McLean is rapidly gaining a reputation as a generous, concerned town. In the past few months several charity drives have been conducted in our town, and without exception each drive has netted a large amount of money. For a town with 1183 people, $300-$900 donated to each charity is a huge sum.

Mrs. Jessie Newberry, president of the Gray County Heart Association, recently wrote a letter to the chairman of that drive in McLean, commending the town for its generosity. That is the kind of publicity McLean needs.

The staff at the McLean News appreciates all the compliments on the anniversary edition. Your kind words make all the hard work worthwhile.

The country seems to be in a turmoil with the gas shortage. To help us with our problems, OPEC decided to raise prices on imported oil.

It's a tough situation, and no one in the government seems to have the answer.

I believe that each of us should try to do our part to conserve fuel. Why don't we start a 'Walk To Work' movement in McLean? If you live ten blocks or less from your place of business, why don't you try walking to work everyday?

If you walk to work, walk home for lunch, walk back, and then walk home in the evening, you will have saved gas, wear and tear on your car, logged about two miles of exercise, and burned up a lot of calories.

It is a really effective method to slow down our pace of life. Besides it makes you want to get to work early, because it gets a little hot to walk after 8:30 in the morning.

Try it this week, and see how much gas you can save.

A word of praise for our ambulance service...I was called out to the wreck on I-40 about midnight June 27. Approximately 20 members of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department and Ambulance service were already on the job directing traffic, and helping with the injured.

140 Head-On Collision Claims Two Lives June 27

A head-on collision 6.7 miles west of Alamo June 27 resulted in the death of two Oklahoma people.

Dennis Allen Pooley, 30, of Stillwater, Okla., driver of the car and Sally D. Snell, 24, also of Stillwater, a passenger and owner of the car, were declared dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Dorothy Patterson.

The impact caused several hundred gallons of diesel fuel to flood the highway.

Miss Duvall was transported to the Groom Hospital by the Groom Ambulance service.

Second I-40 Wreck Injures One Woman

Another passenger in the car, 17-year-old Melvina Duvall of Douglas, Ariz., sustained extensive head injuries and had several toes severed in the wreck.

A Toyota pickup went out of control 2.2 miles west of Alamo on a two-lane stretch of Interstate 40 Thursday, resulting in the injury of the driver, 22-year-old Francis Carol Emerson of St. Ann, Mo. She suffered five fractures to the pelvis in the accident.

The Pooley car, a 1974 brown Chevy Nova apparently passed a semi-tractor truck on the two-lane highway and ran head-on into a 1977 Kenworth cab, over tractor trailer driven by Bernard Larry Pellfrey, 35, of Springfield Mo. Pellfrey was treated for broken ribs and was released.

Ms. Emerson was transported to the McLean Hospital by the McLean Volunteer Fire Department Ambulance service, and later transferred to a hospital in Amarillo.

A passenger in the car was not injured. According to reports received by investigating trooper John Holland, the car hit a wind break and overturned 1 1/2 times.

The accident occurred about 11:10 p.m. Wednesday on a two-lane section of Interstate 40.

McLean Ambulance service responded to the accident which was investigated by Department of Public Safety trooper John Holland.

Mangold Quits Pampa JP Post

Miss Snell, a native of Amarillo, was returning to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Saunders in Amarillo at the time of the collision.

The Gray County commissioners accepted the resignation of Otto Mangold, Justice of the Peace of Precinct 2, Place 2, following an executive session Monday at the County Courtroom in Pampa.

Miss Duvall allegedly had hitched a ride with the couple in Oklahoma several hours before the wreck.

Mangold said that he was quitting because of "health and personal reasons."

The truck driven by Pellfrey burned following the collision.

According to an article in Monday's Pampa News, County Judge Carl Kennedy said the court has decided to leave the office vacant in view of redistricting of county precincts by January 1980.

In other business, commissioners approved power of attorney for the Texas Aeronautics Commission for radio controlled runway lighting at Perry LeFors Airport.

Commissioners approved a request by Geophysical Services, Inc. to do seismic tests on approximately 1000 feet near the Perry LeFors field.

Commissioners approved the payment of $3600 for the county's half of expenses split with the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association for construction of a concrete floor in the County Show barn.

Man Drowns At Lake McClellan Friday

Despite rescue attempts by members of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department, Department of Public Safety Trooper Wayne Williams, and Game Warden Buck Williams, a 19-year-old Amarillo man drowned in Lake McClellan Friday night.

Curtis Glenn Wilson was the first drowning victim at the lake in four years, according to Don Wilson, concessionaire at the lake.

The Amarillo man was swimming with his girlfriend, Barbara O'Neal, 17, across the cove of the lake about 8 p.m. when he became tired and yelled for help, according to Williams.

Williams said that he and the game warden heard the calls for help and jumped into the lake to rescue Wilson. Several other persons also attempted to save the victim, according to an article in the Amarillo Globe News.

A rescue team began dragging the lake and the body was found in about 17 feet of water, 40 yards from the shore. McLean Justice of the Peace Dorothy Patterson pronounced Wilson dead at the scene about 9:45 p.m.

McLean fire department members helped in the dragging operations for the body.

All-Stars Lose To Amarillo Team

The Eastern Panhandle 13-year-old all-star baseball team lost to Randall County All Stars 16-2 in a game at Pampa Monday night. The All-Star game is the conclusion of Little League season for the 13-year-olds. Coaches of the Eastern Panhandle group are Charles Wynn of McLean and Marshall Higgenbotham.

The 13-15 year-old Eastern Panhandle All Star Baseball team will play Randall County All-Stars Monday night at 6 p.m. at Pampa Optimist Club park. Leading this group are Cecil Reynolds, manager, and George Eck and Bill Allison of LeFors managers.

Bell Requests $145 Million Hike

Southwestern Bell today asked the Public Utility Commission for $145.2 million in new Texas rates. However, in documents supporting the request, the company emphasized that its actual revenue need is $242.9 million.

