Lions Club Holds Luncheon

The Lions Club appointed a committee Wednesday to employ men and begin the work, to be paid out of the R. F. C. Funds received two weeks ago. F. M. Bradley and A. T. Wright will have charge of supervising the work and employing the men. The projects under discussion were some clean up work and the building of the walk from the school building to the business part of town. Some forty people have signed up for work, which started Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Churchill and Miss Dorothy Lee King visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beasley at Ozona Sunday. Mr. Beasley is a cousin of Mrs. Churchill.

Miss Frances Ballew, who is attending the San Angelo Junior College, will spend this week end at home in Eldorado. Miss Ballew is carrying six subjects in her college work and is making good grades.

DEPOSITORY NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that bids will be received by the Commissioners Court of Schleicher County, Texas, up to 10 a. m. February 13th, 1933, from any banking corporation, association or any individual bankers of Schleicher County, for the purpose of selecting a depository for the funds of Schleicher county for the ensuing two years. Such bids shall be delivered to the County Judge of Schleicher county, Texas, on or before 10 o'clock a. m. February 13th, 1933, stating rate of interest to be paid on the funds of the county together with the school funds of the county, for the term beginning with the selection of the depository. The successful bidder will be required to furnish bond as provided by the statutes governing depositories.

Witnessed my hand and seal of the County Court of Schleicher County, Texas, this 20th day of January, A. D. 1933.

F. M. BRADLEY
County Judge,
Schleicher County, Texas.

NEW VEGETABLE AND GROCERY STORE OPENING

O. W. Barnes, of Junction, is opening a new Vegetable and Grocery store in the R. A. Evans building, and will have his brother, J. A. Barnes in charge. Chitty and Dunn are putting the shelving in the house getting it in shape for the opening.

Making Cheese In The Home

Material Needed: dairy thermometer (price 50c), rennet tablets, cheese coloring tablets, cheese cloth or thin flour sack, a container large enough to hold the amount of milk (a wash boiler is good), a one gallon syrup bucket with the end melted off and holes punched all around the sides to allow the whey to escape, two "followers" are needed. These can be made of an ordinary board (anything but pine), saved round so they will fit loosely inside the bucket. A press or weights producing about 20 lb pressure is also necessary.

Method of Making: Be sure that milk is sweet. It is a good plan to take the milk obtained at night and morning, place in large container, and heat to 86 degrees very slowly. Stir, so that the milk will heat in uniform manner. After about one minute at 86 degrees, remove from stove and add cheese coloring. For 5 gallons of milk use 1-2 tablet of coloring (dissolved in small amount of cold water). Then add 1-2 tablet of rennet, which has been dissolved in one tablespoon of cold water. Stir thoroughly, and let stand for 30 or 40 minutes. The milk should then form a soft curd. Take a long knife and cut in squares each way, let stand a few minutes until the whey begins to rise, then place on stove again, lift and stir the curd gently and break into small pieces about like grains of corn. If handled too roughly, it allows the cream to escape. Heat very slowly until it reaches 93 degrees, then after a minute's time, remove from the stove and pour off all the whey possible.

Spread a clean cloth in a large pan and pour the curd into it. Raise it up and drain two or three minutes, salt lightly, and it is ready for the bucket. Place one of the "Followers" in the bottom of the bucket, line bucket with cheese cloth, put the cheese in, cover with other "Follower," put on weights or use press and let stand over night. Remove after about 24 hours, straighten cheese cloth, put unsalted butter on (to prevent drying) and leave for a week. Turn each day to prevent molding on the bottom side. After the week of covering cover with paraffin and let ripen for about 30 or 40 days. Every weeks age that is added improves it. Be careful to keep all flies and dirt away and let it have plenty of air.

Co. H. D. A.

W. R. Nicks Resumes Drilling

The Wesner and others, W. R. Nicks resumed drilling Tuesday and are now about 5,925 in Sandy Shale.

This well should have another showing within the next 300 feet. It will be watched with interest as the hole deepens.

