The Whittler's Bench

By Sam Haynes

Elsewhere in this paper is a letter to Santa Claus from a little girl of this area written many years ago. In the letter, she mentions the things she would like for Christmas and tells that she helps her mother by bringing in the wood at night, gathering the eggs, etc. Chores that were commonplace in those days. Of course, all the members of the family young and old had jobs to do around the home. I thought to myself how I may have cheated some of my family by not giving them regular chores which might instill in them some degree of responsibility and more respect for jobs which have to be done. Of course, the pressure of almost overlapping activities at school and with other organizations gives us the excuse to claim that our offspring do not have time to devote to home obligations. Perhaps the answer might lie in our youngsters not participating in every event offered, and saving some time for duties at home, the benefits of which could be more important than any of their other endeavors. ... I noticed where "Sugar Ray" Leonard has voiced his intention of returning to the boxing ring. I certainly hope his injured eye has completely healed and that he will incur no further damage in future bouts. He has certainly been the most admired boxer in many years, and had perhaps as much talent as any in many, many years. Of course, in my opinion he still has a way to go to reach the talent and ability of "Sugar Ray" Robinson, who in my humble opinion is the greatest fighter pound-for-pound who ever put on the gloves. ... Don't count the Dallas Cowboys completely out because of their dismal showing Sunday against the tough Washington Redskins. I have a sneaking feeling the pokes will wake up about the time the playoffs start and be tough all the way to the Super Bowl.

I know how you feel. All those handmade gifts that you had intended to give are only half-finished. You think if you hear "Jingle Bells" one more time you'll tear the nearest Muzak speaker to shreds. And the youngest has just come in with one more request for dear old Santa. What you need is a good tension reliever, one that will lift your spirits, and give you a breather so that you can enjoy the holiday season that is looming so closely.

That's why at this time of the year it has become a tradition for me to provide you, my poor over-yuled readers, with my groaner of the year. The groaner of the year, for those of you who are new to this tradition, is a joke which is so horrible, so unbearable, so unbelievably terrible, that all you can do after reading it is groan. You'll be surprised how marvelous a good groan can be right now. Besides, that's probably all the energy you can muster after fighting the surly masses known as Christmas shoppers. So here's the 1983 Christmas Groaner of 1983 for your groaning pleasure.

It was a cold, windswept night. Drifts of dirty snow were piled against the doorsteps of the downtown businesses. Everyone who didn't already have a cold felt one coming on. Furthermore, that day's mail had been full of bills, so the entire population of the small West Texas town was, to put it mildly, in a foul mood. It was especially so with Joe the bartender. Not only were his patrons surly from being deluged with bills, but their sniffing was about to drive him crazy.

It's no wonder that old Joe got a mite ticked off when the yellow dog wandered into the bar. The pup dripped melted snow over Joe's nice, clean floors, drooled on Joe's nice, clean barstools, and added to the insult when he perched himself in a booth and ordered a hot toddy.

Joe couldn't take it. While he normally was quite an animal lover, all his problems had taken their toll, and the smell of the wet dog put him over the edge. Joe became delirious, sought his pistol from under the counter, took aim, and shot the dog in the foot. At which point the pup ran yelping from the establishment, limping in pain.

It was about thirty minutes later when Joe, still upset by the incident, looked up and saw a sight that filled him with wonder. There was the same pup standing in the doorway. But this pup now came sauntering into the dimly-lit bar, wearing a pair of six shooters on his hips.

Slowly he advanced into the room. Stealthily he surveyed the bar. And in a steely voice that would send chills down the spine of the bravest, the dog drawled, "Ah'm lookin' fer the fella' that shot my paw."

Groan.....There now, don't you feel better already?

Fund Established For Ailing Baby

Collections and donations are now being accepted for the son of a former McLean resident, LaDonna Keaton Huckins. Mrs. Huckins' son, Brandon, was born June 14 this year in Borger, and since birth has been having problems with apnea. He has been placed on a monitor which sounds an alarm if his breathing should stop. A suction device must be kept near him, due to fluid buildup in his lungs, and his last two trips to the hospital have also required him to have a heart monitor and an oxygen tent in his home at all times. Portable oxygen is also a constant requirement for Brandon.

