Woman's Club Observes Federation Day

The Woman's Club of Eldorado had its regular meeting on November twenty-second and observed Federation Day. Mrs. D. C. Hill was leader for both morning and afternoon session and because of her ability, personality and experience in federated club work, brought out most of what we gain by Federation. The Departments of work as follows: Education, Fine Arts, Legislation, American Citizenship, American Home, Press and Publicity, Public welfare and International Relations, were all discussed first, by the chairman of each department, then in round table discussion. The purpose of clubs Study, Sociability and Service was impressed thru out the day and much was gained by detail information given.

The club enjoyed a luncheon which carried out Thanksgiving ideas and beauty. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, baked turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, creamed peas, cranberry sauce, celery, hot rolls, coffee and pumpkin pie. The table was beautiful in its Thanksgiving dress—autumn leaves, fruit, hand painted miniature turkeys for place cards, autumn leaves for nut cups and candles on log holders thru the center of the long table. The club is indebted to Misses Agnes Rae and Kathryn Hill for the beauty and gracious service of the meal. Also the club appreciates the use of the Baptist Church for the day.

The club is studying Texas History, beginning with its discovery and exploration and continuing thru "Texas during the Republic." The library sent out by the University of Texas is fine and with the use of local libraries detail work is being done. Mr. Holt will lecture to the club in March on "The Capitals of Texas."

The next regular meeting of December thirteenth, will study "The Americans Beg'n to Come to Texas." Mrs. W. E. Eaton is hostess. Members are asked to bring all old magazines available which will be sent to Kerrville to Hospital.

PREPARATION FOR CHRISTMAS MAILING

During the Holiday time the volume of mail increases 200 per cent. The Postmaster General has announced all city, village, rural carrier deliveries and window service will be suspended on Christmas day and the following day, Monday. Therefore to assure the delivery of your Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas day the public should SHOP and MAIL EARLY. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail gifts, greetings and letters at least a week or ten days before Christmas.

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine. Articles easily broken or crushed must be securely wrapped and boxed. Use liberal quantities of excelsior, or like material, in, around and between the articles and the outside container.

Valuable fourth class mail should be INSURED. Coin, currency, jewelry and articles of considerable value should be sent SEALED FIRST CLASS REGISTERED MAIL.

Addresses should be complete before presentation for mailing. The house number, name of street, post-office box, rural route box numbers should be typed or plainly written in INK. The public is urged to NOT place seals or stickers on the address side of parcels or letters. Also Not to mail Christmas greetings cards in red, green or other dark colored envelopes, or in small envelopes.

Again let me stress the MAIL EARLY slogan. With the double holiday for postal workers many parcels will be mailed too late for delivery unless the public keeps this in mind. This will effect the mailer and bring Christmas cheer to our 350,000 postal workers by giving them their Christmas day with their

Mrs. Batchelor is a good marksman but this time she discovered the game and let her husband do the shooting. The head was taken to Max Feuge, taxidermist, and at the time it was the largest he had received this year. —Morning-Times

PROCEEDINGS OF TEXAS STATE TEACHERS ASS'N CONVENTION

The state convention of the Texas State Teachers Ass'n. was held in Fort Worth, November 24, 25, and 26. H. W. Stillwell, superintendent of schools at Teyarkana, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year. At the closing business session of the Convention, the teachers adopted a series of resolutions aimed at the improvement of schools in Texas:

1. A request to the Legislature to enact strict laws for the enforcement of the gasoline and cigarette taxes. According to the resolution, evasion of these taxes is costing the schools of Texas $750,000 per annum.
2. A request to the Federal Government to make available through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation sufficient funds to safeguard public education against retrenchment.
3. The Forty-third Legislature was asked to reform the tax system, and to set up a tax commission to study problems of taxation.
4. A request to the Legislature to enact a law enabling school boards to issue to teachers interest bearing warrants for obligations the school districts are unable to meet. These warrants could be cashed at local banks and would be accepted by the Federal Reserve Banks.
5. A resolution opposing repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and condemning any change in the present prohibition laws, except to strengthen their enforcement.
6. A resolution asking stricter standards for certification of teachers. President Hill advocates a minimum age limit of 21 years, the elimination of life certificates, and the specification in the certificate of the field in which the holder is prepared to teach.
7. Appointment of state and county superintendents, instead of electing them by popular vote.
8. Indorsement of the Texas Centennial and the World Court.

