Issue No. 24

A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

For all you football fans and arm-chair quarterbacks out there, the Tribune is starting a football contest with this issue. I think it will be a lot of fun, and for the winners each week it will mean cash prizes. We will run the contest for 10 weeks and at the end of that period we will add up the total points and give some lucky person two free tickets to the Cotton Bowl Classic, as a grand prize.

A number of local merchants are helping us sponsor the contest, and entry forms may be deposited in contest boxes at sponsoring firms, or taken to the newspaper office. Results of the contest will be published each week.

I would like to take this means to say something to the football team and coaches. Motley County is proud of you boys on the field and we'll let you know it with our support and cheers at the games. Show those other guys how to play the game. We know you can do it... and we're sure proud! We'll be out there cheering for you.

We received a nice letter from Mrs. Cora Hobbs Carter, who has been in Matador since 1897. She said she remembered when Quannah Parker and his Indians were here. I've heard Mr. Parker wasn't very well thought of around here because he would make speeches and brag about how he killed early settlers. It's a good thing he wasn't in Roaring Springs last Saturday night.

I had to go to Lubbock last Saturday, and I stopped at a gas station near the city. As I got out of my car a fellow drove off without paying for his gas. This was a self-service place and only a little sales girl was manning the inside counter. She tried to get his license number but failed to; so I, being the old hero type, jumped in my car and took off after the dude. I went 75 miles per hour to Idalou before I caught him and got his tag number. I returned to the station and the girl called the police. Yes, they caught the guy, and no I didn't get any rewards, but I felt really good inside about what I had done.

Caution Urged To Motorists

Regional Commander, Major C. W. Bell of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region 5, comprising of 60 counties, is optimistic for a safer Labor Day Weekend 1978. Last year, Texas lost only 27 in fatal crashes on the highways. This is the lowest number killed in traffic accidents on a Labor Day Weekend since 1966, when the death toll was only 23. Major Bell said, "Holiday traffic will be heavy near recreational areas such as lakes and camp grounds. The Texas motorist should be extra careful for children playing and for motorcycles. Both are difficult to recognize by the motorist in these crowded places." Bell said that the drinking driver still poses a problem in traffic. He urges the motorists to cooperate with all law enforcement agencies in helping to reduce loss of life by being especially alert for the drunken driver.

The Texas Department of Public Safety will have all its uniform personnel available around the clock during Labor Day Operation Motorcade 1978. These troopers will be on the lookout for the DWI and speeding driver, since these are the two main causes of fatal accidents.

The past few holidays have indicated that another type of vehicle is a major source of death on the highways. This vehicle is the motorcycle. Motorcyclists are not wearing protected head gear, and the loss is overwhelming when the helmet is not used.

The DPS is made up of people who care about saving human lives. This is their job. Also, the Texas motorist will find that the trooper is more than willing to assist in directing the lost motorist to the proper and safe routes available. The DPS encourages the stranded motorist to obtain help from its troopers on the rural highways in order to maintain proper security while traveling these long stretches of roadway during the Labor Day Weekend.

Major Bell concluded by saying, "More people are killed in Texas each year in traffic than are killed by the handgun. These traffic deaths are just as senseless, as needless, and as tragic as those by the handgun, but not nearly as well publicized."

Mini-bus Received By Motley County

The daily transportation needs of senior citizens of Motley County will be met by a 15-passenger mini-bus that will provide door-to-door travel by appointment. The bus was delivered to Judge Forrest Campbell and Motley County by Mrs. Betty J. Shannon Project Director for the Office on Aging, South Plains Association of Governments on Friday August 25, 1978. The vehicle is available through a grant provided by the Governor's Committee on Aging with the County providing 10 percent of the purchase price and the state responsible for the additional 90 percent. The county will be responsible for the operating expenses of the vehicle.

The mini-bus will provide door-to-door transportation on an appointment basis to all senior citizens of Motley County. Mrs. Wynona Gilbreath will be taking requests for bus service. She can be contacted at 347-2881. Any resident of the county 60-years and older may contact her for information about trips in town and for out of town services. The mini-bus can provide access to the doctor's office, grocery store, bank, post office, Social Security office, pharmacy, social activities, or wherever the need may take it.

