Independence Day

Barbara's Bylines

What a shock last Thursday afternoon, the first day of Summer, everyone was thinking it might snow! Sure did turn off cool, was 65 degrees Friday morning.

I hope everyone has been enjoying the summer baseball, the concession stand ladies are making delicious Taco Salads again this year. Hope you go up to watch and eat with them tonight or tomorrow night, June 29 and 30, the last nights for baseball.

It seems like every year there are one or two teams who never lose and one or two who hardly win. I heard of a Mom's advise to her son and teammates the other day and thought I would pass it on.

The Mom heard the boys complaining of losing every game and wanting to quit. Mom said, "In ten or 20 years from now you won't remember how many games you won or lost playing little league ball, but you will remember the good time you had and that Mom and Dad, Grandma and Grandpa, came and watched your games. So get out there and watch your best and enjoy yourself, and know that you did your best."

This letter, from the Ann Landers column, also goes along with this: "This letter is about sportsmanship. I hope you will publish it. Parents whose children compete might learn something I did.

My 9-year-old son loves sports. "Bill" is a good soccer player and does well on the football field. Recently he became interested in wrestling. I attended the first match yesterday and it was a disaster. I nearly broke down and cried as I sat there and watched Bill's arms and legs get twisted every which way. It was an easy victory for his young opponent.

After the match was over - it was the longest three minutes of my life - "Adam," the victor, grabbed my my son's hand and said, "You did a good job, Bill. That was a great match." Adam's father rubbed my son's head, offered a few compliments and encouraged him to keep doing his best.

When Bill went into the ring for his second match, Adam's father noticed that he didn't have a coach. He took my son under his wing and coached him throughout the match. A good-looking high school wrestler, who saw my son's lack of experience, shouted suggestions throughout the match.

God love them - total strangers, sensing that the boy needed a hand in defeat, they extended theirs.

You can be sure in the future, Ann, when my son is the winner, he will remember what it was like to be the loser and how much it helped to get a kind word from his opponent."

The Tribune would like to run pictures and/or short stories on teenager's summer jobs so please call us or let us know of the teens at work.

We want to say thank you to everyone who helped and cooperated in getting the paper ready early so we can have a vacation.

And we appreciate your cooperation in getting your news and ad copy in early for next week's paper, so that we may be closed for Independence Day, July 4.

Safe Fourth of July calls for Caution with Fireworks

Every year, the same story unfolds. A child setting off fireworks at the family's Fourth of July picnic is brought to the local hospital's emergency room for medical treatment. Numerous cases of hand or facial burns, eye injuries and even hearing loss will occur throughout Texas this summer as a result of unsupervised and careless handling of fireworks.

The most common case of injury is due to unsupervised children playing with fireworks. Dr. Rich Cole, emergency room physician at Scott and White in Temple, points out that fireworks can cause burns to the fingers and hands, ignite clothing, and cause possible loss of fingertips. These cases usually occur because the handler has not released the firework before it exploded or the firework has misfired.

Dr. Cole stresses that children should not play with fireworks. "These are not toys," he says. "Even children with sparklers should be supervised. Toddlers will grab at the lit sparkler, which is hot enough to burn someone."

Eye injury is another area of medical concern when it comes to firework safety.

According to the American Academy of Ophthalmologists, close to 4,000 people will suffer eye injuries, with 1,000 resulting in permanent vision loss, due to faulty firework handling.

Dr. Richard D. Cunningham, director of the Division of Ophthalmology at Scott and White in Temple and professor at Texas A&M University College of Medicine, points out that bottle rockets are responsible for more than half of these injuries.

"I cannot describe the tragic feeling when we have to remove eyes from children or adults and knew the injury was preventable. Wearing protective goggles glasses will prevent most eye injuries," Dr. Cunningham says.

Children and people who have been drinking alcoholic beverages should never be allowed to handle or ignite explosive fireworks. Alcohol has been proven to slow down response time.

Nationwide, more than half the states have adopted a model law which limits the use of fireworks to licensed displays or relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers. A three-state study indicated that there were ten times more fireworks injuries where not model law was in effect.

"The best thing to do," Dr. Cole adds, "is watch a professional fireworks display from a distance."

