WHITEFLAT REUNION ATTENDED BY MANY

Whiteflat reunion met at Senior Citizens building on Saturday, April 2, 1988. There were 89 registered, some as far away as California.

A welcome by President Troy Perkins and Nora Belle Stephens Dunning was expressed. Hoyet Burnam was asked to give the noon blessing on the meal.

A great luncheon was enjoyed by all. Music was furnished by Lula Kate Harcrow Sauls on piano and Varner McWilliams on Mandolin was so familiar to all, which we all enjoyed.

A business session was held in the afternoon with Charlie Kimbell elected as President, Eugene Watson, Vice President; Nora Belle Dunning, Secretary-Treasurer; and Luther Green as Director of Whiteflat Cemetery.

Due to the fact we had been unable to get our Sesquicentennial Marker at this time we decided to have a marker made from brick and a giantic plack and have it put on the corner of the old Whiteflat School yard on the Southeast corner. Luther Green and Nora Belle Dunning were elected to get it done.

Several people gave "things to remember" that happened during their school years in Whiteflat, even some telling of fights they had during those times. We'll have a picture made of our marker when we get it done.

PCA To Hold 54th Annual Stockholders Meeting

Rolling Plains Production Credit Association's 54th Annual Stockholders meeting will be held April 8 in Childress and April 9 in Stamford. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the meeting to commence promptly at 10:00 a.m. for both sessions.

The City Auditorium will be the site of the Childress session, and the VIP Center located one block West of the High School Auditorium will be the Stamford meeting location. A noon barbecue catered by Briarstone Manor of Abilene will be served immediately following each session.

Speaker for the 1988 Annual Meeting is humorist P. Brantly Knight, well known after-dinner speaker on the topic of cowboy credit and farm lending.

"Preacher" Knight attended high school in Ponder, Texas near Fort Worth and Eastern New Mexico University Portales, New Mexico. He went to work for First National Bank in Portales and in 1947 became a national bank examiner for the Comptroller of Currency. Presently he and the Mama Rabbit are retired to their ranch in Bosque County near Clifton, Texas where they run "Rainbow Cows" (every color imaginable) on Hereford bulls.

With a redheaded wife, a red pickup, a red house, two red white-faced bulls and a red horse named "Useless," his favorite color is red. Preacher's trade-mark is that he never misses a bad loan or a free meal in his 32-year career as a bank examiner. His motto is "Blessed is he who hath good collateral, for he shall be paid."

Preacher hopes his talk will make us laugh a little because we won't be any smarter when he finishes than we were when he started.

In the business portion of the meeting, a director representing the Spur Branch Office area will be elected. Director W.H. Williams has chosen not to place his name in nomination for this position again. Nominees for this post are Mac Driggers of Spur and Lance Morris of Crosbyton.

Come enjoy an entertaining program, delicious barbecue and drawings for cash prizes.

Rolling Plains PCA is one of 23 member-owned Production Credit Associations in Texas. Collectively they serve approximately 11,200 of the state's agricultural producers. Last year almost 743 million was loaned through Texas PCAs. LIBRARY NOTES

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

I was amazed when I came into the Library Monday to see that 26 people had signed our Guest Book Friday and Saturday. I wonder how many of them had come for the Whiteflat Reunion. Out of town guests who have registered since our last report are: Aurene Bevers and Sarah Sain from Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett and Delores Fox of Afton; Leslie Jennings, Kim Moore, and Camella Wilkinson Strickland from Abilene; Connie Ross McWilliams Browning of Arlington; Aly Gwinn, Raworth and Barbara Tilson, J.W. Hough, Melvin Pope, and Varner and Lenna McWilliams from Lubbock, Francis Traweek Morris of Huston; Meta Adams of Petrolia; Margaret Hill of Dallas; Cleo Watson and Tom Yeates and Amy Woolsey of Roaring Springs; Buster and Mary Beth Harms of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Killingsworth, of Paducah; Jane Crouch, Laurie Griggs and Joe and Alene Martin from Plainview; Rip and Cleo S. Bailey from Forsan; Eunice Browning Perkins of Mesquite; Carmel and Edith Smoot of Skellytown; Lawton Smith of Texarkana, and Juanna and Dowell Garrison of Smithville, Audrey Seigler, of Childress, Maggie Terry of Bovina; Stephanie and Steve Gunn of Stephenville, Worth and Mary Boggeman of Jacksboro, J.C. Martin of Floydada, Kittie Jenkins Strain of El Paso. From out of state we have had June Grelle, of Denver, Co; Katie Eubank Gustafson of Omaha, Nb; Thelma Terrell of Albuquerque, N.M.; and Ted and Rosemarie Beeve, of Birmingham, England. We know when we get a day off, we are going to miss something or someone interesting. June Grelle is trying to find the unmarked grave of Robert Carter Lewis, buried in an unmarked grave at Matador. He died Jan. 11, 1932. If any of you have information that would help her, she would appreciate hearing from you.

