Scouts To Lay Corenr Stone Sunday At Mertzon

The Boy Scouts are planning the largest celebration in the history of Scouting in West Texas for Sunday afternoon August 20 at Camp Louis Farr. The camp is the property of the Concho Calley Council composed of 17 counties with headquarters at the City Hall in San Angelo.

The occasion will be the laying of the cornerstone of the new administration building which is in the process of construction. The ceremonies will begin at 5 o'clock. All the prominent Scout officials of West Texas will be present and it is planned to bring into Camp Louis Farr all the Scouts and their parents and friends.

At a meeting of the Executive Board committees were appointed to work the many phases of the celebration. Bascom Benton was appointed to invite representatives of all civic clubs and fraternal orders who are helping to promote the Boy Scout movement in West Texas.

The site for the building was donated by Fayette Tankersley of Mertzon and is for Scouts of 17 counties for their use for each summer gatherings.

J. A. Whitten, who is head of the Scout work, here plans to go with the Eldorado Scouts and be present at the laying of the cornerstone. The main part of the program will be about 5:00 o'clock says Judge Whitten, and he wants as many Eldorado people as possible to attend. Scouts from the seventeen counties will be there as well as many others from over the district who are interested in the work.

SUIT FILED HERE DATING BACK TO NINETEENTH CENTURY GRANTS

(San Angelo Morning-Times)
A suit dating back to the first half of the nineteenth century and the purchasing of land grants throughout this section, then part of Bexar county, by the pioneering German settler, Gustavus Schleicher, a f t e r whom Schleicher county was named, was filed in 119th district court here Wednesday.

The litigation, involving 238 people, and referring back in some aspects to a suit for partition of property of Schleicher and Heinrich Dietrich, which was tried in Bexar county district court, is for trespass to try title to 10,000 acres of the XQZ ranch laying between Christoval, Knickerbocker and San Angelo. The land, while it probably is not for sale at any price now, is valued conservatively at $125,000.

The partition suit was tried back in 1857 in San Antonio. Dusty archives perused since by the law firm of Kerr and Gayer, which filed the action yesterday, show numerous spellings of the names of Schleicher, Dietrich and others and numerous faults in records of inheritances and relationships. The action is styled Mrs. Ida R. Ramsey versus Dennis Reilly and others.

WE DO OUR PART

We should not be confused on the National Recovery Act, and codes. We also know that many businesses now in operation on the Acts formed by the local situation. Eldorado has practically gone in unanimously, as far as we can tell now under the NRA Blue Eagle, whether we can all stay and operate under it will be later worked out. It will depend upon the National Code. There is one thing we do know, that we can not work labor longer than the code will permit under certain

GOING AWAY WITH DEAD ENDS IN WATER MAINS

Mayor Davis together with W. E. Eaton, in order to make our water supply the best possible have asked that all people who have pipe with water in them, that have a dead end, to have that pipe plugged at once, for when water stands in these dead ends for some time and then the water is cut off, the water will run back into the pipe or main and will probably contaminate the water. So it is requested that if you have pipe that water stands in, have them fixed at once for your own health and the health of your neighbor.

The Government Waking Up

The Government seems to be waking up on the kidnaping crime and is spreading nets and making stronger efforts to drag in those who barter and kidnap for the money. And have during the past few weeks put in prison quite a few criminals who have taken active part in such crimes. What the Government should do is to get in behind all crime and see that those that constantly and willfully violate the law for their acts.

The American people are becoming to slack and offer to much protection to those who violate the laws of the land. When a man is caught with stolen goods, or in acts of law violations he finds protection by many of our best citizens who try to get his release without the least bit of punishment, and when he gets in for a while he finds he has many who will try at the beginning to have him released. But crime has in the form of kidnaping, aroused our government officials and strong efforts are being used to punish those guilty. Let's all help.

AUGUST 18, 1933.

We are coming to the end of our prohibition campaign. If we have done any good in the cause, we are glad of it. If we have harmed anyone we are sorry for that also. The subject is the most important of any yet mentioned and we presume you will hear more of it this and next week than ever before. After it is over with we can give ourselves to other thoughts

J. B. Cranfill, of Dallas, says "The prohibition of kidnaping is doubtless responsible for the prevalence of the crime. If the Government would license kidnaping, it would stop bootlegging in this industry and might yield more revenue than the returns from licensing the saloons."

