Coward Resigns; School Board Moves Dorsett, Joiner To Head Coach Posts

July 4th is my favorite holiday of the year, because it has become the traditional time for my family to gather for a family reunion.

The tradition began eight years ago, when my two brothers, my sister, and my mother and all the nieces and nephews came to McLean to celebrate the Fourth. My mother was killed in a tragic car-wreck a few weeks later, and so the family decided to make July 4th an annual time to gather together and share with each other what has happened in our lives during the past year.

Seeing the growth of the youngsters and listening to the events in the lives of my family is always an enthralling experience. I have known so many families who do not make the extra effort involved to see each other at least once a year, and I think it is very sad.

If your family does not gather occasionally, try to get everyone together. No one ever knows what changes will occur in a family in a year's time, and it's a shame to miss out on seeing each other.

One of our favorite pastimes at a family reunion is sharing funny stories we have heard over the previous year. This year's winner goes like this:

A brave chief of a tribe who lived in the mountains of Colorado many years before the white man came had a beautiful daughter. Two strong noble braves named Running Water and Falling Rock each sought the maiden's hand in marriage.

Since the chief could not decide which young man should become his son-in-law and heir to his title, he called a council of elders to decide the problem.

The elders decided that each brave should prove himself by going into the mountains and bringing home the largest buffalo he could kill. Whichever brave returned with the largest

Jack Dorsett was named head football coach, and Vester Joiner was named head basketball coach at the regular monthly meeting of the McLean school board Monday night. The reassignments of the two men were made following the resignation of head coach and athletic director Bill Coward, who has accepted a coaching position in Sweetwater.

Following a brief discussion the trustees decided to choose Coward's successor from within the system. No athletic director will be named. The four coaches and high school principal Ron Cummings will serve as an athletic committee to handle administrative affairs of the athletic department.

Joe Riley and Jerry Cook were assigned coaching duties in the junior high. Cook will continue as high school math teacher. Riley was junior high coach during the past school year. Dorsett was also a junior high coach, and Joiner was coach of high school girls' basketball and track coach.

In other action, the board voted to leave the basis for taxation in the school district at market value for 1979-80. The state legislature has mandated that school districts give property owners a choice between market value and ag use value in 1980-81. Shirley Johnson, business manager, explained to the board that converting to ag use value for the coming year would involve extensive reappraisal.

The board decided to exempt automobiles from the tax roll, in compliance with a decision from the state that local taxing entities have the option to delete automobiles from tax rolls. Superintendent Carl Dwyer explained to the board that the staggered registration of automobiles makes record keeping difficult for the tax collector. Revenues from automobiles on the MISD tax roll last year was $5294, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson told the board that another confusing ruling of the state legislature involves the homestead exemption. In the past, the homestead exemption allowed 200 acres of land to be claimed, but new legislation states that the homestead exemption covers only enough land for a house and outbuildings.

exemption covers only enough land for a house and outbuildings. Dwyer and board member Joe Magee reported to the board on a recent meeting they attended in Lefors pertaining to Senate Bill 621 which mandates that all taxing entities, with the exception of the county government, will be under county wide board of appraisal. The five-member board in Gray County will be elected by the various taxing bodies, including the City of Pampa, the City of Lefors, the City of McLean, Pampa ISD, and McLean ISD. Voting power to choose the board members is determined by the amount of tax revenue collected.

Out of 1,000 votes, the City of Pampa will have 203 votes, Pampa ISD will have 589, McLean ISD will have 63 votes, and the City of McLean will have 25 votes.

The County-wide board must be elected in October, and the board will begin functioning in 1981-82.

'I would never have believed the provisions of this bill if I hadn't attended the meeting,' Magee said.

'Someone went to sleep when this bill was passed,' Dwyer said. 'The bill will consolidate the appraisal duties of all taxing entities into the central board, with the larger taxing bodies having control over the board. The board will appoint an appraiser and an appraisal review committee, which will function like an equalization board,' Dwyer said.

The state will issue a state appraisal manual and give each county a local index factor.

'It is unconstitutional for the state to set local taxes,' Dwyer said, 'but by issuing the manual and setting the factor, that is in effect what they are doing.'

In other business the board approved expenses for Vester Joiner to attend a coaching

Bill Coward Accepts Sweetwater Coaching Position

Bill Coward, athletic director and head coach at McLean High School, for the past two years resigned this week to accept a position at Sweetwater High School. Coward, who came to McLean after a five-year stint at L.D. Bell High School in Hurst, will be working with football defense and coaching one other sport at Sweetwater under new head coach Don Beck.

Coward said that Beck, who gained a state-wide reputation coaching at Perryton High School, called him and asked him to take the position. The McLean mentor said that it was an opportunity he could not pass up.

'Working with a coach as outstanding as Beck is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity,' Coward said.

Beck retired from coaching in 1978, and spent a year ranching in Montana, but Coward said that Beck told him that he missed coaching too much, and had to come back to the profession.

The J-A school in Sweetwater has about 900 in the high school and the town has about 12,000 residents, Coward said.

'They seem to be hungry for a winner in Sweetwater,' he said. 'The school has not had a district champion in 13 years, and they have more or less given Beck a free hand to build a program.'

'It was one of the hardest decisions of my life,' Coward said. 'McLean is a hard place to leave. The school board and the administration has been great to work with, and the town has given me all the support I needed. I will particularly miss working with the boys in McLean, who are among the best that I have ever known.'

Coward is a graduate of Seagraves High School and Wayland Baptist College, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1971.

He coached his first year at Estacado Junior High in Plainview before moving to Hurst. Coward and his wife Sue have three children: Christy, 8; Sam, 2; and Kimberly, 1.

Mrs. Suggs accompanied her son as sponsor for the trip.

During their stay in New Orleans, the McLean pair went on a steam boat ride down the Mississippi, a tour of New Orleans, a tour of the French Market and Bourbon Street.

They also visited the Superdome, the street cars, the courtyards, and St. Louis Cathedral.

