Local Library To Have Summer Reading Program

Young readers at Lovett Memorial Library will be among more than 100,000 young Texans who will be taking a "Jungle Journey" this summer as participants in the Summer Reading Club. Sponsored jointly by the local library and the Texas State Library, the Reading Club encourages readers to use the recreational and informational materials they can find at their local library.

Posters, reading logs, and bookmarks this year feature jungle animals. Each participant will receive a reading log on which to record what he or she has read. In addition to the list of books each reader compiles, the log includes a pair of word puzzles and a maze.

Summer is always the busiest time of the year for children's collections in public libraries. Whether summer reading is entirely for entertainment or is also for information, it's different from the required reading that students must do during the school year. At the same time, however, it builds valuable skills.

During the summer many libraries will also be planning special activities, including films, puppet shows and other programs.

Males Outnumber Females In Drowning Figures

More males drown than females.

During 1976 in Texas the ratio of male to female drownings was more than six to one, according to figures kept by water safety officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Of the 503 drownings recorded by the P&WD for that year, 436 were male and only 67 were female.

The trend starts early. Sixty children less than five years of age drowned-- 1 boys and 19 girls. Between the ages of six and 10, 33 boys and five girls died in water mishaps.

More people between 16 and 20 drown than at any other age. In 1976 133 such victims were males. One of the two girls in that age group who drowned died in a bathtub, the other in a vehicle accident.

A total of 52 deaths was recorded among persons over 50 years of age-- 40 males and 12 females.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My bills are stacking up faster than I can pay them. If I have to take bankruptcy, what must I give up? Will I lose my car and my household goods?

A: Federal bankruptcy law exempts property which is also exempt under applicable state law. Under the law of Texas, you would not lose your car and your household goods in the event you declare bankruptcy. Beyond that, you'll be allowed to keep your homestead, household and kitchen furniture, tools and books of your trade, family portraits and pictures, one pick-up truck in addition to the car, current wages for personal services, provisions on hand for home consumption like food, all wearing apparel and one dog.

Q: The house next door has changed hands several times in the past year or two. There is a large tree on the edge of the lot which is about to fall on our house. What can we do? We asked the original owner to remove it before she sold the house, but she refused.

A: If this tree actually fell on your house, you would, of course, be able to sue for the damages it did. With that in mind, the law also provides a remedy to keep the tree from falling on your house. You must file suit to remove the tree. It's called a suit to abate a nuisance.

Q: I've been wanting to ask this for a long time. While in college, I lived in an apartment. When I left, my $25 deposit was withheld, presumably for cleaning and a cracked window. Both reasons were totally untrue. Is there anything I can do about it?

A: If you owed no rent and if you gave proper notice, your landlord was legally required to refund your deposit. Though he's not en-itled to deduct for normal wear and tear, a landlord can deduct charges representing actual damages and cleaning costs, if the lease allows. But, the landlord must furnish you with a written description and itemized list of all deductions. If the landlord acted in bad faith and the statute of limitations hasn't run out, he could be required to pay $100 plus three times the amount wrongfully withheld.

Q: A teenager in our neighborhood was stopped by the police for driving while intoxicated, but no DWI charges were filed against him. Does the DWI law extend to someone under the age of 17?

A: Under Texas law, a person under the age of 17 cannot be held criminally liable for driving while intoxicated. This means that a juvenile stopped by the police and suspected of driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs cannot be arrested as an adult and therefore does not face the possibility of having the driver's license suspended. The police, however, may turn over the young man or woman to juvenile court authorities as a child in need of supervision.

Urban predicament

The University of Texas next fall will offer a new interdisciplinary course on how America's urban scene developed.

The course, The Urban Predicament, will look at U.S. cities from the viewpoint of economics, sociology and government and will be team-taught by scholars from those fields.

Among topics in the course will be urbanization trends, development of the built environment, preservation of the natural environment, and human needs and services.