The $145.2 million request is in line with President Carter's anti-inflation guidelines, which are endorsed by Southwestern Bell, said Doyle E. Rogers, the company's vice president for Texas.

'The need is clear for $241.9 million in new rates,' Rogers said. 'All the facts support an increase of that amount.'

'However,' he pointed out, 'we are committed to meet the president's guidelines on price increases. Consequently, we're asking the Commission to approve only $145.2 million.'

The $145.2 million would provide an overall increase of 6.09 per cent in Southwestern Bell's Texas interstate revenues.

Percentage increases for individual services will vary,' Rogers said. 'The 6.09 increase applies only to the overall revenue increase for the state, and not to specific services.'

Included in the $145.2 million request are proposed increases for basic local service, key telephones, PBX equipment, Centrex, miscellaneous equipment, and charges for connecting, changing and moving telephones.

Buck Lee Scores Hole-in-One

Buck Lee scored a hole-in-one on the 12th hole at the Shamrock Golf Course Saturday during the Shamrock 4th of July Partnership Tournament. Lee's shot was 170 yards into the wind, according to E.J. Windom, Jr.

Several teams from McLean participated in the tournament. Alvin Danner and E.J. Windom Jr. played off a three-way tie to win third in the first flight. Eddy Windom and Clyde Windom played off a tie to take third in the second flight.

Mental Health Drive Nets $340

Irene Pakan, chairman of the Mental Health Drive in McLean, said this week that the drive was successful in the city. Over $340 was collected.

The volunteers who work so hard on these projects deserve the credit for helping a very worthy cause,' Mrs. Pakan said.

Volunteers who worked on the drive were Irene Ellison, Catherine Weaver, Laverne Carter, Frances Kennedy, Sophia Hutchinson, Maude Morgan, and Mrs. Paul Cooper.

Trew, McAnear Sign With Cisco Junior College

Jamie Trew and Diane McAnear, 1979 graduates of McLean High School, have signed a letter of intent and received basketball scholarships with Cisco Junior College. Jimmie Campbell, women's basketball coach at the college, announced the signings this week.

Miss Trew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Trew. Playing at the post position for the Tigerettes, she averaged 12 points per game and eight rebounds for Coach Vester Joiner. As a guard her first three years, she made the transition to the five-man game her senior year.

'An excellent collegiate prospect, Jamie is extremely aggressive, and plays super defense. She is strong and has good quickness and speed. She has a good shooting range and accuracy, and will do a great job for CJC,' Coach Campbell said.

Miss McAnear is the daughter of J.C. McAnear of McLean.

Amarillo Group To Sing Sunday

The Amarillo Community Singers directed by Joel Gilstrap will sing at the First United Methodist Church in McLean Sunday night at 7 p.m. at the regular evening worship service.

The group will witness in song and testimony, according to Donald Cunningham who made arrangements for the singers to appear in McLean. 'They are very popular in the Amarillo area,' Cunningham said. 'Hearing them will be an experience that no one will want to miss.'

SLAUGHTER ON TWO-LANE STRETCH OF I-40 MUST STOP

A TOYOTA DRIVEN by a Missouri woman was whipped off the road west of Alanreed by strong winds. The driver of the car was taken to the McLean Hospital. (Photo by Linda Haynes)

On January 25, 1979, in The McLean News Opinion page, I warned of a new death trap on Interstate 40, when the Texas State Highway department narrowed to two lanes an eleven-mile stretch east of Alanreed.

I was told by various officials that the move was made because of economics, and that the two-lane section of the highway would be well-marked and safe.

I wonder what the officials of the Highway department think now.

Last week, two young people lost their lives on that stretch of road, and a few weeks before that, a 19-year-old truck driver was killed on the same area.

With all the wrecks on that part of the highway, at least $600,000 of property has been lost in addition to the grave injuries of several victims and deaths of the three young people.

Of course, there is no way to put a price tag on the grief of the victims families, the lost potential of the dead victims, or the medical bills of the injured.

The problem can be solved without costing the taxpayers of Texas a large sum of money, but governmental departments sometimes must be urged strongly to take steps, even when it appears that the solution is obvious.

The Highway Department should:

1. Lower the speed limit for the entire two-lane stretch to 45 miles per hour, and ENFORCE it.
2. Make the entire section a NO PASSING zone.
3. Install larger signs, perhaps with flashing lights, at the east and west entrance of the two lane stretch, warning THIS IS AN EXTREMELY DANGEROUS SECTION...SLOW YOUR SPEED TO 45 MILES PER HOUR...TURN ON YOUR

HEADLIGHTS...NO PASSING' 4. Smooth the side of the road so that there is not a three inch edge (one wreck was caused by a car edging off the road, catching its tires on the edge of the road bed, and then turning over.)

Almost everyone who has traveled that stretch of road has hair-raising stories of near-misses from tourists who are not aware that they are on a two-way stretch. I live in fear of having to drive in that area at night.

The only way we will get results, and stop the slaughter on this death-trap is to make a lot of noise. I hope you will join this campaign by writing letters to your representatives, or the State Highway Department, or letters to the editor.

We might get some results.

Some of these men were on the job until 5:30 Thursday morning. They had to go home, sleep an hour or two and be ready to go to work by 8:30 a.m.

When the men reported for work Thursday morning, they got to put in a couple of hours when they were called out again for another wreck.

I don't think any of us realize how much time these men give to helping others, and I for one truly appreciate their sacrifices.

I know it was a little difficult to keep my eyes open at work Thursday, and I'm sure many of them had the same problem.

Without a doubt, McLean has the best, the most professional, and the most efficient fire department and ambulance service of any town this size in the state. I challenge anyone to show me a better one.

McLean was saddened to learn this week of the death of Miss Leona Forbes.

Miss Forbes spent over 20 years teaching in the McLean Elementary School, and as an ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene was the guiding light for the Nazarene Church here.

She inspired countless youngsters with her kindness and her demand for perfection. She also was an inspiration for every young teacher who taught with her.