A CONSTANT PROBLEM IN McLEAN - THE DESTITUTE TRAVELER

What do we do about travelers coming through the town on Interstate 40 who ask for a handout?

I-40, the busiest highway in the nation, brings McLean many tourist dollars, but also presents the continuing problem of the down-and-outers.

If all the travelers who seek out a local minister were truly destitute, the problem would be relatively easy to solve, but each time one of the McLean preachers is approached for a handout, he must decide whether that person is a con-man who makes his living preying on the goodness of small-town people or whether the person is truly in need of help.

The Rev. Joe Walker, pastor of First United Methodist Church in McLean, says that he is contacted two to three times a week by travelers. Other local preachers report about the same number.

Most local churches do not have special funds for these people, and so the minister must decide what he will do. In most cases, according to Aven Hook, minister of the Church of Christ, he tries to help them find temporary work. If they are members of the Church of Christ, he contacts their local congregations, and then helps them anyway he can, with the approval of his elders.

About the only organization in McLean which is actually set up to help people who are down on their luck is the local branch of the Salvation Army.

This organization, known as world-wide for its help of less fortunate people, provides a budget based on McLean's donations in once-a-year drives to help travelers.

R.J. Turner, treasurer of the Salvation Army in McLean, said that the group's budget is $300 to $400 per year in McLean.

The Salvation Army will begin a fund-raising drive in McLean at the end of this month. If you are concerned about people who are down on their luck, and if you would like to help relieve one of the most frustrating problems of our local ministers, give generously to this group.

These stirring words by Jesus, quoted in the book of Matthew, sum up our unique problem in McLean.

"Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels; For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink; I was naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee. Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

And these shall go away into everlasting punishment; but the righteous into life eternal."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear McLean News:

I enjoy the McLean News very much every week. I keep up with news of a locality that was my home town for almost twenty five years. My children and grandchildren have graduated from McLean during the years.

It is most interesting to read about the progress that is being made in McLean and the area and to read about friends back there.

McLean and its people will always have a very special place in my heart cause its 'my home town in Texas'

CONGRATULATIONS!

I know you are proud of The McLean News, and well you should be.

Still have the copy of your Anniversary Edition, and some one comes in often, asking if we still have it. We're pleased that we do.

Come to see us.
Sincerely,
J. Flanagan

Dear Linda,

One member of the class of '65 accepts your challenge to respond to an editorial (June 21st edition). And with your opinion of the homecoming and anniversary celebration, I must concur. The weekend was a big success!

I hope that my other classmates enjoyed their trip back in time and place as much as I did. Saturday in the park was a montage of familiar faces: each face recalled an event and each event brought back a feeling. So numerous were the feelings and thoughts flooding my head that weekend, that it may take me the rest of the summer to sort them out.

But there is one fact which needs no reexamination: McLean and all that it is and was, is still a part of me. Although I could not return there, McLean frequently returns to me - like an old favorite song on the radio; I turn up the volume and submerge myself in the lyric, the melody, and memory that it evokes.

No, Thomas Wolfe, "you can't go home again," but you can carry home with you. . . . And on that "home" you can build the foundation of your life. . . . And because of that "home," you can never quite become a "city boy." As for your gentle chide to "straighten up small town folk out . . ." - perhaps we could learn from each other? Most of us are nice people with a few "old soreheads" thrown in, just to make life interesting.

My love to you all.
Linda Tindall Williams
P.S. My congratulations to you and your staff for producing the most interesting and entertaining publication that I read. - Love it!

President Carter and his advisers have sold us down the river again, with the signing of the Salt II treaty. Salt II, if ratified by the Senate will commit the U.S. to a permanent position of military inferiority, and would give the Soviets a clear first strike capability that very well could result in nuclear war. The Soviets will have a military advantage that they have never before enjoyed. As we all know, when the Russians can gain an advantage anywhere in the world, they never fail to use it to their best interest.

Salt I gave the Soviets superiority in I.C.B.M.'s and heavy I.C.B.M.'s. The U.S. is limited to 1,054 I.C.B.M. launch sites and we agreed to let the Russians have 1,618. Of these, none of ours would be larger, modern missiles, but the communists are allowed 326 of the more modern missiles designed to destroy our missiles before they could be fired.

Dr. Henry Kissinger, now a member of the executive committee of the Trilateral Commission, was then Secretary of State. He defended all of this on the grounds that our intercontinental bombers and the greater accuracy of our missiles would offset the apparent Soviet advantage.

At the time Salt I was being negotiated we were planning to replace our obsolete B52's with B1's. Jimmy Carter and his advisors have decreed them too expensive and unnecessary, and in that joint Soviet-American space mission we gave the Russians our guidance systems. As a result their missiles are as accurate as ours.

At the time Salt I was being negotiated our 'Safeguard' Anti-Ballistic Missile system was under construction. However under Salt I we agreed not to deploy this missile system and left ourselves wide open to Soviet attack. Meanwhile, the Russians are building large numbers of A.B.M.'s and undertaking a massive civil defense program to protect their citizens and industrial capability.

The Salt II treaty will guarantee that the U.S.S.R. will be able to send at least eight hydrogen warheads against every one of America's strategic targets. (The Pantex plant northeast of Amarillo is a strategic target.) Salt II will allow the Soviets 326 heavy I.C.B.M.'s. These new missiles can carry eight to ten nuclear warheads each. These 326 missiles will be able to deliver over 3,000 warheads. The Soviets will be allowed to keep their Backfire bomber which has the capability to bomb any U.S. city with nuclear bombs and land at bases in Cuba.

Salt II deals a severe blow to our N.A.T.O. allies. It appears that the Trilateral Adminis-

Gas Guzzling Has New Meaning

The gasoline crisis has caused 'gas guzzling' to take on a new, menacing medical meaning.

The gasoline shortage is tempting people to siphon gas using their mouths and poisoning cases are increasing. The Southeast Texas Poison Control Center in Galveston has estimated there are 10 times as many gasoline poisoning cases this year as last year.

