Rodgers Crowned Homecoming Queen

Patricia Rodgers, a junior at McLean High School, was crowned the 1983 homecoming queen in pre-game ceremonies Friday night. Miss Rodgers is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Rodgers. She was escorted onto the field by Tiger John Glass and was presented her crown and bouquet of roses by captains Elson

Rice and Don Bode. Other members of the queen's court were senior Jana Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harris, escorted by Stephen McAneer; junior

Candi Carpenter, daughter of Johnny Carpenter and Cindi McDowell, escorted by Billy Billingsley; sophomore Kristie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompson, escorted by Clint Herndon. The queen and her court were nominated by the Tiger squad. Miss Rodgers was later elected queen by secret ballot of the football team.

Tigers Lose Squeaker To Claude

The McLean Tigers lost a heart-breaking conference game to the Claude Mustangs Friday night at Duncan Field 6 to 3.

The game evolved into a defensive game with the Tigers finally scoring on a field goal by Lance Stovall with 3:45 left in the third period. The Tiger score seemed to ignite the Mustangs as they immediately mounted a long drive and scored on a pass late in the third quarter.

A penalty for too few people on the line of scrimmage erased another Stovall field goal with about two minutes to go, and other Tiger drives were stopped by penalties or stout defensive play by Claude against our attempted sweeps.

McLean led in the statistical battle with 9 first downs to 8 and 153 total yards to 101 for the Mustangs.

The Tiger team turned in another stellar defensive game with the exception of the long Claude scoring drive, and backs Elson Rice and Kevin McDowell gained most of the yardage for the McLean offense.

McLean will travel to Booker for a district encounter with the Kiowas

Friday night and follow with a trip to Follett and a home game with the Wheeler Mustangs.

Truck Pulls Down Cable, Disconnects 225 Circuits

DPS PATROLMAN, JOHN Holland directs traffic on Interstate 40. Traffic had to be re-routed through McLean Monday after a truck pulled down more than 600 feet of telephone cable, stringing the cable across the Interstate. [Photo by Kathy Carter]

A high-loaded truck, traveling down I-40 apparently pulled down a 900 pair telephone cable Monday afternoon, resulting in approximately 225 McLean telephone circuits being disconnected.

According to Southwestern Bell Telephone spokesman Harry King, the truck pulled down approximately 600 feet of wire, around 4 Monday. The cable stretched across the west-bound lane of Interstate-40, causing officials to re-route traffic through Mc-Lean. Telephone crews cleared the interstate at 9 that evening and the rest of the cable was up and re-attached by 9 Tuesday morning.

As of press time, service had not been restored, but King hoped to have everything operating by 6 Tuesday night.

Cubs Lasso Victory Over Colts

McLean's Junior High Cubs romped over the Claude Colts, 14-0, Thursday night. In the middle of the first quarter, PeeWee Morris raced twelve yards for the Cubs first touchdown. The following try for two was unsuccessful. With approximately one minute into the second quarter, PeeWee ran the pigskin in from the Colts' two yard line. This try for two was successful, and the score then was 14-0.

The Cubs will face the Groom Cubs in their last game of the season Thursday night at Groom. The game will begin at 6:30. Groom won the first battle between the Cubs, but if McLean emerges victorious tonight, the two teams will be tied for first place in the district. The district championship would then be decided by the toss of the coin.

Jane Kerr To Direct Workshop

"Women in Transition" workshop will be hosted by the West Texas State University Returning Student Program for interested persons in the McLean area on Nov. 3.

The workshop will begin at 9 a.m. at Lovett Memorial Library and will conclude at 3 p.m.

Jane Kerr, director of the WTSU Returning Student Program, will conduct the workshop and a luncheon program will be presented by Lila Vars, WTSU director of development. Vars' presentation will focus on "What Should Mother Do About Career?"

The workshop is designed for women in transition, such as becoming divorced, or widowed, returning to school or entering the work force, family changes such as children growing up and leaving home, health or financial problems, among others.

Workshop sessions also will include discussion on assertiveness training, time management, educational opportunities, nontraditional jobs for women, career tests and information, networking, resumes, applications and job interviews, and peer support. Participants in the course are encouraged, said Kerr, to take control of their lives to become more self-confident, to work together to solve problems and to consider alternatives.

Continuing education units will be awarded for workshop attendance.

