Woolen mills in the United States are still running at full capacity.

Glenn Ratliff leaves today to take up his duties as manager of the Greenwood-Ratliff Insurance Agency at Crane, Texas.

M. J. Wade sold two bulls to Marvin Hall of San Angelo.

R. A. Evans was in San Angelo Wednesday attending the Whitaker Brothers horse sale.

Marion Wade shipped two double decks of sheep to Fort Worth market Wednesday, A. J. Burk was the carrier.

Owing to lax of attendance, the Menard Lions club will become inactive for a period of months, it was decided last Friday at the weekly luncheon. Committees will function as they have in the past but no regular luncheons will be held.

Bob Davis, well known in circles of Texas Goat Raisers, Tuesday was named chief executive of the Texas Angora Goat Raisers' Association at the annual meeting at Rocksprings.

Other officers elected were C. A. Pepper, first vice-president; B. M. Halbert Jr., of Sonora; second vice-president; Miss Claudine Bourland of Rocksprings, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Davis, Mr. Pepper, J. A. Ward, and Fred Earwood of Sonora and Sam F. Cooper of Leakey, composing the executive committee.

This is the first of the leap year jokes for Eldorado:

A Car of fair maidens of Schleicher county had parked in front of the local drug store, when T. C. Meador, eligible and confirmed bachelor, drove up from a hunting trip on the ranch. The girls told him they were going riding and asked him if he did not want to go along. He looked them over a minute and said, "I'll go if you will let me take my gun."

When you get your 1936 plates, you may be granted a drivers license along with them. This license will entitle you to drive on the highways as long as you drive carefully and observe the traffic law but if you wilfully or negligently fail to observe the law it will be too bad. You may have to walk.

Geo. Williams and Marion Wade shipped one load of sheep to the Fort Worth market.

Dick Bearce shipped a truck load of cows to the market, Fort Worth, Monday.

Reports indicate that bitter weed is giving ranchmen a lot of trouble in the East part of Schleicher. Will Montgomery has penned his sheep and put them on feed on account of the weed.

W. R. Lewis purchased a 20-30 Case tractor from the Eldorado Hardware Company this week.

Jack Ratliff, of Abilene returned to that city today after several day's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff.

Ray Long, young son of George Long has been out of school on account of sickness.

Glenn Lewis Announces For District Judge

Glenn R. Lewis, eleven years before the bar and now serving his sixth year as district attorney of the 51st Judicial District, will seek promotion to the office of District Judge of the same district.

The candidate was reared in the Texas panhandle. He came to San Angelo immediately after receiving his law degree from the University of Texas in 1925 and became engaged in general civil law practice. His first connection was with the late Judge J. A. Thomas. He left Judge Thomas' office in 1927 and went into the office of Wright & Gibbs and was still associated with Judge Gibbs at the time of taking office as district attorney in 1931.

Mr. Lewis will soon be 34 years of age, is married and has two sons, Dickie, aged 8, and Glenn Bill, aged 18 months. His home is on North Madison Street. His brief statement follows:

"Through the help of many friends, which is gratefully acknowledged, I have been serving as district attorney for some time. It is now my privilege to ask election to the place of district judge, an opportunity for more comprehensive service and an advancement which I have tried to earn. If elected, I pledge myself to a course of fair and impartial administration of Justice and attentiveness to business."

Tariff System Makes Program Necessary

Our tariff system makes a farm program necessary in the interest of the entire nation. Complete and permanent recovery can be had on other basis.

No one wishes this country to sink back to the depths it had reached in 1932.

The decision of the Court in the AAA case is a far-reaching one.

However, I cannot believe that a national tariff is legal and that a national farm program which merely restores the price balance cannot be made legal.

I cannot believe that the cot-

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEETS TUESDAY, JAN. 21

At the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday afternoon, January 21, 42 patrons were present for the program which had as its theme "The Contribution of Home Economics to Family Life."

As Miss Louise Hinyard was unable to attend the meeting, Supt. Smith talked a few minutes on her subject, "Home Economics in Our Public Schools." Mrs. Aubrey Baugh, who was to have spoken to the group, was unable to be present because of unavoidable circumstances.