Gasoline in the body can be very dangerous, especially if it gets in the lungs, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) said. Gasoline is about 140 times more poisonous in the lungs than in the stomach. Slightly less than a pint in a child's stomach can be fatal but only a few drops in the lungs can kill, according to the Merck Manual medical reference book. About a teaspoon of gasoline in the lungs can kill an adult and a few drops can be damaging, Mike Ellis, poison control center director, said.

Since gasoline poisoning can be so serious, a victim should contact a doctor or emergency room immediately. Treatment may include nothing more than drinking a lot of milk to coat the digestive tract to prevent irritation while the gasoline passes through the body. But a medical authority should decide about treatment since many factors such as the victim's weight and the amount of gasoline swallowed must be considered.

Ideas about treatment vary but TMA recommends four basic things to do: 1) contact medical help immediately; 2) remove any clothing with gas on it; 3) do not smoke; 4) act quickly but be calm-remember that most victims recover and that panic may only aggravate some symptoms.

The best way to prevent gas poisoning is to siphon properly. Inexpensive siphon pumps are available at many discount stores, auto parts stores and other places.

The board rehired Dennis Cleaver of Amarillo as auditor for the school.

Use Care When Addressing Film

A little extra care when mailing film for processing could mean the difference in preserving the memories of your summer vacation. Postmaster Frank Simpson advised today.

"Thousands of film packages end up in dead letter offices throughout the country each year," Postmaster Simpson said, "just because the film package was wrapped and addressed carelessly."

He offered the following tips for mailing film:

-Put the film in a sturdy envelope, and when possible use envelopes supplied by a film processing company.
-Write the film processor's mailing address, return address and ZIP Code legible on the outside of the envelope.

AUSTIN — Texas Attorney General Mark White blasted the national energy policy last week, painting a gloomy picture of double-digit inflation and a continued energy crisis.

The crisis brings "economic chaos" at a level of "deeper concerns than Vietnam or Watergate," White told a Young Texas Lawyers convention in San Antonio.

The national policy has a particularly negative impact on the economic vitality of Texas, he told them, and Congress "has not dealt with us (Texas) in an even-handed fashion."

White referred to a series of rulings by the Interstate Commerce Commission which granted increases in coal freight rates . . . "additional gouges," White called them.

Coal transport rates have risen from less than $8 per ton to more than $18 per ton.

Later this week Governor Bill Clements took advantage of authority given to him by President Jimmy Carter to announce he plans to shift up to five percent of the state's monthly gasoline allocation from low-use rural areas to metropolitan areas.

Clements is considering a plan to require some service stations in big cities to sell gasoline on weekends or not get their share of an additional 40 million gallons of fuel expected to be channeled to the big cities this month.

Kubiak Pushes "Agrihol"

If fuel continues to flow from rural to urban areas, the slack in tractor fuel tanks may be taken up by alcohol fuels, according to one state legislator.

State Rep. Dan Kubiak told a Capitol news conference Tuesday that Texas farmers will one day have "agrihol" plants on their farms and burn pure grain alcohol in their tractors and farm machinery.

Kubiak also announced he is building a pilot "agrihol" plant in Millam County to demonstrate how farmers can grow their own fuels. Irked by Clements' veto last month of a Texas A&M University alcohol fuel plant, Kubiak went to farmers and engineers in his district for financial backing for the plant.

Clements, meanwhile, submitted to Environmental Protection Agency officials a Texas plan for complying with federal clean air standards.

If it is not accepted, the state could lose millions in federal funds in highway and sewage treatment plant construction grants and face a ban on building new industrial facilities.

The plan calls for Texas to meet the Clean Air Act of 1970 guidelines through additional pollution controls on refineries, chemical and manufacturing plants and automobile emissions.

Demos Favor Convention
While Texas Republicans will hold a presidential primary election next spring, Democrats will probably choose their delegates to the 1980 Democratic National Convention through the convention system.

The overwhelming sentiment of testimony at a Democratic Party Rules Committee hearing in Houston was that the party reject the idea of a binding presidential primary.

Only one of 21 witnesses opted for the primary: Franklin Garcia of San Antonio who said, "Let the people choose. Period."

On the eve of the Fourth of July, Republican presidential contender John Connally met in Austin with a group of 200 of the state's most powerful lobbyists.

When the group discovered a news reporter in the adjacent room, Connally's microphone was shut off and the press was effectively left out of the meeting.

Clements has also been entertaining the political movers and shakers lately trying to pay off a $4.75 million campaign debt. Meanwhile, his 1978 opponent, former Attorney General John Hill, said he will wait until 1981 to decide whether to take on Clements again. Hill predicted Clements will only serve one term in the mansion, but some of Clements' friends are saying the same thing: they predict he will be chosen as vice president in 1980.

Colson Bid Rejected

The Texas Department of Corrections rejected a request by Watergate figure Charles Colson to bring an evangelistic crusade to Texas prisons.

Colson, one-time aide to former President Richard M. Nixon, became a born-again Christian during his Watergate ordeal and in the last three years has taken his Prison Fellowship crusade into federal and state prisons.

Department director Jim Estelle admitted he disliked some reported Colson comments that prisons are breeding grounds for criminals, but that Texas prisons already had enough religious activity. It was "no slight to Mr. Colson," he said.

On a Biblical note of another sort, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said grasshoppers have invaded Texas in their greatest numbers since 1958 but he is "declaring war" on them. About 1.4 million acres of Panhandle rangeland were sprayed with insecticide to stop the pests who were counted at from 10 to 18 per square yard.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Charley M. Eudy was born in Fannin County in 1896, one of 10 children of a carpenter. When he was one year old the family moved from Hale Center to Childress in a covered wagon. When he was eight years old they moved to Chillicothe and he remembers picking cotton there. He said his daddy built most of the structures in Chillicothe.