STATION A PRINTING PRESS

SCHOOL NEWS

Friday 20, the Bailey Ranch Men's basketball team played the Station A team. The score was 9 to 8 in favor of the Station.

-S.-A.-

Friday 20, the Bailey Ranch school girl's basketball team won a game over the Station's girl team with a score of 15-17.

-S.-A.-

We are expecting to return the men's game Friday the 27. The game will probably be held at Eldorado.

School Beautifying

The pupils of the school have started a campaign to beautify their school. The past week has found all of the pupils taking an active part in this program. Each pupil has planted a rose cutting which they will care for. Many beautiful roses are expected to be gathered from these plants.

-S.-A.-

Mary Lee Heflin, who has been absent for three weeks, is back in school. We are happy to see her.

-S.-A.-

The Station has a new pupil, Azilee Wakefield from Groesbeck. Everyone welcomes her.

-S.-A.-

Picnic

Thursday 19 the school enjoyed a campfire type of picnic. A very excellent place was chosen by the boys, about two miles from the Station. Everyone took an active interest in the eating part of the picnic.

-S.-A.-

Local News

There is no evidence of a depression at Station A. Roy Nance has bought a new Chevrolet, and just to keep the buying spirit going, L. C. Plymouth. Some one had better put up a repair shop near by the Station.

-S.-A.-

The Good Will Club met Friday 20 and elected officers. L. E. Clement was elected president; Mrs. Roy Nance, secretary and G. A. Caraway, Vice-president. The regular meeting date of Friday, was changed to Wednesday. Mrs. E. W. Maddox and Mrs. Dale Kimball will entertain for the coming meeting.

-S.-A.-

Children's Club

The Good Will Club has organized a Child's Club to meet on the same nights of the Good Will Club. The object of this club is to take care of the small children by giving them active work each meeting.

-S.-A.-

Mr. and Mrs. Clement accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Maddox to San Angelo for a brief visit.

-S.-A.-

G. A. Caraway, the hog man, is expected to brutally murder two hogs if weather conditions will permit.

-S.-A.-

A new building contract: Mr. Dale Kimball is adding an extra room to his new house.

-S.-A.-

This is a week of enjoyable work. Everyone is getting in on the general overhauling of the Station's engines.

-S.-A.-

We notice that Mr. Hampton has arranged so that each home will have a large supply of new dirt to enrich their old flower beds. We expect to see many beautiful yards here this year.

There were eleven members and four visitors present. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Will Montgomery's on the first Wednesday in February. Visitors are welcome.

Why I Know My Husband Will Make A Good Speaker

By Mrs. Coke Stevenson
In Interview given S. W. Adams

No shadow of doubt was traceable on Mrs. Stevenson's face when she said in reply to my question, "Why do you think your husband will make a good speaker?" "Why, he will make a good speaker because he is Coke Stevenson."

It was 7:30 Thursday morning, after the crush and noise of the inaugural had passed, that she had admitted the writer for the requested interview. And we might observe that the hour she set for the interview is another strong reason why Coke Stevenson will make a good speaker; but this is her story.

Then she continued, "To try to analyze my husband and give those rugged traits of his character which inspire me with supreme confidence in his ability to make a good speaker, would be a task too difficult for me, yet there stand out a few that I love most, and of course I think they will impress you."

"One can not escape the compelling fact that Texas needs a conservative hand to hold the reins over legislation at this time. My husband's inborn conservatism in his private and public life is the basis of my faith that Texas will not be disappointed in him."

"No one knows better than I that conservatism in private life is one's best security, and no right public life differs from right private life—the same ideals of honesty and righteousness in one's private life must guide him in his public life if he makes good."

"Of course a conservative man must have courage to stand for his convictions, for there is raging about him storms of discord and recklessness which would sweep a man of small courage off his feet. My husband has never been known to compromise with wrong, or desert the standard of right—no expediency appeals to him that would sacrifice the interests of truth, justice and righteousness."

