Baker-Taylor Adds Shop Facilities

Baker-Taylor Drilling Company is expanding its facilities and is moving facilities here from Odessa.

The announcement was made this week by Bill Massie, Personnel Manager here for the drilling company.

Massie said the company would have its mechanics and machine shop in Spearman in the new steel building under construction in the Baker-Taylor yard.

All of the company's mechanic and machine facilities will be moved here from Odessa. Also coming here from Odessa, will be Fred Jones, the company's chief mechanic and his son, a mechanic for the company, Fred Jones, Jr.

Construction on the steel building to house the large shop started within the past few days. Massie said the shop should be ready to start operations here about June 1.

The new building is 50 feet wide and 160 feet long. It is being built by a steel building erecting firm from Amarillo.

This expansion is another part of an all-over expansion program Baker-Taylor has been making in Spearman the past year. The drilling company has greatly increased the size of its yard here, has moved its truck shop and other office facilities from Collard Street to the new yard. Just recently a new office building was completed in the yard.

This building has six offices and reception rooms, a conference room and coffee bar. The interior of the building is all mahogany paneling.

The Baker-Taylor yard is now located between the railroad track and the airstrip. It fronts on the Gruver Highway.

Truck Added To FD Line

A new, small fire truck was added to the growing Spearman fire department Wednesday.

A small truck designed for fighting grass fires and rural fires was purchased by the county and turned over to the city. The truck will be used for many small fires.

It has a small independent pumping motor and can pump water while moving. It can also pump water from rural water supplies to be used in fighting fires.

New School To Be Decided Saturday

Saturday is election day in the Gruver School District with voters deciding upon a $575,000 school bond issue.

The money will be used for constructing a new 10-room and laboratories High School Building, remodeling the gym, building a new football facility and making other improvements.

The polls will be at the school in Gruver and the plants in the north part of the district. They will open at 8 a. m. and remain open until 7 p. m.

New Number For Fires

At 8 a. m. Saturday Spearman will have new phone numbers for fire and police calls, according to City Manager Ken Conrey.

The new fire call number is 659-2222. This number will ring 15 fire phones over Spearman and assure the caller of getting an answer. The new police number will be 659-2524.

Conrey asked that everyone write these numbers on their phone books or somewhere near the phone.

Celebration Starts Saturday

Hansford County's annual Spring Celebration will begin rolling Saturday when a delegation of Jaycees and entries in the Miss Hansford County Contest appear on KGNC-TV at 2:30 p. m.

From the time the group appears on Cotton John's Farm and Home Show until the last cowboy is bucked off the last bull in the final performance of the rodeo, things will be happening.

Besides the delegation in Amarillo, members of the Spearman Riding Club and others will be in Guymon advertising the celebration at the Guymon Pioneer Days.

The first visible signs of the celebration will be in Spearman Tuesday when Lone Star Rides move to town with eight carnival rides. This carnival will be operated by members of the Lions Club. All concessions stands will be operated by local organizations. There will be no sideshows with the rides.

The carnival will operate each evening until Saturday night.

Jaycees in charge of the different events report the celebration is rounding into shape.

Parade Chairman Frank Cockrell has seven floats entered in the parade. They are built by Gladiola Flower Club and sponsored by Anthony Electric; Rho Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sponsored by Equity; and the Rainbow Girls, sponsored by Cates Men and Boys Wear.

The Jaycees will also have a float. Guymon, Shamrock and Amarillo are sending floats. Cockrell also has the Jody Drill Team from Amarillo Air Force Base, the ROTC Band from West Texas State and approximately 10 riding clubs from the area towns.

There will also be decorated bicycles, cars, wagons, and other novelty events.

The Twentieth Century Club and the Jaycees have arranged the Old Timers Reunion at Traylor Motor Company. The guests of honor will be people who came here before 1913. These 50 year veterans will be guests of the Jaycees at the barbecue. The Twentieth Century Club will have coffee and cookies at the reunion. Registration begins at 8:30 a. m.

Friday night will have the first big celebration events. The Miss Hansford County Contest, Stage Show and Queen's Ball will be held in Gruver.

Beside watching 31 girls compete for the title, the audience will be treated to the comedy of Larry Kelly, pantomimist,

The round-up will be from 1 p. m. to 2:45 in the elementary building.

The meeting will give all beginning students an opportunity to see what school is like.

of Amarillo. Music for the show and ball will be furnished by the Pampa High School Swing Band.