In the fourth grade Charley played hookey from school and began going to the blacksmith shop owned by W.A. Abel and his son Charley. Mr. Abel gave him 15 cents a day to buy him some chewing tobacco. He would buy 10 cents worth for Mr. Abel and 5 cents for himself.

His salary for helping in the shop was 25 cents a day for the first year and four bits a day the next year. They built wagons which cost $75 apiece. From the age of 10 to 13 he worked and learned. After that he went back to the family farm and rigged up a shop making bridle bits and spurs.

In 1911 the Eudys moved to Childress where he rigged up another shop on the farm and did all the neighbors work until 1916 when they left in the covered wagon again and moved to Shamrock.

He recalled shoeing big draft horses in Iowa Park. The size of the shoes ranged from 1 to 10.

Charley worked six days a week from sunup to sundown and never worked on a Sunday. The

A size 1 was 4 to 6 inches across. The price for shoe and nail was $1.

Charley was married to Annie M. Ayers on March 13, 1920. They came to McLean in 1921, a trip which took three days. He went by train as a stowaway and Annie came in a car with friends. They had only a mattress and trunk to move.

He had a blacksmith shop on Main street for 45 years where Simpson's market is now.

Eudys had two children, Marie of McLean, and Billy Charles who manages Albertsons in Amarillo. There are seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1970. Charley died April 27, 1976. In speaking of his career one time he said, 'I was a blacksmith for 64 years, 45 of them in McLean. If I had to do it all over again, I wouldn't change my profession.'

The Robin Hood in you will probably rejoice to know that the rich pay the most taxes.

A U.S. Treasury study concludes that 70 percent of all personal income taxes in the country are paid by the richest one-fourth of the population. Does that sound fair to you?

You may change your mind when you learn that households in which the annual income exceeds $17,000 are considered "rich." While they earn 50 percent of the nation's income, they pay 70 percent of all personal taxes.

Financial planning is crucially important to most families, no matter how "rich" they are considered. The American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national association of life insurance professionals, points out that the tax benefits offered by qualified retirement plans make them a sound investment for future security.

TIME FACTS & FANCIES

Electricity is delivered at nearly the speed of light—186,000 miles a second—equivalent to traveling seven and a half times around the earth in one second. Electricity is used at almost the same instant it is produced.

It takes ten to 12 years to license and construct a nuclear power plant in the U.S.—twice the time it takes in Japan, says the Edison Electric Institute, because the regulatory process has become tortuous and unpredictable. Delay can result in unnecessary cost increases of some $120 million a year in construction.

One kilowatt (1,000 watts) is approximately the amount of electricity needed to operate a steam iron for one hour.

Some utilities charge more for electricity used during peak hours. This is to encourage customers to use electricity when demand is at its lowest level.

PSYCHOLOGY

A GOOD WAY TO GET RID OF YOUR TENSIONS IS TO TAKE UP SOME SORT OF SPORT. THEN, AFTER SOME ENERGETIC EXERCISE, YOU CAN RELAX YOURSELF WITH A GLASS OF ICED TEA TO COMPLETE YOUR RELAXATION.

Women Of The Bible Study Begins

The Dorcas Circle of the Methodist Church met Monday at the Lovett Memorial Library and began a study of the women of the bible. They visited residents of the Thomas Nursing Home and distributed pot plants.

Attending were: Martha Parker, Mollie McDowell, Mary Dwyer and Davie Gipson. This group will meet August 13 at 7 p.m. at the library and make items for the nursing home. Old and new members are cordially welcome.

Pray that success will not come any faster than you are able to endure it.

To attempt suicide is a criminal offense. Any man who, of his own will, tries to escape the treadmill to which the rest of us feel chained incites our envy, and therefore our fury. We do

The world changes so fast that one couldn't stay wrong all the time if he tried.

In the final choice a soldier's pack is not so heavy a burden as a prisoner's chains.

He who plants thorns must never expect to gather roses.

SAVING TIPS on electric air conditioning

CENTRAL SYSTEMS

- Set thermostat on 78° or higher during the summer.
- Check filters every 30 days.
- Close draperies and blinds to keep out solar heat.
- Trim trees, shrubs & leaves away from outside compressor unit.

WINDOW UNITS

- Keep windows closed. Open outside doors as little as possible.
- Keep the damper on your fireplace closed.
- Have a qualified serviceman check your unit seasonally.

WINDOW UNITS

- Buy units with the highest "energy efficiency ratio" (EER). They use less electricity to cool.
- Never vent the unit into the garage.
- Proper insulation in attics, walls & around ducts is one of the most important factors in holding down the cost of air conditioning. Make your home more energy efficient... and your energy dollar will go further this summer.

Good Ol' Boys... Then And Now

The Jim Ayeres family moved to McLean in 1920 and lived on the Cobb place. The brothers and sisters were Wayland, Jack, Annie (Eudey) and Eula (Willis). Through the years the family scattered with Wayland moving to Amarillo and Jack to Borger. They got back together in 1969. Since then the four families have lived on the same street in McLean.

J.C. and Ruby Gilbreath were married in 1932. J.C. remembers exactly how much money he had after the wedding...50 cents.

Nita and Bert McKee were married that same year. A good year to start out except it was followed by 1933 and the depression. She remembers 32 as a good year. Bert had a wheat crop with his brothers in Canyon. After the wheat was cut and expenses were paid, they each had $90 apiece. On the way home to Alanreed the McKees stopped in Amarillo and bought a big supply of groceries for $20. Nita bought dress material for six cents a yard. In 1933 she said they could not get two cents together to buy a postage stamp to write to Berts' folks in Canyon.

Virginia Dalton remembers the depression and says, "We were lucky and had enough to eat because my mother had canned everything in the world that you could possibly put in a jar." But they didn't have any flour. Some good family friends had plenty of wheat flour so for a long, long, long time the F.B. Carters had biscuits at home and in school lunches. Virginia's brother Cecil is remembered as a man of few words but after the depression he did say he had just about had all the wheat flour biscuits he would ever want.