Mrs. John Williams, President, lead the discussion on the school cafeteria, which the Association is sponsoring. Supt. Smith thanked the group for the cooperation shown thus far in giving material for the cafeteria, and pointed out that the cafeteria was still in need of more tables. Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. J. A. Whitten, Mr. W. W. Jackson, and Mrs. Bert Page, have donated tables for cafeteria use.

Mrs. Payne Robinson's room lead the contest between the grades in school for the highest number of mothers and fathers present. This room, the third grade, had 17 mothers and fathers present. A framed picture is to be presented to the room winning the contest each month. The picture will remain in that room until won by some other room at another meeting of the Association.

January Most Important Month For Voters Or Schleicher County

January is the most important month in 1936 for voters of Schleicher County due to the fact that this is the only month in the entire year in which poll taxes may be paid or exemptions secured. Young voters who will become 21 years of age in 1936 are required to secure exemption receipts in order to qualify as a voter.

It is not only a privilege, but a duty as well to every citizen of Schleicher County to pay his poll taxes in order that he may have a vote in the many important questions that will be voted on during this year.

This is the general election year, and the political pot has already begun to simmer—within another month it will be to the boiling point. There will be many candidates, national, state and local, that will be voted upon to fill the various offices to govern our people. Some of these candidates will be men of high standards and stand for all measurers that are for the general welfare of the people—but, others must be culled out. YOU should have a voice in this selection.

Remember, persons past 60 years of age do not need an exemption, but young voters who will become 21 years of age in 1936 must obtain exemption receipts this month. There are a great many young men under this class in Schleicher county.

Friday January 31, is the last day to pay your poll taxes.

City Council Grant Franchise For Gas

The city council Tuesday night passed a resolution granting a franchise to John M. Cooper of San Angelo to supply Eldorado with natural gas from Cooper No. 1 Page, Schleicher county wildcat 9 1-2 miles southeast of here. The Sonora city commission Monday night approved rates proposed by Mr. Cooper and tentatively agreed upon a franchise. The city attorney will study other franchises and another conference will be held Thursday. Mr. Cooper offers to sell gas to both Eldorado and Sonora for $1.50 for the first 1,000 cubic feet and 75 cents for each additional 1,000 feet. There would be no service charge.

Scouts Will Meet At San Angelo Today

San Angelo—Some 400 Scouters and their wives and friends will through this West Texas town here today for the Tenth Annual meeting of the Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, it was predicted this week by those in charge of arrangements.

The figure was predicted following the indication of more than 20 towns sending representatives to the annual event at the St. Angelus. In 1935, 300 were fed at the banquet.

The banquet this year will start at 6:15 p. m. with Dr. H. Y.

Baugh Ranch Home Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the 10-room ranch home of Mrs. Laura Baugh, east of Eldorado Tuesday. The loss was estimated to be more than $7000.

The fire had enveloped one room before Mrs. Baugh and her daughter were aware of the blaze. Telephone connection was destroyed by the first flames and an alarm had to be sounded by telephone three miles distance.

When help arrived the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible for anyone to enter the building. Home and furniture were a total loss. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Judge J. F. Sutton Is A Candidate To Succeed Himself

51st District Judge Asks Return To Office

Judge John F. Sutton, Judge of the 51st Judicial District of Texas, composed of Tom Green, Iron, Schleicher, Coke and Sterling Counties, places his name in the announcement column of this paper as a candidate to succeed himself as District Judge. Judge Sutton submits his name as a candidate for re-election at the coming Democratic Primary, with the request that the voters consider his past record in selecting the man who will direct the business of the 51st District Court, and pledges a continuance of his best efforts to fairly and impartially administer the duties of the office he now holds.

In his announcement Judge Sutton says: "In my first campaign for the office of District Judge I promised the people of this Judicial District to keep clear the dockets of the court; to conduct the affairs of the court in a businesslike manner and deal fairly with all mankind.

Upon being elected to the office of District Judge by a majority over two honorable and distinguished opponents, I pledged myself to the people of this Judicial District and to those who might come to live amongst us, that I would with courage and earnestness give my very best ability, strength and energy to the end that this District might have an improved and economical disposition of the business of the court. These promises and my pledge have ever been fresh in my mind as a reminder of my official duties to the people of this Judicial District. In the discharge of my official duties I have established an official record, to which I refer the voters to determine for themselves whether I have made good, and, of course, gladly submit myself for re-election on that record, a record that I have no desire to change and one which I feel will stand the test of comparison with others holding like positions. Upon my record I submit my candidacy and solicit the vote and active support of all voters in the 51st Judicial District, and in return offer a continuation of the same character and kind of service I have rendered in the past, with such added efficiency as I have gained by judicial experience."

