

HANSFORD COUNTY'S LEADING NEWSPAPER

The Hansford Plainsman

VOLUME VII., NUMBER 36

SPEARMAN, HANSFORD COUNTY, TEXAS 79081

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1966

This is National Future Farmer of America week. The time each year when the work of one of the largest youth organizations in the country is brought to the attention of all.

The blue jackets with the FFA emblem can be found just about anywhere in the United States where there is an interest in agriculture. There are 40,000 members.

Surprisingly enough one will find FFA chapters even in the larger city high schools.

We have always had a lot of admiration for the well organized FFA chapters throughout the country. The members not only learn agriculture, but they learn many sound, basic lessons of life in FFA work.

The fact that the boys run their meetings, conventions and other activities on all levels has always impressed us. We were able to attend a national convention one year while working for KGNC. It was a real experience to see the FFA boys conduct the entire convention, including the business session.

There were some real debates on the convention floor on different subjects, but they were all orderly and conducted according to the rules of order.

Attendance at a few of these meetings will restore your faith in the future of these young men.

FFA training and offices have led to good jobs for many FFA boys. We have personally known three Texas and National FFA officers who went on to good positions.

One is now farm director of a large Shreveport radio station, another is on the staff of Farm Journal and the third is in the public relations department with a large company dealing with agriculture.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we join in saluting the local FFA members and their counterparts all over the nation for their outstanding work.

The sports pages have had several stories this week about the draft threatening the five year football players in colleges.

It looks like some may have to go back to playing according to the rules and just have the boys for four years. We cannot work up much sorrow for schools that are going to lose their stars because they are five year men.

It is an old fashioned idea probably, but we think that the athletic department of any school, be it college, high school or peewees should show the way in following the rules to the letter. After all, that is the excuse for the entire program, teaching young men and women to live and play by the rules.

It was a great day in Texas athletics when the rule was changed so that boys could not stay in school an extra year to play football and basketball.

The new voter registration law is now in effect and those who did not pay their poll taxes in January are going to get a chance to register and vote.

This newspaper and many others over the state now look a little foolish for all those stories we printed that the court would not act on the poll tax suit in time to effect this year's election.

We all published them in good faith that the information was correct. We had no way of knowing the court was going to act so quickly. We were trying to get as many people qualified to vote as possible.

We believed the stories so much that we even paid our own poll tax.

Sales Clinic Is Saturday Night

An estimated 200 businessmen and their employees will attend a sales and customer relations clinic in the Spearman Junior High cafeteria at 7 p.m. Saturday night.

Forty business firms this week joined the eight-week sales campaign. The personnel of these firms will be guests of The Hansford Plainsman at a dinner and the clinic.

The speaker is Bill Leigh, a newspaper advertising specialist who has conducted such clinics all over the United States.

Leigh and his staff just completed the clinic in Guymon and it was well received there.

Chamber of Commerce managers from many areas have said Leigh's clinic is one of the best they have ever had in their town.

Leigh will discuss how to attract customers by fulfilling man's basic needs. And, why customers are lost and how to prevent it.

He also discusses overcoming sales hazards such as: competition, habit, fear, lack of information, difficult personality, time, release, negative atmosphere and poor judgment.

Man Sentenced For Forgery

Isaccs Robert Jesters entered a plea of guilty to a forgery charge here Wednesday in 84th District Court before Judge Max Boyer.

Jesters was sentenced to three years in the state prison in Huntsville.

He was returned here from Shreveport, La., in December on a charge of forging a check on Rex Jones.

The man is facing charges in other states after he completes his term in the Texas prison.

Under sales technique he will discuss approach, interest, question, objective, demonstration, guarantee, service, assurance, benefits.

School Taking Time Finding New Coach

There is no big rush to find a new football coach for Spearman High School, Supt. Bill Reeves said this week.

Police Seek Burglar Of $$ Machine

Spearman police are trying to solve the unusual burglary at Sparks Laundry Sunday night.

