions affiliated with the Texas federation.

Labor Well Represented

There has been a change, too,

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Crit Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and was in a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit you, consult a physician.

in the type of labor leadership in Texas within the past few years. Many of the "old guard" who spoke for labor during the past two decades have passed from power, both in the large city labor organizations, and in the state organization. The accession of Wallace C. Reilly, of Dallas, a union printer, to the post of executive secretary and legislative representative of the state federation, made possible by the "new" element in Texas organized labor, built largely around the oil field and refinery workers' unions, brought a new type of labor leadership to Austin. Reilly did a splendid job of representing the working man, and, in recognition both of his own ability and the importance of the labor vote, he was made labor's representative on the unemployment compensation commission which also has a representative of employers, and a spokesman for the general public.

To Check On Solons

John J. Conley, also a printer, of Ft. Worth, who was elected to succeed Reilly as executive secretary of the state federation, promises to continue the same type of effective and aggressive leadership. In his initial letter to organized labor bodies of the state, he pledges himself to seek enactment of progressive legislation, both social and economic, in behalf of workers, and urges all union members in the state to keep close check upon the actions of their representatives in the legislature, and to write and make known their wishes to the legislators. With Reilly and Conley vigilant in these two key posts, the working man's interests will be kept in the forefront during the next two years, in Austin.

Reclamation

Few Texans whose interests are not directly affected, even know that the state has such an officer as a reclamation engineer. He is R. J. McMahon, of Limestone-co, and his department has just completed a $15,000 plan and survey, designed to protect 250 square miles of the most valuable land in Texas—the citrus fruit area in Cameron, Willacy and Hidalgo counties—from ruin by "water-logging." Landowners of the affected area will seek federal funds totaling about $2,000,000 to carry out the comprehensive drainage program which McMahon has mapped out, to protect this rich area permanently from damage by rainfall and irrigation water.

Engineer McMahon also recently completed a survey of the Ramsey prison farm, near Angleton, and recovered 450 "lost" acres belonging to the farm. It is worth $50 an acre, and was promptly leased for oil by the state, at $30 an acre. The reclamation engineer also does all the field work in surveying excess acreage tracts, which the land office recovers for the benefit of the public schools and the university. The engineer is now working on a complete statewide map of Texas, which will be accurate in every detail—the first absolutely accurate map of the entire area of Texas ever made.

HERE FOR REUNION

Editor and Mrs. Jimmie Martin of McCamey were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones last Thursday and Friday, being among the large number of descendants of John I. Jones, McCullough county pioneer, to gather here for their annual reunion.

JINX STILL AFTER HIM

The jinx still hounds the steps of Sid Espy of Brady when he comes to this county for the annual reunion of the Jones descendants. On his trip this Christmas, he drove off into one of our lakes on the Ft. McKavett road.

Hunters had been driving into the lake to scare up the ducks, and Mr. Espy thought they had been driving through it instead of taking the detour. When he had gotten about 50 yards into the 100-yard lake of water, he was forced to stop. He went to the Jim Williams place, secured a horse and took Mrs. Espy out to dry land on the horse. Failing to get the car out with a team, a tractor was then called into service.

Two years ago, the Espy's were forced to spend the night in Fort McKavett because of rain, and last Christmas he came to Eldorado without a spare tire and had four flats on the Bert Page ranch.

Better luck next year, Mr. Espy.

New Year Resolutions

No better resolution could be made by anyone this New Year's, than one resolving to pay cash for all foods used during the year 1937. Paying for foods after they are consumed is a hard bill to pay, besides everyone knows that it costs a grocer a lot to extend credit and that foods cost much more when charged. You will always save the most if your foods come from San Angelo's O. P. Skaggs System store.

the spring of 1936. These boys planned to show these lambs at the Centennial which was held in November, from the 7th to the 14th. 94 of these lambs were sold on the Ft. Worth market a week preceding the show at the Centennial. These lambs averaged 85 pounds, and brought 8 1-4 cents per pound, making a total of $658.92 for the boys in this sale. The other 48 lambs were shown at the Centenial. The Schleicher boys won $196 in prize money and sold 47 lambs at 8 1-2 cents per pound. The lambs averaged 89 pounds and brought a total of $355.32. The champion lamb sold for $25. This makes a total of $1,235.26 which the 4-H Club boys received for the demonstration that they started in the spring.

COTTON GROWERS AND MANUFACTURERS BENEFITED BY TRADE AGREEMENTS

Collge Station—Concessions of direct benefit to the American cotton grower and manufacturer have been obtained in 13 of the 14 trade agreements thus far concluded, according to information supplied the Texas Extension Service by the U. S. Department of State.

Six countries—Cuba, Sweden, Canada, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Finland—have agreed to continue favorable treatment accorded imports of American raw cotton. Two countries—Cuba and Guatemala have reduced the duty on cotton seed oil. Two countries—Cuba and Sweden—have granted concessions on cottonseed cake. Five countries—Cuba, Canada, Colombia, Guatemala and France—have granted concessions on cotton yarn, and ten countries have granted concessions on various textile manufactures.

In the negotiation of trade agreements every effort has been made to insure the continued free entry of American raw cotton into the countries concerned as well as to increase foreign buying power by enabling foreign countries to sell us more of their goods. During the first year of the agreement with Belgium imports into that country from the United States increased 23 percent. There was an increase of only five percent in imports into Belgium from all other countries during that period. Imports of American cotton (already on Belgium's free list) increased by 132 percent, while imports of cotton from all other countries decreased by nine and four-tenths percent.

In 13 of the agreements concessions have been obtained on tires and automobiles and the products of other industries which are important consumers of cotton, thus indirectly benefiting cotton and cotton manufacturing industries.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McClary spent Christmas day in Waco, with relatives.