"So often have I seen him turn his hand against gain rather than stultify his sense of honor; and then I have seen him so often smother publicity on such actions which would have been creditable to him, because publicity would have left some friend in an embarrassing light."

"His willingness to sacrifice has a more beautiful coloring in his life long practice of sacrificing everything, if need be, dear to his personal desires, that he might minister to his own people."

At this point, there was a new and unexpected radiance in the face of Mrs. Stevenson, when she said, "Coke's mother is lovable, and beloved of all who know her, and there was no trace that the proverbial resentment of a daughter-in-law existed in Mrs. Stevenson's heart."

Then she said, "Lincoln never said with deeper earnestness than my husband that 'All that I am, I owe to my mother.'"

"And his mother's love and pride in him could not have been excelled by the famous Nancy Hanks, mother of Lincoln."

"I think my husband had a fortunate setting for his powers of service. From under the lengthening shadows of poverty, in that west he still and always will love, he struggled from youth, even babyhood, for an education ever encouraged and aided by his mother."

"She says that Coke knew his letters at the age of one, and that as a youth, when he freighted the goods for the small store his father kept in Junction, he would sit by his camp fire at night and study his book. He never entered school after he was fourteen, but kept his mind growing apace with his rugged body, made tough as steel by his manual labor—cutting cedar

Tom F. Hunter Speaks Out On Taxes

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—"The tax will reach all alike; we must have a biennial tax system to properly allocate the burden," declared Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, who is in Austin attending the sessions of the state Legislature.

"We are to have a sales tax, one third of it should be retained by the counties in order that the county and school real estate tax might be reduced. Governmental expenses must be reduced."

"One pipe-line company, in a depression year, showed a net earning of $20,107,042.42. It paid a 40 per cent dividend. It paid a total state tax that year of only $41,811.41. The total tax to the state was only 2.3 per cent of their net earnings, while the home owner of Texas paid 100 per cent of the net return value of his home in taxes. A part of the 2.3 per cent was the 69 cents on the $100 valuation, state ad valorem tax. To pass the sales tax and abolish the state ad valorem tax and to quit at that would mean that their tax was reduced 25 per cent on the one hand and no increase by reason of the sales tax, because they are not buyers."

"The voting of the constitutional amendment, exempting a $3,000 valuation on a homestead, was a great victory for the plain people. It contemplates the shifting of that part of their burden to the organized few of wealth that have heretofore evaded their just portion. Now the sales tax, and quit, and you will have this same burden back on this same crowd, increased because of the abolition of the state ad valorem

"A graduated income tax, levied upon the extreme high bracket is the only tax that they can not pass on to the masses. I believe that in this hour of depression that every person, firm and corporation should come to the rescue of a bankrupting state with the same degree of patriotism that the boys manifested in their enlistment in the recent war; shoulder proportionately the load that we must carry in order to avert these impending dangers—even the big moneyed combines should pay proportionately. Let an income tax be levied upon all who are not buyers and payers under the sales tax. For example, tax all incomes in excess of one hundred thousand dollars. On the first million levy a five per cent tax; on his second million a 10 per cent tax; on the third, 15 per cent tax; on the fourth and fifth, a 25 per cent tax; and on all in excess of five million a 35 per cent tax."

"Let's not only require these big boys to pay in proportion to their ability to earn; but let's discourage these merging combines that have been so destructive to employment. We must not give back to them the great victory that we won at the polls without remuneration for it. Let's don't forget that 60 per cent of our wealth is controlled by one per cent of our people; that the 99 per cent owning the other 40 per cent of our wealth has heretofore been carrying the burden."

NOTICE

I will be in my office at the courthouse all Saturday afternoon and will be glad to meet all the ladies of the county who care to come. We are not having the meeting as had been planned but would like for you to come and discuss your problems and plans for organization in your community.

The Japs last week got mad at the American Singer Sewing Machine Co., which is located in Japan, and wrecked it. Well they have a good business at home and they had better come while the coming is good.

