Dimmitt Man Endorsed For Natl. Commander

The recent American Legion 18th District convention delegates who assembled here on March 27, 1977, unanimously endorsed Jack J. Flynt of Dimmitt, a member of Greer H. Post 445, for the office of National Commander of The American Legion, according to Francis Wilhelm, Commander.

In accepting the endorsement, Flynt stated, "It was the highest honor to be followed by fellow 18th District legionnaires could bestow upon me and will be the start of a long road over several years of hard campaigning throughout the fifty states. But, to be a candidate for National Commander of the world's largest veterans organization could be termed only a dream a few years ago."

Flynt, a businessman, charter Life Underwriter, farmer and rancher, is well known in legion circles nationally. He has served as an officer in his Post, District, Division and as Texas State Commander in 1966-67. On the National level he has served Texas as its National Executive Committee member for four years and was elected National Vice Commander of The American Legion in 1974. He is presently serving as a member of the National Americanism Commission.

As Chairman of the Department Convention City Commission, Flynt was very instrumental in bringing the State American Legion Convention to Amarillo, July 15-17, 1977.

He is married to the former Mary Finley of Happy, Texas and has three children, two daughters and a son, Jack W. Flynt, II, who is serving as a pilot in the United States Air Force.

Farmers-Ranchers Insurance To Drop

Fire and other property insurance coverage for farm and ranch buildings will generally decrease in cost beginning this summer, State Board of Insurance Chairman Joe Christie announced.

The Board's new property insurance rates, which will take effect July 1, will cut rates paid by farmers and ranchers for fire insurance by 17.5 percent and rates for extended coverage insurance by amounts ranging from 8.4 percent to 12.3 percent.

Farm and Ranch owners' insurance, which provides a package of coverage including fire, extended coverage, personal liability, medical payments and theft, will cost 1 percent more in some areas of the state and will be reduced up to 3.5 percent in other areas.

"This is the first overall decrease in property insurance rates in more than six years," Christie said.

"It has taken us that long to shake off the disastrous effects of Hurricane Celia in 1970. Now that those losses have been absorbed, it is time to give the insurance-buying public in Texas the benefits of the insurance companies' recovery," Christie said.

Visiting in the May Chilton home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Chilton of Hale Center, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sears and Josh, also of Hale Center, LaJune Blackshear and Debbie Henning and Allysia, all of Albuquerque.

Estimated IRS Tax Payment Due

Individuals who do not have enough taxes withheld are required to pay their first installment of estimated 1977 Federal income taxes no later than Friday, April 15, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Many taxpayers realize that they meet the requirement for filing a tax declaration at this time of year, according to the IRS. Generally, when taxpayers will owe the IRS more than $100 not covered by withholding, they should file a declaration of estimated tax. A Form 1040-ES voucher must accompany the first installment.

Taxpayers who filed a declaration of estimated tax last year should have received an estimated tax package in the mail, can obtain it from a local IRS office.

IRS Publication 515, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," is available free from the IRS and provides more details on the payment of estimated tax.

Alfalfa producers who have not already applied a phosphorus fertilizer, should do so real soon. Alfalfa is a heavy user of phosphorus and needs around 75 to 100 pounds of P2O5 annually to produce 6 to 8 tons of alfalfa per year. Phosphorus should be applied in the spring before the first irrigation as a top dress. To supply the annual phosphorus needs would require application of approximately 200 pounds of a material such as 0-46-0.

One of the subjects discussed last week in our Landscape Horticulture Short Course was zoysia grass. I have had quite a few inquiries about this turf grass this spring.

Dr. Richard Duble, Extension turfgrass specialist, stated that for this area it probably won't live up to all of the characteristics advertised.

Zoysia is a very slow grower and will probably require two or more growing seasons to form a turf cover, even when planted on six inch centers rather than the 12 inch planting advertised. This makes it rather expensive and will require a lot of care to prevent invasion of other grasses and weeds during the period of establishment.

It does have some good characteristics, including drought tolerance, likes sunny locations, withstands wear and tear during summer and tolerates close mowing.

Rose pruning time is here. Heavy pruning of hybrid tea roses makes them more manageable and also large, quality blooms are encouraged.

A good set of hand shears, a sharp pruning saw, a pair of long-handled loppers, pruning paint and a pair of heavy leather gloves are essential tools when pruning old, well-established rose bushes. To begin with, the gloves will protect the hands from the sharp woody thorns. The saw is the only way to remove heavy basal canes over two years old while the loppers should be used on large canes of the past season. The shears are for smaller branches. Cover all cuts and ends of canes with the pruning paint to prevent entry of diseases, and insects.

