The Story of Valentine's Day

The story of Valentine's Day begins in the third century.

The oppressive Roman emperor, Claudius, ordered all Romans to worship twelve gods, but Valentinus was dedicated to the ideals of Christ. Not even the threat of death could keep him from practicing his beliefs. He was arrested and imprisoned. During the last weeks of Valentinus's life, a remarkable thing happened. Seeing that he was a man of learning, the jailer asked whether his daughter, Julia, might be brought to Valentinus for lessons. She had been blind since birth. Valentinus read stories of Rome's history to her. He taught her arithmetic, and he told her about God. She saw the world through his eyes, trusted in his wisdom, and found comfort in his quiet strength.

"Valentinus, does God really hear our prayers?" Julia asked one day.

"Yes, my child, He hears each one," he replied.

"Do you know what I pray for every morning and every night? I pray that I might see. I want so much to see everything you've told me about!"

"God does what is best for us if we will only believe in Him," Valentinus said.

"Oh, Valentinus, I do believe," Julia said fervently. "I do!" She knelt and grasped his hand.

They sat quietly together, each praying. Suddenly there was a brilliant light in the prison cell. Radiant, Julia cried, "Valentinus, I can see! I can see!"

"Praise be to God!" Valentinus exclaimed.

On the eve of his death, Valentinus wrote one last note to Julia, urging her to stay close to God, and he signed it "From Your Valentine." He was executed the next day, February 14, 270 A.D., and buried at what is now the Church of Praxedes in Rome. It is said that Julia planted a pink-blossomed almond tree near his grave. Today, the almond tree remains a symbol of abiding love and friendship. On each February 14, St. Valentine's Day, messages of affection and love are exchanged around the world.

Bobby Cross Wins Top Award

SPREADING KNOWLEDGE - Texas A&M Research Associate, Bobby Cross, checks readings on a tractor computer used in evaluating stress levels produced under various farming conditions. Through self-instruction, Cross has become an amiable expert on much of the electronic equipment used at the agricultural research center, one of many factors that led to his selection for the Texas A&M College of Agriculture "Award of Excellence" for technical support this year. (Vernon Daily Record Photo)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bobby Cross is the son of Iona (Cricket) Cross and the late J.C. Cross of Matador. He is a graduate of Matador High School.

Bobby T. Cross, a research associate at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research Station in Lockett, has been named the outstanding off-campus technical support person of the year by the Texas A&M College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Station Director Earl Gilmore has announced.

Cross was presented the college's "Award of Excellence" during the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Staff Conference in College Station. It was the first Award of Excellence ever presented to an employee of the Lockett facility.

Gilmore said that it was no surprise to him that Cross was honored by the university.

"He has had a long period of outstanding productivity," said Gilmore of Cross, a 21-year employee with the A&M system. "He has for several years consistently worked at a level that exceeds normal expectations. He's been able to carry out research plans with very little supervision."

Harold Wiedemann, an agricultural engineer and Cross' immediate supervisor, said that Cross' ability to relate to area farmers and ranchers has been an invaluable asset to the research station.

"Because most brush control research is installed on private land, Bobby is in a particularly sensitive position. His positive attitude toward our work and genuine interest in ranching has won the respect of ranchers throughout the state. Often, they'll let him use tractors that cost well over $100,000 because they completely trust his judgement," said Wiedemann.

Cross was also cited for his ingenuity in devising creative solutions to engineering problems that come up in center research and his leadership in keeping research technology. Recently, for example, Cross completed courses in statistical analysis and computer programming that have allowed him to better evaluate experimental designs and improve analysis of data, said Wiedemann.

On his own, said Wiedemann, Cross has also learned how to maintain complex electronic equipment, operate specialized shop machines and identify range vegetation associated with research areas across the state.

Cross himself said that he was honored to be the recipient of the award, but said that the efforts for which he was cited were "all just part of the job."

"The biggest thing about being a research technician is a commitment to the job and being satisfied with a job well done. I get a lot of pleasure from my work. It's the challenge of finding new things and concepts that are applicable to producers," he said.

Working in agricultural engineering research, he said, required technicians to become proficient in a wide variety of areas.

"Technicians take ideas that the project director comes up with and figure out how to implement those ideas and test them. Not all of those ideas work the first time around, and it's my job to figure out where the problem is and come up with a way to fix it."

Once the machine is working, said Cross, testing may require a knowledge not only of mechanical engineering, but things like soil science, farming techniques, plant growth characteristics electronics and computer programming.

