Bob Vaughn Resigns At Hospital

Hansford Hospital Administrator R.E. (Bob) Vaughn resigned as head of the local hospital Thursday night.

Vaughn handed his resignation to the board at the regular meeting Friday. The hospital board is now actively seeking a replacement.

Vaughn headed the hospital here for approximately 10 years and was the man who directed the campaign to build the present modern hospital.

Under his direction a $250,000 bond issue was voted by the citizens of the county and he directed the work of securing the matching $250,000 in Hill-Burton funds for the construction.

Before the present hospital was completed, the county's only hospital facilities were housed in an old frame building constructed from World War II Army buildings.

Vaughn has kept the hospital operating nearer to a break-even financial situation than most county owned hospitals.

County Auditor Weldon Green said over the past years the hospital deficit including all charity cases has been about $10 to $15,000 per year. This past year the deficit was up to $23,000, but since the first of the year it has recovered part of this loss and is operating about on its usual pattern.

Palo Duro Color Film Available

The officers of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation are announcing that a color film, with sound, showing the Palo Duro Canyon State Park and the development of the Pioneer Amphitheatre. It will be available for showing to clubs and schools after April 15th. The film is available in 12 minute version, or a five minute version and will be sent to those who write Box 268, Canyon and request it for a meeting.

Bill Rhew who is well known in the Panhandle for his documentaries on foreign travel is making the picture and the commentary is the voice of Jerry Taft. The Foundation takes great pride in making this available.

The film will be released in conjunction with an advance ticket sale for the summer production in the amphitheatre; "Thundering Sounds Of The West" a light and sound show combined with some western scenes. During the advance ticket sale, books of coupons containing six $1 tickets will be on sale for $5. Admission to the show will be $1 for adults and 50¢ for children, $3 for a family.

Due to the fact that the dressing rooms in the theatre have not been built, this summer's production will have a very small cast and staff. However, applications for places are being accepted now. Write: Box 268, Canyon if you are interested.

Mildred Chamberlain Recognized For 35 Years Service With CPS

From ice boxes and single 25-watt bulbs, to completely electric homes has been the history of electricity while Mildred Chamberlain has been selling the product in Spearman.

Mrs. Chamberlain was recognized recently by her company, Community Public Service, for 35 years of service. She received a 23-inch television as a gift.

When Mildred went to work for Texas-Louisiana Power Co. on May 19, 1930, the office was located on Kenneth by the present water tower and the company sold electricity, ice and merchandise.

"It is hard to realize how electric service has grown during these years", she stated.

"When I went to work there was one electric refrigerator in Spearman and it was a 4 cubic foot size. A doctor bought it, but he decided it was too small for his family, and he sold it and bought a six foot size," she remembers.

"An electric iron was a big appliance purchase."

The price of electricity has had a great effect in the amount used. In 1930 the price was 15 cents per kilowatt hour for the first 25 kilowatt hours and 13 cents per kwh for the second 25, three and one-half cents for the next 100.

During her 35 years Mildred has thoroughly enjoyed selling the products of her company, ice, electricity and the companion merchandise.

In the 30's when the Coolerator was introduced, Mildred said it was the finest ice refrigeration ever made.

"Our ice boys kept them serviced well and they were real good refrigeration," she said, "I really could sell them."

Then came the electric refrigerators. "I was schooled on the "Monitor Top" GE refrigerators and I sure enjoyed selling them," she commented.

To illustrate her point she said, "You know these were the refrigerators with the coils on the top and it took less current because the cooling liquid flowed down instead of having to be pushed up."

Selling good lighting was another one of Mildred's crusades. Then people just had a single electric drop in the center of the room and most used a 25 or 40 watt bulb. A double socket and an extension cord let them run an extra light where it was needed.

It was one of these makeshift lighting systems that sent Mildred on one of her many service calls.

A woman customer waited in Mildred's office for almost an hour for her to finish her work. At quitting time the woman asked her to go by her house.

When she got there she found that some way the woman had stuck a screwdriver in one of the extension outlets. The current welded the screwdriver to the socket and knocked out all the fuses.

"I asked her if she was hurt and when she wasn't I got the screwdriver out of the socket and re-fused the house."

Most of Mildred's service work was in selling and demonstrating better lighting with lamps and new electric appliances. She was the unofficial home service advisor.

She has enjoyed every one of the 35 years she has spent with the power company, but she almost did not take the job. She was working in Stratford helping make abstracts when she received the letter offering her the job. Being busy, she ignored it for two or three days, until a co-worker wrote an acceptance and told Mildred to sign it, because the job was too good to pass up.

