Community Wide Blood Drive To Be Held Dec. 1

The McLean service clubs have united in support of a community wide blood drive. The citizens of McLean will be hearing about the drive from: The Lion's Club, Roping Club Senior Citizens, Beta Sigma Phi, Masonic Lodge, V.F.W., Firemen, Mother's Club, V.F.W. Auxiliary, McLean Student Council, McLean Public Schools. These organizations are each contributing time, money and effort to make this drive a success for the community.

The blood that is donated during this drive will be credited the McLean Account at the Coffee Memorial Blood Center, Inc. This blood will be available for use whenever the McLean Blood chairman Bob Sherrod, or the co-chairman, Derryel Herndon, notify the blood center. The Blood Centers insure the donors, their spouses, and dependent children, that the blood that they give can be credited to their future hospital bill should they have a need for it in the future.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center, Inc., will have representatives at the Senior Citizens Building on Wednesday, Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for anyone that wants to donate blood to their community account. Donor requirements are: Age 18-65 (inclusive), 17 years old with parents written permission, you must wait at least two months between donations. There are some illnesses that will prevent some from being able to donate. Each donor will be given a partial physical before he is allowed to give blood. This is a precaution to protect the donor and insure his ability to donate blood.

McLean has recently had three citizens that have required blood transfusions. You remember Mrs. Carol Alluon, Dave Jefferson and Mrs. Judy Rollison, have all received blood transfusions within the last three months. During the year of 1976 there have been several needs for blood. Please take the time to HELP.

SHERRY ROLLISON

Sherry Rollison Is Accident Victim

Funeral services for Sherry Ann Rollison, 12, who was killed Saturday in a three-vehicle crash about 2 miles west of Alanreed on I-40, were held at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) in the First Baptist Church.

Officiating was Rev. Buell Wells, and Rev. Z. A. Myers. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery in McLean by Lamb Funeral Home.

A Mexican national, Manuel Ortega, 20, is charged with failing to stop and render aid at the scene of the accident, which occurred about 6 a.m. Saturday. He remains in Gray County jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond.

Her mother Judy Rollison, remains in critical condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, but her father is reported in satisfactory condition.

The Ortega vehicle reportedly crashed into the rear of the west-bound Rollison vehicle and caused it to cross the center median where it struck a car driven by Timothy Lindbloom, 26. Lindbloom is reported in satisfactory condition at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

Sherry Rollison was born in Mount Vernon, Ohio. She moved to McLean from Houston with her parents in 1969 and was a sixth grader at McLean Elementary School. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include her parents; one brother, Jerry of Amarillo, a sister, Teresa and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Rollison of McLean and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Benson of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hill Valerie and Jennifer of Amarillo.

Assembly Of God To Show Picture

Sound of the Trumpet, one of the most unusual and meaningful religious motion pictures ever produced, will be shown at the McLean Assembly of God Church, Saturday, Nov. 27 at 8 p.m., with no admission being charged.

The film story follows Aden Cosmol, a television network newscaster, who comes upon an unusual story lead. One of his crews, on routine assignment, brings in footage from a Jesus Festival. So, Cosmol previews clips of young people who believe in the eminent return of Jesus Christ to planet earth.

Amused at first, the newsmen decides to spoof the story. An avalanche of mail response, however, indicated a degree of interest and awareness previously unknown to him.

As a result, he plunges into a serious investigation of the subject which takes him across the country and includes a survey in Israel.

The result is that Cosmol, a avowed agnostic, finds himself confronted with spiritual realities he had never before considered himself viable.

Eighty-five minutes in length, released in color. Sound of the Trumpet is being shown by thousands of churches and organizations as a vital document of events into today's world. It was produced by Ken Anderson Films.

The pastor, Z. A. Myers, invited everyone to attend.