Glenn Ratliff Will Leave Eldorado For Position In Crane

Glenn Ratliff, prominent young business man of Eldorado, has accepted the management of the Greenwood-Ratliff Insurance Agency in Crane. He leaves today and will take over his new duties the first of next week.

This week, Glenn resigned as president of the Eldorado Lions club. He was also assistant Scout Master, Secretary Baptist Men's Brotherhood, B.T.U. director and Choir leader at the First Baptist Church.

He has been associated with his father, J. L. Ratliff in The Ratliff Store.

Glenn has been a "live wire" in the business life of Eldorado, taking an interest in the advancement of the city and all its institutions. He will be missed by the civic organizations.

While everyone regrets to see him leave Eldorado, we all hope him every success in his new venture.

School Cafeteria Begun This Week

On Monday, January 20, a school cafeteria sponsored by the local Parent-Teacher Association, opened its doors to students desiring a hot meal. Miss Louise Hinyard, Home Economics instructor is in charge of the cafeteria.

There has been an increase in the number of students eating at the cafeteria during each of the first four days of the week. On Monday, about 45 students ate their meal there, on Tuesday about 60, and on Thursday slightly more. If the increase in numbers continues it will be necessary to use another room in addition to the one now being used.

The purpose off the cafeteria is not to enter competition with any similar establishment in town but merely to offer the right kind of food at a low cost for the benefit of students who otherwise would be forced to eat a cold lunch.

EDITORIAL

If Texas is going to entertain millions of visitors during the Great Centennial celebration and have them think kindly of us, then every citizen must insist on complete sanitation.

Citizens should see that their water systems are free of contamination, and that all public eating places and rooms are spotlessly clean.

Every home owner should start now to clean and beautify their yards, this would include also sanitation of water supplies and having proper toilet facilities. The State Department of Health will furnish plans upon request.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

According to a prominent Dallas doctor, 80 per cent of highway accidents today are caused by the drivers being under the influence of whiskey or beer.

Three cases heard in the McCulloch County Court last week resulted in one fine of $125 and denial of the privilege of driving a car for a period of two years. The others were fined and given suspended sentences and forbidden to drive a car for eighteen months.

We can't say that we blame local officers for failure to file charges in cases of careless and drunken driving—for ten to one, they will fail to get a conviction.

When Schleicher county citizens demand that drunken driving be dealt with in the proper manner, officers of the law can and will enforce the law.

One thing that Eldorado can do—when a fire breaks out we can get a crowd to look on while it burns.

Searching through the old files of the Success we find that immediately after a fire destroys something a great deal of interest is taken in the organization of a Eldorado Fire Department.

Fire Department or no Fire Department the most economical thing for Schleicher county and Eldorado to do about fire protection is secure a good second-hand truck with a power takeoff attached and buy a pump, have a local firm construct a tank with a water capacity consistent with the load capacity of the truck, and employ Chief Parker of the San Angelo Fire Department to supervise the assembly of a fire truck similar to the one now in use by Tom Green county. The County Commissioners should pay at least one-half of the expense and the city of Eldorado should pay the balance.

Grass and weeds along the highway and county roads are dangerously dry at this time of the year and a cigarett or match thrown from a passing car may set a fire which will result in thousands of dollars lost. A fire truck of this kind would be effective in stopping grass fires or fires in country homes or barns, as well as a safeguard against a reoccurrence of the 1934 fire in Eldorado. Then with very little effort a good fire department will be organized. If we fight fires we must have equipment.

When we approach an official on the subject of a fire truck he immediately asks what they would use for money. Not being elected to an office I must confess that I don't know. That's what they are elected for. We do know, however, that it is good common sense and more economical to furnish fire protection for Schleicher county.

TRUTH ABOUT BUYING

A very careful analysis of the cooperative values of a number of lines of goods sold both through stores and by canvassers causes us to say that there is absolutely no question but that women who buy from stores receive more for their money.

