When do you lose a game, but still win? When you play Wheeler, and play 'em off the field! The scrappy McLean Tigers, hampered by a cold drizzle, met the Wheeler Mustangs Friday night at McLean and managed to stay in the game with the former state champions.

For the last many years, Wheeler has beaten McLean by wide margins, so the McLean loss of 18-0 is really a victory for our boys.

If the Tigers continue to play with as much spirit as they have in the past few weeks, and if the team suffers no serious injuries, we should be right up there in the running for the district championship...and it's been a long time since we have had one of those.

When was the last one, Tiger fans? Has there been one since the 1968 season? Someone who played on the last championship team give us a call. If we don't hear from anyone, we'll go through the files and locate the last district champs.

Don't forget to follow the Tigers to Erick, Oklahoma Friday night for their next game. The next home game will be Oct. 10 against Memphis.

The last time I left town for a few days was June 24. That was also the last time McLean had a good rain! We went to Lubbock this weekend to see grandsons Chris and Jack play soccer, to visit daughter Jenny and her husband, and college daughter Sally, and to see the Tech-Baylor game.

It started raining here and in Lubbock Friday. Lubbock got about three inches of rain, while McLean just got about an inch and the rain continued through Saturday and Sunday. Both the soccer games were cancelled, and the slow, steady drizzle caused us to forfeit four tickets to the Tech game and sit at Jenny's house and listen to the game on the radio!

I guess the moral to the story is that I should leave town more often, so we will get rain.

SAFETY REMINDER: For every 10 degree dip in temperature, tire pressures drop about one pound. Check your tires.