Thieves emptied the 25 cent change machine without making a mark on the machine, Chief of Police Wayne Pierce said this week.

Pierce said it was the first time he had seen a machine emptied without the machine being damaged.

The registration of voters under the new Texas Voter Registration law will begin next week, Sheriff J.B. Cooke said this week.

Cooke said the beginning date had not been set Wednesday, but it will be one week after the Governor signs the bill.

People who have paid their poll tax or who are exempt from the poll tax do not have to register this year.

Voters will be allowed two weeks to register and become qualified voters.

good qualities, poor qualities, loss, story, pride of ownership, command and close.

Leigh says nothing happens in a town until someone sells something.

Reeves said this week. Preliminary work is being done.

Dr. Reeves said he is now accepting written applications from all coaches interested in the position, but none are being interviewed, yet.

There is a large number of men, the superintendent said, interested in the position. Reeves has over 20 applications for the job.

Reeves said he would contact some college coaches for their recommendations on a top man for the position.

After all the preliminary work is completed all the applications will be screened. Reeves said the applicants would be screened on their qualifications to fit into the needs of the school, ability to work with the entire school staff, character and coaching ability.

The top three or five applicants will be interviewed.

Dr. Reeves said he was well pleased with the quality of the coaches applying for the position. Some outstanding young and established coaches are interested in the job.

City Requests State Help on Intersection

A request for another traffic study on the intersection of highways 15 and 282 has been made by the Spearman City Council Monday night to the State Highway Department.

The intersection is a five-way intersection and poses a constant traffic problem and danger. It has been under study several times before by the city and state.

Two years ago the highway department designed a plan for traffic islands and stop lights on the intersection. A traffic count at that time showed enough traffic to warrant the system.

The islands and traffic lanes were to be tried on a temporary basis before the permanent islands were installed. The council asked the highway department to wait until after the wheat harvest, that was just beginning, was completed before putting in the test.

After the harvest was completed, the highway department did not begin the test and when they were later contacted by the city, the state said there was not enough traffic to warrant the system.

Traffic in the intersection has been increasing steadily and now with more industrial firms on the Gruver highway the truck traffic is even more congested.

Representatives of several firms on the Gruver highway were invited to the meeting Monday. Bill Massie of Baker-Taylor was the only one at the meeting.

He told the council his firm's large trucks were having more and more trouble getting through the intersection and going to Perryton.

He said because of the length of the intersection it was difficult for a large truck to get started and be through the intersection before becoming a hazard to faster moving cars.

City Manager Darco Foshee was instructed to go to Amarillo and discuss the problem with highway engineers and request the new study.

In other business two men were appointed as representatives of the city on different boards. Massie was appointed to the board of City Development. Jimmie Shieldknight was appointed to the federal low-cost housing board.

Foshee told the council the city had the money to make the March bond payment of $23,000. This is the first time in a long time the city has not had to borrow money for a short time to make the payments.

One Hurt In Accident

One person was hospitalized last week for observation after a two-car collision at Hazelwood and E. Second.

Mrs. Howard Raff was hospitalized for observation Friday morning and released that afternoon. She was a passenger in one of the cars in the accident.

Cars driven by Howard Raff, a teacher, and Linda Spoonemore, a student, were involved in an open intersection collision about 8 a.m. Friday.

Miss Spoonemore was going south on Hazelwood and Raff was going east on Second. The Raff vehicle hit the Spoonemore car in the right side.

Officers investigated a second accident Saturday at 1:10 p.m. Vehicles driven by Ned Turner and Wayne Ellsworth collided near the intersection of Eleventh and Dessen.

Officers said Ellsworth was making a turn off Eleventh onto Dessen when the two cars collided.

SECRETARY OF STATE Crawford Martin will be in Spearman about 3:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 25 for a coffee with interested persons. He is a candidate for Attorney General of Texas.

