On The DIVIDE

YOUR NEWSPAPER AND YOUR COMMUNITY

The weekly newspaper has its place of service that no other agency can replace. The radio, the theater entertainer much better, the former course brings instant news of wide interest if you happen to listen in at the right time, but none of this concerns the people who live about you. Local happenings and projects must depend on the county newspaper for publicity. And publicity is valuable to the community. Even the larger dailies are not interested in promoting the welfare of the town you live in, but the local paper, no matter where your home is, is intensely interested in it. Usually it devotes more time and energy to the advancement of the town than any other one agency within the town. We do not claim that honor here, but we do mean to do our best in that direction, and it is true in the majority of communities. It is a service no town can afford to be without.

Each of these public service agencies require popular support for their maintenance. The radio and newspaper depend, to a large extent, upon advertising revenue for existence. It is impossible to maintain a newspaper without it. The radio extracts its revenue from the larger manufacturer. The newspaper must depend primarily upon the retailer, as it comes closer to the point of final sales than the radio. Naturally, the retailer advertising in the local paper in his town does so with the expectancy of pecuniary returns, but by supporting the paper, he is also making available a service for his community that could not exist unless he and other merchants made it possible. So, in reality he is getting his money's worth in community service as well as in advertising results.

Individuals and groups ask for, and receive the service of the paper each week for a variety of enterprises, private and public; in weddings, births, and deaths, in civic undertaking, in neighborhood news that effect their welfare, in announcements of importance, and in a hundred other ways. The advertising merchants are buying you this service, as well as selling you their wares.

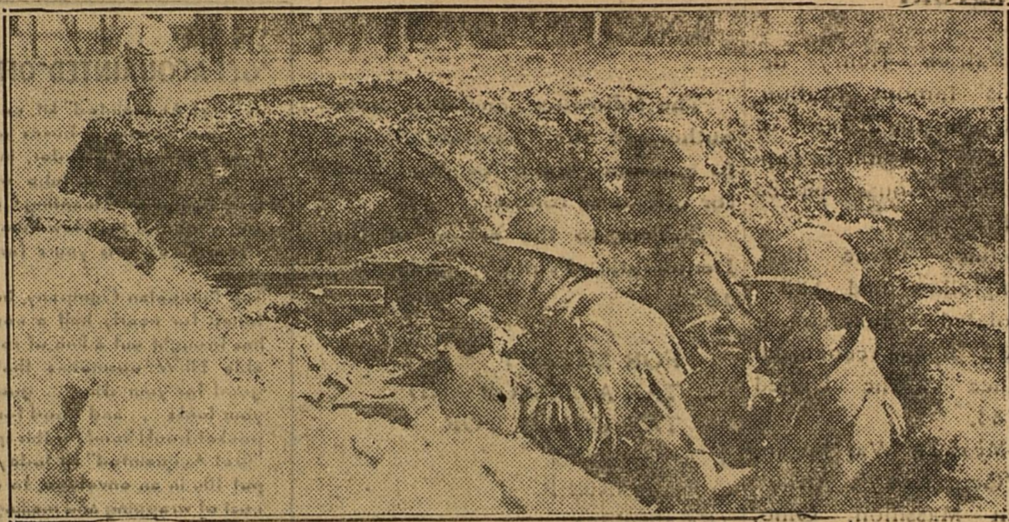

That's why this paper and every other paper, keeps insisting that you read the ads, and patronize the advertisers. They are our revenue, and they provide you with a service you use and appreciate. The subscription you pay us, as badly as we always need it, pays little more than the cost of the paper and mailing fees; the advertiser depends upon the readers to repay him for maintaining this service.

A ewe with triplet lambs is no common occurrence in anybody's sheep country, but a ewe bearing one black and two white lambs for a set of triplets is, we will have to admit, just a little out of the ordinary. Mrs. R. A. King reports such a case at their ranch 20 miles southeast of Eldorado. The lambs weighed 6, (See No. 1 Another Page)

ELDORADOAN MAKES GOOD AS GRID COACH

The following news story, taken from the Concho Herald a newspaper published at Paint Rock, will be of interest to friends of Con Isaacs:

Coach Con Isaacs who coaches the Paint Rock Indians and also teaches several classes in the Paint Rock High School has finished his first year in coaching the Indians. The close of the season marked the most successful year for the Indians since they started playing football.

Mr. Isaacs thought a great deal of his team and he received fine cooperation from the boys throughout the season because of the interest he took in the team.

