JOE'S PUNISHMENT

Me and Brother ran away,
Only the other day,
Broter said, "Suppose we go
Off to spend the day with Joe."
I said, "Let us go and ask Mother."
"No let's run away" said Brother.
Well, I thought it would be fun.
Hand in hand away we run.
Joe lives up a quiet street.
Not a person did we meet.
I felt kind of scared and queer,
And held tight to Brother dear.
"Brother" said I "I'm afraid".
"That's just like a girl" he said.
I was kind of cross at that;
Then he called me "Fraidy cat"
So I kept on a-going.
Tho' the wind was 'gainst us blowing.
When we got to Joey's house,
All was quiet as a mouse.
We thought Joe would be out playing.
Soon we head his mother sayiug.
Just inside the kitchen door:
"If you run away once more
I shall have to lock you in
For a whole long Saturday,
So you can't go out to play.
And because you ran away
To the bail ground yesterday,
I shall hava to spank you hard!"
My, how quick we left that yard!
Me and Brother, scared to death,
Ran till we were out of breath.
We got home 'fore mother missed us,
But that night, when soft she kissed us,
We both felt so very mean
That we told her where we'd been.
And we promised her right then
Not to run away again.

Mr. J. J. Dillard,
Lubbock, Texas,

Dear Sir:—

Your letter to Mr. Spears in reply to my letter of the 31 ult. is at hand and its contents have been carefully noted.

In reply I will state that this road will now be built. Whatever bonus your people subscribe, they may figure on paying at early date.

This road will be of incalculable benefit to your town and county and in view of this fact we think you should give a liberal bonus and we therefore ask the citizens of Lubbock for a cash bonus of $50,000 and right of way through the county.

Awaiting your futher advices, I am,

Very truly yours,
J. W. Puison,
Secretary.

Quite a Trip.

Mr. Jones and his wife arrived in Tahoka last Saturday after quite an enjoyable trip. The day after the wedding they went to Lubbock and visited friends and from there they went to Petersburg, where Mr. Jones used to live when they made a pleasant visit of a couple of days. On Monday they went to Lockney and from there to Willis Standifer Mrs. Jones brother who lives in Floyd county where they spent the 4th of July. The next day they went to Plainview to visit Mrs. Louise Gray who is Mr. Jones daughter. They then went to Hale Center for a short stay then to Mr. Standifers via Lubbock and then home. This is quite an extensive trip to make in so short a time but Mr. Jones evedently enjoyed seeing his friends and relatives being accompane by such a charming young lady as Mrs. Jones.

The business houses in Tahoka were closed for the meeting, Wednesday.

The Stork visited the home of Mr. Coleman Wells Wednesday night and left a fine boy.

J. V. Dyer subscribed for the Lynn County News last Saturday. Progressive upto date farmers always take the County paper.

Reports keep coming in about the damage done in the east edge of the county last Saturday by the heavy hail, although it is not so bad as at first reported.

Lynn county was the recipient of another good rain last Saturday morning. Just hear us smile! Reports from all over the county tell of nothing but good crops and fat stock. Some farmers think they will make 40 bushels of Indian corn to the acre,

Mr. R. D. Morris lost a yearling calf last week in a very peculiar manner. When they went out to milk one morning the calf seemed to be sick Mr. Morris applied blackleg remedies to no avail. The calf died in a few hour of fits just like it had eaten poison.

Nearly every one in Tahoka had a house full of friends last week from a distance, come to take in the 4th. Dr. McCoy claims to have had a house and yard both full. The Cosmopolitan Hotel had to press the up stairs porches into service to accommodate some of the extra guests. If you want to see hospitality come out to the Plains especially to Lynn county.

The Lynn County News force was badly frazzled out last week on account of the fourth of July. The business manager spent the morning of the 4th., cultivating an appetite and the afternoon, in regretting that ne did so, as the "p'ison things" were so nice he could hardly quit. The printers D— stayed out until three o'clock in the morning shooting fire works of which there was quite a display. The editor man, who happens to be a lady, took in the 4th., from a rocking chair on the porch, and made the acquaintance of lots of the ladies and babies of Lynn county, and incidently a few of the gentlemen.

Hard Wind.

We had quite a bluster from the east last Friday evening which shook Mr. Conway's new store considerably. Mr. Nevils immediately put in extra braces to steady it. About three o'clock Saturday morning a hard wind came up from the northwest and shook Tahoka to the foundations, and the Conway building, which was not half finished, was badly wrecked. We know how you feel Mr. Conway, the same thing happened to us once.