As the menace of kidnaping grows bolder, we find most people clamoring for stronger laws and a more severe punishment. Yet, we find many clamoring for less laws and no punishment for the liquor law violators. Why make the difference? Each robs the home of its financial upkeep. The kidnapers get the rich only, and the liquor salesman gets both crowds.

That fine rain Sunday evening in town brought many smiles to home owners in the city. Monday was a new day for flower growers turnip patches.

Don't forget to plant that turnip patch for fall grazing.

Another thing, why don't Government issue divorces for $50.00 each, instead of making the individual go into court to seek a divorce. Just think how much money this would net Uncle Sam. Instead it goes into the lawyers pocket. Gosh darn! we soon could raise that budget out of the mire. It would be a larger revenue than the sale of beer and effect less lives. Besides the $50.00 or more it cost the individual, there is the judge, the jury and other cost of court. Uncle Sam finally has to allow it anyway, or the State Courts. The tax should be a graduating tax, the more they have the more they should pay. Just like the lawyers charge. They generally get all they think their client will pay. The minimum could be 50 bucks.

G. A. (Stormy) Caraway, second sacker of "Skipper" Hampton's Oilers, has been traded to the DeLeon ball club for a player and cash consideration. Stormy will report within the next few days. His services will be greatly missed in the oiler's infield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Deaton of Sanderson, Texas, were here last week guest of their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Wilson. Mrs. Wilson returned home with them for a visit.

HOW WHEAT IS TO BE PLANTED

College Station, August 10.—Texas has been allotted 20,384,322 bushels of wheat to be raised in each of the years 1934, 1935 for domestic consumption. This figure represents 54 per cent of the State's 5-year average production, taking the 1928-1932 period as the basis for figuring, according to information received by O. B. Martin, director of the Extension Service, from Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in regard to launching the wheat acreage reduction campaign.

Conferences of district and county farm demonstration agents of the major wheat producing districts have been called to meet in Mineral Wells August 14, 15 and 16, and Plainview 16, 17 and 18, Mr. Martin stated. The Extension Service will be in the wheat campaign, as it was in the cotton, the agency charged by the Secretary of Agriculture with the responsibility of making clear the provisions of the contract to every grower and of organizing the county and local committees who will swing the job.

Each wheat producing county has a definite allotment and within the counties these allotments will be sub-divided to wheat growers by computing the individual grower's average production over a period of three years. The grower who joins up to reduce his acreage for 1934 and 1935 will agree to cut down not more than 20 per cent of his average during the preceding three years, and to sow in wheat in a "workmanlike manner" the number of acres that should produce the number of bushels that are allotted to him. He also agrees not to use the released acres in any way except for soil building, erosion preventing, or for the production of food to be consumed at home or feed to produce livestock products to be consumed at home. And here, Mr. Martin asserted, is an opportunity every wheat grower should seize to develop a definite live-at-home policy. The Extension bulletin "Filling the Farm Storehouse" will be found a good guide, he said.

In return he receives, on or after September 15th this year, 20 cents per bushel on his farm allotment; and not less than eight nor more than ten cents additional per bushel after proof of compliance. This last payment will not be made before June 1, 1934. These payments he will receive regardless of the price for which he sells his wheat. The 1934 and 1935 payments by the Secretary of Agriculture will be based on the amount necessary to bring the price up to parity.

The growers who enter into this contract with the Secretary of Agriculture will be expected to organize county wheat control committees, selecting a paid director to devote his time to the business of the organization. The salary and expenses of this executive will be deducted from the money to be sent into each county by the Administration. In counties lacking sufficient production to justify setting up County Wheat Production Control Associations but whose growers wish to participate in

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

Claimed to be the longest trench silos on record, Ward and Rush of Valley Mills in Bosque county have completed two silos each 350 feet long, designed to hold the crop from 100 acres of hegari and red top cane. There were no trench silos in the county last year, the county agent says, but now 10 farmers are building them.