During the later hours of the evening you could see him laboring trying to make a veteran football team out of one that had not had much experience.

Mr. Isaacs received his football experience at McMurry College where he played four years at center. With his fine character he was a noble example for the boys to follow.

"We hope that Coach will be back with us again next year and that his fame will rise to greater heights as the football coach of the Paint Rock Indians who think that he is the one and the only coach for them."

OUT on the Pacific Coast, where the Japanese question and the prospect of a war with Japan are ever-living issues a group of the hands at a canning factory were spending part of their lunch hour discussing these, to them, vital questions. First one and then another told what he would do in defense of his country when hostilities came. Sitting on a packing case was a lank Oregonian munching the last bites of his sandwich and taking no part in the discussion. The foreman addressed him.

"All these other fellows have been bragging about how brisk they'd be to enlist and what branch of the service they'd go into and so forth and so on, but you haven't said a word. How do you feel about it? If the Japs were to land an invading army in this country I suppose you'd go to the 'out, wouldn't you?"

"Yes, I'd go," said Jeff. "Me and the two others that I know what two others do you mean?" inquired the foreman. "Why, the two that'll drag me there," said Jeff. (American News Features, Inc.)

THESE SHOULD BE REWARDED

Every community has a number of individuals, who, because of their willingness and ability to sing, are called upon frequently to furnish the music at funerals. We have often wondered how many people have given a thought to the splendid service these persons so generously give in the course of a year. We have known a good many of them in the past, but we have never known of one who did not respond willingly and cheerfully on all occasions no matter how frequently the demands came or how busy the individual was at the time. Whether it is a funeral over which the whole countryside seems to mourn, or whether it is a simple funeral at which only half a dozen are in attendance, their measure of service is just as fully and just as cheerfully given. In the scheme of things today we are all busy. Sometimes to some of us it seems that life is little more than a treadmill, each day filled with an almost frenzied effort to keep up, to get the things done that it seems must be done. It often happens that in the press of duties that crowd upon us we forget to pay the last respect to a departing friend by attending his funeral, but these faithful few not only attend the funerals of friends but give hours of service to strangers as well, whom they have never known. If there is a heavenly choir any place in the scheme of things, in the hereafter, these folks should have the choice of cushioned seats well up in front.

NEW FARM PROGRAM LAUNCHED IN TEXAS

Base figures used in the 1935 AAA program in Texas will be used in the 1936 farm program being set up under the new Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, according to a statement issued here by Jack Shelton, Vice Director and State Agent of the Extension Service.

In preparation for putting the program into effect the Extension Service staff spent two days studying the plan for the Southern Region as explained by R. H. Rogers, senior agricultural economist from the planning division of the AAA who flew here in company with A. L. Smith, former chairman of the Texas Cotton Allotment Board. Smith has been in Washington for the past two weeks helping to work out details of the new program as they affect Texas and the other Southern States.

Following the conference at College Station, Extension agents in the counties will be called together in group meetings at convenient points in their districts and district agents will lay the general plans for organization and soil conservation before them to take back to their farmers.

At meetings in the counties the county agricultural agents will explain the terms of the Act and the proposed organization to be set up under it. Election of committees of farmers to administer the work will be the next step.

The organization will begin with a "community" committee of three members who will represent approximately 500 farmers. Committeemen from all members who will represent approximately 500 farmers. Committeemen from all communities will constitute a county board from which a county committee will be elected to have special responsibility for administering the Act in the county.

"Every farmer in Texas will have an opportunity to hear the Act explained and to cooperate in making the new farm program a success," Shelton stated. "It is their program, it was passed by Congress at their urgent demand, who believe that they will want to understand it very fully and that they will want everybody else to understand it too, because the old saying that 'what you are not up on, you are apt to be down on' is still true."

I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

WHY LINCOLN GREW A BEARD

An eleven year old girl promoted Mr. Lincoln's beard in the midst of the 1860 presidential campaign and proof of her success along this ultramodern line of endeavor may be seen by any visitor to Washington, D. C. The little girl was Grace Bedell, whose home was Westfield, Chautauqua County, New York. The episode was brought to the attention of the writers who are preparing articles on the Capital for the American Guide, the Government's forthcoming travel handbook.

In 1860 Mr. Lincoln was clean-shaven and more than a trifle gaunt. None of his masculine supporters guessed that his rather emaciated appearance would have any effect on the voters—all male in those days—but the ladies had a better understanding of popular psychology. Probably after having heard a good deal of talk on the subject at the sewing circles and elsewhere in her village, Miss Bedell wrote Mr. Lincoln on October 15, 1860 the following letter.