Like the electric current she sells, Mildred has not thought of retiring and certainly not sitting down. Although she has a good car in her garage, she walks to work, and just about everywhere she goes in the downtown area.

Estes To Appear At Clements Trial

Apparently Billie Sol Estes will be present for the Robert Earl Clements trial if and when it opens in Spearman, Monday.

Estes, who is serving a term in federal prison in Leavenworth, Kan., arrived in Amarillo Friday to await the opening of the trial here.

If Clements' attorney's are successful with their motion for a change of venue of the trial, it will not be held here.

Clyde Woody of Houston, Clements' defense lawyer, has filed a motion for a change on the basis that publicity about the case would make it impossible to get a fair trial in Spearman.

The hearing on the change of venue will be Monday morning and 50 witnesses have been summoned by the defense.

A jury panel of 70 have been called as prospective jurors. The jury panel has been called for 1:30 p.m.

The trial has been moved from 47th District Court in Amarillo earlier on a change of venue. Clements was tried in Amarillo earlier and convicted on a charge of theft over $50, but the conviction was reversed because of a faulty indictment.

Judge Max Boyer of the 84th District Court has issued requests for Estes, Ruel Alexander of Amarillo and Coleman McSpadden of Lubbock to appear as witnesses.

Alexander was returned to Amarillo earlier in the week. Estes arrived in Amarillo Friday.

Alexander and McSpadden and Harold Orr purchased Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo from Clements and it is from the financing of this transaction that the theft charge was drawn.

Alexander and McSpadden were involved with Estes in borrowing money on bogus fertilizer tanks.

Federal inspectors were here Saturday to inspect the Hansford County jail and see if it could be approved to house federal prisoners. Amarillo has the only federally approved jail in the Panhandle.

Mule Train Will Journey To Pioneer Celebration

Spearman's Rolling Plains Mule Train will begin its summer travels April 29 when it leaves Spearman for a three-day trip to Guymon, Okla., for the Pioneer Days' celebration.

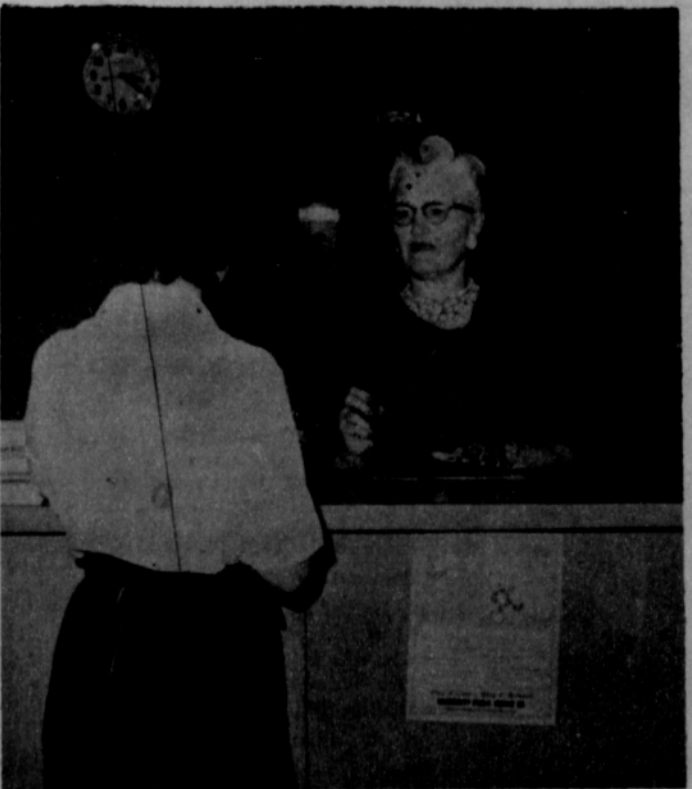

This trip will be just a "warm-up" for the covered wagon organization. It will leave Spearman in June for a 30-day trip to Oklahoma City and the dedication of the Cowboy Hall of Fame.

Because it is the first trip and the mules are soft from a winter of easy living, the wagon trail will make two overnight camps on the way to Guymon.

The train of 10 to 20 wagons will leave Spearman and go to Gruver, then turn north and camp four miles north of Gruver the first night. The second day the train will travel to the Coldwater creek in Oklahoma.

The third day, Saturday, the Spearman group will join the trailriders from Elkhart, Kan., and go into Guymon for the celebration parade.