The winter supply of canned food was put up on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wells in Jefferson county this year with out one cent of cash outlay except for seasoning. All the meat was home raised on home feed, vegetables came from the garden, berries from the pastures, and cans and jars left over from last year supplied the containers. Mrs. Wells is 4-H pantry demonstrator for Cheek Home Demonstration Club.

Preliminary reports on tomato growing demonstrations in San Augustine county show profits ranging from $50 per acre on late crops to $150 per acre on some of the early ones. Those who followed county agent directions avoided losses from worms.

Boned turkey and ground turkey put up in No. 1 cans of 11 ounces net weight are the first standardized home demonstration products in Bell county to be approved by the county home demonstration council and Extension Service for sale. These products were standardized by Mrs. G. E. Shipp of Temple.

The pooling of 31,800 pounds of wool in Swisher county in June brought growers 11-2 to 2 cents more for their wool and has led to plans for a wool growers' association, the county agent reports.

Secretary Ickes has warned working people to stay at home and not get out on the road to hunt work. This idea is all right if work can be found at home. Most instances this would be best but sometimes if work can be secured elsewhere it would be advisable to move. But in most cases Ickes is right. Too many people just get on the road and ask others to assist them in getting on, and in many cases have nothing in view in view in their going.

MARINE CORPS ANNOUNCES VACANCIES

During the month of September there will be a few openings for young men in the United States Marine Corps, provided they have the necessary qualifications, mental and moral and can pass the rigid physical examination required of all men enlisted in this branch of the service.

Any young man graduated from a high school, who is interested, should write Major P. D. Cornell, officer in charge of recruiting, District of New Orleans, 533 St. Charles Street, New Orleans, La., who will furnish full information regarding the service and the duties of a marine, ashore, afloat, and in the air, in this, and in foreign countries. The rigid requirements for enlistment also will be explained in detail, for this branch of the military and naval service which is recognized here and abroad as one of the finest in the world, and is the most difficult to enter due to its high educational, moral and physical standards.

LIONS CLUB

COMPLIMENTED. Through the generosity and kindness of my good friend Mr. Snell, I had the honor of lunching with the Eldorado Lions last week. I had read a little about the Lions club of Eldorado, but never thought much about it. But when I saw them all in a bunch, saw who composed the Lions of Eldorado, heard some of them make talks, saw how congenial they were, I begin to take notice. If you want to meet some of the best citizens of Schleicher or any other county, get acquainted with this bunch. They are the jolliest fellows you ever met and you can just see good fellowship shining all over them as long as they continue to stick together, as they are now, don't doubt but what they will put anything over that they undertake. There was only one thing to mar my pleasure while dining with them, just as I raised a knife full of corn to shovel into my mouth, I thought of my poor wife and little ragged children at home maybe at that very moment trying to quench their hunger with corn pone and clabber, but no one can have the blues very long in as fine a bunch of men as you see at the Lions club of Eldorado, but my folks are very liberal minded and didn't think hard of me when I told them of the good dinner I had. They just smacked their lips, put their hands on their tummies and said that is all right pop, we are glad you got a fill. Maybe some time we can too.

Long live the Eldorado Lions.

HOW APPENDICITIS AFFECTS YOU

Austin, Texas, Aug. 14.—During the past year 605 persons have died of appendicitis in Texas, according to the Director of Vital Statistics for the State Department of Health. Many of these deaths were caused by the persons' ignorance of the disease.

These are two forms of appendicitis, acute and chronic. The form that appears suddenly, with great pain and sickness, is acute. Chronic appendicitis may extend over a long period of time and consists of slight attacks at intervals, but at some time, there will usually occur an attack worse than any before and the disease may then become serious.

The acute attack appears suddenly. The first symptom is pain, sometimes over the entire abdomen, sometimes in a particular portion in the right side of the abdomen. Sometimes this pain extends around to the back or down into the right limb. The pain is cramp-like and is often mistaken for colic. The fever rises to 100 or 101 degrees and the pulse becomes quickened. Chronic appendicitis is the result of repeated attacks of the milder forms of appendicitis.

How to prevent appendicitis? Keep the body in perfect health as long as possible. Watch your teeth, your tonsils, any place where an infection may occur. Get plenty of good food, plenty of sleep, plenty of exercise. Have a thorough medical examination at least once a year and have your teeth examined and cleaned by a dentist at least once every six months. This kind of watchfulness will not only help you to avoid appendicitis, it will help you to avoid many other illnesses as well.