Invitations were received from Austin, Houston, San Antonio, and Galveston as the meeting place of the convention next year. The choice will be made next January.

DECEMBER 9, 1932

Christmas is just around the corner and it is coming with more speed than the prosperity that has been just around the corner. Christmas is coming to the most of us and it is up to us to spend this ancient day in the proper way. It is one of the most abused holidays in our catalogue. Many of us celebrate the day without giving it the slightest moment of its actual purpose.

Let us spend the coming holiday in sober righteous thinking and good deeds, bringing good cheer to others. Let our acts be in keeping of the babe of Bethlehem 1933 years ago.

The past sixty days have witnessed several deaths in our community. A thing that comes to every community, where civilization and humanity exists.

Our city is indeed fortunate to have within its confines the up-to-date service furnished by the Eldorado Funeral Service which is owned and operated by the Rev. J. L. Ratliff. Not only is it a financial saving to our bereaved, but it is convenient for our bereaved to visit the stock for a personal selection. Bro. Ratliff secures additional help if desired in all funerals, but can conduct funerals in a most satisfactory manner without outside assistance. The Eldorado Funeral Service is needed in our midst, and The Success again repeats we are fortunate in having this splendid service.

We still contend the less a man spends for booze, the more he will have to spend for bread.

If liquor is the logical way to get taxes for debt payments, why in the heck don't those wet countries raise enough to pay us their interest?

*GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE*

By F. G. Clark

On the morning of creation, all the morning stars sang together, and the son's of God shouted for joy (Job 38:7) and they have been singing together ever since. The fact is all nature is harmonious. In our solar system each planet keeps to its own orbit and tries not to interfere with its neighbor. Each is obedient to its control authority, the sun. There are no law breakers among them.

As to our earth, there was a time when the whole of it was a garden of Eden, or a paradise. There was no strife. The Lion and the Lamb lay down together. What are now beasts of prey, then had no venom, and the serpents had no poisonous sting. All living creatures lived together in peace and harmony. This will all be restored when man returns to allegiance to God and Christ again sets up His Kingdom on the earth. All of the strife in nature, all of animosity among men and living creatures is due to man's sin—his yielding to satan's tempting power. Then, so far as our earth is concerned, all nature fell, and the spirit of evil entered in to nature. Man's hand was turned against man, beast preyed upon beast, all earth became a perpetual battle field. Even the very forces of nature were deharmonized and plunged into strife with each other. Thus resulted earthquakes and destructive storms. Famine and pestilence became common, in a world where hunger and disease were unknown. The cause is not far to seek. Man was given dominion over the earth and all within. But the ruler fails, chaos is inevitable. And man, the ruler, failed thru transgression and all animate nature failed with him.

But the case is not hopeless. With man's redemption thru Christ, he shall regain dominion and all nature will be redeemed with him. The whole creation groweth and travaileth in pain together until now, waiting for the manifestation of the son's of God. (Read Rom. 8.)

Man has brought all his trouble upon himself. Sickness, want, strife, political corruption, burdensome taxes, war, pestilence, famine are the result of his own transgression or neglect. The fact is that in our present sinful state, every good and perfect gift that cometh down from above from the Father of lights, is turned into a curse by sinful man. The beautiful ideal of free government, came down to our fathers and we are rapidly turning it into a tyranny. Even our churches, having their origin in the high inspiration of God, finally become corrupted by the infusion of the political chicanery of the world.

Man, being sinful himself, besmirches every thing he touches. In the meantime, God has kept what we denominate inanimate, nature under His own rule. This is why communion with nature is good for us, and why country moral standards are higher than those of the city. What ever we can strain thru inanimate nature comes out pure. The harsh noises of a great city that grate so disagreeably upon the nerves, after passing thru the air and ether for a short distance, are robbed of their harshness and become pure melody.