Last year the Rolling Plains Mule Train was on the road for 32 days traveling from Spearman to Graham. They also made shorter trips to Guymon, Woodward and Dalhart.

FAMILIAR FACE- Mildred Chamberlain (right) waits on a customer at Community Public Service as she has done for the past 35 years. She has seen phenomenal growth in the company that originally sold electricity, ice and merchandise.

Dears and Gumforys In Houston for Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gumfory of Gruver and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dear of Spearman departed Amarillo April 7 for Houston to attend the annual agent's Convention of the South Coast Life Insurance Company. They will travel with other Amarillo territory agents and their wives aboard a chartered Continental Trailways bus and will return home April 11.

Art Lara, Amarillo agency manager, said one of the main topics of the meeting will be the company's new rate book. He stated that South Coast Life had its biggest production year during 1964 bringing the overall insurance in force to more than $302 million. The Amarillo Agency again was named the number one agency by the company.

Lara said that the group would attend the first game to be played in Houston's new Astrodome stadium between the Astros and the New York Yankees on April 9.

Giving 'Tonic'

Most spring "tonics" call for plenty of greens, and a refresher course for the home is no exception.

Living plants are an important part of today's interiors, clay-potted in decorative plant stands, in large tubs or in indoor "garden" areas.

Pretty plants in clay pots at the window can be complemented by "frames" of panels covered with pre-pasted wallpaper in a flowery design.

More and bigger pendants are being worn this spring, says the Jewelry Industry Council. Petaled flower pendant here is of sapphire blue stones in gold-colored setting.

Bubble light in mood are hoop-on drop earrings of raffia, matching beads. Fragrance adds to the feminine picture. Jewelry by Judith McCann; "April Showers" cologne.

"Princess" length — 20 to 21 inches — is featured in this simulated pearl necklace with bow-tie clasp design, and matching earrings. From the Vendome collection.

BRIGHTEN HOME

For a quick way to brighten the home, consider pre-pasted wallpapers. Choice of colors, patterns is wider than ever.

Real Alarm Rings During Practice

This week's fire drill became a very realistic practice session for the Spearman Volunteer Fire Department.

While the firemen were at the drill a real alarm was turned in from Yancey's Machine Shop on the Gruver Highway.

Firemen found an oil fire on some machinery at the business firm. The fire was quickly controlled and damage was light.

Wall Murals 'Travel' Far

When springtime fancies turn to thoughts of travel — but springtime duties make it necessary to stay home and spruce up the house — there's an easy way to put "travel at home" into spring decorating plans.

Scenic wallpapers can bring to mind a favorite area of the world that the family has either visited or hopes to see one day. A wallpaper mural is an ideal background for a small area, like a dinette or dining alcove, as it will give an illusion of additional space and vista. The murals are available with matching ground papers, so it is possible to use the scenic on one wall with the matching textured ground on the adjacent walls.

One "travel" scenic is called "Tropic Sands" and shows palms, exotic blooms and a sparkling bay. This is a type of mural that can easily create pleasant memories — or dreams — of a trip to Bermuda, Hawaii or Nassau.

Other types of scenic papers with Spanish lace motifs are reminiscent of Spain, Mexico or New Orleans. A Riviera theme features a colonnade overlooking the vista of a quiet bayside village. Take a "trip" to the Far East, with a scenic paper showing an Oriental garden and pine trees.

A lake with charming chalets nestled among mountains, on still another scenic paper, recalls Switzerland.

Water Is Nation's Number One Concern

Man's chief concern has always been water. Where there was water, there was food for the hunter because it was there the wild animals found forage. For a varied diet and more dependable source of food, the early farmer planted his crops in these same areas of natural growth and nourishing water.

Cities grew in size and importance in proportion to their supply of fresh water. When the supply of water failed, as it did in Babylon, the cities died. Most often the cause of water supply failure was the failure of man himself.

Here in the United States, we face a water problem that has crept upon us so gradually that the general population has only recently become aware of it. To our forefathers the country seemed endless and its natural resources ever bountiful. We developed wasteful habits. There have been individuals along the way who warned us of the problems ahead, but only a few listened.

Water, land, people, and their livelihood whether farmer, merchant, housewife, or mechanic are but parts of a single whole. As one goes, so do we all.

Water problems in Hansford and the surrounding counties are not as critical as they are in some parts of the United States, but nevertheless now is the time to be concerned. If we wait until the well goes dry, it will be too late to worry.

The Ogallala formation is our principal source of water on the High Plains. It is a storage reservoir, which has trapped water for centuries. Its only replenishment is from rainfall of which only 3/20 of an inch is returned to the underground supply.

