MRS. FRANK DOUGLAS DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Frank Douglas was born in Burnett County, December 16 1887, and moved to this county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Savage, when a child, and made her home in this and Sutton Counties for the most of her life. She was married to Frank Douglas in 1908, and for the most part has made Eldorado her home. To this union was born five children, three of whom survive her. She united with the Presbyterian church in early childhood and the funeral services were conducted from the Presbyterian church with the Rev. Guy Davis conducting the service. Mrs. Douglas was taken with pneumonia and rushed to the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo for treatment, but the grim reaper of death came to her last Thursday night. She was prepared for burial and kept out until Sunday awaiting the arrival of her daughter, Ruby, who was in New Hampshire.

The three children who survive are Ruby, a daughter, Allen and Bill, two sons and one granddaughter; two brothers, Oscar and Urah Savage. All the children were present at the funeral.

The pall bearers were W. R. Nicks, F. M. Bradley, W. F. Meador, J. F. Isaacs, A. C. McCartney and Albert Bailey.

Burial was made in the family lot in the Eldorado Cemetery Sunday afternoon following the church service.

May the stars of Heaven grow brighter, and the Home of Eternal draw nearer as the days go by, for those she left behind.

Washington, March 4, (AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's "I am certain that my fellow Americans expect that on my induction into the presidency I will address them with a candor and a decision which the present situation of our nation impels. This is pre-eminently the time to speak the truth, frankly and boldly. Nor need we shrink from honestly facing conditions in our country today. This great nation will endure as it has endured, will revive and will prosper. So first of all let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance.

"In every dark hour of our national life a leadership of frankness and vigor has met with that understanding and support of the people themselves which is essential to victory. I am convinced that you will again give that support to leadership in these critical days.

"In such a spirit on my part and on yours we face our common difficulties. They concern, thank God, only material things. Values have shrunk to fantastic levels; taxes have risen; our ability to pay has fallen; government of all kinds is faced by serious curtailment of income; the means of exchange are frozen in the currents of trade; the withered leaves of industrial enterprise lie on every side; farmers find no markets for their produce; the savings of many years in thousands of families are gone.

"More important, a host of unemployed citizens face the grim problem of existence, and an equally great number toil with little return. Only a foolish optimist can deny the dark realities of the moment.

"Yet our distress comes from no failure of substance. We are stricken by no plague of locusts. Compared with the perils which our forefathers conquered because they believed and were afraid, we have still much to be thankful for. Nature still offers her bounty and human efforts have multiplied it. Plenty is at our doorstep but a generous use of it languishes in the very sight of the supply.

"Our greatest primary task is to put people to work. This is no unsolved problem if we face it wisely and courageously. It can be accomplished in part by direct recruiting by the government itself, treating the task as we would treat the emergency of a war, but at the same time through this employment accomplishing greatly needed projects to stimulate and recognize the use of our natural resources.

"Hand in hand with this we must frankly recognize the overbalance of population in our industrial centers and by engaging on a national scale in a redistribution, endeavor to provide a better use of the land for those best fitted for the land. The task can be helped by definite efforts to raise the values of agricultural products and with this the power to purchase the output of our cities. It can be helped by preventing realistically the tragedy of the growing loss through foreclosure, of our small homes and our farms. It can be helped by insistence that the federal, state and local governments act forthwith on the demand that their cost be drastically reduced. It can be helped by the unifying of relief activities which today are often scattered, uneconomical and unequal. It can be helped by national planning for and su-

"Primarily, this is because the rulers of the exchange of mankind's goods have failed through their own stubbornness and their own incompetence, have admitted their failure and abdicated. Practices of the unscrupulous money changers stand indicted in the court of public opinion, rejected by the hearts and minds of men.

"True, they have tried, but their efforts have been cast in the pattern of an outworn tradition. Faced by failure of credit they have proposed only the lending of more money. Stripped of the lure of profit by which to induce our people to follow their false leadership they have resorted to exhortations, pleading tearfully for restored confidence. They know only the rules of a generation of self-seekers. They have no vision, and when there is a vision they people perish.

