Verdant Beauty.

To the Easterner the scenery that presents itself just now in Crockett county is grand. It is a beautiful sight to look upon the hills and fertile valleys which abound in the county.

His Visit Cut Short.

Mr. F. W. Dudley took the stage Friday for his home in Houston, having been called hence on account of the serious illness of his daughter, Susie, who is reported as having typhoid fever.

Sells Half Interest.

Dr. Bascom Lynn has sold half interest in the Dixie Telephone Co., to Norman K. Weaver of Ozona. Mr. Weaver is now at Bronte where he is superintending the completion of the line.

Teamsters Delayed.

The freight haulers between here and San Angelo have been delayed by the late rains. Many of them have been on the road two weeks and over.

Another Boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, of Ft. Concho, Saturday July 14th, a son.—San Angelo Press.

Hurt By a Cow.

Mr. Early Baggett while doctoring a cow a few days since the animal threw her head around and the point of one of her horns made a rake up his left leg, making a disagreeable wound, from which he has been limping since.

Gasoline Was Scarce.

On account of the inadequate supply of gasoline last week the electric lights were not regular, and the run was short. But that has been remedied as the freighter bringing the gasoline from Angelo got in Saturday and from now on—or as long as the gasoline holds out—we may expect good lights and on time.

Turned Carpenter.

Mr. Ernest Williams has turned carpenter, indeed, his ability as an architect and builder so suddenly developed, created a wonder in the minds of his intimate friends, and caused a ripple of jealousy among the professional carpenters of the city who viewed his work with critical eyes.

Do You Itch?

The cup of human misery is never quite full until some form of itchen skin disease is added. Then it overflows. Hunt's Cure is a specific for any itching trouble ever known. One application relieves. One box is guaranteed to cure any one case.

Heading for Comstock.

Messrs. Midkiff & Bennett have their line in operation as far as Mrs. Bob Metcalf's ranch. They are heading for Comstock via Juno.

It's Fine.

C. M. Johnson, Louisville, Ky., writes: "I have used your Hunt's Cure and it is fine. We have many similar letters. Hunt's Cure is a strictly guaranteed remedy for any variety of skin diseases. It stops itching instantaneously. Sold by Midkiff & Caudle.

Will Make Improvements.

Mr. J. Brooks went to San Angelo the latter part of last week where he placed a bill for lumber for an addition to his residence. Mr. W. L. Hair, now at Eldorado, will superintend the work.

Quit the Grocery Business.

Messrs. Harry & Paul Perner have sold their stock of groceries to Mr. L. B. Cox, and will run a strictly dry goods, clothing and gent's furnishing business. They will partition their store house in two distinct departments only using one portion of it for their business.

Will Be Settled Saturday.

Next Saturday will settle the question as to who will be the choice of the people for the various offices, and the way that the boys are pressing their claims is no joke.

Best of All.

R. J. Mayher, No. 406 South Clark St., Chicago, writes as follows: "I have kept and used your Hunt's Lightning Oil for the last ten years in my family. It is the only kind to have and the best of all. It cures Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Sprains, Aches, Pains, Stings and Bites. It kills Chiggers, too. Sold by Midkiff & Caudle.

Vote honestly and you will vote right.

THOMAS CAMPBELL buttons are being worn by numerous Crockett voters.

The American congress is taking a rest until it re-convenes in December.

CROCKETT COUNTY will elect a good set of officers even if everybody don't get their choice.

Be of good cheer. Ask and it shall be given unto him. This is all right scripture—sometimes.

An oil mill for San Angelo? Better put your money into something that will pay a dividend.

A political pruning will take place next Saturday. The knives are sharpened and ready for business.

The ballot is a free American institution and every legal voter has the right to cast his vote just as he pleases.

Spee up, boys, it's your last chance, remember the law and keep a strict account of the manner in which you spend your loose change.

From present indications Hon. T. M. Campbell will go into the state Democratic convention with a plurality sufficient to give the nomination for governor.

M. L. BROOKS, congressman from the 2nd district, will be returned by an overwhelming majority notwithstanding the trickery that has been used to defeat him.

Hog raising would be a profitable business in Crockett county. But very few hogs are grown here, and pork is almost an unknown article of merchandise.

Quite an earthquake shock was felt at El Paso one day last week. But that shock was light to the one that will shake the state from center to circumference next Saturday night.

SOME of the large ranches in this and adjoining counties are being cut up and put into farms. In a few years West Texas will be the home of thousands of sturdy and prosperous farmers.

SAN ANGELO is fast passing from the precincts of a town to that of a city. There are considerable talk of an electric street car service being inaugurated, and enterprises of interest are starting up on all sides.

