Highway Department Lets Road Contracts

The Highway department has let many road contracts and at least the highway work will continue on through the winter months. A time when many people will need the work. The Federal Government is furnishing half of the money and the State that does not co-operate with them will help pay the bill and the other states will get the good roads and the money spent in their midst. Good roads are good investments and needed in every community. The failure of Jim Ferguson in stopping the work means bread and meat to many families.

To The Schleicher County Farmer

Our cotton crop is about all picked and sold, the money spent long ago and there is not a farmer in the county that has made one penny. Now how long can we go at that rate each year just a little worse than the last. You read about the depression being over or that times are improving but any man that says so is just a common fool or liar and maybe both. But don't tell them I said so! When cotton is 4 to 5 cents, cotton seed $6.00 per ton, it makes a fellow feel bad. But when he goes off to some neighboring company, finds the Ginner ginning for 20 to 25 cents per hundred and seed selling for $9.00 to $11.00 per ton, he feels bad all over. It makes him think there is something wrong somewhere but what good does it do him? Have we got to just go ahead and say nothing? Take our medicine and say it is good? Or is there a remedy? I think there is a way don't you? Surely if one man can make money ginning for 30 cents per hundred and pay $6.00 per ton for seed the farmers can build them a gin and make money ginning their own cotton. What are we going to do about it?

The Calamity Howler.

Mrs. Springston was a member of the Methodist Church and has spent her entire life in Texas. The Rev. Grady Timmons pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Angelo conducted the funeral service, from the Robert Massie Funeral Parlor.

Quite a few friends from this county attended the funeral and sickness prevented others from going.

Following were the pall bearers, D. E. DeLong, John Skeete, V. G. Tisdale, F. M. Bradley and H. W. Finley.

Play Friday Night Well Received By Audience

The play "For the Love of Mike" given by local talent Friday and Saturday night was well received by those that attended, despite the very inclement weather. Miss Reagan deserves special mention as she played the hard part and made a special hit with the audience. The play was given for the benefit of the Eldorado Cemetery. The crowds were small on account of the real cold weather.

LIONS CLUB MOVED LUNCHEON TO HOTEL

The Lions Club have moved their weekly luncheon to the Eldo Hotel for the present. They met Wednesday for the first time at the local hostelry, and will meet there each week until further notice.

There was no new business before the club at the meeting Wednesday.

A SYMPOSIUM ON EDUCATION

"Millions of children and young people follow the old, worn way to the school house. There they must find at least the opportunities offered so freely to their predecessors. If there must be a choice, build a school house, and leave a road unbuild, some streets unpaved. We must have education; it is America's boast. While other things are crumbling, our schools must be maintained." — Editor, Good Housekeeping.

"The unsupported assertion that education is costing too much is best answered by referring to such facts as these: that schools have never absorbed as much as 4 per cent of the national income; and the proportion of the national income and comforts. In the long run, expenditures for schools return devoted to public education remained practically constant for a decade prior to 1929; that the proportion of municipal expenditures devoted to education is lower now than at any time since 1922; that America spends about five times as much for passenger automobiles as it does for public schools; that effective public schools are essential to the welfare of our country; and that funds for public education have been, on the whole, wisely and intelligently expended."—N. E. A. Bulletin.

"There is scarcely a community in the country which, if it wished to forego the purchase of other goods and commodities, could not increase its expenditures for education. If the proper support of public education is once recognized as a matter of primary concern, the schools will be adequately supported even though we may not at once have as much as we would like of material luxuries

THINGS THAT HAPPEN WHEN THREE RAIL STATIONS COME IN ON THE SAME WAVE LENGTH

One was a minister, one was a man telling of the conditions of the roads, and the third was a lecturer on poultry. Here is what he heard.

"The Old Testament tells us that baby chicks should detour one mile south of Rowlett and listen to the words of the prophets—be careful in your selection of eggs, and you will find hard surfaced roads on to Rockwall. We find in Genesis that the roads are muddy just west of the henhouse, and clean straw is essential if you would save your soul.