"Sometimes you have to be a welder or a carpenter, or a common laborer, driving equipment or trucks all over the state," he said.

The biggest challenge to his work, said Cross, is to fight off disappointment.

"Always in research, there are going to be so many ideas that don't work for the few that do. I'm always looking past the disappointments to the ideas that will work to help the farmers and ranchers. If you're persistent enough, good things are going to come out of it," he said.

Guest to speak during morning worship service at Roaring Springs and Matador Methodist Churches

This coming Sunday, February 11 has been designated as 'Partners in Growth Sunday' throughout the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church.

In connection with this Freda Fuston of Turkey will speak for a portion of the morning worship services at both the 9:30 worship service at Roaring Springs and the 11:00 worship service in the Matador United Methodist Churches.

Mrs. Fuston will tell about the creation of new churches and the revitalization of existing congregations throughout the conference. This special day was adopted by the Annual Conference in 1989. It will emphasize the need of and ministries made possible through Partners in Growth, an information and fund raising arm of the Commission on Church Extension and Revitalization.

Rev. Gene Louder will also deliver a short message this Sunday along with the talk by Freda Fuston. Members and friends are urged to be in attendance.

Two 1989 MC Graduates Named to SPC Honor List

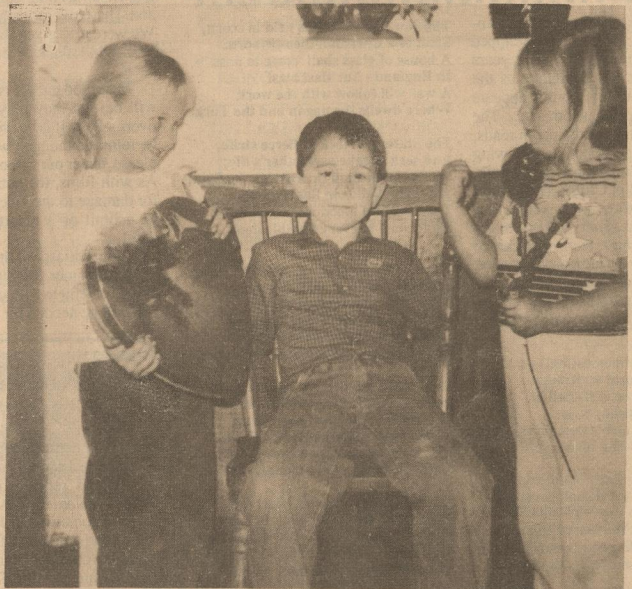

Two students from Matador are among the 386 students who have been named to the Dean's Honor List for the fall 1989 semester at South Plains College.

Students selected to the Dean's Honor List at SPC must maintain a minimum 32.5 grade point average while carrying a minimum of 12 semester hours. Those named to the Dean's List from Matador are Brent and Brian Marshall, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marshall of Matador.

An additional 153 students have been named to the President's Honor List at SPC. These students have maintained a 4.0 or straight A grade point average.

"SPC is proud of the outstanding achievements exhibited by our honor students," said Dr. Orlo Sundre, vice president of academic affairs. "They have been highly successful in their college careers at SPC."

HAS CUPID STRUCK? Little Leslie Taylor seems to be shaking her fist in the air toward twin sister, Lisa, to say 'there's one woman too many here.' Both girls seem to have been love struck by Cupid as they carry Valentine gifts to present to Bradley Baxter. Bradley seems rather bored with the situation - Girls, Yuk! Bradley, Leslie, and Lisa are Kindergarten students at Motley County Elementary School. Leslie and Lisa are the daughters of Leslie and Terri Taylor and Bradley is the son of Don and Colleen Baxter, all of Matador. (Staff Photo)

Junior Varsity Teams Fighting Hard In Motley County Basketball Games

by Syd Pipkin

Don't know if the Groundhog saw his shadow Friday morning, but the weather didn't slow up the Motley County contingency going to Spur for four games.

The J.V. girls played sharp ball but came up a little short losing to Spur 41-34. The girls had a good effort, but once again the 3rd quarter was very productive. If you haven't seen Spur's JV girls team, they are a big-aggressive team. The girls didn't give up when behind and played excellent during the 4th quarter, scoring 14 points.