Mrs. Gore whose Father is editor of the Palo Pinto Star has been expecting her Mother Sister and Uncle to visit her shortly, recieved word that they were half way but they would return to their home in Palo Pinto. The bad road caused by constant rains and swollen condition of the streams was the cause. Mrs. Gore is very disappointed.

Prairie dog poison at Gilmore's drug store, north side square.

Mrs. Campbell and children, Mrs. Gore and several others returned from a plum hunt Sunday. They reported quite an exciting time. The winds here Friday afternoon was a severe storm of wind and rain the whole crowd got wet Friday and again Saturday morning. The Yellow House was up and they were almost afraid to cross on account of the quick sand, they finally returned to Tahoka a verry tired and sunburned party. One lady said they got some plums and lots of experience. One of the party reported seven rattle snakes killed while they were gone.

ROUMANIAN THIRD DEGREE.

The Sweating Process by Which Confessions Are Forced from Suspects and Prisoners.

"The prisoners in our country are treated like kings and princes as compared with those of Roumania," said John T. Ekalls, of Portland, Me., according to the Louisville Herald.

"I chanced to be in Roumania about six months ago and saw a man arrested. Being curious, I determined to watch and learn what they did with him. He was not tried and released the next day, as he would have been in this country, but was subjected to mediaeval tortures. He was whipped with the so-called sand sausage, a bag filled with wet sand. This instrument of torture inflicts terrible pain, but leaves no marks whatever on the body of the culprit.

"This particular prisoner was tortured in order to wrest from him a confession whether or not the kissing of an actress had been the result of a preconcerted conspiracy. He denied it and was then treated to the joys of the 'ash bag'—that is, his head was put in a bag filled with ashes. The jailers beat with a stick upon the bag, causing the ashes to penetrate into the eyes, mouth, nostrils and ears of the prisoner.

"The process was then wound up by what is known as the 'truth finder,' a sort of wooden forceps by which the temples of the prisoner are compressed. This was too much for the man. He confessed a lie.

"I was glad to learn a few days later, however, that the torturers had been removed from office for their unseemly work."

Bessie and Johnnie saw a nigger on the other side of the square! Did you?

We are glad to report that Clara Porterfield who has been sick for for some time is up.

Mr. B. F. Black of Lamesa, who has some cattle in the Stevenson pasture, was in Tahoka Tuesday.

M. M. Coleman, of Lubbock was in town this week for the purpose of moving Proff. Norton's household goods.

Proff. Norton was in Town a few days the first of the week making arrangements to have his household goods moved.

In our records report on the first page we made a small error, adding one cipher to a consideration, making it read $40000 in place of $4000 as it should have done.

Mr. R. G. Gregg, from 14 miles north of San Angelo, who is Mrs. F. M. Sherrod's father, and Mrs. C. E. Brown's grandfather, arrived in Tahoka Thursday, for a two weeks visit. Mr. Gregg expresses himself as well pleased with Lynn county. Mr. Gregg, although a great-grand-father is hale and hearty, and says he "still has a heart ache when he meets a pretty young widow of 60 or 70.

Rev. J. R. Miller while fixing a milk trough a couple of weeks ago happened to quite a serious accident. He was trying to cut a piece of piping with an axe and a cold chisel, when the chisel slipped out of his hand and struck him on the shin, giving him quite a painful wound. Rev. Miller went to his meeting at the T— school house. His leg got so bad that he called in to see the Doctor, who promptly sent him home as being unfit to conduct a meeting. The wound is about well now.

During the tahoka barbecue one of Tahoka's leading citizens told a friend in a very confidently manner, though loud enough for a crowd to hear that there was beer to be had at one of the county offices if he was private enough about getting it. The county officer was visited all day by inquiring citizens, who would come in and stand around and incidently look behind the door and under the table and any place where the treasure might be concealed and then stroll out in a heart-broken way, telling plainly how keen was their disappointment.

Mr. Tom Higgins, returned Tuesday from Big Springs with lumber for Mr. Stevens new house, and a lot of sundries for the Tahoka merchants. Mr. Higgins reports a big wind in Big Springs but no damage done. Mr. Higgins started back to Big Springs Thursday for another load of freight.

Mr. J. E. Ketner and family of Lynn county started for Coleman county thursday on a visit to his father.