The thunder's crash and the canon's roar, come to the ears of the distant listeners like the deep musical notes of the cathedral organ. This is why the poetical natured person delights to leave the discordant noises of the city and steep his soul in the harmonies of nature. To allow God's uncontaminated forces to vibrate thru his soul, and restore that harmony of which the works of man has robbed him. A better way still, is to go to God Himself, and sending up our aspiration call down God's inspiration. Then the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall be ours.

Then the nights shall be filled with music, And the cares that infest the day Will fold their tents like Arabs And as silently steal away.

HISTORY OF THE SENIORS 1932-1933

Edward Cox

As I sit here thinking of the past happenings during my life one of the first things I can remember is an incident which I suppose I will never forget. When I was only about five years old I was living with my mother and father, and two brothers on a large ranch where my father had been employed for several years. It had always been a habit of mine to go with dad after the horses every morning. We got up one morning and to our surprise the ground was covered with snow. Dad and all of us knew that snow called for a long hard day. I got into my rig and went with Dad to the corral. He caught old Dinnie and we got on and left. We had not gone more than a mile from the house when we heard some one cry for help. We wheeled our horse and ther to our surprise we saw the ranch-house ablaze all over. I told Dad to go back and I would walk back. After he had left at full gallop I decided to rest. I stayed there and watched the fire until I got so cold I could not stand up. About noon Dad came back looking for me, to find me all done up in a knot. I was so cold that I could not move without hurting myself. We got back to the bunkhouse and I fairly thawed out. We lived here on this place until I was about eleven years old, without any thing worthy of mention happening. At the age of twelve we moved to San Angelo and Dad started into the dairy business. Here closer to town my ambition grew to be some sort of traveler. At this age I would often go to some of my kinsfolk house and stay for a day or two at a time wandering home whenever I felt okay. When I was fifteen I took my first trip away from home, going to Fort Worth with a group of boys. I stayed nearly a week. It was at this point that I began an ambition to become an expert feeder of fine cattle and since then have been pursuing that line of work with all my chances. I left high-school in the spring of 1929 and went to Kansas City by way of train. I was gone only a week when the police chief found me and told me I had a telegram from home saying that my home had burned and I had lost my smallest baby brother. I only had about three dollars but I set out and told the man for whom I was working that I would be back soon. He thought a great deal of me and to my surprise he took me to the station and bought me a ticket home. When I reached home everything seemed to go wrong from then on. I stayed home until the latter part of 1930. One night I heard that a shipment of fine goats was going to Dallas. That night found me with a small bundle of clothes hanging on the freight car in which the goats were in. As it got cold toward morning, with much care I climbed to the top of the car and opened a small door. I could look below and see the rails passing underneath which looked like two straws of white flashing silver. I got into the car and fell on the floor and was soon asleep. When I awoke we had come to a sudden stop. I peeped out to see two brakemen escorting about seven negroes riding from the same car in which I was riding, but by chance they did not find me. I got to Dallas and hopped off the train in town. I made my way to Fair Park and the first person I saw was the man with whom I had worked in Kansas City sometime before. He took me in with him after an hours work cleaning out his box-car I rolled into a bed and slept until after daylight the next morning. We went from Dallas to Amarillo, from there to Wichita, Kansas, to Kansas City, to Lincoln, Nebraska, to Chicago, from Chicago to Denver and from Denver to Los Angeles and back home. It was about the middle of February when we got back. We made the entire trip by freight train. This is where I got the feeling of travel, but I soon learned what I was doing. Being out of school was not the place for a boy of my age and besides my company for the past four months had been the roughest kind. I came to Eldorado and went to work until I happened on a chance to go to school and so here I am still fighting to finish school before taking another trip. I can say this one thing, that the boys that have a chance for an education at home do not realize the value until something happens and they are out in the world, which is much colder than a young boy imagines by himself. But I might say that the trip I have taken and what I have learned has benefited me greatly in realizing the importance of a high-school education at any cost. —E.—H.—S.—

AFFIRMATIVE? OR NEGATIVE?