Registration fee is $10 which includes a buffet lunch and handout materials. Interested persons should register by Nov. 1, by calling the WTSU Returning Student Program or Ruth Magee of McLean, who is a member of the Area Advisory Council of the Returning Student Program.

The McLean area workshop is the third in a series. Other sessions have been presented at Hereford and Tulia and additional sessions are scheduled for Pampa, Borger, Dumas and Dalhart.

Alanreed Carnival Saturday

The annual Alanreed Halloween carnival will be Sat., beginning with a turkey and dressing dinner at 5:30 in the Alanreed school cafeteria. Tickets for the dinner can be bought at the door. The carnival will begin at 7:15 in the Alanreed school gym. Tickets for the carnival can be bought before the dinner, or at the door of the gym. Carnival tickets will sell for 20¢ each.

Games and booths scheduled to be at the carnival include a basketball toss, bingo, goblet throw, balloon booth, fishing pond, nail booth, bean bag toss, duck pond, and a hay ride (weather permitting).

A door prize will also be given.

Youngsters Urged To Go Out Early

McLean Elementary Principal Dorman Thomas is urging all potential trick-or-treaters to go out Saturday night to get their goodies. "Many of our older kids will be out Monday night, and we believe it will be safer for the younger children to not be out on the streets then," explained Thomas. "We are encouraging the students to go out early Saturday and to have a safe and fun Halloween."

Clinic To Be Held In Elementary Office

McLean students and pre-schoolers lacking necessary vaccinations may attend a shot clinic

Nov. 3 in the McLean Elementary School Health office. The clinic, held by Region I Health Resources, will begin at 8:15. There will be no charge for the inoculations.

Students will also undergo sight and hearing testing that day. Any-one requesting more information should contact elementary principal, Dorman Thomas.

The Whittler's Bench

By Sam Haynes

There has certainly been plenty to talk about here on the Whittler's Bench in the last few days. Of course, the dastardly and cowardly bombing in Beirut has been the major topic of conversation, and all of us here agree that we should probably have let the Israelis clean up the Shiites, Drus, and Syrians before the "Peace Keeping" force came in to help the Lebanese set up their government. We also feel that our government should now do whatever is necessary to punish the group responsible for the deaths of the American and French forces.

As I am writing this article, the news is reporting American forces landing in Granada. Perhaps we have finally decided to put a stop to the creeping Communism so presently evident in our own hemisphere.

All the news hasn't been bad in the past week, however, as generous rains have graced our area, and will no doubt be of great benefit to wheat and sub-soil moisture. Some have said it was too late, but I am like my grandad, who told me many times that he would take a rain or a baby calf any day of the year... I will add to that a dinner (not supper) of fried steak, corn bread and gravy....

We can not normally print personal poems and composition in the paper due to limited space, but an eulogy written by D. V. Biggers and given at the funeral service of Boyd Reeves was so well received and so accurately reflected the opinion so many have of Boyd, we wanted to reprint it for everyone in this column.

I KNOW A MAN By D. V. Biggers

I know a man who was born on a farm in the Panhandle of Texas in 1901, who lived and worked on that farm all of his working days.

I know a man who was born at home and delivered by a doctor who traveled more than 30 miles by horse and buggy over unpaved country roads.

I know a man who, when a lad of 10, read the Bible from Genesis to Revelations without any prompting from anyone.

I know a man who was a farmer, that had difficulty learning the intricacies of tractor farming, as opposed to mule power, but who farmed successfully with tractors for more than fifty years.

I knew a man who enjoyed reading the works of Homer and Shakespear, and understood them—and yet was so absentminded that he jumped out of his pickup, left it in gear and, in horror, watched it plunge into a stock tank of water several feet deep.

I know a man who, even though he never took part in any organized sport, hardly missed a home game of football played by his home town team for a period of nearly 50 years.

I know a man who was so interested in the education of the young in his community that he served on the school-board long after his own two sons had finished high school.

I know a man who even though he never had an hour's training in teaching, taught Sunday School classes from age groups of Junior boys to Senior citizens over a period of 35 years.

I know a man who was chairman, by acclamation, of the Deacon body in a Baptist Church for some 20 years.

I know a man who could recount stories of his brief experiences as a cowboy on a large ranch, while in his early twenties, in such a whimsical way that he reminded people of the great Will Rogers.

I know a man who

I know a man who loved his God, who loved his country, who loved his community, who loved his church, who loved his family, and dearly loved to served each in his own humble way.