Worship Is What You Are

Worship is the chain that links us to God and that chain has two links. The first link concerns what we do. The second link concerns what you are. And both links are essential to reach the Father. As God's covenants with man have changed, so have man's external acts of worship (what you do), but the other link (what you are) has remained the same in all ages and through all covenants. While specific elements in worship have changed with the covenants, God's demand for holy and ethical lives has never changed. What we do in worship is important, but no less important is what we are.

The Israelites in Amos' day forgot this important concept. They held the odd notion that if you go through the right acts, then it doesn't matter what your life is like. Oh they were proud. "We worship the true God in the true manner, not like our ignorant, heathen neighbors," they must have thought. They strained to do everything just right (Amos 4:4-5).

But there was a problem. Their daily living was blasphemous. They perverted justice, shut the mouths of the prophets, stole from the poor and wallowed in luxury - and these were only a few of the infractions! It took the farm-boy-turned-preacher Amos to make them know God's feelings. God was offended to the point of nausea: "I hate, I despise your feasts and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies. . . . Take away from me the noise of your songs (Amos 5:21-24).

There is for us a sober message that God expects us to do the right things in worship; yes, certainly! But He also demands that we be right in heart and behavior, in thought and in ethics. Amos asserts that being right is a necessary prerequisite to doing right. Form without substance is of no value whatsoever!

FAMILY HEALTH

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Some 600,000 youngsters will attend at least one of the 600 youth camps in Texas this year and parents can send them off with the assurance that they are being well supervised.

For the past three years, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, Texas camps have been operating under standard rules set forth in the Texas Youth Camp Safety and Health Act. And, in that period, says Kenneth C. Lauderdale, Director of the General Sanitation Division of TDHR, safety and health regulations in camps have increased greatly.

A survey was taken in 1974 which showed that children in youth camps were placed in excellent surroundings, according to Bobby Davis and Roy Burton, Youth Camp Program of TDHR.

Under the Camp Safety and Health Act, the Director of TDHR was delegated as chairman of an Advisory Council on Youth Camp Safety which the law created. Eleven members are named by the Governor to two-year terms on the council. The Advisory Council's responsibilities include advising and consulting on policy matters relating to camp activities, particularly on the matter of promulgating youth camp safety standards.

Safety and sanitation are the prime areas for concentrating regulatory and enforcement measures. Campers must be provided a sanitary place to live, as well as a safe one.

Consideration is given to adequate and proper supervision in all activities by qualified personnel wherever camp activities are conducted. Proper safeguards for sanitation encompass such areas as proper procedures for food preparation and serving, healthful and sufficient water supply and proper waste disposal.

Safety covers such areas as: proper water safety procedures for swimming pools, lakes and waterways and safe boating equipment; proper maintenance and safe use of motor vehicles; safe buildings and physical facilities and proper fire precautions; safe equipment used in all recreational pursuits; and proper regard for the number of persons using a facility.

Several guidelines were used in setting up safety and health standards. These include the Texas Water Safety Act, a manual on Fire Safety for Suburban Areas of Texas, Food and Drug Laws already enforced by the Department of Health Resources and environmental health practices falling under the Department.

Each camp must be inspected and found to conform with the Act. In order to ensure uniformity in inspections training was held recently in Austin for inspectors from the 10 Public Department. A field trip was made to Friday Mountain Camp for first-hand inspection training. Two environmental interns from Colorado attended to learn more about the excellent Texas program.

Heaviest concentration of camps in Texas is in the Fort Worth-Dallas area with Girl Scout camps and YMCA day care programs adding to the total. Heavy concentrations also are seen in East Texas the Houston area and Hill Country section near Kerrville. Statewide, 22 Southern Baptist camps handle approximately 180,000 summer campers.

If your youngsters' diets lack the proper nutrients because they don't drink enough fruit juice, you can mix them some "soft drinks" of club soda and apple or orange juice.