"After passing through Royce City, turn south of Caddo. Three wise men bought a large size incubator on account of bad detour. The baby chicks were troubled with the pip, and bond issue is talked of in the Holy City. Keep the feet clean and dry, live a life of righteousness, and turn south one mile west of the school-house. Much care should be used in commending the sun to stand still, as there is a bad washout at the bridge at Mesquite, and the road to salvation is under repair, making it necessary for 70 degrees in the brooder house at all times. When you leave Forney, unless you do these things, the wrath of the Lord will cause the pin feathers to fall out and detour one mile south. Many are called, but few have any luck unless the gravel road between Terrell and Kaufman is mixed with the feed. Out of 500 eggs, one should get roads from Dallas to Ft. Worth, and the Lord commanded Noah to build the ark just one mile west of Waxahachie. It rained 40 days and 40 nights and caused an eight mile detour just west of the brooder house. Many tourists from the House of David are trying the Plymouth Rock mixed with concrete and a desire to do right.

BACK TO WORK

The tumult and the shouting have died. The speeches have all been made. The votes have been counted.

The campaign is history, and it's time to go back to work.

The great problems of today are not political problems. They are economic, financial, social. They are completely nonpartisan. All any President can do to solve them is to give his very best efforts, according to his lights, to assist the people with the power of government. Legislation will be passed, official suggestions will be offered—but no matter how good they are, they will be worthless unless the people stand shoulder to shoulder and work for their own salvation.

Almost all observers agree that the bottom of depression has been touched. The work of restoration has begun. It will be a long, an arduous work, requiring the utmost each of us can give. Partisanship must be forgotten. Labels must be forgotten. Never in the history of the country has nonpolitical leadership, and nonpolitical thought been so essential to the future. So—back to work!

The Texas pecan crop is estimated this year at 19,500,000 pounds, not very much more than half of the 32,000,000 produced in 1931, as a result of cold weather in March. Pecan-shelling and packing plants are a very considerable and a fast-growing industry in Texas, by reason of the large production of the State, representing usually more than a third of the national total, and their fall activities will provide employment for many workers both in the plants and in the gathering of the nuts.

Texas stands thirteenth in value of manufacturers and fifteenth in number of wage-earners industrially employed. That Texas has an unusually large number of small factories, however, is shown by the fact that it stands eleventh among the States in number of manufacturing plants (5,198) or well above its ranking in either manufacturing value or wage-earners.

High School Notes

of their pupils. They did not guide them wisely into the field in which they would most likely succeed. They gave every pupil the same dose of instructions. The schools of today train the pupils in the field that they think they will most likely succeed.

The person that makes the highest grades on his card usually makes the greatest success out of life. There has been several instances where the ignorant person has advanced higher than the educated person in his field because they have unusual qualities so that they excel their fellows despite their lack of schooling rather than because of it.

The best advice to a pupil is that he or she gets the most out of school that he or she can. You may not make as good grades as your school mate but if you get the most out of school in your field of work you most likely will go above him in actual life.

Life's report card is concerned with your success as author, scientist, business man, or what not, only in-so-far as in attaining that success you have been of service to your fellow man. In fact, few men obtain even marked financial success unless they are so interested in a work of service that profits are forgotten and take care of themselves. In that respect the country physician may be a bigger success than the world-famed surgeon; the obscure teacher may influence more lives for good than does the college president.

Your school seeks to afford you opportunity for development toward a well-rounded life of effective service, enriched by a proper appreciation of the delights of life's leisure hours. If your report card from life shows "A plus" in service, you have succeeded. Your school may help you to that end.

"JUST PASSING" OR "DOING YOUR BEST"

Thelma Taylor
Is it your aim to "just pass" or to do your best? Are you ambitious? Do you have high ideals? If so, which of these two would you choose? I would choose the latter for more reasons than one.

First, do you know what "just passing" means in every sense of the words? It means just over the failing line which is a little above seventy. If you are "just passing," then you should not be surprised to find yourself failing some fine day. On the other hand, if you are doing your best, you may rest secure in the knowledge that you are safe.

The second thing that "just passing" merits is a mind full of worries. Do you ever worry about whether you are going to pass or not? If you are "just passing" and never worry about it, you may be assured that you are minus a conscience. If you are doing your best, you will be rewarded by a free conscience and a happy heart.