When she and her friend Mrs. Bledsoe left McLean a few years ago, the church that she had served stopped having services, but she left us all a legacy of dedication, integrity, and kindness. She will be missed.

RATES

per month in the largest. One party business rates would increase $4.65 per month throughout the state, under the company's proposal.

Rogers said no rate increases are being sought for in-state long distance calls, WATS, coin telephone calls, private line service, or Directory Assistance calls.

"Continuing growth and inflation leave us no choice but to ask for increased rates," Rogers said.

"In the past three years, we've spent almost $3 billion in construction expenses to keep up with increasing demand for customer service across Texas. This year, we expect to spend another $1.2 billion on construction," Rogers said. "We have no choice but to spend those dollars. Meeting growth is part of our obligation as a public utility," he said.

"Meanwhile, inflation continues at a rapid rate. We've trimmed expenses, we've generated additional revenues through sales efforts, and improved technology has helped blunt the effects of increased costs. Yet, our earnings in Texas still fall well below our need," Rogers emphasized.

In 1978, the Public Utility Commission authorized a return of 9.488 per cent on the company's investment in Texas.

Currently, Southwestern Bell is earning 8.35 per cent, Rogers said. "With present rates, we cannot hope to reach the 9.488 earnings level, and we certainly cannot achieve the level we need."

Rogers pointed out that approval of $145.2 million in new rates would allow the company to earn only 9.91 per cent, still far below the 10.97 per cent return actually needed in Texas.

Under Southwestern Bell's proposed monthly basic local rates:

One party residential (non-measured) service would range from $6.30 in Rate Group 1 to $9.55 in Rate Group 1

One party residential measured service would range from $5.25 in Rate Group 4 to $6.55 in Rate Group 10. (Measured service is not offered in Rate Groups 1, 2, and 3).

Two party residential service would range from $4.45 in Rate Group 1 to $6.55 in Rate Group 10.

One party business service would range from $14.40 in Rate Group 1 to $29.65 in Rate Group 10.

Southwestern Bell present rates range from:

$4.75 in Rate Group 1 to $8 in Rate Group 10, for one party residential (non-measured) service.

$3.70 in Rate Group 4 to $5 in Rate Group 10, for one party residential measured service. (Measured Service is not offered in Rate Groups 1, 2, and 3).

$3.15 in Rate Group 1 to 14.75 in Rate Group 10, for two party residential service.

$9.75 in Rate Group 1 to $25 in Rate Group 10, for one party business service.

What's In It For You???

Lower prices and a better environment can come from avoiding some legislation. Many have discovered that the much-touted "bottle-bill" requiring beverages to come in deposit cans and bottles can have an effect opposite to what its proponents claim.

In Michigan, the most heavily populated state to implement the controversial law, consumers pay an average of 36 cents more per six pack for soft drinks and 30 cents more per six pack for beer than consumers in Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio. About 300 good jobs have been lost so far and many community recycling centers closed as a direct result of the bill. Since people create litter, and only people can solve it, many suggest alternatives to forced deposits. One is the program in the State of Washington which attacks all litter, not just bottles

Congress Sends Jack Hightower On Investigation

The possibility of saving as much as $85 million in tax spending will be investigated by Congressman Jack Hightower during a whirlwind inspection tour of some of the American broadcasting facilities in Europe next week.

Hightower, a member of the Appropriations Subcommittee on the Departments of State and Agriculture, was asked to make the inspection firsthand by Congressman Jamie Whitten (D-Miss.), Chairman of the full Appropriations Committee.

"We believe there may be a chance to make a substantial savings to the taxpayers if Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty Headquarters can be moved back to the United States," Hightower said. This possibility was explored during hearings of the committee earlier this spring and feasibility studies are now in progress.

During the week-long trip he will visit Embassies and State Department installations in five countries and will also check on the Foreign Agricultural Service and Food and Agriculture Service and Food and Agriculture Organization operations.

Hightower arranged his schedule so that he could make the inspection tour during the July 4 recess and will not miss sessions of the Congress. He will be accompanied by one staff member from the Appropriations Committee and a representative from the State Department.

Letter To The Editor

(Editor's Note: This letter was written to Ruth Magee, and was not intended for publication, but Mrs. Magee felt, and we agree, that the people of McLean would enjoy reading the letter. Mrs. Christian is the mother of Cricket Christian.)

Dear Friends:

I wish I could have been with you folks during this wonderful celebration of High School students and for our own McLean City 'My Hometown.' Thanks for the subscription to the McLean News.

Tell Linda Haynes I appreciate her efforts to raise appreciation of the citizens of our own Town and America!

I do not know many of the folks personally, but many of the names are children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of those who played a big part in my sons lives and also, their parents.

Many folks were my best friends and I trust I did something to encourage them to 'Give of their best.'

I spend much of my time in the wheel chair since arthritis has impaired the use of my limbs.

May the Lord hold you and yours in the Hollow of His Hand.

Always love,
Mary Christian

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Independent truckers lifted a circle of dust around the State Capitol Wednesday as more than 400 vehicles, ranging from 18-wheel rigs to passenger cars, motored into town to discuss a host of concerns with Governor Bill Clements.

The convoy, horns blowing and stacks smoking, circled the Capitol entrances guarded by highway troopers before its delegation met inside with Clements to discuss raising the speed limit to 65 mph, higher freight rates to compensate higher diesel fuel costs, partial deregulation of Railroad Commission rules, and removal of the so-called "bridge law" that limits the loads truckers may carry.

Clements was "sympathetic but not encouraging," said Bill Hoadley, president of the South Texas chapter of the Independent Truckers Association. The group left Austin with their demands unmet but promised to return.

The governor received better news that same day when country music superstar Willie Nelson promised to sing a plea at his annual Fourth of July picnic for drivers to stay under 55 mph.

Special Session Blasted

Clements reportedly is still determined to call a special session, but the top two leaders in the Legislature (both gubernatorial contenders) are in opposition to the idea. Prior to a speech before the Texas Press Association convention, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton said they do not favor the rumored special call.