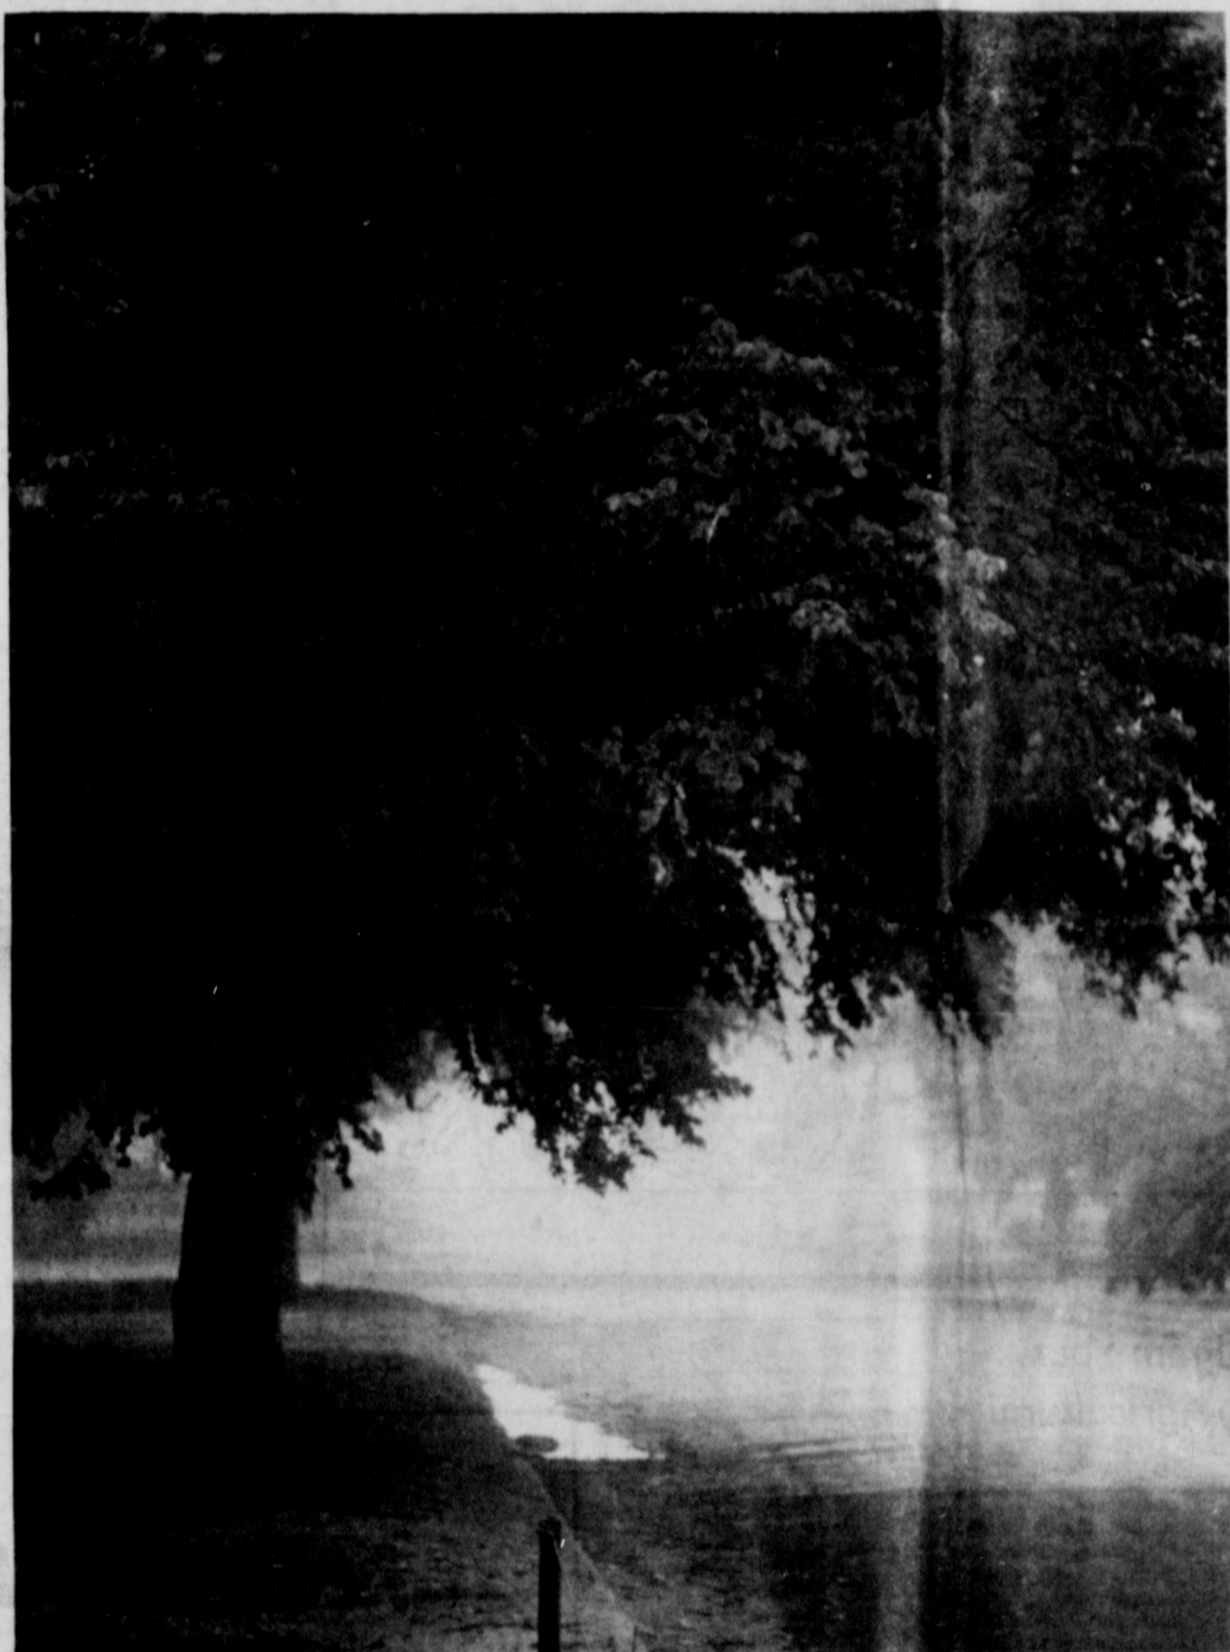

We saw Mr. and Mrs. Ken McGinty in a fast-food restaurant in Lubbock Saturday night. Ken taught agriculture in the McLean schools several years ago. He is farming and ranching near Plains now.

Mustangs Slip And Slide To Victory Over Tigers

By Lisa Patman
The Wheeler Mustangs may have had a stampede on their minds when they came to McLean Friday night, but McLean's fighting Tigers managed to keep their treks to the goal line down to three times during the muddy battle.

McLean, facing the 13th-ranked team among the state's Class 2A schools, was out-weighted and out-manned as they tried to control a slippery pigskin under soaking conditions. Wheeler, with 33 players on their lineup, averaged 156 pounds compared to McLean's 148 pound average on an 18 man squad.

McLean, receiving the ball on the first kickoff of the game, was able to move the ball only to its own 37 before punting to the Wheeler 19. On Wheeler's first possession Benny Baker took the ball on a 62-yard run before being stopped by Bill Skipper at the McLean 15. With the countdown reading 6:42 in the first quarter Ty Henderson's one-yard plunge gave the Mustangs their first touchdown of the game.

Theron Stubbs, barreling through the Mustangs line, successfully blocked the extra point kick attempt.

The Tigers, again unable to gain much yardage, had a bit of hope when Wheeler's Henderson, back for a pass, was sacked by Tim Killham, leaving the Mustangs at 3rd and 17, but Wheeler's Gallagher slipped around the McLean left side for a long run to the 50, where he was finally stopped by Dusty Sanders. McLean managed to push the herd back to the Wheeler 45 yard line before Mustang Benny Baker again set up a touchdown with a 51-yard carry to the McLean 4 where he was hit by Dudley Reynolds and Theron Stubbs. With only a little over a minute left in the quarter, and 2nd and goal to go, Baker carried the ball over the line to up the Mustang score to 12. The extra point run was stopped by the Tiger defense.

The second quarter saw a Tiger rally that kept the Mustangs corralled. After several punt exchanges, McLean's Billy Kincannon recovered a Wheeler fumble on the Mustang 33. However, an offside penalty against McLean apparently negated the recovery, and it was Wheeler's ball on their own 42, leaving it at 2nd and 5. Theron Stubbs' and Tim Smith's tackles, and a Dudley Reynolds quarterback sack forced the Mustangs to punt to the McLean 32 with 4:07 left in the half.

A Sanders' pass to Skipper was incomplete as the slippery ball went out of control, and McLean was forced to punt.

Brock Crockett, tipping out of reach a pass meant for Benny Baker, stymied another possible gain by the Mustangs at the 50-yard line.

With 52 seconds left in the half McLean was stunned by an injury to Tiger quarterback Dusty Sanders. A late tackle put Sanders in the hospital where he was treated for a concussion. He is not expected to return to the Tiger lineup this week.

The remainder of the first half was scoreless.

