One of the most interesting things about working in a newspaper office is getting to paw through old editions. History lives in the pages of these old papers. I sometimes think it would do everyone good to read the 1909 volume, and realize how much easier our life style is than the early residents of McLean.

The striking things in the old papers is the number of children's deaths reported. Every month, at least one child died, it seemed. Particularly poignant was the notice of the deaths of three of the Perry Lefors' children and Mr. Lefors' death, all within a one-month period, from a typhoid epidemic.

Thank goodness, this is one of the aspects of the "good old days" we have improved upon. I can't quote the statistics on how much the mortality rate for children has improved, but I know it has been drastic since 1909.

One of my favorite editors was A. G. Richardson. Every issue of his paper was devoted to boosting the new town of McLean. One of his ideas was to put a copy of The McLean News in 1,000 homes in the east and north for one year to attract new settlers to the country. I don't know if his idea ever worked out, but it certainly was an inspired promotion.

Another outstanding editor was T. A. Landers. Landers liked to use his editorial column to chastise businessmen who didn't advertise!

"A satisfied customer is the best advertisement, but he is found and held by newspaper advertising."

"Merchants make the town, and the (advertising) columns of the local paper are the best index of progressiveness found anywhere."

"More customers are caught by advertisement than by complaining of how rotten business is."

"The merchant who advertises pays just so much for his space, while the merchant who does not advertise pays a great deal more for the lack of it." These quotes come from five successive issues in 1929, and every issue in the year has a few remarks to make about advertising.