Heather was high point woman scoring 12 points. Heather made two critical freeshots right before the half to make the score, Motley, 16 and Spur, 18. She also made some excellent steals. The only scoring in the third quarter was by Aimee and Marvina played excellent defense. At the end of the game, Aimee had scored 8 points. She shot a technical foul in the fourth quarter and sunk both shots. Marvina's scoring wasn't much off the pace and she scored 6 points. Cathey got several important rebounds and added 4 points. Christi caused some turnovers and played very well, she also added 2 points. Tonya didn't score but played well throughout the game. Tonya was high point woman at the game during the Valley tournament in January. Dana and Christy P. saw action during the game, too.

We've all seen the skier fall on NBC's "The Agony of Defeat" and JV boys know "The Thrill of Victory" after their game with Spur. I don't write up the boys games but would like to congratulate them. The JV boys played aggressive ball with the lead going back and forth until the buzzer sounded. With 5 seconds to go Brad Wilson sunk two freeshots to win the game. After Brad made his shots the clock ran down to 3 seconds but got reset back to 5 seconds adding to the tension. When the buzzer sounded, the Motley JV Boys had a well-earned victory.

If you didn't see Billy Lefevre's victory dance you missed something. My plays of the week go to Brad and Yo for being two pretty cool cucumbers when at the free shot line with the wins resting in their hands, they both sank the shots to secure a victory for the JV Boys and Yo's shots to win the Varsity Girls Game. CONGRATULATIONS to all four teams, you have all had a wonderful season.

If you haven't noticed (which I know you have), Motley players play hard but they also exhibit sportsmanship. I think they are to be commended. Thanks to all the coaches who spend untold hours at practice, games, and tournaments. We appreciate you and are behind you. Thanks for working with our kids. You do a great job!

Roaring Springs City Council Meeting Report

The Roaring Springs City Council met Tuesday, February 6, 1990 at 6:30 p.m. Mayor Eugene Watson called the meeting to order for Council members Joe Thacker, Bill Moose, Mary Webb and Bill Hand. Also attending was City Secretary Frances Walters and City Utilities Manager Billy Green. Walters read the minutes. They were approved as read.

Charles McGilvray, District Director of FmHA of Vernon and Mary Baiza of CRG of Lubbock, explained the Industrial Development Grants that may be available for rural towns of Texas. They explained eligibility requirements. Council went into closed session to hear the presentation in its entirety.

Mary Webb explained that the Fire Inspector had been to inspect the Kountry Kitchen Cafe. He informed the Council that the fire extinguisher and vent hood were not hooked up and did not pass inspection. He will return at the end of February and if this was corrected, it will pass for insurance. Council elected to hire the electrical work done.

Billy Green, Utilities Manager, reported on repairs on the sewer line behind the Mike Jones residence. He also asked if he was supposed to do any work on private property. The Council said he should correct city property problems only.

Council elected to pay membership to the Texas Water Utilities Association for Billy Green. This Association meets once a month to review and update the latest news. Mr. Green will receive credits and get a discount on all fees to schools he attends.

Council read a letter and resolution from Upton County asking them to join counties and cities in asking for the EPA to reconsider the latest laws concerning landfills, etc. The Council passed the resolution, but wanted to check further on paying $500 to join the group. Thacker asked Mrs. Walters to call and find out the latest update on this as the letter was sent out on December 31.

Mrs. Walters also read a letter from Bill Sarpalius, Congressman, stating that his office is doing everything they can to help the situation in small rural areas.

Statement was made that the Dougherty landfill had already been closed and covered up.

Council went into closed session at this time.

Reader's Column

EDITOR'S NOTE: The article was submitted by Clarence Jenkins. It was clipped from a very old newspaper many years ago. The poem is not complete, as the paper was old and worn and it appears that part of the paper was torn away. The note at the beginning of the poem reads, "Mother Shipton, author of the following prophetic poem, was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, 1449 A.D., forty-three years before Columbus discovered America. How many of her prophecies have come true can be checked readily by the most casual reader. How many are yet to become true remains for the future to disclose."

A WOMAN'S PROPHECY

A carriage without horses shall go,
Disaster fill the world with woe;
In London Primrose Hill shall be
Its center hold a Bishop's See.
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly,
Quick as the twinkling of an eye.

And waters shall great wonders do --
How strange, and yet it shall come true.
Then upside down the world shall be,
And gold found at the foot of tree;
Thro' towering hills proud man shall ride,
Nor horse nor ass move by his side.

Beneath the waters men shall walk;
Shall ride, shall sleep and even talk;
And in the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, as well as green,
A great man then shall come and go,
For prophecy declares it so.

In water iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat,
Gold shall be found in stream or stone,
In land that is as yet unknown,
Water and fire shall wonders do,
And England shall admit a Jew.