Nita Palmer McKee was born July 1, 1910 at Lelia Lake, Texas. She was the daughter of the L.L. Palmers. The family moved north of Alanreed when she was eight years old. They left Lelia Lake at sunup with 4 wagons and arrived in Alanreed at 11 p.m. and stayed the night at the Alanreed hotel. There was no electricity and the hotel was heated with coal. She recalls, it was 'real dark and real cold.'

Alanreed to school along with sister Jimmy, brother Coy and a cousin Blanche. Mr. Palmer would bring them in on Monday morning and pick them up on Friday afternoon. They stayed

Mr. Palmer had owned a gin at Lelia Lake. He was the first man to plant cotton in Gray county and built a store at Alanreed in 1926. The Palmer children went to school at Eldridge which was on a line between the Medley (Taylor Ranch) and Davenport place.

When Nita was in the fourth grade her sister Willie Bell was in high school and they came to in a house in town and Mrs. Ed Castleberry was like a second mother to them. She cooked for them many times or would sometimes bake a cake and bring over to them although she was pretty busy with seven children of her own.

When Nita and Jimmy were in high school they drove a stripped down model T to Alanreed to school. They got it started by rolling it off the hill, getting it straight--"we pulled the spark and gas levers down and we came to school."

At that time there was a two-story hotel one and one-half miles north of Alanreed. They would pick up school friends along the way and by the time they got to school, they were hanging on the fenders.

The McClellan Creek Bridge was washed out on the day that Nita graduated in 1928. Her folks could not get the car across to go to the ceremony. Nita walked across, carried her dress and was met on the other side by her Uncle Cop and Aunt Sallie who lived on the Bunt Stubbs place. They drove her to Alanreed to the graduation.

Her father, L.L. Palmer was well known and admired in the area. He passed away in 1951. His funeral was preached by his very good friend, L.P. Fort who recalled Mr. Palmer as an unusual man in our time--"I worried more about breaking a shoestring than he did about losing an apple crop."

The inscription place on his tombstone by the family reads, "His kind is fast passing from the earth."

Nita and Bert will celebrate their 47th wedding anniversary on July 25th. They have two children, Billy of Amarillo and Margie of Spearman and three grandchildren. She has been Postmaster at Alanreed since May 13, 1964.

HOME CANNING UP-DATE:

To learn more about home canning attend a Canning Up-Date at 1:30 p.m., July 12th in the Courthouse annex meeting room. Information will be given on proper canning equipment, and proper canning procedures. There will be time for a question and answer session. Handouts will be given to those attending. Make your plans to attend this free workshop.

This is the second in a series of home preservation workshops. We are testing pressure canner gauges in the Extension Office. Be sure to have your gauge tested before you start canning. On July 19th, a drying demonstration will be held. AVOID LOSS OF LIQUID DURING HOME CANNING:

Homemakers can avoid loss of liquid in home canning by taking several precautions. In canning vegetables, follow these guidelines to prevent liquid loss:

--Don't pack food too tightly in jars.

--If jars are too full, the product will boil over and start siphoning liquid from the jar.

Leave 1/2 inch head space at the top of the jar to give room for the product to boil without boiling out. Fill non-starchy vegetables to within 1/2 inch of top of jar, starchy vegetables are filled 1 1/2 inches of top, and liquid for all vegetables is filled to 1/2 inch of top of jar.

--Use 10 pounds pressure, not more, for all vegetables. Stabilize pressure by adjusting the temperature of the range elements.

--Lower pressure gradually. Steam shouldn't leak at the petcock or around the lid of the pressure canner.

--Let the gauge return to zero before opening the petcock.

To prevent loss of liquid when canning fruit:

--Raw fruit packed in jars should be filled within 1/2 inch of top of jar and liquid filled to within 1/2 inch of top of jar.

--Hot-packed fruit or fruit heated in syrup before packing jars should be filled 1/2 inch of the top of the jar and the syrup should be filled to within 1/2 inch of top.

CANTALOUPE:

Juicy and succulent, cantaloupe is a great summertime cooler. In addition, half of one cantaloupe contains only 60 calories, yet furnishes the entire day's supply of vitamins A and C for healthy gums, tissues and skin, and normal growth and vision.

Try the five point test for good cantaloupe eating--which means, examining the netting, slip, color, firmness and aroma. For peak flavor, the cantaloupe should be well netted. The netting is the raised, grey-brown pattern over the surface that stands out above the green or yellow skin color. The best-eating melons have high, raised netting over some part of the surface. And, it will not have large areas that are 'slick' with out any netting--except for the side that lay on the ground. You may also see 'stripes' of green or yellow--or in riper melons, even stripes of a brownish color.

Look for a 'full slip'. This is a circular scar where the stem was detached when the ripe melon was picked. A stem scar that retains part of the stem or has been gouged out of the melon indicates that the melon was not ripe when picked from the vine. A cantaloupe is usually at its tastiest when the skin color is yellow or turning yellow. Green color on a well-netted melon with full slip indicates that the melon is not ready to eat. To check for firmness, squeeze the melon gently. You may need to use both hands to keep from bruising it. If it yields a little, it is ripe. But, avoid a really soft melon or one with large soft bruises.

Aroma may or may not be present. If it is present, and in combination with the other points for good cantaloupe eating, you can expect a tasty melon. Store cantaloupes in the refrigerator in a closed plastic bag or container. The melon's odor is taken up by other foods if not stored in a closed container during refrigeration storage.

You may wish to freeze a few melon balls for later use while they are in peak season and at their lowest price. Use only top-quality fruit. Cut into cubes or melon balls. Cover with a cold sugar syrup using two cups sugar to four cups water or pack in bags with no sugar. Expel as much air as possible from the bag, seal and freeze immediately. When using frozen melon balls, serve them partially thawed, especially those frozen without sugar. Melon frozen in sugar syrup will maintain texture better and stay firmer after thawing.

To prevent rice, noodles or spaghetti from boiling over, add a few teaspoons of cooking oil to the water.