On hand to meet the new bus were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell, Mrs. Liza Kingery, Mrs. Minnie Dye of Roaring Springs, Jess Couch, along with Judge Forrest Campbell, Commissioners Malcolm Turner and John Briscoe.

Western Parade Kicks Off Old Settlers Reunion

As the colors fluttered in the West Texas Breeze last Thursday morning the Motley-Dickens Counties Old Settlers Association began a three day celebration with a western parade. Leading the area bands and riding clubs, queen contestants as well as other individual riders, antique and pioneer vehicles and youngsters with bicycles were the flags. Carrying the flags were Pete Timmons of Northfield, Jim Koonsman of Dickens, Craig Forbis and Jan Hart. The parade broke up north of the Pavillion after the awards presentations.

Named as the most typical Old Time Cowboy was Jim Koonsman and as Most Typical Old Time Cowgirl was Betrina Williams; Modern Day Cowboy and Cowgirl were J. Don Finch and Beth McFall; Young cowboy and cowgirl were Dusty Burleson and Anglia Ozbarn. Receiving ribbons were the Patton Springs Band, the Foothill CowBelle's Float and the Model T car and the covered wagon driven by R. B. Cunningham of Muleshoe. The most popular float seemed to be the Dean McInroe's Hay Ride as it had at least twenty little ones riding on it.

5 Year Reading Program Started In Motley School

By Grace Timmons

Four Motley County faculty members from Special Reading and Special Education presented a program on silent reading skills and innovative techniques in teaching reading on all grade levels in Tuesday mornings (August 22) Inservice meeting for the Motley County teachers.

Chairperson Nova Turner, reading specialist, and Mrs. Devonne Dillard, reading specialist aide, talked about skills they use in motivating and teaching students who need additional help in reading and how these same techniques could be used in regular classroom on all levels in all subjects.

Special education teachers Mrs. Perla Wilson and Mrs. Brenda Cruse talked about skills used for special students enrolled in their programs and how to evaluate and test students in order to recognize reading difficulties.

The seminar was the first phase of moving into the Five-Year Priorities Plan required by the Texas Education Agency as part of the requirements for accreditation.

In the spring of 1977, the Motley County teachers held a series of meetings to determine priority needs. The teachers, because of their own concern as well as national public concern, decided that one of, if not the greatest priority need is in the area of reading. In the spring of 1978, the teachers in a joint effort submitted a five-year plan to the Agency, and it was approved.

The plan will involve all teachers and all subject areas. The stress will not only be on word-attack skills but also on more in-depth comprehension. Special stress will be placed on students' being able to read, understand, and follow directions without an excessive dependency on teachers' help.

The plan is flexible enough to include revisions and updating during the next five years. All students will be tested sometime in September or October to determine strengths and weaknesses of existing programs and of students' ability to read on their own grade level. Follow-up testing and evaluation will continue for the next five years to determine revisions and progress. The plan has as its five-year objective: "By 1983 at least 80 per cent of the students in Motley County Schools in grades 1-12 will possess necessary skills to read on their own grade level." Attaining this goal will require the combined efforts of students, parents, and teachers.

PROGRAM PRESENTED TO MANY OLD SETTLERS

Memorial services at the Old Settlers Pavillion began at 11 a.m. Thursday, August 24 with J. N. Fletcher, secretary for the 55th reunion, opening the program. Jeff Thacker welcomed the many visitors to Roaring Springs and the Old Settlers Reunion. D. D. Smith, pastor of Roaring Springs First Baptist Church gave the invocation.

Jimmy Bennett of Afton led the group in the singing of several older hymns, which gave one the feeling of being at an old fashioned arbor singing. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett also sang a special.