OZONA is above the average towns in many respects, and it is growing gradually. Other improvements will be made as time goes by. Side walks would add beauty as well as comfort to the town.

Two more days and there—well, many a poor fellow will be heard to remark: "They just simply told me something that would have made George Washington blush, had he heard them."

If the money expended in conducting the various campaigns in Texas had been utilized in needed improvements several thousand miles of railway could have been built and several seaports opened up.

It is a time-honored Democratic custom to give a man the second term in office where he has proven faithful to his trust. That is one reason why we are so anxious to see M. L. Brooks of the second congressional district re-elected.

JUSTICE HOLMES of the supreme court in order that his mind be free from distraction of information and misinformation that probably would impair his efficiency and wisdom of a jurist, does not allow himself to read the newspapers.

A CLEAN CANVASS.

The weekly perusal of our country exchanges is a pleasure, and we are always glad to note the various business advertisements—the life-givers to a newspaper—but when we observe an article marked "advertisement" depicting a "murky" character in a fellow-candidate's political career it makes a shudder of disgust creep over our corporal system. In many counties in Texas we notice men—candidates—throwing dirty, polluted mud at each other through the columns of their local paper, and many of them will fail to reach the goal on account of such utterances. "The still sow gets the slop," is an all right saying in political contests. When you hear a candidate uttering remarks of a criminal nature against his opponent you can set him down as a slanderer unfit for any public trust, and should be thus branded by the voters. It takes proof to convict any one, and if guilty the court records will show it. No gentlemen will try to get into office by vilifying his opponent. Such a scheme is degrading in the extreme and each and every office-seeker who has resorted to such a style of canvassing as that should "get it in the neck" good and hard at the polls. A clean canvass is commendable, and it is with pride that the Enterprise can speak of the high-toned and gentlemanly manner in which Crockett county candidates have conducted their campaigns, at least, if there been the merest jar or a wee bit of a tittle among them from the least to the greatest it has never been informed of it. But Crockett county is an exception to the rule in many cases, as our numerous exchanges testify.

The yearly migration of covered wagons or "prairie schooners," has begun, a number having passed through Kemp this week. They are usually carrying people who are hunting for a "better country," which they will never find.—Kemp Voice.

That is the case everywhere. The "better country" is always "a little further on."

People away from here do not realize just what a delightful summer we are having in San Antonio this year. Breezes temper the heat of the noonday, the nights are delightfully long and cool, and the sweet freshness of the early morning makes cover necessary. Rivers and study are the forms of amusement to be had, and the frog-like summer whistler is stepping high.—San Antonio Express.

Same up in this neck of Mesquite-grass and sleek stock.

On, for a day on the banks of some picturesque stream, where nature has carpeted the earth with a beautiful green; where the butterfly wings and the chiggers do creep, we lay ourselves down and go gently to sleep. With wigglers in a can and a jug of any old brand, the world would look prosperous and bright—away out there in the fresh country air with not a print of office in sight.—Killeen Herald.

Dear Brother Hoover, we hope you will recover—for trying to make a rhyme at this sultry time; but aside from the rule if you can borrow a mule to ride on the trip, you are free to take a tip from either jug or bottle—but don't pull too hard on the throttle, at this particular season—and will as a reason why an editor should not worry himself into a flurry just because he doesn't feel like he couldn't catch even an eel, for a mosquito would be sure to light when he's in a tight spot nose or cheek while angling on the bank of the creek.

Fifth Sunday Meeting Postponed.

On account of the primary election Saturday the Fifth Sunday meeting of the Concho Valley Baptist Association that was to have convened in Eldorado tomorrow night has been postponed. A Missionary contribution was taken up Sunday at the Baptist church and will be sent direct to the state Association. The delegates, lay members and ministers were cognizant of the fact that crow instead of chicken will be served next Sunday, and they having a preference for the latter, the meeting was postponed.

A Nursery Needed.

A nursery is needed to assist in developing the fruit industry of the county, which is destined at no distant day to be one of the leading fruit counties in the state.

Has a Western Appearance.

The publisher of the Enterprise now has the appearance of a westerner. He is minus his Auburn flow that has for a number of years adorned his face. Sunday morning when he went to the post office he was met by that wide-awake land man, Mr. John Young, who cornered him off with a view of selling him a ranch, thinking he was a prospector. His strange appearance created a suspicion in most every one he met, but they soon discovered their mistake. But it is his desire to become a full-fledged westerner and the only way to achieve that end was to bring his razor into use. He is now greeted as a westerner. The Ozona way of going things.

A Card To Voters.