Inez Marshall
 You are wondering about the title of this article and what it means so I am going to make it clear to you just why we used this title. In the general science class a hot argument was rendered that was said to be a debate. The sides of this debate were Charles Ratliff and Gordon Williamson, Affirmative and Ollie Ruth Newlin and Loleete Andrews, Negative. Judging from the characters in the argument, it must have been a good one as well as interesting. The question for debate was: Resolved that The Loss of Artificial Light Would be a Greater Calamity to the World than the Loss of Coal and Iron. What do you think? The judges were: Fae Belle Enochs, Louise Boyer, and Jack Shugart. As you are wondering which side won I will tell you that the affirmative won by a high score of two to one. —E.—H.—S.—

SPANISH CLASSES MAKE TALKS

Frances Mills
 The Spanish Classes this year are making talks, entirely in Spanish. The Spanish I class does not know very much Spanish but they make good talks on simple subjects. The Spanish II class make talks on such subjects as "My Classroom," "The Library," "My Town" and "My School." James Tuck, one of the new pupils, talked on the Miles school, and Inez Marshall, another new pupil, talked on the Los Fresnos school. The Spanish II class has made only three talks this year. Two of the talks were on subjects of their own choosing. Some talked on the town, some on the school, some on the football team and others gave descriptions of places of interest. The third talk was jokes. Most of the jokes were short but they were funny. The purpose of these talks is to teach the students to speak Spanish fluently between themselves and with Mexicans. —E.—H.—S.—

ENGLISH CLUB

Alicia Burk
 The English Club met last Tuesday and had a short program about Thanksgiving. They also decided to make a scrap book of modern authors and their lives and work. These will be obtained from late magazines and newspapers. The students may make any size of a notebook that they wish but it must be neat, for at the end of the term Miss Allen is going to select the best scrap books and these will be put in the library for future use. The reason we are doing this is because many of the modern authors and their works are not listed in the encyclopedias and other reference books, yet they are often needed in one's school-work. So we hope by the time we finish our scrap books that any author may be found in them and that they will be of benefit to the students. —E.—H.—S.—

THREE TYPING STUDENTS RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Hollys Alexander
 A new plan was submitted to the typing class this year. Every time a student gets a certain number of words on a 15-minute test he is to receive a certificate. Jack Ratliff has received three for making 20, 25 and 30 words per minute for 15 minutes. Margaret Hill has received two for making 20 and 25 words. Bell Sample has received one for making 30 words. He is a second year student. Bell ranks first of second year students and Jack ranks first of the first year students. Other students are trying for certificate also, and probably several will have their 20-word certificates before the Christmas holidays. —E.—H.—S.—

SPORTS BEGINNING TO VARY IN E. H. S.

The sports are beginning to vary in the high school. The Eagles are still playing football. Their rivalry with the Grammar School is beginning to get tense. They will play until the snow stops action. The Eagles are beginning to turn toward basketball. The prospects this year are better than there ever has been here. They will have a schedule soon. They play every day at noon and after school. Tennis is beginning to come to life. There is one good court and another that will be good in a short time. According to Mr. Smith's opinion, they are better than some college's courts. There are only a few that play now. Coach Williamson, Mr. Smith, Joe Turner Hext, Jack Ratliff and Mr. Jim Hoover. We appreciate the interest taken by the people that are not connected with the School. We look forward to the time when tennis will be one of the best sports in Eldorado. —E.—H.—S.—

TOPPIN' THE EAGLES

The Eagles ended the season with a high percentage. The conference standing was:

Wpn	Lost	Pct.
Rocksprings 5	0	1.000
Eldorado 4	1	.800
Ozona 2	2	.500
Menard 1	3	.250
Sonora 1	4	.200
Junction 1	4	.200

The full season percentage was:

Won	Lost	Pct.
Eldorado 6	2	.750

Fredricksburg defeated Rocksprings 6-0 for the district. Brady turned back Fredricksburg 7-0 for the bi-district. —E.—H.—S.—

Next year Coach Williamson can put ten men that have lettered on the field. One of the halfbacks is the only position not filled. —E.—H.—S.—