He learned that in spite of the hesitancy of the large chain stores across the state to order copies of a first publication the author, Jane Roberts Wood, The Train To Estelline still finished number seven on the best seller list in the Dallas area.

Mr. Stark also says, "We learned also that Mrs. Wood lived in Hall and Motley Counties during her early years, and her mother taught school in a one-room schoolhouse for several years on the Matador Ranch. Much of the material for her book was gathered from the stories related to Mrs. Wood from those early struggling times, and the intensity and inspiration of the book can probably be attributed to her mother's remembrances of life in our rugged southwest. If you'd like to have one of the books, you can BE ASSURED of receiving one by mailing a check for $15.95 direct to the publisher, Ellen C. Temple, 1011 Westlake Drive, Suite 900, Austin, Texas 78746."

We are grateful to Susan Hunter for donating the copy she purchased in Austin to our library. Keith Patton returned Too Funny To Be President, by Morris K. Udall with the comment that if you needed a good belly-laugh this is the book for it.

Grace Campbell told me yesterday that the mystery story Hot Money by Dick Francis is featured by Reader's Digest Condensed Book for April.

Bill Moss said he would recommend Treasure as a good book for anyone. Other new books recently put on the shelves are:

Freedom's Child, by Walter Polovchak, a courageous teenager's story of fleeing his parents and the Soviet Union to live in America; Don't Diet, by Dale M. Atrons; Prarie by Anna Lee Waldo, and Mainstay, a book of encouragement and practical help for those caring for a housebound family member by Maggie Strong.

Thanks go to Laurissa and Wayne Rawlings of Brady, Francis T. Morris of Houston and the co-workers of Ned Morris from the Harris County District Attorneys Office, and Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Edwards for donations in memory of Irene Lawler Traweek, and from Francis Morris in memory of Dr. Jack King.

The Train To Estelline has been read by some of our patrons. Glenn Woodruff has read the book and brought in a copy of "Comings, Goings, and Doings" written by O.R. Stark for the First National Bank of Quitaque, who called the publisher, Ellen C. Temple in an effort to learn why people were finding it so hard to find the book in

BACK CARE: BENDING AND LIFTING

Doctors tell us that most back pain results from having bad "back habit" to correct is improper bending and lifting.

When bending or lifting or even just reaching down for that matter, follow these rules:
--Face the object you'll be picking up; don't twist your body.
--Bend from your knees and hips - not from your waist. Just bend down as far as necessary to reach the object you'll be picking up.

--Then tuck under your buttocks and pull in your abdominal muscles. This helps reduce swayback by flattening the lower back.

--Pick up the object and hold it close to your body.

--Then lift with your legs, using the large muscles of the thighs, not the small muscles of your back.

--A general guideline to follow is to lift a heavy object no higher than the waist, lift a light object no higher than the shoulders -- greater height tends to sway the back.

--To turn with an object in your hand, turn your entire body as a unit. Do not twist to turn or to set the object down.

--And when setting the object down to be sure to follow the same steps you used in lifting the object. Hold the object close to your body, and bend down from your knees and hips, not from your waist.

One last caution -- don't be a hero with a heavy load or one that is especially large or awkward so that it can't be held close to the body. Get help!

In The Rough

By Hazel

The weather is adverse, baffling, relentless, and sure - on every Thursday (our play day). Wednesdays and Fridays can be beautiful, warm, even windless (sometimes) and come Thursday!

Some hardy, brave players have been playing some Thursdays namely Geneva, Louise, Frances Moss, LaVoe, Brenda, Olivia, but the past Thursday only LaVoe and Louise played most holes, riding in LaVoe's cart - with curtains, against the cold winds. Oh well. Remember, this is spring and surely better weather is coming...ere long.

One of our most avid golfers - Lays Campbell - is out of circulation, recuperating from a fractured kneecap. She had gone to Vernon Saturday, March 26, to attend a district Women's club convention, and fell, causing the injury. Hope she is back with us soon.

369 College Scholarships Open To Top Students

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Department of Education has awarded $591,175 to fund 369 Robert Byrd Scholarships in Texas, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced.