Dr. McCoy went to the Brownfield ranch to Miss Effie Brownfield who is threatened with slow fever. The young lady has just returned from the convent at Stanton where she has been attending school.

Lee Phenox son of Dr. Phenox of Colorado returned home Thursday. Lee spent a week in Lubbock visiting relatives and a week in tahoka visiting his Grandma and Uncle.

THAT MADE A DIFFERENCE

Employer Advised Economy, But in This Case It Was Entirely Unnecessary.

"They tell me that you're thinking of getting married, William," said the old-fashioned employer to his faithful and steady clerk, relates the Chicago Daily News.

"Yes, sir," said the young man, respectfully, "I expect to be married next month."

"So soon as that?" said the old-fashioned employer, in some surprise. "Well, William, you know best, I suppose, or you think you do. But I imagine that you won't mind if I give you a little advice. I have been married for 34 years myself, and I think I might be able to give you a few points. To begin with, practice frugality.

"You will probably be tempted to many little extravagances at the outset. If you have not bought your furniture, I would recommend you to avoid extravagance in that direction. Bric-a-brac and pictures are not necessities, and I wouldn't spend any money for them if I were you. You will need chairs and tables, and household linen, of course. Dishes and culinary utensils, too, you will be obliged to have, but these, for a young couple in your circumstances, should be of the plainest description. The money that you will save by denying yourself expensive decorated china and useless gimcracks you can deposit in the bank, where it will increase slowly but surely with your added savings, as a provision against sickness or other misfortune, and will perhaps even amount to an independence for your old age. I would, in your place, apportion my income—so much for rent, so much for household expenses, so much for clothing and so much for a modest life insurance, always reserving a certain sum to be laid aside for a rainy day and never going beyond that apportionment. I would not waste money upon theaters or similar places of amusement. There are always lectures on improving subjects which may be heard free, and there are museums, also free, which may be visited. Entertainments to friends or acquaintances which involve expense should not be indulged in. As to your table, plain food is the best, as well as the most wholesome. Some of these vegetarian dishes are quite appetizing. Lentils are said to be extremely nourishing and prunes are a valuable article of diet. But, of course, I could not undertake to mention everything that I might think proper for you to eat. I wish that it was in my power to raise your salary a trifle, but—"

"I'm much obliged, sir," said the clerk, "but I don't think we will need it. The lady I am going to marry has an income of $70,000, and I hope to live within that unless she gets some more at her father's death, but—"

"Oh, that's entirely different, my boy," said the old-fashioned employer. "In that case, I'd recommend you to get ahead and enjoy life."

A new thing in naval propulsion has been in construction for more than a year on the roof of an architectural iron works building in New York. The new boat has been lowered to the street and taken to the North river, where it will be tested soon. The inventor believes that he will be able to produce a speed hitherto unheard of on the water.

The scheme involves the principle used by the squid. Beneath the boat, running two-thirds of its length, between the keel and the bottom is a tube 15 inches in diameter. The tube is open at both ends. Within it are four propellers on a shaft, running the length of the tube, and attached by gearing to an engine in the center. The revolution of these screws drives the water violently from the tube. This concentrates the energy of the propellers in one direction, instead of dissipating in every direction, as in the case of the ordinary screw. The boat is 30 feet long, and has a five-foot beam. A 14-horsepower engine will be used.

The inventor is a graduate in naval architecture of Cornell university, and worked for two years at the Union Iron works in San Francisco. He has experimented on this idea for several years, and has made successful experiments with several models.

Double Header.

On the morning of the third about a baker's dozen of Lamesa's boys, including our base ball nine, the "Lamesa Sluggers," piled into a two-horse wagon, with Swoape engineer, and Williams conductor, and rolled out for Tahoka. They were in high spirits, and as their laughter and occasional club yells floated back on the breeze, more than one sigh told the wish that "we could go too."

But there is no 'phone line between Lamesa and Tahoka, and that was the last we heard from the boys till they drove in Wednesday at noon, looking very much as if they had slept on the prairie.

But they report a royal good time, and all, without an exception are loud in their praise of the hospitable treatment shown them on every hand, by the whole-souled people of Tahoka.

They played two games on Tuesday, one before noon and one after, with scores as follows: First game, Tahoka 6, Lamesa 4; Second game, Lamesa 13, Tahoka 11.

Arrangements will be made to have the same teams cross bats on our home diamond soon.—Dawson County News.