Homemaking Notes

by Linda Webb

Even though our "winter time" has been fairly short, considering that it didn't begin until Christmas, I am more than ready to see signs of spring. I've seen all I want of cold weather, and the "sniffles".

A new article across my desk this week pronounced tangerines as sniffle-chasers. Researchers have found that tangerines contain the decongestant synephrine in an abundant amount. Now, having heard this news, I would rather eat a tangerine or sip its juice than take a pill to relieve a runny nose.

Prior to its discovery in nature, synephrine was made in the laboratory and medically prescribed as a stimulant and decongestant for the relief of colds. Since 1927, it has been recommended for children and adults in minimum doses of 100 milligrams. An equivalent amount is contained in only 8 to 12 ounces of tangerine juice.

Although citrus fruits have long been recommended for warding off colds, there is the new possibility that eating tangerines can give relief from sniffles after you catch a cold.

Speaking of citrus fruits, did you know that you can cut salad dressing calories almost in half and still use your favorite dressings? Just blend equal parts of dressing and fresh lemon juice---and add a bit of freshly grated for extra zest. It adds a flavor lift and important vitamin C to your salads, while drastically cutting calories (there are only 4 calories per tablespoon of lemon juice).

Try this half and half salad dressing---equal parts of your favorite dressing and fresh lemon juice on tossed crisp vegetable salads, colorful fruit salad plates or on seafood salad combinations.

A record-breaking onion crop this year is an encouragement to you to use more onions in cooking seasoning.

In buying onions, they should be clean, well-shaped, and have dry skins. If you like a strong flavor, buy globe onions, which are medium in size and globular in shape.

The flavor of this type of onion keeps very well when stored in a cool, dry place. Globe onions are available throughout the year.

For a milder onion, choose the Bermuda or Spanish onion. The Bermuda is large and flat with a yellow, buff or red skin. Look for Bermudas in the stores from March to June. The Spanish onion is large and elongated, with a light yellow or tan color. Spanish onions are available from August to April.

To enhance the flavor of boiled, baked or creamed onions, add caraway seed, mustard, seed, nutmeg, oregano, sage or thyme. Final touches in seasoning mark you as a cook and hostess who knows and cares about food at its best.

THE LAST NOTE: Let us be thankful for the moon. If it weren't there, who knows what people might be shooting rockets at.

Engaged--

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Smith of Spearman announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to William Allen Cator, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cator, Sr. of Gruver. Both Miss Smith and her fiance are graduates of Spearman High School.

Day by Day

by Day McClellan

Some time back when Charlene Bulls and Barbara and Louis Schnell put in their electrical and interior decoration shop and remodeled the premises at 212 Hancock, we inadvertently missed having a story about it until it was "old hat".

Of course, everyone knows by now that Charlene and Barbara do interior decorating, make drapes, do furniture refinishing, etc. and Louis operates his electrical business as before. They also handle Grumbacher art supplies for the many artists in our area.

Charlene was Xi Zeta Upsilon's hostess last week for a luncheon at Amarillo's Tascosa Country Club. Following that very enjoyable event, she arranged for us to visit "Colony Catherine" out between Amarillo and Canyon, where we heard how this artists' dream came into reality.

It's a little like Texas' best kept secret, Palo Duro Canyon. At least, I for one, was not aware that a silk-screening plant and artists' colony were located here in our area.

Charlene can tell you more about it if you're interested in touring the plant and seeing the unique architecture of the art colony which was designed to blend completely into those caliche hills. It's fascinating.

I'm getting letters nowadays from my Dad who is out in California again, soaking up sunshine. Their weekly agenda ranges from attending lectures on politics in Indonesia to University choir concerts; in short they're always interested in whatever is going on around them and by keeping interested, they stay young.

Henry Ford, the First, out of long experience, once said: Anyone who stops learning is old, whether this happens at 20 or 80. Anyone who keeps on learning not only remains young, but becomes constantly more valuable, regardless of physical capacity."