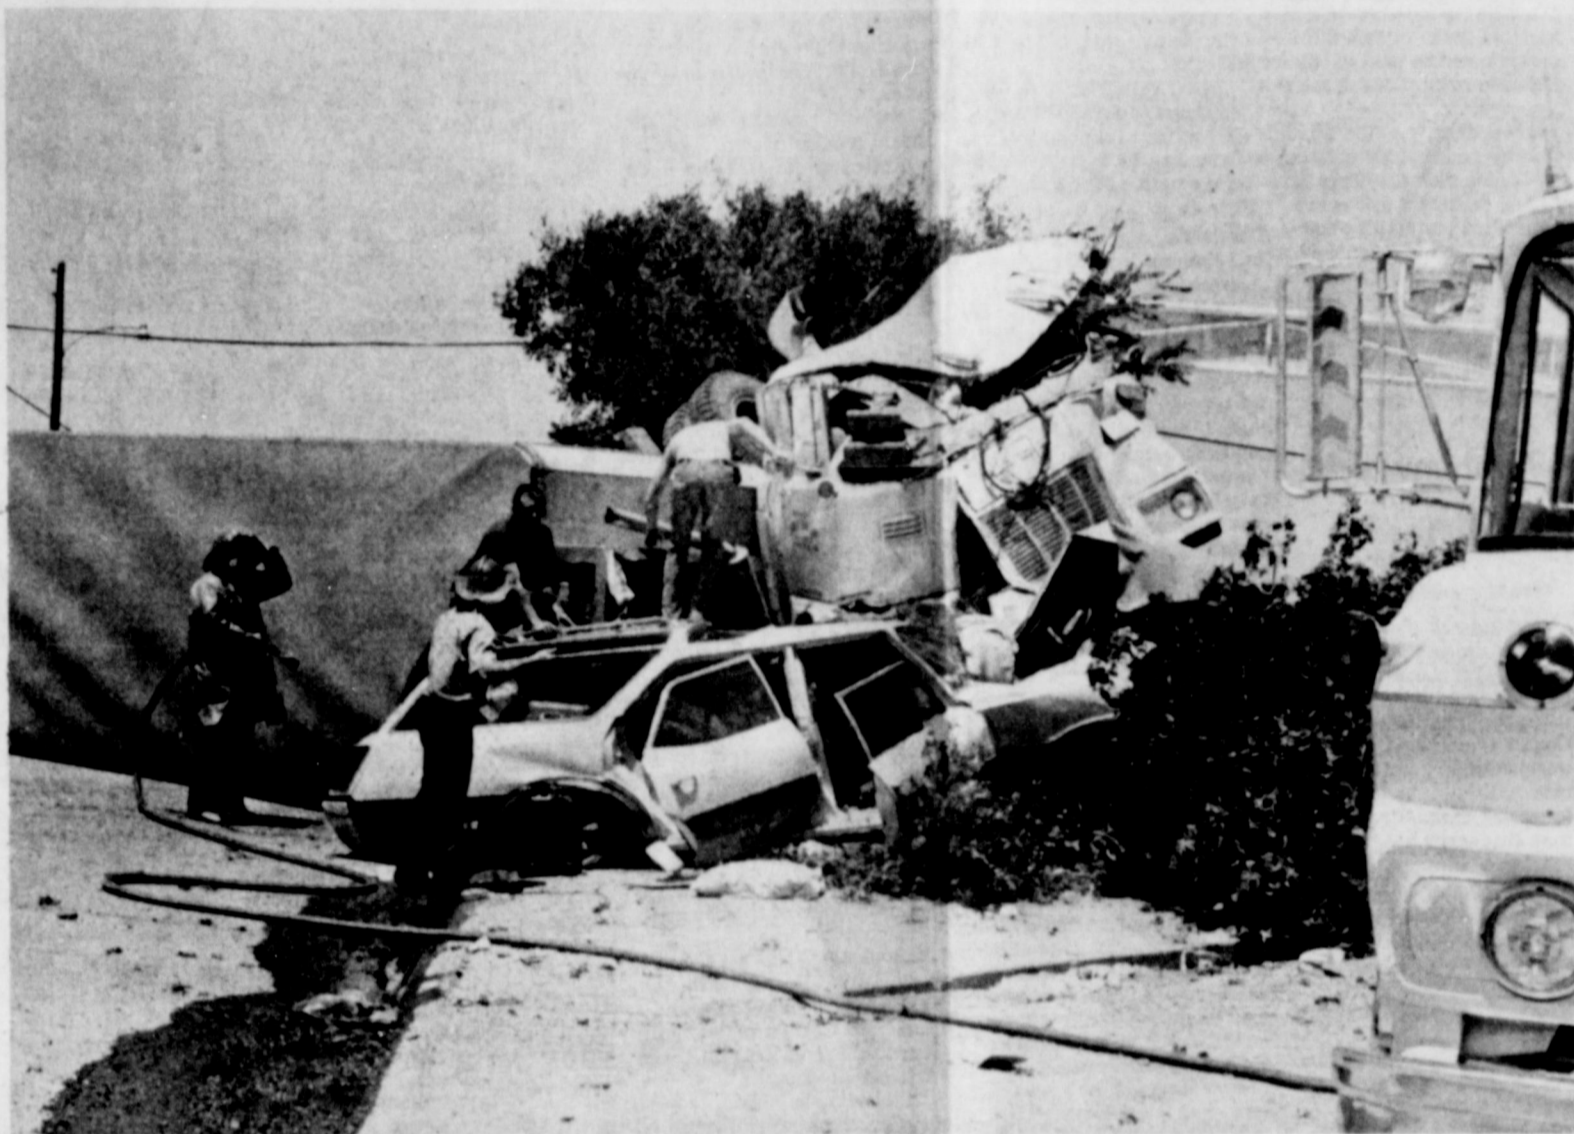

Which reminds me, someone asked me the other day how a paper makes money, and

SEVEN CONSECUTIVE DAYS OF 100 OR OVER!!!!

This car-truck pile-up blocked traffic on the eastbound lane of Interstate 40 Saturday afternoon, as firemen work to hose down leaking diesel gasoline. Collision Injures Four

A spectacular truck-car wreck on I-40 by Gately's Cafe Saturday afternoon resulted in injury to all four occupants of the two vehicles.

A 1970 Oldsmobile station wagon driven by Larry Paul Shamblin, 28, of Paris, Ark., was headed east on I-40 in the right lane. Shamblin apparently turned left from the right lane, when the car was in collision with a 1978 Mack tractor-trailer truck loaded with beef, driven by Thomas James McKenzie of Dallas.

The two vehicles continued into Gately's station, uprooting a tree and hitting picnic tables and benches.

McLean Ambulance and Fire Department volunteers helped extricate the occupants from the vehicles. Passengers in the car were Shamblin's wife, Lois, and six-year-old son, Paul. The four people were taken to McLean Hospital. McKenzie was transferred to an Amarillo Hospital, and the Shamblin family was released Sunday.