With a declining water table, Hansford County dropped 3.95 feet last year. It seems pertinent that we conserve our water for economical, social and political reasons.

Sisters of Mrs. W.E. Bratton have recently returned to their home after spending some time in the Bratton home. They were Mrs. H.L. Richard of Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Mary Chase of Sunnyvale, Calif., and Mrs. J.W. Richardson of Sheridan, Wyo. This is the first time the sisters have all been together since 1957.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Healer and children are spending the weekend in Henrietta and Wichita Falls where they will visit her mother, Mrs. H.L. Roper and his brother Hal, both of Henrietta and other relatives in Wichita Falls.

Mmes. R.E. Lee and John Berry left Friday morning to spend the weekend in Colorado Springs.

Flame Cultivator Is Economical Weed Control Method

"Take everything away but my flame cultivator and I'll still make money!"

J.S. Hale, Jr., a farmer from south of Floydada, has been using flame as an economical weed control method since 1962. In tribute to the effectiveness of the use of flame cultivation, Jay told Jack Parks, Flame Cultivation Engineer for the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, that if all of the farming equipment he had was his knife planter and his flame cultivator, he would still make money.

Hale has been using flame cultivation on his Floyd County farm since 1962 with the objective in mind of total weed control. Working closely with Hale has been his local L.P.G. dealer from Floydada, Bill Price of Wiley Butane. These two have put into practice on the Hale farm the research developed by the Foundation and have cut the weed control cost.

One of the original supporters of the flame cultivation research program at the Foundation, Hale says of flaming, "I just cannot understand why other farmers will not use flame cultivation. I am in this farming business to make money and flaming does it - it works!"

Jay's wife, Kay Hale, is a trained bookkeeper and keeps full records on all of the expenditures of the farm. When Hale speaks of the saving he has received as a result of the use of heat, he gets down his record books for each year and looks it up. This is not guess work farming, but a well-planned business.

From his records, Hale told

Parks that in 1960 he spent over $10 per acre to hand-hoe his cotton. In 1961, his cost was in excess of $18 per acre, and in 1962, the cost of hand-hoeing his cotton was $10.20 per acre. Compare this to his 1964 cost of 76¢ per acre by using flame cultivation. This cost included: operator's time, fuel cost, cost of repair to the equipment and depreciation.

The 1962 weed control cost in grain sorghum was $8 per acre and Hale said that he still has not recovered from the shock of the high cost. His flaming cost in 1964 was $1.28 per acre for his first flaming and $1.02 for the second. This cost includes fuel and operator only.

Hand hoeing in onions in 1961 cost $28.55 per acre to control the weeds. In 1964, his flame cost for weed control in the onions was $1.36 per acre. This is the cost of fuel only. This same year his hand-hoe bill was only $2.01 per acre.

Jay Hale does not limit his modern farming to flaming, but is also a strong worker in his area for water conservation and is a member of the Floyd County Water District. On his farm south of Floydada, Hale has leveled large areas that once were sloping land. Along with all of this, he has also used a 120-acre lake as a tailwater irrigation pit from which he has irrigated one field of 320 acres.

The cost of the flame cultivator is spread out on the Hale farm through using the high clearance machine for several different jobs. These include: flaming of crops, defoliating of cotton; non-selective flaming around barrow ditches; and broadcast flaming of onions.

"The flame cultivator is making me more money than any other piece of equipment I have other than my irrigation well." So says J.S. Hale, Jr., a farmer from Floydada, who uses flaming as a means to control weeds, and make more money.

Yucca Girl Scouts Have Modern New Headquarters

Yucca Girl Scout Council officials will hold Open House in the new ultramodern Council headquarters building Sunday, April 11, from 2 to 5 on West 5th Street in Thompson

Park in Guymon.

This building was made possible through a $10,000 trust set up by Dr. and Mrs. W.F. Dunaway of Guymon and generous contributions from interested and civic minded persons in Guymon and the Council area which includes 3 counties in Texas; two in Kansas; one in Colorado as well as the three Oklahoma Panhandle counties.

The building includes a large assembly room with an indoor fireplace, restroom, three offices and a store room. The building will serve 2,227 girls including 437 Brownies, 1193 Juniors, 409 Cadettes, 188 Seniors and 321 adults.

All day meetings, cookouts, and overnight camping may be scheduled for girls from Spearman, Perryton, Booker, Follett, Darrouzett, and Stratford; Liberal, Elkhart, Hugoton and Moscow, Kansas; Springfield, Colorado; Boise City, Keyes, Texhoma, Goodwell, Beaver, Straight, and Guymon, Oklahoma.