The funding will be provided to the Texas State Education Agency, he said.

"This is a program under which individual states can provide college scholarships to promote student excellence and achievement," Gramm said.

"The Byrd scholarships recognize exceptionally able students who can demonstrate bright promise." The Byrd scholarship program, named after Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, will be administered in the state by Texas Education Commissioner W.N. Kirby.

Students seeking further information about the program should contact their school guidance counselor or the Texas Education Agency, 1701 North Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas 78701-1494.

P.T.O. Presented Program On Emergency Techniques

The Motley County P.T.O. met March 29 in the school cafeteria. President Rosalee Davis called the meeting to order, followed by the pledge. A short business meeting was conducted. A report was given on the Campbell's Soup Project. It was reported that Third Grade and Kindergarten were awarded first prize for the collection of the most labels. A total of 4,500 labels, plus bonus points, were collected. As a result of this program two VHS videos were acquired for our school. These videos, "Universe" and "America In Space," will be placed in the school library for check out. This has been a very worthwhile project which will be continued next year. Remember to keep saving your labels. Many valuable and useful materials can be purchased through this program. A short discussion followed concerning the playground project. Nothing new was reported at this time. Our next meeting was set for Tuesday, May 17, for the annual attendance rally and ice cream supper. It will be held at the tennis courts. Installation of new officers will also be held at this time.

A very informative and interesting program was presented by E.M.T. members, Tony Rose and Keith Paschal. The subject of their program was the "Heimlich Maneuver." The group was shown a video clip from "Emergency," on this procedure. It was followed by a demonstration and group participation. The E.M.T. group is a hard working organization which aids and benefits our community not only with emergency service, but also educational training. We would like to take this opportunity to applaud this fine organization. The meeting was adjourned.

Controlling The Rising Cost of Keeping Cool

In most areas of Texas, it costs more to cool a home in summer than to heat it in winter.

Many Texas homeowners have responded to this situation by turning up the thermostat on the air-conditioner a few degrees while budgeting more income for summer utility bills. Some people also have learned to turn off the air-conditioner as often as possible - certainly during the day if the home is unoccupied - and to maximize the effect of the air-conditioner by closing off rooms and using fans to help circulate the conditioned air.

"These are steps in the right direction," says Nancy Sawtelle of the Texas Energy Extension Service, "but there are many other ways to avoid high summer energy bills. Examine your home and its surrounding environment to work out a whole-house cooling strategy that takes advantage of the natural climate. For instance, let the cooling breezes in during moderate seasons by opening your windows. Similarly, keep the hot summer sun out by shading windows."

Texas Energy Extension Service has a free booklet, entitled "It's A Breeze," that can identify the most appropriate whole-house strategy for an individual home. The booklet introduces the principles of climatic behavior in Texas - from the arid west to the severe north central and the humid east and south.

"It's A Breeze" explains how early Texas settlers, as well as the Native Americans before them, kept cool despite the hot climate. It describes a host of natural and highly efficient mechanical means of cooling and ventilating homes - morning glory window shades to roof-top cupolas and whole-house fans. It may save you hundreds of dollars a year!

For your free copy call the Texas Energy Extension Service's Energy Hotline. Call toll-free 1-800-643-SAVE and ask for "It's A Breeze."

The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

Motley County School News

It seems that everyone has made the time adjustment and everyone got to school on time Tuesday. However, we still have a large number of students absent because of sickness.

Last week all students were given the Scientific Research Associates (SRA) exam. Those students which were absent will be given the test upon their return to school. The results of some of those tests are already known and it seems that we did quite well on some of them.

This time of the year is extremely busy with academic, athletic, FFA, and 4-H contests being held. We sometimes meet ourselves coming and going. The Elementary and Jr. High UIL contests will be held on April 19 at Paducah and the teachers and students are working toward participating in these events.

Several of our teachers will be attending a workshop in Paducah on Friday afternoon. The topic of this workshop is "Targeting Low Achievement Students for Achievement Gains." We are also still having many teachers getting Advanced Academic Training on the Satellite as well as many Board members getting training on it.

Teams test for the first grade will be given on April 20 and 21. Parents, please see that your children are in attendance those days for these very important tests.

On April 13, the 2nd and 3rd grades will be going to Lubbock to visit the "Ranching and Heritage Center" which the K & 1st grade visited on April 6. With these trips, every grade in Elementary school will have made an educational trip this year. Students learn many things from these trips other than the obvious educational values.