The Japs can agree to most anything except giving up Manchuria and acknowledge that they were aggressive in warfare and needed more territory.

The Senate Judiciary committee which voted to legalize 3.05 per cent beer, acknowledged by accepting the amendment that it could not be sold to children, that the whole thing was wrong, why prohibit the little ones if it is a good thing? Any man who thinks more of the dollar than he does of the human race and any man who thinks the father can drink beer and it won't affect his children, has a withered mind.

According to Moore Lynn, State Auditor, the Confederate Pension Funds is getting in bad shape to continue payments to those who need the help. These matters should be looked into by the Legislature and something done to keep this fund from getting into an embarrassing condition.

The Legislature seems to be getting in good shape at the beginning of this week to accomplish much during this term and hold over for a long drawn out special session.

Governor Ferguson are having a hard time trying to make their friends believe that they can not give everyone that voted for them a job. Jim promised more in his campaign than Ma can give out at this time. If they would go home and give Jim time to get his bearings he might accomplish something.

The Success has been against a sales tax in our National life and see no reason why we should be for it in the State. It really should be called a nuisance tax, our Governor is for the Sales tax and has so recommended to the State Legislature with very few exceptions. One big Pipeline Company has declared its millions profit the past twelve months. Why put a sales tax on the backs of every poor devil that smokes, chews or buys in small quantities, who hasn't made a dollar above bacon and beans in three years. Place the tax on the guy that has it and fix it so he can't pass the buck to the consuming public.

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores. (Adv)

 * * * * GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE * * * * ***

By F. G. Clark

 * * * * CRITICISM * * * * ***

There are two kinds of criticism—Destructive and Constructive. Human nature is so defined by sin that it finds one of its chief pleasures in destructive criticism. This fact explains gossip.

The gossip goes about the neighborhood taking great delight in commenting on the faults of his associates. He never, by any chance, mentions the other persons virtues. These virtues may be many, greatly outnumbering his faults, but they are never seen by the gossip.

Human nature is faulty. The best of men have them. There is none good except God. So the gossip never lacks for bits of sin to roll under his tongue. If you show him a white piece of paper, with one black speck on it, and the black speck is all he will see. The gossip has no desire to assist his victim to overcome his faults, but exults in using them in an attempt to wreck his life.

The gossip has no true standard of judgement, but cuts every body's coat by his own pattern and if it doesn't fit which of course, it doesn't, immediately condemns the victim. He forgets that he himself is not perfect, and that he is bringing condemnation down upon himself, when he presumes to judge others by himself. Judge not that you be not judged, is a truism that passes by him as the idle mind. There is but one perfect example after which we must all pattern, if we are to achieve perfection.

The destructive critic is worse than useless—he is a continuous crime. But the constructive critic is a God inspired helper of humanity. He makes a careful inventory of the virtues of his subject, whether that subject be an individual or an institution. This inventory honestly and ably taken, causes the faults, which are comparatively few, to stand out clearly. His task now is to assist the subject, to harmonize his faulty parts, with his many virtues. He does this because he loves his subject, and his desire to help his subject to a better way of life, even tho he must cause him to suffer, in the process, is an evidence of his love. For whom the Lord liveth, He chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom He receiveth. Heb. 12-6.

The parent who loves his child, disciplines him because he loves him, and is concerned about his turning out well. Thus he endeavors to impress upon him, the tried and tested principles of life, that his future may be assured.

You love your country for her many virtues. Criticize her faults constructively! You love your church, as the bride of Christ, upon which man has hung many disfiguring embellishments. Prove your love for her by gently removing these, that her beauty and grace may shine forth, unmarred. It is said of Emerson, that he removed men's idols with so reverent a hand, that they took it as an act of worship. If you criticize your church constructively, it is a sign you love her just as God's love is shown by His chastening. Be charitable. Treat your church as the wise man treats his wife: To her faults a little blind. And to her virtues very kind. That rule will make a happy and harmonious home, and if applied, will make a happy and harmonious church.