When you receive your report card and if you are one of these "just passing" students, it will be composed of C's and C minus. Are you proud of it? Do you want your friends to see it and remark upon the grades? Or do you just not care? If you are in the last class, you will never rise to fame or other wise in the world. If the card is one of a person who has done his best, it will be a card to be proud of. You may show it to your friends and not feel ashamed of it, and when you gaze upon the grades, your heart will be full of gladness to think that you did your best.

Your teachers are proud of you do your best but they give no honors or credit to the person who is "just passing". Your parents will be proud to know that they have a son or daughter that does his or her best. You may never realize just how proud they are but they are glad to hear someone say, "There goes Mr. and Mrs. so and so. Their boy made the best card in school this month. If you doubt this statement you may ask your parents how they would feel or how they felt when you make good grades.

In years to come people will remember your good work or your bad work and remark to each other upon this subject. In doing work and so forth for other people, they will be more apt to engage you if they know that you will do your best and not do things just so they will pass.

After all that has been said on this subject, which would you prefer to be—"just passing" or "doing your best"?

NATION'S LAW MAKERS SEEN AS HARD WORKERS

Banker Tells of Labor Put in by Members of Congress on Mass of Technical Measures

OUTLINING legislative procedure, Robert V. Fleming, President Riggs National Bank, Washington, D. C., gave the recent convention of the American Bankers Association a description of the difficulties and problems confronting the law-makers. Mr. Fleming said in part:

"The most important part of organization of the two branches of congress is election of standing committees. There are 34 standing committees in the Senate and 46 in the House. These are the workshops of Congress and the real work of lawmaking is done in Committee Rooms.

"The task of legislating for 124,000,000 people is a tremendous one. Of recent years approximately 20,000 bills are introduced annually in the two Houses. Only a small percentage become law, but they must be weighed in committee, accepted or rejected, perhaps amended, reported out, and then considered on the floor.

"Lawmaking involves about 99% of hard and unspectacular work and about 1% of oratory. Few tasks appear so easy and are so difficult as enactment of sound and satisfactory legislation. Few individuals in any line of activity work harder or longer hours than the chairmen of the important committees during a session. I have great sympathy for the members of Congress whose constituents expect undivided attention to every piece of legislation in which they may be interested. From my personal observation, they earnestly and conscientiously endeavor to do all that is humanly possible.

Public Hearings

"When a bill is introduced, referred to committee and printed the next step, if it is a measure of considerable importance, is to conduct a public hearing. The committee makes an effort to listen to anyone who cares to be heard either for or against a measure, although witnesses are frequently limited as to time. Members of the Cabinet and other officials of the administrative departments of the Government usually testify on measure in which they are interested and furnish the committee information in executive session or otherwise. In this way the Administration takes a prominent part in shaping legislation.

"Due to pressure of work and the fact that it is impossible for members of Congress to be technical experts on every subject of legislation, the committees are inclined to give consideration to the merits of arguments presented in testimony and the recommendations of the Cabinet and other officials. It is therefore highly desirable, both from the standpoint of Congress as well as those affected by proposed legislation, that the latter have an opportunity to discuss frankly the effects of such legislation.

"We sometimes complain about the technicalities of legislation, but when we observe organized minorities endeavoring to force class legislation through one House it is a comfort to know such measures may be caught in the meshes of technical procedure in the other and there suffer what is termed automatic asphyxiation."

A Country Editor Looks at Banking

THE editor of the Norwalk, Ohio, Herald takes a somewhat different view of the banking situation from a good many people. His idea is as follows:

"With rents falling and unpaid, real estate does not present a happy picture. Nor does the owner of carefully selected bonds feel any happier, with a bunch of them going wrong. A lot of folks very carefully invested in preferred and common stocks in the finest companies in the world and have seen them fall to perhaps a tenth of what they paid for them, and no dividends at all. Some folks kept their money in savings accounts in banks, and some banks have closed and left them high and dry. But the situation is worth looking at very carefully.