"The money changers have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization. We may now restore that temple to the restoration lies in the extent to which we apply social values more noble than mere monetary profit.

"Happiness lies not in the mere possession of money; it lies in the joy of achievement, in the thrill of creative effort. The joy and moral stimulation of work no longer must be forgotten in the mad chase of evanescent profits. These dark days will be worth all they cost us if they teach us that our true destiny is not to be ministered unto but to minister to ourselves and to our fellowmen.

"Recognition of the falsity of material wealth as the standard of success goes hand in hand with the abandonment of the false belief that public office and high political position are to be valued only by the standards of pride of place and personal profit; and there must be an end to a conduct in banking and in business which too often has given to a sacred trust the likeness of callous and selfish wrongdoing. Small wonder that confidence languishes, for it thrives only on honesty, on honor, on the sacredness of obligations, on faithful protection, on unselfish performance; without them it can not live.

Restoration calls, however, not for changes in ethics alone. This nation asks for action, and action now.

Our greatest primary task is to put people to work. This is no unsolved problem if we face it wisely and courageously. SCHLEICHER TO BE REIMBURSED ON BONDS

Austin, Texas, March 6: Schleicher County taxpayers will save more than $110,000 on their outstanding road bonds through the refunding act of the legislature last year, according to preliminary figures just compiled by the state highway department.

Gasoline tax revenues are providing the money for this saving, beginning this year. The law sets aside one cent of the four-cent tax, or more than $4,000,000 a year. Each month's portion of this income is to be divided in the proper ratio and paid against the maturities of each county for that month.

The rate is to be set by the new Board of County and District Road Indebtedness. Gibb Gilchrist, its chairman said that while payments already have begun, the amounts thus far are too scattered to bear any real significance.

The highway department's records show that Schleicher 686 to the construction of designated state highways and bridges since the department was established in 1917. Clerk J. Isaacs has given state officials an estimate which covers a longer period, totalling $120,893. The amount finally approved will be somewhere between the two.

The total expenditures of this type by all the counties of the state, since 1917, total $90,345,267, according to highway department records. Estimates of county officials are still larger but highway officials believe the ultimate total will be about $110,000,000. On the basis now set by the legislature, from 12 to 15 years would be required to pay it from the gasoline tax.

The Texas Good Roads Association, which secured these figures from the department, pointed out that in addition to the one cent of the tax which goes to county bonds, another cent goes to the state school fund, leaving but two cents of the tax for its primary purpose—the construction and maintenance of roads.

"Surely the motorists of Texas," the association's statement said, "are entitled to the remaining one half of this special tax for highways and highways alone, unmolested by any further diversions. It will provide barely enough money to carry on the highway program on a much reduced scale."

In order to weld the motorists of the state into a unified force for concerted action in their own interest, the association is now engaged in a statewide membership campaign, at a nominal fee. Civic leaders in every county in Texas are being selected to head local campaigns.

Well how do you like it? If you don't like it, how can you help it?

Now you can see how handy a bank is. It is not only a place to keep your money but it is handy for exchange, which is also necessary.

We heard a banker say not long ago that if a man was playing even these days, he was to be congratulated. Well we congratulate ourselves. We had thirteen dollars in the bank with a note due the day it closed. So they can have the money for the interest when they open up.

That's playing even on this account.

Well we showed West Texas our fine sheep again. The boys and girls won quite a bit of that prize money over at the Fat Stock Show at San Angelo and will probably move to Ft. Worth and show the state the same trick. Gosh Darn we needed that money and had the sheep to get it with.

While President Roosevelt is trying to bring Congress together to help the country out of its financial troubles, Speaker of the House Ramey suggests that bring beer back first. Well fill them full of beer and they will not need any money. They will feel good enough for the time being.

Mayor Cermak dies; Zangara indicted. He will probably be pleased with his next sentence because it will probably start his trip with electricity. It is a shame to waste the juice but so mote it be.