Get Real Relief From Monthly Pains

SEVERE monthly suffering is a sign of warning. If you are having aches and pains every month, heed the WARNING. See what is wrong. Treat the CAUSE of the trouble. When womanly aches and pains are due to a weak, run-down condition, take CARDUI. It has been used by women for over 50 years. It is a purely vegetable medicine and it cannot harm you. Thousands of women have said that when they had built up their strength with the help of Cardui, real relief was obtained and their general health and feeling of well-being improved. If you suffer this way, try Cardui, which you can get at the drug store.

It is the spirit of New Year's day. It usually lasts until about the end of January. From February first until December we need some kind of a tonic for business and for social and political life. Let's call it the SPIRIT OF PROSPERITY. It will carry us all the way through the year if we will let ourselves become sufficiently imbued with it.

Great Things From Little Riots Grow

Talk of "international complications" because of the riot of a hundred of so Japanese employes of an American sewing machines factory in Yokohama causes more trouble than the riot itself. Americans are entitled to protection of their persons and property, whether abroad or at home. It has seemed that too much emphasis has been placed upon incidents like this which have nothing to do with international relations either in their inception or in their results.

You Mustn't Take Chances... With Your Children's Eyes

Unimpaired eyesight is essential to the growing child... for two reasons: First, because good vision enables him to keep pace with his schoolmates and his playmates. Second, because strong eyes, guarded in youth, will last a lifetime.

Improper lighting is one of the largest causes of weakened eyes. If you permit your child to study or even to play where there is not enough light, or where there is a blinding glare, you are making a mistake that may prove disastrous.

Enjoy the benefits of plenty of light... it's ridiculously inexpensive. And, remember, new eyes cannot be bought at any price!

One of our trained employees will be happy to inspect your lighting arrangements... without charge or obligation, of course. Chances are, a simple rearrangement of your present equipment, with larger or smaller lamps in a few of the fixtures, is all you need. Call for an inspection TODAY.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

the Junior High if San Angelo. They were defeated 33-26. The meet was won by San Angelo. Big Lake was second and Mc Camey was third.

JOKES

J. R. Conner
 Senior: What is the proverb about a rolling stone?
 Miss Allen: A revolving fragment of the Paleozoic age collects no cryptogamous vegetation.

From a history paper: A Papal bull is a cow that is kept in the Vatican Garden to give milk for the Pope's children.

"Next."
 "Who? Me?"
 "Yes. Where born?"
 "Russia."
 "What part?"
 "All of me."

"Why did you leave Russia?"
 "I couldn't bring it with me."
 "Where are your forefathers from?"
 "I only had one father."
 "Your business?"
 "Rotten."

"Where is Washington?"
 "He is dead."
 "I mean the capital of the United States."
 "They loaned it all to Europe."
 "Now do you promise to support the Constitution?"
 "No. I have a wife and six children to support now."

When money talks it usually says goodbye.

Jack Kerr: Do they have cowboys in New York?
 Miss Meyer: Of course not, you ignoramus.

Jack: Well, then, why the "Bronx?"

MERCHANTS PAGEANT SPONSORED BY METHODIST CHURCH

Charles Ratliff
 Last Friday night, January 20, the Methodist Church gave a program at the school building called the "Merchant's Pageant." Mr. Clark directed the

The pageant was carried out by about 75 pupils of the Eldorado school. Each merchant of the town had a small advertisement represented by a pupil. Several style shows were presented and several illustrations of a business given. A drill was given by several small girls and there was a wedding march.

Some of the high school students advertising business firms were: Wenona Enochs, Fat Belle Enochs, Margaret Powers, Mary Dell Williams, Gussie Nolen, Evelyn O'Harrow, Ollie Ruth Newlin, Thelma Taylor, Inez Cobb, Celeste Tisdale, Lois Whitley, Alicia Burk, Loleete Andrews, Elnora Andrews, Auta Mae Reynolds, Zona Clara Koy, Anna Ruth Spurgers.

The play book in about $75.00 and was a great success.