Fifth Grade Visits Tribune

Motley County 5th Grade students visited the Motley County Tribune office, Tuesday April 5 on a Field Trip.

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is Love.

Motley County Clinic

Nosebleed (Epistaxis) is defined as spontaneous discharge of blood from the nose.

Most commonly occurs secondary to an upper respiratory infection or nose icking. Trauma, bleeding disorders or high blood pressure may contribute.

While nosebleeds can be frightening, they usually are not serious and can be successfully treated at home.

What to do:

1. Sit patient up, leaning forward.
2. Pinch nostrils tightly, applying firm continuous pressure for 15 minutes. DO NOT release pressure to check if bleeding has stopped during this time.

3. Cold packs applied to back of neck may be helpful.

4. Don't let patient sniffle or blow nose.

5. If the bleeding does not stop after 15 minutes, the patient should be seen at the clinic. Occasionally cauterization or nasal packing is required.

Humidification is useful to prevent nosebleeds and associated respiratory tract infections. A&D Ointment or Vaseline in the nostrils at night can prevent dryness for persons prone to nosebleeds.

UNFOUNDED FEARS

By Gloria Frankl, M.D.
Radiology Department
Los Angeles Kaiser
Permanente Medical Center

It's a terrible mistake, but some women are actually afraid of the radiation they might get from having a mammogram (x-ray of the breast). The fact is that we are all exposed to radiation in one form or another every day of our lives—even by going out in the sun. Today's xeromammography produces very high quality mammograms and uses very low radiation. Far from being a health hazard, having a mammogram to detect breast cancer in its earliest stages can save your life. The hazard is in omitting to have the mammogram.

Another common fear among women is that if a lump is found, it will require a mastectomy. The fact is that the vast majority of breast lumps are not cancer, and tiny cancers found only with screening mammography do not require mastectomies for cure.

"Screening" is the practice of performing mammographic exams for women who have no symptoms and no suspicions of breast disease. Such "screening" exams can find very early cancers, long before the patient or even the doctor could find it by physical examination. Breast cancer detected early has a much greater chance of a cure.

Every woman over 35 should have a mammogram. This first "baseline" exam serves as a reference for later comparison. According to the American Cancer Society, the exam should be repeated at least every two years before age 50 and annually thereafter. Having a mammogram is not risky; avoiding the exam because of unfounded fears is far riskier.

What you don't know can hurt you.

Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hi folks, don't you like this weather? We had just enough rain to make everything look good. Even think that a few of the apricots got by the cold spell and now the peaches are looking good too. Hope this will be a good year for all the fruit. I even saw a few blooms on one of the apple trees for the first time. I was beginning to think I hadn't talked to them enough.

I have to tell you this story about the letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Black that I got after it went a 'round-about-way'. Seems that somewhere it got to a post office that had no idea where Flomot was so they just sent it all the back to her in Bethel Springs, TN. The address was just right and the zip was right but sometimes these things happen. It never did get here until she put the letter in another envelope addressed to the Postmaster here in Flomot with the same zip code - then it got here. I'm sure sorry the mails are mixed up that way sometime - but what can we do except go on and pay this extra postage charge and be thankful for the service that we do have. Looks like they could find a place like Flomot (ha) 'after all'!

Anyway Elizabeth told me about some of their life after moving to Matador and I thought you might be interested in hearing what she wrote. They moved to Matador from Tennessee in 1906 and lived in the old Saloon where the Bank is now. Then when they were going to tear that building down they moved into the Jail and lived there while her Dad was building them a house. Said the house was where the Bill McKelvey home is now.

Her Dad was a good friend of Mr. D.C. Keith and she thinks Mr. Keith may have persuaded her Dad to move to Matador. She didn't know when or why the Keiths came to Texas.

She said they used to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jackson on the Ranch when the main house was a frame house. Said it was a lovely place but when Mr. Reilly became manager - they tore the frame house down and built the big stone house.

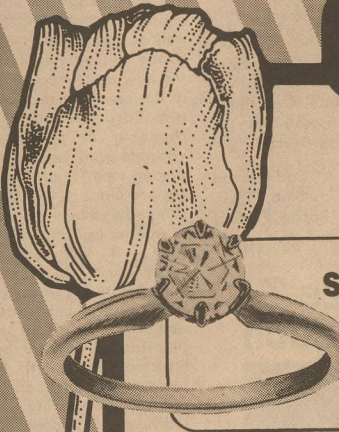

She used to work at the Post Office with her friend, Edith Williams, and Mrs. Reilly invited the girls out for dinner one night - seems the table was set very grand and the dinner served in courses. The first was the soup and she watched Mrs. Reilly to see which spoon to use. She had never seen so much silver in all her life and she didn't know which piece to pick up first. (I have been in places like that and was just as confused as she.)

