Residents Can Register Vehicles Beginning Feb. 1

Texans will begin registering their motor vehicles for the fiscal year 1977 Feb. 1. Registration renewal notices will be in the mail soon if you have not already received yours.

Some vehicle registration renewal notices will arrive a little later this year. Usually they are mailed immediately after Christmas to facilitate postal distribution. However, this year, inmates at the State Department of Corrections prisons facilities at Huntsville are sorting by zip code all of the approximately 10 million renewal notices.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is providing this service, which is contracted by the prison system.

The 1977 stickers will have a solid red background with white year figures and state name. The sticker serial number will be printed in blue in the upper right-hand corner. Fiscal 1976 stickers had a blue background, white figures and red serial numbers in furtherance of the Bicentennial theme which will be continued in 1977.

Robert W. Townsley, director of DHT's Motor Vehicle Division, said he anticipates less motorist confusion in affixing 1977 stickers to the metal license plates.

DHT first issued multi-year metal license plates in fiscal 1975. Last year was the first for attaching annual stickers to the metal plates.

Beginning in 1978 the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will initiate a year-round licensing system with some registrations expiring each month thereafter. This Enrollment at Amarillo College has increased by 4.57 per cent during the spring semester.

At the close of enrollment for the spring semester at AC there were 4,084 students, as compared to 3,916 in 1976--an increase of 179 students.

These figures, issued by AC Registrar, J. Fred Balderston, are for students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Biomedical Arts and Sciences and School of Technology.

"This is contrary to the decreasing enrollments being experienced at a number of other educational institutions through the state," said Balderston.

Auctioneers Chester Butler, Warty Hundley, Louis Thomas, James Bible and Bedford Forrest will be donating their services. The 4-H Clubs receive a small commission on all items handled. This money finances 4-H activities conducted during the year.

The 4-H girls will be operating a concession stand.

Everyone is invited to participate as a buyer, consigner or both.

Emergency Gas Act Is Passed

The House of Representatives passed by a vote of 367 to 52 President's Carter's Emergency Natural Gas Act.

"With reluctance, I voted for the measure. There is nothing in the provision that will help the people of the 13th Congressional District," Congressman Hightower said.

"I want the President to have the authority to aid areas of this country in trouble because of natural gas shortages. I hope he can help. We are real concerned about people everywhere.

"There is a real question in my mind how much additional gas can be made available. I hope the safeguards in the bill in the House Committee will survive the Conference Committee appointed to settle differences between the House and Senate versions.

"Those safeguards that are designed to protect Texas consumers from skyrocketing prices bid up by increased demand are the principle differences between the bills.

"My distress comes with the realization that once again Congress is placed in the position of reacting to a crisis. A crisis created by inaction on the part of Congress to enact a long term well planned energy policy, and the most severe winter in recent history.

"Blaming others does no good. What is needed is a solution to the mess we find ourselves in. This effort will be productive only if we use this push to now develop a national energy policy that plans for hard winters yet to come. It must lead us to a position of self-sufficiency in energy.

"We are one country, one people, and should have one purpose. I believe that purpose should be to develop and follow our destinies as a free people."

We think our weather has been adverse for us but there are people in other parts of the state and nation who would gladly trade places. Downstate Texas has been having a lot of cold, wet weather that has kept some farmers out of fields since August and also causing cattle death losses. Because of poor grazing conditions in the eastern half of Texas, hay supplies are becoming short.

Oh, if we only had a good rain out of all of their excess moisture. We sure need a rain as there have been a few spots in some wheat fields that are ready to blow if we get a windy day before wheat has a chance to grow.

Cattle prices could improve a little in 1977, according to Ed Uvacek, Texas Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist. Although the outlook isn't all that bright, 1977 does offer a ray of hope for the cattleman. Fed cattle marketings should decline some early in the year although there should be some increase in the second quarter.

However, cattle slaughter should remain low for the next six months, keeping beef supplies down. This should boost fed cattle prices some and could stimulate an increase in feedlot placements. Feeder cattle prices should also improve as the fed cattle outlook brightens.