Exceedingly plausible sales talks have caused many women to hold the erroneous and costly belief that they can buy more cheaply from agents than from retail stores.

They are given the impression that goods sold at the door cost less because a number of profits are wiped out. What they are not told is that the commission paid the canvasser is of necessity much larger than the regular profit of the merchant.

All investigations show, and any woman who will investigate can prove it for herself that dollar for dollar, the retail store gives the greater value.

Housewives beware of strangers posing as solicitors, or salesmen calling at your home. Do not pay cash in advance to strangers on an order as oftentimes the customer has never received anything for the cash advance. Do not cash checks for strangers or issue a check or an order for a stranger—many times these checks have been altered and later cashed by innocent persons. It's better to be safe than sorry. Protect yourself and your home. Buy at the local stores.

You probably won't forget it, but just to be safe, we'll remind you that you only have until Jan. 31st to pay your poll taxes. You'll want to vote, sure, so pay your dues so you can. You know there's no use in cussing the government two or four years if you're not going to vote the way you cuss.

For the benefit of the fishing enthusiasts—and we have some of them, we don't believe a longer closed season will aid the propagation of fish nearly as much as would a change of the policy of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission, to-wit: have the game wardens catching turtles and gars instead of fish and law violators.

UNEMPLOYMENT

It is quite clear that nobody has any exact information of the number of employable persons still unemployed in the United States. That is, the number who would take jobs if they were available. They claim that there are still 11 million industrial workers unemployed, the reply has lately been made, based upon Government statistics, that at no time even at the peak of prosperity, did industry ever employ more than 9 million persons, and as there are now more than seven million on industrial payrolls, the unemployment in that field cannot amount to more than two million.

In one sense, of course, all of the persons on relief are unemployed. But it does not follow that all of them were employed before they went on relief. In the best of times there have always been five or six million persons without jobs, either because they preferred not to work or were unable, for various reasons, to attach themselves to payrolls. A large porportion of these have always been recipients of charitable relief, and it is impossible to imagine a situation in which there will not be a very large number of people who will depend for subsistence upon the generosity of public or private relief organizations.

In the meantime, however, more people are going back to work ever day and the outlook is hopeful for a job within a year or so for every body who is willing and able to work.

INVESTIGATING IN WAR

Unbourbonlike Americans have learned something and forgotten something since 1917. They have learned the dangers of trading on and financing war. They have forgotten some of the notions about rights of neutrals to supply any and all purchasers with goods necessary to carry on war. Or shall we say they are trying to?

One thing, though they should not forget. Those who traded on and financed the World War and thus added heavily to the possibility (it was at one time thought an impossibility) of American participation in the fighting, were "guilty of nothing that all the rest of us were not guilty of in respect to our enthusiasm for war trade." That is one of the pertinent reminders that has come out of the current activities of J. P. Morgan & Co. in the war years. "What I am saying"—Senator Vandenberg speaking to a Morgan partner—"is in no sense critical of what happened at the time, because it was the standard practice and standard viewpoint."

Examination of the economic pressure which pressed American citizens into military service cannot stop with investigation of banking, or of munitioneering, though it is perhaps well that it has begun there. One interesting disclosure of the present inquiry is that the Morgan partners are not so sure as are most of their countrymen of the political dangers, and even of the economic unsoundness, of war-boomed business. They appear to feel it was some other phase of wartime developments that had unfortunate repercussions for America, and, as Thomas Lamont put it in answer to a question by Senator Vandenberg, that "any boom in prosperity, whether it is in wartime or any other time, is bound to be followed by a certain period of deflation."

Keep a Good Laxative
always in your home

Among the necessities of home is a good, reliable laxative. Don't be without one! Do your best to prevent constipation. Don't neglect it when you feel any of its disagreeable symptoms coming on. "We have used Theford's Black-Draught for 21 years and have found it a very useful medicine that every family ought to have in their home," writes Mrs. Perry Hicks, of Belton, Texas. "I take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and other ills where a good laxative or purgative is needed. I have always found Black-Draught gives good results." Sold in 25-cent packages.