The Jew that once was held in scorn,
Shall of a Christian then be born.
A house of glass shall come to pass
In England - but alas! alas!
A war will follow with the work
Where dwells the pagan and the Turk.

The States will lock in fierce strife,
And seek to take each other's life;
When North shall thus divide the South
The eagle builds in lion's mouth
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.

Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to play a bloody dance;
Before the people shall be free
Three tyrant rulers shall she see;
Three rules, in succession be,
Each sprung from different dynasty..

Then when the fiercest fight is done,
England and France shall be as one,
The British olive next shall twine
In marriage with the German vine,
Men walk beneath and over the streams,
Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams.

All England's sons shall plow the land,
Shall oft be seen with book in hand
The poor shall now most wisdom know
And water wind where corn did grow
All covered o'er with snow and hail,

And now a word in uncouth rhyme,
Of what shall be in future time;
For in those wondrous, far-off days
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear,
And cut off their lovely locks of hair.

Senior Citizens Report

by Daisy Smith

The Mini-Bus went to Lubbock Monday with 6 people riding. One had a doctor's appointment. The bus went to Plainview Thursday and seven people rode. Everybody seemed to have a good time and enjoyed the trip. There were 30 people at the luncheon Tuesday and everybody enjoyed the meal. On Friday, Monita Smith opened the building at 2:00 p.m. and they had two tables of 84 going and everybody seemed to be having a good time and enjoyed the afternoon. When the game was over, everybody brought some goodies to nibble on and they had a good visit and fellowship. I was gone to Kansas for 2 months and I enjoyed myself, but when that big snow came I was ready to come home, when the snow melted down to where I could get out. But we did have some pretty weather also, and I ate lunch with the Senior Citizens several times and got acquainted with several of those Kansas people. They were really nice people, but I am glad to be back home. So I will be back to the next luncheon and I'll see you all there.

LIBRARY NOTES

by Wilda Dixon

Recent visitors from out-of-town were: Katherine Cullun, Irving; Jim Vernon, Sweetwater; Hughes and Ola Faye Fish, Lubbock; Shirley Bell and Barbara Garwood, Plainview; and Doug Pumroy of Ralls, Texas. We would like to thank each one that came and those that brought visitors.

Library School will be held at its regular time on Tuesday, February 13 at 10:00 a.m. We would like to encourage all children ages 2 to 5 to attend. The program includes films, stories, music and crafts.

New books that have recently been added to our shelves include: Dead Cert by Dick Francis and two books for our Texas Collection. They are Texas Catalog: Historic American Buildings Survey and The Governor's Mansion of Texas. We were also given the book Bent's Fort by David Lavender and it is now on the shelf.

The video packet is here!! The policy will be that they may be checked out overnight or if on a weekend, they must be returned the next working day. Also, please, never put videos in the book drop. As with films, the patron is responsible for damage to the video. There will also be a limit of 3 videos per patron per night.

Kathy Gillespie, who will be in charge of the Summer Reading Programs, has asked for help in collecting several items that will be needed for the 85 to 100 kids that attend the programs. The items she needs are: boxes with lids (shoebboxes, cigar boxes, etc.) to make into treasure chests and cans with plastic lids (pringles, peanuts, coffee, crisco, etc.) to make into banks. If you would like to contribute any of these items please bring them to the Library.

I would like to say thank you to Donnie Jackson for helping turn the lock around on the door into the Community Room. Since we cannot find the key to the lock, we did not want to get locked in the community room. I would also like to thank Spencer Dixon for helping to move the Vertical Files to the front and the shelf list drawers to the back. Thanks, fellows.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

If you're a social security beneficiary, you should receive a Social Security Benefit Statement (Form SSA-1099) in the mail sometime in January. The form shows the amount of social security benefits you received or repaid in 1989. You should use the form to help you figure whether any of your social security benefits are subject to federal income tax.

Most social security beneficiaries do not have to pay any federal income tax on their social security benefits. If your social security check is your largest source of income, you probably won't owe any tax on your benefits. But if you have substantial income in addition to your social security benefits, up to half of your annual social security benefits may be subject to federal income tax.

Your social security benefits may be taxable if your taxable income plus your non-taxable interest plus half of your social security benefits exceeds the base amount. The base amounts are $25,000 if you are single, $32,000 if you are married and file a joint return; or $0 if you are married, live with your spouse at any time during the year, and file separate returns.

