Motley County Commissioners Meeting Report

The Motley County Commissioners Court opened their monthly meeting with Franklin Jameson giving the invocation. First business was to hear the reading

First business was to hear the reading of the minutes and review the bills, these were approved.

H. C. Smith presented a letter to the Court he had received from the law firm handling the deliquent taxes (McCreary, Veselka, Beck & Allen, P.C.) The letter stated that they could not forgive the taxes but that H.C. Smith was not libel for the taxes prior to the purchase of this tract. the taxes prior to the purchase of this tract of land due to the bankruptcy court rec-ords. The Court elected to remove this

The Court received the survey from Ober J Engineering for the Boykin, Cook, Nichols road in Precinct 4. John M. Russell suggested they have Ober J to add the acres being designated as well as the feet and inches. The Court accepted this with the acres added.

The Court reviewed the reports for the month of May, the J.P. collected fines in the amount of $4,523.50.

Bill D. Washington reported the road dispute between Reed/Shannon was settled out of court, but that now he had another one coming up. Russell stated he

The Judge and Commissioners explained they had to see if the Truit Read came to offer any assistance and ask that the bridge be repaired crossing the Tongue River Ranch on the Dumont road. The Judge and Commissioners explained they had to see if the State would approve their plans to repair the bridge before they would know what plan of action to take.

Childress County had sent a letter requesting Motley County to support their plans for a prison system.

After discussion this was tabled.

James Gillispie was on hand to present the court with copies of the opinion poll that the Fire Department and the EMS went door to door to ask citizens what they wanted. They had two petition forms, one For and one Against with 450 signatures total, with 444 For and 6 against, these included Flomot as well as Matador. Gillespie stated he had not picked up the For petition at Roaring Springs yet. After reviewing the petitions the Court passed the 9-1-1 Emergancy System for Motley County.

Rodney Williams and James Gillespie. went door to door to ask citizens what Rodney Williams and James Gillespie presented the final bill on the Highband Radios for the Fire Department and Commissioners for $795.00. These were purchase through the National Forrest Service with the Forrest Service paying half of the cost. After problems with the original radios the Forrest Service reordered new radios and were now naving a contract of the cost. dered new radios and were now paying 65% of the cost. The radios could have cost the county over $5,000 instead they were now costing approximately $2,300.

The Court approved this payment.
Seth Halburt and Judge Abernathy of the Central Plains Comprehensive Commission of MH/MR were on hand to give a 1988 sponsorship report to the Court. Halburt also informed the Court of a new project for a 12 bed adolescent residential Commissioners discussed they budget was already streached as far as it could go for this year.

Discussed was the fact that even though fines are collected and most court cost are collected the County still had to bear the weight of alot of hidden costs during hearings and trials along with paying juriors, etc. Some trials the County had to pay the attorney fees in welfare cases and now they had the added cost of indigent care costs(hospital bills etc of those unable to pay and complying with rules). The County has so many extra costs they don't feel they can add any more expenditures at this time.

Darla Gwinn, representing the Motley Co. Library asked the Court if they would approve a new Board member to replace Wilda Dixon, who resigned due to being an employee now. Gwinn stated she had Crystal Rogers of Flomot willing to become a member. The Court recommended the Board accent Rogers mended the Board accept Rogers

Methodist Parsonage Meets With Accident

The United Methodist Parsonage reved some damage and created a very time for Bro. Gene and Mary time for Bro. Gene and Mary ceived some damage and created a very scary time for Bro. Gene and Mary Louder, Saturday night,

About 7:15 that night they were watching T.V. when they heard a loud noise coming from the kitchen and when they looked, fire was shooting from the built-in oven. At the time this happened all the lights went out. The sound was so loud that the neighbors called to ask if something hit the church or parsonage.

About 15 or 20 minutes later, while sitting in the living room they heard a very loud popping noise. This time they noticed a very bright light coming from the utility room and discovered the breaker working and assosinite working and associated working and associa was chared and blackened. The walls were blackened as a result of this accident caused by lightning.

The Louders did not receive partial electricity until about 9:45 p.m. Sunday night. It has also been discovered that a lamp in the den, which was working at the time of the accident is not in operation and the clock radio in the bedroom isn't working and also some electrical switches.