As far as the actual pruning process is concerned cut back the top growth to 12 to 15 inches above the ground. Retain four to six of the healthy canes arising from the fraud or bud union or those within four to six inches above the union. Also remove all dead, diseased and injured twigs and branches as well as all of the thin spindly growth frequently found at the base of old established plants.

WINDMILLS FOR THE FUTURE—They may trigger memories of the past, but windmills are being considered as a source of power for the future, too. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White points out that harnessing wind power could supply the energy for such agricultural needs as pumping irrigation water and heating and cooling.

Since most climbing roses produce a great abundance of flowers in early spring, these should receive their major pruning after the spring flush of blooms. On healthy, vigorous climbers, any cane over two years old should be removed or cut back severely. Thin last season's growth at least one-half and cut back to within several feet of the base to encourage new growth.

Roses will usually start growing within two to three weeks after pruning. Three or four properly cared for rose bushes will provide all the cut flowers needed in the average home.

Determine the size of your rose bed by the time you can devote to their care -- and not by the space available.

Should I prune my grapevine? Yes, grapes are vigorous growers and produce fruit from buds occurring on one-year old or last year's growth. If not pruned yearly, a grape can grow itself out of production.

When pruning of your grape is started, it needs to be done every year so adequate amounts of one-year old fruiting canes are removed so quality grapes can be produced. Otherwise, too many small grapes will be produced and the vine will be weakened.

To properly prune grapes, it is necessary to remove all canes that had fruit last year. These canes can be recognized by the presence of rough bark in some instances. Additional information and a line drawing is available at the County Extension Office. Remember, because of the vigorous growth habit, severe pruning is necessary and approximately 90 percent of the entire vine must be removed yearly. We re-

Windmills May Help Solve Energy Problems of Future

AUSTIN—Windmills, a thing of the past, hold promise for the future, said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Windmills are still in use today -- there are approximately 175,000 scattered throughout the U.S., with a good number of them in Texas.

But increasingly, scientists are looking to sophisticated counterparts of windmills as a source of alternative power to take the place of fossil fuels.

Many scientific agencies are turning to wind power research, with the federal government funding nearly 50 such projects. Scientists are now working to solve such problems as the high cost of installing equipment, energy storage, and energy conversion systems.

White notes that National Weather Service data indicates that many parts of Texas have a high wind energy potential.

In fact, one study will determine the feasibility of using wind power to pump irrigation water on the High Plains.

"Yet another relic of Texas' agricultural past has been salvaged," White commented. "It looks like windmills may make a valuable contribution toward solving a very real problem of the future."

commend that only four one year old fruiting canes and renewal spurs of two buds each at their base be left after pruning a grape vine.

From the Panhandle vegetable gardening calendar now is the time to plant cold tolerant, early sweet corn when soil temperature rises to 50 degrees F at the six inch depth. Be sure and follow label directions. This material cannot be used around roots of living plants and at least a 14 day waiting period is required before planting.

Also, you could have already planted by the direct seed method beets, chard, spinach, parsley, turnips, mustard, collards, lettuce, and radishes when soil temperature rose to 45 degrees F.

Drownings in Texas Take 498 Lives in '76

Water-related accidents in Texas accounted for 498 drownings in 1976, according to information compiled by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A non-swimmer who went swimming was the most likely to drown. Of the 180 swimming-related drownings, a high percentage were non-swimmers.

People who waded into deep water accounted for 21 deaths.

Swimming pools claimed 31 victims. Most were children under five years of age who fell into the water when no one was around.

Small children accounted for a high number of drowning deaths around the home. More than 15 children under two years of age drowned in bathtubs.

Recreational boating accounted for 17 drownings. Many of the 61 fishing-related drownings involved boats, and 31 people working on tugboats, shrimp boats or other workboats drowned while at work. Life preservers would have prevented many of these accidents.

GIs To Receive Insurance Dividend

Approximately $180 million in GI insurance cash dividends will be paid to veterans within the next two weeks as part of President Carter's program to help stimulate the national economy.

This was reported by Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Director, who said the President had authorized acceleration of the dividend payments, which will speed early checks to 2.1 million veterans.

The dividends normally would have been paid on policy anniversary dates throughout the remainder of 1977.

The flow of dividends to veterans of both world wars and the Korean Conflict who hold government insurance policies is expected to be completed by April 8 through a coordinated effort by VA and the Department of the Treasury, Coker said.