Jetty Grace DeLong went to San Angelo last Tuesday evening after school. She made a flying trip and couldn't see why Santa Claus didn't come to San Angelo on Tuesday instead of Wednesday as he did. —E.—H.—S.—

Elnora Andrews went to San Angelo last week-end on a shopping trip. She must have more money than any of the rest of us have at present. —E.—H.—S.—

The Pep Squad girls are going to start another drive to try to sell the rest of the Christmas cards that they have on their hands. If you want to help them out just give them a dollar and they will give you a box of cards for your trouble. —E.—H.—S.—

Miss Meyer and Miss Turney motored to San Angelo last Wednesday evening and it is rumored that they went to see Santa Claus while they were there. —E.—H.—S.—

To my classmates of '32:
 I wish to thank all the seniors of last year for the flowers I received during my recent illness. I really enjoyed the flowers you "Poor Nuts" sent your classmate, Margie. It was good to hear from Spike, Professor, Julia, and of course my hero, the Poor Nut, and all the other nuts once again. Your classmate, Margie Blake (Gusta V. Graves) —E.—H.—S.—

NEW STUDENTS IN E. H. S.

Charles Ratliff
 J. M. Tuck enrolled in the Eldorado High School as a Sophomore. He came from the high school of Brady. He has joined the science club and is taking a liking to his work. He is the son of Mr. J. M. Tuck who owns the City Cafe. He is liking his studies here very much and the school is hoping he will enjoy being in the high school. —E.—H.—S.—

HOT WATER HEATER IS INSTALLED IN BATH HOUSE

Cecil Moore
 The boys of Eldorado High School have been given a new water heater by the Parent-Teachers Association. The hot water heater has just been installed by Mr. Dunn. It has a capacity of 44 gallons of water. There is another tank ready if the first one is not enough. The water is heated by a small coal stove. Every one should appreciate our having such an organization as the Parent-Teachers Association, but it is certain that those that go out for athletics appreciate what this organization has done. —E.—H.—S.—

THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

Harold Isaacs
 It won't be long now. The Christmas Holidays are just fifteen days away. School is going to turn out on Thursday, January 2nd 1933. This gives us a period of ten days to loaf and have a big time. It also gives us three days to think about what Santa Claus is going to bring us and seven days to play with our "play pritties." —E.—H.—S.—

JOKES

J. R. Conner
 James Page reached for butter without saying anything. Mr. Page: Why James! Mrs. Page: Son, don't you have a tongue? Janps: Yessum, but it ain't long enough to reach the butter. —E.—H.—S.—

Miss Allen: How many of you know what an anecdote is? John Alexander: I know! It's a mama goat. —E.—H.—S.—

"Iceland," said Miss Meyer, "is about as big as Siam." "Iceland," wrote Margaret Powers on the exam, "is about as big as Miss Meyers is." —E.—H.—S.—

Billie Kerr: Oh, boy, but Miss Meyer speaks Spanish like a native. John I. Jones: Yeah, like a native American. —E.—H.—S.—

GRAMMAR GRADE NEWS

Nell Campbell
 The grammar grade girl's baseball team has been playing the high school girls' team each day at noon for some time. Thursday, Dec. 1st, the high school team beat 9 to 1. This is a bit unusual. Either the high school team has waked up or the grammar grade team has gone to sleep. —E.—H.—S.—

In the Third grade, section A newspaper we find the following Mrs. Ramsey visited our room Friday. Walter Lee Carnahan moved to San Angelo last week. We were sorry to have him leave us. ### Lady Took Cardui And Got Rid of Pain In Her Side

"Last summer, my health was bad, so I began taking Cardui," writes Mrs. H. E. Slaughter, of Norman, Okla. "My mother had given me Cardui in girlhood, so naturally I turned to it when I felt I needed it. I felt run-down and a general weakness. I had bad, dizzy headaches when everything would seem to dance before my eyes. My right side pained me so much, but since taking Cardui the pain has left me. I have taken several bottles of Cardui and have improved a great deal." Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

THE TAX MENACE A GROWING CRISIS

By FRANCIS H. SISSON

President American Bankers Association
NO danger, economic or social, more seriously menaces our life, happiness and prosperity than the rising tide of taxes which threaten to engulf us. This is not simply a problem of the depression. It has been developing for many years, growing more serious all the time. The depression merely brought it to a climax. Unless drastic steps are taken to reverse this trend the problem will not end with the depression. It will continue to weigh down and retard progress for an indefinite period.