"Dear Sir: My father has just come home from the fair and brought home your picture and Mr. Hamlin's. I a ma little girl only eleven years old, but want you should be President of the United States very much so I hope you won't think me very bold to write to such a great man as you are. Have you any little girls about as large as I am? If so give them my love and tell her to write to me if you cannot answer this letter. I have got four brothers and part of them will vote for you anyway and if you will let your whiskers grow I will try and get the rest of them to vote for you. You would look a great deal better for your face is so thin. All the ladies like whiskers and they would tease their husbands to vote for you then you would be President. My father is going to vote for you and if I was a man I would vote for you to but I will try and get everyone to vote for you that I can. I think that rail fence around your picture makes it look very pretty. I have got a little baby sister she is nine weeks old and is just as cunning as can be. When you answer, address your letter direct to Grace Bedell, Westfield Chautauqua County, New York.

Shelton further emphasized the fact that the old program and the organization that went with it are completely out; that this is an entirely new set-up; that it is a soil conservation and soil building program.

"The blowing sand in the air right now and the floods which have made thousands of people homeless in cities and towns as well as on farms give a rather dreadful emphasis to the fact that America is fifty years late with a soil conservation program, but better late than never. I think we will all agree."

"I must not write anymore answer this letter right off. Good-by, Grace Bedell."

"I regret the necessity of saying I have no daughters, I have three sons— one seventeen, one nine, and one seven year of age. They, with their mother, constitute my whole family.

ROUT MARCH WINDS WITH TASTY STEW

During March and April there are always chill winds which penetrate with stinging severity, so if March goes out like the proverbial lion, as weather prophets predict, be prepared to counter-act the cold with warm and satisfying foods, such as a good old-fashioned stew served steaming hot.

A stew combines the tasty meat flavor with vegetables and makes a broth which is the delight of epicures and a comfort for tired workmen. The stew to give the most satisfaction must be well-made with plenty of meat to add both flavor and nutritive value. It is not important, however, that the meat be cut from the most tender sections, because in the long slow cooking given stews, the meat is always made tender. It is important that the meat have plenty of extractives, the flavoring substance which makes stews so tasty. Comparatively large amounts of extractives are found in the neck, shank heel of round, and chuck of beef, and in the forequarter cuts of lamb. Hence, these are the cuts most frequently used for stew, and rightly so, because they not only make excellent stew, but are also the economical cuts.

Here is Standard Method

The standard method for making stews, according to Inez S. Willson, home economist, is this:

1. Have meat cut into small pieces, into about 2-inch cubes, so that the meat will keep its identity after cooking.
2. Dredge with flour and brown in hot lard.
3. Season with salt and pepper and add enough water to cover.
4. Cover kettle tightly and let simmer slowly until done. Do not allow to boil.
5. Add vegetables just long enough before serving that they will be done, not overcooked.

While the method of cooking is essentially the same for all stews, still there is variety to be found among them. Different meats, different vegetables, and different seasonings insure them against monotony.

Many of the old-fashioned stews were served with dumplings, either drop or rolled. Rolled dumplings are never so fluffy as those made from a lighter dough, but they are more easily manipulated and are most delicious. An interesting variety of the rolled dumpling is the corn stuffed dumpling, which is certainly worth a trial.

Corn Stuffed Dumplings

Make a dumpling dough stiff enough to be rolled. Roll 1-4 inch thick and cut into 3 inch rounds. Place the seasoned corn pulp on top and pinch the edges of rounds together. Drop these on the meat and vegetables, not in liquid and, and allow to steam for fifteen minutes until done.

Old-Fashioned Stew

- 2 lbs. shank or neck of beef
- 4 tablespoons flour
- Salt and pepper
- 6 small onions
- 6 small carrots
- 3 turnips, quartered

Have the meat cut into 2-inch cubes. Dredge it with flour and brown in hot lard. Season. Cover with hot water and allow to cook slowly until done. Forty-five minutes before serving add the vegetables and season. Cover tightly and allow them to steam. Fifteen minutes before serving add the dumplings, cover and do not uncover until they are done. More water may be added as needed but do not add so much that the dumplings must rest on liquid. They are much better if they rest on meat or vegetables and are allowed to steam.