Elizabeth said they used to visit with the Claude Martins in Flomot and the Vinsons and Dorseys in Whiteflat when she was little but she remembers there was no one for her to play with and she didn't like that very much.

She writes a lot more but I better wait till another time to tell you more when we "Remember When" again.

Eternas Study Club Members Attend District Convention

Two members of GFWC Eternas Study Club attended the TFWC-Caprock District Convention and Board Meeting held on Saturday, March 26. The two ladies were Mrs. Wilda Dixon and Mrs. Kim Gilmore. The morning session was primarily concerned with reports from the various district officers and at the conclusion of the business session. Mrs. Dixon gave her oral president's report for judging and was selected as one of four to give the report before the assembly immediately following the luncheon.

During the luncheon, the speaker was Mr. Carl McMillan, information officer of Boys Ranch/Girlstown, U.S.A. Mr. McMillan reported on the changes and improvements that have taken place since the two institution merged about one year ago.

After the luncheon, the group went back for the afternoon business session where awards were announced. Some of the awards that were received by the local club were first in projects for Public Affairs Department and second place in C.I.P. project. The local yearbook also received 100 of a possible 100 points and was selected as one of the top five covers and top five programs.

Following the awards the new district officers were installed by Mrs. Carol Silvers, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs president. The new officers are president, Mrs. Dora Alderson; president-elect, Mrs. Tena Wicker; first vice president, Mrs. Jerrell Greer; and second vice president, Mrs. Wilda Dixon. After the installation, the meeting was adjourned and the local ladies returned home.

their disappointment and even anger that they didn't get funded when they needed the new water lines so bad, but could at least get started on other ways of funding.

Johnson explained two other avenues of borrowing money if they had to go this route, one is FmHA and the other the Texas Water Department Board.

The Council elected to get the letters written and make calls to apply for the discretionary money.

Tim Adams of New Shield Roofing Systems was on hand to give bids for repairing or putting on new roofs on the school buildings. They could patch and repair but would not guarantee it over one year. The new roofing would cost a total of $10,800 and they would finance it up to three years and it would have a 5 year guarantee. The Council decided that this had to be done or loose the buildings, so they voted to go with the new roof plan.

The Council was pleased with the financial statement looking so good. They approved to paying the bills.

Anna Wilson also reported they had few delinquent taxes before 1987 and only about 12 for 87 were still delinquent and some of these were only 39c. The Council discussed the loss of having taxes on the books for only 39c and the cost of mailing the statements was higher than the tax so they voted to have a minimum of $2.00 for taxes.

The council decided to table the agreement with the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department because of the City's poor water system and their poor equipment. In case of a large fire in Roaring Springs, the water system couldn't carry the extra fire trucks and if Roaring Springs VFD had to go to Floydada it would be hard on their equipment.

Mayor Watson reported he had a man in New Mexico looking for a good used Backhoe.

The Council discussed purchasing the new computer for the City Office. It was voted to purchase this Computer with the Utility Billing Software from Municipal Data Systems, financed with the First State Bank of Matador. This package would cost $4,258.00, with a 36 month financing.

Regan Holly reported he had attended a wastewater school 2 weeks ago and had gone to Lubbock Tuesday to take his test and to attend a meeting with the TDA (Texas Department of Agriculture) with other small towns to find out what they could do to help them with their problems with water, etc. He thought it was a very informative meeting.

Regan reported he still didn't have the sewer holding tank unstopped but had it under control and was waiting on a backhoe.

Regan explained he was going to fence off the back of the school to help keep the barrels in place and to keep children from getting hurt around the barrels and the old school building.

Regan is also having sewer problems behind the Confection Technology Building, Senior Citizens Building and the City house, all due to Elm tree roots.

The Council voted to meet at 7:30 p.m. during Daylight savings time. The council went into closed session at this time.

Garden Club Hears Program On Trees To Attract Birds

Many trees, including some local varieties are attractive to birds, Matador Garden Club members learned when they met March 21 in the Library Community Room. "Trees to Attract Birds," was the program subject, presented by Mrs. W.D. Lipscomb from material titled The Birds Who Came To Dinner.