The second half started off with a bang as Dudley Reynolds' kickoff left the ball in Wheeler's end zone, bringing the Mustangs to 1st and 10 at their own 20. Benny Baker sparked in another long run, this time to the McLean 28. A Wheeler penalty left them with 1st and 15. A quarterback sack by Bill Hambright left the ball at 3rd and 18 on the McLean 36, where an incomplete screen pass forced the Mustangs to punt. McLean, unable to gain yardage, gave up the ball on the Wheeler 46, and the Mustangs began a drive to the McLean end of the field. With less than five minutes left in the third quarter a Baker run from the McLean 35 brought Wheeler another touchdown. Wheeler's conversion attempt failed, leaving the score reading Wheeler 18, McLean 0.

The rest of the game was scoreless, but not without excitement. Late in the third quarter Bobby Sprinkles halted Mustang progress when he batted away a fourth down pass intended for a Wheeler receiver.

Early in the fourth Brock Crockett and Tim Smith stopped a possible long yardage gain by Wheeler's Willie Valencia, while Tim Killham kept Benny Baker under control on several plays.

City Council Raises Employees' Pay

Following a lengthy discussion on employees' salaries, the McLean City Council tentatively approved a half million dollar plus budget at a special session of the council Monday afternoon. With anticipated revenue of $513,860 the bulk of the income for the city will come from the department collections, which includes an estimated income from sewer collections of $17,000, refuse collections $26,000, gas collections $350,000, water collections $50,000, sales tax collections $23,000, water and gas taps $750, and ad-valorem tax $20,000.

The commissioners discussed giving city employees a cost of living raise, and a motion by councilwoman Ruth Magee set the increase at 15 percent. "If we don't try to get our salaries competitive with other businesses, we're going to lose our employees," Mrs. Magee remarked.

"Any city employee could go to work for the county or for one of the construction crews in the area and make a lot more money," Mayor Sam Haynes said.

Councilman Boyd Meador questioned the availability of funds for the salary increase, but Councilman George Terry said, "If we don't pay decent salaries, the work won't get done and if the work doesn't get done, we won't have a city. It's a vicious circle, but we have to keep up with modern costs. We can't expect our employees to work for nothing."

The motion for the 15 percent raise was unanimously approved by the council.

Expenditures anticipated by the city include $323,154.62 for the gas department, $49,061.82 for the street department, $33,243.89 for the water department, and $22,767.72 for the city hall.

The entire budget was tentatively approved, pending the results of a public hearing scheduled for Oct. 14 during the regular city council session in the city hall.

Councilmen also read and approved ordinance #202 which sets the tax rate for the city at 64 cents per $100 evaluation, based on 60 percent assessment ratio. The tax rate for the city last year was $1.25 per $100 based on 33 1/2 percent evaluation.

Ordinance #200 which allows Sammons Communications to raise their rate for the cable television system in the city was read for the second time and approved.

City secretary Stella Lee explained to the council that she had received a letter from city attorney Don Lane stating that any surplus funds derived from the gas collections and other utilities could be used for any legal expenditure of the city. Council members discussed the fact that the payments on the bonds for the new gas system will be paid first out of revenues from gas collections.

"We hope to see not more than a two percent loss off gas when the new system is functional," Terry said.

"Once the pipes are repaired, we should see a little income from the gas system to help pay other expenses," Mrs. Magee stated.

City superintendent Bob Glenn said that the anticipated finishing date for the installation of the new system was October, but "I don't think it will be complete for another month or two," he told the council.

Mayor Haynes reported that the grass at the park had been fertilized by W.A. Bentlev and that the area already looked better.

Mrs. Magee asked if the insurance claims of Audry Howard and Clay Gabel against the city had been settled. Howard and Gabel put in claims totaling over $8000 against the city following a grass fire on their land. The fire was apparently caused by the city trash truck which had to dump a load of burning trash. Mrs. Lee reported that the insurance company had paid Howard $5600 for fences and surface damage, and Gabel $2,600 for damage to love grass.

Attending the afternoon session of the council were Mayor Haynes, councilmen Boyd Meador, George Terry, Ruth Magee, and Dale Glass; city secretary Stella Lee; city superintendent Bob Glenn, and school business manager Shirley Johnson.

Thomas Returns From Convention

Bill Thomas was one of nine delegates from Gray County who attended the state Democratic convention in Houston last weekend.

The main purpose of the convention, according to Thomas, was to elect a state chairman. Bob Slagle of El Paso was elected by the group. The delegates also elected Donna Forbes of Claude as state committeewoman, and Tom Tolette of Hereford as district 31st committeeman.

Rose Nelson of Pampa served as chairman of the delegation, in the absence of Sam Haynes who had been elected chairman earlier in the year. Haynes was unable to attend the meeting.

Thomas was accompanied to the convention in the Hoffman Pavilion in Houston by his wife Tina.

Nazi Disease Is Spreading Again!

The sickness that permeated Europe in the Twenties and Thirties and became a terminal disease in the Forties is apparently developing again. Headlines scream of neo-Nazi groups organized, officials believe, in Germany, Italy, Austria, Belgium, and Lebanon, who are once again stirring the masses against the Jews and other minorities.

Officials believe that a man named Karl-Heinz Hoffman, the leader of a neo-Nazi group, is responsible for the Octoberfest bombing last week which killed 12 people and injured 213.

In France, a neo-Nazi group called the National European Fascists, has claimed responsibility for the machine-gun spraying of two synagogues, a school, a day care center, and a monument to Holocaust victims, all Jewish institutions.