How do I know the truth of the statements I've made about this great man? I know because for almost 60 years, this man was married to my sister, Annie Biggers, and her husband is Boyd Reeves, whose memory we are honoring today.

Coronation And Costume Contest Scheduled For Nov 8

The annual harvest coronation and costume contest will be held Nov. 8, beginning at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The junior class will sponsor the events, according to class sponsor, Virginia Holwick.

"The costume contest will precede the coronation this year. We will have four divisions in the contest. Class I will be for all preschoolers, class II will include students in Kindergarten and first grade, class III will be for students in the second and third grade, and class IV will involve students from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade," Holwick explained. "Prizes will be given in each division and a grand prize will be awarded to the best overall costume."

Representatives from each class (K-12) will be presented in the coronation. Freshman, sophomore, junior and senior class representatives will compete for the title of Harvest King and Queen.

Lions Golf Tournament Held Sunday Afternoon

A scramble golf tournament was held at the McLean Lions golf course Sunday with over 20 participants for the 18 hole contest.

The team of Alvin Danner, Buck Lee, Naomi McCarty and Marty McClintock was tied at the end of 18 holes at 8 under par with the team of Casper Smith, David Haynes, Robin Smith and Sam Haynes. In the sudden-death playoff which ensued, the Danner team won on the second playoff hole. The third place team, which was seven under par, was made up of Wayne Carter, Dorris Windom, Stacey Howard, Laverne Back and Neal Middleton.

Other participants in the tournament included John M. Haynes, Joyce Haynes, Tim Fitch, Doug Guthrie, Hershel McCarty, E. J. Windom Jr., Kathy Danner, Tim Kilham, and Joyce Eck.

A one-club tournament is being planned for the near future, and an announcement as to the exact date will be made soon.

Sixty Brownies Gather For Breakfast

More than sixty area girls gathered for a "teddy bear" breakfast, Saturday morning. McLean brownie troops 06 and 07 hosted the cluster event for three Wheeler brownie troops, in the United Methodist Church.

The girls brought bed partners to the breakfast, and awards were given to Michele Stigen for the Most Unusual bed partner, Jill Johnson for the largest, Elizabeth Hurley for the most loved, and Sheryl Trotter for the smallest partner.

Among those sponsors attending from McLean were, Kay Jones, Janet McCracken, Darryel Middleton, Rita Crockett, Rhonda Harris, Martha Jo Bailey, Leo Trotter, Thelma McCarty, Leann

Webster, Kay Magee, Johnny Baker, and Lynn Holland.

Band Participates In UIL Marching Contest

The McLean High School band participated in the annual UIL marching contest in Canyon Saturday. This year's band, consisting largely of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders, returned from the contest with a IV. The highest possible mark for a band to receive is a I, and the lowest is a V.

The band played "The Battle Cry of Freedom", "Theme from New York,

New York", (featuring the flag girls and twirlers) and "El Toro."

The band's next contest will be in February, when they will participate in the UIL Ensemble and Solo Contest.

Glenn, The Astronaut Who Would Be President

by Frank Van Riper

This very timely new volume should be of interest to all who will be following the presidential primaries and the next presidential election as former astronaut now Senator John Glenn is an avowed candidate for that prestigious post of president.

Glenn, who was the first American to orbit the earth, was an instant American hero and was once called "Ike in a spacesuit," and was urged by President John F. Kennedy to enter politics.

Glenn ran several times, but the two Kennedy assassinations, a freak fall in a bathroom, and his own stubbornness and political inexperience delayed for a decade his dream of sitting in the Senate. Now, politically wiser and more experienced, Senator Glenn of Ohio is a leading Democratic candidate for president.

With the elections just around the corner, this story, written after extensive interviews with Glenn, his family, and scores of others very prominent in his life, is a balanced, yet provocative biography.

From his daredevil boyhood in New Concord, Ohio through two wars, a transcontinental speed race, the astronaut program, success as a millionaire businessman, then eight years in the Senate, the life of John Glenn reads like a repeat of an American small-town boy who made good. Perhaps most important, this book delves into into what kind of president Glenn might make, and offers surprising insights into the ex-marine and astronaut who seeks the most powerful office in the world. "Glenn, the Astronaut Who Would be President," is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Those who reject Christian beliefs, cannot count on keeping Christian morals.