We should so live and labor in our time that what came to us as seed may go to the next generation at blossom, and that which came to us as blossom may go to them as fruit. This is what we mean by progress. --Henry Ward Beecher.

I was sorry to have missed the high school speech department's production "The Miracle Worker." One comment I heard was that it was the best high school play presented here to date.

The sales clinic and dinner The Plainsman is sponsoring is set for 7 p.m. Saturday. We're anxious to hear what Bill Leigh has to say concerning how to improve the image of Spearman as a friendly, progressive community with emphasis on our shopping facilities.

Most of us, as salespeople, are anxious to improve in the area of human relations and salesmanship. So, here's our chance to benefit from such a capsule course.

Life is a building. It rises slowly day by day, through the years. Every new lesson we learn lays a block on the edifice which is rising silently within us. Every experience, every touch of another life on ours, every influence that impresses us, every book we have read, every act of our commonest days, add something to the invisible building. --J. Claude Wells.

Personal note to my secret pal: The surprise (which came by the way, for no good reason except friendship) was really delightful. Someday perhaps you'll share the recipe with me?

March Draft Quota Largest Since 1953

State draft boards are scheduled to forward 5,515 young men for preinduction mental and physical examinations in March, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Tuesday.

This compares with a scheduled 8,640 being forwarded in February.

The March induction quota, 1,570, previously announced, is the biggest monthly draft quota received for the armed forces in Texas since June 1953.

The March induction quota of 1,570 compared with a February call of 1,372.

Local board quotas for induction and preinduction examination in March already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards. Men as young as 18 years and 11 months may be ordered to fill the March call for examination.

No man can be ordered for induction unless he has reached his 19th birthday, except as a volunteer.

The March quota for induction will be filled with single and childless married men 19 through 25 years old.

No married man with children, or an expected child, will be selected to fill the March call, if information about the children, or unborn child, has been furnished the draft board.

The Selective Service regulations demand that an unborn child be certified by a physician.

THE WAY I SEE IT

Robert Cordes, Pastor
Oslo & Faith Lutheran

WE NEED HELP TO SEE STRAIGHT!

Imagine how awkward it would be to walk, if suddenly down were up and up were down! The human eye actually does see everything upside down; it is the optic nerve and the brain that straighten it all out for us. When people are fitted with glasses which invert (or turn) the image of what was seen before the lens of the eye gets its turn, all the world appears inverted or upside down. In time we could adjust to this upside-down way in which we see things so it would seem right and everything else wrong.

Here is where our human natures have been perverted, twisted what we call right and good living. We have twisted the Truth of God until humans want to live "our way" instead of God's way. And the human race has so adjusted to this perverted twisted view that we often accept sin and evil as normal and acceptable...until the way of God and Christ is foreign and rejected.

The only one ever on earth who understood the situation and who could really see things right side up was Jesus Christ because He was God in human flesh.

For the dentist it is recommended we go twice a year. For the oculist at least every two years. The time could well be now for your checkup on Christian eyesight. Most of us have been operating with a kind of bifocal approach to living. We look at the world through the top of our glasses, and shift to a different kind of lens when we read the Word of God.

Does what seems right side up in your life, really be upside down in the sight of the Holy God? Are your moral values, your set of standards really mixed up and incorrect? It is the Gospel which gives not only clear example and definition of our sinful walk in life--the Gospel is the corrective power which is able to change upside down to the right side up. Don't belittle your church or the Gospel. Allow Christ to change you into His pure way of living--and thus open heaven for you!

Windbreaks Can Make Spring Winds More Bearable in Our Area

By Bob Crawford
Soil Conservation Service

Spring is almost here. The windy months are upon us. It is too late for a windbreak around your house to help screen the wind off this year, but now is the time to make plans that will make future spring winds more bearable. Several outstanding windbreaks are located here in the county. Among these are Charles Brillhart, A.R. Henderson, John Trindle and Frank Davis. Red Cedar is the most popular and most durable evergreen for this area. Evergreen are a must for an attractive and effective windbreak. They should be located about 75-100 feet from the house and should be placed in rows on at least the north and west sides of the house. Two rows of trees are very desirable because they provide a faster screening if they are staggered.