TWO MINUTE SERMON

The Golden Key: I believe the question of prayer is one with which a great many people have difficulty and one which many never really satisfactorily settle. They never achieve the result that is intended, namely, that of making prayer a useful, helpful thing in their lives. In times of stress and doubt and discouragement it is of no value to them. It has no reassuring effect. It brings no calm, no repose, no sense of harmony. Some go through the form but never experience any of the practical results. Many in such a situation make a sincere effort to make this adjustment and never succeed. They go through life and come to the end never having known what communion with God is. It will not attempt to say where the fault lies, whether it is their own, or whether it is due to improper early training and environment. I would not presume to criticize them or condemn them for their lack in this particular, because I believe in the majority of instances they are keenly conscious of the void in their lives. I have nothing but sympathy for the unsatisfied hunger that is always theirs. I believe many think they have achieved this relationship with God who in reality have never known it. To me the individual who professes to believe implicitly in prayer and who habitually resorts to it, yet who lives in a world of fear and doubt and apprehension and distress, has never found the golden key. I do not believe fear and doubt and distrust and apprehension and faith can live together. To me this group is as much in need of sympathy and charity as the other. The individual who has achieved the art of helpful, satisfying, faith building prayer has found the golden key for a triumphant and harmonious life.

BALANCED MEALS FOR SPRING TONIC

Far better than the old-fashioned remedy of sulphur and molasses to chase away spring fever, is the assurance that your meals are entirely adequate, and just to make assurance doubly sure, let's check up on nutritional requirements.

The whole year around, according to Inez S. Willson, home economist, the body needs and have high-quality protein to build and repair body tissues; it needs iron and copper for building rich, red blood; it must have calcium and phosphorus for strong bones and teeth; it must have the vitamins necessary for health. In foods, this means meat fresh vegetables and fruits, and dairy products, and then after those items are supplied enough other foods chosen as you wish to furnish the additional energy needed for the day's activity.

The value of sulphur and molasses, according to medical men lies in its influence on the blood. However, modern scientists have learned that one of the important factors in building rich blood is the supply of iron and copper in the diet, iron because it is an essential part of red blood cells and copper because it seems to be necessary in order for iron to be assimilated by the body. Both of these elements are found in all meats, but especially in the glandular meats, such as liver, heart, and kidney. Liver leads all other foods in its iron and copper content, and as a result is the chief blood-building food advocated in the treatment of anemia, a condition in which the red blood cells of the body are depleted.

Hides and Cotton For Purses Texas Grown

How to make a purse out of a cow's hide, give it a silky lining from the cotton patch and fill it with riches from the ground will be shown step by step at the Texas Centennial Exhibition opening in Dallas June 6.

Cotton, cattle and oil, the prosperity triplets of the Southwest, will be transformed before the watchers' eye from raw material into many hundreds of finished products. Uses of other Southwest materials will be demonstrated as they go to make wheels of the world's business go 'round and around and come out ahead.

Oil production in market quantities from 513 separate oil fields over Texas' thousands—by thousand—mile area has grown to such quantity that $2,000,000 a week income is paid to land owners by the Texas producers in the $13,000,000 industry.

Petroleum, in the crude state in which it comes from 83,000 wells that have produced $4,000,000,000,000 (T) worth of oil since the first discovery in 1866, will be carried through its refining into lubricating oil, fuels, cleansing fluids and waxes for the edification of crowds at the 1936 World's fair in the Southwest. Exhibits will be shown in miniature runs what is produced in 207 refineries, representing an investment of $400,000,000, of oil run to them through 50,000 miles of pipeline laid at a cost of $450,000,000.

Before oil became "biggest business," cotton was "king" in the Lone Star State. For years, cotton accounted for three-fourth of the crop values, which range from $250,000,000 to in bumper crop years with prices good, $1,000,000,000 (B). Last year's crop brought $375,298,000 (B). Cotton is a product of all Texas' 254 counties but 16, and acreage ranges from 13,000,000 to 16,000,000 and over.

Modern science, at the exposition, will demonstrate the wonders of manufacturers that yearly are putting the staple crop of the South to previously undreamed of uses, from sheer evening gowns to stationery, and yes—even leather.

Real leather is a high ranking product of Texas, and the one that to out-Staters is associated with Texas and the romance and traditions of the cattle country.

In the State where ranches are as large as the State of Delaware, and a front gate may be as far as 18 miles from the ranch house, the ranges fatten 6,800,000 head of cattle, which number is approximately the same as the human population.

Of this number, 1,388,000 are dairy cattle, and recognizing the vastness of this industry in Texas, the National Dairy Show will be held in October at the Texas Centennial in Dallas.