Clayton said he thinks the 66th Legislature "met with enough success. I feel the issues he (Clements) is talking about are not enough to warrant a special session."

Hobby took the governor to task over his recent budget vetoes, saying Clements deserves "no more than an F." The veto pencil saved taxpayers far less dollars than the governor's claimed $252 million, Hobby said. He pointed out Clements did not have the legal authority to block $90 million the governor purported to veto. Another $12.3 million was contingent upon passage of bills that did not pass and could not have been spent anyway.

(Capitol sources have said that another $50 million claimed for Texas taxpayers was actually federal money that will go back to Washington, D.C. for distribution to other states.)

Hobby also blasted Clements for vetoing construction of new cells at state prisons, and vetoing $989,000 for the University of Texas Center of Energy Studies and a UT-El Paso $269,000 solar energy study which Hobby called "the most significant solar research we have."

Opinion Sought

Three days later House Appropriations Committee chairman Bill Prenal, D-Bryan, asked Attorney General Mark White for an opinion on the validity of Clements vetoes of several riders in the budget. Prenal said the vetoes were similar to those made by previous governors and subsequently invalid by either attorney general opinions or Supreme Court decisions.

In 1975 the Texas Supreme Court ruled governors do not have the power to veto budget riders unless the riders appropriate money.

On a brighter note for Clements, he received words of praise for his odd-even gas rationing plan and requests for more such action. Monday he signed an order extending the ration program to Ellis and Collin counties near Dallas and Liberty, Montgomery and Brazoria counties near Houston.

In compliance with another gubernatorial order to raise thermostat controls in state office buildings, workmen made the office rounds Wednesday adjusting temperatures. Those employees who hadn't doffed ties and coats earlier were walking Capitol halls in shirtsleeves by that afternoon. After the first day's acclimatization, workmen visited the offices again early Thursday morning, raising thermostats a couple of more notches to 76 degrees.

Reloff Closes Home

Evangelist Lester Roloff, fiery advocate against state encroachment on the church, struck an agreement with Attorney General White to close down his Kebekeh Home for Girls in obedience of a week-old court order. Roloff conducted a three-day confrontation with a Human Resources task force to prevent closing down the home. A District Judge had ordered Roloff to apply for a state permit for the homes or close them down.

Clements said he might include proposed legislation to exempt Roloff's homes from state regulation in a special session of the Legislature. Efforts to pass such a bill failed during the regular session.

Meanwhile, Roloff's troubles aren't over yet as a Nueces County grand jury Thursday returned an indictment against him on misdemeanor charges of operating a youth home without a license.

Energy Common Market?

At a Border States Governors Conference meeting Friday in Brownsville, Clements, Gov. Bruce King of New Mexico, Gov. Bruce Babbitt of Arizona and former anti-war activist Tom Hayden (representing California Gov. Jerry Brown) may have taken a cautious step forward to a North American energy common market.

Conference members adopted an extremely general idea that the U.S., Mexico and Canada should work together with the goal of making North America independent in the areas of food, minerals and energy.

The group rejected a Texas policy draft position on documenting Mexicans to work in the United States.

WTR Group Improves Average

Thirteen members of the Walk, Trot, and Run Club raised their weekly average per person to 7.6 miles last week, according to figures computed at a meeting Friday.

The average was a substantial improvement over the previous count of 5.7 miles per member.

The club met Friday at the home of Johnny and Joyce Haynes, and most members ran or walked to Thacker and Sharon Haynes' house and back, a distance of about three miles. Sandwiches were served after the excursion.

Plans for this weekend's activities were not certain at press time. Anyone interested can call Johnny Haynes, President.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

More information related to the Class of '69: Becky Shelton, who did not graduate with the MHS class but was a member of the group until her family moved away in 1965 (her eight grade year), now is Becky Rejmers. She and her son Eric 8, live in Oklahoma City, where she is employed as an accountant by GHK Corp., an oil and gas exploration firm.

Becky graduated from Weatherford High School in 1969 and from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in 1976 with a B.S. degree in accounting.

One member of the Class of '69 recently asked, "Since no one challenged the '69 class for the proposed touch football game during the homecoming, does that mean the Class of '69 is the best by default?"

Snake Bite Tips Given

COLLEGE STATION — The death rate from snakebite is extremely low, less than 1 percent die from the 2,400 bites annually reported, but it definitely pays to know what to do if you're bitten, says Charles Ramsey, a wildlife specialist at Texas A&M University.

First, try not to panic if you are bitten, he suggests. Do not use home remedies or take alcoholic beverages. Seek medical aid immediately, Ramsey says. Identify the snake if possible since treatment is determined by the species of the snake.

The best advice is to learn to identify the poisonous snakes and leave them alone, Ramsey adds. Snakes are rarely aggressive towards humans.

Lions Install New Sweetheart

Newly installed president Thacker Haynes presided over the regular monthly meeting of the McLean Lion's Club Monday night in the Senior Citizens building. He installed his sister Sally Haynes as Lion's Sweetheart for the coming year.

Concessions stand chairman Dale Glass reported that business was brisk at the local rodeo held recently, and that a profit of about $600 will be realized by the club as a result of the project.

A drawing Tuesday afternoon will determine the winner of the Remington 20 gauge shotgun on which Lions have been taking donations for the past few weeks.

Lion Dorman Thomas was appointed program chairman for this year, and other committee chairman and members were appointed at a short director's meeting after the regular meeting.

Seventeen Lions attended.

In the Kitchen BY LINDA HAYNES

The dog days of July are with us. With the current energy shortage, we can't go anywhere, and we can't use our air-conditioners very much when we stay home, so there is only one answer to stay cool, and make the summer days special to our family. Get out your ice cream freezer, and try one of these special recipes.

EASY SHERBET
JOYCE HAYNES

Place contents in freezer can, stir and then freeze according to directions on your freezer.

2 cans Eagle Brand milk
7 to 8 cans peach or orange crush soft drink
Dip off foam. Freeze. This makes 1 1/2 gallons. (Don't forget on all recipes to fill freezing tank only 1/2 full to allow for expansion during freezing.)