To quote the Louders, "We feel very fortunate that the storm the other night did not cause any more damage to the ment at the annual regional Awards and Leadership meeting held Saturday, June 10 at the Education Service Center in Lubbock. I want to thank Bill and June Moss for ming to our aid again by keeping the brary open on Saturday, June 3rd, so coming to our aid again by keeping the Library open on Saturday, June 3rd, so that Wilda Dixon could go to Albuquer-que, N.M. where her mother and father were hospitalized after being hit by a car there, and I was able to go ahead with my plans to attend the Cowboy Symposium at Lubbock. Wayne and I spent Friday night with our daughter, Anita Hunter, and the three of us attended as many of the Saturday sessions that we could and the Saturday sessions that we could and thouroughly enjoyed each of them. We agreed with the many folks from Mata-dor and Roaring Springs that our Dennis Gaines really stole the show in the Satur-day afternoon session when he read two of the poems he had written. Dennis has the rare gift of being able to read his poetry with meaning and understanding and has such a pleasing voice. Plans are underway to have an evening of poetry reading soon so that those of you who could not make the trip to Lubbock can enjoy this talent, too.

Wilda reported this morning that her mother had come through her last surgery alright and both she and her father were alright and both she and her father were improving.

I was pleased to find a copy of the Elmer Kelton book Stand Proud, at a display by The Book Alley, and since Elmer Kelton was standing right there, we now have an autographed copy that will be available for Elmer Kelton fansio read as soon as the Library staff has finished. #### Program for El Progresso Club Defines Hypnosis And Memory

GFWC El Progresso club met May 27 in Plainview for lunch at the Golden Corral restaurant and a program on "Hypnotism and Memory" by Larry Keltz of Plainview, a native of Matador. This closed the year's activities for the season. The meeting was held in one of the restaurant's several dining rooms. Grace (Mrs. Harold) Campbell asked the Blessing, and after an enjoyable meal, Loys (Mrs. Joe) Campbell, club president welcomed the members and their guests. She then turned the meeting to Lola (Mrs. She then turned the meeting to Lola (Mrs. Frank) Pohl, program leader, who introduced the speaker, no stranger to his audience.

"The last time I saw Larry on a program he was playing the piano when he piano when he was in Matador High was in Matador High School," Mrs. Pohl said. "He still plays the piano and organ for church sometimes." He is a graduate of Matador High School and has had a varied and colorful professional career with a wide range of auxilifications. Mrs. varied and colorful professional career with a wide range of qualifications, Mrs. Pohl said. "He is a licensed funeral director and embalmer, with a diploma from Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science; has a degree in phychology from Wayland Baptist University; a master's degree in counceling from West Texas University; and advanced certificate from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and Education and is a certified dards and Education and is a certified Crime Prevention Specialist with over 900 hours in law enforcement education, including 60 hours in Forensic Hypnosis Training. He worked his way for his education since he was 17, according to

With this impressive background, El Progresso Club members heard one of its most interesting programs of the year, as Keltz began his talk with an outline of memory. Three components make up man body, soul and spirit, he said. "The soul controls the mind, will and emotions. The mind is divided into two areas, the conscious and the subconscious and is the force behind our memory. Back s the force behind our memory. Back masking, or music played in reverse, goes into the subconscious mind," he said and as an example, played a recording in that position. The spirit controls three areas of our lives, he said. These are communion, conscience and intuition

"There are many misconceptions concerning hypnosis," Keltz said. "A person is not out of control or in a dark void, and it is not a lie detector device.

Hypnosis occurs twice a day for us all-going to sleep at night and waking up in the morning." He explained the processes and uses of hypnosis, and told of several instances in which he had performed the procedure, one of them being with his wife as the subject wife as the subject.

"Hypnosis" he said, "is proof that things stored in our memory are all still there." As an example he told of one subject in her late thirties who repressed

her memory because of a trauma experienced with her first grade teacher.

Regarding self hypnosis he outlined this formula: Get in a comfortable position, with both feet on the floor and hands in lap, not touching; eye fixation - above eye level; take three deep breaths, exhanling slowly; close eyes as you exhale on eye level; take three deep breatins, exhale on 3rd breath; count 20 backwards to 0 count to yourself and mentally say the number as you exhale; form a mental image in your mind by relaxation, mental review of information and self improvement in memory, test taking or sports; and count from 1 to 5 mentally to yourself, opening your eyes on the number 5. You should awake feeling refreshed and

In answer to a question, "Is there such a thing as mind reading?" Larry replied, "God has given man the gift of discerment and the capacity to deal with not only the spirit of discerment, but also an evil source of information." The team most likely to run was one that had not been used regularly or one that had been out to pasture, fat and frisky. The same applies to saddle horses. When saddled, get a tight rein, get on and be ready if you want to stay in the saddle. When we were living southeast of town, our grand-dad Edmondson drove up in his wagon. Getting out of the wagon, wrapped the lines around the wagon hub in such a way if the team moved forward the lines would tighten. If the team moved back the lines would loosen. moved back the lines would loosen.

After being there awhile, the horses were restless and moved the wagon forward and backward until the lines came loose, something scared them and they began to run.

My brother Leland was plowing in the west field. Something scared the young team and they headed for home. Leland was still on the cultivatir. My mother looked out, I heard her scream, "Oh! Leland is liable to get killed". After running about a half mile, they were pretty well run down, and stopped when they got to the water lot gate.