Editor Enterprise.—I wish you would say to the voters of Crockett county that I am trying to see them all personally, but may not succeed in doing so before the election. I hope, however, that they will remember that I am in the race for Sheriff of Crockett county, and do what they can for me.

Respectfully,
W. D. PARKER.

A Numerous Ancestry.

The San Angelo Standard gives an interesting account of a child who has a remarkably numerous ancestry. The child is reported as having seen—and she is only one year old—two sets of grandparents, two great-grandfathers and three great-grandmothers, one great-grandmother more than any other child ever possessed. But it must be remembered that the little one is living in an age of the world equal to almost any emergency.

Negro is the Word.

That southern negro educator, Booker T. Washington, upon being asked which was the proper thing to say in speaking of his race, "negroes" or "members of the colored race," answered that he had always used the word "negro" in speaking of his race, and he thought it was the proper thing to say negro in speaking of them. He says, "all classes have called us negroes and we cannot escape from that name if we would."

To the Voters of Crockett County.

I have not been electioneering with the voters of Crockett county this year for re-election to the office of Hild and Animal Inspector because I thought it unnecessary. My record has been made and is before the people, and I think if I had not properly fulfilled my duties I would have had an opponent.

I wish to say, however, that I will appreciate each and every vote cast for me.

Respectfully,
BLAKE MADDEN.

The Fruit Industry Neglected.

As a proof that this is a fine fruit country Capt. C. L. Brown brought to this office three satanle peaches raised at his home in Ozona, which weighed 17 ounces, they were not only large and sound but fine flavored. A few acres planted in peach trees would be a paying investment. All kinds of fruit do well here and all that is lacking is a little money expended in preparing the land, buying the trees and setting them out. The cultivation of an orchard would be a light job, and the trees would not require watering only in a very dry time. Let more orchards be planted.

Old Chronic Sores.

As a dressing for old chronic sores there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Salve. While it is not advisable to heal old sores entirely, they should be kept in a good condition, for which this salve is especially valuable. For sore nipples Chamberlain's Salve has no superior. For sale by Midkiff & Caudle.

Sold Sheep Interests.

Mosses, McKinzie & Ferguson have sold their entire sheep interests on their ranch to parties in San Angelo, so the Enterprise has been informed.

I have made an effort to see personally every voter in Crockett county, but it has not been possible for me to see every one individually. I wish to say that I had the will to do so. If you can consistently vote for and support me for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector, I shall sincerely appreciate it, and promise, if elected, to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my knowledge and ability, fairly and impartially.

Respectfully,
T. A. KINCAID.

Resolved Rightly.

At a recent meeting of the Texas Press Association Corpus Christi, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas: From time immemorial there has been an idea in some remote quarters that a weekly newspaper is public property, to be used as free by all organizations, social, religious and otherwise and that no charge should be made for publishing various and sundry notices, therefore, be it.

Resolved: That it is the sense of the Press Association that all notices of entertainments, of whatever character, where the object is to raise money, and all resolutions of sympathy, cards of thanks and notices of that nature, come under the head of legitimate advertising and should be paid for.

MAGNETIC HEALING.

Cures are perfected almost daily by Magnetism by Mrs. J. E. Douglas, San Angelo, Texas. The lady has the supernatural gift of taking a patient by the hand and telling where the trouble is. She also gives almost instant relief by first treatment.

MRS. J. E. DOUGLAS.

Read What Mrs. Frank Loving of San Angelo and W. S. Bell of Hembrie, Crockett county, have to say of Mrs. Douglas:

Mrs. Frank Loving who lives north of the Santa Fe depot was afflicted with cancer and had suffered long, had tried numerous doctors without avail. She was at last persuaded to try Mrs. Douglas, the Magnetic Healer. She tells her experience as follows: "I was taken about fifteen months ago with a severe pain in my side. I went to my family doctor and then to other doctors. I felt a little better at times but the pain would invariably return. The doctors all claimed that they could cure me but not without an operation. I would not submit to an operation, so they could do nothing for me. I had heard of Mrs. Douglas, so I concluded to give her a trial. Mrs. Douglas diagnosed my case. She took me by the hand, told me exactly what was the matter with me, where the pain was located, and all about my troubles. She found that I had cancer, liver, stomach and kidney trouble. My heart was also affected. She said she could cure me and began the treatment. I was treated for two months and began to improve after the first treatment. At the end of two months I was 'cured'."