Cotton Trading Market Is Light

Trading on the local market was light this week according to James A. McFalls, acting in charge of the Memphis, Texas Cotton Clasing Office. Supplies of new crop cotton were limited as inclement weather hampered harvesting. Offerings were in mixed lots of mainly new crop cotton. Offered prices on the few lots sold ranged generally from 3300 to 3500 points over the loan. Physical prices ranged from 68.00 to 70.00 cents per pound for lots containing mostly grades 42, 32, 41, and 31, staple 30 and longer, and premium mikes. A few lower grade, shorter staple lots with various micronaire readings brought 64.00 to 66.00 cents per pound.

Approximately 22,000 samples were classed at Memphis for the week ending, Friday, November 19. Grade 32 predominated in this weeks classing accounting for 26 percent. Grade 42 made up 24 per cent while grade 41 made up 13 percent. Staple 31 comprised 40 per cent, staple 32 made up 33 per cent, while staple 30 made up 12 per cent.

Micronaire readings were in the desirable range on 70 per cent of the samples tested while only 3 percent miked 3.4 and lower. Pressley results indicated that 90 percent of the samples tested had a breaking strength of 80,000 psi and above. Average for the week was 86,000 psi.

As Thanksgiving time rolls around, all of us need to stop and remember what all we have to be thankful for. Even though it may have been a dry year for a lot of farmers and ranchers and prices for most products are low, there are a lot of good things all of us can be appreciative of. Remember we do enjoy a good life and we do have a lot of freedom that many people around the world cannot enjoy.

If we will but look around, we can usually find someone who is not nearly as fortunate as we are. So remember, give thanks for all our many blessings. Let us all have the optimism of most farmers for a better year next time around.

Tanning hides can become an enjoyable and profitable hobby. And with the deer season under way, now is a good time for interested individuals to get started.

A minimum of tools and chemicals are needed. No formulas for tanning are foolproof, and a variety of different methods have been used throughout the years. Most important are a lot of hard work, care, patience and close observation.

To begin with, all hides should be fleshed---that is, excess meat should be removed. If the tanning process cannot be started within one day, hides and pelts must be cured or treated to prevent deterioration. Most small skins can be dried easily by placing them belly-flat to dry. The skin can be tacked to a board with the flesh side out.

All large pelts and deer hides should be salted and all ragged edges should be trimmed. Fresh, clean salt should be sprinkled on all parts of the skin side of the hide. The salt should be rubbed into the cut edges, neck, legs and any wrinkles; any unsalted spot is unprotected.

Several hides may be salted and piled on top of each other, hair side down. Liquid from the hides should drain away from the pile. In 10 to 14 days the hides can be hung up to dry thoroughly. If salted again, the hides may be stored until April or May but should not be kept over the summer.

The first step in tanning is to get the skin completely softened. This can be done by soaking it in water. Time of soaking will depend on the condition of the skin.

All soaking and tanning should be done in a wooden, crock or plastic container that holds 50 to 100 gallons. Metal containers react with the tanning chemicals.

Once the skin is soft, tissue and fat on the flesh side must be removed. This can be done by alternately soaking and scraping the skin.

When the skin is almost soft, place it in lukewarm water with an ounce of soda or borax to the gallon. After a final scraping (scudding with the back edge of a knife), rinse the skin thoroughly in lukewarm water and squeeze out the excess water.

If buckskin is desired, the hide must be dehaired. This involves putting the hide in a solution of one quart of lime to a gallon water

TRY THIS RICE DESSERT—The Texas Department of Agriculture home economist recommends Million Dollar Rice Salad for upcoming holiday meals. An attractive dessert, it features rice, oranges and pecans enriched with cream cheese and whipped cream.

TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

Texas Department of Agriculture - John C. White, Commissioner

MILLION DOLLAR RICE SALAD

- 1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 4 Tbsp. sugar
- 1 Tbsp. mayonnaise
- 2 cups cooked rice
- 12 maraschino cherries, halved
- 2 Texas oranges
- 1 (10 oz.) pkg. miniature marshmallows
- ½ pint whipping cream
- 1 cup chopped pecans

Combine cream cheese, 2 tablespoons of sugar and mayonnaise. Blend until smooth. Peel oranges, separate into sections and cut sections into bite-size pieces. Add rice, cherries, oranges and marshmallows to cream cheese mixture, mixing well. Whip cream, sweetening with remaining 2 tablespoons of sugar. Fold whipped cream and pecans into mixture. Chill well. Yield: 8-10 servings.

for 6 to 10 days. The hair should then slide off easily, but to make sure the hide should be in a solution of one ounce of lactic or one pint of vinegar to 10 gallons of water gets the skin ready for tanning.

The tanning process can be handled in one of four ways—alcohol and turpentine, salt and alum, chrome glutaraldehyde.

The salt and alum tanning process is an old method that is relatively expensive and is ideal for a beginner. If the process is properly done, the skin will have some stretch and flexibility. The recurring problem with this method is that skins often become stiff and hard and must be reworked sometimes retanned.

The alcohol and turpentine tanning process works well for small fur skins such as rabbit and squirrel.

Chrome tannage produces a durable buckskin but is a more difficult process. All chemicals used should be quality products and should be precisely weighed. The specific water content should be measured. The solution should be mixed at least two days before use.

Glutaraldehyde tanning produces the best tanned product. However, this process involves rather costly chemicals.

Once the skin has been tanned, it must be oiled and finished.

More details on each of the tanning processes are provided in "Hobby Tanning of Deer Hides and Small Fur Skins." Anyone interested in a copy can call or come by the county Extension office, Courthouse Annex in Pampa.

SOIL TEST FOR FERTILIZER DECISIONS

To take the guesswork out of using fertilizer, a soil test, says a soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Each sample should be taken every two to four years except under high annual fertilization and intensive production. Fall is a good time for soil sampling since it allows plenty of time to get results and to make plans for obtaining needed fertilizer.

Growth doesn't stop at maturity.

Everyone knows U.S. Savings Bonds reach full maturity in just five years. But they don't stop there.

Bonds keep accumulating interest year after year after year after year.

So if you're enrolled in a Payroll Savings Plan at work (or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you save), you don't have to rush out and cash your Bonds at maturity.

You can sit back and watch them keep growing.

Market Report

Sharp prices drops make frozen chicken livers a star attraction at Texas grocery stores currently.

Excessive supplies of frozen chicken livers from several factors, Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, says.

Less demand for them by fast-food outlets, which buy more and more chicken without giblets--and the fact that the U. S. Department of Agriculture provides poultry without giblets for school lunches--are two reasons for the abundance, she said.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

At other meat sections, beef and pork prices are lower than at this time last year.

Many cuts are featured at special prices, so it's a good time to buy for the freezer.

Bacon's lower prices are an added highlight on the pork-buying scene.

At vegetable counters most economical choices--at top quality--are collards, mustard, turnips and greens, dry yellow onions, cabbage and carrots.

Other top choices include white potatoes, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts.

Also, two hard-shell squash varieties, acorn and butternut, are lower in price, making them a good choice.

Tangelos and apples top the quality-economy fruit supply list, while bananas, pears and grapes are other economical choices.

Forecasters predict a near record crop for Navel oranges and grapefruit--which should mean reasonable prices and a real taste treat for those items.

Dairy features are more numerous--with special emphasis on milk, half and half, sour cream, whipping cream and a variety of cheeses.

A WORTHY EXAMPLE

It was Joshua who said, "Choose you this day whom ye will serve . . . but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. 24:15).

Joshua, the successor of Moses, stood tall and firm before the Israelites. He sought to confirm the faith of his brethren and to encourage their obedience to God. There was no egotism in his character, but there was grim determination, unswerving faith, and indomitable courage. These were very necessary to the conquest of the promised land, and to the influential leadership of Israel. It is said to Joshua's everlasting credit, "And Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, and which had known all the works of the Lord, that he had done for Israel" (Josh. 24:31).

