Senator Hightower Speaks Out On Area Problems

Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon said last week that the Nixon Administration's attempt to paint a rosy picture of farming and ranching "is so ludicrous I think they're talking about something on another planet."

Hightower, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 13th District, declared: "Texas farmers and ranchers are caught in a severe price squeeze and all of the big talk from Washington cannot sweep that fact under the rug."

During a panel discussion at a meeting of the Panhandle Press Association, Hightower blamed part of the problem on government interference with the free market system, which he labeled "one mistake after another, from the Russian wheat deal to the freezing of beef prices."

He pointed out that the recent government purchase of $45 million in beef for the school lunch program is equal to one day's slaughter.

"But to read the announcements from Washington, you would think they have found the key to saving the beef industry," he said.

Hightower noted that in recent months the cost of wire, diesel fuel and propane gas has doubled, while the cost of fertilizer is up at least 60% and the cost of steel fence posts is up at least 40%. The increased cost of gasoline has also affected farmers and ranchers as much or more than anyone that drives a car or truck, he added.

"What we are looking at is a production cost increase of something like 300% since the spring of 1973," Hightower said. That's what the officials in Washington ought to be telling the American people, instead of painting rosy pictures of sustained prosperity.

Wesley Brown placed ninth out of 16 in the discus event, throwing it 121 feet.

Market Report

Outdoor cooks have a chance to stock freezers with beef now, according to one observer.

Beef supplies are larger at this time than a year ago, and markets likely will offer more specials, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, predicted.

Best beef values will be round steaks and roasts, ground beef, calf and beef liver, arm and blade pot roasts and steaks--while many markets will offer chuck cuts at special prices, Mrs. Clyatt said.

Pork values include end-cut loin roasts and pork chops shoulder roasts and steaks and picnics.

Fryer chicken supplies are about five per cent higher than this time last year, and turkeys are in abundant supply. Both are economically priced.

At dairy sections, attractive prices will appear on cream cheese, yogurt, lowfat milk and cottage cheese, the specialist said.

Buy cheese in large pieces--then slice and shred it at home.

Fresh fruit and vegetables in good supply at the most economical prices include apples, oranges, grapefruit, pineapples, strawberries and bananas.

Also, collards, mustard, turnips and greens, beets, celery cabbage, dry yellow onions, carrots, rutabagas, radishes and green onions.

Consumer Watchwords: The first key word on federally inspected products tells consumers if there's more meat or more "something else"---in the package.

If the word beef is first on the label, usually there is more meat in the product than is another word, such as vegetables, is first.

More Errors of the "Living Bible"

One of the great errors of the Christian dispensation has been the teaching that the Kingdom of God is yet to be established and at that time in which it is established, Christ will begin a literal thousand year reign here on earth... the so called "millennial reign." The "unlearned and unstable" have wrested (2 Peter 3:16) Revelation 20:1-5, which is a part of a book of signs and symbols (Rev. 1:1-3) to arrive at this false conclusion.

The first recorded person known to hold this fallacious doctrine was a man named Cerinthus in the very early years of the 2nd century, A.D. To emphasize that this doctrine was not held by the apostle John who wrote the book of Revelation, Polycarp, a student of John, tells that when John saw Cerinthus in a bathhouse he fled from the door saying, "Let us flee, lest the bath house fall in, for Cerinthus, the enemy of truth is within." (Irenaeus, AGAINST HERESIES, 3:3:4).

Mr. Taylor, in his "Living Bible," has perverted many passages so as to show a millennial reign on earth for Christ. Let us notice a few of them.

Isa. 2:1-4 foretold the establishment of the church (the church of our Lord and his kingdom are one and the same. Compare Matt. 16:16-19 where they are used synonymously.) and the new covenant "in the last days." Compare it with Luke 24:46-47 and Acts chapters 1 & 2 and we see it (Acts 2:1-4) fulfilled on that Pentecost Day of A.D. 33. The "Living Bible" says "In the last days Jerusalem and the Temple of the Lord will become the world's greatest attraction and people from many lands will flow there to worship the Lord.... For in those days the world will be ruled from Jerusalem." What a perversion of the Text! Compare this to the King James Version which was translated by 47 of the world's best scholars at that time or the American Standard Version which was translated by 101 of the best scholars. (Why will people even consider taking the obvious error of one man over the scholarship of 148 learned translators?) Daniel 7:13-14 tells that when Christ ascended to the Father (Acts 1:9) He was given; "... a kingdom which shall never be destroyed." The "Living Bible" perverts this to say, "He was given ruling power." Yet the parable of the pounds, Luke 19:11-27 plainly shows Jesus received his kingdom when he went away (back to heaven): "(vs. 12) A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return... (vs. 15) and it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received his kingdom..." For what purpose did He return? Not to receive a kingdom, for He already had this. It was to receive an accounting... or what is known in the Bible as Judgment Day.