Parents Abandoning Children On Cars Create Fear

By DEBBY JOHNSON
 EDITOR'S NOTE: Debby Johnson is a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service The Texas A&M University System.

A personal situation which I witnessed recently prompted me to write this.

In the parking lot of a drugstore, I saw a woman leave a two or three-year-old child in the car--and turn to go inside the store.

The little girl began to scream quite loudly, but the woman made no attempt to soothe the child or take her into the drugstore.

Perhaps adults--more precisely parents--who do such things misunderstand children's actions in cases like this.

Some falsely assume that the child is being a "trouble-maker" or a "brat."

Many parents don't realize the stress they place on their children in such situations.

During early childhood, the greatest fear is that of being left alone.

What goes on in abandoned children's minds, psychologists tell us, is the thought that their parent will not come back.

Therefore, they scream out of fear--not to aggravate parents.

It is important for parents to be aware of--and understand--a child's normal and natural reactions.

More in-depth knowledge of the sequence of child development would enable a parent to deal more effectively with difficult and everyday situations.

Children should never be left alone in a car--not even if the parent only plans to be away for a few seconds.

Anything could happen in that short length of time which could threaten the life of a child.

One also risks the child accidentally putting the car into motion and causing a major accident.

Market Report

A cornucopia of fresh vegetables--with top quality and lower prices--is at Texas grocery markets, along with economical meat "specials" according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, compiled the following report on this week's food buying situation:

FRESH VEGETABLES
 -Good quality and attractive prices appear on snap beans, yellow and zucchini squash, corn, cucumbers, green peppers, green onions and radishes. Other economical choices are carrots, cabbage, mustard greens, broccoli and collards. Check celery, cauliflower, okra and eggplant for economy prices.

FRESH FRUITS
 Watermelon and cantaloupe prices are slightly lower. Economical choices are strawberries, pineapples, oranges, grapefruit and bananas. Bing cherries, plums and peaches have first-of-the-season prices -- high -- although peaches are more plentiful with better flavor.

BEFF-Prices are still attractive on most selections -- and weekly "specials" allow low-cost meals with beef, particularly chuck roasts, steaks, ground beef and liver.

PORK-Features include Boston butt roasts, quarter-loin cut into chops, smoked picnics and ham portions.

POULTRY-Large-size eggs are generally the best value, although overall egg prices are reasonable. Fryer chickens continue inadequate supply with attractive prices.

DAIRY-Regular features are cheddar cheese, sour cream, cottage cheese and skim milk.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES-Most likely economical choices are frozen orange juice concentrate, canned tomato juice and corn.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: In vegetable buying, avoid decay--it's "penny foolish" because even when the decayed area is trimmed, rapid deterioration spreads. A few cents extra is a good investment.

EMBARRASSING, BURNING Itching?

ZEMO relieves itching fast because its special 'anti-itch' medication soothes inflamed surface tissues. Get relief with the first application of soothing, medicated ZEMO--Ointment or Liquid. zemo

NITROGEN LEACHED

The rains during the last two months have done a lot to our soil--some soils and this may have happened on a lot of fertilized fields in the sandy soils and this may have happened on a lot of fertilized fields in the sandy land area. Nitrates move with soil water and as much rain as we have received, some water has probably moved through our soil profile in sandy soils.

A soil test for nitrate nitrogen may be a wise investment if you are expecting to take advantage of this abundant soil moisture. A soil test can be run in about one week time and it only costs $2.00 per sample at the Extension Service Laboratory in Lubbock. Information sheets sample boxes and mailing cartons are available at the County Extension Office.