The exposition reflects all of Texas, which besides being largest of the States is largest in many fields of industry.

The largest helium gas plant in the world is at Amarillo; largest salt dome at Grand Saline; largest blocks of marble at Marble Falls; largest Spinach farm at Carrizo Springs; largest sulphur field in Brazoria and Matagorda counties; largest carbon black plant near Borger; largest natural gas field near Mampa; largest oil refining industry at Beaumont and Port Arthur; largest chili and tamale canning plant at Austin; large air military training center at San Antonio; largest privately owned horse racing plant at Arlington; and the largest natural bird sanctuary, extending along the Gulf of Mexico from Matagorda Bay to the

SURPLUS CONTROL NECESSARY

One of the underlying principals back of the agricultural relief program is the bringing of production and consumption into an economic relationship in which some reasonable balance between the two is maintained. The problem has become especially acute of late because of two factors; the introduction of power machinery into the industry, and the loss of foreign markets. A further factor is that agriculture is today trying to operate in a world in which every other industry but its own enjoys controlled production. The ideal method of control of surplus would perhaps be by the farmers themselves, in the same manner in which industry controls its surplus, but since such a plan is not now in operation, and may not be for many years to come, control of surplus, if it is to be realized at all, must be handled by federal agencies. To say that control is not necessary because it has not been resorted to in the past is not an answer to the question. We live in a changing world and agriculture, as well as every other human activity, is affected by the changed condition, and sooner or later will have to make the necessary adjustments that changed situation calls for. It cannot call the country back to the old days. It must come up to the new day.

WHAT WE THINK

Every profession has its problems, but I think the teaching profession or preaching, has a few more problems than most professions because it has to deal with the public in large groups.

An incident came to my attention the other day that will partly explain what I mean.

A local teacher had failed to give a scholar the grade that this particular scholar's parents thought the child should have received.

The parent went at once to the school authorities about it and demanded to know why his child was not being properly treated. Surely the teacher must be at fault. Johnnie always had gotten good grades, etc., etc.

The teacher was called in and Johnnie's case gone over.

The teacher knew that Johnnie was dull witted and in the parlance of his school mates just plain dumb but of course couldn't say so though she knew in her heart Johnnie couldn't ever make a decent grade.

The teacher had two alternatives, she could give Johnnie his just deserts which would be a low grade or she could kite his grades and pass him on and satisfy his parents.

I am not going to say what she did or what she should have done. I am not giving the incident to point out any course of action except possibly that of the parent. I do think if the parent had kept out of it, it would have been better.

I know this, that when Johnnie gets out of school and goes up against the real thing in the world where the peace of mind

Former Eldoradoan Publishes Book On Lives of Civil War Sea Captains

Jim Dan Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hill of Eldorado, has recently published his first book "Sea Dogs of the Sixties", treating the lives of eight naval commanders of the Civil War.

Mr. Hill was born at Rogers Prairie in Leon County, Texas, in 1897 and came to Eldorado at the age of 13. His father, D. C. Hill, was an Eldorado merchant for many years before his retirement several years ago. Both he and Mrs. Hill are still active and honored citizens of this city, and despite their age still take active part in church and community affairs.

Jim Dan Hill's life is briefly and accurately sketched on the lap of his book as follows:

"Jim Dan Hill's present position as head of the State Teachers College at Superior, Wisconsin, offers no clue to his adventurous past. With another youth he headed seaward from a Texas ranch in 1915 and spent several months seeing the world from the decks of freighters. Two years later the United States entered the World War, and young Hill became signaler aboard the battleship "Maine" and later on a destroyer.

"Since the war his avocational interests have been mainly with the military service, though he went back-to-sea for a time on merchant ships and acquired a third mate's ticket. He is now in command of a light field artillery battalion of the Wisconsin National Guard. "Sea Dogs of the Sixties" is his first book. He has been a professor of history since taking his Ph. D. in 1931.

Mr. Hill's book tells the story of four Northern and four Southern naval officers. The four Northern officers treated are David G. Farragut, Charles Wilkes, John Rodgers II, and John A. Winslow. The four Southern officers included in the book are John Wilkinson, James D. Bulloch, Charles W. Read, and James I. Waddell. It is published by the University of Minnesota Press, Minneapolis, and is dedicated by the author to his father, Dan Chapman Hill.