At Spearman, Carl Day and his Knights will be playing for a dance at the community building. The second Spearman dance will be Saturday night when Lou Walker will be here. The dances begin at 9 p. m.

The Queen's Ball in Gruver will be held in the Memorial Building. It is for couples only and it will be semi-formal.

Gruver News

A Housewarming was held honoring Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Garrett in their new home, Sunday, April 28. Many friends and well-wishers called to tour the new home and congratulate the Garretts. Coffee and cake was served. A money tree was presented to the Garretts. Hosting duties were done by the Garretts Sunday School Class.

Out sympathy to the Hack Johnson family. Hacks father passed away Saturday afternoon following surgery in Bartlesville, Okla. The Johnson's had gone there earlier in the week to be with him.

The following attended a family reunion in Sayre, Okla. Sunday: Mrs. Bernie Boyd and children, Mrs. Bob Barnes and children, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Sloan.

Participating in the H-SU Rodeo held recently in Abilene, Tex. was Jimmy Etling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill

Etling of Gruver. Jimmy is a freshman student at H-SU and entered the bareback bronc-riding event.

The First Baptist Church is still in the Revival and everyone is invited to attend the inspiring service at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Off for an extended vacation is Mrs. Julia Gurfory. She is traveling with her son, Thomas and his wife, who came by from their home in Rock Springs, Wyoming. First is a visit with friends and relatives in Mississippi, then back through here and on to Oceanside, Calif. for more visiting.

Most of us are looking forward to school being out except for one thing. It means the Curt Lowes will be moving from our neighborhood. They have been spending week ends in their new home in the southwest part of Amarillo, putting out some shrubs, and other such tasks. Before the big move, however, both Curt and Ruby will accompany the Senior class on their tour to New York returning to one more weed of school and then moving time. A new teacher is already hired to fill the vacancy in the English department and we understand someone has purchased their house here, but it won't be the same without the Lowes. Their home in Amarillo is nearer ranching interests there and we know Amarillo will love them the same as Gruver people, so our best wishes to them.

All the Kindergarteners and first graders are anticipating tomorrow (Friday). That is the day the first graders get to stay home and the kindergarteners get to visit school. Also, kindergarteners of next year will get to visit that class. The annual event is very popular with the younger set and tiny fingers are counting off the hours till time to get ready.

Mrs. Donald Tanner and daughter, Belinda returned last weekend from a visit in Memphis, Tenn. with her mother and family. Mrs. Tanner's mother has been quite ill but is much better at this time.

named Ima, Ura, and Hesa needs correction. As I remember them their names were Will C., Ima, and Mike. There may have been another son, but if so I do not remember him. I sat in class with Miss Ima, who is the only surviving member of the family and who lives in Houston--one of that city's most highly respected citizens.

One more thing. Governor Hogg left a considerable estate. Under wise management through the years it has become one of Houston's major private fortunes and is used with a high sense of responsibility to the public. As an example, around 1930 Will C. Hogg gave to the Ex-Student Association of each of the State's institutions of higher learning a minimum sum of $25,000, to be used as student loan funds. Through the years the Hogg family has been one of the most philanthropic in this state.

ings keep us from working for the betterment of Spearman and Hansford County.

This small, petty jealousy and general "don't care" attitude is coming up like bindweed. If it is not stamped out, it is going to cause serious damage to our town, schools and country.

Surely there is no one in Spearman who is so small that he or she cannot keep their personal dislikes under control. (Con't. on page 1)

The miracle has happened again. A group of high school kids has scored another success with a class play. The miracle is that only three or four days before curtain time, one would almost bet that the cast would not know their lines in time. Seems they always do when the curtain goes up. They always come through in fine style.

Mrs. Hazel Simmons, speech instructor and drama director, does an excellent job of picking plays and casts to fit her students. The cast for the play Monday night appeared "made for" the parts.

We always get a big kick out of high school productions. It is hard for us to understand why they do not attract capacity crowds. It is always an enjoyable evening and beats a night in front of the one-eyed monster seven ways to Sunday.

A newcomer here does not realize just how young this county is until he attends something like the Silver Anniversary Celebration of Home Demonstration Work in Hansford County. There were more than a half-dozen women honored as charter members and practically every one of them is still a leader or worker in the organization.

In most places, charter members of organizations are just names on plaques and record books.

A dangerous trend is getting a foothold in Spearman and it is going to do serious damage if it is not brought under control in the near future. The big problem is: letting personal feel-

Mighty Fine Neighbors

Some mighty nice neighbors here in Spearman started expanding their facilities this week. With little or no fanfare, until we went inquiring, Baker-Taylor Drilling Co. began building a new machine and mechanic shop here.