My two older sisters were driving to school in a surrey. About a mile from home they met a covered wagon, pulled by horse and a burro. Something about

We have always heard that mules are dumb. That may be true, in some ways, but a mule is not as excitable as a horse.

I was working a young horse and a mule to a one row cultivator. The horse rubbed the bridle off, on the breast yoke. Without the blind bridle he could see behind, that scared him and they took off. I moved the levers up to the ton, which I moved the levers up to the top, which put the plow in the ground deeper. They

After a bad electrical storm it wasn't uncommon to find a horse that was badly cut up, as a result of running into a barbed wire fence. I have never seen a mule injured under the same circumstances. Even in a runaway, a mule will take care of himself a horse, when running scared seems to go blind and run over anything in the way. A mule is not dumb, just stubborn. Our work animals were about fifty-fifty, mules and horses. A mule is less fractions and much steadier to a plow

Jewell (tight-wad) Leslie had broken the mule to ride and used him to rustle horse. They said he stepped out pretty good, but did not use him as a roping or cutting mule.

Today marks our half-way point. The little town of Morris, Wis. is 850 miles, and we passed it noon today.

My bike began giving me trouble, awhile back and it became harder andharder to stay up with Tim and Sue. A bike shop saw no problems and simply dismissed my claim that there seemed somthing wrong with the crank. But in Ashland, Wisconsin the mechanic took my concern quite seriously. What he my concern quite seriously. What he found surprised us all. The crank bearings were shot, the spindle was bent, the rear derailer was bent, and the front axle was also bent. Now the bike is riding well though there's still a slight wobble in the crank. This, the mechanic said, was caused by the faces of the crank chamber not being parallel with each other. This is a manufacturing defect and will have to be ground down in New York. He did feel confident that I'll have no trouble

When temperatures begin to rise, many sports enthusiasts like to get outdoors and enjoy the sunshine. However, over-doing it in hot weather could cause a potentially dangerous condition known as heat ex-haustion. Heat exhaustion occurs when the body loses essential fluids faster than it is able to replenish them.

Rich Hartwig, director of the Cardiac Rehabilitation Center at Methodist Hos-Rehabilitation Center at Methodist Hos-pital, offers the following tips on how to avoid heat exhaustion. First, drink plenty of fluids while exercising outdoors. If you are sweating profusely, you should drink a mixture of equal parts of tomatoe juice and water. This combination not only replaces water that the body needs, but also replenishes salt and other fluids the body requires to function property

Easter has come and gone. So has the day we honored our Mothers and next it will be "Father's Day."

Fathers, I would like to challenge you to a place God ordained for you from the beginning of Creation, and that is "Leadership."

I challenge you to think before you speak and play fair.
I challenge you to do what you wisely want to do and can do best, and then be proud of doing that.
I challenge you to be more than common, to be uncommon if you

I challenge you to know yourself and to be yourself and to be able to laugh at yourself.

I challenge you to have patience with the mistakes of others and especially the members of your house I challenge you to stand up for what you believe and question that which you know to be wrong.

which you know to be wrong.

I challenge you to be dissatisfied; to constantly seek improvement of your home life, your community and world.

I challenge you to look to the future with a feeling of confidence.

I challenge you to keep your promises, to yourself, your family, your co-workers and to God.

I challenge you to responsibility, accept the constant challenge of "Leadership."

Have a great day Dads, we pray for each of you but bear in mind, children of all ages have one thing in common. They close their ears to advise and open their eyes to example.

Dad you are that example and model. Come worship with us, the church where everybody is somebody and Jesus Christ is Lord.

Indications are that acreage planted to cotton on the High Plains in 1989 will fall over 400,000 acres below the acreage planted in 1988.

That's the conclusion drawn by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, after studying preliminary cotton program sign-up figures received from the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) in College Station. The raw figures show planting intentions at 2,740,189, down 486,811 acres from 1988's 3,227,000. But, stressing that the numbers are "preliminary," PCG has adjusted the total to an even 2.8 million based on conversations with ASCS based on conversations with ASCS employees in counties where the figures obviously are incomplete.

As an example officials cite Gaines, largest of the 25 counties in PCG territory. The preliminary count there came to 219,320 intended acres, down almost 76,000 and an unrealistic 26 percent from the acres planted last year.

Two factors account for the overall reduction, PCG notes. Farm program regulations in 1989 require participants regulations in 1989 require participants to idle 25 percent of base acreage, up from 12.5 percent in 1988. And producers since last year have reduced effective bases by putting another 147,000-plus acres in the 10-year conservation reserve program (CRP). That brings total High Plains cotton acres in the CRP to just over 723,000.