PERSONALS

Thelma Taylor
 Alton Page, Eldorado Hi's Cowboy singer, spent the week end working on the Burk ranch.

Elnora Andrews spent the week end in San Angelo where she took in all the shows.

Pauline Rape, ex-student of '31-'32, will attend the San Angelo Business College beginning the first of February. Polly is going to make a business woman yet.

Melba Jones is going to attend the Business College with Pauline. Whatta pair! When they get out Pauline can be the manager and Melba the stenographer.

Mr. Holt did not attend the Pageant Friday night and by what was said about his trousers being so large it may be a good thing that he was not there, for he might have been embarrassed.

Leaman's store is still holding the shoes that they had made especially for Mr. Smith and if he doesn't come and get them soon they will be sold to some other farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnson attended the show at Sonora Sunday evening.

YOUR SILENT FRIENDS

Frances Mills
 Have you ever made a journey in a country where you did not know any one or where you were unfamiliar with the things around you? On these trips you see new sights, new wonders and new appreciation of living. The trip might have been more pleasant if you had had a friend with you who was familiar with the country which was strange to you.

If you would make it so, your high school life would be an interesting trip. Although your trip is mapped out by the teachers, you must not rely on them completely because they cannot be with you but only a short while each day. Even though you may not realize it you have a host of friends accompanying you. Needless to say, these friends are your text books and reference books. These friends are selected for you but others you must choose for yourself.

Are you going to choose for yourself? Are you going to choose magazines, newspapers, and books that will make your trip through life valuable as well as pleasant or will you choose the ones that will be injurious to your welfare and make life a drab affair? It is up to you to make the right selection of friends.

The text book, which is your closest friend cannot always give you all the desired information. He always wants to assist you but he always wants to introduce you to his friends, the dictionary and the reference book. But these books are rather modest. They would be glad to accompany you on your journey but you must call on them to assist you. The reference book travels to other countries, but the little text book prefers to stay with his own country.

All of these books will be your friends if you will allow them. All of them will help you to go through the swamps and cross the great mountains of life if you do not make an enemy of them, so stick to your text book as long as they stick to you and life will be a journey well worth making.

CHRISTOVAL GIRLS WIN OVER ELDORADO

Fae Belle Enochs
 Last Friday Miss Allen and the Basketball Girls left at 4 o'clock to play the Christoval Girls there. Miss Helen Meyer is coaching the Christoval Girls.

Some of our best players did not get to play, because they were sick or ineligible. The score was 24 to 11, but when Christoval comes up here it will be just the opposite.

Zona Clare Koy made all points for Eldorado. Hixon Murray was the referee.

EJACULATIONS DURING EXAMS

Thelma Taylor
 Good night but that is a long exam!
 I never heard of that question before!
 Miss Allen, that wasn't in the book!

You said you wouldn't give us that.
 How many can we leave out?
 What book did you get these questions out of?

You didn't tell us to review that.
 That first and fourth question are the same, Miss Allen.
 Will a 50 pass me?
 What's my average?
 Can I make this up after mid-term?
 Ain't you got no heart Miss

Allen?
 Do you want these answered in full sentences?

If Willie Ruth makes a 100, I know I can make 75.

Why don't they have exemptions at mid-term?
 Why don't you tell us we would have that?

Here's where I bust this course.
 Why didn't I bring some notes with me?
 When will these papers be graded?

How much does that first question count?

MR. TERRY RESIGNS

Nell Campbell
 Mr. Terry, the Sixth Grade teacher in Eldorado for two years and one who was liked very much by all his pupils, has been absent from school for sometime because of nervousness. This illness has forced Mr. Terry to resign his position. All the school regrets his being forced to resign very much.

MIDTERM EXAMINATIONS ARE OVER

Inez Marshall
 All of the students of E. H. S. have been studying hard ever since Christmas for the midterm examinations, which were held the last three days of last week.

I am sure all the students are very glad for the examinations to be over, as they can now settle back into the regular routine of work. Let us hope that the majority of the students will be satisfied with their grades.