To show the greatness and largeness of President Roosevelt, he never mentioned the liquor question in his inaugural address. He evidently thought there was something of more importance.

GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE

By F. G. Clark

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. Phil. 2-5.

Man's conscious being, in this life, consists of three faculties, viz. body, soul and spirit. Thru the bodily senses, we are world conscious, thru the soul sense we are self conscious, and thru the spirit sense we are God conscious.

The soul and spirit senses are combined in the mental faculty. The lower half of the mind, the soul, has to do with material things, and is of the earth, earthy. It is stired into activity by contact with the world about us, such as the meeting with our fellowman, the acquisition of prosperity, or power in the material world. We meet with many people in this world who are very brilliant in this lower half of their mind. Many are gifted toward the financial world and while they may be dumb in most things, they are abnormally acute when it comes to acquiring property. Some, again, are natural mechanics or inventors. Some are brilliant writers in the domain of the flesh. In fact, we seem to be living in an age when our leading thinkers are alive only on this lower plane of thought. They seem to set great store by the material, mortal life, and the things that pertain to it, and utterly ignore the spiritual or treat it with contempt.

This indicates that half their mind is dormant and this the upper half—the half thru which we contact with the spiritual world. If this were all there is world, if this were all there is, and the struggle for existence not worth the price. But, thank God, there are a few who are conscious on the spiritual plane and it is these few who are the salt of the earth—the light of the world.

All really great minds penetrate into the spiritual realm, and draw upon its infinite stores for metal enrichment, both for themselves and for mankind. Were it not for these few, who keep in touch with the infinite God, humanity would soon become bankrupt in the things that are worth while—things that make life worth living.

Our best thots come from this invisible world, thru the upper or spiritual half of the mind. If we are awake on this plane, an infinitude of thots pours in upon us, in unfinted measure, for we in touch with God, who is ever on the giving hand. And these thots, if we are careful not to mix them with earthy wisdom are pure truth, for Christ is redeeming His promise to lead us into all truth. They have come from the realm where pure truth, unsullied by a sinful selfish world, abides with God. It was out of this upper mind that Christ poured out His mighty teachings, which have so marvelously enriched the world. Is your spirit mind awake? If not, come to Christ for such an pervision of all forms of transportation and of communication and other utilities which have a definite public character. There are many ways in which it can be helped, but it can never be helped merely by talking about it. We must act and act quickly. "Finally, in our progress toward a resumption of work, we require two safeguards against a return of the evils of the old order; there must be a strict supervision of all banking and credits and investments; There must be an end to speculation with other peoples money and there must be provision for an adequate but sound currency.

"There are the lines of attack. I shall presently urge upon a new congress in special session detailed measures for their fulfillment, and I shall seek the immediate assistance of the several states.

"Through this program of action we address ourselves to putting our won national house in order and making income balance out-go. Our international trade relations though vastly important, are in point of time and necessity secondary to the establishment of sound national economy. I favor as a practical policy the putting of first things first. I shall spare no effort to restore world trade by international economic readjustment, but the emergency at home can not wait on that accomplishment.

"The basic thought that guide these specific means of national recovery is not narrowly nationalistic. It is the insistence, as a first consideration, upon the interdependence of the various elements in and parts of the United States—a recognition of the old and permanently important manifestation of the American spirit of the pioneer. It is awakening, and then you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.

the way to recovery. It is the immediate way. It is the strongest assurance that the recovery will endure.

"In the field of world policy I would dedicate this nation to the policy of the good neighbor—the neighbor who resolutely respects himself and because he does so, respects the rights of others—the neighbor who respects his obligations and respects the sanctity of his agreements in and with a world of neighbors.