If individuals plan to include fireworks in their festive Fourth celebration, they are urged to take the following precautions:

- * Always wear safety goggles or glasses when setting off fireworks.
- * Only adults should handle or ignite explosive fireworks.
- * Adults should be present to supervise children during the use of the relatively safe fireworks such as sparklers.
- * Do not put firecrackers in a bottle or tin can, or under a clay pot. Whensuch objects shatter, the fragments are often propelled into the eye, causing serious eye injury.
- * Know what you are buying in terms of firepower and the appropriate safety measures for igniting the firework.
- * Do not use fireworks near dry grassy fields or shrubbery. Firework sparks and hot Texas summers are the right combination for the wrong event - fires.

Larger Cities Have No Monopoly On Development Needs

LUBBOCK -- Big cities aren't the only places needing an infusion of new businesses, industries and services; small town and rural counties deserve their share of government efforts to improve their economic condition, said U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm (R-Texas).

"Economic development isn't just a program for urban areas," Gramm told some 400 community leaders and staff members of the U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies from across the state.

Gramm spoke at a recent two-day rural economic development conference conducted here by the Texas Food and Agriculture Council (FAC), a consortium of all USDA agencies which serve the state.

"I don't think we need a new government program for rural economic development," the senator said. "All I want is a fair share of the economic development expenditures of the federal government to go to rural areas."

Gramm said he wants the federal developmental program refocused "to promote growth in big cities, medium cities, small towns and rural areas."

He said one of the pressing needs in many rural areas is quality health care. "When you don't have access to modern medical care, you face a problem trying to attract businesses," he said.

The senator said in most small towns, the hospital is second only to the school system as the major employer.

"Texas has led the nation three years in a row in the number of rural hospital closings," Gramm said.

He said the federal government must eliminate the differential in payment of costs for medical care in small towns and big cities. He also said there should be limits on hospital liability payments except in cases of clear negligence.

Other areas vital to economic development in small communities are rural airports and quality educational systems, he said.

"We're not just competing with each other, we're literally competing with every other place in the world for business," Gramm said.

"A lot of little companies in our small towns are selling all the over the world. We've got to be certain that these small companies have an opportunity to get on the playing field," he said.

GARDEN CLUB BENCH STILL MISSING

Garden Club bench is still missing.

As a club project, under the direction of Mrs. Alvin Stearns, (then president), the Matador Garden club placed a park bench in front of the old building, formerly the commercial Grocery owned by the late Rans Moore. This building now houses the Motley County Library.

Sometime during the remodeling process of the building, the bench was removed. Efforts to find what happened to it have been futile. The Garden Club would like for the bench to be returned so that it can again be placed in front of the library and be enjoyed by the public.

Any information concerning the whereabouts of the bench would be appreciated by the club, and anyone having this information may notify Mrs. Bill Pipkin, president; Mrs. Edgar Lee, past president or Mrs. Ted Elliott, park chairman.

LIBRARY NOTES

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

What a difference a Reading Club makes! Today we checked out 100 books! Tuesday we circulated 81 books. There were 30 children enrolled in the Creature Features Summer Reading Program. If you were not one of those present to hear Mrs. Martin explain the plans for the summer, and receive a Reading Log, puzzle page, and rules for the CREATE-A-CREATURE CONTEST, and you finished grades one, two, three, four, five or six this year, please come by the Motley County Library and enroll and come every Tuesday morning at 10:00 a.m. to enjoy the special speakers, activities, and films from today, when Eric Strong, director of Student Support Services at Texas Tech Universities and president of Roots Historical Arts Council, Inc. which is conducting a campaign to erect THE FORT-GOTTEN WEST MEMORIAL, a national monument commemorating the contributions of Afro-Americans in the early West, is our Special guest speaker, until August 10th for the awards program and party.

Films that arrived last week and are available for everyone's pleasure are:

Junior High to Adult: Abbott and Costello in the foreign Legion; Aransas, a color film of the whooping cranes and the unique coastal ecology of Aransas National Wildlife Refuge; Igor and the Dancing Stallions; Vandalism: The Mark of Immaturity.