One of the reasons I believe a soil test would be a good investment is that on the Jim Allison farm, nitrate nitrogen has apparently been leached from one of his lovegrass pastures. We are conducting some fertilizer studies and I had sampled this one field April 19 and the soil test indicated 54 pounds of nitrate nitrogen after his spring fertilizer application on May 2. I sampled from the same area and this test indicated only 8 pounds of nitrate nitrogen present. This one test result is not enough to be conclusion that nitrogen has been leached from all fields but, I highly recommend you have a soil test made to check your soil nutrient level. This pasture had received about 20 inches of rainfall during this 5-week period between samplings.

This soil test recommended that 40 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphorus were needed for good lovegrass production this summer. If you expect to get good production, whether it be crops or grass, a soil test is a wise investment. Don't delay--do it today!

MOSQUITO CONTROL

The rains have also helped increase our mosquito population. Mosquitoes must have water as breeding sites. The life cycle of a mosquito can be as short as about 10 days so our populations can rapidly expand with a lot of standing water around.

Remove as many breeding sites as possible. Then sprays containing malathion are good to kill mosquitoes around homes, tall weeds and grass where they tend to hide out during the heat of the day. Space spraying should be done during the cool hours of the evening or early morning because mists and fogs are dispersed too rapidly to give good control when the temperatures are high.

Check water troughs, fish ponds or ornamental ponds for mosquito larvae (wigglers). If present, treat water surface with non-lead gasoline, two to four ounces per 100 square feet. Exercise caution against creating a fire hazard.

Treat stock tanks with kerosene and other bodies of water with diesel. In tanks with vegetation, apply 9 ounces of oil per 100 square feet of water surface or 30 gallons per acre. With no vegetation, apply two to four ounces of oil per 100 square feet of water surface or 7 to 14 gallons per acre. Dursban is approved for use in water to control mosquito larvae but you would need to follow directions and precautions on the label.

CATTLEMEN NEED TO REGISTER

Cattlemen are urged to go by their ASCS office during the period June 6-17, to register for the producer referendum on the Beef Research and Information program. Producers eligible to register and vote include those who owned cattle during 1976, regardless of age.

The voting period will take place July 5-15 also at the County ASCS office. However you must register in order to be eligible to vote.

Information on the Beef Referendum is available in the County Extension Office.

ELM LEAF BEETLES

Elm leaf beetles are starting yearly, infestation of elm trees throughout the Panhandle. The larval stage of this insect skeletonizes the leaves of the elm. With several generations occurring each year, they can greatly reduce the health and aesthetic quality of Elm trees.

Control can be accomplished with the following insecticides: foliar spraying may be needed at 30 to 40 day intervals with Diazinon or Sevin. Soil application can be made with Di-Syston around the drip line of your tree. With two percent Di-Syston granules, apply 15-20 ounces per inch of tree diameter. Be sure and follow label directions when using any chemical.

BAGWORMS

Bagworms are also beginning to hatch out. Now is the time to control bagworms while they are small. They are easier to kill and they haven't hurt your trees, they can kill a tree in a year or two if not controlled.

Foliar applications of Sevin or Malathion give good control. If only a few are present you may prefer to pick them off by hand; just be sure to destroy the bagworms after picking them off. Double check in a few days to insure that you didn't miss any.

CUTWORM DAMAGE

Cutworms are becoming quite active and causing damage. They have caused some stand reduction to seedling corn as well as vegetables and ornamentals. With crop seeding active, farmers probably should be on the look out for cutworm damage as newly planted crops emerge.

These pests are most active at night and may go unnoticed until considerable stand loss or damage has occurred. If you need assistance with a cutworm problem call my office 669-7429 or come by the Courthouse Annex.

The nationally-ranked magazine will feature a comprehensive study of 37 trails proposed for inclusion into the Texas system beginning in July. Fishing, fish studies and a complete history of dogs in America will also be included.

Beef-Breeding Cattle Big Export In Texas

AUSTIN--Texas was the number one exporter of beef-breeding cattle in the country in 1974 with 13,450 head sold, according to statistics from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Foreign Agriculture Service.