If you have been having weed and grass problems in your alfalfa stand, a herbicide might help the situation. Several herbicides are effective when applied to dormant alfalfa before weeds emerge. If you haven't already applied a herbicide, now is the time to get it done. Also don't forget to use phosphorous fertilizer on your alfalfa. A soil test for phosphorous is best, but about 75 pounds of actual phosphate fertilizer is needed each year. With ample water and if you are trying to make 8 tons or more of alfalfa per acre, you probably need about 100 pounds of phosphate. This would amount to 217 pounds per acre of 0-46-0 fertilizer per acre.

Now is a good time to plant trees. List of recommended trees that are adapted to this area is available in the County Extension Office, we have a list for fruits and nut trees and a list for shade and ornamental trees. For your copy call or come by the Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex. Also information on pruning is available as this is another timely job around the homestead.

USDA reports that stacks of wheat in all positions at 48 million metric tons, an increase of 28 percent above a year earlier. Stacks of the four feed grains (corn, oats, barley and sorghum) totaled PRUNE WOODY PLANTS WITH PURPOSE—Now is the time to begin the pruning of woody ornamentals in your landscape, says a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, prune with a purpose. Some reasons for pruning include removing dead, diseased or winter-killed growth or balancing top growth with the root system when setting out new plants. Pruning can also shape or size of plant as well as aid in producing better flowers and fruit. All wounds or cuts over three-fourths of an inch in diameter should be painted with a wound dressing to keep out insects and diseases.

Big Fish Award

All fishermen want to catch big fish and when they do, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department needs to know about them.

Management information is still being gathered across the state and valuable data can be recorded if anglers catching big fish will fill out a "certificate of fishing merit" application and return it to the P&WD.

Information that you put on this application will help answer questions such as: why do some lakes provide good fishing for a long time and other lakes do not; why do some lakes grow big fish and other lakes yield only small fish; does fishing pressure or lake location in Texas influence fishing success.

Various techniques are used by fishery biologists in obtaining the above information such as creel census and chemical or net samplings in selected coves of numerous lakes. Texas has so many lakes to study that assistance from fishermen is necessary to complete the study and the "big fish" award will give this required data.

Eligible species and minimum weights include: spotted seatrout, 7 lbs; redbass (from Gulf), 25 lbs; redbass (from Bay), 10lbs; black drum, 35 lbs; southern flounder, 6 lbs; largemouth bass, 7 lbs; crappie, 3 lbs; white bass, 3 lbs; striped bass, 15 lbs; striped/white bass hybrid, 6 lbs; channel catfish, 12 lbs; blue cat 35 lbs; flathead cat, 50 lbs; walleye, 6 lbs; rainbow and brown trout, 2 lbs.

Minimum weights now being accepted may change in the future as populations are established in additional lakes and streams.

The award rules require all fish entered to be caught by hood and line in Texas waters since Jan. 1, 1974.

Additional information and application forms are available at all license vendors and P&WD offices across the state.

Histamine is perfectly harmless when inside the cell, but once released outside the cell it produces undesirable changes. It dilates and congests blood vessels so that fluids from your blood stream leak out into the tissue, causing swelling.

If this change takes place in the skin the result is hives. If this reaction occurs in the nose, the membrane swells and you have a condition known as hay fever or "sinus." Another reaction of histamine is to contract or put into spasm involuntary muscle fibers-- muscles not controlled by your own will, such as stomach, intestine, urinary bladder, or the uterus. If this muscle effect takes place in the muscle fibers around the bronchial tubes, asthma is the result; if in the intestine, cramps and diarrhea may be the effect.

At least one in three Texans who have untreated hay fever will develop asthma. In many cases, seasonal asthma may fail to subside with the end of the season and may become chronic, says the Department of Health Resources.

Among the most common forms of respiratory allergy is "pollinosis"--a respiratory reaction to pollens. The severity of hay fever varies in different parts of the country, from season to season and day to day.

Molds commonly grown on plant life and are particularly prevalent on grains, such as wheat, oats, rye and corn. Next to pollen, molds are the most common causes of seasonal hay fever and asthma.

Then there is contact dermatitis. Poison ivy dermatitis is one of the best known examples of this kind. But many other plants and common substances in use in the house can produce this disease, says the Department of Health Resources.