Some officials claim that Hoffman alone was responsible for the bombing of which he himself was a victim...a comforting thought. Would any official in Germany really want to admit that the Nazis were again an organized group, capable of such a thing? How much easier it is to claim that the terrorist attacks are the work of one crazy man.

History seems to be repeating itself, and if we ignore the lessons we learned last time dealing with Hitler and Mussolini, we may someday again face a world-wide conflict ignited by the insane philosophy of these monsters.

If you believe that this is a far-fetched idea, listen to the national news. At least two major candidates, running for national office in the United States, are self-proclaimed members of either the Klu Klux Klan or the American Nazi Party, twin sisters in insanity.

Will we sit and wait, as our fathers did forty years ago, until this sickness becomes a raging epidemic? Or will we do our best to stay informed, to fight prejudice in any form, to scrutinize the people running for public office, and to exercise our right to vote intelligently for leaders who will be aware of the menace from the new Nazis? Those are the only options that we have if we want to preserve sanity in our world.

Letters To The Editor

Today is our day for the McLean News. I can't tell you how much I'm enjoying it. You are a wonderful editor.

The last week's issue with the column on Opinions...I must tell you how beautifully you expressed my opinion also.

To me it is a disgrace to our judicial system, that criminals such as those have their convictions overturned. Seems they have to look hard to find a technicality to overturn these.

Congratulations to you for expressing it like it is. We need more people to tell it like it is.

Sincerely,
Betty Ince

SBA Announces Low Interest Loans

LUBBOCK-The Small Business Administration has made available low interest loans to help farmers and ranchers who suffered losses during the adverse weather of the early 1980 crop production year by declaring forty counties in West Texas and the Texas Panhandle as being eligible under SBA Declaration #1821. Filing deadline for physical losses under this declaration is October 22, 1980, and applications received after this date cannot be accepted. Agriculture-related businesses have until January 22, 1981 to file for Economic Injury Disaster Loans.

"Declaration #1900 was made to cover losses sustained to crops as the adverse weather continued and more counties were declared as disaster areas during 1980," stated Russell R. Berry, Lubbock District Director of the Small Business Administration.

'J.P. Doodles' joins our staff...

J. P. DOODLES

J.P. Doodles joins the McLean News as a new staff member this week. Doodles, a fictional justice of the peace (hence the title J.P.) who could be serving in any small town, is the creation of Barry McWilliams of Alder, Montana.

McWilliams, who was travelling to St. Louise last week to attend a national press convention, stopped in The McLean News office to introduce the staff to his creation.

McWilliams, 38, started drawing "J.P. Doodles" in October, 1978.

The humorous strip features plenty of editorial comment on everyday issues affecting the rural counties of America, McWilliams says. Recent topics have included weather problems, environmental issues, the energy crisis, sewers, school boards and predator control.

McWilliams said he selected Doodles as his main character because "I wanted someone who could be involved in a lot of different situations - someone who could reflect local thoughts."

Other recurring characters include a bureaucrat, farmer, rancher, logger, a gas jockey, and editor.

McWilliams derives his topics from news items, editorials and letters to the editor appearing in the newspapers that subscribe to the "J.P. Doodles" strip.

"I read the papers every week to see what's going on and then I draw accordingly," he said.

McWilliams, who considers himself an outdoorsman, works out of his studio in rural Alder, located in southwest Montana.

For the past 15 years, he has lived between New Mexico and Montana, working at various jobs such as teaching, training horses, driving truck and cooking. "When I draw a character, chances are I've had some of his experiences," McWilliams said.

"J.P. Doodles" originated at The Madisonian newspaper in Virginia City, Mont., where McWilliams worked for a year as advertising manager. He also worked at the Eagle (Colo.) Enterprise as an artist.

McWilliams has had no formal art education, but instead earned a bachelor's degree in English and a teaching credential at San Francisco State University.

He was born and raised in Southern California, but McWilliams was drawn to the Montana area because that's where his family originated.

In fact, McWilliams' late great uncle, who lived in Eureka, Mont., had a long, white beard, which was the inspiration for the white beard worn by J.P. Doodles himself.

Notes From Your County Agricultural Agent

by Joe Van Zandt

HOW PROFITABLE ARE STOCKER CATTLE:

For profitable stocker operations, producers must base management decisions on sound budgets. Variable costs generally run at about $400 a head for a 130-day grazing period on wheat, including the cost of a 400-pound steer. This would require a breakeven price of $75.56 per hundred pounds with a one-pound daily gain or $60.68 with a two-pound gain. As the rate of gain increases, the breakeven price drops. Producers can boost the rate of gain or the stocking rate through a supplemental feed program.

HIGH COSTS VS. HIGH CALF PRICES:

Even with recent high calf prices in the 80 to 90 cents a pound rate, cattlemen are barely breaking even due to rapidly increasing production costs. A recent USDA report shows production costs per cow totaled $295.25 in 1978; $371.73 in 1979; and are projected at $420.64 in 1980. Cost per feed calf sold was $67.32 per hundred weight in 1978; $75.67 in 1979; and is projected at $86.75 in 1980.

DRIED FLOWERS FOR LASTING BEAUTY:

One of the nice things about late summer is the vast array of colorful flowers and native plants that adorn our landscapes. These same plants can also be used to brighten the inside of our homes year-round. How? By making permanent dried arrangements.

For hundreds of years, gardeners have preserved flowers by drying. The so-called everlasting types like strawflower have been most popular, but there are many other annual flowers which can be used.

