The

SUNDAY The Hansford Plainsman

VOLUME VII., NUMBER 11

SPEARMAN, HANSFORD COUNTY, TEXAS 79081

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1965

Answer one question and you open up a dozen more.

Thursday we said the county road equipment is used on private property when available and it is charged for just like private owned equipment.

The county is not competing with private dirt movers for business. They will not do work on private property when it can be done by a private concern.

I believe this answers the original questions. The county does not do work free for private citizens and they are not competing for work with private dirt moving companies.

Now, I am going to drop the entire dirty subject.

I know that my good buddy James Ray Lyon now thinks I was fibbing when I told him I would put this in the paper. But, when he is older he will understand that we adults are forgetful.

A couple of weeks ago I promised James that I would carry a story about the Seventh Grade winning a district football championship. When we ran the picture we did not know they were district champs.

The Seventh graders lost only one game, that was the first one to Perryton. They whipped everyone in district play.

James, we are sorry to let it slip by, but if you seventh graders do the same thing from now until you get out of high school, I will not let it slip again.

By the way, that group of boys is good on the basketball court, also.

CHRISTMAS COMING - Chamber Manager Don Floyd and a General Telephone employee use a General truck to string the Christmas decorations on Main Street. With the bucket truck, the decorations went up quickly. More are to be put up on Highway 15. PLAINSMAN PHOTO

Christmas Program Starts This Week

Spearman's annual Christmas program of presenting gift certificates to some local shoppers will begin this week.

Chamber of Commerce officers said this week that over 50 business firms will be taking part in the program this year. Cooperating stores will have posters on display designating them as cooperating firms.

The programs to present the gift certificates will be held on Saturdays at 2 p. m. The first program will be held on Main Street on Dec. 4. The second program on Dec. 11 will be held in Plains Shopping Center. Dec. 18 will be the final program and it will be held back on Main Street.

Shoppers will receive tickets this week in the stores and all stubs must be put in containers provided for this in the cooperating stores.

Stores will give one ticket for each $1 purchase, with a limit of 250 tickets for any one purchase.

Gift certificates valued at $100 will be given each Saturday. The certificates can be redeemed for merchandise at any cooperating store.

Christmas decorations went up on Main Street Friday and workers were putting them up on Highway 15 Saturday.

Chamber Manager Don Floyd said another decoration work night will be held at the Community Building at 7 p. m. Monday so more repair work can be done. Everyone interested in making Spearman look good for Christmas is asked to attend to help with the project.

Contests for the best decorated home and best decorated business will be held by the chamber in conjunction with the Christmas program. Check with the chamber office for details.

Balentine Rites Held

Funeral services for James Albert Balentine, 62, a lifetime resident of Morse were held Wednesday afternoon in the Morse Community Church.

The Rev. Harold Fleming, pastor, officiated and burial was in Leib Cemetery under the direction of Minton Mortuary of Borger.

The former cattle inspector died Monday night in Tucumcari, N. M.

Survivors include his wife, a sister and three brothers.

Spearman, Gruver Split Games

Hounds Top Lynx 50-45

What started like a run-away, turned into a real ballgame Friday night and the methodical and sometime fumbling Spearman Lynx scared the flashy Gruver Greyhounds before falling 50-45.

With spectacular dribbling behind the back and between the legs, deadly passing and shooting, the Greyhounds got off to a 9-2 lead. Spearman was losing the ball before they ever got a shot.

The Lynx never got excited and were able to slow the Gruver express with defense while stuffing in a few baskets to trail only 8-11 at the end of the first quarter.

Dave Clement drew the assignment of guarding the flashy Sam Tipton. Clement forced Tipton into foul trouble early in the game and was able to slow him, forcing him into mistakes he usually does not make.

Spearman continued to close the gap and during the second quarter held a 23-22 lead at one point. Gruver's superior rebounding over Spearman's Carl Close and Monte Black kept them in the game when their outside shooters cooled.

Lynxettes Win 38-31

A first and fourth quarter scoring surge by the Spearman Lynxettes gave them a 38-31 win over Gruver here Friday night.

Barbara Wilde took off like a rocket the first half, hitting everything she threw up to give Spearman 14-5 and 22-12 leads at the ends of the first two quarters of play.

With only Wilde shooting, Gruver adjusted to stop her and then began cutting the lead.

WTSU Chorale Singing Here

The West Texas State University Chorale, featuring two Spearman students, will perform here Wednesday, Dec. 1 at 10:30 a. m. at the high school auditorium.

The two Spearman students in the singing group are Bill Devers and Helen Collard.

This appearance is part of a scheduled tour the Chorale is making of towns in this area.