RICH AND CREAMY ICE CREAM.
Ann Campbell (This tastes like the ice cream sold in a famous ice cream store with the initials B.R.)

Mix: 3 cups sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
6 eggs
2 T vanilla
4 cartons whipping cream.
Add any kind of fruit and nuts as desired. One of the best variations is to use 4 crushed bananas and pecans.

Add homogenized milk to fill 1/2 full. Freeze.

VANILLA SPECIAL
Opal Allison

6 eggs
Beat the eggs until they are very thick and creamy. Add: 2 cups sugar, 1 can Eagle Brand milk.

Scald 1 qt. milk. Cool, and pour over mixture, beating with electric mixer at very low speed.

Add 1 tablespoon vanilla. You may add 1-2 cups of any kind of fruit.

EXTRA EASY ICE CREAM
Jeanette Fish

6 eggs, 1 can pet milk, 1 can Eagle Brand, 2 cups sugar, lots of vanilla. Mix thoroughly. Put in freezer. Add homogenized milk til freezer is 1/2 full. Freeze.

MINNIE'S OLD FASHIONED ICE CREAM
Minnie Morse Haynes. Makes two gallons.

Beat 11 eggs until thick and foamy. Add 3 1/2 cups sugar slowly to mixture. Add 2 pints whipping cream. Add 6 T. vanilla. Pour into freezer. Fill till 1/2 full with homogenized milk. Freeze.

PRESSURE CANNER CLINIC:

A pressure canner testing clinic will be held Thursday, July 5th from 10-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. Homemakers will have an opportunity to test gauges in the Courthouse annex meeting room.

Accurate pressure canner gauges and canners with all parts in good working order can help families to be assured of safe home canned foods. If canners have not been tested in the past year, homemakers should plan to bring the canners with all parts to this free clinic.

PRESERVE CHERRIES AT HOME:
You can have cherries for cobbler and pie in the middle of winter for jelly making by canning them.

To freeze cherries, sort, wash and drain. Remove pits if desired. Use 1/2 cup sugar to one quart cherries if they are to be used in pie. If cherries are to be served uncooked, cover with cold syrup using seven cups sugar to four cups water. Seal and freeze immediately.

To can cherries, wash and sort; remove pits if desired. If not pitted, the fruit may be punctured with a needle. Fill jars to 1/2 inch of top to 1/4 inch of top of jar. Shake while filling for a full pack. Cover with boiling syrup, leaving 1/4 inch space at the top of the jar. Process in boiling water both twenty-three minutes and thirty-one minutes for quarts.

Cherries make delicious jam and jelly. For these recipes, ask for the bulletin from USDA - "How to Make Jellies, Jam, and Preserves at Home". This bulletin is free from the County Extension Office. We have a good selection of preservation bulletins available free to the public.

UPDATE HOMEMAKER SKILLS:
Update your skills as a homemaker in today's fast-paced world with knowhow from an extension homemakers club. Extension homemakers clubs are open to the public in Gray County. At monthly meetings—informal-learning activities—members learn in station-fighting ideas, home repair, interior decoration, cooking and nutrition. Also, they study sewing, child care, interpersonal relations and energy-saving tactics for the home.

Members gain a new skill at each meeting through a demonstration, lecture, workshop or tour in the various family-related subjects. Any interested person is invited to come as a guest to the Extension Homemakers Club meeting, or contact the Gray County Extension Office at 649-7429, for more information or assistance in organizing a new group.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

NEWS FROM ALAN REED

GOOD OL' BOYS—then and now

Reeford Blackwell is an old time cowboy. He started more than 50 years ago working for the J A Ranch, McMurtry and others. Reeford estimates he broke more than 500 horses in his time. He recalls a few who broke him. There was one horse he rode for 21 days straight. He got bucked off for 21 days straight. On day 22 this horse was sold. Once he rode 90 horses in one day but the toughest assignment he ever tackled was driving his first car, an Overland. Driving home down the country road was just fine but Reeford knew in his heart that he could not stop this car. He arrived at home at a good speed and plowed through the back porch of the house. The final score was 10 to nothing in favor of the car. After that breaking horses seemed easier.

Jess Finley thinks a married man has the easiest life in the world. 'All he has to do is just exactly as he is told.'

Skinny Johnston swears the stories about giant grasshoppers are true. He remembers that if you rode into town in the wagon and fell asleep for two long—you might wake up and find that your straw hat had been eaten. On the trip home, the grasshoppers had to settle for eating your shirt and pants.

Skinny gave us some garlic. We planted it by the garage. Norris Cunningham came along and dumped two yards of sand on top of it. After the sand had been used for our patio I checked the garlic garden and found it was covered by a stack of lumber four feet high. A few days ago the lumber was moved. Never underestimate the power of garlic. That stuff is still growing.

Hartley Davis moved to this area from Indian Territory in Oklahoma when he was three years old. The family first lived west of town in the old Oscar Tibbets house.

In 1905 they moved into Alanreed. One of the first things he remembers noticing was the Caprock. Hartley says that Alanreed and Groom are rather a dividing ridge so that in many places water flowed in both directions.

He was unable to start school until he was nine years old due to an eye problem. When he did start he completed three grades in one year.

One of the fun things boys did when Hartley was young was riding the Casteberry's buggy from the top of the hill at the Baptist church, all the way down the dirt road and up the hill to the Methodist church site.

Hartley met Mary Terbush and they were married in 1922. They got acquainted when the Terbush family moved into the house which was owned in later years by Short Hill. Mary was seven years old and Hartley and the four Pollard boys went down and threw rocks at her. She threw rocks back at them.

The Davis' daughter and husband, the Willis Mays, are building a four bedroom house at the site of the home where Mary lived when she was younger. Hartley helped tear down the old house last year to make room for the new one.

In spite of Hartley throwing rocks and later tearing down her girlhood home he and Mary have been married 57 years and are still living in the Davis house which has been in the family for 75 years.