Marbles Contemplates Inventions

Marty Beim of New York City has come up with a revolutionary idea, the "Noodge" mattress. This wonderful invention is aimed at those of us who are a bit reluctant to rise in the morning. Marty's mattress will gently shake you awake at the proper time. If you haven't stumbled out of bed within the next five minutes, the shakes will leave the gentle cycle and begin to move toward violence. If that doesn't get you up, the Noodge will unceremoniously dump you out of bed—just like Mom used to.

I think Marty is inspired, a truly farsighted man. But let's hope that he doesn't stop with his mattress. Think of the other possibilities Marty could offer us. Wouldn't it be terrific, for instance, to have a fork that would refuse to spear another bite unless you quit chewing with your mouth open. Or how about a self-powered hankie that would force the sniveler to, well, stop sniveling. Or a checkbook that wouldn't let go of its checks unless you had enough money in the bank. Perhaps a credit card that wouldn't charge when it knew that the bill collector was a regular visitor at your home.

Personally, I could use a pair of slacks that would convince me that the extra piece of pie really will show up on my thighs. And a car stereo system that would play numbers like Watch The Road, Don't Pass On A Hill, and Your Foot's A Little Heavy—Ease Off the Gas.

It would also be swell to have a television set which would turn itself off at the proper bedtime, leftovers that would self-destruct before they turned green, and automatic washers that were really automatic. There could be smoke detectors that would tattle on you if you sneaked a puff after promising to quit, booze that would give you a hangover before you overimbibed, and centerfolds that would cover themselves when ogled by underage adolescents.

Once Marty conquers these items, surely he will perfect the clean-eared child, to whom sarcasm is a mystery, and rudeness a nightmare. Come to think of it, if he can clean up a kid, think what he could do for all of us tired, grumpy grown-ups.

Marty has a big job ahead of him, so I hope he'll hop out of his Noodge and get crackin'. There are a lot of us desperate people waiting for him.

Let's talk.
Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Community Relations Manager

A look at the future
When Southwestern Bell is divested from AT&T next January and becomes a separate company, you can be sure that your local telephone service will continue working the way it always has. We're committed to providing high quality, dependable local service at affordable rates.

But there will be some changes in the way you do business with us... from how to handle telephone repairs to the way you're billed. Here's a quick look at what will and won't change:

Local service
As mentioned, Southwestern Bell will continue to be responsible for providing local telephone service. To start, stop, change or move service, you will do the same as you do now — call your Southwestern Bell business office.

Long distance service
Beginning January 1, Southwestern Bell will still provide long distance service within your surrounding area. However, calls outside this area will be handled by AT&T or other long distance companies. Since there will be more competition in the long distance market, there will be more choices for you as a customer.

Telephone sets
Between now and the first of the year, all single-line customers have the option of buying the telephones that they currently lease on a monthly basis from Southwestern Bell. If you decide to continue leasing your telephone sets, ownership of this equipment will be transferred to AT&T January 1. Of course, you'll still have the option of purchasing new telephone equipment from a variety of other suppliers. Pending agreement from the Federal Communications Commission, Southwestern Bell may also offer telephone equipment for sale, beginning in 1984.

Telephone repair
If you continue to lease the Bell-owned telephones, repairs will be handled by AT&T beginning January 1. There will be no charge for repair of these phones, provided you either mail your leased phone or return it in person to designated AT&T locations. However, if you wish to have a service technician repair your phone on your premises, there will be a charge for this service.

Telephones purchased from Southwestern Bell before the end of the year also will be serviced by AT&T, but you'll be charged for those repairs if your set is out of warranty. Of course, repairs of telephones purchased from companies other than Bell should be referred to the store they were purchased from or the manufacturer.

Billing
You'll continue to receive one bill for all services provided today by the Bell System, except for purchases of new equipment from AT&T. This single bill — to be produced by Southwestern Bell — will list Southwestern Bell's charges separately from AT&T charges. In the future, Southwestern Bell may serve as a billing agent for other long distance companies as well. Toll-free telephone numbers of each company will be featured on your statement in case you have questions about your bill.

We want you to know
At Southwestern Bell, we want you to know about these and other changes that will affect the way we do business with you. Watch for more details in the months ahead — both in this column and in your bill insert.

Remember, if you have something to talk about, don't hesitate to drop me a line.

The unbeaten McLean Tigers unleashed their power last Friday night and won their first District I-A game with points to spare by downing the Panhandle Panthers 39 to 6.

Anita Henley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Henley, suffered a fractured wrist when she fell

Tuesday evening while skating at the Slip and Slide Rink. Both bones were broken in the right wrist, it was reported.