Saturday Alarm Was Grass Fire

A grass fire was reported to the Spearman fire department at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

The fire was reported to be 14 miles southwest of Spearman on Highway 15, near the Bill Jones place.

A city fire truck and a county truck were dispatched to the fire.

MATCHING WITS - Gruver's Sam Tipton (25) and Spearman's Dave Clement match wits in the middle of the court. Tipton hit for 19 points, but Clement did manage to contain him during the middle of the game, enabling Spearman to stay within striking distance. PLAINSMAN PHOTO

HOOKING IN TWO - With shirttail flying, Lynxette Barbara Wilde spins away from two Gruver guards to score two points on a left-handed hook shot. Gruver had to sag all three guards back in the middle to try and slow the speedy Wilde. PLAINSMAN PHOTO

Several Factors Cause Wheat Carryover Reduction

A continued high level of exports, some increase in domestic use and special acreage diversion programs were responsible for another reduction in the U. S. wheat carryover for 1965.

John G. McHany, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, said the July 1, 1965 wheat carryover was 9 percent below that of a year ago. He added this was the fourth straight year for wheat stocks to decline. But, he said, consumers have nothing to worry about since the July 1 carryover totaled 819 million bushels, enough for more than a year and a half domestic use.

The 1965 wheat crop for the nation plus the carryover and an allowance for small imports indicate a total wheat supply of 2,175 million bushels for the 1965-66 marketing year, about the same supply as was available a year earlier.

McHany expects domestic use of wheat to increase 4 percent during the year ahead while exports are expected to remain stable. Wheat used for feed is expected to total around 95 million bushels compared with 72 million bushels for the year earlier. This compares with an average of 42 million bushels fed for the 1958-62 period.

The economist said the wheat carryover on July 1, 1966--about the time the 1966 harvest begins to roll--should be around 780 million bushels. This, he added, would be 39 million bushels below the July 1, '65 carryover and 40 percent below the 1958-62 5-year average. Great strides, McHany said, have been made in reducing the carryover of wheat but we still have plenty.

McHany said wheat prices to farmers are expected to average slightly above the national loan rate average of $1.25 per bushel for the 1965-66 marketing year. About 84 percent of the nation's acreage allotments are under the 1965 wheat program with all production from this acreage eligible for price support. This, said the economist, should provide an offset to the large "free" supply and give strength to prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Parrish and children of Lubbock spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Parrish.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Harris of Olathe, Colo. are visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Close, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Batson, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Close.

Miss Darla Adkison of Abilene arrived home Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adkison. Added guests for Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Lee and family of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adkison and family of Enid and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adkison of Spearman.

FINGER-TIP CONTROL --- Lynxette Susan Hutchison beats Gruver's Judy Bayless (21) two finger joints as they battle for the control of this jump ball. Hutchison's jumping gave Spearman control of the ball on several critical occasions Friday night as the Lynxettes beat Gruver. Plainsman Photo

Thanksgiving dinner guests in the John Pipkin home were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stokes of Amarillo, Mrs. Myrtle Fullbright and Mr. and Mrs. Knox Pipkin, all of Spearman. Mr. and Mrs.

James Martin were afternoon guests. The John Pipkins' daughters, Pauline and Betty, phoned them from Greenville, S.C., where they attend Bob Jones University.

Mr. and Mrs. Zack Fisher and children of Memphis have been here visiting his mother, Mrs. Helen Fisher and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barkley of Gruver.

Fishing Is Picking Up Now at Lake Meredith

Fishing at Lake Meredith has picked up considerably with the coming of cooler weather to the Texas Panhandle.

Fishermen have been catching more than their limits at the new lake which now has access from four public locations.

Fishermen have been catching both bass and the new walleye pike, a fish which is not on the legal game fish list for the lake.

Several fishermen have been leaving the lake with more than two dozen bass. They daily bass limit is twelve fish.

Now that the new Fritch-Harbor Day Development Road is open to the public, boaters may reach the 7,500 acre lake by using the Fritch access if coming from Amarillo; the Sanford-Yake access if from Borger; the Cedar Canyon access (unpaved) if from Borger or local; and the Blue-West access if from the north side of the lake.

Plans are now underway for the complete development of the south side of the lake with extensive boating and service facilities.

Hunting pressure has slack-ed of somewhat after the opening weekend of deer season. A few deer were taken along the rim of the lake in unpopulated areas where the game animals are still undisturbed.

Waterfowl hunting should receive a big boost Nov. 24 as duck season opens. There are considerable numbers of waterfowl using the lake now. Goose season has been open since the first of the month.