It is especially commendable and so very praiseworthy that he not only resolved to serve the Lord, but that he also fully intended that his family should serve the Lord. How desperately needed are such fathers in our day! Paul wrote, "and, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." (Eph. 6:4).

Joshua and all Israel had the privilege of choice. Just as it was in the days of Joshua, so now people must whom they will serve. God has no draftees in His army . . . He has only volunteers!

If we have the wisdom to make the right choice, the determination to live up to that choice, the courage to take the lead for our own soul's sake, and for the sake of those whom we might influence, especially our families, and the faith to do just what the Lord requires; we shall be happier here and happy throughout eternity.

Let us repeat the resolution of Joshua until it becomes a part of our lives; "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. 24:15).

FPC To Introduce Four Day Schedule

Frank Phillips College will introduce a four-day schedule for students who desire it, in the coming spring semester. The new schedule will be on a limited scale, and in addition to the existing five-day schedule. On the new plan, classes will meet on Monday through Thursday, giving the student an opportunity to have a three-day weekend.

The action was brought about in an effort to respond to a variety of class scheduling differences and needs within the student body, and after a special assembly during which W. D. Gasaway, dean of the college, spoke to the students, who then discussed the advantages and disadvantages and voted on it.

During the spring semester, many students will be able to carry a full load and arrange their schedules so that all classes will be completed by 1 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The result of having each afternoon free of classes, plus the three-day weekend, should be to the advantage of those students who must work part time, who commute, or who live in a dorm and should like to go home more often.

It is estimated that approximately one-half the student body will take advantage of the new schedule.

The college is planning to extend the multiplicity concept even further next fall, so that the student who wishes to work two, three, or four days a week may do so and still carry a full load.

HAMMAN REJOINS EXTENSION STAFF

Dr. Phillips J. Hamman, who previously served with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for 10 years as an entomologist before entering the pest control industry, has rejoined the Extension staff at Texas A&M University. Hamman will be working primarily in the area of urban insect control, including structural pests. He fills the position vacated by Genaro Lopez. For the past two years Hamman headed up the educational program of the National Pest Control Association headquartered at Vienna, Va.

Texas Department of Health Resources
Fratris L. Duff M.D., Director

When an accident occurs, getting emergency medical assistance to the scene rapidly can mean the difference between life and death. That's one reason the Texas Department of Health Resources is interested in that phenomenon of personal communications gadgetry: the Citizens Band radio.

During the past two years, the number of licensed CB radio operators has grown to an estimated 8 million in the United States. According to a spokesman for the TDHR Emergency Medical Services Division, the sheer number of people who have CB radios in their homes as well as in their cars has sparked the interest of public health officials.

Dennis Raines, coordinator of the EMS Division's CB Radio Project, explained, "We started realizing about a year ago the potential that Citizens Band radio would have" in guiding emergency medical help to accident scenes more rapidly. Raines said "We have tried to put together a program to standardize reporting procedures by a motorist to law enforcement agencies as well as emergency medical facilities around the state."

Raines said that the CB project has four objectives, the first of which is to standardize reporting procedures. The second is to promote the use of CB radios to avert impending disasters, or at least to warn the community. Highway travelers who are given this advance warning may be able to seek shelter from a major storm, or choose a safer and less congested route around a major accident scene.

A third objective, according to Raines, is to encourage the use of CB radio during community wide emergencies. Volunteer equipped with radios can keep in touch with public safety and emergency personnel, control traffic and crowds, and in some cases can serve in place of conventional communications systems--such as which may be out of service during a severe storm, hurricane or other disaster. Amateur radio operators have served in this capacity for many years, but the number of CB radios users is vastly greater than the number of hams.