About the 5th of September I was fighting fire on the ranch. I became overheated. A severe pain set up in my right lung, which was caused by my cooling too quickly. I had a chill the following night, with a high fever following. On the second night I had another chill. Following this the pain in my lung became so severe I could hardly breathe. The lung seemed to be dead. At first I tried the doctor at Stiles, but he did me no good. I went back to the ranch, but my suffering became so severe I could not bear it. Hence I came so severe I came to San Angelo and consulted a physician. After the examination he seemed to think I would have to submit to an operation. I took his course of treatment some days but got no relief. I then put the medicine aside greatly discouraged. I chanced to meet a man on the street who told me of Mrs. J. E. Douglas. I had no faith in her treatment, but he persuaded me to give her a trial, and on October the 23rd I took my first treatment, the pain left my lungs and kidneys. I can truthfully say I am well, having been cured by Mrs. J. E. Douglas. W. S. BELL.

Another evidence of the Ozona way of doing things is the installing of an up-to-date covered-in ice wagon, put into service Monday morning by the Ozona Improvement company, and the horse is wearing harness made by our own harness and saddle maker, Mr. Arthur Williams. The outfit cost the company considerable money, but in the long run it is money well spent, as ice can be delivered in any kind of weather without lossage. Let the good work go on.

What Prohibition Did for Them.

San Francisco for the past fortnight has been absolutely free from disorder and virtually free from crimes of violence. There have been no street brawls. No drunken brute has beaten his wife. No gamblers have murdered each other in low resorts. Except for some dealings with sneak thieves the occupation of the police courts is gone. It is a most impressive object lesson of the value to society of the restriction of the liquor traffic. We are promised a continuance of this peaceful condition for a considerable time to come, save only as drunken men may drift over from Oakland, where the authorities have been so reckless as to allow saloons to open. We may be compelled to renew the quarantine against Oakland.—San Francisco Chronicle, May 5.

TO MRS. KIRKPATRICK.

On the Death of Her Daughter,
Jessie, Who Died July 16, 1906.

Hush! speak gently, my Jessie is dying now.
Let me press a mother's last kiss upon her pale brow;
Soon her bright eyes will be dimmed forever more,
Whisper softly, for my darling is passing to the other shore.
Tread lightly, for my Jessie is bidding farewell to life,
Leaving all its tears, its sorrow and its strife;
Folded are the icy fingers, closed the lips so sweet,
Going with the angels now her Savior to meet.

Me thinks I can hear the angel to my love—
Calling her to come to her bright home above,
And on her pale lips still lingers the smile she wore
As she slips away with them to that echoless shore.

Whisper gently, draw the curtain, let the sunlight in
While I drop the tears of love upon her brow of stainless sin,
And I'll tell my Jessie goodbye now,
Smoothing the sunny hair upon her brow.

What shall I do through all the dreary day?
When you can for me no longer sweet music play;
My heart is so sad, and almost breaks with pain,
When I think I cannot hear your dear voice again.

And since you have gone from this world to another,
Dear Jessie, won't you sometimes think of lonely mother,
And send your spirit to me with sweet messages of love
That I may hear from my dear treasure above.

For you know dear one, I'll be so lonely here,
So lonely and so sad, when you are not here;
But it is the Savior's will, His will will be done,
As on earth and in heaven His will is one.

Farewell, my darling girl, my pride, my all,
Forgive me those tears that unceasingly fall;
And I'll take comfort of my Savior to ease my pain,
That I'll meet you in heaven, never to part again.

A FRIEND.

And the Cat Came Back.

Joe Moss, who sold his ranch near Marathon some time ago and went to Mexico with a view of locating, has returned to Alpine and says this part of the country is good enough for him. Mr. Moss will likely locate near Alpine. He is accompanied by his son Ivan.—Alpine Times.

A Good Cane Crop.

The cane crops over the country are said to be good, and in many instances the best ever raised in the country. Many thousand tons of sorghum hay will be saved if the sun will be allowed to shine a few days longer.

San Angelo Training School.

The San Angelo Training school is gaining in popularity, and will, in a year or two, be the leading school of its character in West Texas. Read what is said about this school as the articles occur relating to it each week in the ENTERPRISE.

Made Money on Sheep.

William Schneeman, the Crockett county sheepman, was in the city Monday. Mr. Schneeman says that he has made good money off his sheep shipments this year. He stated that the last bunch of 820 head which he sent to Kansas City netted him $4.42 a head and averaged 991 pounds. This is an excellent record.—San Angelo Standard.

SOCIETY SARCASMS.

R. P. Burhans in Denison Gazetteer.
When you sin, take the consequence and do so with a good heart.

Short skirts and dainty ankles cut a big figure in many man's life. Late to bed and early to rise, work like the devil and advertise.

When a man or woman gets into trouble they turn to religion. No man or woman is so good that either can not be spoiled.

It is really amusing to see women kiss each other; even when they hate goosop about each other.