Summer annuals which are excellent for drying include marigolds, salvia, cosmos, zinnias, coreopsis, and gloriosa daisies. Ageratum, dahlias, calendula, chrysanthemums, dianthus, asters, and daisies also make fine dried specimens.

Native flowers and grasses also reach their peak in the late summer, with many drying naturally or producing interesting seed heads. Cattails, dock, oats and the numerous dried grasses make delightful winter bouquets.

Drying flowers is such a rewarding experience because it is easy to do, flowers usually dry remarkably well, and last for many years. Flowers can be preserved in several different ways, by hanging, pressing, or with various drying agents.

HANGING: Air-drying or hanging is the easiest and best method for preserving many flowers. As a general rule, flowers need only to have the leaves removed and to be hung upside down in a warm, dry, dark place until the moisture content is evaporated. An attic, closet or pantry is a good place to hang flowers for drying.

PRESSING: Easy and quick, though the contour is lost and the flowers are flat. For pressing, use unglazed paper, such as newsprint or an old telephone book. Place the flowers so that they do not overlap between several thicknesses of the paper. Weigh down with a heavy object. The time required for drying can be anywhere from two to four weeks.

DRYING AGENTS: Flowers can be dried by burying them in materials such as sand and borax or corn meal and borax. These materials are successful for certain flowers, but undependable for others. More recently, a drying agent called silica gel has been used. This compound has the capacity to absorb large quantities of moisture and can quickly dehydrate cut flowers. Flowers, minus leaves are buried in the gel in a closed container and left for about a week. Silica gel can be used over and over by re-drying the gel in a warm oven. Silica gel can be found in most garden centers, nurseries, florist shops, and hobby shops.

Whichever method you choose, the use of dried flowers for "permanent" arrangements can be colorful and rewarding and surprisingly inexpensive.

After you've dried your flowers, put a two to four inch section of #2 florist's wire through each flower's head, securing the wire by bending it into a hook at the flower-head end. This short wire can then be attached to longer wire which becomes the stem. The final step is to wrap all wire with green floral tape and make your arrangement.

WINDBREAK SEEDLINGS:

We have just received a supply of order forms for windbreak seedlings available from the Texas Forrest Service at Lubbock.

These seedlings are sold on first come basis and if you want any, order immediately. Bare root hardwoods are priced at $20 per hundred while containerized conifers are priced at $30 per thirty. These seedlings are for windbreak purposes and are not for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Call or come by the County Extension Office for an order form. Hardwoods available are: Honeylocust, Mulberry, native Plum, Russian Olive, and Sawtooth Oak. Conifers available are: Austrian pine, Ponderosa Pine and Red Cedar.

THE BOYS FROM BRAZIL

By Ira Levin

The father of "Rosemary's Baby" Ira Levin, has come through with a magnificent and perhaps all too possible story of intrigue and death in this spine-tingling account of the plot to eliminate ninety-four men by assassination.

Former Nazi SS men and their leader, who was the most wanted war criminal left alive, pursue their warped plan to again thrust on the world the influence and genius of the long dead Adolph Hitler.

The diabolical plan put into action by these men and the attempt of Nazi hunter Yakov Lieberman to stop them makes for interesting and thought-provoking reading by all who remember the concern of the world during Germany's days of attempting to conquer the entire world.

Recently seen on television, "The Boys From Brazil" will be even more thrilling as you follow the nightmarish plot from the start to the bone-chilling outcome.

Ira Levin has produced perhaps his best effort in this volume, and we can guarantee you will be unavoidably drawn into the drama by the unusual set of circumstances in the story and the excellent way it is presented.

"The Boys From Brazil" is now available at Lovett Memorial Library.

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.)—A note of nostalgia will be struck in 1981 at The University of Texas.

Eleven bronze bells, which chimed atop the tower of the Old Main Building from 1930 to 1934, will be refurbished and reinstalled in a new setting on the east side of the campus. Supporting the bells, which weigh from 29 to 560 pounds, will be six pylons.

Cast in France, the bells were given to the University in 1929 by Albert Sidney Burleson, an 1884 UT law graduate who later became a U.S. Postmaster General.

Nurse conditions said undesirable

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Texas nurses leave or stay out of the nursing workforce because of undesirable working conditions, a University of Texas study reports.

That was the major finding of a survey conducted by UT Austin's School of Nursing. Dean Billye Brown says even though some hospital beds are closed because too few nurses are available to staff them, there are 18,000 registered nurses licensed to practice in Texas who are not working in nursing.

Job dissatisfactions in nursing range from lack of administrative support by hospital and nursing service administrators to inflexibility of working hours, the study shows.

energy answers

from the Texas Energy Extension Service

Can you give me some idea of the cost of a domestic solar water heater? T. R., Victoria.

It is difficult to estimate the exact cost of a domestic solar water heater since it varies according to system size (depending on the number of people using it), materials used, labor for installation, and federal tax credit value. The initial costs are much higher than for a conventional water heating system alone.

Costs for an average solar water heating system for a typical family could range anywhere from $1200 to $2500. In warm climate areas where freeze protection is not so critical, costs are considerably reduced.

Information on costs and other aspects of solar water heating is available in a publication titled "Solar Water Heaters — Consumer Tips and Information." The publication is available free upon request from the Texas Energy Extension Service offices. The supply of these publications is very limited, and they will be available on a first request basis.

Can you tell me how many BTU's of solar energy can be collected in the winter in Jackson county? C. W., Lolita.

The following is solar data for Corpus Christi and Houston which should be reasonably applicable to the Jackson County area. The figures represent the total hemispherical mean daily radiation given in BTU's per square foot for a horizontal surface. These figures are for "typical" years and are lower than figures provided by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) which are synthetic figures based on calculations.