"If I read the temper of our people correctly we now realize as we have never realized before our interdependence on each other; that we can not merely take but we must give as well, that if we are to go forward we must move as a trained and loyal army willing to sacrifice for the good of a common discipline. because without such discipline no progress is made, no leadership becomes effective. We are I know, ready and willing to submit our lives and property to such discipline because it makes possible a leadership which aims at a larger good. This I propose to offer, pledging that the larger purposes will bind upon us all as a sacred obligation with a unity of duty hitherto evoked only in time of armed strife.

"With this pledge taken, I assume unhesitatingly the leadership of this great army of our people dedicated to a disciplined attack upon our common problems.

"Action in this image and to this end is feasible under the form of government which we have inherited from our ancestors. Our constitution is so simple and practical that it is possible always to meet extraordinary needs by changes in emphasis and arrangements without loss of essential form. That is why our constitutional system has proved itself the most superbly enduring political mechanism the modern world has produced. It has met every stress of vast expansion of territory, of foreign wars, of bitter internal strife, of world relations.

"It is to be hoped that the normal balance of executive and legislative authority may be wholly adequate to meet the unprecedented task before us. But it may be that an unprecedented demand and need for undelayed action may call for temporary departure from the normal balance of public procedure.

"I am prepared under my constitutional duty to recommend the measures that a stricken nation in the midst of a stricken world may require. These measures or such other measures as the Congress may build out of its experience and wisdom, I shall seek, within my constitutional authority, to bring to speedy adoption.

"But in the event that the Congress shall fail to take one of these two courses, and in the event that the national emergency is still critical, I shall not evade the clear course of duty that will then confront me. I shall ask Congress for the one remaining instrument to meet the crisis—broad executive power to wage a war against the emergency, as great as the power that would be given to me if we were in fact invaded by a foreign foe.

"For the trust reposed in me I will return the courage and the devotion that befit the time. I can do no less.

"We face the arduous days that lie before us in the warm courage of national unity; with the clear consciousness of seeking old and precious moral values; with the clean satisfaction that comes from the stern performance of duty by old and young alike. We aim at the assurance of a founded and permanent national life.

"We do not distrust the future of essential democracy. The people of the United States have not failed. In their need they have registered a mandate that they want direct vigorous action. They have asked for discipline and direction under leadership. They have made me the present instrument of their wishes. In the spirit of the gift I take it.

"In this dedication of a nation we humbly ask the blessing of God. May He protect each and every one of us. May He guide me in these days to come."—San Angelo Standard.

WHAT EDUCATION DOES FOR THE INDIVIDUAL

Frances Mills
 When gold is mined from the earth, it is far from being a precious metal. This crude ore must go thru an intricate procedure, must be beaten and mixed with a sturdy metal for durability, before it emerges as the gleaming substance that we know—gold! This process produces for us that shimmering substance which has, since its discovery, captured the fancy and awakened the desires of man.

The human mind may be compared to this precious metal, with little incingruity. In its unformed, untrained state, it is but a crude, unfinished product, useful, perhaps, and showing possibilities, but as yet undeveloped. Gold goes thru its own unique process. Education is the process which enhances the value of the mind.

Perhaps the most important endowment of the human mind is the gift of appreciation. William Lyon Phelps says that appreciation is one of the richest gifts of mankind. It is that pearl of great price, the bestowing of which alone would establish the value of education. A great painting, a beautiful sunset might stir the heart of a peasant, yet it would take the soul of an educated man to appreciate it. The possession of this gift means happiness and contentment. It brings us a little nearer Heaven.

Education brings the desire for more education. The educated man never stops learning. He is constantly sitting at the feet of some great thinker or philosopher. This constant absorbing of ideas cannot help but result in the emanation of good.

Then there is the purely material value of education. The rough diamond has no place in modern society. His popularity vanished with the fading of the frontier. Education, that is refinement, has become "the immediate jewel of our souls." The demand today, in all fields, is for educated and well trained men.

Thus we see that education is the refinement of man. It is the process which makes him a valuable member of society. The educated man possesses the key to those magic realms which Ruskin calls "King's Treasuries."—Clipped.