Another truck-car accident occurred Sunday night about 4 miles east of McLean on I-40. The 1978 Kenworth truck of the System Reefer Service Co. was turning around across both lanes of the east bound highway when a 1977 Ford driven by Jimmy Hickey of Amarillo, an employee of the Borden milk company, hit the rear of the truck.

The driver of the truck, Joseph Ballard of Anaheim, Calif., was uninjured. Hickey was transferred to an Amarillo hospital in critical condition.

Board Approves Budget, Accepts Two Resignations

The resignations of two McLean High School teachers were accepted Monday night at the regular meeting of the McLean Independent School District board of trustees. Gene Gee, science teacher, resigned to accept a position with the Tulla schools. Gee has been a teacher in McLean since 1975.

Ronnie Wright, high school math teacher, also submitted his resignation. Wright completed his first year in McLean this spring.

In other business, the board met with equalization board members Steve Brass, Roger McCracken, and Gerald Tate and four engineers of the Thomas Y. Pickett Co., an industrial tax engineering firm to discuss the 1978 industrial tax evaluations.

The board approved a preliminary budget for the 1978-79 school year, and approved a budget amendment for the 1977-78 budget.

Superintendent Carl Dwyer read a letter from the Lefors schools stating that they had decided not to participate in 11-man football this year. The board discussed repairs in the high school, and approved a requisition for $600 to pay expenses for four coaches at coaches school.

Attending the meeting were board members Tony Smitierman, Darryel Herndon, Jim Allison, Lloyd Hunt, and June Suggs. Members Dub Stokes and Joe Billingsley were not present.

Also attending were Dwyer, Brass, Tate, McCracken, Shirley Johnson, Dotman Thomas, Ron Cummings, and Bill Coward.

Commissioners Discuss Hospital, Budget

The Gray County Commissioners' Court met Friday in Pampa at the County Courthouse. Discussion centered on the county budget and the hospital problem.

County Judge Don Hinton said that the evaluations in the local tax roll will run about the same as last year. Last year's evaluation was placed at $123,000,000. Hinton added that this year it should be up by approximately $2,500,000 because of the cities re-evaluation and the new businesses that have entered the city. The industrial roll will run the same as last year.

Hinton added that $110,000 was appropriated into the general fund that wasn't in the fund last year.

Hinton asked the commissioners to keep their spending to a minimum until December, because of the hospital situation.

Members of the board said that they may have to help out the hospital, and one member mentioned the possibility of setting up a hospital district, which would include all of Gray County, to solve the problem. Judge Hinton expressed doubt that a hospital tax levy would pass for a separate hospital district.

The Board of Managers voted the raises after concern was voiced by members of the medical staff about keeping key personnel at the hospital under the new wages.

Firemen Fight Five Fires

McLean firemen were kept busy this week with a series of fires and wrecks in the McLean area.

Thursday morning firemen responded to a call to the Cowboy Drive-in to extinguish a grease fire. There was no structural damage to the building.

Friday a grassfire near the Britt Hathaway place apparently was caused by sparks from a passing train.

Another grassfire was reported Saturday evening at the Pagan turnoff east of McLean. On Sunday, firemen were called to another railroad grassfire east of town near the Earl Carpenter place. Monday afternoon a barrel full of burning trash was the apparent cause of a hay-stack fire at the McLean Veterinary Clinic east of McLean.

McLean fire and ambulance service responded to two wrecks this week. Saturday a car-truck wreck near Gately's restaurant put three persons in the McLean hospital, while the driver of the truck was taken to an Amarillo hospital.

Sunday a station wagon apparently ran under a truck, causing multiple injuries to the driver of the station wagon. At last report he was in extremely critical condition.

Governor Dolph Briscoe Proclaims July 25-31

Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed July 25-31 as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, centered around the proposition that "good farm and ranch management prevents farm and ranch accidents." Purpose of the week-long observance is to call attention to the needless accidents which result in over 100 occupational-related deaths and 10,000 occupational disabling injuries occurring annually to Texas farmers and ranchers.

Governor Briscoe pointed out that today's farmers and ranchers understand the importance of management as it relates to efficiency, productivity, and profits. In the face of potential tragedy and loss resulting from accidents, "accident prevention must be a farm and ranch management goal," observed the Governor.

going to take advantage of that. At the city council meeting the other night, a citizen reported that there have been several acts of vandalism in the local cemetery.