The first acceleration of GI insurance dividend payments as an aid to the economy was ordered by President Kennedy in 1961. Including the stepped up payments ordered, the dividend payment process has been accelerated eight times in the last 16 years.

Be On Guard Against Tetanus

With the advent of the spring season of 1977 most of us are beginning to get out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores of all sorts that have accumulated during the winter.

With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most often these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

The American Medical Association cautions that sometimes these scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you could get tetanus, commonly called lockjaw.

Tetanus - producing spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden, the dirt of your garage. These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound -- a pin scratch, a bee sting or a small cut.

Tetanus spores may remain in your body for long periods without producing the disease. Or, they may produce poison effects in five to fourteen days, even though the wound has healed.

First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness. Muscles rapidly become rigid, eventually causing a clenched-jaw leer that gives tetanus the popular name of lockjaw.

When symptoms appear, the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the deadly consequences, be sure you and your family are immunized with tetanus toxoid. When you are immunized, your body manufactures antibodies that will fight tetanus. A booster is needed every ten years.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there is no time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your physician may inject tetanus antitoxin. An emergency shot, however, is not always effective.

Your only long-range guarantee against tetanus is immunization with tetanus toxoid. Only one of every four Americans

Over the years, America's health services delivery system has grown from the days of individual private physicians working alone in their own communities, to the present complex, interdependent network of physicians, clinics, laboratories, hospitals, emergency medical systems, and public health agencies. Not too many years ago, the only contact most people had with the health system began when they became ill, and ended with a visit to their family doctor. Now, at least in the larger metropolitan areas, people can choose from an array of private, public, and semi-public health services, not only to treat illness but to prevent it.

The system, however, has grown with virtually no coordination or planning. Thus some areas have more services than the public can effectively use, while other areas -- especially rural areas -- still lack even the barest minimum.

The National Health Planning and Resource Development Act of 1974 is intended to overcome some of these problems by providing for a degree of coherent direction. In 1975, the Texas Legislature designated the Texas Department of Health Resources as the State's health planning and resource development agency.

Robert O. Humble, Director of the Division of Health Planning, explains that the State Agency will operate primarily as a coordinating body for a network of 17 Health Systems Agencies. He says, "The Health Systems Agency is intended to provide health planning and resource development at the local level. These agencies will be responsible for developing plans for improving the health of residents of their areas, and they will be responsible for implementing these plans."

Humble says that each Health Systems Agency, or HSA, will draft a two-stage plan. "The health systems plan will be a long-range, goals-type plan, and it will consider elements for as far as five to ten years in the future. There also will be an annual implementation plan, which will be the means by which the HSA will carry out the long-range goals." Implementation, as Humble explains it, does not mean that the HSA's will actually provide the services which they determine are needed. Humble says, "The health providers, the health resources, the institutions in the area will be responsible for actually providing the services. The HSA will not be allowed to provide funds for direct services; in other words, they won't be able to pay for the care of patients, but rather, for the planning and development of the institutions or services that are required in their area."

Each of the Health Systems Agencies will serve a specific geographic area. There are twelve HSA's for the entire State. Since each agency covers a large territory, and because of sparse populations in some areas of the State, there is wide variation in the number of people that each HSA serves. Humble says, "The HSA's range, in terms of population, from less than 300,000 all the way up to almost 3 million."

This concept supports and complements the Department's development of ten Public Health Regions, which has been in process since 1970, and is predicted upon the same reasoning.

All of the HSA's are organized along similar lines; several have been established by the existing Councils of Government. Each HSA has a governing body, or board of directors, and a professional staff. According to Humble, guidelines have been developed to ensure that the governing bodies include broad community representation. He explains, "The governing body will be comprised of at least 51 percent, but not more than 60 percent, consumers of health care. Of this body, one-third can be elected local public officials."

The remaining members of the governing body--anywhere from 40 to 49 percent of the membership--will consist of providers of health care. These members typically would include physicians, nurses, dentists, hospital administrators, and others who are directly involved in providing health care services to the public.

With overall guidance from the Texas Department of Health Resources, the hope is that the newly-founded Health Systems Agencies throughout Texas will be able to ensure that someday every citizen will have ready access to the health services he or she needs.

Auto Mileage Expenses Deductible

Taxpayers who drive their automobiles for business, moving, charitable and medical purposes may be able to deduct such expenses on their tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Taxpayers who keep records of actual costs may claim operating expenses, such as depreciation and insurance, for business use of their automobile. For deductible nonbusiness uses, only operating expenses may be claimed.