F. H. SISSON

In city, county, state and nation the orgy of spending has run on. It is estimated that in the United States the total cost of all government is nearly five times what it was before the World War. Many localities have been brought to the verge of bankruptcy by their expenditures, while many have saddled their citizens with a debt burden that will darken their lives and hamper their progress for years to come.

The total cost of Federal, state and local government in the United States is estimated at forty-six million dollars a day. Based on national income in 1930, this represents about one-fifth the total income of our people, or about $110 for every individual in the nation. Total taxes in 1931 are estimated to have taken more than 22 per cent of the national income. It is occasion for serious thought on the part of everyone when one day's income out of every four or five must be contributed to the maintenance of government machinery.

Reductions Possible

United States Government expenditures were reduced one hundred and forty million dollars during the first quarter of the current fiscal year. The recent action of bankers in calling a halt to unnecessary expenditures of New York City as prerequisite to loans will reduce the cost of government in the country's metropolis, which is second in its expenditures to only the Federal Government. No state in the Union, in fact, no other government on this hemisphere, spends half as much as this one city. These savings in Federal and municipal costs are only the beginning of a movement needed throughout the country, if we are to be led out of depression into prosperity.

Unless the people can be made to realize that money for governmental expenditure can come only from their own pockets as taxpayers, casting depressing effects on both individual effort and general business, there is an imminent threat that we may be forced to meet economic difficulties similar to those that have so seriously handicapped other countries. The question is not primarily one of merely paring government salaries or shaving budgets, but rather of curtailing government activities for which we cannot afford to pay.

The idea that money for these mounting extravagances can be raised by following the slogan "Soak the Rich" is utterly fallacious, for such a policy will simply exterminate "the rich" and eliminate sources of revenue. It is also important to realize that corporate business in this country is in no position to withstand the effects of indefinite advances in tax rates. Current earning reports reveal that fact beyond shadow of doubt. The tax base must be broadened, and it therefore seems likely that Congress will be called upon to reconsider the sales tax, at least as a temporary measure to help meet a critical condition in the nation's finance.

Deposit 'Guarantee' Fails of Purpose

LOS ANGELES.—While the idea of the guarantee of bank deposits by some legally enforced plan seems to appeal to many people who give it casual thought, the fact is that it has not only failed in every instance in the eight states where the experiment was tried, but actually produced unsound banking and increased the number of failures, it was declared by the recent convention of the American Bankers Association held here.

"Guaranty of bank deposits carries an idea that naturally appeals to people in general on casual consideration," the declaration said. "However, in principle it is unsound and in practice it is unworkable. It has been tried in eight States and it has not only failed in every case, but it has resulted in increasing the number of bank failures. Taxing properly managed banks to make up losses of failed banks is not only unfair and unreasonable, but it weakens the whole banking structure. Again, guaranty of deposits places the incompetent and reckless banker on an equal footing with the able and conservative banker, which encourages bad banking at the expense of sound banking. We are therefore opposed to the passage of any law carrying a guaranty of bank deposits and believe that it is against the interest of the people of the United States to develop any such system."

LET ME BE KIND TODAY

By George H. Free

Let me be kind today,
Nor carelessly let fall
One cruel, hurtful word
Which I cannot recall.
The heart I wound today
Tomorrow may be stilled;
I cannot gather up
The poison when 'tis spilled.

I must not waste today,
Life's harvest time is brief;
How scant the hour allowed
For me to glean my sheaf!
Haste! Haste! Oh, laggard hand
To plant the goodly seed;
Bear in the golden grain,
Perform the noble deed.

I would be true today—
Today is all I own;
Tomorrow may not dawn,
And yesterday has flown.
May I be given strength
To do my task, I pray,
And in my humble place
Let me be true today.