WHY would anyone desecrate a grave? What possible pleasure could anyone take by breaking a headstone or riding a motorcycle over the tops of the graves?

Any person who would do this type of thing probably is in need of help...or perhaps a good tanning with a belt from a parent.

It usually is the children and teenagers who get blamed for senseless acts of vandalism, but I'm not sure that's right.

DROWNING IS LEADING CAUSE OF DEATH IN PARKS

Since 1975, drownings have been the leading cause of death in the National Park System, surpassing auto-related accidents.

What can be done about this needless loss of life? Plenty, say the people who compile and analyze the grim statistics.

While alcohol abuse, the danger of hypothermia, and other factors could spell trouble even for someone who is wearing a life jacket, survival chances for those who fall in the water increases dramatically if they are wearing one.

Cook also urged the use of approved personal flotation devices--life jackets--at all times when boating or water skiing.

Cook also noted that revenues of $732.5 million in February and $580.1 in March brought fiscal 1978 receipts to $4.3 billion, a 12 percent increase over the previous year.

Texas Ranks 46th In State Taxes

The current issue also contains reports on federal grants to Texas state and local governments and portions of President Carter's tax program that are of special interest to state and local governments.

Comptroller Bob Bullock reported Monday that Texas ranks 46th lowest among the states when comparing state taxes as a percent of personal income.

He added that Texas' neighbor states stacked up as follows: Oklahoma, 6.91 percent; Louisiana, 7.89; Arkansas, 7.16; and New Mexico, 9.34.

The analysis was part of Fiscal Notes, the monthly financial statement published by the Comptroller's Office.

Eggs, Vegetables Best Buys This Week

Eggs, fresh vegetables and store "specials" are among this week's best buys at Texas grocery markets.

Also, fryer chickens, melons and canned meats, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following: POULTRY - Eggs are currently one of the least-expensive sources of high-quality protein. Fryer chickens have moderate prices in spite of heavy demand. Whole birds are the best value on a price-per-pound basis. Look for economy prices on new-crop turkeys (small to medium sizes).

FRESH VEGETABLES - Best buys include corn, squash (yellow and zucchini), cabbage, carrots, oza, purplehull and blackeye peas, dry yellow onions and cucumbers.

Also, peppers, potatoes, and in some stores, broccoli and eggplant.

In buying corn, look for husks with bright green color and ears with plump kernels. Keep corn cool.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES - Look for features on canned and frozen grapefruit juice, canned tomatoes and tomato products, tuna fish, applesauce, cling peaches, pears and fruit cocktail, frozen concentrated orange juice supplies are low.

FRESH FRUITS - Best values include moderate prices on cantaloupe, watermelon and honeydew melons. In buying watermelon, make sure the lower side is yellowish rather than white or pale green. Other values include peaches, plums, cherries, nectarines and grapes - although prices vary, quality is generally good.

PORK - supplies are light, as usual this time of year. Features include smoked ham, picnic, some bacon, sliced quarter loin, and rib and loin-ends roasts.

GUARD AGAINST HEAT EXHAUSTION, SUNSTROKE, HEATSTROKE

Guard against heat exhaustion, heatstroke or sunstroke during the hot summer. The combined effects of sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration which result in loss of fluids and salts can produce a serious condition.

The body's normal reaction to high temperatures is to pool blood near the surface of the skin so that sweat is formed and then evaporated into the air releasing heat. This can cause a lack of sufficient blood in the vessels deep in the body if a person is exposed to high temperatures--especially combined with a high humidity--for a long period of time. Some symptoms of heat exhaustion include muscle cramps and weakness, and although the victim's temperature may be near normal, the pulse is often very weak. The skin is usually cool but very pale and moist.

Treatment consists of getting the person out of the sun immediately. Slowly sipping cool water will help to cool down the body. Heatstroke, or sunstroke, is more serious than heat exhaustion. It's often a medical emergency. A breakdown of the cooling system of the body which causes the body temperature to rise uncontrollably causes heatstroke. Because the sweating mechanism is not working, there is very little perspiration. One symptom of heatstroke is dry, red, hot skin and a fast, strong pulse. The victim may also be nauseated and have a headache. There is also a possibility of the person collapsing.