Instead of claiming actual expenses, taxpayers may use an optional mileage allowance method. Taxpayers can deduct 15¢ per mile for the first 15,000 miles, and 10¢ per mile for each additional mile when their automobile is used for business purposes. Individuals who use their automobile for charitable, medical or moving expenses are allowed 7¢ per mile under tax guidelines. In all instances parking and toll fees may be claimed in addition to the mileage rate.

These deductions can be made only if the taxpayer was not reimbursed for the expenses by his or her employer. If the employer's reimbursement exceeds the employee's actual expenses, the amount of the excess must be shown as gross income, the IRS said.

For more details concerning business expenses, the free IRS Publication 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses," is available from local IRS offices.

Publications outlining moving, charitable and medical deductions are also available free from the IRS. These publications can be ordered by using the handy order blank included in the package instructions.

Washington Trip For Two Senior Citizens of Texas

Senator John Tower announced he is accepting applications from Texas senior citizens who wish to participate in an intern program in his Washington office for two weeks in May.

Two citizens will be selected from the applicants to spend from May 17 through 27 in Tower's Washington office observing the legislative process, meeting with representatives of departments and agencies and participating in the operations of a Congressional office.

Tower said a demanding schedule of activities will include meetings with various agency, department and committee representatives, an all day trip to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore and the opportunity to attend committee hearings.

The interns will work on a briefing book explaining the programs designed to benefit senior citizens at the city, county and state level. Plans also include a private tour of the White House and social activities with the Congressional staff and other interns.

Tower said the two interns will be chosen by a panel of representatives of senior citizens and retirement associations. Applicants should be senior citizens who are at least 65 years of age, are active in their own communities, have an interest in legislation and would be willing and able to share with their age group the experience and information gained in Washington.

Interns will receive their airfare to and from Washington as well as stipend to cover expenses while in Washington.

Applications can be obtained from Tower's Houston office at 515 Fusk, Rm. 6626, Houston, Texas, 77002. The deadline for returning the applications with letters of recommendation to the Houston office is April 22.

PUBLIC NOTICE

By request of the State Health Department it has been a practice for years to submit four (4) water samples per month to a laboratory for bacteriological analysis. A safe water must not contain any organisms that would indicate the presence of disease bacteria. The public will be notified through this newspaper if any of the samples are bad. Sometimes, even in well protected supplies, a report of analysis will show a bad sample. This does not necessarily prove that the water supply is contaminated and need not be regarded as such proof until the point from which the sample was taken has been rechecked. The possibility of the first sample having been contaminated in taking or handling is always present.

The check sample should be taken as soon as the bad report is received. The sampling point should be checked for conditions that might prevent a representative sample from being obtained.

If the second sample is also bad measures should be taken to determine the source of contamination and corrective action applied. A third sample should be submitted as soon as corrective measures have been taken and if the report is still bad, health authorities should be consulted in regard to proper procedure.

McLean Schools Take Survey

A survey has gone out to the parents of all the children in the McLean Independent School district, according to Homer Jefferson, superintendent. The survey requests that parents evaluate goals for the school district that were suggested by the steering committee for school accreditation.

"It is very important that we know the wishes of the community on how it wants its school run," Jefferson said. "This is one way for everyone to voice his opinion."

The surveys were also sent to all recent graduates of McLean High School who could be located. Any interested party who did not receive a survey but would like to participate may come by the superintendent's office and pick up one of the instruments. Surveys should be returned to the school as soon as possible.

Tips on Use of Pesticides

Are the bugs eating up your garden?

Most insects can be knocked out with sprays, powders and other poisons, but the unwary gardener sometimes can suffer from the effects of the bug sprays too.

Some tips on use of insecticides are offered by the American Medical Association.

*Read the directions on the container carefully--and follow them. The manufacturer spells out the proper usage and safety precautions.

*If the directions call for rubber gloves, protective clothing or goggles, leave this one for the experts and use a less potent poison.

*Store the insecticide in its original container, with original label, in a safe, locked compartment, away from children and pets.

*Destroy empty containers immediately.

*Apply downwind, to avoid inhaling sprays and dusts. Stay out of freshly sprayed areas the rest of the day.

*Do not smoke while spraying or dusting. Some of the chemicals are flammable. And you might inhale poisons along with the smoke.

In case of accident, follow the directions on the container.