Spring - Summer Fabrics have Many Designs and Motifs

Have you shopped for fabrics recently? Spring and summer fashion fabrics will feature a Kaleidoscope of patterns, dots, stripes, florals, geometrics and motifs.

Designs range from objects found in nature to the abstract creations of a designer's imagination. Design sizes, on the other hand, run rampant from miniature to "slipcover" sizes.

In general, patterned garments add excitement to a wardrobe--and often express the wearer's personality and temperament. On a more practical note, they make versatile wardrobe additions. Patterns also show less soil and fewer wrinkles than plain fabrics. When selecting a fabric or garment, consider overall effect created by a particular pattern. Pattern type and size influence a person's apparent size.

Extreme color contrasts--a and very lightly or brightly colored patterns--tend to make a person appear larger. Large, widely spaced patterns also do this. To diminish apparent size, choose patterns with compact spacing and close color relationships. Also darker, or subtle colors and blurred or over-all designs. Most people find medium-size designs--in similar colors--becoming. Patterns also express moods. For example, some patterns are dainty and demure. Others may be bold and exotic--or dignified and conservative. Shop around and find the right pattern and color for you.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
 by Bill Boykin
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. - A General Provisions article of the proposed new state constitution - including a controversial right-to-work section - finally has received committee approval.

The long-delayed section will go to the Constitutional Convention for consideration when delegates return to work next month.

Heatedly opposed by organized labor, the right-to-work provision would place in the constitution the present statutory ban on compulsory union membership as a requisite to holding a job.

Another controversial section of the article would allow the legislature to authorize state debt to finance a "superport" and housing for the elderly.

The committee threw out another earlier decision to allow a separate statewide vote on whether pari-mutuel gambling should be prohibited by the new constitution.

Still another change in the General Provisions article would allow homeowners to refinance their property to obtain funds without losing their protection against branch banking would be continued, and regulation of bank holding companies would be left up to the legislature.

During more than three months of deliberations, the committee heard 231 witnesses in 22 public sessions on 96 proposals covering 31 subjects.

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. expects all work of the body to be wrapped up by the second week of June.

DRILLING INCREASES - Oil and gas well completions are increasing this year, according to the Texas Railroad Commission.

A total of 1,395 oil wells have been drilled since January 1, compared with 1,191 during the same period in 1973.

Gas well completions rose from 678 to 799.

Nine oil and 28 gas discoveries were reported by the commission during April 1-15 which brought the total for 1974 to 79 and 102, respectively. The figures for 1973 were 56 and 109 oil and gas discoveries.

MORE SPEEDERS - An increasing number of Texas drivers are violating the 55 miles-per-hour speed limit, Col. Wilson E. Speir, Texas Department of Public Safety director, reports.

Speeding arrests by the Highway Patrol during March were 109 per cent greater than in March 1973, Speir said.

In March 1974, 58,760 speeding cases were filed, compared to 28,111 a year ago. Passenger car drivers received 43,264 of the tickets and truck drivers 14,849.

Speir appealed to all motorists to obey the speed law. He said the number of traffic deaths has begun to rise again after a decline.

Insurance companies are raising doubts premiums will drop with the lowered speed. They point to increases in hospital and repair costs.

EXCHANGE PROPOSED - Agriculture Commissioner John C. White discussed with Iran and Saudi Arabia ambassadors a proposal for direct exchange of agricultural commodities for fuel and fertilizers.

Under the plan, Texas and U.S. farm products would be bartered through a coordinating agency for an assured supply of petrochemicals for agriculture. Also offered is technological assistance to the two countries in developing their own agricultural resources.

COURTS SPEAK - A Kerrville school teacher who lost his job for refusing to shave his beard should be reinstated, the State Supreme Court held. But the case goes on and on in further appeals.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a prison sentence given a Dallas mother for whipping her small children for taking money from her purse.

A federal district court at Tyler refused to order reopening of Waller County voter registration to benefit students of Prairie View A & M University.

A pre-trial conference was held April 24 in gubernatorial candidate Frances "Sissy" Farenthold's campaign finance lawsuit against Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

ABSENTEE VOTING BEGINS — Absentee voting for the May 4 primary elections began April 15 and will continue through Tuesday, April 30.

Those who expect to be absent from their county of residence only on election day may vote by personal appearance at the county clerk's offices.