Corpus Christi

January	898.1
February	1147.4
March	1429.9
April	1642.4
October	1416.3
November	1042.7
December	849.7

Houston

January	772.4
February	1034.2
March	1297.4
April	1522.3
October	1275.6
November	924.0
December	729.6

BTU's per square foot per day which are incident on a surface tilted up at 35 degrees and pointed south would be as follows:

Corpus Christi

January	1274
February	1405
March	1519
April	1491
October	1737
November	1469
December	1271

Houston

January	1024
February	1266
March	1379
April	1382
October	1564
November	1302
December	1091

It is important to be aware that you can only expect to utilize 40 to 50 percent of this heat in any solar collector system.

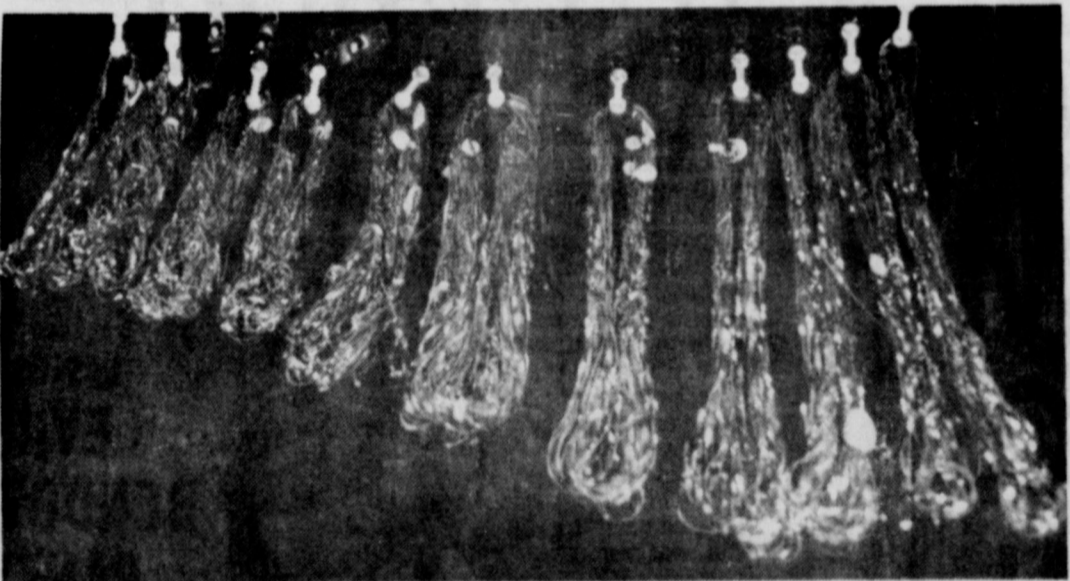

If you have a question about energy conservation around the home, send it to ENERGY ANSWERS, Texas Energy Extension Service, Center for Energy and Mineral Resources, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

ACTIVITIES

Mr. J.A. Meador remains in the McLean General Hospital. We certainly miss him and hope he'll be back with us soon.

People are wonderful! There are so many to thank that we hardly know where to start. If we fail to thank someone, please forgive us. So many supplies have been brought in and left without our knowing who they came from.

Thanks so much to the Swap-a-Hobby Club for the enormous amount of supplies to make our dolls and crochet work.

Virginia Tate has been popping in almost every day with something else for us. Marie Immel came with supplies from Dumas.

Jerry Corbin brought some fabrics, dropped them by, and then stayed to help cut quilt squares for us.

We appreciate the interest people are showing in our projects. We still need large tang or instant tea jars, glass cereal bowls and saucers, small decals, and flower candle rings.

The Baptist Church was here Sunday to conduct services for our residents.

Monday was Bingo day, and as usual the Senior Citizens were here to play with the residents.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary were here Tuesday to help the ladies piece quilts.

Bible study was conducted Wednesday by members of the Baptist Church.

Thursday the Baptist Church conducted a sing-a-long.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary were here again on Friday to piece quilts with our ladies.

Martha Parker was here Friday to show movies to the residents.

Frances Kennedy brought homemade cookies to the residents last week. Thank you, Frances!

It's True.

"We put the heat pump in our home based on the recommendation from a builder. He said, 'by having a heat pump, you will save money over a long period of time on heating and cooling costs.' And, he was right! We are saving money with a heat pump. The heat pump really does do an efficient job of heating and cooling the home. If we were doing it all over, we would put a heat pump in again based on the results we've seen with lower electric bills. We are extremely pleased with the way the heat pump has performed."

Q: My aunt has been sending store coupons to a non-profit organization in California that aids senior citizens. Is it against the law to send or use coupons in this manner?

A: If the non-profit organization is, in fact, distributing the store coupons to assist senior citizens' purchase of food or other items, without charging for the coupons, the practice is not fraudulent. To avoid fraud, the organization must disclose whether another "use" is being made of the coupons or whether a charge is imposed. Also, some coupons may require the purchase of other items to receive the coupon value, and some states prohibit this. However, on the facts you presented, your aunt is probably not participating in an illegal system.

Q: I signed a one-year lease on the apartment I rent. Now, six months later, the landlord has decided to sell his apartment. He demanded I leave now so he can make repairs before he sells. Can he force me to get out? I thought we had a one-year deal.