As in the case of heat exhaustion, the important thing is to get the victim out of the sun and to lower the temperature. Sponge the person with water, especially around the head. Avoid giving the victim stimulants such as tea or coffee because of the possibility of complications such as increased blood pressure. If the person is unconscious, give no fluids at all.

To prevent sunstroke or heatstroke, avoid being in the sun and heat for a long period of time, drink a sufficient amount of liquids and wear loose-fitting clothing such as cotton T-shirts which help to retain perspiration and keep the body cool. EGGS TO BOIL OR NOT TO BOIL

Did you know that eggs are nature's most complete form of protein? In fact, the protein in eggs is used as a standard for measuring other proteins.

Eggs are one of the least expensive proteins available. A dozen large eggs, 1-1/2 pounds at 79¢ per dozen would cost less than 55¢ per pound. Boiling, cooking the egg too long, at too high a temperature, causes the dark surface on the yolk. The excessive heat causes iron in the white and sulphur in the yolk to react, resulting in the dark color.

There are two methods for correctly preparing hard cooked eggs. Both are relatively easy to follow and provide good results.

First method: Place eggs in a pan and cover with at least one inch of water. Bring water to a boil rapidly, cover and remove from heat. Let stand for 15 minutes for large eggs. Adjust time accordingly for other sizes.

Second method: Place eggs in water that is already boiling. Reduce heat and simmer for 20 minutes. To avoid cracking while cooking, punch a small hole in the large end of the egg before placing it in boiling water. This little trick also helps make peeling easier. If you have trouble peeling hard cooked eggs, count it as a blessing in disguise. This is a sign of freshness!

To simplify peeling, avoid over-cooking and cool the eggs rapidly. Place the hot water off the eggs and set under cool running water. Rapid cooling also helps prevent dark surfaces on yolks. Crack the shell thoroughly before trying to peel. Start peeling at the large end. Place the egg under running water, or dip in cool water while peeling to ease the job.

If you cook enough eggs for several of your favorite dishes, proper storage is a must to keep them fresh. They can be stored, under refrigeration either in the shell or peeled, if you peel them, wrap in plastic wrap to avoid dehydration and discoloration. Hard-cooked eggs are delicious at any meal. Try them plain for breakfast or slice them and stir into your favorite cream gravy recipe. Serve "creamed eggs" over toast.

A tasty sandwich filling can be made from finely chopped, hard cooked eggs mixed with chopped pickles, a touch of onion, seasonings and mayonnaise. Hard cooked eggs make attractive, edible garnishes for vegetables or salads. Use your imagination to make flowers or decorative shapes. Spicy deviled eggs make a tasty treat for picnics, snacks, or meals. Vary the flavor with the addition of different seasonings. Take advantage of the bountiful supply, nutritious goodness and versatility of eggs.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

Young babies have good resistance to most germs. During a family cold epidemic, the baby is apt to have the mildest case.

Young people may be able to enjoy playing more in comfortable, washable, stretch denim playshorts, such as these from Mothercare, retailing specialists for mothers-to-be, babies, and children under 5. To go with the shorts is a lollipop patterned T-shirt.

Doctors say there is often no need to worry about thumb-sucking in infants or even in older children. This usually disappears of its own accord before the youngster starts school. It is sometimes done out of boredom, and interesting activities can keep a child from his thumb.

BAGWORM SEASON

Homeowners need to be on the alert for bagworms. I have had several calls recently about severe infestations of bagworms. Some of these heavy infestations can strip a tree very quickly and can cause death of the tree in a year or two.

Control of the bagworms while they are small is much easier and tree damage will be slight. Follar applications of Sevin, Malathion or Diazinon give good control. Make sure you cover all tree foliage when you spray. If only a few are present, you may prefer to pick them off by hand, just be sure to destroy the bagworms after picking them off. Double check in a few days to insure that you didn't miss any as repeat applications may be needed.

VEGETABLES BEAT SUMMER HEAT

Gray County gardeners can minimize harmful effects of hot weather stress in vegetables. In planning for vacation time away from home remember to arrange a caretaker for your garden—someone you can trust to carry out your instructions on irrigation and harvesting.