Three factors may play a part in the production of allergies. Susceptibility is one. Only certain people have the ability or the background to become allergic. Granting you have this back-

BANKERS TO DISCUSS CORRESPONDENT

Discussions relating to correspondent banking will be one of the highlights of the 25th Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers at Texas A&M University, Feb. 7-9, says an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Along with discussions on cooperation between banks in servicing agricultural customers, the school will also feature discussions on alternatives for financing farm and ranch operations, loan documentation for various agricultural loans, and the outlook for various agricultural commodities.

Various conditions--temperature, chemical irritants, dust, emotional disturbances, etc.--may aggravate allergies or trigger their attacks. But by themselves they do not cause allergic symptoms.

If there is a family history of an allergy either on the father's or mother's side, then the disease frequently manifests itself in the offspring. But the allergy they develop will not necessarily be the same type as their parents'.

Some people have it, and some people who don't have it don't want it. What is it? Allergies, which affect about half the adult population in one form or another. This half may sneeze, itchy or wheeze or intestinal disturbances or other uncomfortable symptoms, says the Department of Health Resources.

If you have burning, itchy eyes and a running nose during ragweed season, you may be little consolation for some 13 million people in the United States have hay fever. About a half of these are allergic to something in the air, something they eat, smell or touch. Some people have allergies found to be affected by certain color.

In some people, allergies occur only at certain seasons of the year, such as ragweed season. In Texas, thousands of people have allergies in thousands time their allergies by the pollinating cedar trees, which begin in December and Christmas time each year. It may last a month or more. Others are bothered by allergies early spring by the bloom of trees and flowers, and later in the spring and summer affect others.

BEWARE OF THIS DREADED DISEASE!

More to be feared than cancer, tuberculosis, or polio is the devastating disease of bitterness. It is so easy for a person who feels that he has been wronged to suffer a far greater damage from his own bitterness than the original damage could ever do by itself! You can put it down! -- that when you let BITTERNESS to do anything or anybody become a part of your life, it will become the rule of your life, and the greatest tragedy of all is that no one can possibly be hurt worse than the one infected with bitterness! Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and railing, be put away from you, with all malice; and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." News From ALAN REED

The Alanreed Home Demonstration Club met January 26 in the home of Lena Carter with eight members and two visitors present. The meeting was opened by president Mary Davis and roll call was answered by "my first cooking experience". Reports of recent council meeting were made by Polly Harrison, Lena Carter and Mary Davis. Polly Harrison then presented a lesson on quilting after which refreshments were served by the hostess to Barbara Bible, Sue Crisp, Mary Davis, Lucy Goldston, Ruth and Brenda McLean, Mabel Woodham and Polly Harrison. The next meeting will be in the home of Sue Crisp with agent Elaine Houston bringing the program.

Visiting the Robert Bruce recently was their daughter-in-law, Robin and son. Visiting Lena Carter on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bruce of Amarillo.

Billy McKee of Groom was at the Bert McKees Tuesday. Mrs. Robert Bruce, Mrs. Bob Bruce and Shawn were in Pampa on Friday.

Jack Hall of Clarendon was at the Marvin Halls Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis and Polly Harrison were in Pampa on Monday to see relatives at the nursing homes.

Frigid weather conditions have upset the entire fresh tender-vegetable line and curtailed egg production--with resulting higher prices on some items for grocery consumers.

In spite of that, economy is still possible in several instances, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, says.

Items that grocery stores previously planned to "special" will now be particularly good values, and items harvested before the weather hit their supplies may still be good values.

Fresh citrus fruit from favorable-weather areas is in good supply and includes oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, and tangelos--but their prices may fluctuate due to diminishing supplies from Florida, the specialist reported.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For vegetable economy, choices of fresh items generally are limited to dry onions, white and sweet potatoes, hard hard-shell squash and rutabagas. But consumers can look for frozen-vegetable features.

At meat counters, pork supplies continue to increase--lowering the price to consumers. Good values appear on Boston butt roasts and quarter-loin sliced into chops--along with hams, bacon, roll sausage and frankfurters.

At beef counters, supplies are adequate and prices are the same as last week or slightly higher. However, greater economy is available on the less-demanded cuts, so consumers might consider rib and shoulder steaks--as well as the popular sirloin and T-bone steaks, ground beef and liver, Mrs. Clyatt advised.