Hunters are advised that the best way to reach the hunting areas of the lake is by boat. Sportsman's manners would call for would-be hunters to be extremely careful not to disturb waterfowl after sun up by barging into the shallow areas of the lake with boats.

Hunters should be in position long before sun up if they expect to have any luck on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Jones of Gruver have visited the Myrl Guy Joneses in Beaumont this past week and also visited Reinhold Korbel at T. C. U. in Fort Worth.

ket as the Hounds controlled the boards. Although he had his rebounding problems, Close turned in his best offensive game. He scored 18 points to lead the attack. He was able to get the ball inside the tight Gruver defense and got above it for shots. He also had the Greyhounds' inside men in foul trouble. Spearman stayed within four to six points of the Hounds through the second half. Larry Butts saw his first action of the year and hit on two field goals to help the Lynx cause. Shufeldt was a constant outside threat as he scored on four long jumpers and Mike Hendricks, who saw only limited action, hit on two outside shots. Tipton got to rolling again in the fourth quarter and looked like he might make a late rout of the game. But, Spearman hung on, staying within six points. In the final minutes, Gruver went into a stall but Spearman managed to close the gap on a field goal and some free shots. Just before the game ended, Spearman pulled to within two points. They tried forcing the Gruver stall and Tipton and company were able to spread the point gap. This was Spearman's strongest effort of the young season. It was probably the best game this group of Lynx has played since they became a unit last year.

ette guards fits in the second half. She rolled in eight field goals and eight free shots for 24 points for the night. Guards Robbie Ownbey, Bethany Donnell and Kathi Pattison contained the Gruver forwards the first half. They controlled the boards the entire night, giving Gruver only one shot per try. When Odom got hot in the last quarter, that was all she needed. Gruver's Judy Bayless was the standout on defense and when she could get some help, stopped the "wild willow". With Odom closing the gap and Wilde tied up under the bucket, Karen Gibson took up the scoring punch for Spearman. She hit several buckets from the outside to keep Spearman in the game. Strong rebounding and ball-hawking by Susan Hutchison helped the Lynxette cause on numerous critical occasions. Both teams committed 15 fouls and Gruver hit on 11 of 19 free shots. Spearman hit 10 of 19.

Chamber Manager Don Floyd said there are still more repairs to be done on the decorations to go on the highway. Everyone is urged to attend and help with the repairs. # Double Row Planting Is Best

Most people agree narrow rows of grain sorghum will outyield the standard 38 or 40 inch rows. Narrow rows of grain sorghum are usually planted with a standard small grain drill, with every other hole stopped up.

There is a better method, however, says Robert Lynch, assistant agronomist at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor: that method is double-row planting of grain sorghum.

Double-row planting is centering two, 12-inch rows on a 40-inch base. This means it is 40 inches from the center of one set of double-row to the center of the next set of double-rows.

Several years of research at the McGregor Station have proved the worth of double-row grain sorghum. Already, a few farmers in the Blacklands area are adapting the double-row planting to their land and machinery.

Double-row planting uses the same amount of seed as regular single rows. The only difference is each of the double-rows gets one-half the seed. This is accomplished by adding an inverted Y shaped tube for the seed to drop through from the planter box to the two shoes that run in the ground. Above the Y is a divider to cause half the seed to drop on each side.

The only other alteration to the planter is adding a third covering shovel to cover the grain, notes Lynch. An extra wide roller may be used on the rear of the planter, or rolling may be done in a separate operation.

Records at the McGregor Research Center from 1959 to 1965 indicate a substantial increase in yield over single-rows by the double-row plantings. The average yield of the 7-year period for single-rows was 3,548 pounds per acre. The average yield of the same period for the double-row planting was 4,278 pounds per acre, an increase of about 25 percent.

Neither of the tests were irrigated. Both were fertilized with the same rate of 16-20-0 fertilizer. Usually the plots were cultivated twice.

Lynch says the advantages of the double-rows are: (1) A narrow-row type planting that can still be planted and cultivated with conventional equipment, (2) Increased yield over single-row plantings, (3) Planting in double-rows conserves moisture since the ground between rows is shaded more, and (4) The plants aren't as crowded, since the same amount of seed is spread into two rows instead of one. This means bigger heads.

Some tests indicate that drilling grain sorghum increases yields even more than double-row, but Lynch believes farmers will have consistently higher yields with double-rows. "Most farmers have weedy ground" said Lynch, "so it's better to plant in double-rows that can be cultivated instead of drilling grain sorghum and letting weeds take over."