In a business session conducted by Mrs. Edgar Lee, president, minutes were read by Mrs. W.N. Pipkin, secretary. Mrs. Lee led a discussion of the plans for dedicating the red oak tree planted in January by the club, and Friday, April 29 was set for the occasion. The tree was planted as a "Living Legacy" in commemoration of the U.S. Constitution bicentennial.

Mrs. Ted Elliott was program leader, and roll call was answered by naming a broadleaf evergreen.

"Red mulberry, bearing fruit in July and August, is a most satisfactory tree for the summer months and is patronized by at least 52 species of birds," Mrs. Lipscomb quoted. Red and yellow-twig Dogwoods, also bearing fruits in July and August are favorites, and the bright red berries of Flowering Dogwoods attract at least 80 different species of birds, according to Mrs. Lipscomb.

Among other food bearing trees, shrubs and bushes for the birds, she named Juniper which also provides cover with its dense foliage; raspberry, blueberry and mulberry bushes; grapes, red sumac, Nandina and Pyroantha berries.

"Raspberry and blackberry bushes, whose fruit is eaten by about 100 species, also furnish ideal nesting places for Cardinals, Catbirds and Indigo Buntings," Mrs. Lipscomb noted. A discussion followed, with members naming the species most often seen in this area.

A poem, "The Dogwoods" by Travis Jordan was read by Mrs. Douglas Meador, and arrangements of berry-bearing tree branches, brought by several members were displayed.

Quotation for the day was: "How difficult it is to choose from varied beauties such as these. One thing alone is sure; Each season brings a gift to trees," - Louise Darcy.

Those present in addition to Mmes. Lee, Elliott, Lipscomb, Pipkin and Meador, were Rachel Patton, Mrs. J.D. Craven and Mrs. Artie Wason.

Garden Club Plants Tree To Commemorate Constitution

TREE IS PLANTED: Matador Garden Club members (from left) Mrs. W.N. Pipkin, Mrs. Ted Elliott and Mrs. Douglas Meador witness the planting of a red oak tree on January 15, commemorating the bicentennial of the Constitution of the United States. Dedication ceremonies are planned for April 29.

Farm Bureau Asks That Diesel Tax Be Stopped

WACO -- S.M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, has asked the Reagan Administration to stop the new diesel fuel tax collection procedures scheduled to take affect April 1.

In a telegram to Treasury Secretary James A. Baker, the farm leader said it would be "counterproductive" to implement the procedures at this time.

"Congress, under the leadership of Texas Senators Lloyd Bentsen and Phil Gramm and 23 of the 27 Texas members of the House, is moving to resolve the problem created by last year's Budget Reconciliation Act," True said.

The collection of taxes on diesel fuel will increase producer's fuel costs "at a time when Texas agriculture is just beginning to show positive signs of economic strength, True said.

If the collection procedures are not stopped, farmers will be forced to pay the 15.1 cents per gallon tax and then apply for a refund. Prior to the message of the Budget Reconciliation Act, diesel fuel used off-road was exempt from taxes.

Recollections

by Duff Green

JUST HERE AND THERE

Whether we wish it or not, most of us find ourselves catalogued among the innumerable army of "never do wells," more or less failures in a business sense, because we have not succeeded in accumulating and retaining the material things of this life.

We have found time to, and to find a sort of platonic affection for the things that were. We concern ourselves, not with the present or the future, but find our thrills clustered around the once were environments that can never be realized again.

Things have changed with lightening rapidity and we have changed, not our thoughts or actions, so failed to make the grade. Our ship of-life reached not the new port where it might anchor in the haven of rest, but flounders and drifts, hither and yon, changing its course with every variable wind. So as we drift along, among new scenes and conditions, we are more or less numbed, nay, stunned and bewildered and made to wonder just what it is all about or where it will end. Taking a backward glance by this "uneducated cowboy" at one's life, the opportunities grasped at or neglected, while it may bring pleasant memories or regrets, it is of little material benefit, for life ends somewhere between success or defeat, depending upon one's individual view point.

This existence we call life, what more should it mean than happiness, peace, and contentment? If they are ours, why desire more? Why lose them in an effort to gain artificial and material things? When that is answered, it isn't so difficult to understand why our present environment is so unnatural, grasping and brutal. That is one reason why the pioneer loved the frontier, where he could live close to nature, love and be respected by his neighbor, enjoy a life even filled with hardships, in preference to an existence of strife, hustle, and worry, for worldly gain alone.

The ranks of the west Texas pioneers are rapidly thinning by time and will soon be another memory, clothed with a romantic Halo.