Red Cedars should be planted 8-10 feet apart in the row and about 10-12 feet between rows if multiple rows are used.

Potted plants are very superior to bare rooted plants, because of liveability. Usually 90% live if they are planted on a well prepared seedbed and watered properly. Bare-rooted plants are much cheaper, but often 50% of the plants die under the best care. This calls for much more labor in replacing trees.

Trees should be planted from now until April for best results.

Contact the local Soil Conservation Service for more details in planning your windbreak.

Buddy Dossett spent Saturday with the Loyd Carrolls while his mother, Mrs. Laurence Dossett was in Amarillo visiting her husband, who is in the hospital.

A.R. Henderson of Gruver has an excellent windbreak planting of Red Cedar. Windbreak is planted on the west and north sides of the house.

Soybean Is One of Oldest

The soybean is one of the oldest crops grown by man. In 2838 B.C. the Emperor Shung Nung of China wrote a description of the soybean plant. This is said to be the earliest record of the plant. The ancient Chinese considered the soybean their most important crop, and one of the five sacred grains necessary for living. Soybeans have become popular in the United States. Each year, the U.S. grows over 550 million bushels of soybeans on 20 million acres of land. This annual crop is worth over a billion dollars.

games with Springlake, the class A powerhouse that squeezed out a six point victory over Spearman last Friday in Claude. Sprinklake is rated number one in A.

Coach Dean Weese was well pleased with his surviving six last Friday for their efforts against the fast, tall Springlake six.

With two starting guards out with knee injuries, the Lynxettes are down to six experienced players and they have to go all the way in the tough ball games. In doing this last week the girls scored 58 points against a rugged set of guards, then rebounded well on the defensive end. Most important to the thin squad, the entire team committed only six fouls.

SOIL TEST
Snow cover and frozen ground have greatly reduced the number of soil samples coming into the soil testing laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center near Lubbock, report lab officials. Extension Soil Chemist Jim Valentine, who heads the lab, is concerned that area farmers may put off soil sampling even after the weather returns to normal.

It is impossible to collect a good soil sample while the ground is frozen or covered with snow," Valentine said, "but as soon as the weather clears up, I hope we are again flooded with samples."

He said that they had been receiving a record number of samples in early January before the bad weather arrived. The major soil testing time in the High Plains is January, February and March.

The soil chemist reports that farmers have been doing an exceptional job of furnishing background information on samples submitted in recent months.

"Information on crop history, fertilizers applied, past yields, and expected yields of the planned crop are just as important as a representative soil sample when we make our recommendations," Valentine said.

Research at numerous off-station locations throughout this area indicates that a field's cultural history can drastically affect fertilizer response, Valentine said.

Research at numerous off-station locations throughout this area indicates that a field's cultural history can drastically affect fertilizer response, Valentine said.

There are four steps to submitting a good sample, he said.

One, contact your county agricultural agent for a sample bag, information sheet and instructions.

Two, make sure that someone who is highly familiar with the field takes the sample. The best man to do the job is usually the land owner or renter.

Three, follow the instructions on the information sheet for getting a representative sample of a field.

Four, fill-out the information sheet thoroughly and carefully.

The soil testing laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center is one of three operated by Texas A&M University. It was established in 1960 to give faster, better service to High Plains and West Texas farmers.

Valentine said a few area farmers continue to send samples to Texas A&M University.

All producers in the Panhandle and South Plains area and east to Hardeman, Knox, Taylor and Coleman Counties; and south to Andrews, Midland, Sterling, Tom Green and Concho Counties are urged to send their soil samples to the South Plains lab.

The address is Soil Testing Laboratory, Agricultural Extension Service, Route 3, Lubbock.