Among the student aviators to complete the initial phase of naval aviation flight training at the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Corry Field, at Pensacola, Fla., was Navy Ens. Claude E. Mounce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Mounce of McLean. Before entering flight training he attended McLean High School and the University of Texas at Austin.

40 YEARS AGO... T. A. Landers, Ed. Sgt. Marvin Jones, of the U. S. Marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones of McLean, was guest speaker at the Lions luncheon held at the hall Tuesday. Lion McLaughlin reported the war fund drive, stating that the committee had raised $900.00 the first afternoon out.

Miss Boyett's senior music class met Tuesday. Visitors were Mrs. Earl Eustace and daughter, Othelia; Mrs. C. E. Cortis and Miss Marnelle Ledgerwood. The following officers were elected: President, Alice Billy Cortis; vice president, Irma Ruth Fulbright; secretary, Earlene Eustace; reporter, Mary Hess.

Robert E. Dwight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dwight of McLean, is now enrolled as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Alabama.

50 YEARS AGO... T. A. Landers, Ed. Honoring little Master Bobby Beall on his fourth birthday, an enjoyable party was given Saturday afternoon by his mother, Mrs. Donald Beall. A variety of games were played, after which refreshments were served to the following: Erma Ruth and Ercy Glenn Gregory, Harold Sullivan, Martha Ann and Jerry Hamilton, Jack and Shirley Glass, Anna Beall Bogan, Ruth Strandberg, Bruce Rogers and Frances Sitter.

Miss Bessie Mertel, McLean, Texas. Dear Bessie: Congratulations on winning the State Fire Poster Contest. I remember very well your fire poster last year, and rejoice with you in winning at State. I also remember what a wonderful student you are in high school and would be might happy to have you as a student in McMurry College next year. With best wishes, and regards to the family, I am, Your friend, G. C. Boswell.

60 YEARS AGO...

T. A. Landers, Ed. A special election to fill a vacancy on the board of aldermen of the City of McLean, caused by the resignation of Ross Biggers, will be held next Tuesday, Oct. 30. Anyone may place a candidate name on the ballot by handing in same not later than Monday noon.

The McLean Tigers played the husky Amarillo Golden Sandstorm team a scoreless tie game here Saturday. Many observers said that this was the hardest fought game ever played in the Panhandle. The Tigers kept the ball in Amarillo territory nearly all the time, and one time were within a few feet of the goal line when time was called. About a minute and a half more time right here might have seen a victory for McLean. At one time in the game it looked as if Amarillo might make a touchdown, but a fumble in the backfield gave Mc-Lean the ball. The Amarillo boys were greatly chagrined in not being able to score, as they were overconfident and made several rash statements about small towns in general and McLean in particular, on their arrival here. However, after the game they had nothing but praise for the way the Tigers played football and blamed themselves for not being strong enough to score. A large crowd of local citizens accompanied the Amarillo team to the train and gave them a rousing send-off. It is not known when a game will be arranged to play off the tie.

Adv...Two 5 cent school tablets for a nickel at Shell's Cash Pharmacy 70 YEARS AGO...

A. G. Richardson, Ed. A crowd of neighbors and friends gathered at the Francis home east of town last Friday night to celebrate Mrs. T. W. Petty's sixty-sixth birthday anniversary. The evening was spent in singing and conversation. During the time of refreshments of peanuts, lemonade, grape juice and various kinds of cake were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lilly, Lorene Beaver, Mr. Geo. Weaver and family; Mr. J. N. Saye and family; Mr. David Jaye and family; Mr. and Mrs. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Rippy of Electra, Texas; Misses Annie Low Bodine, Mary Erwin and Cora Wadley; Messrs. Leo Wadley, Luther Petty, Alvah and Bethel Christian, Reep, Barto and Fred Landers. All departed at a late hour wishing Mrs. Petty many more happy birthdays.

In the first match game of the present season, the high school basketball team won a decided victory over the Shamrock Highs by a score of sixteen to eight at the school grounds Saturday afternoon. It would be difficult to pick a stellar performer from the local bunch for the simple reason that they all played a masterful game, considering their experience. Raymond Glass, Johnnie Back and Bryant Henry did the goal pitching and the points scored attest their ability. Andrew Jordon and Dolph Burrows both showed their metal and displayed the required "pep" in guarding.

I. D. Shaw of Alanreed was here Saturday with a load of hogs, which he sold to Geo. Weaver.