As many as I have heard of, I have yet to find a single one that would not gladly exchange our present condition for those they once knew.

Age is no barrier, the only thing that curbs their restless spirit of disgust, is the fact that there is no longer a frontier to be a haven and a refuge to them. They like the ice bound ships of the Arctic, are helpless, but not satisfied or content.

THE END

Note: By Duff Green

I make no apologies for the skeleton of the six books on West Texas Ranch life that I have written, for I do not contemplate that they will ever be published. Should I be in error, read it or leave it, as your pleasure may dictate. You will find nothing contagious or harmful and fairly correct, this has been the lighthouse and beacon to guide me.

THE COWBOY

What can be said about the cowboy, the work, and the life that he lived?

Little, so very little, I fear, aside from his staying qualities. when one takes into consideration the meagerness of his pay and the exaction required at his hands.

All day long in the saddle and off' times a goodly portion of the night. In sunshine and in the rain, through the drouths and heat of summer and on into the snows of winter, day after day, and year after year, with its seeming endless monotony and the princely sum of eighty-three and one-third cents per day, as his per diem, with never a murmur of discontent. Always jolly and full of fun.

What was the attraction that electrified his being at the time; and in after years was capable of renewing the flames of fire in the tired old eyes that had grown dim by age?

No one, so far as I know, not even the cowboy himself, has ever been able to delineate, to define that invisible, magnetic something, that fired his imagination and filled his soul with the glamour that ever prevailed the cow camps, the chuck wagon, the remuda, the round-ups, the branding irons and other paraphernalia that went into the making up of his daily tasks.

All we know is so long as he lived, he looked back into the past with pleasant sweet memories, and longed to be able to live it over again.

The End

Note: This concludes the weekly publication of "Duff Green's Recollections" which have appeared in the Motley County Tribune for the past seventeen months.

When my father died in 1960, he had no idea that excerpts from his books would ever be published, but he would have been so pleased to know that I have received so many complimentary letters from people throughout the South West since these articles have appeared in print

I wish to thank Barbara and Carla for exhibiting so much expertise in compiling these notes from this manuscript each week. It has been a long and tedious task which has required much patience on their part. To both of them, I am so grateful! My thanks also to all of you who have shown interest.

Sincerely,
Mary Green Webb

Longer Deer Season Other Hunting Changes Proposed

AUSTIN - Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials have proposed lengthening the hunting seasons for both white-tailed and mule deer in 1988-89.

This and other proposals were announced in a meeting of the Parks and Wildlife Commission last week in Austin. The proposed changes will be aired in public hearings across the state during April. After reviewing testimony from the hearings, the commission will consider adoption of the changes at its May 12 public hearing in Austin. Dates and locations of the hearings will be announced later. Adopted changes would go into effect Sept. 1, 1988.

A major change in hunting regulations would extend the white-tailed deer season by one week. Across most of the state, the season would open on the first Saturday in November (Nov. 5), which is one week earlier than in the past, and close on the first Sunday in January (Jan. 1). In South Texas, the proposal would add one week to the end of the season. Proposed dates are Nov. 12 - Jan. 8.

Horace Gore, white-tailed deer program leader, told the commission the longer seasons are being proposed to offer more hunting opportunity. Also, the earlier opening is designed to coincide with deer rutting activity in the Edwards Plateau and East Texas. The extension in South Texas would do the same, Gore said, because the deer in that region traditionally rut from mid-December into January.

The staff also proposes to close the whitetail season in Hartley, Moore, Oldham and Potter Counties where deer populations are minimal or nonexistent. Hunting deer with dogs would be allowed from Dec. 4 through Jan. 1 in 10

East Texas counties, similar to last year's regulation.

The staff also recommended that antlerless deer permits continue to be required for taking deer on national forest lands in 12 East Texas counties where public access is unrestricted.

In an effort to increase hunter opportunity and better utilization of the herd, the staff recommended lengthening the mule deer season in both the Trans-Pecos and Panhandle regions of the state. Under the proposal, the season would increase from the present nine days to 16. If adopted, both seasons would open as in the past, with the extra days added to the end of the season. Proposed dates are Nov. 19 - Dec. 4 in the Panhandle and Nov. 26 - Dec. 11 in the Trans-Pecos.

Several minor changes are proposed for turkey hunting. As in the past, the fall season for Rio Grande turkeys would run concurrently with the white-tailed deer season. The spring 1989 season would be basically unchanged, April 1-23 or April 1-16 for East Texas counties.