AND THEY THOUGHT TAXES WERE HIGH 25 YEARS AGO

A tax story in two chapters. Chapter 1.—San Francisco Chronicle in its "25 Years Ago Today" column: "The Board of Supervisors today recommended a tax rate of $1.48, which, with the estimated state rate of 47 cents, will make the total rate for the year $1.95."

Chapter 2.—In the same edition of the Chronicle: "The Board of Supervisors is enforcing the strictest economy in its budget this year (1933). Nevertheless the tax rate will be $3.75."

San Francisco isn't in a class by itself. Virtually every community has had the same experience—some a great deal worse. If government keeps loading up with new propositions which continually require more tax funds, how will industry and the private citizen pay the bill ten years hence? Think this over when you vote for schemes that require the raising of public funds through taxation or otherwise.—Industrial Review.

THE RETURN OF SILVER

Silver: 38 1-4 cents per ounce. That quotation probably does not explain much to you. But it means that the poor man's gold recently touched its highest level since May, 1930.

During three long years or depression silver has been on the bargain counter—it's been offered at fire-sale prices. And that statement, too, explains little until cause and effect are related, until it is expressed in the terms of purchasing power, trade among nations, jobs. The collapse of silver was the principle economic cause of the decline in world trade—a decline which finally became a rout. More than half the world's people saw their purchasing power drop to less than half of former levels, and factories all over the world, here and in England and Germany and elsewhere, closed because cheap silver had taken their markets from them.

Silver is coming back. And that means that prosperity is coming back in a dozen states and in a score of great industries. It means that men are going to work, and that great markets are again going to open up.

L. E. Clements and family were in from Station A Saturday shopping and visiting and Lee was one of the Star ball players in the ball game.

A LETTER TO THE PEOPLE

House of Representatives
State of Texas, Austin

Driskill Hotel
August 10, 1933.

To the Editor,
Eldorado Success,
Eldorado, Texas.

Dear Sir:
On August the 26th the voters will be handed two ballots. One concerns the repeal of National Prohibition; the other concerns four proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Texas.

The FIRST proposed Amendment on the latter named ballot using the words actually printed thereon is:

"FOR the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Although the proposed Amendment will directly affect only 13 counties, its adoption depends upon a favorable majority vote over the entire State.

The very nature of the proposal precludes any possibility of an extensive or expensive statewide campaign in its behalf. Any benefits derived from its adoption and the saving of the tax-payers' money due to its provision, will proportionately reach everyone who contributes to the upkeep of his government.

As sponsor of this measure in the Texas House of Representatives, I am writing you this letter to ask your cooperation in placing the merits of this worthy proposition before the voters in your part of the State. I feel sure this is in keeping with your policy as shown in the past. I am sending you herewith some data on the subject, and will, if possible, send additional information before the election date.

With best wishes, I am
Yours very truly,
R. Emmitt Morse.

THE TRADEMARK COUNTS

What do you see when you look at a fire engine? You see steel and brass and wood and paint. You see an object that is very similar to a large motor truck, with the addition of a number of interesting and unusual gadgets. And, believe it or not, you are not seeing the real fire engine at all.

The real fire engine is under the paint and brass. It's inside the motor and the differential and transmission. It's at the heart of the pump. You'll never see it—only the makers, and perhaps the mechanics who keep it in condition, ever do. And if you could see it you probably wouldn't know whether it is good or bad—that's a job for the engineer and the expert.

This being true, the average citizen naturally asks how a good fire engine can be told from one that isn't quite so good. That isn't a difficult question to answer. He can tell from the name on the radiator—precisely as his only test of a good watch is the name on the dial. In the case of many products, we take quality for granted—because the makers have been making quality articles, with never a deviation, for decades. That is true of the pioneer standard fire apparatus makers—quality comes first with them, and all other considerations run a poor second.

When your community buys fire apparatus, see that it looks at the trademark.—Industrial News Review.

R. J. Hill was in from the ranch Monday and reports that the Sunday evening rain was light at his ranch.