Spearman may have missed a large part of the oil industry when it moved into this area; but when Baker-Taylor picked Spearman for a home base, we got one of the most helpful industries.

In the years the company has operated from Spearman it and its people probably have done more for this town and asked less than any group. We can find no reason for them doing it other than they are just people who like to take part in the town where they are living. They sure did not have to pitch in and help to make sure people traded with them. They drill oil wells and we do not know too many people here who have oil wells drilled each day.

Just what has Baker-Taylor done for Spearman? First, they have kept a big fat payroll here for several years. However, this is required, its the unrequired extras that make them such good neighbors. It was L. C. Owens of Baker-Taylor and other employees that played a big part in building the large baseball lay-out in Jaycee park. It was Baker-Taylor people and probably some of their's and company money that helped sponsor a semi-pro baseball team for the past years. It is Baker-Taylor people that work in civic, service, and social organizations. It is Baker-Taylor money that helps with the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce and all other projects. In short, Baker-Taylor has become a working part of the community without being forced to by economic reasons.

Just as we have never seen a common man, we have never seen any "oil field trash". However, if the oil and gas people we have in Spearman are examples of what a minute, few look down on as "oil field trash", then a town full of "oil field trash" would be a rather progressive and fine place to live.

If this sounds like a paid testimonial, it is. The oil and gas industry pays, you, me and everyone in Spearman every time they do a penny's worth of business in town and we like that kind of payola.

Hilltop Views

A few days ago my friend George Schaeffer--he of the incisive mind and pungent pen--was asking me something about James Stephen Hogg, the first native Texan to become Governor of this state. Friend Schaeffer wanted specifically to know what gave Governor Hogg such a deep and abiding place in the minds and hearts of Texas people.

Although I answered the question quickly I have deliberated it considerably since it was asked. I have once before related in this column my own reaction when first I heard him speak, 1890. It seems to me now that the things that most impressed this coming 14 year old lad then was his long linen duster and his 325 lb. corpus. I had seen my first elephant only a year or so before that and I figured the two were about the same size.

Hogg's campaign for Governor that year revolved around economic problems and monopoly power, with special attention to railroads and their control. These young giants had been vastly endowed by the state with free lands and were staging a tremendous expansion program. The Santa Fe, the Fort Worth and Denver, The Texas and Pacific, The Southern Pacific, the M. K. & T., and others were penetrating almost every section of the state and were exercising tremendous influence upon the course of politics and government.

In Hogg's first year as Governor (1891) the Texas Railroad Commission was created, a law establishing a maximum interest rate was passed, a law regulating the insurance of stocks and bonds was enacted, and other legislation that pointed toward the public welfare as opposed to special interests.

In 1892 opposition to Hogg was strong. His liberalism grossly offended the railroads and other big business interests. Unable to defeat Hogg's renomination, they split the Democratic party and nominated the very able attorney George Clark of Waco for Governor on a ticket of their own. The rising Populist Party, even more liberal than the Hogg Democrats, nominated T. L. Nugent. One of the hottest political campaigns in Texas history followed. The liberal Pops polled over 100,000 votes but Hogg beat Clark (also a Democrat) more than 50,000 votes and became Governor for two more years. Is it any wonder that history calls him "The Great Commoner?"

But answering further Friend Schaeffer's question as to what gave Governor Hogg an abiding place in the hearts of Texans it may be that his intensely human characteristics had as much to do with it as anything else. Born and reared in the piney woods and sandy lands of East Texas he understood well the mill-run Texan of the 19th century. He had strong convictions as to right and wrong and the courage to say what he believed.

He had, too, a fine sense of humor and enjoyed jokes, even on himself. He used to tell about going into a barber shop to get a shine. He decided he would have some fun out of the two colored lads that promptly took over the job. He would play deaf. He asked, "What is the day of the week?" "Wednesday" came the reply. "Uh?" The Governor grunted. The shine boy shouted a little louder, "Wednesday!" After another repetition or two the boys decided the big man was deaf. One turned to the other and said in normal voice, "He is a fat old Devil, ain't he?"