Included with your benefit statement will be an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Notice 703. This notice includes a worksheet you can use to get an idea if any of your benefits may be taxable. If you are married and you and your spouse will file a joint return, be sure to combine your incomes and your social security benefits when you fill out the worksheet.

If you have any questions about the worksheet or how to figure your taxable income, call any IRS office. The phone numbers of the IRS offices are listed on the back of the Notice 703.

If you have questions about the information on the SSA-1099, or you wish to file a claim call 1-800-2345-SSA.

"What good would it do?" he asked. "Look at our neighbor. He's a Christian. But he has never recommended Christ to me. If his Christianity isn't worth talking about, it can't be worth dying for."

GFWC El Progreso Club Hears Program On Updating Drivers Education

Ladies, fasten your safety belts. Especially in small towns like Matador; well, more specifically in Matador. According to a local patrolman, this is one driver's law that is not observed by very many here, that should be.

GFWC El Progreso Club members received a session of thorough instructions regarding their driving knowledge, when they met January 25 at the Senior Citizens Building for a program on "Updating Drivers Ed." Instructors of the Public Affairs program were Patrolmen Dude Speed and Randy Gustafson of the local office of the Texas Department of Public Safety and Drivers' License Trooper Ron Parks of Floydada.

Introduced by Loys (Mrs. Joe) Campbell, club president, Patrolman Speed narrated a film "On The Road" with illustrations of all road signs, signals and pavement markings. These included standard sign shapes, such as the diamond sign as warning of hazard conditions and possible danger; the round railroad crossing sign marked with a cross sign within the circle; school zone, warning and school crossing sign in the pentagon shape, and other signs of various shapes and colors. He also quizzed his listeners as to their knowledge of the standard sign colors, red, yellow, green and orange, and outlined the necessity of observing the yellow and white pavement markings and all regulatory traffic signs.

The film was not as lengthy as anticipated, however the clubwomen made up for the extra time in a barrage of questions in a question-answer session. These centered largely on observations made while driving in nearby towns where traffic violations have caused many accidents. The subject of safety through the use of seat belts was mentioned and it was at this point that Patrolman Gustafson warned the audience of the danger of not observing this law and commented that Matador was especially lax in this respect.

In answer to the question of whether older or younger drivers were the worse road hazards, it seems there is an intermediate age that figures in the statistics. Altogether, drivers in both older and younger age categories have higher violation and accident rates per mile than drivers in their middle years. "Young people here have a different attitude compared with those in larger places," Patrolman Speed said, explaining that Matador's youth are very cooperative and responsible, and pose very few problems.

Another point that he stressed was to use rear view and outside mirrors. "Be aware of the obstruction caused by the rear view mirror and of the natural blind-spots in the mirror, and stay out of the blind spots of other drivers. Continually check on your own."

And don't forget to fasten your seat belt. "I have yet to investigate a fatal accident in which the victim was wearing a seat belt," Patrolman Speed said. "I have never cut a dead person out of a seat belt."

The program followed the thought "Are Older Drivers Road Hazards?" with the yearbook quotation by Becky Stout Higgins: "Let me state that there a lot of people (not just younger drivers) don't observe safety while behind the wheel of their cars...I stay away from old ladies in new Cadillacs, old men in old pick-up trucks and yuppies in BMWs."

Refreshments of cake, coffee and hot punch were served by hostesses Lucretia (Mrs. R.E.) Campbell and Nell (Mrs. Bob) Clem to the members and several invited guests. Special guests were to have been Senior Citizens. Those in attendance were Gertrude (Mrs. Roy) Smith, Tommy (Mrs. Jim) Sturdivant, W.D. Lipscomb; and Rachel Patton, Dorothy (Mrs. E.A.) Day, Winifred (Mrs. Robert) Darsey, Bailey (Mrs. Ted) Elliott, Josephine (Mrs. John) Hamilton, Vena (Mrs. W.D.) Lipscomb, Mary (Mrs. Gene) Louder, Jo Etta (Mrs. Dale) Bumgardner, Marguerite (Mrs. J.E.) Edwards, Lila (Mrs. Douglas) Meador and Grace (Mrs. Harold) Campbell and the president, Loys Campbell, besides the hostesses and guest patrolmen.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Barbara,

You may recall reading, on page 259, in "Recollections", the story of Ridge Greathouse written by Duff Green. In researching the 40-volume reprint of "The Confederate Veteran" recently, I came across the following article which may be of interest to the Civil War buffs in Motley County. This is excerpted from the September 1925 issue:

Letter from P.A. Cribbs, 2nd Lt., Company K, 20th Alabama Infantry, of Matador, Texas:

"We have here in our small cemetery seventeen soldiers without a marker, and some without a stone. When buried, their graves were marked with a piece of board with their names. The boards are long since rotted and gone. All of them were good, true Confederate soldiers, except three. Two were Indian Scouts for Confederate troops in Texas; the other a noted character, Ridgeland Greathouse, who, with his brother, came from New York City to San Francisco, Calif., and were bankers there at the commencement of the War Between The States. His brother was strictly a Union man, but "Uncle

Ridge," as he was generally called, was just the opposite. He was strictly for separation of the States, and joined his fortune with and for the Southern States. He used his fortune, about $75,000, in buying and equipping a ship for the Confederate Navy. He manned her as a privateer, commanding her himself, but never got to sea; was captured in the Golden Gate, the mouth of the Bay of San Francisco. Capt. Ridge Greathouse saved himself by swimming ashore. His fortune gone, he came to Texas and, after the War, he trapped for a living and finally died here at Matador, Texas, about 20 years ago, and was buried by the cowboys as a pauper without a stone or even a marker of any kind....I am writing this to you that you may do what you think best. There are only four of us old veterans now living here, and our time is uncertain, all over 80 years old. As for myself, I passed my 89th birthday last Saturday. I was born June 27, 1836."

Thanks for your continued help in selling "Recollections."

Sincerely,
Joan

To the Editor:

PROMISES TO ALL VETERANS BY OUR LEADERS:

First I must explain that I write a column for our local paper in Matador, Texas and most of my writing is on the treatment to Veterans of the 1st and 2nd World Wars, also Korean and the Vietnam wars about the treatment the Veterans, male and female, abled and disabled, by our Veterans Administrations throughout the United States on the entitlements given to the Vets by the American people for their courageous deeds to keep our country and its people free.

Veterans are being discriminated by officers who run the Veterans benefits offices and denying the help that is legally provided to all Veterans by our people and not by some officer in the Veterans Administrations using their authorities to turn down anyone that has lost or misplaced their discharges or separation papers, help to receive benefits or hospitalization.

When it is easy for the Administration to use their computers to prove that the Veteran in need of help is the actual veteran and not someone faking to be a veteran. His or her fingerprints and records are on file in the archives in the state of Missouri, St. Louis.

I also want it to be known how our Senators, Congress and President and Vice-President acted on their rasies but forgetting the Veterans bonus, promised 45 years ago. But no hesitation was in the voting of the Japanese being incamped during the war made by our leaders in holding them in camps because they were Japanese descendants and now that the life span is longer of a man the bonuses are still due us Veterans.

So please remind your Senators, Congressman, Vice-President and mostly our leader, the President of this great country of ours, to put into action the promise to the Veterans before the Congress gives themselves a cost plus on cost of living in the buildings that should be paid out of their pockets and not the taxpayers and if they are not satisfied, they should resign their post so we can weed out the leaders from the mess this country is in and start a road to being number one, where we belong.

God bless the U.S.A.

Roaring Springs Senior Citizens Report

by Eugenia Bethard

The Roaring Springs Senior Citizens had their monthly meeting, February 1, with 18 members present, and 3 guest, Judge Billy Joe Whitaker, Rev. Rory Burge, pastor of the Roaring Springs Baptist Church and Kitty McDowell, Postmistress.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Myron Bethard, the opening song was sung, and Happy Birthday was sung honoring those who have birthdays in the month of February, Myron Bethard, Carl Barton and Mrs. Donna Kennedy. The guest and birthday honorees had the privilege of being first in line for the buffet. Judge Whitaker gave the blessing.

After lunch, Mr. Bethard turned the meeting over to the Vice President, Mrs. Ossie Lee Brown, and left to make a business trip to Grand Prairie, Texas. Mrs. Brown conducted the business meeting. Before introducing Judge Whitaker, she gave a short talk on "Love." She ended her talk with "Love is not Love until we share it or give it away to someone else." Judge Whitaker, spoke briefly about his seeking another term as County Judge, a short memorial for J. D. Mitchell, Justice of the Peace for 63 years in Roaring Springs. Judge Whitaker, also stated that he had enjoyed working with Mr. Mitchell and that Mr. Mitchell was an inspiration to other people. Judge Whitaker, also told of pending meeting to plan a Centennial for Motley County in 1991 - celebrating the 100th year of Motley County.