"On government authority, most banks that closed were really solvent but for frozen assets and popular timidity. Gradually the closed banks are coming out from under and depositors in even bad cases will get at least 50 per cent of their savings. That's tough of course; nobody likes to lose half of what they had scrimped and sacrificed and saved. But when you hoard and stick the roll of bills in a coffee pot or under a mattress, some plug-ugly comes along and burns your feet till you tell him to take it and welcome.

"And what about the great majority of banks that weathered the storm, met all comers and are doing business as usual, carefully and conservatively, but safely? What about the savings in those banks? They are a full 100 per cent today—and they are the only thing we know of at 100 per cent anywhere. After all is said and done, a good, well managed bank is still the best place in all the world for money or savings. Right now in Ohio the banks pay the taxes on all savings and pay their depositors net interest on their savings. We can't think, just now, of many other investments that are a tenth as safe as a savings account in a solid bank. Why, even a savings account in a closed bank is actually worth more today than most stocks."

* * * * * GARDEN OF EXPERIENCE * * * * *

By F. G. Clark

Truth crushed to earth shall rise again.

The eternal years of God are hers.

Error wounded writhes with pain.

And dies amid her worshipers
 In my long life I have never experienced such a wave of indignation and discouragement, as swept over me when I read the startling announcement that the congressional committee appointed to graft a bill to revise the Volstead Act, called the brewers and distillers, in consultation. It reminds one of the beginning of the Book of Job, when satan met with the sons of God. When the distillery and brewery and the open saloon were among us, one of their worst sins was the corruption of the political life of the nation.

Now that the wets think they have a chance to revise the Volstead Act and afterwards repeal the eighteenth amendment, they attempt to pour this same corruption into the very fountain of our political life.

For years now, many of our leading periodicals, together with many of the brightest intellects in the nation, have been subsidized in the interest of this nefarious traffic. If one-half the effort had been put forth by these papers and individuals, in the interest of righteousness, the Kingdom of God would be much nearer to us and we to it.

Now note the difference: while these workers of iniquity were hobnobbing with our national leaders, the Godly women of the National W. C. T. U. were on their knees, pleading with the God of righteousness to prevent this disaster to the moral life of the nation.

The wets tell us it will make money for the nation. So can a man make more money robbing banks, if he doesn't care how he gets it, than a workman can at honest toil.

But success built upon iniquity is always transient. This spasmodic wave of sinful impulse generated by evil propaganda, will subside and the nation will return to sober second thought.

Prohibition is a step toward the establishment of Christ's Kingdom on earth, and when this nation has taken a step upward, it has never retraced it. Neither will it do so now.

Editorials are being written, urging congress to hasten repeal measures, for well they know that this wave of hysteria if not taken advantage of, will soon pass and then repeal will be forever out of the question.

If we should go back to the open saloon, and repeal means just that, we shall achieve St. Peter's summary of the backslider, who having achieved righteousness thru Christ, returns to the beggarly elements of the world.

But it happened to them, according to the true proverb. The dog has returned to his own vomit again, and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire. II Peter 2:22.

Take a Pinch of BLACK-DRAUGHT For Distress After Meals

He had suffered distress after meals, but by taking Theodor's Black-Draught he was relieved of this trouble, writes Mr. Jess Higgins, of Dawsonville, Ga.

"I had sour stomach and gas," Mr. Higgins explains, "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Theodor's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITIES

Completion of the $6,000,000 irrigation and hydro-electric project near Eagle Pass is made possible by the Reconstruction Corporation's taking up $1,476,000 of the district's unsold bonds.

Investment of $350,000 is called for in the sodium sulphate plant at Soda Lake, in Ward County, where chemicals from the lake are to be made commercially usable by processing them in a freezing treatment.

Reconstruction and completion of the paper mill at Orange at a cost of nearly a half million dollars will be financed thru the sale of bonds, according to an announcement from the owners.

A manufacturing possibility for Texas is that of iodine. Methods of extracting this element from the brines found in deep oil wells have been perfected to the point where they are utilizable commercially. American iodine production success has dropped the price of the Chilean product, which hitherto dominated the world market, from $4 to $3 a pound.

October farm income for Texas was $27,239,320, in spite of the large amount of cotton held off the market, according to a survey by the Dallas News, which estimates farm product values for the first ten months of 1932 at $144,691,207.