A: Your landlord may sell the apartment complex in which you rent. The new owner of the complex, however, will be bound by the lease you signed with your landlord. Read your lease to see whether the landlord reserved the right to evict you under certain circumstances. In the meantime, be sure you are in strict compliance with the lease, and be ready to move out at the end of the year.

Q: After 14 months we moved out of a house we were renting. We notified the owners well in advance and we left the house in good condition. Now we've been told that there were some small repairs and that the house would be painted in preparation for sale. They said, "we might" get some of our money back. We were responsible only for any damages beyond normal wear and tear, but what is the interpretation of "wear and tear?"

A: The landlord may not use your security deposit to do all pre-sale repairs. Texas law does not allow security deposits to be withheld for normal wear and tear. That phrase has not been precisely defined and the courts must interpret when landlord and tenant cannot agree. Justices of the Peace typically hear these smaller lawsuits.

Q: My ex-husband has taken my son and refuses to return him. I know the child is also his, but in our divorce, I received total custody rights. I don't want my son to live with him. Can he be arrested for kidnapping his own son?

A: When a child has been taken from the managing conservator—that is, the person given custody of the child in the decree of divorce, the proper remedy is a writ of habeas corpus. If the other parent does not comply with the order of the court resulting from the habeas corpus proceeding, he may be sent to jail for contempt of court. If the child is taken out of state in violation of a court's custody order, the individual may be guilty of a third degree felony.

Loose Marbles

by Lisa Patman

Last week I got a letter addressed "Dear Gentlebeing". I loved it. After a decade of trying to decide whether to say Chairperson, Chairmadam, or Chairwhatever, somebody has finally hit on a title with just the right ring to it...gentlebeing.

It has so many possibilities-- Dear Gentlebeing. Please make a payment on your loan. You are 90 days overdue. How can I refuse-gentlebeing that I am.

Or how about Dear Gentlebeing, I'm sorry to inform you that while you were on vacation I accidentally broke that large plate glass window that you liked so much. In addition, Gentlebeing, my dog wandered in through the broken window and, after eating all your houseplants, got extremely sick on your new beige carpet that you recently purchased now that your children are all grown up and gone from home. Please forgive us, our dog, and your daughter who recently called to say she is pregnant with twins and is coming back home to live because she hates that beast she has lived in sin with for the past few years. Love, a Secret Admirer.

Now you tell me how a truly gentle being could get upset over that.

Somehow I can't see gentlebeings involved in anything really frightening, like war, death, famine, pestilence, or politics. I can't imagine a gentlebeing beating up on another gentlebeing, becoming an unruly drunk, or a hating gossip. I don't think there would be a song called "You picked a fine time to leave me, Gentlebeing."

And think how a pink slip in your pay envelope could change. Instead of "You're fired, you good for nothing goof-off" you could read "Dear Gentlebeing, you are one of the slowest gentlebeings I have ever had the privilege to employ. We have decided it is time to share your exceptional abilities with someone else. You may seek employment elsewhere. Love, Gentleboss." That almost makes rejection something to look forward to.

I know that this "Gentle" business works, because we've been trying it at our house. Just this morning I found a note on the refrigerator that said "Dear Gentlewife, if you don't cook us a hot meal this month I am going to see a Gentlelawyer to get a Gentledivorce. You will never see gentle me, your gentlechildren, the gentlecats, or the gentlepsychic again. Shape up, Gentlelob, or ship out. Your Gentlehusband. What's His Name."

I think being a gentleperson is going to make a real difference, don't you?

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health Robert Bernstein, M.D., Commissioner

You can roll it around in your hand like a small marble, use it to turn a dime into a shiny coin, and you can watch it disappear into cracks and crevices—and carpets—if you spill it. It can also poison you and your family through the release of vapors, says the Texas Department of Health.

This substance is mercury, or "quick silver," an amazing liquid metal which fascinates students in science classes and can lead to health-threatening ailments.

Poisoning by mercury vapor, which has no odor or other warning properties, has become a publicized occurrence in several Texas cities and towns this year—places like Austin, Baytown, Cockrell Hill, Dallas, Freeport, Jefferson and Waskom.

It gained its first notoriety in Jefferson, when an entire family became sick after moving into a newly-purchased home. Although pesticide poisoning was suspected—the home had been sprayed before the new owners moved in—an investigation proved otherwise. An alert investigation, however, indicated an evidence of a mercury spill in a bedroom to unravel the mystery of the family illness.

Extensive environmental tests by TDH personnel of Public Health Region 7 showed extremely high levels of mercury in the air. Subsequent investigations led to the discovery of other homes with mercury contamination. Charles H. (Chuck) Wentworth, a Region 7 engineer, supervised the cleanup of mercury in the homes. The contaminated carpet and pad in the first home were removed and buried.

The summer investigations have shown that mercury spills in homes are a significant health hazard, says Jerry Lauderdale, administrator of the Occupational Health Branch of the TDH Division of Occupational Health and Radiation Control.

In the first case in Jefferson, said Lauderdale, family members began having nausea and stomach cramps. Medication for a "virus" failed to help, and poisoning from the treacherous mercury vapor continued to exact its toll. Finally, after three months of intermittent and progressively worsening symptoms, the family moved out of its new home.

Public health officials tested for several possible toxic substances.

McLean Cubs Take First Win Of The Season At Silverton Thursday

The McLean Cubs picked up their first victory of the season Thursday when they travelled to Silverton to meet that team for the second time this season. McLean came out ahead this time with a score of 14 to 6. In the first meeting between the two teams, last week in McLean, Silverton won 14-0.