SONORA TYPISTS VISIT ELDORADO FRIDAY

By Gordon Williamson
 Sonora High School brought its typing team to Eldorado last Friday, March 3 for the second contest between the two schools this year. The contest was held in the Eldorado High School typing room at 4:00 o'clock.

The Eldorado team won over the Sonora team with a score of 100 to a score of 64 for Sonora. Neither team made as high a score as was made in the first contest between the two schools the Friday before. This was largely due to the fact that both teams made more errors.

The typing team for Sonora were J. T. Shurley, LeVelle, Meckel, Pauline Turney, Alice Sawyer, and Billie Penick.

The Eldorado team consisted of Loleete Andrews, Frances Mills, W. B. Gibson, Jack Ratliff, Margaret Hill, and Lillie B. Kent.

The first four individual places were as follows: First, W. B. Gibson, Eldorado, score 122; second, Jack Ratliff, Eldorado, score 114; third, Lillie B. Kent, Eldorado, score 108; fourth, Pauline Turney, Sonora, score 104.

The first three writers in accuracy were: first, W. B. Gibson 3 errors; second, Loleete Andrews, 10 errors; and third, Lillie B. Kent, 12 errors. The highest number of errors made in the contest was 45.

The three leading students in words per minute were: first, Jack Ratliff, Eldorado, 38.0; second, Pauline Turney, Sonora, 32.7; third, Lillie B. Kent, Eldorado, 29.7.

The Eldorado team will probably have one or two more contests with Sonora before going to Colorado for the District Tournament early in April.

AWARDING OF FOOTBALL SWEATERS

By Mary Deil Williams
 Tuesday March 7, in the High School study hall the boys who lettered in football were awarded their sweaters. Each boy receiving a sweater was expected to give a short talk. Mr. Williamson was in charge and told the ones who were expecting to graduate they were expected to make a longer talk than the others.

Those receiving a sweater with four stripes were Jack Kerr (Captain) and Aubrey Smith. There was only one boy with a sweater having three stripes and this was Jack Ratliff. Those having two stripes were J. R. Conner, Jim West, Junior Isaacs (Captain Elect), and Billie Kerr. Those having one stripe were Hollys Alexander, W. C. Spurgers, Aris Carr, Guy Moore, R. J. Alexander, Joe T. Hext, and W. B. Gibson.

Mr. Holt said that he thought the football season was very successful. Speaking of the fund he said that Eldorado was among the few who "came out" on the expenses and had plenty with which to buy the sweaters.

Mr. Holt said that the fact that the football fund was adequate to pay for the sweaters was due solely to the efforts of the student body and Patronage of the public. He said that most other schools had a deficit in their football funds, and that many of them were unable to purchase sweaters this year.

The talks made by all were very interesting.

HOW THE NEWSPAPER CLUB DOES ITS WORK

By Fae Belle Enochs
 The Newspaper Club has sixteen members. The editors are Thelma Taylor, Junior Isaacs, and Frances Mills. Hollys Alexander resigned at the last meeting, and Frances was elected in his place. They have a week about which they type the articles and put in front of the study hall for the members to read and see what they have to write on for the weeks paper. The articles are assigned on Thursdays and due on Fridays or Mondays.

When the Newspaper Club meets on every other Tuesday, we try to work out the ways which we may improve the school news. We also suggest articles for the weeks paper.

SOMETHING ON THE AUTO

By Fae Belle Enochs
 O horse, you are a wonderful thing
 No buttons to push, no horn to honk,
 You start yourself; no clutch to slip,

 No sparks to miss; no gears to strip,
 No license buying every year,
 With plates to screw on front and rear;
 No gas bills climbing up each day;
 Stealing the joy of life away,
 No speed cops coming up from the rear
 Yelling something in your ear.
 Your inner-tubes are all O. K.
 And thank the Lord they stay that way;
 Your spark plugs never miss and fuss,
 Your motor never makes us cuss
 Your frame is good for many a mile.
 Your body never changes style,
 Your wants are few and easy met
 You've something on the auto yet.