This point of view would overlook the difference between deliberately encouraging with tremendous banking credits a great increase in capital facilities for which no use could be found later, and the less questionable encouragement of what might appear to be a normal increase in business due to improving standards of living. It would also overlook the fact that the production of the means of destruction is not economically comparable to production of means for constructive purposes. The only interest a bursting shell produces is the interest which can be collected from indemnities placed on the vanished nation. The world already knows how poor an investment that must be.

These are things Americans are learning, and not forgetting. It is well to recognize that the $10-a-day worker and the $2-a-bushel wheat farmer profited on the war, as the bankers did. It is well to note that bankers were by no means villains, measured by the morality of the times. But as a postscript it may be added that the people generally seem to have learned more than their bankers from the war experience, and may be expected to demand more protection against a repetition of old mistakes than bankers may consider necessary.

TEXAS BEEF CATTLE ARE IMPROVING

The Government purchases of cattle during the drouth enabled the ranchmen and farmers of Texas to cull their herds which has resulted in a better class of beef cattle, according to George W. Barnes, Extension animal husbandman.

Barnes in outlining a few things to be done in 1936 for further improvement of Texas beef cattle, also said, "County agricultural agents are taking advantage of the government culling job and are encouraging the use of better registered sires."

The Extension animal husbandman went on to outline a few tips on raising good beef animals. He said, "The better the quality of the calf the longer it can profitably be fed. A six months' feed will be required to fatten well bred 400 pound steer calves. If calves are as light as 350 pounds when started on feed seven months will be required. Heifer calves of the same weight and quality will finish 30 to 50 days earlier than steer calves."

"More rapid gains may be secured on steer calves the second 90 to 100 days of feeding than the first. In the fattening period a calf should at least double his weight. A gain of two pounds per day may be considered satisfactory. The amount of feed necessary to fatten a calf will depend upon the condition, quality and weight of the calf and the ability of the feeder. Under ordinary farm conditions, it will take 1,500 pounds of shelled grain, or one ton of grain sorghum heads or ear corn, 300 pounds of cottonseed meal and from three-fourths to one ton of roughage per head.

"Grain should be fed in limited amounts at the start of the feeding period and gradually increased until calves are on full feed. Briefly, the whole feeding process consists of starting calves on a little grain and a lot of roughage and gradually changing to a little roughage and a lot of grain. The skill with which a person makes these changes largely determines his success as a feeder.

"Silage may be used as part of the roughage for calves. Silage alone will not produce a satisfactory finish. Silage may be mixed with a full amount of cottonseed meal as the sole feed for at least 30 days to give fill and develop stomachs. As grain is increased, cut down on silage. Two pounds of dry roughage per head per day is advisable.

"Calves fed in open bunks should clean up feed daily with very little feed left in bunk over night. Feed should be ground fine enough to crack grain sorghum grains and to crack shelled corn into four or five pieces. All feeds should be thoroughly mixed to prevent bolting, and stale feed discarded promptly or fed to other livestock. Cottonseed may be substituted for meal at the rate of one and two-thirds pounds of cottonseed for one pound of meal, but cottonseed should never exceed 20 per cent of the whole mixture."

Lions Win Tourney Defeat Eagles 29-24

VERIBEST IS CONSOLATION-WINNER

The Ozona Lions won the Eldorado Tourney Saturday night by defeating the Eagles 29 to 24. The Eagles played a nice game but have played much better in the past, according to Coach Bynum.

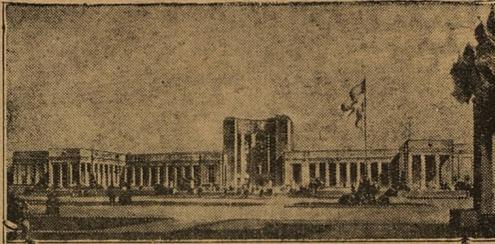

The Veribest Farmers had one of the best teams present. Ozona and Veribest tied with a score of 21 to 21. The Lions won by scoring 2 points in an extra 3 minutes play. After defeating the Farmers the Lions advanced to the semi-finals. Veribest was the consolation winner.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me."... If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

HIGH SCHOOL GYM RECEIVES MAT THURS.

A gymnastic mat was received Thursday, January 16, from the Western Mattress Company of San Angelo.

The mat cost $30.00 and its dimensions are 10x10 feet. This is the first piece of gymnasium equipment the school has purchased. The mat is for wrestling, tumbling and other gymnastic work. It has five rings in it to support to the wall when not in use.