The public is invited to the Open House.

"Separate" Dress Has Importance

Dresses go out on their own this spring, and they're getting along great. The dress-jacket or dress-coat costume, in recent seasons almost the only news in the "dressy dress" picture, is getting strong competition now from the "separate" dress, styled to wear under a "separate" coat or coatless, in warmer weather.

The two-piece dress is an important factor in this spring success story. It can look like a suit, a one-piece dress, or exactly what it is — two parts, often with an elongated top or even a tunic or jumper above a simple dress.

The dress costume continues strong, as a contender with the individual dresses. Coat and dress duo looks especially important; dress and jacket are very much a part of spring.

In separate dresses or costumes, pleated skirts, bias cuts and soft shaping compose the silhouette news.

Waistlines slide from the high empire line to the low hipline, with many resting in between.

But that's only the beginning. The biggest excitement of the season is in skirts. They're alive, they're fun and they fit into the modern woman's active life. Ranging from the now-classic A-line to the flared and pleated stylings, the feminine look rules supreme.

Bodices take to soft blousing, or follow the slim long line. Collars are set-away, high, cowl, Chelsea-pointed, notched — or absent altogether. Scarves, bows and ruffles lend the feminine touch to many necklines.

Among the important styles are the double-breasted coat-dress and the tunic dress. Shift and skimmer dresses abound and apparently have entered the realm of the classics, along with the shirtwaist and the princess dress.

How to Flatter

Choose fashion jewelry to help correct beauty "faults," as well as complement costumes, recommends the Jewelry Industry Council.

Round faces, for example, will seem more oval if earrings are slender instead of square or round. Fingers will look longer and more tapered if the fashion ring selection has an oval or diamond-shaped stone.

Wide bracelets are flattering to thin arms; a full neck appears more slender if the necklace is a long single strand with pendant.

Stretch Expanding Scope for Spring

Stretch is here to stay. In styles ready to wear and in fabrics for home sewing, stretch has become an established part of the fashion picture, and its scope is still growing.

Fabrics that stretch vertically, horizontally or two ways are practically classics now, and spring newness for stretch comes from the ways in which it is used, and the many looks that it offers.

Principal uses for stretch have been in leisurewear and sportswear for women, children and men, but now stretch is spreading more importantly into suits, dresses, coats, jackets.

Farmers Associated with Southern Farm Supply Have Record Year

Farmers associated with Southern Farm Supply of Amarillo sold themselves more than $8.5 million worth of goods in 1964, and earned over $250,000. Vester Hill, Manager of the Spearman Cooperative, said today.

"This is the highest amount the Association has sold in any single year during its 35 year history", he added.

These and other facts of progress will be in the report of Tom Jones, General Manager of Southern Farm Supply, during the Association's Annual Stockholders Meeting April 11th, 12th and 13th at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

More than 500 persons from 253 local Cooperatives in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico are expected to attend the meeting, Mr. Hill said.

Following April 11th's registration from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the Motel's Lobby, there will be a Vesper Service in the Candelight Room at 6 p.m.

Six major speakers are slated for the next two days' business sessions. April 12th's morning speakers include Kenneth Wolf, Agribusiness Economist, Texas A&M University, "Managing Southern Farm Supply Association is a major stockholder in Mississippi Chemical Corporation.

"Cows, Kids and Co-ops" will be the banquet speaker's topic. Henry Schriver of Grafton, Ohio, one of the busiest and most colorful spokesmen for agriculture in the Midwest, will tell his story of the ups and downs of farm life gained through a lifetime of farming; the joys and trials of rearing eleven children; and his firm belief in a "Do-It Yourself" America and the part that Cooperatives play in that system. April 13th session begins at 9:30 a.m. with a speech by Charles K. Baker, Farm Organization Economist, College Station. His topic is "Farm Stores as a Vital Addition to Old Line Cooperatives".

In addition to these speakers, there will be Departmental reports from Southern Farm Supply's employees.

The business session will begin at 1:30 p.m. April 13. Winners of the Man Miles Contest will be announced. First Prize is $150; then $100, $75 and $50.

Three directors will be elected. Terms expiring include J. W. Gardenhire, District 5; Paul W. Garrison, District 6 and H. A. Hansen, District 8.

"This meeting will have something of interest to everyone", Mr. Hill said. "We have passed several milestones, and are looking toward others. Everyone is invited to attend".