In other upland game proposals, the bag limit on pheasants would be increased from two cocks a day to three, with an increase in the possession limit from four to six, statewide. The 16-day Panhandle pheasant season would remain the same while the coastal pheasant season would be the length of the quail season.

Quail bag limits which in the past have been set during August after summer counts are completed, would be set at 15 birds per day, 45 in possession statewide under another proposal. The season would begin on the Saturday nearest Nov. 1 and end the last Sunday in February.

VA REQUIRES MAILING ADDRESS UPDATES

Some Texas veterans are not getting the latest updates in benefit changes according to Waco VA Regional Office Director Stephen L. Lemons.

"More veterans are taking advantage of the security and efficiency of electronic fund transfers (EFT) for compensation and pension deposits directly into their bank accounts," said Lemons. "And when veterans change residences, the deposits continue uninterrupted. That's good and we encourage EFT."

However, many veterans forget to provide an updated mailing address to the VA Regional Office when they move, perhaps thinking it unnecessary. But when notices went out recently explaining the 4.2 percent increase in compensation, retroactive to December 1987, many were returned with "no forwarding address."

Make sure you are kept abreast of all benefit changes affecting you by insuring that the VA Regional Office has your current mailing address. Send updated addresses to Waco VA Regional Office, 1400 N. Valley Mills Dr., Waco, Texas 76799, or call a Veterans Benefits Counselor by dialing 1-800-792-3271 and ask that your address be updated.

Uncontrolled Weeds On CRP Acres Could Be Costly

Farmers failing to control weeds on Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acres may get a costly lesson in weed control.

Due to stringent federal guidelines for CRP compliance, uncontrolled weeds may reduce government payments by as much as three times the cost of a weed control program.

CRP contracts mandate control of noxious weeds and any non-approved crop that threatens CRP cover.

Texas has no state noxious weed laws. But if a county committee determines there are weeds interfering with an approved grass cover on CRP acreage, the contract holder must control those weeds. If not, they are subject to a fine that could substantially reduce the government payment and may have their contract terminated.

Left unattended, broadleaf weeds can easily outgrow native grasses resulting in insufficient coverage and non-compliance. Unattended weed infestations also serve as breeding grounds for weeds, which may then spread to neighboring farm lands. Time spent in planning can provide economical and effective weed control throughout the growing season.

"Grass is not a traditional row crop and most farmers have little experience caring for these stands," says Jeff Tichota, western regional manager of product development, Sandoz Crop Protection Corporation. "Established stands of native grasses are effectively treated with Banvel or a Banvel tankmix treatment to maintain grass cover and control broadleaf weeds. Spot treatments of Banvel at higher labeled rates may be necessary to control perennial broadleaves that emerge.

"Banvel herbicide has provided farmers excellent control of broadleaf weeds for years," says Tichota. "It is an ideal fit for CRP acres because of its systemic killing action, residual control, application flexibility and grower familiarity."

Use of Banvel on CRP acres is covered by a federally-approved label. Established grass is defined as grass treated the season after planting. Always read and follow label directions.

Card Of Thanks

My mother (Hattie Marshall) and I want to take this opportunity to say thank you for all the prayers, phone calls, cards and visits while she was in the hospital.

I want to say a special thanks to Nida Sanders and Tressie Warren, who were by to see Mama most every day of the 90 days she was in the hospital, helping her when she was unable to help herself, washing her clothes, visiting and boosting her moral. I never doubted God supplies all your needs, and the special care Mama received at St. Mary's hospital and the help Neda and Tressie gave is real proof of this.

Mama has progressed enough to move to Sherwood Health Care of Lubbock, 5502 West 4th St. Lubbock, Texas 79416, Room No. B-23, Phone 793-1111. She is doing well and receiving very special care. She is next door to Mrs. Fred Dawson, (who she lived neighbors to for 40 years in the TeePee Flat Community). God works in mysterious ways.

Mama wanted me to tell all of you hello and invite you to write or come by and visit. There are no set visiting hours. Come by anytime.

Thanks again,
God Bless you,
Hattie & Corky

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

It's difficult to find French toast in France, eggs Florentine in Florence; and it's sometimes difficult to find Christians in Christian America.

Are you wondering, "What's a Christian?" The word Christian is spelled C-h-r-i-s-t-i-a-n. Take Christ out of Christian, and you have IAN. Without Christ, IAN means I Am Nothing.

You'd like to become a Christian, wouldn't you? Then receive Christ. He says, "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in."

Pray, "Christ, come into my heart!" He'll come in, and you'll become a Christian.