Pre-Elementary: Critter, The Raccoon; Faeries, fairy tales; Beginning of the Armadillos, from the Just So Stories; Lambert, The Sheepish Lion; Selfish Giant; Tom Thumb In King Arthur's Court; Wild animal Families.

For all Ages: Lilith Summer; Popcorn Lady; Soccer, U.S.A.; Texas Parks; Why'd The Beetle Cross the Road? - an answer to the question that has puzzled sages throughout the centuries and gives a bug's-eye view of the meaning of life, and two Walt Disney films; Little House Out On a Limb.

Come in at 2:00 p.m. this afternoon and next Thursday to enjoy the film of your choice.

Last month our library circulated 794 books in English and Spanish, paperbacks, and periodicals; handled 12 Interlibrary Loan Requests, had 20 films shown to 120 people, and 6 videos shown to 80 people, answered 7 of 8 reference questions, had 32 computer users for 16 1/2 hours of public computer use, collected $97.05 for 75 overdue books and copies made, had 6 meetings at the Library, attended by 141 people, and 3 Literacy Students received 40 hours of tutoring. We are so pleased at the way the use of Motley County Library is growing and expanding. One hundred and six books were added to our shelves, and 93 withdrawn. Since it takes almost as much time to properly withdraw a book as it does to add one to our collection, last month was a very busy time at the library!

We are so grateful to have Margaret Guerrero as the JTPA worker at Motley County Library this summer. Her first day at work was registration day for the READ-TO-ME CLUB. She was certainly a help that day, but what a busy introduction to a new job! She is becoming more efficient everyday. Her ability as a typist and her willingness to tackle any job, from running errands to shelving books, is certainly appreciated. Earline Vaughn and Bessie Hibbets have added her to their accessioning team. Of necessity, Earline is becoming our cataloging expert, Bessie makes entries in the accession book and Margie types labels and cards. The additional 10 hours of work per week granted to our Green Thumb workers could not have come at a better time. With all this excellent help, Wilda and I still find it necessary to put in some overtime just to keep up, but time flies when you're having fun. You patrons and visitors just make our day.

If you haven't been out to a ballgame yet, you'd better put your book down, douse yourself with insect repellent, and hurry out before it's all over. If insect repellent just chokes you up, you might try the recommendation of my niece, Mrs. Roy Moss, who was visiting me last week. She had been told that Avon's Skin So Soft rubbed on full strength was an excellent insect repellent. She and her daughter both tried it the evening we set out tomato plants and neither of them were bitten. I was using Deepwoods Off myself, so I can't vouch for it personally.

Praise the Lord; for the Lord is good; sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant.

COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH BILL PASSES SENATE

AUSTIN - A comprehensive health care bill designed to address a desperate situation in the state's rural area has won overwhelming approval from the Texas Senate.

House Bill 18, sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Chet Brooks and myself, contains a number of important measures stemming from a study by The Special Task Force on Rural Health Care Delivery that was created in June 1987. The study concluded that health care in Texas is in crisis, and the situation is getting worse.

HB 18 is a big step in addressing the problem, and is undoubtedly the most comprehensive rural health care bill ever approved by the Legislature.

Senate Bill 1107, another rural health initiative I sponsored, was included under HB 18.

Inclusion of the SB 1107 provision means that physicians and hospitals can obtain enhanced Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement by taking advantage of the federal Rural Health Clinic Services act passed by U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

Comptroller Bob Bullock has estimated at least $4 million per year in additional Medicare funds could flow into Texas once this Act is implemented. This increase in federal funds would not require additional state expenditures and would go directly to clinics and other service providers.

Also under this provision, clinics may become certified in areas where no health care now exists.

Some of the other vital measures included in HB 18 are provisions that allow for creation of a center of rural health initiatives at the Texas Department of Health, measures that address emergency hospital transfers and provide liability relief to physicians, and a provision requiring medical schools to incorporate a clerkship in family practice during the third clinical year.

HB18, which is sponsored by the Texas Medical Association, Texas Nurses Association, Texas Rural Health Association, American Association of Retired Persons, Texas Association of Community Health Centers, and many others, now goes to the governor for his signature.

If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land. 2 Chronicles 7:14

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

Mary had a funny doll. It was made of cloth and stuffed with corn, but she loved it.