Further illustrating his down-to-earth attitude toward people was his popularity with the University boys. When he retired from the Governor's office he opened a law office in Austin and continued his friendly relations with the University. I happen to remember one example of this. The Longhorns had won a football game over Southwestern University. That night 100 or more University boys conducted what they called a shirt-tail parade over most of Austin. (Really it was not quite that bad. It was a night-shirt parade.) About 2 o'clock in the morning, they marched singing and yelling, to Governor Hogg's home. When he promptly appeared in his long white night shirt bedlam broke loose, but the moment he began to speak the rousements ceased. After some five minutes of pep talk, following which another storm broke the quietude, the Governor yelled "Goodnight Fellows!" and returned to his room. It was then bed-time for the boys, too, and so ended a risque celebration.

The oft repeated story that Governor Hogg had children

DAY BY DAY

BY DAY Mc CLELLAN

It's a great deal of fun to associate with a person whose personality is one of those "never a dull moment around here" types. And, if you know Virginia Cates, you surely agree that she fits into that category.

Virginia's interests and hobbies run all the way from chamber music to weather watching and she attacks both with a vigor and enthusiasm not to be found in just any neighborhood.

Virginia declares that she arises at 5:30 a. m. every day so that she will have plenty of "meditating time" before the rest of the household awakens. With several cups of coffee to get her going, she sashays out in the yard to think and has even been known to climb up in a tree and sit at that early hour.

She took over as Spearman's official weather-girl last year and it hasn't rained since, or at least not enough for her to measure. So, since moisture-measuring hasn't taken up much of her time, Virginia has ordered a cello and will probably soon be sending out symphonic melodies for all our neighborhood to enjoy. However, Virginia assures me that she enjoys her 5:30 a. m. "meditating" and will never replace it with a backyard cello concert, at least at that hour.

Still, you can never be sure what will happen next when Virginia is in the crowd; like a month or so ago when she fumbled in her purse for cigarettes, while having coffee in a cafe, and came up with a bunch of bananas which she threw out on the table, going on with her search. After the laughing subsided, Virginia registered surprise that there was anything unusual about carrying a "snack" around in her purse.

An ex-neighbor of Virginia's (and I'm not sure why they moved) is Gloria Knox. Gloria is an accomplished musician and is active, as Virginia is, in the Music Club. Gloria's son, David, was recently a guest violinist at the State Federated Music Club convention in Dallas,

Mrs. Stump Gives Program

Mrs. Johnnie Lee was hostess for the Home Science Dept. of the 20th Century Club Thursday April 25 in the home of her mother, Mrs. Sada Hoskins.

Mrs. C. A. Kleeberger presided at the business meeting.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Dick Kilgore from Rom: 15-4.

In the absence of Mrs. Fred Holt, Mrs. J. R. Stump gave the program "Planning a Library". Roll call was answered by "The last book I checked out of the library."

Attending were Mes. Joe Trayler, Marvin Jones, Raymond Kirk, Dick Kilgore, Wayne Hutchison, Frank Davis, O. C. Holt, J. R. Keim, Guy Fuller, C. J. Renner, J. R. Stump, C. A. Kleeberger and the hostess.

The amazing thing about David's excellent musical ability is that he has only taken lessons for two years. That certainly speaks well for his teacher, Glenn Truax, and for, of course, David's own natural talent and musical background.

Fine Arts Group Studies Pleasures of Reading

In observance of National Library Week, Mrs. Wesley Garnett, used as her theme, the 1963 slogan "Reading-The Fifth Freedom-Enjoy it", for the program for the Fine Arts Department of the 20th Century Club April 25 in the home of Mrs. Woodville Jarvis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Steinert of Sutherland, Iowa were recent visitors in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Banks.

The library is the leading source for this advantage. "Emphasis was placed on four categories of a library, 1. The library as a center for youth, 2. The library as a center for older citizens, 3. The library as a center for High School students with careers in library work, 4. The library as a center of youth and cultural community interest for club women and other adults.

Dinner was served to the students participating in the meet and other guests of the visiting schools. About 200 people were served.

Friday night was another big event for the fifth through eighth graders as they went on a hay ride to Perryton to celebrate the completion of the mural. If you haven't seen the mural, drop by the school and look at it. It is quite outstanding and is proudly hung in the outer office for everyone to see.

With the eighth grade banquet coming up early in May, the PTA mothers are hard at work making plans. I'm sure the eighth graders are wondering what the theme will be, which will be the highlight of the banquet, if secrecy is sworn among the seventh graders!

control enough to work for the betterment of the town.

No one is going to like everyone or everything. But, if a person or group is working on a project which they and a majority of people think will help the town, then one who cannot conscientiously help should not hinder the project. If the idea is bad as one thinks, generally enough people will recognize the fact and the movement will die from nonsupport.

The only things that will grow without care and support are weeds and they do not make an attractive town.