A special account has been set up by the First Assembly of God Church in Skellytown at the First National Bank in Pampa.

George Grover, Ed Pshigoda, Amos Cook and Pastor Glenn R. Beaver are trustees of the account. Donations should be made to the attention of Jonelle Cochran.

Terry and LaDonna have two more children at home.

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Community Relations Manager

What will and won't change

With the separation — or "divestiture" — of AT&T now less than a month away, I'd like to use this column to review what will and won't change about your Southwestern Bell Telephone service come January.

Actually, the biggest change for many customers will simply be who will provide which services. The way you use your telephone won't change at all.

However, since customers no longer will be able to take care of all their telecommunications needs from Southwestern Bell Telephone, it's important to know where to go for a particular need.

With that in mind, here's a breakdown on how divestiture will (and won't) affect you:

Local service

Southwestern Bell Telephone will continue to provide local service after it is separated from AT&T. To start, stop, change or move local service, you will do the same as you now do — call your Southwestern Bell Telephone business office.

Long distance service

Beginning January 1, Southwestern Bell Telephone will also provide long distance service — but only within your surrounding area. Calls outside this area will be handled by other long distance companies, including AT&T.

Telephone sets

Between now and the first of the year, you have the option of buying single line and one-party telephones in your home that you now lease from Southwestern Bell Telephone. If you decide to continue leasing your telephone sets, ownership of this equipment will be transferred to AT&T January 1. Of course, you'll still have the option of purchasing new telephone equipment from a variety of suppliers. In fact, Southwestern Bell Corporation has formed a subsidiary, Southwestern Bell Telecom, which will market telecommunications equipment for multi-line business customers beginning next year. The company also is considering entering the single-line business and residence telephone markets.

Repairs

If you continue to lease the telephone(s) now in your home, repair of those sets will be performed by AT&T. Telephones purchased from Southwestern Bell Telephone before the end of this year also will be serviced by AT&T beginning in January, but you'll be charged for those repairs if your set is out of warranty.

Repair of telephone lines will still be handled by Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Billing

At divestiture, you'll continue to receive one monthly bill for all services you presently receive. This bill — to be produced by Southwestern Bell Telephone — will list charges separately according to the type of service received and who will provide that service. Since Southwestern Bell Telephone will act as a billing agent for AT&T, the total amount due on your bill will continue to be payable to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

We want you to know

If you have other questions about divestiture, feel free to contact me at the address below. Or, call Southwestern Bell's toll-free number for divestiture information — 1 800 555-5000 — anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

At Southwestern Bell Telephone, we believe the more you know about what will and won't change with divestiture, the easier this transition will be for you.

Letter to Santa: Dear Santa, How are you? I am a little girl seven years old. I go to school at Skillet and I study the second grade. I help mother gather up eggs. I get in the wood at night, and I love to play with my pet dog. I think that's pretty good for a little girl like me. With love, Bonnie Jean Burr

Mayor Edward L. Bader of Atlantic City has declared himself in favor of women bathing without stockings if they want to. Which is very sensible. Men are always sensible when they let women do what they want to. Because, in the first place, women will do it anyway. And, in the second place, if it turns out to be wrong, you can count on women to straighten it out. The kind of man who interests himself in woman's deportment and wants to preserve her modesty and regulate her morals is invariably a crank. Or worse---Ft. Worth Record

Friends were agreeably surprised this morning to learn of the quiet wedding of Alvah Christian and Miss Mary Erwin, which occurred last night at the home of S.R. Jones, that gentleman officiating. Only the groom's brother, Bethel Christian, and Miss Anna Lou Bodine accompanied the young couple to the home of the minister and the wedding was solemnized before anyone knew of their intentions. After the ceremony the young people went to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. A.A. Beall, where a party of friends gathered to give them a rousing serenade and offer congratulations. Both young people have been raised in McLean and are favorably known to all her people.