Those who will be absent during the time for personal appearances and on election day can make application to county clerks for obtaining an absentee ballot by mail to an address out of country. Mail ballots also are available to the sick and disabled or those unable to vote election day due to religious belief.

SAVING POSSIBLE — A proposed new multi-peril policy for commercial establishments can save up to 30 per cent on insurance premiums, according to the Texas Insurance Advisory Association.

The proposal is subject to approval by the State Board of Insurance. Most states have such plans in effect, allowing commercial property owners to deal with a single company instead of half a dozen or more.

Plans For Auditorium Made

By Gina Layne
The McLean High School Auditorium, which has been badly in need of repairs for some time now, is finally receiving attention, according to Mr. Homer Jefferson, superintendent. The student body recently requested that the auditorium be remodeled. The school administration backs the students in this request and plans for constructing a new foundation for the structure, installing new windows, new curtains for the stage and repainting the interior are being set up. To carry out these plans, the school needs money. A Derby Town Jubilee sponsored by the student body with the support of some local civic organizations was held last Saturday in order to raise money. If all goes well, work on the auditorium will begin this summer. How much work will be done depends on how much money the school has.

How To Store Meats Safely

Store meats properly--to make the meat dollar count. This advice comes from Mrs. Karen Walker, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System. Proper storage actually begins at the supermarket. Wise shoppers choose meats and other refrigerated products last, just before checking out, so they'll stay cold longer. In addition, a smart shopper goes straight home with groceries -- avoiding other shopping stops--to keep meat fresh and safe. At home, she refrigerates the meat promptly to prevent growth of bacteria, the nutritionist continued. Refrigerate meat for immediate use in its original wrap. Rewrapping invites contamination by bacteria. According to Mrs. Walker, fresh meat will keep at 30 degrees F. for about seven days. Meat won't freeze until temperatures fall to 28.6 degrees F. To check refrigerator and freezer temperatures, use an accurate thermometer. Or place a paper cup half-filled with water in the meat storage section. If the water partially freezes, temperature is 32 degrees F. For longer storage, freezing is best, the specialist said. To prevent freezer burn, re-wrap meat in a moisture, vapor-proof material. Place it in the coldest part of a freezer, and store at 0 degrees F. or below. Thaw frozen meat in the refrigerator--meat stays fresher with minimal bacteria growth. As a bonus, meat partially thawed in a refrigerator--that still contains some ice crystal can be refrozen if plans change. Cooked meat also needs proper refrigeration, the specialist added. Refrigerate leftovers promptly--before bacteria can grow.

THE RIGHT ONE

Barbie has a boy friend—her first! There'll be many more.
 But someday Barbie will have a boy friend—her last! And there'll be an engagement, and a wedding, and a wonderful life together with their children . . .

If he's THE RIGHT ONE!
 Barbie's present boy friend is being brought up the way Barbie is—in fact, they met at Sunday School! Their families worship regularly . . . they seek the same moral and spiritual aims.

But, what about THE RIGHT ONE? Is this fiance-to-be receiving the same sound preparation for tomorrow? Are his parents building the future on the firm foundation of religious faith?
 Will he be right for Barbie?

The church bells that ring every Sunday are not wedding bells. But they sound the destiny of our sons and daughters . . .
 and of their families yet unborn.

WHEAT CONDITIONS
 About the only dryland wheat that still has a chance for harvest is the 1973 summer followed land. Even the irrigated wheat isn't the best. Irrigation farmers have been very busy trying to irrigate wheat and pre water milo ground at the same time. Farmers are very much ahead of where they were this time last year.

Wheat conditions in Kansas and in many of the other major wheat producing states are reported as excellent. Texas ranks seventh in the top ten wheat producing state. Kansas is number one. Fact is Kansas produces almost half of the total U.S. domestic needs. Recently I made a trip that took me through the heart of the wheat producing counties in Texas. In my opinion yield will be less than half of the 1973 yield.

CATTLE ON FEED REPORT

Last Thursday April 18 a quarterly cattle on feed report was published. In the 23 major cattle feeding states the report showed 8% fewer cattle on feed than a year earlier.

Cattle placed on feed the first quarter was down 12% from a year earlier. March placements were down 22 percent from a year earlier.

The report showed there were 18% more cattle on feed weighing over 1100 lbs. There were about the same number in the weight group 900-1000. There were only 88% as many in the weight group 700-899, only 81% as many weighing from 500-699, and 80% as many weighing less than 500 lbs. This indicated the over weight cattle is what has the market depressed.

This report was as of April 1, 1974. No doubt many of these over weight have been marketed. The over 1100# group represents less than 8% of all cattle on feed in the U.S.