One day while she was playing with it, she bumped into Jimmy who was making a boat. The jar caused him to drop it and break it.

"I'll get even with you," he cried.

He stole her doll and buried it in the garden. As he walked away he grinned, "That's the end of her doll."

But one day, after a rain, the mother saw a spot of fresh greens. She walked over to it, and there in the shape of a doll were green blades of corn growing.

The hidden sin was uncovered.

Like the Living Bible says, "You may be sure that your sins will catch up with you."

A Child's Plea

by H. Soltwisch

"Mother, cut the apron strings!
They're choking me to death,
For every step that I take,
The strings squeeze out more breath."

"You shelter me so very close;
You demand my every thought;
You only cause stress for yourself
And loneliness you have wrought."

"Show your love by letting go,
Throw the worn-out apron away;
Find another interest in life;
Please, don't stand in my way."

"Where is the confidence you should have in me,
For the things that you have taught?
I don't need or want the apron strings
Nor the misery they have brought."

"My choices won't be your choices,
My friends may be very different,
But my devotion and love for our God
Will still be quite, quite reverent."

So, Mothers, listen to your child's plea;
A time comes you must let go;
If your child must cut the apron strings,
It will hurt much more, you know.

O Lord, you are my God; I will exalt you and praise your name, for in perfect faithfulness you have done marvelous things, things planned long ago. Isaiah 25:1

STATEMENT OF INTENT TO LOWER RATES

Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc. ("the Cooperative") hereby publishes NOTICE that it has filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas a Statement of Intent and Petition for Authority to Change (REDUCE) Rates, with a proposed effective date of July 17, 1989, pursuant to the provisions of Article 1446c, Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes and the Commission's Substantive Rules. Pursuant to a May 11, 1989 order of the Commission in anticipation of this filing, the Cooperative has implemented a $23,000,000 annual revenue reduction effective with the Cooperative's billing cycle for April 1989. If approved, the PERMANENT RATE REDUCTION would result in a reduction of anticipated revenues by $21,508,032, or approximately 10.8 percent for the twelve months ending December 31, 1988. All customers of the Cooperative, which serves only at wholesale, are affected.

DPS Urges Caution For July 4th Driving

It is the 4th of July and the middle of summer vacation which means not only will Texas motorists be taking to the highways, but a lot of visitors will also be entering Texas. With the increase in the number of motorists on our highways, the possibility of having an accident will also increase.

Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, stated, "That this combination can be deadly, if motorists do not take certain precautions over the 4th of July holiday."

"Before traveling you should insure your car is in good working condition including necessary equipment to help in case of a breakdown, such as a good spare tire. Long trips should be well planned, allot ample time for traveling, be well rested and take frequent breaks," said Major Cawthon.

Do not mix drinking and driving. It not only could cost you big fines, jail time and loss of your driving privileges, but the cost could be as high as your life.

Always be watchful of other motorists. All, too often, simple mistakes can lead to traffic accidents. Be courteous by displaying good driving habits that you expect others to display. Remember that courtesy can be contagious.

Insure that everyone in the vehicle is properly secured and that all loose items are in the trunk. During a collision, any loose object could be a potentially dangerous weapon.

To help insure your safety this 4th of July holiday, drive friendly and obey all traffic laws. It is the Texas way!

Motley County Arts and Crafts Club has Outing in Turkey

Fourteen members of the Motley County Arts and Crafts Club ate lunch and went to various places of interest in Turkey on Thursday, June 15.

Club members met at the home of Mrs. Elsie Thacker at 11 a.m. going first to the historical Hotel Turkey where they were greeted by Mrs. Jane Johnson, who along with her husband Scott are co-owners of the hotel.

Before lunch the group had the privilege touring the upstairs portion of the hotel and viewing the guest rooms and other facilities.

While having lunch in the dining room, Mrs. Johnson told of the purchase of the hotel along with her husband, and some interesting facts about the old hotel, which was erected in 1927.

She stated that their interest began while attending a family reunion in Turkey in July of 1988. They purchased it in September of 1988. She returned shortly after that, but her husband and three children, ages 20, 18 and 15 remained at their home in Denton, coming to Turkey only on weekends, moving permanently not long ago.