We hope that all students are going to begin the new semester by working hard and bringing up past bad grades. Those who failed during the first semester should work especially hard to keep up their current work and to bring up their last semester's low average.

It takes a considerable amount of hard studying to keep on the passing list (or rather off the failing list). However, there is not a student in school who cannot keep their work above a passing grade if they devote the proper amount of study to it.

COUNTY DEMONSTRATION AGENT ORGANIZES GIRL'S CLUB

Willie Ruth Johnson
 On Monday afternoon, January 23, at 3:30, Miss Mabel Howell, the county demonstration agent, met about fifty of the girls of the high school and grammar grades and organized a 4J Girl's Club. As far as it is known, the officers who were elected will serve. They were as follows: Celeste Tisdale, President; Thelma Taylor, Vice-president; Loleete Andrews, Secretary and Treasurer, and Willie Ruth Johnson, reporter.

Miss Howell gave a brief sketch of the work planned to be done by the club. She intends for the members to take up the study of interior decoration of bedrooms, the study of cooking, and gardening. The members will be taught how to redesign or remodel bedrooms and how to make and correctly arrange closets. They will be shown how to make dressers, tables, other pieces of furniture, and novelties out of orange crates and similar materials. If there is another room a member wants to decorate or remodel or if there is anything else a pupil wants to make, Miss Howell will take that problem up separately and give the necessary information and help. Later on the members are supposed to plant a garden or raise flowers. If this inconveniences anyone, however, or if any one prefers something else, she may take up some other kind of study satisfactorily. Still later, the girls will be taught how to can pickles, and preserve the vegetables they have raised and probably will be taught many other phases of cooking. As Home Economics is being taught in school, any form of sewing will not be studied.

A more detailed and exact arrangement of the work will be made at the next meeting. The club will meet every two weeks on Thursday at 4:00 at the school house until further arrangements have been made. The club will have its name selected by the next meeting. Miss Mozelle Turney was chosen sponsor of the club as Miss Howell will only be here once a month.

Miss Howell has recently come from the Panhandle Section of Texas to Eldorado as county demonstration agent and will work in connection with L. E. Sumner. We feel that this club work will be of much value as well as entertaining, and the girls hope to do as much work and make as good a showing as the boys have made under Mr. Sumner. It will require much time, but with the individual cooperation, work, and enthusiasm of every member, we intend to make a marked step toward success in this new movement.

HATCHERY NOTICE

I will start my Incubator Monday January 23, and wish to buy Rhode Island Reds and Buff Orpington eggs for setting. All custom hatching will be appreciated.

WEST TEXAS INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING AN ASSET TO THE ENTIRE SECTION

Colleges create centers of culture and service in the areas where they are located. This is evidenced by the fact that for the 1930-1931 Long Session of the University of Texas 40.5 per cent of its students lived within 100 miles of Austin.

If a line were drawn through the towns of Canyon, Lubbock, Stephenville, Austin, San Marcos, and Kingsville (locations of State institutions), more than half of the area of Texas would lie West of this line. On this line six State Colleges are located; to the East of this line eight colleges, including the Medical College at Galveston, have been established. Moreover, in the East and Central Texas area are located three of the largest Denominational Colleges, also a number of private institutions and junior colleges. To the West of this line there are very few colleges of either class, and only two institutions of higher learning—Sul Ross and the School of Mines.

The West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon serves an area as large as some of the Eastern States; and the Texas Tech at Lubbock, in addition to having a State-wide appeal, has an immense territory to the East and South. The School of Mines at El Paso is in the heart of the great mineral resources of this section and is an invaluable asset in developing this industry in the State. Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine is 412 miles by rail from Lubbock, 450 from the Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, and 227 from the School of Mines at El Paso. Because of the ideal climate winter and summer and the picturesque scenery of the Davis Mountains, Sul Ross is admirably located for a Summer School. One hundred-fifty two Texas counties were represented in the 1932 Summer Session. The unique location of this institution, the new 80-Mile State Scenic Highway over the Davis Mountains, and the McDonald Astronomical Observatory are making of this entire section a State asset. The enrollment at Sul Ross for the Long Term, though small, has grown gradually since the institution was established, and this in spite of all the handicaps against which the institution has struggled from the beginning.