Water Hauling Banned In Lefors

Companies will not be allowed to haul bulk water from the Lefors city water system, following action by the Lefors City Council Monday night. The city has been experiencing difficulties with the water system, which prompted the move, according to Leonard Cain, mayor.

The council also decided that a new policy will be instituted Aug. 1 regarding gas and water bills. Lefors customers will not receive any advance notice of disconnection if bills are not paid by the 25th of each month. The council decided that meters will be pulled, and a reconnection fee will be charged to reestablish service.

The Lefors City Council meets the second Monday of each month.

incoming District Governor Charles Cooley of Borger. Speaker for the evening was past District Governor Art Cook of Lubbock.

Entertainment was provided by Jay Wallis, and Steve and Charlene Mills of Lefors.

The banquet was catered and served by Bill and Elsie Earles, owners of the Hilltop Cafe.

Line up! The line forms to the right! Do not step over this line! Go to the end of the line! PLEASE TAKE A NUMBER AND WAIT!!

The civilized version of Chinese water torture had its beginning when two cave men arrived at the local spring at the same time for a drink of water. They each held a plastic card numbered one and two. Since then, we have been stuck with this system.

Three-hour waits in line for movie tickets are not uncommon in Los Angeles. People met, became engaged and made wedding plans waiting to see "The Exorcist."

"If you pray for patience the Lord will tell you to go someplace and stand in line. I was number 62 in an ice cream store one hot Sunday afternoon. The fella in front of me spent the entire time cursing everyone from Herbert Hoover down to the phone company. He was just getting started on Harry Truman when he got his double dip.

I always carried a book and managed to wade through Crime and Punishment, War and Peace and Britannicas'. Aardvark to Angola while waiting for groceries, bank statements and college classes in lines A through J.

I was number 19 waiting to pay a 10 cent library fine while memorizing the names of five presidents, six kings and nine Prime Ministers. When it was my turn the third librarian said, 'I wish you would all drop dead.' Millard Fillmore and King George to you 'ma'am,' I smiled sweetly.

Some people will drive miles to avoid waiting. I know a man in Pampa who refuses to eat at the local cafeteria, 'I spent four years in the army and I ain't standin in no more lines!'

Our attitudes are summed up pretty well by an Alanreed who was playing dominoes some 30 years back at the old Magnolia Station. 'DOMINO, he yelled triumphantly, then rubbed it in as he got up to leave with--'Hey, I bet when I die you'll spit on my grave.'

The loser calmly shuffled the dominoes and replied, 'Nope I ain't never doin' nothin' else that I have to stand in line to do.'

News from your County Agricultural Agent

By Joe Van Zandt

Since Texas has been designated as a recurring screwworm infestation area by the USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, producers must follow certain precautions when shipping livestock.

All livestock moving from Texas have to be examined and certified as screwworm-free within 72 hours before shipment. This is done by a state or federal inspector or an accredited veterinarian before crossing state lines.

Prior to entering Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and U.S. Virgin Islands, livestock must be sprayed or dipped with pesticides at the point of origin of interstate movement.

USDA-approved pesticides, include CO-Ral (coumaphos) 25 percent wettable powder used as a 20 percent to 25 percent spray, dip or wound treatment; Co-Ral emulsifiable insecticide used as a 20 percent to 25 percent spray or wound treatment; and Korlan 2AE used as a 45 percent to 50 percent spray or wound treatment. The latter should not be applied to beef cattle within one week of slaughter.

Inspectors may withhold certification if they suspect a screwworm infestation and if animals can't be adequately treated to prevent spread of the infestation.

Livestock movement into states other than those listed above differs slightly. In addition to inspection and certification, livestock must be free of open wounds. If an animal is screwworm-free but has open wounds, it must be treated with an approved pesticide.

Any animal in a group may not be moved interstate until it is free of screwworms. Remaining animals may be moved only if they have been sprayed or dipped with an approved pesticide.

Gray County producers and commercial pesticide applicators are reminded that certain pesticide products now on the market are restricted and available for use only by or under the supervision of certified applicators.

The Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) as amended provides for 1) classification of all uses of pesticides as either restricted use or general use and 2) establishes the requirement of certification of applicators (private and commercial) as a requisite to use or supervision of use of restricted-use pesticides.

The Texas Pesticide Control Act Requires certification of commercial pesticide applicators but not of private applicators. However, the act authorizes the Commissioner of Agriculture to establish a program to certify private applicators on a voluntary basis who wish to use or supervise the use of restricted-use pesticides in compliance with federal law (FIFRA).

The term 'private applicator' means a person who uses or supervises the use of any restricted-use pesticide or state-limited-use pesticide for purposes of producing any agricultural commodity on property owned or rented by him or his employer or, if applied without compensation other than the trading of personal services between producers of agricultural commodities, on the property of another person. The program established by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) enables a private applicator to become eligible for certification by completing an approved training program conducted by a qualified institution or training group or by home study including submitting a completed questionnaire to TDA following review of self-study material.

Training opportunities for persons seeking to qualify for certification as private applicators are provided through County Extension offices across the state. Persons may elect to qualify through home study using self-study materials available at the County Extension office. To date, more than 110,000 persons have participated in private applicator training through meetings or through the home study option.

Commercial-noncommercial applicator requirements for certification include written examinations administered by the appropriate certifying agency. The term 'commercial applicator' means a person who owns or manages a pesticide applicator business engaged in applying restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides to another's land. The term 'non-commercial applicator' means a person or government agency or department which wants to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides or the authority to demonstrate restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides and does not qualify as a private applicator and is not required to have a commercial applicator's license. Commercial-noncommercial applicator training Committees located at Texas A&M University Research and Extension Centers. Training is provided through workshops and by previous appointment through an autorotational system available at each location. To date, more than 6,000 persons have participated in commercial-noncommercial applicator training programs. Persons anticipating the need to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticide products are encouraged to take advantage of these Extension training programs. Information regarding the private applicator program is available through the County Extension office. Persons interested in commercial-noncommercial applicator training may obtain program information by contacting Extension staff members located at the Texas A&M University Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo, Texas, 359-5401.