Mrs. Brown, Vice President, concluded the business meeting by presenting the member in charge of the program and entertainment, Mrs. Myron Bethard. Mrs. Bethard, opened the program with a poem, "A Grateful Heart," by Grace E. Easley, followed by a short story of the "Story of Valentine's Day", which begun in the third century. St. Valentine was dedicated to the ideals of Christ and was imprisoned by the Romans for his belief.

Mrs. Bethard closed the program by giving a "Meditation Upon the Lord's Prayer". Ms. Bethard then conducted the entertainment which was a new game for the members, "Dirty Bingo." Everyone enjoyed the delicious meal, appreciated the inspirational program, and enjoyed playing Bingo, and are always happy to have guests.

Water as pure as nature intended.

Speculation on the size of the 1989-crop cotton deficiency payment is over. The National Agricultural Statistics Service January 31 advised Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. that 1,830,000 bales were marketed in December at 61.4 cents per pound, resulting in a January-December weighted average price of 60.3 cents. Subtracted from the 73.4 cent 1989 target price, that leaves a total deficiency payment of 13.1 cents per pound. Producers who requested and received an advance of 8.56 cents at the time of the 1989 program sign-up, as most did, will receive a final payment of 4.54 cents.

County offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service expect official notification of the payment rate no later than February 5 and most should have producer checks in the mail by the end of the month. The amount of producer payments will equal the payment rate times program payment yield times planted acres.

Based on preliminary figures for 11 months through November, PCG early in January projected a final payment rate of 3.94 cents, reflecting a 60.9-cent price average for the year. Included in that calculation was estimated December sales of three million bales at 64 cents per pound, almost one million bales and 2.6 cents per pound too high. However, considering preliminary November marketings of 2.879 million at 65.8 cents, officials say, the estimates looked reasonable at the time. They note that downward revisions of prices and upward revisions of sales for the August through November months were also factors in the lower-than-expected average annual price.

PCG figures the final payments will bring about $50,929,000 into the economy of its 250 county High Plains territory. This estimate uses 2.8 million planted acres and an average payment yield, weighted by County acreage figures, of 404.2 lbs. per acre.

Also contributing to producer finances and the area economy in the early months of 1990, PCG notes, will be advance payments to producers as they sign into the 1990 cotton program. USDA has estimated the total deficiency rate for this year at 10.5 cents per pound and offers 40 percent of that amount in advance. So, were it not for the terms of last year's Budget Reconciliation Act and the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings sequestration order, the advance would be 4.2 cents per pound. But the budget act mandates a .515-cent reduction, and another 1.4 percent will come off to satisfy Gramm-Rudman-Hollings thus the actual advance will be only 3.633 cents per pound.

For those who like to figure things for themselves, final marketings and price figures used to determine the 13.1 cent 1989 payment rate appear in the chart below.

	Marketings (1000 bales)		Prices (¢ per lb.)

Motley County 4-H and FFA Members to participate in Houston Rodeo Event

Motley County 4-H members will compete in the 1990 Houston Rodeo calf scramble on Feb. 24 in the Astrodome. The calf scramble is an exciting part of Houston rodeo action, featuring Ricky Van Shelton as part of that evening performance.

Jeremy Davis, 16, son of Bobby and Rosalee Davis of Matador; Lacy Parks, 14, daughter of Harold and Barbara Parks of Roaring Springs; Christie Pierce, 13, daughter of Larry and Vickie Pierce of Roaring Springs; Billy Lefevre, 16, son of Bruce and Dorothy Lefevre of Roaring Springs and Mat Linson, 14, son of James Linson of New Mexico and Marie Thompson of Matador, will compete for one of 252 calves to be awarded at the 1990 Show.

Additionally, as many as two youngsters from each of the 18 rodeo performances will be awarded "hard luck" certificates for their hearty efforts in attempting to catch a calf, resulting in 36 more certificates actually given.

An entertaining event whose net proceeds provide educational contributions to Texas students, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo ranks as the nation's largest donor of agricultural scholarships. Currently, more than 1,000 students are on Show-sponsored scholarships with more than 30 agricultural research projects funded by the Show.

Equally important is the Show's commitment to youngsters competing at the event itself. The calf scramble is one of the Show's major programs benefiting youth, requiring a yearlong commitment from the winner to the animal project.

Beginning with athletic competition in the Astrodome, the program ends 12 months later with top-notch competition in the Astrodome showing.