The school hopes to receive more equipment from time to time until the gym is fully equipped.

OPENING OF CAFETERIA

An opening celebration was given Friday, January 17, for the school Cafeteria and lunch room. There were 38 ladies present at the shower. Many nice things were received and appreciated. The gifts consisted mostly of knives, forks, spoons, bowls, plates, glasses and cups. The cafeteria still needs more soup-bowls and plates.

The entire student body wish to thank the parent teachers and the other people who helped to make the cafeteria possible.

The cafeteria opened Monday January 20. The cafeteria was patronized on its opening day by 41 students. This is extra well for the first open day.

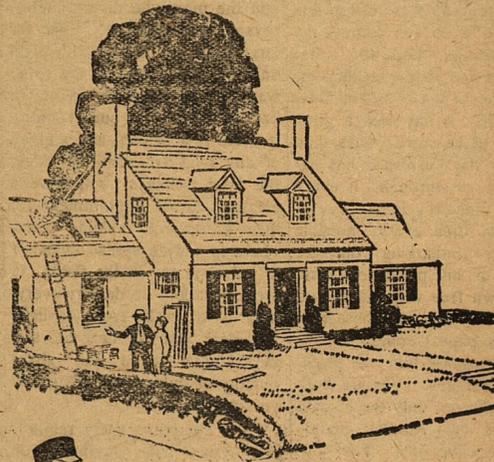

The Parent Teachers are sponsoring the cafeteria. The Home Economics girls are helping with the serving and managing.

Gracious Hospitality on the Part of the Mexican People Of Long Ago

Gracious hospitality on the part of the Mexican people welcomed visitors from Texas less than two score years after the culmination of the Texas-Mexican war, and reports from Texans found it expedient to remove their residence to the republic below the Rio Grande reveal the friendliness that existed between the two peoples.

In the Governor Oran M. Roberts papers, now in the University of Texas Library, are to be found letters from practically every prominent Texan of his day. Besides these official and semi-official epistles, there are many letters of a more personal nature. One of these is from a personal friend of the Roberts family, a woman who found it necessary to tear up the roots of her domestic life in the State of Texas and go with her husband to live in Mexico. From her enthusiasm for her new home, her keen interest in the Mexican people and her affection for the beauties of the picturesque scenery of Mexico, one can not doubt that she proved to be a valuable "ambassador of good will" from Texas to the country across the Rio Grande.

Her letter of June 29, 1882, to Governor Roberts was written from Saltillo, shortly after she and her husband, a surgeon who carried his practice to that Mexican city, had left their Texas home. It reads as follows:

"Dear Friend and Governor—
"I was extremely sorry not to have seen you before leaving Austin, made several attempts to do so, but you could never be found; however it is not too late for me to write and express my sincere thanks both for your book and for that excellent official letter to our excellent Governor here. It has been a great value to us in more ways than one, and the Governor has extended to us through it every kindness especially in the way of giving Dr. Bibb every possible facility in embarking on the practice of his profession here. Of his own free will and accord he had many notices published in all of his papers complimentary and commending him as physician and surgeon. We are both pleased with not only the climate of Saltillo, but all the people whom we have met. They appear to like Americans very much and there is a great interest now in the study of the English language. The private secretary of Governor is an exceedingly intellectual man, a hardy student, has mastered three languages already; and now comes here every night to say his lesson in English, meantime assisting us greatly in the Spanish—Sr. Francisco Rios, his wife is my best friend here, a charming bright little woman and my near neighbor. The scenery around Saltillo is beautiful indeed and Nature has certainly done remarkable well in every way for the place. There are two lovely parks; or rather one is called the Alameda where in the evenings you can see as handsome equipages as in the states driving around and around under the shade of immense forest trees—inside however, are nice seats and beautiful flowers, and always chatty bright children, with nurses walking. But the plaza near us is just as pretty, a fine fountain and every night it is thronged with people of every age, size and station, three times a week a splendid military band plays and I tell you no band of any country could make finer music. The church which stands in front of the plaza was built in 1800—has elegant exterior decorations: the carving would certainly reflect credit upon these more enlightened and civilized times. The house in which we live was General Taylor's headquarters during the Mexican War—the ceilings are 30 feet high, walls from two to four feet thick and most beautifully frescoed indeed; so handsome is the frescoing that one can scarcely believe the house could have been built in 1823 and has never been retouched since. Just up this street 3-4 of a mile stands still the Buena Vista fort erected by Taylor's Army. I have not yet been there, nor to the fort but the latter is in sight. I found the people universally polite—in every little thing they are considerate of others. Drunkenness is a thing almost unknown. Since coming to the Republic have seen two men staggering from liquor, and they do not pass more than a square or so before being overhauled by a policeman and are made prisoners. There is no loud talking in the streets nor even calling aloud. If you wish to attract the attention of a friend—merely slap the hands together—once or twice—or an inaudible hiss is sufficient. The donkeys are the principal means of transportation; large numbers—frequently as twenty and thirty—heavily laden with adobes or rock for buildings, or with provender for horses as the case may be—pass silently along, meekness in their faces and the man who directs merely says occasionally hiss! Even the large carts and stages with eight and ten mules go in the same way, no whooping in driving or passing here as in our country. If there is a heaven and animals of any kind are admitted surely the poor donkeys will have a pleasant corner appointment for their permanent abiding place. There is a wide spread evidence of industry, as in the fields in every vocation. In the city everybody is at work: from daylight until dark you can hear the saw and hammer—even the street vendors of dulces are selling and working steadily.