Avoid Bike Dangers Expert Admonishes

Summer brings hordes of kids on bicycles streaming into the streets at all hours. To help children avoid accidents and adults cope with potential problems, the Texas Medical Association offers some suggestions.

During the school year, drivers have learned to slow down when they see school zones. But summer means slowing down in lots of other areas. Swimming pools and playgrounds attract youngsters in the summer so drivers should slow down when passing these areas, especially if there are warning signs or lights. Bike lanes, bike crossings and pedestrian crossings also require extra attention.

Long summer days mean many children may be playing in these and other areas at twilight. Since even cautious drivers have trouble seeing during this time of day, parents should make sure children have reflectors on their bicycles and wear light-colored or reflective clothing. For riding at night, the law requires that bikes have a white headlight in front and a red reflector in back. Optional equipment such as a red light in back, reflectors attached to spokes, reflective tape on fenders and reflective armbands also can increase visibility.

Even under the best visibility conditions, children have little chance of avoiding accidents if their bicycles are in bad shape. A quick maintenance check should include: making sure major nuts and bolts are tight, especially the ones for handlebars, pedals, wheels and seat; making sure brakes work well enough to skid on dry, hard pavement; inspecting tires for cracks and adequate tread; checking the bicycle frame for loose places or spots so rusty the frame might break. To operate smoothly, a bicycle may require other maintenance but these checks, along with necessary reflectors, are minimum steps to insure safety.

After giving a child the necessary equipment for safe bike riding, about the only other insurance from accidents is education. Most children are told to 'be careful' but not many fully realize what that means. Since bicycles have to follow the same laws as cars, one of the best ways to educate children is to discuss traffic situations with them while you are driving. These talks can give them a concrete look at dilemmas they may face on their bicycles.

Bullock Issues Simple Inheritance Tax Form

AUSTIN, TEX.--State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said he has authorized a simple declaration form for certain beneficiaries to use in lieu of an inheritance tax return for estates less than $200,000.

Bullock said the declaration of no tax due from Class A beneficiaries will replace the additional step of filing a more complicated return and having the Comptroller's Office issue a tax declaration.

The new form is being made available in all county courthouses and through Texas attorneys.

A Class A beneficiary is defined as a person most closely related to the deceased person, including the surviving spouse, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, parents and grandparents of a deceased person are also included in the definition.

The new form is an effort to cut down on the amount of paperwork for small estates on which no Texas inheritance taxes are due and make our inheritance tax division a little more efficient and responsive at the same time,' Bullock said.

Estates which have a gross value of less than $200,000 are exempt by law from state inheritance taxes for Class A beneficiaries. Beginning September 1, 1982, this figure will be increased to $250,000, and to $300,000 on September 1, 1985.

Preliminary estimates show that nearly 80 percent of the more than 50,000 inheritance tax returns sent to the Comptroller's Office each year could be handled with the one-page declaration of no tax due.

Attendance At 'Texas' Up This Year

At the end of the second week, attendance at the musical drama, 'TEXAS' for the first two weeks was higher than in 1978. Triangles had been awarded to people for coming the greatest distance to see the show from Thailand, Japan, Singapore, India, Arabia, Austria and Kuwait.

Craig Skaggs, who has made many friends for 'TEXAS' with his genial program sales, brought a cake several feet square to the fourth of July show reading 'Happy Birthday America' and served it to staff and crew and visitors.

A doe and a fawn joined the cast on two occasions, ambling onto the grass between the stage and the cliff, and remaining for some time in the lights, watching the audience and the show.

One evening, the buggy horse slipped out of his harness and climbed up the cliff. And in all the excitement, the cast went its steady way, 'inviting you all to come to 'TEXAS'!

There have been no shortages of gasoline in the Texas Panhandle, and New Mexico just 100 miles away, is advertising that gas there is plentiful. For tickets write P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806 655 2181. It is well to make reservations in advance. A good selection of seats is available except for some Saturdays.

Rural Women New Labor Force?

COLLEGE STATION -- Rural women, roughly one-third of the female population, represent the greatest untapped labor force in America today, a study by a Texas A&M University sociologist shows.

Ms. Maret stresses that rural women represent a tremendous reserve of potential and, given the opportunities, could become a viable part of America's supply of labor.

LOOSE MARBLES

BY LISA PATMAN

We Americans are a puzzling group of people. As a rule we value anything old--old furniture, old coins, even old Avon bottles. People will fight for a rickety old table they wouldn't have paid three dollars for ten years ago. So what do we do when it comes to old people?

There are nice old people, full of years of accumulated wisdom, awash with useful experience, whom we consider boring, opinionated, useless individuals.

Just let Uncle Joe tell us how it used to be in the good old days. We'll dwell on the fact that he repeated himself, exaggerated, or forgot a fact or two. We'll sigh and give each other that here-he-goes-again look, and tolerate him as little as possible. We will wear an air of resigned martyrdom. But let old Uncle Joe spill his butter-milk on that prized antique table and it's heart attack time. Anger, outrage and hysteria raise their ugly heads, and Uncle Joe is banished to the Formica in the kitchen.

If Granddad speaks lovingly of his childhood, instead of being grateful for knowledge of our heritage, we feel put upon that we have to listen to the same story more than once.

Yet we will stand in line to see an exhibit of the funeral trappings of some long-ago Egyptian king, listen enthralled to the scandal of some long lost President, and sit through 'Gone With The Wind' eleven times without a murmur.

It's almost as if nothing could be more important than what is presently happening to us. If Grandma makes a mistake, we say she's getting senile. If we foul up and we're 'learning by experience.'

When Aunt Hildegarde falls in love after many years of being a widow, we say she's a foolish old woman. Yet when one of us falls in love it's the 'real thing' even if it does last only a few months.