The same statistics show the state second in exports of breeding swine. Three thousand fifty-five head were shipped, only 168 fewer than first-ranking Illinois. In sales of dairy breeding cattle, Texas was eighth with 2,275.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White attributed an increase in exports to intensive marketing activities by the livestock industry.

"With national economists predicting decreases in export income for 1975," the Texas Department of Agriculture has stepped up efforts to bring in more foreign buyers. The livestock directory which the department publishes has stimulated many sales," White said.

"The department is also publishing an export newspaper in Spanish aimed toward the Latin American market on the availability of breeding and slaughter stock from Texas ranches.

Though crossbreeds were the most popular export nationwide, Brahmans led in foreign sales in Texas. Santa Gertrudis, Herefords and crossbreeds were other major choices.

Principal swine breeds from Texas were Duroc, Yorkshire, Hampshire and crossbreeds.

Canada and Mexico were top importers of U.S. breeding cattle and Mexico ranked first as an outlet for breeding swine.

ASCS Will Register Beef Producers

The Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office will register beef producers June 6-17 to vote on the beef research and information order, said Evelyn Mason, Executive Director, Gray County ASCS. Beef producers who fail to register can not vote in the July referendum.

If over half of register producers vote in the referendum and two-thirds of those voting approve the order, the Secretary of Agriculture will appoint a beef board, composed of not more than 68 beef producers from names submitted by producer organizations. The board would collect assessments on sales of cattle and use the funds for beef research and information programs.

Registration may be in person or by mail. Those who wish to register by mail must request the ASCS office to mail a registration card. All persons who produced beef during the calendar year of 1976 are eligible to register.

This includes feedlot operators as well as dairymen. Each production entity--such as a family, partnership, or corporation--is entitled to only one vote. A 4-H or FFA member may register, provided he or she produced beef independent of the family operation.

From June 6 to 17, the ASCS county office will daily post a list of producers who have registered to vote in a conspicuous place in the office. A final list will be posted on June 22. Anyone may challenge the eligibility of any producer listed. Challenges will be resolved by the Executive Director.

A speed record for an Atlantic crossing was established by the liner United States in 1952 when it made the crossing in 3 days, 10 hours and 40 minutes!

State Classes Year's First Cotton Bale

AUSTIN--The first bale of the 1975-76 United States cotton crop was classed June 23 at the Harlingen Cotton Classing Office, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reported.

Last year's first bale was classed on June 11, 1974. McHayden Dillard, Harlingen, produced the bale which graded 42 with a staple length of 35 and micronaire of 3.6. The variety was Tamcot SP57.

Churches May Have One Sale A Year

Comptroller Bob Bullock reminded religious and other nonprofit, tax-exempt organizations they now may hold only one tax-free sale or auction a year, which they don't have to collect sales taxes.

The special one-year, tax-free sale were authorized by the Texas Legislature to apply to tax-exempt religious, educational, charitable and eleemosynary organizations.

The legislation has the support of the Comptroller's Office.

Bullock said the new law, which becomes effective May 24, allows only one tax-free sale or auction during a calendar year and limits it to one day only.

If two or more organizations jointly hold a tax-free sale or auction, neither may hold another during the calendar year, he said.

The bill allows the sponsoring organization to pay the auctioneer "reasonable fee."

"This will do away with a lot of the red tape, and allow them to put a little more of the money they collect to good use," he said.

PUBLIC NOTICE

By request of the State Health Department it has been a practice for years to submit four (4) water samples per month to a laboratory for bacteriological analysis. A safe water must not contain any organisms that would indicate the presence of disease bacteria. The public will be notified through this newspaper if any of the samples are bad. Sometimes, even in well protected supplies, a report of analysis will show a bad sample. This does not necessarily prove that the water supply is contaminated and need not be regarded as such proof until the point from which the sample was taken has been rechecked. The possibility of the first sample having been contaminated in taking or handling is always present.