Thirteen Texas contracting firms did an annual business of more than $1,000,000 each and 1,001 contractors during the peak year of 1929 did a total business of approximately $200,000,000, according to announcement from the Census Bureau. They paid out $45,373,000 in wages and purchased materials valued at $77,250,000, according to the same authority.

Ease Mother's Tasks!

Surely you want to make Mother's life easier, happier and more enjoyable! Then give her one of the new G. E. Hotpoint automatic Electric Ranges for Christmas this year. She'll thank you 'til the longest day she lives!

This modern "automatic cook" will mean golden hours of leisure. It will mean freedom from kitchen drudgery! With a modern Electric Range, Mother won't have to worry about cooking dinner. Instead, she'll enjoy long afternoons of visiting, bridge, social and civic activities—while dinner literally cooks itself... automatically, and at a substantial saving in food and fuel!

Can you imagine a Christmas gift more in keeping with the very spirit of Christmas? Can you picture anything that would please Mother more than this glorious new leisure and the assurance that she is seeing more beautiful and more appetizing meals—and saving time and money in the bargain!

The cost and terms are within reach of the most modest budget, so make Mother's kitchen beautiful, modern and labor free... THIS CHRISTMAS!

Call for an individual investigation of your use of electric service, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.

PERSONALS

Jim West declined an invitation to a dinner party given by the Pep Squad last Friday night. We will excuse him this time as he had a good excuse but don't let it happen again.

Mr. Fred Logan and his wife, the former Miss Louise Newlin are living on the Evans ranch southeast of Eldorado. Fred is a staid old farmer, but stay right in there Fred and you'll be rich some day.

Jetty Grace DeLong says that when William Lee, the inventor of the stocking machine, died, the people took his frame and made some more just like it. I suppose that is all right but it sounds funny just the same. What more could you expect from a Freshman?

Aubrey Smith, alias "Lefty", has been absent for two days owing to a bad case of tonsillitis. Have them jerked out, Tommy, and get back up here where everyone is happy and there isn't anything to do but work.

Miss Ollie Ruth Newlin has quit school. We will all miss her but she will be more likely to have a better time elsewhere than she would working Algebra.

Inez Marshall, one of the new reporters, is coming along nicely in her newspaper work. Read her articles and see if you don't agree with me.

As aforesaid, Jim did have a good excuse for declining our invitation to the party but he did not have very good luck with his excuse. When he was taking her home, his car overturned, injuring the girl. Jim seems to be a lucky guy in these wrecks as he never has been badly hurt in any of them, but we pity the car.

Jack Ratliff met with an accident while on his way to Jones' last Friday night. Three men from Sonora in a Ford car collided with Ratliff's car on the curve just north of Nick's residence. The Sonora car had only one light and the ice on the windshield caused much confusion. It is to be hoped that everything will come out all right.

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

WOMEN! Get rid of the handicaps of a weak, debilitated condition with the assistance of Cardui.
Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."
Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

WILDCATS PLAY GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Cecil Moore
The high school Wildcats have been playing the grammar school team quite often, and have played them three times this week. The two teams seem to be a good match, for each of them has won one game and tied one.

The first game this week the grammar school team won by the score of 6 to 0. The next day the two teams tied. The game Thursday was won by the Wildcats, Eugene Koy carrying the ball over the line. Paul Davis of the grammar school team intercepted a pass and ran ninety yards for a touchdown to win the first game.

The two teams have been playing good football. Each team has a set of plays which they run, or attempt to run, just as the first team does in high school.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Wildcats	Pos.	Grammar
Smith	L. half	Casey
Koy	Quarter	Logan
Jones	R. half	Anderson
Moore	Full	Davis
Luedecke	R. guard	Friess
Evans	L. guard	Tisdale
McWhorter	R. tackle	McAngus
Davis	L. tackle	Roach
Sample	R. end	Sample
Whitley	L. end	Mather

Subs for Grammar: Wiggins, Reynolds, Wad, Childers.

LIBRARY HAS NEW DECLAMATION BOOK

Louise Boyer
The Eldorado High School library has a new declamation book for use in Interscholastic League work. The Public Speaking class, especially, is very proud of this new book entitled "One Hundred New Declamations."