Perhaps we should begin a plan to ration good sense, for as far as I can see, the oldsters have far more than they are entitled to. Most of the younger generation must have misused old when the knowledge of true values was handed out.

Let's begin a new campaign in our country--one with slogans like 'Old Age is Beautiful', 'Senility is A State of Mind', 'Young is Yucky', or 'Improve Your Mind, Adopt An Old Person'.

Maybe then we would begin to get on the right track.

July 15 Is Deadline For Filing Request

AUSTIN--Farmers who purchase interstate natural gas for agricultural purposes will not be eligible for priority use requirements unless they file a request with their local distributors by July 15, Texas Attorney General Mark White said Monday.

White said many High Plains farmers may not be aware that they need to request Priority 2 treatment by that date.

The Priority 2 classification entitles all essential agricultural users of natural gas purchased from interstate pipelines to 100 percent of their current requirements.

The new classification system is part of a natural gas curtailment plan adopted by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. The plan is scheduled to go into effect November 1.

White said that after users file their requests with their local distributors, the requests will be reviewed and forwarded to their interstate pipeline suppliers by July 30.

'THE DOG OF THE SOUTH' BY CHARLES PORTIS
Charles Portis, author of 'Norwood' and 'True Grit,' has come up with another tremendously interesting chronicle of Americans.

This exciting story of Ray Midge and his efforts to retrieve his car and other valuables, and the pursuit across Arkansas, Texas and Old Mexico, culminating in a hilarious and entertaining confrontation in Honduras, makes for top calibre reading enjoyment.

The hectic revolution of the plot around Midge, his runaway wife Norma, his stolen Ford Torino, and various and sundry other interesting characters make this book very desirable contemporary reading for anyone.

'The Dog of the South' is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

QUICK QUIZ

1. You can recognize a real diamond by (a) its pure white color, (b) its unequalled hardness, (c) its multi-faceted cut.
 2. You can recognize natural vitamin E by (a) a little "d" preceding its name, (b) its sunny yellow color, (c) the designation "derived from natural vegetable oils."

ANSWERS: 1. (b) A diamond is the hardest substance known. Thus, a diamond will scratch any other material, even other precious gems. (c) The way to be sure you're getting naturally derived vitamin E is to look for a little "d" on the label. In nature, vitamin E occurs only in the "d" form, so vitamin E derived from natural vegetable oils is called d-alpha-tocopherol. Synthetic vitamin E has a little "e" preceding its name.

Why don't Asiatics suffer this problem? Well, in some cases they do. But customs have caused them to strengthen these muscles just as a skier would develop his.

The American Chiropractic Association has a set of exercises which it recommends for improving the tone of the thigh muscles. It involves knee exercises:

DO YOUR KNEES CRACK WHEN YOU BEND DOWN?

Anyone that has ever visited an Asiatic country is amazed at the ability of the people to rest in a squatting position. It's not unusual at all to see even the aged sitting on the haunches of their legs, without any stress or strain... or cracking of their knees.
 On the other hand, picture this contrasting situation.
 You are at a party. While milling around and talking to friends you drop a cocktail napkin on the floor. There is chatter, but the room is relatively quiet until you bend down to do the polite thing and pick it up.

When you do so, your knees go c-r-u-n-k. Just loud enough to draw attention and embarrass you and your spouse.
 Does this scene sound familiar? If so, you are not alone, since many people experience cracking knee noises. Sometimes the knees are also swollen, causing additional concern.
 No doubt, you are interested in knowing what causes this problem. To understand it, you must understand the structure of the knee.
 The knee is a peculiar and complicated joint. Most joints have a complete slieve of ligamentous tissue surrounding them. Inside these capsules are the membranes responsible for the fluid within the joint which lubricates and absorbs shocks. But unlike other joints, the knee has only a partial capsule of ligament.

 The front of the knee has tendinous fibers in which the kneecap is imbedded, completing the capsule. The muscles on the front of the thigh are continuous with these tendinous fibers and are responsible for keeping them taut.
 Weakness of the muscles allows too much slack and too much fluid to gather. The result is a grinding or

Put Up Peaches In Freezer Jam

If making a homemade jam intrigues you, now is the time to discover how easy it is with a recipe for freezer Minted Peach Jam. The fruit is not cooked—just mixed with sugar, mint, lemon juice and powdered fruit pectin. It's the pectin that assures a good "set" and helps capture fresh fruit flavor. Put your blender to work chopping the peaches. Use plastic containers with tight-fitting lids to store and freeze the prepared jam, which stores well up to six months. Jam, either freshly made or thawed from the freezer, can be kept up to three weeks in the refrigerator.

MINTED PEACH JAM

2-1/4 cups prepared fruit (about 2 lb. fully ripe peaches)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon ascorbic acid crystals (optional)
5 cups (2-1/4 lb.) sugar
1 tablespoon chopped fresh mint
3/4 cup water
1 box Sure-Jell (1-3/4 oz.) fruit pectin

First prepare the containers. Use only containers 1 pint or less in size that have tight-fitting lids. Wash, scald and drain containers and lids, or use automatic dishwasher with really hot (150° or higher) rinse water.

Then prepare the fruit. Peel, pit and chop or grind very fine about 2 pounds peaches. Measure 2-1/4 cups into large bowl or pan. Add lemon juice and ascorbic acid.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit. Add mint and let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into the fruit. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into containers. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature until set (may take up to 24 hours); then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in refrigerator. Makes 5-3/4 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Blender method: Place fruit, a few pieces at a time, in electric blender container so blades are just covered. Cover and turn control from low to off several times until fruit is chopped or ground. (Do not puree.)

Note: Ascorbic acid helps maintain color and flavor of fruit; purchase at local drugstores.

"It's 2 A.M. and I feel rotten. Who has time to read medicine labels?"

Sorry, there is no excuse for not reading the medicine label. The label tells you what it's for, how much to take and how often to take it. It's important information. Before you take any medicine, read the label. Medicines can't help you if you don't take them right.