The first half ended without either team scoring, but with 4:10 left in the third quarter, Russell Littlefield broke loose for 81 yards and scored the first touchdown of the game. Bill Billingsley ran for the two-point conversion to make the score 8 to 0.

A few plays later, with 1:14 left in the third quarter, Littlefield again broke through, this time travelling for 30 yards for the second touchdown of the night. The two-point conversion try by Billingsley failed, and the Cubs led 14 to 0.

In the fourth quarter with 4:17 left on the clock, Silverton scored on a 58-yard reverse. Their try for a two point conversion failed, and McLean led 14-6.

But with two minutes left in the ball game, Silverton's team had a first down on McLean's 3-yard line. The Cubs made an outstanding goal line stand, according to Coach Jack Riley, and kept the home team from scoring.

The defense played an excellent game, Riley said. The Cubs will meet Miami at McLean Thursday (tonight) at 6:30 p.m.

JV Tigers Lose To Panhandle 34-0 In Third Game

The McLean Junior Varsity Tigers travelled to Panhandle Thursday night to face the Panhandle JV, and failed to score against the 2-A team. The game ended with Panhandle on the winning end 34-0.

Coach Jerry Cook said that McLean boys played an excellent second half, holding Panhandle scoreless the last 17 minutes of play.

"The purpose for a junior varsity is for the kids to get playing experience," Coach Cook said, "and they're sure getting that. We're not too disturbed about the losing score because every school we've played so far has been either AA or AAA, and we're playing mostly freshman, while those teams are playing older kids."

The junior varsity boys will travel to AAA River Road Thursday night with game time scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

Coach Jerry Cook said that McLean boys played an excellent second half, holding Panhandle scoreless the last 17 minutes of play.

I interviewed two women—a 19 year old, a lady in her 40's and myself this week.

Q. From the field of presidential candidates, who do you think would make the best president?

19—Oh gosh, I would vote for Carter. Oh my gosh, I don't know but I like him. No president could do a perfect job. You just can't expect that from one man. It is a hard job. I don't want to cut him down.

40—I would vote for Reagan. He seems to be the only one intelligent enough to do it. Maybe he could cut taxes and not destroy us in the process. I do think our military needs to be built up.

Me—I just can't make a choice yet. I wish my husband was running. I think we could use an old farmer as president—someone with good old horse sense.

Q. How do you feel about the state of the economy?

19—in a mess. Prices are too high.

40—Stinks!

Me—I get to wondering if we aren't all used to too many of the good things. Maybe we expect too much.

Q. Does it affect you personally?

19—NOT ME!

40—Yes. What you have to sell does not bring in enough for what you have to buy.

Me—I guess so, I always seem to live in a time when the houses I like are $20,000 higher than I can afford.

Q. How do you feel about bringing children into today's world?

19—It's harder. Everybody should think about it pretty seriously before they have children. I don't want to have any children.

40—Unless a lot of things change they don't have a prayer.

Me—I would still have children. If I had it to do over I would have 6. Little kids are the real thing any of us will ever know.

Me—Mixed emotions. I love my work. Other women love theirs but a little voice inside my head reminds me of all the children in our country being raised by babysitters and all the school kids coming home to empty houses in the afternoon.

Q. Do you feel that problems with drugs are better, worse or the same in McLean compared to 5 years ago?

19—Better with the kids. Worse with adults—harder drugs being used including heroin.

40—I get the feeling that people have accepted it more and don't make such a big issue of it.

Me—I don't know.

Q. What in your opinion is the most important thing that could be done to make McLean a better place to live?

19—Something constructive for kids to do, a place to go have fun and stay out of trouble—skating, bowling, a pizza place or a theater.

40—More communication, less nitpicking.

Me—I think McLean is a very pretty, very nice town with a lot of wonderful people. I would like to see the downtown area buildings painted and fixed up.

In the early eighteenth century, France became the first country to forbid barbers to perform surgery.

When the Arabs conquered Alexandria, they are said to have burned the 700,000 books in the library to keep up the fires in the city's 4,000 public baths.

IT'S YOUR HEALTH

Many homeowners this winter will be taking a bite out of inflation by cutting their own firewood with chain saws. Unfortunately, many Texans will be injured by these potentially dangerous tools. The following column from the Texas Department of Health contains some valuable safety tips on using chain saws safely.

QUESTION: What safety precautions should a homeowner follow when using a chain saw?

ANSWER: Be aware of the downward or outward path the saw will take after the wood is cut. Keep your legs out of this path. Never attempt to start your saw on your knee. Take your hand off the trigger between cuts. Start all cuts at top speed (full throttle) and continue to cut at top speed.

Let the saw do the work. Don't try to force it through the cut. Also, before making any adjustments or repairs, turn off the saw and be sure the chain has stopped moving.

QUESTION: What is the most serious type of injury suffered from chain saws?

ANSWER: In 1979 about 24,000 serious injuries resulted from "kickback" alone. Kickback is the sudden swift movement of the turning saw blade toward the user. Kickback can happen when the saw chain around the tip of the guide bar strikes an object. It can occur when wood being cut closes in and pinches the saw chain in the cut.

QUESTION: What particular safety features should you look for when buying a chain saw?

ANSWER: Check for a safety tip, which covers the chain as it passes around the nose of the guide bar. The safety tip reduces the chance of kickback by keeping the chain from contacting anything at the tip of the guide bar.

A chain brake is also a sensible idea because it's designed to stop the chain in a fraction of a second if kickback occurs. Special saw chains and guide bars are also designed to reduce injury caused by kickback.