The check sample should be taken as soon as the bad report is received. The sampling point should be checked for conditions that might prevent a representative sample from being obtained.

If the second sample is also bad measures should be taken to determine the source of contamination and corrective action applied. A third sample should be submitted as soon as corrective measures have been taken and if the report is still bad, health authorities should be consulted in regard to proper procedure.

Color Least Expensive Decorating Tool

Wise use of color can help solve decorating problems of small size rooms and limited furnishings. Color cannot, of course, increase the actual size of a room, but it can create expensive furnishings.

Color has three dimensions - value (its lightness or darkness), intensity (brightness or dullness) and hue (hues give warmth with yellow and reds or coolness with blues). By studying the dimensions of color, especially in relation to decorating problems, home decorators may find many simple, inexpensive decorating answers--with a can of paint.

A small room looks larger if painted a cool color, such as light blue. A feeling of spaciousness occurs when colors used within the room in furniture, draperies and accessories are of close or similar value--preferably light. Light values create the impression of distance. Close values have a quieting effect while strong contrasts appear busy. Furnishings contrasting in value, intensity and hue tend to divide a room and make it look smaller. So, a small room needs little contrast in color.

A difference in value is more contrasting than in a difference in hue. For example, a color scheme using orange and blue of the same value is less obvious than the use of one hue but in different values. When increasing the number of hues in a room, it's important to make them close in value.

While cool colors recede and make a room appear larger, they do have a formal feeling. Today's homes are more casual and most people prefer warm colors. If small rooms are to be decorated in earthtones, these warm colors may be used if they are close in value and dull in intensity.

When these warm colors are dull in intensity, such as warm tans, any hue looks good against them. These unifying hues (warm colors) make the most useful colors for backgrounds. Generally, duller intensities are best for large areas, such as walls, while bright intensities are best for accents (accessories).

Special furnishings or objects may be enhanced when placed against a background of a different value. But to make a piece of furniture, such as a sofa as inconspicuous as possible, place it against a background of a different value. But to make a piece of furniture, such as a sofa, as inconspicuous as possible, place it against a background which is of its own value. Dark values are often used for floors because they create an impression of stability.

Warm and cool colors may be used advantage-

County Contestants Are Sought

The American Girl Pageant is now accepting applications from this county as candidates-at-large to the Texas American Girl Pageant to be held on June 7-8 at the Holiday Inn in Waco.

The American Girl Pageant is for young ladies 3 to 26 consisting of five categories: American Tot 3 to 6 years; American Little Miss, 7 to 9; American Teen, 10 to 12; American Girl, ages 13 to 17 and the American Girl, ages 18 to 26. All contestants compete in sportswear, street length party dress for the Tot, Miss and Little Miss divisions and evening gown for the Teen and Girl divisions. Contestants are evaluated by the judges also in close-up appraisals and in talent presentations except for Tot contestants, who do not compete in talent.

Promoting the ideals of the youth of America, contestants should be personable, attractive and talented. The American Girl Pageant encourages the performing and creative arts by presenting trophies for excellence in instrumental music, voice, dancing, acting, gymnastics and baton. In addition to the state titleholders in each age category, the overall talent winners are invited to compete at the National American Girl Pageant to be held on August 8, 9 and 10 for the Tot, Little Miss and Miss contestants and on August 22, 23, and 24 for the Teen and Girl contestants. Produced in conjunction with Holiday Inns, Inc., the national pageant will be held at the luxurious Rivermont Holiday Inn in Memphis, Tennessee.

For complete information and applications please write or call the American Girl Pageants, P. O. Box 1630, Dothan, Alabama 36301 or Area Code 205-792-4907

ously in regard to the orientation of the house. Rooms located on the west side of the home will feel cooler if painted a cool color. Those located on the north will convey a feeling of warmth when painted a warm color. It is interesting to note that while green is considered a neutral color, it is classified as warm when it has a predominance of yellow--but when more blue, it is considered cool.