She told of the many hours of work that has gone into the restoring of the hotel to the era of the middle to late 1920's. The entire restoration has been by the Johnsons, which includes 13 air conditioned/heated guest rooms. The present dining room was at one time made into an apartment and was that way when the Johnsons purchased it. It has been put back to the original dining room. Meals are served by reservation only at this time, but it is hoped that in the near future a permanent cook can be secured, one who can cook from scratch.

Mrs. Johnson said that the hotel was built at a cost of $8,600. It sold for $6,000 during the depression to Mr. T.H. Walters. The Johnsons purchased the hotel from Mr. Walters' daughter.

Mrs. Johnson stated "It has been a pure joy to restore the hotel. Everything in the hotel is authentic and dates by or before the 1920's."

Following the delightful visit and enjoyable meal it was on to the art studio and museum of Otho Stubbs. He is a specialist in Indian and Western oil paintings.

He told the group that his parents came to Turkey when he was two years old. At that time it was only open country. He has had a love for art since he was a very small child.

He spent two years in Arizona and New Mexico, which created the love he has for Indian and Western Art. Following four years in the army he studied in Taos and Santa Fe, N.M., but wasn't satisfied with the work he had been taught and came back to Turkey and began creating his own style of art.

The next stop was to the Browning's Peanut Patch, which opened three and one half years ago. It is run by Mary Browning and features home grown peanuts made into candy such as peanut brittle and peanut butter and other peanut items. The shop also displays handmade items by various local people.

The two J's China and Gifts which was next on the list, is operated by Tom J. and Wilma J. Eudy. This place has been in operation for 10 years. It features a large display of ceramics, greenware, porcelain dolls, china, as well as other gift items and craft supplies. At the Bob Wills museum, which utilizes a portion of the old Turkey school, they met Mrs. Zona Lane, hostess, who has been in this capacity for 16 of the museum's 18 years. She is very enthusiastic about telling about the things in the museum. It displays trophies and personal things of this famous western-swing musician and his family.

Attending from the Matador club were Mesdames Winifred Lee, Tori Gustafson, Elsie Thacker, Rhea Lawrence, Dora Watson, Una Simpson, Leola McKelvey, Marian Woodruff, Bonnie Edmondson, Winifred Darsey, Joy Archer, Lorene Lancaster, Verdie Neighbors and Mary Louder.

The next regularly scheduled club meeting will be on July 10 in the home of Leola McKelvey, with Una Simpson as leader.

Social Security Tips For Motley County

by Mary Jane Shanes

The Social Security protection workers earn is related to their level of earnings during working years. This protection translates into social security benefits paid when a worker retires, becomes disabled, or dies.

There is a limit on the amount of a worker's yearly earnings on which social security taxes must be paid and which count for figuring benefits. If all earnings were counted, highly paid people would receive correspondingly high benefits - benefits which would be inappropriate for a social insurance program.

In 1989, the limit is $48,000. This amount is automatically increased each year to keep pace with increases in average wages.

The employee and employer each pay social security taxes of 7.51 percent of earnings. (Self-employed people pay the entire 15.02 percent but get a 2 percent credit.) An employee pays the Social Security taxes only on wages up to the maximum amount - $48,000 in 1989. An employee who earns $48,000 or more in 1989 will pay social security taxes of $3,604.80.

An employer pays social security taxes on the wages paid to each employee up to the maximum amount, regardless of earnings paid to the employee by other employers during the year. So if you work for more than one employer during a year, each employer must pay social security taxes on the wages he or she paid you up to the maximum amount.

It's interesting to note that an employee who paid the maximum social security taxes each year for 1937 through 1988 would have paid a total of $34,166.99 on earnings of $602,600. If this worker retired in 1989 at age 65, it would take only about 3 years to recoup what he or she paid in social security taxes.

Workers who wonder what they've paid in social security taxes can request a "Personalized Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement" (PEBES) from social security. A PEBES provides:

- * a summary of earnings from 1937 through 1980;
- * a year-by-year breakdown of earnings after 1950 with the corresponding estimated yearly taxes paid; and
- * a wide range of benefit estimates, including disability, survivors, and retirement benefits at a reduced age, full retirement age, and age 70.

If you want a PEBES, need more information, or want to file a claim call 1-800-2345-SSA.