The only modification to a conventional cultivator is moving one of the front shovels in, so it will clean the center of the 12-inch rows. At the McGregor Station a four row planter and cultivator were used with only minor changes. Lynch says double-row planters are not available yet from major implement companies, but a machine shop can make the change in a short time and at a fairly low cost.

Orene McClellan Plans Thumb Twiddling

by Mary Brinkerhoff
The Dallas Morning News
Orene McClellan, whose father raised the first wheat crop in the Panhandle, is about to transplant her flowered "tote bag" from the Dallas County Courthouse to retirement's greener pastures.
The veteran of nearly 32 years in home demonstration work - 28 of them in Dallas, 26 of those as a full-fledged agent - did make a small confession recently.
"I'm going to twiddle my thumbs for at least 15 minutes. And I may sleep late one morning."
Such frivolity won't be possible until after Nov. 30, when Orene and her paper-stuffed, flower-strewn travel case officially cease to be courthouse fixtures.
The case will likely go with her to College Station for Dec. 11 festivities honoring agricultural and home demonstration agents who have retired this year from the Texas A&M Extension Service.
Orene has harvested many an honor in her career, including the 1946 Distinguished Service Award of the National Home Demonstration Agents Association.
She has watched while Dallas County exploded in population and changed in character until now, "most people live in somebody's city limits."
By itself, the conversion of rural to urban life has been less significant to her than the vast increases in numbers of families to be served or the increasing demands on homemakers.
"There's very little difference in the problems of the city and the rural homemaker these days . . . It's been many years since we made any distinction - if we ever did."
New foods, fabrics, appliances and techniques of management challenge the country woman (where she still exists) as much as they do her city-slicker sister.

One development greatly pleasing to Miss McClellan is increasing awareness of home life as the mold in which the citizen's and the nation's future are cast.
Others are the growing number of young women in home demonstration clubs and the continued membership of those who helped found clubs some 30 years ago.
Such alert veterans share her conviction that home management is an art or science for lifelong study.
One elder delighted Orene by remarking after a laundry workshop, "I've been washing all my life, but I've learned more about laundry today."
The agent regards the home demonstration clubs as continuous university extension classes. And she credits their members, who now total 600 to 700, with stretching her staff's services to fit a booming county.
During one 5-year period, 262 training sessions were held for prospective leaders in different phases of homemaking from child development to nutrition.
The women who completed them went on to give demonstrations in their own clubs and for outside groups.
That's Orene's story of how club members assumed a big share of extension work, making it possible for her to take to the newspapers, TV and radio.
"When I came here, an agent worked with the home demonstration . . . Later, we made it clear that our services are available to all the people."
Since last Jan. 1, she has spoken on 95 radio shows and appeared 40 times on televi-

Orene McClellan . . . "If I live to be 100, I'll never get everything done that I want to do."

***
sion. A newspaper story may bring 100 requests for copies of a bulletin.
And speaking of bulletins, 28,277 were mailed from her office to 5,177 different families during the period from Jan. 1 through October.
One woman has called each year since Orene came to Dallas for fresh information on canning; she and the agent have formed a cordial friendship, sight unseen.
Another telephoned from the Bronx for bulletins she had noticed during a Christmas visit here.
It will be hard to leave all this hubbub. But the rancher's daughter from Hansford County, one of 10 children, has plenty of kinfolk to visit.
She means to travel, enjoy her new apartment at 1916 Stevens Forest, keep up with her profession and stay active in a good-sized list of organizations.
There's small doubt that she'll stay in touch with the co-workers and generations of home demonstration and 4-H club members who have brightened her long career.
"Never has one person owed so much to so many."

Girls Win, Boys Lose

It was a split decision for the Spearman basketball teams in Lynx gym Tuesday night. The Lynxettes clobbered White Deer, 42-32, but the Lynx fell to the Borger B-team 47-37. The Does and Lynxettes battled in equal terms the first quarter and were tied 10-10. Barbara Wilde turned ed on the steam the rest of the way and guards, Ownbey, Pattison and Donnell shut off the Does scoring. Spearman was leading 28-14 at the half and 34-22 at the end of the third quarter. Wilde took scoring honors in the game with 24 points. Cindy Hubbard of White Deer was second with 22 points. None of the Lynxettes fouled out and they scored on 20 of 29 free shots. Superior rebounding and stronger outside shooting gave the Borger-B team a 47-37 win over Spearman.

The Lynx held a 9-5 first quarter lead, but Borger erased it and were ahead 23-15 at the half. They still had the eight points, 38-30, at the end of three quarters. Alfred Padilla of Borger had scoring honors with 15 points. Ken Shufeldt led Spearman with 12 and Carl Close had 11.