The actual calf scramble event involves 28 energetic youngsters pitted against 14 vigorous calves. Each youngster is committed to capturing a calf, haltering and bringing it the finish line - but only the successful ones receive a $800 calf purchase certificate.

The certificate, donated by a generous sponsoring firm or individual, is used to purchase a purebred registered beef or dairy heifer. This year, several companies have strengthened their commitment to the calf scramble program by sponsoring a calf for each of the 18 rodeo performances.

The calf is raised by the winner for special showing competition in the Astrodome at the following year's Show. The yearlong project is closely supervised by the appropriate county extension agent or agriculture science teacher.

Additionally, the winners are required to submit financial records, photographs and a scrapbook to the calf scramble office to detail the progress of the venture. The youngsters are encouraged to provide updated reports to their sponsors as well.

Proper livestock evaluation techniques, efficient cattle feeding and production methods, principles in economics and money management are all realistic learning experiences for the youngster who manages to get a firmhold on a calf.

To date, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo calf scramble has put 11,483 animals valued at more than $2.4 million into the hands of Texas youth.

Tye Stephens, Motley County 4-H member, son of Roy and Joanie Stephens of Matador will be joining other 4-H and FFA members from throughout the state for showing competition by exhibiting a market barrow.

Heath Campbell, Motley County High School FFA member, son of Guy and Dianne Campbell of Matador will be exhibiting a market steer in the show.

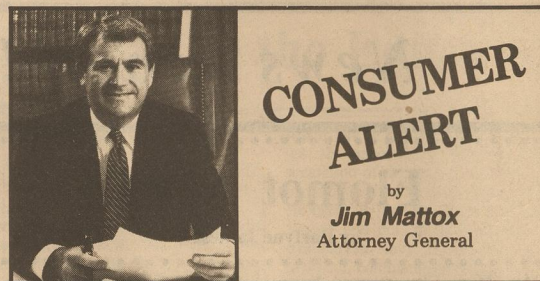

Representing 841 Texas 4-H Clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 12,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1989 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $4.5 million.

All net proceeds from the annual Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo provide funds for scholarships and research projects throughout the state. Currently, more than 1,000 students receive some form of Show-sponsored financial assistance, with 30 research projects funded. More than 6,500 volunteers ensure the success of each year's event.

This year's event begins with horse show competition, Thursday Feb. 15 followed by other livestock competition beginning Saturday, Feb. 17. The first rodeo performance will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 18. All events conclude March 4. A total of 27 star entertainers is scheduled to perform during the rodeo's run.

Saturday matinee performances begin at 1:00 p.m. The first and final Sunday performances, Feb. 18 and March 4, will be held at 4 p.m. All evening performances begin at 7:45 p.m.

Get Satisfaction!

How To Make A Consumer Complaint

Few things are more frustrating than paying hard-earned money for a product or service only to discover it doesn't measure up to promises or expectations. Worse still is to discover you've been the victim of a rip-off artist. Dissatisfied consumers have a right to "get satisfaction" and should be aware of where and how to complain to get the best results.

Where to Complain

Contact the Business Directly. Take your complaint to the salesperson, manager or the company's customer service representative. Problems can usually be resolved at this level. If not, contact the company's headquarters.

Get Help. If a business will not resolve a complaint directly, consumers can seek assistance from the Attorney General's Office, the Better Business Bureau, local consumer affairs offices, private mediation services, justice of the peace or small claims courts, local legal services or a private attorney.

How To File A Complaint

Identify the business and include the company's current address.

Describe the problem as completely as possible. If you were told something about a product or service that was untrue, describe what you were told and explain how it was untrue. If a product is defective, explain what is wrong with it. If the business has refused to honor a warranty, explain what needs repair and include a photocopy of the warranty. If you are dissatisfied with a service, describe the problem in detail.

Explain the remedy you want. Tell how much money should be refunded, exactly how a product should be fixed or exactly what services need to be performed.

Always provide photocopies of important documents such as receipts, warranties, both sides of cancelled checks, contracts, etc. Don't send originals.

Attorney General's

Consumer Protection Division
The Consumer Protection Division receives approximately 40,000 consumer complaints each year. Most of these complaints are either mediated by our office or referred to other agencies with special expertise. In cases affecting a large number of people, we file civil suits to stop deception and to compensate victims. In seven years, we have won nearly $160 million in consumer restitution.

While we file lawsuits to protect the public interest, state law prohibits the Attorney General's Office from giving individual consumers legal advice or opinions or acting as their private attorney.

If you have a consumer complaint, contact your nearest Consumer Protection Office in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.