They moved to Pantex from 1950 to 1965 where he was employed by the Texas Technological Experimental Station. He served on the school board at Alanreed for 20 years and has been caretaker at the cemetery since 1966.

The Davis' have four children. Velma Heckler of San Antonio, Willie Mays of Panhandle, Betty Brent and John Davis of Amarillo, 13 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

I saw Margie Bode shopping in Pampa Friday.

Dick Drago has become our cemetery custodian since the resignation of Hartley Davis.

Word was received here this week that Lester Carter of Rotan had suffered a heart attack and was hospitalized in a Rotan hospital. Mr. Carter is a local boy having been born here on North McClellan, a creek on what is now the Drew Word place, which belonged to Mr. Carter's grandfather Barker in about 1917.

Visiting the P.M. Gibson's last week were Mr. & Mrs. Don Bednor and daughter of Panhandle.

The Gibson's received word also that daughter Almeda in New Mexico underwent major surgery last week, but was doing fine.

The Dick Drago's have son Richard visiting from California. He brought his son and a friend with him also.

Visiting the Hartley Davis' this week is grandson Ross from Amarillo.

Ruth, Brenda and Tammie McLain were shopping in Pampa on Monday getting ready for a vacation trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stafford of Oklahoma visited here with her sister Polly Harrison on Friday enroute to New Mexico.

Gas Curtailment Protection Request Set

Evelyn Mason, County Executive Director, Gray County ASCS, noted that farmers are reminded that concerns desiring protection against natural gas curtailments have until July 15 to file a written priority request with their supplier. This applies to farmers, food processors, food distributors and other agricultural concerns. The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), originally designated June 15 as the last day for this requirement but extended it by one month.

Users of the interstate natural gas have been certified by the Secretary of Agriculture to be protected up to the full requirement against curtailment.

Your request to the supplier should include: Name and address, intended end user on volumes of natural gas needed, Natural gas purchases for most recent 12 months for which records are available. Documentation to support calculation of needs. Standard industrial classification (SIC) code numbers such as 01 for crops and 02 for livestock, and Signature swearing or affirming to accuracy of the request.

It is suggested that local natural gas suppliers be contacted concerning procedures for obtaining agricultural priority. If additional assistance is needed, the State and County ASCS offices hope to soon have information regarding eligible 'Essential Agricultural Uses' as well as a suggested format for filing.

LOOSE MARBLES

BY LISA PATMAN

If you have been planning to buy one of the many books which outline either the lives of various politicians or the government itself, save your money. You can dust off those children's books you've been saving for your grandchildren, read them through, and get a pretty good idea of what is going on in the minds of our country's policymakers.

Take, for example, the story about the little dog who sees his reflection in the river, and in his greed to obtain the bone his image is carrying, loses his own bone in the process. All of us normal people know the moral to this story; Don't Be Greedy. Rather obvious, right?

Unfortunately our friendly government officials misinterpreted the moral; when the government drops its bone into the river, it expects all the pups back on the home place to donate at least twenty percent of their bones to the boneless dog. And if those pups, through hard work, manage to earn a few more bones than usual, that old government-hound ups the ante, thereby cancelling any profit those hardworking canines might have enjoyed.

In human circles this is called taxation. (In government circles this is called kicking the taxpayer while he is down.)

In the story of the little red hen who works hard, the poor old girl is unable to get any help until the bread is baked, at which time everyone wants to get into the act. The story ends with the hen contentedly eating the whole loaf while the repentant onlookers make vows to give aid next time.

If the government bakes a loaf it seems compelled to distribute the loaf as far and wide as possible. This is called foreign aid. Unfortunately for us, the hen, who made the bread from the bonemeal supplied by the aforementioned pups, is now in the red breadwise.

I'll bet you've already figured out who the hen is going to turn to for her next supply of bonemeal, haven't you feller?

Perhaps when those government officials were little children they fell asleep in the middle of the fairy tales and fables their mothers read to them at bedtime, thereby missing the moral. (Certainly many of those fellows are morally amiss.)

There is one tale they seemed to get right. After spending billions of dollars on a pile of orbiting machinery called Skylab, they are now patting themselves on their ability to predict not only the date of its destruction, but its approximate landing site, give or take a continent or two.

Chicken Little would have been proud. The sky IS falling.

NEWS For Senior Citizens

Many older people have poor eating habits. Often they are on various drugs. Mature Americans are frequently inactive and debilitated. All these things can lead to constipation and that can put a strain on already delicate heart and blood vessels.

People who have these problems should see their doctors. When a person feels better, he or she can often do more, and that can help prevent the problem from recurring.

News from your County Agricultural Agent

By Joe Van Zandt

Hopefully, when you read this, the grasshopper cost-share control program in Gray, Collingsworth, and Wheeler counties will be completed on a satisfactory basis. There have been a few minor problems that had to be worked out as they arose which was to be expected. I guess, with a program involving this much overall acreage in the Panhandle needing to be sprayed quickly.

Mr. Roy Moritz and all of the people working under him have certainly been doing their best in my estimation to insure a satisfactory kill of grasshoppers. Many long, hot hours including a lot before the sun comes up have been required of them and the spray contractors and their people.

WHEAT HARVEST:

We have heard of some real good wheat yields, some almost to a point that the first story teller doesn't have a chance. Seriously, I would be interested in knowing about your high yields on both dryland and irrigated land. We may not have another wheat year like this for a long time. Call 669-7429 or come by the office if you had some real good yields as I would be interested in knowing about them.

SIDEDRESSING CROPS WITH NITROGEN:

Due to late planting caused by unfavorable weather, some farmers need to consider nitrogen sidedressing.

Early nitrogen applications -- within 30 days after planting if possible -- are important where no fertilizer was applied at or before planting. Nitrogen sidedressing is also important for late-planted crops.

Your Personal MONEY Management

One can get quite an education in inflation looking at current college costs, considering their rise at a rate of around nine percent a year. If you're concerned about meeting these costs, The Consumer Credit Institute, a counseling service of 800 consumer finance companies nationwide, may teach you a few things.