The usual high air temperatures of the Plains in July cause vegetable plants to give up water vapor from their leaves (transpire) rapidly. For example, fruiting tomato plants will require an irrigation of at least 1 to 1 1/2 inches every 3 days. This is equivalent to a volume of 60 - 90 gallons per 100 square feet. You can check the delivery rate of your watering system by running the water into a 5 gallon pail, taking note of the time required to fill it. Then you will know how long to run your system to get the desired volume for the size of your garden.

Never leave squash and cucumber fruits to mature on the plants. The plants will stop producing new fruits if you allow them to load up. Continue to pick all fruits as soon as they are large enough to eat.

Maintain a 3-inch layer of mulch to keep the soil temperature from rising above 75 degrees. A thick layer of mulch will save on water especially while your plants are young and prevent weed growth, too.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION
Special attention is directed to accident prevention on the farm and ranch during National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31.

A safe farm can help save lives and prevent a lot of suffering and disruption of family life. Also, it can help keep people on the job and doing more productive work.

Besides being attractive, a safe farm usually has facilities and equipment that are properly maintained for maximum safety and this same equipment will usually be more productive, efficient and economical. Yes, safety is indeed a good investment.

Rabies Virus Still Deadly

The line between rabies in animals and rabies in man is a fine one which is very rarely crossed.

But it can happen, says the Texas Department of Health. Consider this:

When 26-year-old Raul Medina Pantoja left his home in Guajuasto, Mexico, in late May, he didn't know he carried the rabies virus in his body.

He died on a Fort Bend County ranch in mid-June, still not knowing.

It took a Texas Department of Health Regional Laboratory at the Houston City Health Department to discover the death cause of the Mexican national.

His companions didn't recall any animal bites the young man had suffered but were certain Pantoja had received none after reaching Texas.

This was the second death in Texas in two years attributed to rabies acquired in Mexico. Last year a San Antonio youth died of rabies transmitted by a dog bite suffered while visiting relatives in Mexico.

A great increase in animal rabies this year is causing concern among Texas Department of Health officials who believe the case numbers may reach the highest total in more than 10 years.

Dr. Charles R. Webb Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services of the Texas Department of Health, said the threat to man is emphasized by the number of rabies cases in animals. Many Texas live in rural areas where rabies is endemic in wildlife, says Dr. Webb.

Through June, the TDH laboratories confirmed 311 cases of rabies in animals compared to 240 through the first six months of 1977.

With half a year still remaining, confirmed rabies cases are moving closer to the 389 confirmed cases last year. The 1977 total was the highest since 1966 when 436 cases occurred in Texas.

Some of the largest outbreaks of rabies this year have been in the North Central sections of Texas and in the coastal plains west and southwest of Houston.

The skunk remains the major source of rabies in Texas, says William R. Biderback, D.V.M., who heads the Zoonosis Control Division of the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health of TDH.

More than 70 percent of rabies has occurred in skunks, said Dr. Biderback. "Since skunks live in close proximity to man—particularly in rural areas and small towns—there is always the chance that a pet and a rabid skunk will make contact. Many pets have to be destroyed each year because of fights with skunks and other wild animals which have rabies," said Dr. Biderback.

Foy V. McCasland, D.V.M., Chief of the Veterinary Public Health Bureau, said Texans are oriented towards the outdoors and take pets along on picnics, weekend outings and vacation. "This greatly increases the risks to the pets and to their owners," said Dr. McCasland.

The best precaution a pet-owning family can take is to have their cats and dogs vaccinated against rabies, said Dr. McCasland. "This is especially true of farm and ranch families, since their pets are more likely to come in contact with wild animals.

People exposed to rabid animals may elect to take a long series of painful injections. The treatment may call for up to 23 injections.

In a recent Young County incident, 17 persons were treated with vaccine after a pet coyote puppy contracted rabies. In Uvalde County during June, nine persons exposed to rabies by a kitten, took the post exposure rabies prophylaxis.

And in the tragic case of Raul Medina Pantoja, who died of rabies, 10 close associates found it necessary to take the painful, 23-injection treatment to prevent them from contracting rabies from the human exposure.

Most baby birds have a hard little knob at the end of their beaks called an egg tooth, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. They use the knob to crack the shell of the egg so they can wriggle out.