This book includes an unusual variety of selections, being classified as to duties of citizenship, education, life, character, war and peace, home and prohibition. At present, the members of the Public Speaking class have chosen declamations, and the report has come that good work is being done on them.

The high school students will find this book of special interest to them if they are interested in real American citizenship, the earmarks of a genuine and true man or woman, and may check it out of the library at any time.

HISTORY OF SENIORS

Gordon Williamson

THELMA TAYLOR

A little more than sixteen years ago, in a cream-colored bungalow among many rose bushes in San Angelo, Texas, I was born on Wednesday evening at fifteen minutes until five. The saying is that if a baby is pretty while it is young, it will grow more ugly as time goes by. If this statement is true, I must have been a beautiful child.

I was the first grandchild in my mother's family and the first one my father's parents saw as my cousin was born in East Texas. I thought just as much of my grandparents as they did of me and they tho't that I was "just about the idea."

When I was three years of age, an incident occurred in my life that has impressed me all through life. My mother decided to have my picture taken one day. She had bought a complete white set of clothes including shoes and socks. On the evening that we were to go to town to have the pictures taken, she bathed me in a large wash tub. (That was before the modern times of porcelain bath tubs.) After a good scouting, she dressed me and told me to sit in the porch swing until she was ready to go. I was very fond of water, which is more than I can say today. As soon as mother left me, I got back into the tub and was having a grand time when she discovered me. I will not endeavor to tell you how I felt when she was through with me, but I can tell you this, that I never see a tub of water that I do not remember that incident.

I started to kindergarten to a woman at the name of Miss Henry. She had taught father and I thought she was a little too old to teach me anything but I found this to be wrong. I came in contact with a "confiscation box" in her school, and I think the teachers all over the world must have heard about "confiscation boxes" which are boxes to keep things in that are brought to school that should not be brought there.

When I started to public school, I was allowed to start in the second grade because of my outside training. I have not failed a course in school so far, but I have been so near the line that there was not much difference in it. Algebra has always been my failing and any time that I see anything that looks like Algebra I stay just as far from it as possible.

My mother and father moved to Texon, Teyas, when I was in the third grade, and I stayed with my grandmother until I finished the eighth grade. I spent each summer with my parents in Best where I learned to love the lights on the rigs of the wells.

In 1929, we moved to Eldorado, Texas where I started to school in the ninth grade. The young people here are very friendly, and I soon learned to think quite a lot of them. I have worked a little on the high school paper now for two years and I like the work quite well.
I am a Senior in the Eldorado High School this year and I hope to graduate in 1933. If I am able, I shall attend the Texas University for one year and major in Journalism. Then I want to finish College in Columbia University in Missouri where I can learn the Newspaper trade from the bottom up.

SOLID GEOMETRY NEWS

Jack Ratliff
The Solid Geometry class under the directions of Mr. J. H. Kelley is making a study of cones, cylinders, and pyramids. It is making a study of tanks and cylinders. The students measure the tank and then get the volume. This is the easiest way to get the volume of a water tank. This study is very interesting and will prove to be very valuable in later life. We invite you to visit our solid geometry class.

board at the front of the hall downstairs has been in use for some time now. Beginning with the seventh grade each grade has had the use of it for one week. They put on it themes, test papers, maps, drawings, posters, and other things of interest.

For this week the Third Grade, section B, is using it. There are two booklets entitled "Wool" and "Cotton," several posters on education and Christmas, drawings in crayolas, and several sewed pictures.

This board is attracting a great deal of interest among the high school students as well as grammar graders. This should be of interest to everyone in school as well as visitors.

GRADE CARDS AND SUCCESS

Junior Isaacs
Every so often since you started to school you have been getting a grade card or report card that in a general way is intended to indicate to those interested what sort of student you are, what sort of progress you are making.

Unless you differ from most students, you have sometimes felt that your teacher has graded you too low and, if you are honest with yourself, you have sometimes known that he has graded you too high.

It is quite likely that your teacher placed a proper estimate on the ability you showed at the time. It is not possible, however, to use your present school record as a sure basis for predicting your record in life.

Unfortunately, the schools of yesterday make little or no effort to determine the qualities