Scholarships are available from organizations as varied as the Boy Scouts and the Veterans Administration. Social Security, ROTC, the PTA, and many unions, corporations and special interest groups.

When looking for a college loan, decide how much you'll need, how big a debt you will need to pay the loan. Present these figures to at least two or three different lenders.

You may be able to get a loan from the college itself, the federal government, a finance company, a civic or religious group, a bank or a credit union. Some loans do not have to be repaid until after graduation.

A helpful planning guide on sound money and credit management, entitled "The Consumer's Almanac" is available by sending $1 to The Consumer Credit Institute, 1000 Sixteenth Street, N.W., Suite 601, Washington, D.C. 20036.

GONE FISHIN'

By Jeanette Fish

Cleanliness is next to Godliness. Or is it next to impossible? Everybody tackles it from a different direction. K-eping things clean and straight in your house, yard and life is not like the realization of a dream. You can be nostalgic about the times when you were young and poor with a house full of kids and never enough money. Tomorrow would be better.

The effort towards clean and neat is not a goal. It is more like a lifetime pain in the neck. A daily striving to get everything in order so that you can get up one day and say 'NOW THEN!' Now then what? I have done it all! It won't happen. Even in their finest death-bed movie scenes Bette Davis and Gary Cooper did not rouse up at the final moment and say, 'Now then.'

'Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.' 'Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow.' These two unfortunates usually meet, marry and raise children. You may think that one or the other of them would be satisfied. Neither has a half pint of peace of mind.

Never put off is busy all day laundry folded, short sleeve shirts in the closet next to long sleeve shirts, dresser drawers straight with safety pins in one cubby hole,—all the heads facing north.

Never do today is still folding yesterday's laundry and the only pin facing north is in the unfinished hem of the dress she wears. There is a song in My Fair Lady about women straightening their hair and 'Why don't they straighten up the mess that's inside.' That is what we are dealing with. The mess inside. Someone, somewhere decreed, 'A place for everything and everything in its place,' and sold us this impossible bill of goods. Everything in its place and your head will feel good with no left over rag tag emotions.

with this mania. One man said, 'Don't hire out to work for a fella until you see his barn.' A messy barn means a bad boss.

My sister never puts off. I never do today. Two girls raised in the same house, same parents, same rules. I managed to raise a teenage daughter without killing her by closing the door to her room for four years knowing that if there were a fire she would not be able to escape over the stacks of clothes. She had a small car complete with bowling ball, shoe skates, six coats and half of a week old hamburger on the dashboard. My son was raised with his bedroom door open and could not tolerate a gum wrapper on the floor of his car. I am raising a third child. The jury is still out.

Somewhere along the way, the base of your existence grows up and becomes a better housekeeper than you. The neat son moves into an apartment and you worry about his fire escape.

If you are type number 1—go ahead—enjoy your little rituals. Clip that grass by the fence every week. Don't forget to order that extra china cup. You broke one yesterday and now the set is uneven. It is driving you crazy. If you are type number two—remember what Parker Massey, an oldtime Alanreeder once said, 'You don't have to wash the dishes as long as you can remember what you ate out of them last.'

FACTS & FIGURES

A U.S. Treasury study has shown that 70 percent of the personal income taxes in this country are paid by people whose annual income exceeds $17,000.

Provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 have a great impact on medium-sized estates (taxable assets totaling $500,000) say the experts at the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters. That figure includes equity in a home or homes, life insurance, investments, pension or profit-sharing plans, other deferred compensations and personal property.

Gifts are not taxable if they are for less than $3,000 and can be enjoyed by the recipient at the time they are made.

Telephone Books Due in McLean

Telephone customers in McLean can expect a special delivery from the telephone company soon—the 1979 McLean Telephone Directory.

A record 3,500 copies of the new phone book are being distributed in the city, according to Gary Stevens, manager for Southwestern Bell in Pampa. Mailing will begin June 20. One copy will be mailed to each residential subscriber, with additional copies available at Southwestern Bell business offices, Stevens said.

The cover of this year's directory is titled 'Redstone Ranch,' a watercolor landscape by nationally known San Antonio artist Warren Hunter. A 1939 graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago, Hunter founded his own art school in San Antonio in 1946.

The painting chosen for the cover of this year's directory depicts the kind of scene for which Hunter is famous: a Central Texas farm complete with windmill, water tank, clothesline, barbed-wire fence and plenty of bluebonnets.

'I've always loved this area,' Hunter says, explaining that he wants his work to remind people of something in their own experience.'

Two special entries have been added to the directory this year. A page on modular telephone equipment will be included in the call-guide section in the front of the directory. It illustrates how to connect and disconnect modular phones.

Also, a letter from Charley M. Davidson, staff supervisor-customer relations, will be included in the Yellow Pages. Titled, 'How to Be a Better Buyer and Consumer,' the letter offers shipping tips concerning prices, estimates, receipts, contracts, credit details, guarantees, licenses and permits.

Farmer's stock tanks currently under study

COLLEGE STATION — People don't normally expect to find Ph.D.s out digging post-holes and stock tanks.

But that's exactly what Texas A&M University biologist Norman Dronen has done, and it's all part of an unusual study of lifeforms.

Dronen is conducting what is probably the most detailed examination ever of the small aquatic universe most ranchers and farmers in Texas have come to depend on—the stock tank. In time, the information gained may help producers, even shrimp and fish farmers, manage their herds and watering holes more efficiently.

Susan B. Anthony's Portrait Is On New Silver Dollar

This year the United States is honoring Susan B. Anthony by placing her portrait on the obverse of the new, small-sized dollar coin. It is especially significant that this is the first time a portrait of an American woman, rather than a symbolic woman, will appear on the circulating coinage of the nation.

Susan B. Anthony devoted her life to securing the right of women to vote. It was the non-citizen status of women that provoked Miss Anthony and led her to the legal event for which she is best known: THE UNITED STATES v. SUSAN B. ANTHONY.