An Omaha woman who had disappeared for six months, claims that a former lover chloroformed her, took her to Beatrice, Neb., and kept her a prisoner for six months. So trusting are husbands of recent years that her husband believes it.

Twelve New Jersey school teachers are trying to have the male principal of their school discharged for lugging one of them. Had the worthy professor made the rounds probably the exposure would not have been so speedy nor so severe.

Not long ago a Denison woman decided to teach her husband to "pick up" after himself. She determined to let things lie where her husband placed them until he picked them up. At the end of a week everything the man had was on the floor except his plug of tobacco.

There is nothing more objectionable in this life than the low person raised to a high degree by the influence of money.

Ever notice when you get real trouble, the trust adviser and sympathizer is a woman?

Every bachelor wants to marry, but they don't know how to go about it.

A young fellow was boasting the past week that he had been engaged to a girl about a year and up to date spent 35 cents. We have seen the fellow and now we want to see that girl.

Only death and matrimony will deprive us of the services of two or three public school teachers. For years and years they have had a "cinch" on every school board that has been elected.

We seen a lot of girls and women walking the streets Monday in the rain in white shoes. They had evidently been caught in town from abroad as several carried hand-bags.

You can take the biggest "noodle" of a man and woman in the world and if he have plenty of money, society will receive them with open arms in preference to sensible people who have brains and little money.

If you like a man it is quite proper to let him see that his attentions are welcome, but don't run after him. If you do he will very soon weary. Men don't men value that which comes too easily.
When a young girl carries on a handkerchief flirtation with an entire stranger you can make up your mind that she is going to the devil with a hop, skip and jump.

Don't Be Backward.

Do not hesitate to ask for a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach Livers Tablets. We are glad to give them to anyone who is troubled with biliousness, constipation or any disorder of the stomach. Many have been permanently cured by their use. Sold by Midkiff & Caudle.

First Bale Reports.

Many papers in south Texas are reporting "first bale." This is quite early for new cotton to be put on the market, and from the crop reports in Monday's Dallas News, the cotton crop will be the largest in years. Neighbor Patrick is not able to report "first bale" from Crockett county, but will later on as he is the only man in the county brave enough to risk the business.

We guarantee the highest market price for hides. H. H. Sigman & Co., San Angelo, Texas.

No Monopoly of Sins.

The luxuries, the vices, the family and social corruption which reign in our great cities are not the sins of artisans and day laborers. Playing cards for money is no worse in a beer shop than in the Union Club house. To be tipsy there or at a corner grocery amounts to about the same thing. This assumption that sin lives in the tenement houses and the moral virtues reside on the avenue, and that the churches must take special efforts to keep bricklayers, carpenters and blacksmiths in order, that these last and their kind are the specially dangerous and sinful classes, is nearly always present in the plan of religious people to reach the masses. The assumption is worse than Pharisaism. It is blind ignorance of life and fact, and anti-Christian as well as senseless.—Bishop Thompson of Mississippi.

Investigation and Dollars.

There is something of an outcry being voiced in newspapers and other journals against the wave of investigation and ensuant agitation that is rolling over the land. An editorial in a Chicago morning paper outlining the fear of the anti-agitationists says: "The chances are great that the sensational and exceptional will find more space than the usual and conventional, and as later reports seldom give the prominence accorded to earlier ones, damage once done is difficult of repair. The result is likely to be serious loss, which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents."

Those who see far and deep into the eternal philosophies bless God for the indications in the present day that the fact of the brotherhood of man is standing out in bolder and yet bolder type for man's own reading. A dozen cans of "unfit" meat in an American grocery have a relation to European money markets. The grape growers on sunny Italian slopes feel the turning down of the wine glass by a conscientious American girl at her first "party." It may even be—may it not?—that this brotherhood of man is ushering in "the golden rule of Christ."

It is a good thing to get new vantage points. The enemy within the fortress may possibly beat off a concentrated attack at one gate. The fortress surrounded is another matter. A few years ago we fought the saloon mainly with spiritual weapons. Or rather, we thought that the only spiritual weapons were those of prayer and preaching. Now, by a many-phased attack we are striking at the coffers of the liquor traffic and it is shaking with fear.

Touch a man's dollar and you touch the man. That coin somehow stands for heartbeats, conscience, brain power. Every man, every woman, every child who is won over to the cause of total abstinence and the related temperance campaign means money loss to the interests of brewer and distiller. The dollar is the fortress. The dollar, too, is the effective weapon in the hands of the man spiritual. Therefore, investigate! agitate! educate!—Union Signal.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has been known to never fail. For sale by Midkiff & Caudle.