Finally, the fourth objective is to educate the public, Raines said, "to try to get them to realize that CB radio can be used for other things than just having fun and evading traffic tickets." This educational effort is aimed not only at licensed CB operators, but at the general public as well, since in an emergency situation they may need to rely on a CB'er for help.

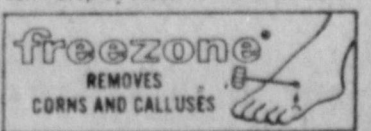

Raines said he sees the possibility of a state wide network of emergency monitors using CB radios at some future time. "Citizens Band clubs are getting their people to monitor the FCC-designated emergency channel, which is channel 9," Raines said. "We see other organizations such as REACT and Dallas Community Watch cropping up all over."

REACT is a nationwide organization of local volunteers who monitor the emergency channel and relay messages to the police, fire department, highway patrol, or other emergency services. Although each local REACT team operates autonomously, a state REACT Council has been formed in Texas to coordinate the local groups and to promote the further development of the REACT program. Dallas Community Watch, which is affiliated with REACT, was established a number of years ago for similar purposes, with sponsorship by the Dallas police department.

In carrying out the state health agency's CB project, Raines meets frequently with local CB clubs, and REACT groups, as well as civic organizations, PTA's and any other interested group of citizens, to explain the usefulness of CB radios in emergencies.

He advises all CB operators to seek help by radio in an emergency. In urban areas, he said, there is usually someone monitoring channel 9. In rural areas, Raines suggested trying various channels until contact is established with a base station (that is, a station in someone's home or office), from which a message can be relayed to the appropriate authorities. In some cases, it may be possible to contact Texas Dept. of Public Safety officers on channel 9, since some of the Highway Patrol officers have their own CB units in their patrol cars.

Turkey Time ... Wheat Pasture Prospects ... Lamb Feeding ... Milk Production Increases.

As you enjoy your Thanksgiving turkey this holiday time, consider how much that old bird has changed. Time was when turkey was tough and not too tasty.

The turkey you eat now is delicious, nutritious, and high in protein. It's not only good for you, but it tastes good, too. All this improvement did not come by accident.

Turkey rations are scientifically blended to produce a top quality meat. The turkey is bred to specifications which result in a meatier bird.

Because of these changes, turkey is a year-round meat that can be enjoyed any time. But Thanksgiving time is traditionally turkey time, and is an especially good buy during the holiday season.

Texas ranks fourth in the nation in production of turkeys. The leading county in Texas is McLennan, which produced 10 per cent of the state's turkeys last year.

Other counties in the top ten are Mason, Bell, Gonzales, Gillespie, Hill, Leon, Brown, San Saba, and DeWitt.

WHEAT PASTURE PROSPECTS in Texas in the Panhandle and Low Plains are below the status of a year ago. About 25 per cent of the seeded acreage had sufficient growth to pasture compared with 50 per cent two years ago. Available forage was rated generally fair to poor with less than ten per cent actually being pastured.

Range and pasture feed conditions in the state range from very poor and in some cases, extreme drouth, to estimates of good to excellent. Nationwide, range feed condition was set at 66 per cent, which is 11 points under a year ago.

SHEEP FEEDERS in the state with a capacity of 2,000 head or more had 70,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of Nov. 1, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

This is 31 per cent below the same month a year ago, but is three per cent above last month. Placements during October totaled 33,000 head.

Current intentions to market include 22,000 this month, 20,000 in December and 14,000 during January.

December and January intentions are incomplete at this time because additional lambs could be placed on feed and marketed during these months.

OCTOBER MILK PRODUCTION in Texas is estimated at 275,000,000 pounds. This is eight per cent above October a year ago and two per cent above the previous month.

Milk production at 860 pounds per cow showed a significant increase. Production per cow averaged 80 pounds more this past October than a year ago and it was up 20 pounds from September.

Preliminary farm prices for all wolesale milk for October was estimated at $11.20 per hundredweight.