"It is something very remarkable to me that, having been steeped and dyed in Revolution for sixty years, having known no peace until the past six years—can reasonably say two generations have melted away amid war—and through all this, these Aztec descendants have retained a love for the beautiful in flowers, trees, in the arrangement of the interior courts of their houses. And those revolutions were in such rapid succession. One man in power one month or two, another dispute his claim, rally men and walk in over the other one.

"The Governor here seems to be very progressive, is endeavoring to inspire these far-behind people with some of the zeal and business thrift of the Americans. He is the first Governor this state has ever had who had any interest in public education. He gives his entire salary to the schools here and pays all the men in his service officially from his own private purse. But of course he has large means. We receive the Statesman &c see your name mentioned frequently. When you leave the Gubernatorial chair Texas will sustain a loss difficult indeed to be repaired, for you have been Governor and no ring nor party whip has played any part in that business. I hope when you retire from the perplexities of public life you can bring Mrs. Roberts out here for a while. The primitive customs of unaccustomed to them. For instance, the ploughs they use are those used by Cincinnatus when called from it, to be dictator of Rome, 400 B. C., are of wood. It is remarkable how they make anything at all.

"I know you will say on opening this, now here is a letter from some woman asking a reprove for her husband from the penitentiary or from hanging, and will toss over without reading to your clerk with disgust not even looking at the name signed to the bottom. But if you do treat me this way and do not answer—my Aztec friends shall not receive you kindly when you come among them. Dr. Bibb is very busy now all the time, is doing well; and, well satisfied, he wishes me to say to you he feels indebted to you for much of it. It has been so cool ever since coming here have been compelled to wear light woolen clothing. There is an abundance of fruit which is now ripening and will be very cheap. This letter is intended for both yourself and Mrs. Roberts, and if you have not time to write ask her to do so. Dr. Bibb wishes to be remembered to you all. Accept my sincere regards for the family—or yourself and Mrs. R. especially.

"Your Friend sincerely
Fannie C. Bibb."

THE CHILD WILL TRUST HIS TEACHER

"The child will trust his teacher if the attitude of the parents is conducive to respect for her," says Clara Perman in the National Parent-Teacher Magazine. Miss Perman tells the following little incident to illustrate her point.

"Well, I'm not going to school any more," announced my indignant young son as he came through the kitchen door one noon. He had been going to school for exactly six months.

"Why not?" I asked. As a rule I expect almost anything, but I was genuinely surprised at this for he had always been most enthusiastic about school.

"The teacher called me a trouble-maker and said I'd have to stay after school!" The tone implied that this was the sum total of all insults.

"Why did she do that?" I inquired softly, without too much show of interest which might promptly put him on guard.

"Well—Jimmie threw an eraser and I just walked up and patted him."

"And then what?"