Because of the size of the State and the variety of its interests, no educational pattern for other States can be applied to Texas in fairness to all its people. Moreover, sections of a State are entitled to the advantages of first-class colleges in the same way that they are entitled to good railroads and good highways.

West Texas is not as densely populated as Central and East Texas. However, its development during the past decade has been marvelous. Moreover, West Texas provided land for building the State Capitol at Austin, furnished free land for the building of trans-continental railroads, donated land for the public school fund, and through its oil fields is rapidly making the University of Texas the richest State Institution of Higher Learning in America.

It is not believed that the Legislature will subscribe to any program which exacts high tribute of any section of the State and at the same time denies to that section an opportunity to share in the advantages which the State provides for all its citizens. This position becomes even more tenable when consideration is given to the fact that the average per capita cost for Texas Tech, the West Texas State Teachers College, the El Paso School of Mines, and Sul Ross State Teachers College for 1930-1931 was only $249.22, much below the norm for the United States. The assumption that it would pay the State of Texas to provide free transportation for West Texas students to institutions of higher learning located hundreds of miles from home is a fine theory, but it falls down in practice. The presence of an institution of higher learning in my section stimulates college attendance in this section, and the more important question is how much college education shall the State provide for its citizens and how well this advantage shall be distributed over the State. Centralized education in a democracy is as unwise as centralized government. Moreover, it is the consensus of opinion among our leading economists and educators that more rather than less education in the future will have to be provided for the youth of our land.

To destroy at one blow a system of higher education which it has taken millions of dollars to establish and much thought to perfect would not only be unwise economy but a questionable venture. Such an undertaking would have a striking parallel in our Government's junking battleships only to build more and better vessels a little later. As a substitute for wanton destruction, it is suggested that an equitable system of taxation be set up—a system consistent with the ability of the people to pay, in harmony with the future of the State, and in keeping with the value of the article to be purchased—and then that the State Educational Institutions of Higher Learning together with all other forms of State Government from the top to the bottom of the ladder be reduced a sufficient amount on a per cent basis to bring expenditures within the available revenues under this set up.

THE MAYER HOME CLUB

Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the Mayer community met with Miss Mabel Howell, County Demonstrator, at the home of Mrs. G. C. Crosby, for the purpose of organizing the Mayer Home Club. Officers elected were: Mrs. R. A. King, President, Mrs. Harry Freund, Vice-president, Mrs. G. C. Crosby, Sect.-Treas. Mrs. R. G. Nance, Reporter. At this meeting, Miss Howell demonstrated the process of making cheese. Those present were: Mesdames J. C. Greenwood, Lindsey, R. A. King, Arch Crosby, Harry Freund, R. G. Nance, Bert Page and the Misses Doris Crawford, Robbie Morris, Mabel Howell.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served. The next meeting will be on the afternoon of Feb. 2, at the home of Mrs. R. A. King.

posts, building corrals, always strenuous work.

"Although he was reared under the rough atmosphere of the west, I have never heard him utter an oath since I first met him, more than a quarter of a century ago. His mother, a worker in her church, which now has her son on its official board, kept his mind in love with the better things, and he loves the to others. His private secretary, Luther Davis, was found by my husband in Junction, needing employment. Coke took him to the ranch, and they cut cedar post together, built corrals—Coke never asked others to do what he would not do."

Again the wife of the speaker glowed with pride when she said "I know my husband will make a good speaker because when once convinced he is right, he never turns back."

And may the interviewer add? "I base my greatest hope that Coke Stevenson will make a great speaker, upon the fact that he is ever under the care of a great wife. No man can rise above the woman he loves—and a great man must love a great woman."

"His devotion to his family is little greater than his devotion better speech."