Mr. Hill graduated from Eldorado High School, after which he attended A.&M. College of Texas as one year. With the entrance of the United States into the World War, he enlisted in the navy and spent two years in that service. Upon returning, he received Baylor University and received his B. A. degree. For the next three years he taught in Blooming Grove, Texas; in the Gulfport Military Academy, Gulfport, Mississippi; and in the School of Mines, Socora, New Mexico. The following summer he received his M. A. degree from the University of "Colorado" at Boulder. He then taught in the School of Mines, Houghton Michigan, from where he went to the Teachers College, Rice Falls, Wisconsin, as Dean of the History Department. While teaching there he completed work on his Ph. D. degree, which he took from the University of Minnesota in 1931.

Besides Ernest C. Hill of Eldorado, who succeeded his father in a local hardware business, Mr. Hill has one brother and four sisters. The brother is Dr. Malone V. Hill, a Houston surgeon. The sisters are Miss Miltia Hill, Professor of Art, West Texas Teachers College, Canyon; Mrs. J. Wering Walker, Plainview; Mrs. J. J. Robertson, Jr., Denver; and Miss Katherine Hill, Plainview.

WORLD POWERS DRIFTING TOWARD ANOTHER WAR

It gives us an uncanny feeling when we realize that in spite of all the talk against it, and in spite of the fact that the whole world was all but bankrupted by the last one, the world is drifting surely toward another war. There never was a time in the history of the world when there was so much peace talk and so much general preparation for war. Incidentally one might add that there never was a time when with the exception of a cash reserve, every nation was as well prepared for war as the nations of the world are today.

The last four years has proven to even the most skeptical that the practice of saving a little money for a rainy day has its good points.

Four more states are necessary or two thirds required to put in the child labor amendment.

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lefe, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theford's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

33,890 PERSONS KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Automobile accidents caused the deaths of 33,980 persons in the United States in 1934. During the World War the United States suffered 37,568 killed in action, which was only 3,588 more than those who lost their lives in automobile accidents last year. The most tragic part of it is that most of the accidents were caused by carelessness and with reasonable care could have been avoided. The public conscience is pretty well awakened against war, but its attitude toward automobile accidents almost approaches indifference.

of a harried school marm won't enter in, he will get his just deserts. If he is a dumbbell he will get a dumb bell grade, and if he has brains and intelligence his record will show that also at its true value.

A lot of doting parents will pick me to pieces for this, but everyone who has taken a turn at teaching school will know just what I am talking about.

It doesn't require much party loyalty for a political job holder to attend the several party meetings of his party during the year, but the fellow who has no job and knows that he won't get one shows some real party spirit when he lays down two dollars for a ticket.

POLLUTION OF THE POTOMAC

In concocting schemes to spend federal money, the appropriation to eliminate pollution in the Potomac should take first prize. Better that surplus funds be squandered in the manufacture of swivel chairs for new-deal fundamentals, for nothing will ever expel the pollution of the Potomac, and that goes for both political parties. Hoover has a much better idea for spending money — the Hoover running the department of justice. He announces that his department will wage war on rackets. Your scribe hopes the battle will be broad enough to include political rackets for more progress could be made in that direction to clean up the Potomac than in all the scientific experiments combined to purify its polluted waters.

New York and Wisconsin are said to have the best state tax system.

BORROWING FOR MARCH IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

The United States Treasury's one and one-fourth billion dollar March borrowing was oversubscribed from five to seven times. The books remained open but one day. The response is a remarkable endorsement of the credit of this nation, especially considering that the bonds drew only 2 3-4 per cent and the notes 1 1-2 per cent. The big money of the country apparently has no fear of the nations soundness or its ability to meet its obligations. There never was a time when the Federal Treasury has borrowed at such a low rate of interest. In addition to borrowing for current needs at the prevailing low rate, the treasury has refinanced practically all older government loans which were drawing 3 and 4 per cent, at much lower rates of interest. The saving in interest amounts to several hundred million dollars a year.

A number of deaths caused by automobile accidents last year was seven times greater than deaths from the same cause in 1914. The death rate increases as the number of cars in use increases and also as the speed of the cars increase.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

New York City—Flood-scarred districts throughout New England, New York and Pennsylvania report the gradual resumption of every-day life, but all face spalling losses to goods and property. Both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads announce the resumption of east-west schedules. The flood now moves into the Mississippi Valley where further damage is anticipated.