Throughout 1872, she had been urging delegates of the suffrage convention to test the theory that the Fourteenth Amendment did not exclude women from voting. In a newspaper plea for all citizens to register to vote, she found nothing to indicate the intended vote was meant to be for men only. Armed with the Fourteenth Amendment and the state election law which she read as proof that the text did not prohibit women from voting, she led a group of women to register in Rochester, N.Y., on Nov. 1. The same 16 women returned to the polls on Nov. 5 and deposited their votes which were to be counted in the national election. All were soon arrested and all pleaded guilty to voting and were placed under bail of $500 and ordered to appear before the Albany court where Miss Anthony's bail was raised to $1000.

The trial held in June 1873 in Canandaigua has been maligned as a travesty of justice. The judge, newly appointed to his position by a Senator known to be an adversary of the women's cause, declared that Susan Anthony was not competent to testify in her own case and was not protected by the law nor did she have the right to vote. He refused to have the jury polled but rather dismissed them.

To the sentence of the court to pay a fine of $100 and the cost of the prosecution, Miss Anthony replied, 'I shall never pay a dollar of your unjust penalty. And I shall earnestly and persistently continue to urge all women to the practical recognition...that resistance to tyranny is obedience to God.' This dictum cemented her cause to America's first revolution, for the same words appear on Adams' and Jefferson's proposal for the Great Seal of the United States.

Miss Anthony not only refused to pay the fine, but she continued, for 33 more years, speaking, writing, and counseling her followers who would continue her work and secure passage of the Nineteenth Amendment in 1920.

Five hundred million of the new Susan B. Anthony coins were released July 2, according to the director of the U.S. Mint, Stella B. Hackel. The new dollar is being distributed by the 37 Federal Reserve Banks to commercial banks, which in turn distribute them to the business community and to the public.

'Providing that consumer acceptance meets expectations, the new dollar should generate significant savings,' says Hackel. The Treasury Department is already saving 60% of the cost of minting dollar coins when comparing production costs of the large Eisenhower dollar to the Anthony dollar. If the coin displaces the need for the dollar note, the Federal Reserve System could achieve dollar savings as high as $50 million a year through reduction of printing, processing and destruction costs for dollar bills.

In expressing her enthusiasm for the new dollar, the Mint Director added that the widespread acceptance of the new coin will improve the nation's cash system for the benefit of the nation's retail and financial communities as well as the American public.

Small Texas Towns Still Alive Today

COLLEGE STATION — Once depicted as an endangered species, the small Texas town is now very much alive and well, according to Dr. Robert Skrabanek, a demographer with the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University.

Between 1970 and 1975, three-fourths of all Texas towns with 100 to 500 inhabitants recorded population increases, he said. Of the 265 of this size, 194 had population gains. Only 74 had losses.

Skrabanek sees no end to the move to the country in the near future. He cites crime, pollution, congestion, drugs, delinquency and other related problems as reasons for dissatisfaction with big cities.

WINNERS & LOSERS

In a 50-yard race, a horse would lose out to a cheetah, but over the course of a mile, the horse would win easily.

The great runner, Jesse Owens, would win races against horses, too, partially, it's said, because he only ran against very spirited animals who would rear at the starter's gun, allowing Owens to get enough of a head start to win a short race.

Hints For Homeowners

Home Improvement, Safety And Economy
BE WISE...ECONOMIZE!

If you're like most Americans, you are really beginning to "think economy." There's a new and increasing awareness among all that we won't be able to enjoy forever the fruits of the world's highest standard of living, unless we do.

Fortunately, economizing has become not only popular but a proud achievement. Husbands and wives are doing their own home repair and improvement work, cutting outside-help costs and practicing economy in the purchase of quality, lifetime tools with famous names like Crescent, Nicholson and Wis. Home-sewing is on the rise, too.

With gasoline both short and expensive, Americans are driving less by planning their car use—car pooling to Saving money by doing-it-yourself is becoming increasingly popular. school and work, making one "downtown" trip accomplish the results of two, using public transportation more. We've readjusted our home heating and cooling levels, insulated attics and are using home appliances sparingly, with forethought, to economize and conserve.

There is hope. Inflation and shortages can be controlled if we're wise and economize!

Lake Swimming Leads Water Fatalities

Lubbock - Swimming in lakes in the Lubbock region leads the list of recorded water fatalities according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reports.
Over 49 water fatalities were reported during the past two years and 22 of the persons were swimming; seven were fishing; five fell into the water; and, four were in vehicles that went into the water.
The availability of water of high-use areas leads the way as the Canyon lakes in Lubbock claimed seven of the victims and swimming is not even allowed in the chain of lakes. Lake Meredith in the Texas Panhandle accounted for five of the victims and Lake Colorado City claimed three of the fatalities.
Water activities are very popular in northwest Texas and the P&WD suggests all Participants do several things to protect themselves and others from becoming victims.
1. Learn to swim. If you can't master the complete technique, at least learn to tread water so you can yell or wave your arms for attention should you find yourself in difficulty.
2. Never swim alone. Even the best swimmer can become a distress victim due to fatigue, a muscle cramp or other such unforeseen problem.
3. If you are a nonswimmer, always wear a life jacket (personal flotation device) when you are around water.
4. Never let a young child out of your sight around water. Glancing off occasionally while reading a book or talking to friends is not adequate supervision. Little ones can easily find themselves in water over their heads.
5. Don't depend on and inflatable device or allow a nonswimming child to do so. Such devices easily tip over and occasionally rupture, leaving the nonswimmer with no means of support.
6. Fence backyard pools and put locks on the entrances to keep young children out.
7. Swim, when possible, where trained lifeguards are on duty.
8. Always wear a life jacket when riding in a boat whether you can swim or not. The unconscious swimmer drowns as quickly as the nonswimmer.
The choices concerning water safety are yours, but as you make your decisions, remember they are truly life or death decisions.
To help you understand the basics of swimming and drown-proofing, write for the pamphlets "Drownproofing" and "Learning to Swim" from the P&WD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas 78744.