Fryer promotions continue in some stores, despite a general price increase. Also turkey offers good values, she said.

Air Force Offers Degrees Through Community College

Under a recent decision by the U. S. Commissioner of Education, enlisted Air Force personnel can now earn as- sociate degrees through the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF). "This landmark decision was reached after extension review by the department of Defense, the Congress, and the U.S. Office of Education, said Air Force chief of staff General David C. Jones.

"It marks the first time in history that a military agency has been given the authority to grant degrees to members of the enlisted force", said General Jone, who further stated that the CCAF degree- granting authority adds a "new dimension to the recog- nition, prestige, and career development of Air Force) noncommissioned officers."

Air Force enlisted person- nel will be able to earn a two-year college degree by combining military instruc- tion which the CCAF certi- fies as equivalent to college level courses with specified courses from civilian institu- tions. A member's credits must meet rigid CCAF stan- dards outlined under a spe- cific study program for each student. CCAF curriculum requirements include techni- cal education, related gen- eral education management, and skill-level advancement. Credit is given for military and civilian courses which meet college-level standards and which fulfill objectives of the CCAF study program. When a member has earned the required mixture of CCAF and civilian credits, he or she is granted a two-year associate in applied science degree by the commander of Air Training Command.

CCAF is expected to begin conferring the new degree in April. The relatively techni- cal nature of most Air Force training courses places them on a level with college ma- terial and lends itself to the accreditation and degree-

Hawks Protected

Of all predaceous birds, the hawk family is the most persecuted and least un- derstood even though they are protected by law.

In this family of birds are the kites, hawks, harriers, and eagles, all of which re- side in Texas or migrate across the state twice a year. Many of these beneficial birds winter in our state but nest in northern latitudes.

The kite family in Texas is represented by the white- tailed, swallowed-tailed, and Mississippi kites and each deserves greater protection than they have been given.

Large insects, lizards, snakes, and frogs make up the kite's diet. Nearly al- their food is taken and eaten on the wing. Farmers observ- ing these small birds will notice the main diet is in- sects including beetles, moths, locusts, crickets, caterpillars and other potentially danger- ous species.

The term "chicken hawk" has been applied to nearly all hawks but the Cooper's hawk comes closest to this role with an occasional do- mestic poult included in it's diet. Small birds such as sparrows, rodents and game birds make up 84 percent of the Cooper's diet accord- ing to stomach samples ana- lysed across Texas.

The buzzard hawks are large birds with broad wings and rounded tails. They usu- ally soar in wide circles high in the air. Hawks seen across the Panhandle-South Plains in this family include the Swainson's, Ferruginous, and rough-legged hawks.

The hawks are territorial granting process.

The CCAF is an accredited institution offering more than 80 fields of study, ranging from police science to en- vironmental services techno- logy. The authority to grant degrees culminates some five years of intensive study and concentrated effort. More than 48,000 enlisted person- nel stationed around the world are currently registered with the CCAF. More than 160,000 airmen have received CCAF transcripts since the col- lege began in 1972, and more than 1,000 have receiv- ed Career Education Certifi- cates formerly awarded by CCAF.

According to Air Force Recruiting Service officials all active duty, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve enlisted members are eligi- ble for CCAF enrollment. Air Force recruiters have complete CCAF information.

birds that mate for life and usually return to the same nesting area year after year. As a group, these are perhaps Texas' most beneficial hawks. Their diet consists of field mice, small animals, fish crayfish, snakes, frogs and snails.

The marsh hawk is the only representative of the harrier family in Texas and it is found throughout the state. This bird is easily recogniz- ed by its slow wing beat and flight close to the ground. A large white patch at the base of the tail shows distinctly when it is flying.

This hawk can be seen flying over fencerows, playa lake beds, and grain fields looking for food. According to USDA study of 124 stomachs, 45 percent was mice; 18 percent other small mammals; and 18 percent reptiles, frogs, and insects.

The landowner who is lucky enough to have hawks frequent his property will notice few mice or rats and one bad act such as a hawk making off with a chicken should not mean condemna- tion for all hawks.

A reduction in the number of hawks will certainly re- move one of the most effec- tive natural checks on rodents and insects enjoyed by Texas.