GOODYEAR TIRE STRIKE ENDS

Akron, Ohio—After 5 weeks of idleness, costing 14,000 workers $2,500,000 in wages, the employes of the big Goodyear Tire works went back to work. Strike started over the laying off of veteran workers; ended with the acceptance of President Paul Litchfield's seven-point peace program, including union recognition; 6-hour day and retraction of disputed lay-offs.

KNEW WHAT THEY WANTED

St. Paul, Minn.—Into the City Hall marched Robert Bergeron, relief applicant, wife and 10 children, and deposited at Mayor Mark Gehan's feet a bundle of soiled clothes. Either the Mayor could do the laundry himself or give the Bergerons an electric washing machine, was the ultimatum. Offered a $60.30 WPA job, the visitor declined; $100 a month, plus washer, or nothing. Mayor Gehan was left with the wash.

SOCIETY WOMAN WINS VERDICT

New York City—Mrs. Marie W. S. Wright, looked up at a hair-tonic advertisement in the subway, was "mortified, embarrassed and humiliated" to find her own picture with that of a bald-headed man labeled "Don't let this happen to you." Taking the advice, the socialite hauled the manufacturer and his advertising agent into court, demanded $50,000 for her wounded feelings. She got a verdict of $3,000.

BIGGEST ENTERPRISE UNDER SCRUTINY

Washington, D. C.—Armed with a Congressional grant of $750,000, the Federal Communications Commission swung into its investigation if the world's largest private enterprise, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. Said President Walter S. Gifford, "We have no skeletons to be exposed." A staff of 15 investigators, 12 attorneys, 42 engineers, 151 accountants and a horde of clerks spend $425,000 in preliminary work. The FCC's chief inquisitor progresses.

AMERICA INCREASINGLY AIR-MINDED

Washington, D. C.—Bureau of Air Commerce, in figures just released for 1935, shows great increase in air traffic. Twenty-five domestic air-lines carried 67 per cent more passengers, 68 per cent more mail, 80 per cent more express than in previous years. They added 60 new airliners, flew 20 per cent more miles and realized on overall traffic 52 cents per mile.

THE PRESIDENT GOES FISHING

Washington, D. C.—After thrice postponing his Florida fishing trip, once to marshal county's relief for flood victims, President Roosevelt is now in Southern waters aboard the Coast Guard Cutter "Potomac", remodeled as a Presidential yacht.

CIVIC DUEL IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas—Ever since the coming of railroads in the 70's, this city and Ft. Worth have been rivals. This summer the rivalry reaches national importance. Dallas, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Lone Star State, expects 12,000,000 visitors to its Texas Centennial Exposition, cushioned with a fund of $25,000,000 from Federal, State, City and private sources. Not to be outdone, Ft. Worth raised $5,000,000 for a show of its own, then hired Billy Rose, New York showman and producer of the Hippodrome's "Jumbo," at $1,000 a day, to stage huge extravaganzas, "The Last Frontier" and "Frontier Frolics". Already Texas is plastered with the slogan: "Dallas for education; Ft Worth for entertainment."

CANNED BLOOD FOR TRANSFUSIONS

Moscow, U.S.S.R.—Out of a last-chance successful transfusions of blood from a 6-hour-dead corpse to a dying patient grew the technique of "canning" blood for emergency transfusions, announced by Dr. S. S. Yudin. Out of 924 infusions of prepared blood, salvaged from the newly dead, only 7 resulted in death, and not one of those traceable to the blood itself, but to faulty administration.

TOO BUSY TO NOTICE

Atlantic City, N. J.—It cost Harry Blair $4 for trying to do two things at once. Hailed before a judge for speeding, his alibi was "My car-radio was on and I was too busy listening to a speaker for the National Safety Council against speeding to notice I was driving fast."

EASTMAN TURNS TIDY PROFIT

Rochester, New York—Every photographer knows that he cannot make pictures without silver. Eastman Kodak Company uses four tons a week making films. When President Roosevelt called in silver stocks, Eastman sold

Very Nice for Old Honus!

Recognize the gentleman? He is Honus Wagner, greatest shortstop in history and now coach of the Pittsburgh Pirate baseball team. The photograph was taken when Rangerettes from the Texas Centennial Exposition, $25,000,000 World's Fair opening at Dallas June 6, visited the team's San Antonio training camp. The girls invited President Bill Benschwanger and the members of his team to attend the Exposition.

part of its reserves to the Treasury at a profit of $1,550,045, according to a corporation report just made public.