How much food does a baby need? The amount of breast milk or formula and food a child requires depends on many factors such as size, activity and rate of growth. During the first year growth is rapid, food needs are high and baby's appetite is usually good. After the introductory stage, a baby will generally eat 1/3 to 1/2 a jar of a new strained food per meal. An older baby, especially a very active one, may eat a full jar. Parents should be forewarned, however, that a baby's rapid growth does not continue. Sometime around that important first birthday, you may notice that your baby wants less to eat. Don't worry about this. This drop in appetite is a natural way to adjust food needs.

Farmers Are 'Safety Managers'

"Manage to prevent farm and ranch accidents" is the theme for this year's observance of Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, designated July 25-31, announced Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Vice President for the Farm and Ranch Section of the Texas Safety Association. Nelson emphasized that safety management is a responsibility of every farm and ranch manager interested in an efficient and profitable farm or ranch operation. Accidents cost money - in property damage, medical care and in lost production time. Accident prevention is an essential management function.

What is the job of a farm "safety manager?" Nelson explained that a farm or ranch operator must first set up a mental, if not a written, plan of action. He must consider the kinds of hazards common to his operation and consider the abilities or limitations of the people doing the work. Next, he should inspect his operations periodically and look for unsafe conditions. Workers may also call attention to a faulty mechanism, a loose guard, or other dangerous situations. These hazards should be corrected promptly, said the engineer. Farm managers should also watch for unsafe practices that can lead to accidents and insist that workers adhere to and understand the reasons for the use of safe work procedures.

Nelson emphasized that "safety management includes getting your equipment ready for planting or harvest well in advance." Also, "Follow your own rules and set an example for your workers," advised the engineer. Further points suggested by Nelson included the following: Keep yourself posted on new developments in farm and ranch safety and accident prevention. Watch for and participate in short courses on safety subjects. Read farm magazine articles on accident prevention. Also, post clippings for others to see. For more information, contact: Melanie Guerrero, Texas Safety Association, (512) 451-7421.

Today, more than ever before, farmers and ranchers must get the most out of their capital and labor, and deal successfully with the ups and downs of the marketplace. An accident resulting in personal injury or equipment damage can often make the difference between a profit and a loss. Safety management is as important to every farm and ranch operation as is other aspects of production management. The Governor noted that although there is no easy answer to the prevention of all accidents, many, if not most, accidents can be controlled through the use of safety work procedures and the use of safety equipment. Farmers and ranchers must keep informed about accident prevention methods, seek to acquire equipment with safety built into their design, and know applicable safe practices as well as the requirements of laws concerning employee health and safety. During Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31, and every week during the coming year, Governor Bristcoe urged every farmer and rancher to make accident prevention a part of every activity. Further, he urged persons, organizations, and suppliers who work with or serve agricultural producers to assist with every possible means to reduce the deaths and injuries resulting from farm and ranch accidents. For more information, contact: Melanie Guerrero, Texas Safety Association, (512) 451-7421.

NEWS Of Boxing

There's great news for someone who has a great fight film. Boxing books say a film was made of Greb winning the 1922 light heavyweight championship from Tunney. Now, former handball champion Jim Jacobs is anxious to pay the owner of that film a "liberal sum" and to arrange for an article about the film, its present owner and the transaction to be sent to newspapers around the country. To find out how much such a film is worth, write to Jim Jacobs, 9 East 40th St., New York, N.Y. 10016.

Lovett Memorial Library Notes

A PLACE FOR NOAH
By Josh Greenfield
By LISA PATMAN,
McLean News Staff
Josh Greenfield has written this book as a sequel to "A Child Called Noah." In the sequel he writes of his severely brain-damaged son. The book takes the form of a journal that Greenfield kept from July 1971 until January 1977, covering from age five to eleven in Noah's life. Greenfield adroitly expresses the hopes and anguish of life with a brain-damaged child. He details fully the emotionally shattering realization of having to place the child in an environment which can care for Noah. The book deals with the frustrations of the red tape involved in trying to find a suitable place for Noah, of the deplorable conditions in some state institutions, of the inadequacies of both state and private institutions in providing the necessary therapeutic care and education. "A Place for Noah" shows clearly the staggering burden imposed upon the parents of handicapped children. It also gives a moving account of the courage, patience, and tenacity of the Greenfields, including Noah's brother, Karl. Their decision that Noah must be placed in an institution is truly heart-rending. Josh Greenfield is a noted writer. His work includes "Harry and Tonto", "To For A Master of Magic" and the plays "Landestine" and "I Have A Dream." He was nominated for an academy award for the screenplay of "Harry and Tonto." "A Place for Noah" is available at Lovett Memorial Library.