What about harvested acres? "With the drought and the weather we're having," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "that's still anybody's The chart below shows each county'

Social Security Tips For Motley County

People who are developmentally disabled may qualify for monthly benefits under either the social security or the under either the social security or the supplemental security retirement or disability payments, or when an insured parent dies. It doesn't matter how old the child is, but he or she must have become disabled before age 22. A retarded person who has worked long enough under social security can also get benefits on his or her own work record.

SSI payments are paid to disabled

ner own work record.

SSI payments are paid to disabled people of any age, as well as the blind, and people 65 and over. However, SSI payments are based on financial need, and are made to people who have limited income and resources.

In deciding if a child under 18 and

In deciding if a child under 18 and living at home can get SSI payments, part of the parents' income and resources are considered to be that of the child. After applying allowances for work and living expenses, and for other children living in the home, the remaining amount of the parents' income is used to decide if a child meets the income and resource limits.

An 18 year veteran with the administration, Ms. Shanes has been the operations supervisor for the local office since December 1984. She replaces Terry Clements, who now heads an office in New

The administration is abolishing the operations supervisor position in the local office. Therefore, Ms. Shanes will retain her previous duties and take on the additional responsibilities of being the office

DPS REPORT

It's vacation time and time to start thinking about our summer travels and those year-long planned vacations. Ma-jor Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety adds that there are things we can do to adds that there are things we can do to insure that our summer plans are not ruined by some type of tragedy.

"Whether your plans involve travel by car or just a trip to the lake for a little swimming and boating, remember that these activities require a sober mind. While drinking, it is best to stay out of the water and if operating a car or boat use the "Designated Driver". It may just be your life that is saved, "Major Cawthon stressed.

Travel plans should include a safety check of your vehicle, both under the hood and on the outside. Trips should be planned, so that you are not rushed to get to your destination. Plenty of rest and frequent breaks make for a safe driving combination.

Be familiar with highway desires.

Be familiar with highway designa-ons. Because of the different posted speed limits, it is important to know if you're on the Interstate roadway system or another type of road. Road appearance alone will not give you this information, so it is important that you know what road you are on.

To sum it all up, drive defensively, constantly watching out for the other driver and please, buckle up. It is the Texas way of doing things.

TRIM FAT FROM YOUR DIET

Trimming certain kinds of fat from your diet is a good way to reduce your chances of developing a serious disease. Cutting down on fat also helps you con-

Shelley Fillipp, R.D., outpatient dietition at Methodist Hospital, offers these suggestions to lower your fat consump-

Limit fat intake to no more than 30-35 percent of what you eat. This includes fat added to food, as well as fat duded not not as well as fat added to food, such as meats and dairy products. On an average 1,500 calories-a-day diet, that equals about 50 grams or three-and-one-half tablespoons

Take note of the kinds of fat you consume. Saturated fats (found in meats, butter, cheeses, palm oil and coconut oil) are linked to cholesterol in the blood. Cholesterol is essential for the brain and nervous system; however, your body produces all you need.

When you eat foods containing saturated fats, you add excess cholesterol to your blood, encouraging the formation of fatty deposits in the arteries. These deposits can lead to atheroscierosis (hardening of the arteries), heart disease, stroke and other serious problems.

On the other hand, unsaturated or polyunsaturated fats (found in vegetable oils) reduce cholesterol by helping the body excrete it. Fish oil, like vegetable oil, is an unsaturated fat, and recently experts have found that chemicals in the oil of certain fish (particularly salmon, mackrel, bluefish, herring and shellfish) help reduce cholesterol for some people

Additional recommendations:

* Broil, bake, grill or poach foods instead of frying them.

* Substitute chicken for red meats;

remove the skin before cooking or at least before eating.

* Eat cheeses made from low-fat or

skim milk; ice milk, not ice cream

* Shop for lean meats; trim off visible fat before cooking.

* Try to fill up on vegetables and * Use polyunsaturated oils and marga-rines as much as possible. * Cool juices from meat and skim off fat before making gravy.

One night a little girl asked, 'Daddy, is God dead?' Stunned, he answered, "No, why do you ask? 'Because," she replied, "you never talk to Him

But you talk to Him, don't you? Prayer is a privilege. It's also a necessity. Without it man is like a fish out of water.

By prayer you ask God for His gifts and you accept His government. Then you enjoy real gladness.

A man is truly a man only when he's governed by God and talks with Him. Out of touch with God Get in touch with God. Pray daily, and you'll live happily.

children ages 2 through kindergarten are reminded of the activities to be held on Tuesday, June 20, 1989, from 10:30 a.m. until 11:15 a.m. at the Library. These activites are part of the Read-To-Me Reading club program, "CREATURE FEATURES". If the children have not already registered, they may do at this time.