GLUTTON FOR PUNISHMENT

Ocala, Florida—George Timmerman turned up at a local hospital with pictured hands and feet and badly lacerated lips. He claimed hoodlums has crucified him and sewn up his lips for his freely expressed radical opinions. Then someone remembered Timmerman as "the Human Pincushion" on the vaudeville stage. He was trying to get back behind the footlights with the help of a friend and a lot of personal suffering.

LEFT AT THE POST

London, England—With the sporting world agog over this week's Grand National, racegoers are laughing over the exploit of Mrs. Leouold Patridge at nearby steeplechase. Seated on horseback at the ringside she saw her husband entering the lap a bad fourth. Spurring her mount, she dashed into the course to urge her spouse onward. She came in 3rd, her husband 4th, but the next day the stewards of the meeting assessed her $50 for her "monstrous act-ion."

AUTHOR WANTED "DEAD OR ALIVE"

New York City—Publishers of "The Brown Network" claim that $2,000 has been promised 2,450 secret Nazi agents and 20,000 sub-agents in foreign lands if they discover who wrote this damning exposure of Nazi terrorism. The anonymous author charges the Nazis with kidnaping, arson and a wide variety of other crime; declares their extra-mural activities cost Germany $108,000,000 a year.

CAN'T GIVE AWAY CHILDREN

San Francisco, Cal.—Driven to desperation by poverty, Mrs. Linda Jones persuaded a neighbor to offer her 2-month-old daughter and 2-year-old son for adoption in a public park. Kindly passers-by accepted the children thus offered. Now the Juvenile Court, however, rules that the mother had no right to give her children away; that they must be legally adopted through the intervention of the court.

Mrs. Virginia Turney is back in Eldorado after spending last week in Sonora.

Hectic Days Sleepless Nights

Miss Currier relieved of nervous days and sleepless nights.

Christene Lanier finds Nervine best nerve medicine she ever used.

Miss Redman takes Dr. Miles Nervine when ever she feels restless.

IF YOU are nervous today, you probably will not sleep well tonight. If you don't sleep well tonight, you will probably be nervous tomorrow.

Don't allow yourself to become nervous. Take Dr. Miles Nervine. It will relax your tense nerves and let you get a good night's sleep.

Irritability, Restlessness, Sleeplessness, often lead to Nervous Headache, Nervous Indigestion, Hysteria—sometimes to a nervous breakdown and organic trouble.

Some of the people, whose letters are printed below, were as nervous as you are—possibly more so—yet they have found relief.

Three years ago I was so nervous I could not bear to go out in company and could not sleep nights. A friend recommended Dr. Miles Nervine. I now enjoy myself thoroughly and sleep every night. Miss Juliette Currier, New Market, N. H.

I have used Dr. Miles Nervine in liquid form and find it the best medicine for the nerves I have ever used. Christene Lanier, Middleton, Tennessee

Whenever I am over-indulged and feel restless I take one or two Nervine Tablets just before I retire. In the morning when I awake I feel like a new person and can go about my work as usual. Dr. Miles Nervine Tablets quiet your nerves, brace you up and are the simplest, most convenient tablets to take I have ever found. Miss Grace Redmann, St. James, Minn.

Before using your Nervine I was very nervous and irritable. Since I have started to take it I feel so much better that my family notice the difference. I still take it from time to time and the good result is wonderful. J. H. Redding, 1027 18th Ave., Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Redding fully appreciates his improved disposition.

in the management of the Success over to someone else and devote my full time to the service of Schleicher County and its citizens.

"Everybody already knows that I am for good roads—if they can be built without additional taxes. 'More Roads For Our Money,' go after state aid, stay on the job and work for every citizen of Schleicher County to be in overalls or wearing a tailored suit. If elected, I can and will get along and work with any commissioners, elected by the people. There are a number of things to be done in this county besides build better roads. But you cannot do much toward building a great county without adequate transportation facilities. A lot can be done to make our schools better and I am concerned about better schools.

"I appreciate every boost and if you honor me with the job, I will give my best efforts to the county's welfare.

"I do not intend to take undue advantage of my position as a publisher to use the Success as a medium for ambiguously heralding my candidacy, but on the other hand feel that in order to properly and intelligently present my platform to the voters of this county I can find no better means of doing so than through the columns of this newspaper. However, to prevent claims that I am resorting to this publication as an expedient for loquaciously abetting my campaign, I offer, in a spirit of fair-play, to my honorable opponent as much space here in as he may feel justified in using in the interests of his candidacy at only the cost of setting the composition. All other political matter from other candidates will be charged for at the regular rate."