"Well—the teacher saw me and not Jimmie—and she let Jimmie go—but Jimmie shouldn't have done that! I don't like her. I'm not going back."

It's so easy for a mother to see her son's point of view, isn't it? He had felt a little unfairness there that the teacher had missed. Having taught school for several years, I realized that teachers are not infallible. That wasn't my problem just then.

My boy's success and confidence, I knew was due largely to that faith he had in his teacher. This going to school is a strange new adventure to any child. His guide must be held in the highest esteem. Once his teacher should topple from that high pedestal upon which he had placed her, all the king's horses and all the king's men could never put her back again. That was my problem now. His teacher's pedestal had tipped over so little: it was my duty to set it back before it went over completely. I attempted to look very sorrowful and, putting as much pathos in my voice as I could muster, said:

"Well, isn't that too bad. You wanted so much to learn to read, and that teacher is trying to hard to teach you to read. But I suppose I'll just have to go right on reading the stories to you."

His eyes opened wider and wider; he said nothing more; but at one o'clock he marched off to school. When he came home that evening he seemingly had he had gained by the experience. He had learned to let the teacher do the disciplining of his school-mates, and he had started to learn that most difficult of all lessons—a realization that happiness must come to him through his own good deeds, not through worrying about the punishment that evil-doers miss.

LET'S TALK

ABOUT CLOTHES

How many women give no thought and very little attention to the appearance of their eyes? So many have remarked, "Eyes are just eyes, and there's nothing you can do to improve them" that the statement has become fixed in the minds of people, and the idea of using eye makeup seems frivolous.

Of course we wouldn't want all the women in the world to waltz around with beaded and slathers of vivid shadow, but a bit of discreet eye makeup does more for the average face than any beauty aid save perhaps lipstick. "Pallor" about the eyes, by which we mean the effect when eyes are not striking is a beauty ill of which you're apt to be unconscious.

Use mascara by all means if the lashes are colorless, and don't be completely wary of shadow. A tiny bit, deftly blended and in the right shade, is in perfect taste and plenty attractive. Your mascara can be brown or black if you're conservative; after the start you can work in the more exciting blend for evening.

Girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) maintain that eye-brow grooming does wonders. Not plucking to a thin, harassed line, but simply making the most of the natural line. Messy brows make a face look grimy in some mysterious fashion; shaping and clearing the space above the nose spruces up the entire facial effect.

Much has been said here relative to eye-makeup, but the care of the eyes is also extremely important. When they are tired washes will give soothing effects and help bring back the sparkle. At night apply oily creams to stimulate growth and make the lashes soft.

ton farmers and the producers of other world market crops must purchase their supplies in a higher-priced protective market and that there is no constitutional means by which they may be given an even break.

The greatest fundamental in our system of government is equally in the operation of its laws.

I am sure a constitutional method of putting all our citizens on an equal footing can be found. Certainly in the interest of simple justice the effort should be made. To this task the House Committee on Agriculture is devoting its earnest attention.

Personally I favor a domestic allotment plan linked with a soil conservation and rebuilding program and also including the seeking of new and additional outlets and markets, domestic and foreign.

ELDORADOANS ATTEND SONORA MEET TUES.

The Eldorado Missionary Society was well represented at the Zone meeting, which met at Sonora last Tuesday the 14th. There were twelve present: Mrs. Frances Thompson, Mrs. Mabel Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Connell and son, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Geo. Neill, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Dave DeLong, Mrs. White, Miss McClary and Mrs. Ed DeLong, all having a grand time.

The meeting was called to order at 10:00 o'clock and instructions given to each group leader after which each group went to their rooms and discussed their problems as well as received instructions as to what their duty, aim and responsibility should be. We then returned to the main auditorium and each leader gave her report. A short talk was given by Mr. Hill of Junction, after which we adjourned for lunch.

The lunch hour was especially enjoyed. We had time to meet our old friends and we hope, made new ones.

A meeting of the Zone officers was called at 1:00 o'clock and at 1:15 the entire Zone was called together again. Mrs. Slater was the main spokesman for the afternoon and gave us a lecture about getting our reports in on time.

There was a piano solo in the morning, two vocal solos at the lunch hour given by girls, and after lunch a vocal solo and piano solo given by boys all of which we enjoyed very much.

The meeting adjourned at 3:00 p. m.