Haynes Injured in One-Car Accident

Thacker Haynes received minor cuts and bruises in a one-car accident Friday night north of McLean. Haynes was returning home about 11:30 p.m. when he apparently went to sleep at the wheel. The 1977 Chevrolet pickup went into a ditch, hit a telephone pole, and tore down a stretch of barbed wire fence before coming to rest. Haynes crawled from the wreck and walked over two miles to his home. He was not hospitalized. The pickup received extensive damage.

The average baby has a hard time coordinating his eyes efficiently in his early months, so very young babies often have a tendency to look a little cross-eyed.

Four McLean boys have been named to the Eastern Panhandle All-Star baseball team. Eric Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stokes, serves as first baseman for the team. Monday night the All-Stars played Childress there, defeating the team 11-1. Tuesday night they again played at Childress, but the results were not available at press time. If the Eastern Panhandle All-stars won at Childress Tuesday night, they will go to Borger for their next game.

THE BASICS OF BONDS
Bonds are often misunderstood even by those who invest regularly in the stock market. But they offer some attractive rewards.

Basically, if you buy bonds, you're lending your money at a specified rate of interest, with the debt repaid some time in the future. Federal and local governments, corporations and even foreign governments issue bonds.

Bonds are generally easy to buy and sell. Many brokerage houses deal in them. So do specialized firms. Just like stocks, bonds are bought and sold on the open market. That's why their price can go up and down. For a free list of bond funds, write to the Investment Company Institute, Dept. T, 1775 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006

Electricity American scientists have developed some interesting ways for the rest of us to get more electricity at a low cost.
 One of the most spectacular of these is the Liquid Metal Fast Breeder Reactor.
 Breeder reactor plants produce electricity and make their own fuel as they consume it, extending our uranium resources so that they can last for hundreds of years.

NEWS OF SCIENCE

SCIENTISTS HAVE FOUND
 a way to help utilities supply Americans with more electricity for less money.
 These plants are still in the experimental stage. In fact, it is up to Congress and the Administration how soon we develop them. But once they can be put into commercial use, they could preserve our environment, since they're comparatively non-polluting, and obviously could extend our resources. They will also improve our economy.
 Economic experts point out that adequate supplies of energy are necessary to decrease inflation trends and to increase employment trends.
 The almost unlimited supply of fuel like that obtained with the fast breeder reactor should provide all the energy we need to improve the quality of life for all Americans for generations to come.

pet's WINS

Being left alone in a car may be your dog's pet peeve--and with good reason! The sun beating down on metal and glass can make a furnace of the car and a dog can actually suffocate from it. When you must leave your pet in a parked car, be sure to park in a place that will stay shady. Leave windows on both sides of the car at least partially opened. If you'll be away for any length of time, be sure to leave a pan of water on the floor.
 Skin irritations and diseases are often a gnawing nuisance to dogs as well as men. At some time or another, your dog may get moist skin eczema, hot spot sores or excessive itching resulting in scratching. His skin should be treated as gently and carefully as your own. A painless skin medicine, Sulfodene Medication for Dogs, has been developed to treat a variety of canine skin disturbances.
 A free booklet, "What Every Dog Owner Should Know," is available by writing Booklet Distributors of America, 201 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Did You Ever Try To Draw Using This Method?

On account of the revival meetings, there will be no singing at McLean Sunday afternoon, according to Fred Staggs, president of the McLean class.

 One of the most delightful affairs of the season was staged at the Everett Watkins home on last Monday evening, when Miss Ruby Cook and Mrs. L.V. Lonsdale entertained, honoring three of McLean's most popular visiting young matrons, Mrs. E.S. Hall of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Roy Rice of Ellsworth, Kans., and Mrs. Lear M. Jones of Childress.

Very Easy to Do. Try It.

FIRST you make a long line. On one end of the line you place an oblong, then a circle up in the left hand corner of the oblong. From here on you find it an easy matter to make a picture of old Towser, the faithful watch dog.
