Commerce are members of the finest Chamber of Commerce in the World. Cora Queener our local Chamber of Commerce Manager is really the key to their success. Thanks once again Cora from all of us.

protecting yourself from pipelines in the area. Or in other words if you see a sign that warns you not to dig because there is pipeline in the area please obey the sign.

pipes that were ripped to shreds by ditch diggers. The two men emphasize that if you are on a digger or a tractor and strike one of these pipes to run away, vamonos, andele pronto, in other words get the hell out and run to safety.

Conservation Reserve Sign up Set For February 9-27

Farmers who want to bid to enter their highly erodible cropland into USDA's 10-year Conservation Reserve Program may do so during the program's fourth sign-up period from February 9 through 27.

The criteria for determining highly erodible land, however, will not be available until the Final Rules are published, hopefully before February 9.

USDA has also announced a one-time, one-year "bonus" for the 1987 crop to be paid in the form of an increased annual payment. The bonus will be equal to $2.00 times the farm program payment yield for corn times the number of acres of corn base designated for enrollment in the Reserve.

The bonus will be payable in the form of generic commodity certificates when a 1987 CRP contract is accepted.

During the sign-up period, producers will be given the option to enter into a CRP contract beginning with either the 1987 or 1988 crop year.

Under provisions of a recent amendment to the legislation authorizing CRP, alfalfa and other multiyear grasses and legumes in rotation during the years 1981-1985, as approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, will be considered to be "agricultural commodities" for the purpose of determining eligibility of land to be placed in CRP.

Annual payments for 10 years will compensate farmers for retiring highly erodible land from crop production. The amount of the payment is determined by the accepted bid per acre and the number of accepted acres.

Participants will also receive cost-share assistance for establishing grass, tree, or wildlife plants on the acreage placed in the reserve. Hunting is allowed on the land but no crops can be harvested while it is in the reserve.

For information about the reserve, contact any local office of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, or the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

PSU Student Teaching Assignments

Panhandle State University students who will begin student teaching assignments in the Texas Panhandle are pictured above. They are [1 to r] Kenneth Brown, Gruver; Lanny Hargrove, Perryton; James Noles II, Channing, and Shana Ward, Perryton. Standing is Dr. James Satterfield, Director of Teacher Education and Placement at PSU.

Fifty-eight Panhandle State University teacher education students will begin their student teaching assignments Feb. 16 in grade schools and high schools in five states. This directed observation in student teaching is designed to give each prospective teacher practical experience in actual classroom instruction at the appropriate subject and grade level and under the guidance of a skilled supervising teacher.

In addition to actual teaching experience, conferences will be conducted each week for the student teachers. Practical problems arising in the student teaching situation are discussed at the conferences as well as the general problems relating to the teaching profession.

The student teachers, their teaching assignment, and their subject area are as follows. Conservation Reserve Sign up Set For February 9-27

Farmers who want to bid to enter their highly erodible cropland into USDA's 10-year Conservation Reserve Program may do so during the program's fourth sign-up period from February 9 through 27.

The criteria for determining highly erodible land, however, will not be available until the Final Rules are published, hopefully before February 9.

USDA has also announced a one-time, one-year "bonus" for the 1987 crop to be paid in the form of an increased annual payment. The bonus will be equal to $2.00 times the farm program payment yield for corn times the number of acres of corn base designated for enrollment in the Reserve.

The bonus will be payable in the form of generic commodity certificates when a 1987 CRP contract is accepted.

During the sign-up period, producers will be given the option to enter into a CRP contract beginning with either the 1987 or 1988 crop year.

Under provisions of a recent amendment to the legislation authorizing CRP, alfalfa and other multiyear grasses and legumes in rotation during the years 1981-1985, as approved by the Secretary of Agriculture, will be considered to be "agricultural commodities" for the purpose of determining eligibility of land to be placed in CRP.

Annual payments for 10 years will compensate farmers for retiring highly erodible land from crop production. The amount of the payment is determined by the accepted bid per acre and the number of accepted acres.

Participants will also receive cost-share assistance for establishing grass, tree, or wildlife plants on the acreage placed in the reserve. Hunting is allowed on the land but no crops can be harvested while it is in the reserve.

For information about the reserve, contact any local office of the USDA Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, or the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