J. N. Fletcher directed the special recognition of pioneers by asking for the oldest person from each county to stand. A. C. Richie, age 92, of Dickens and W. T. Ross, 93 years old, from Motley were the oldest residents present. Having lived in Dickens County 86 years, Bessie Scott and Clarence Jenkins, having lived in Motley County for 81 years received the award for being the residents living longest in their county. Erin Richie, who had traveled 1700 miles from Crockett, Calif., won the farthest traveled award. There were others who traveled farther but were not present for the award program.

Mrs. Mary Webb read the list of deceased from Motley and Dickens County since the last Old Settlers.

John Green, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Duff Green, from Bakersfield, Calif reminisced about the early day Old Settlers Reunions that were held under the cotton wood trees at Roaring Springs Swimming pool, the hauling of drinking water and the freezing of Model T radiators of early day residents.

Members were registered by Mrs. L. A. Mullins and Mrs. Pauline Hand.

The after lunch session began with political speeches by Bill Hale of Floydada and Foster Whaley, Democratic candidate for State Representative of Pampa.

J. N. Fletcher presided during a business meeting. Mrs. Mary Webb read and discussed a slate of new bylaws. The bylaws were voted upon and passed.

New officers were elected as follows: president, Jerry Slaton of Afton; vice president, Robert Forbis of Afton; secretary, Billy Joe Whitaker of Whiteflat; New Directors: Elmer Parks, Jim Perryman, Ros Bearden, Dickie Garrison and Gary Bridge.

Nominating Committee are J. N. Fletcher, Bennie D. Dillard and Bill Young.

M. C. Matadors Win Scrimmage

Three-fourths of the Motley County Matador starting lineup have been picked, but football coaches want to get another look at the boys in this weeks scrimmage against Dawson, to be held here.

"We will have people changing positions this week against Dawson," head Coach Ronnie Bradshaw said. "So far on offense our strong points are Robert Shannon at running back, and Mark Wason and Bezell Moore looked good at receiver positions."

Three secondary backs looked good on defense, Bradshaw said. Lester Campbell, Julian Zabielski and Mark Wason were standouts in that department.

"There is a lot of inexperience on our line," the coach said. "It is going to take a lot of work and playing to over come it."

The team will be fairly light this year, and a lot will depend on speed on the part of all the players.

The Matadors won the scrimmage against Smyer six touchdowns to three touchdowns. They operated without number one quarterback Robert Parker, who was out with an injury. The coaching staff hopes to have him back this week in the scrimmage.

The first regular season contest for the Matadors will be against Class A Paducah, there, on Sept. 8.

"Paducah is real tough this year," Bradshaw said. "We think they are better than they were last year when we beat them 14-13."

The Matadors will have a tough schedule this year with teams like Rochester, Crosbyton, Sudan and Jayton lining up across from them in non-conference games.

The team will meet Claude on October 13 for the first conference game. Then will come Happy and Valley. Valley is a top rated team this year.

The Matadors will meet Nazareth and Silverton to close out the regular season. Zone championship play-off will be November 17.

Roaring Springs Depot Dedicated To M. S. Thacker

A man who devoted a lifetime to his community was honored Thursday when the depot at Roaring Springs was dedicated to the memory of the late M.S. (Melton) Thacker. This was not the first time his life had been eulogized by friends and neighbors, but it was perhaps the most momentous and fitting.

B. M. Nelson of Dimmitt, publisher of the Castro County News, and former editor of the Roaring Springs Reporter delivered a heart-warming address for the occasion.

The dedication program was arranged by the Predicta Study Club of Roaring Springs, curators of the depot which is being used as a repository for community treasures, including class pictures

Letters to the Editor

Matador Tribune
P.O. Box Q
Matador, Texas
Attention: Editor

Dear Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation and gratitude to the Sheriffs Department, the Texas Ranger and Law Enforcement personnel in Matador.

During the second week in August my truck was stolen in Decatur, Texas and driven to Matador. Not only did the law enforcement personnel recover my truck, they towed the truck in and helped us to repair the damage that was done, which I felt was above and beyond the call of duty.

Again, thanks to Sheriff Alton Marshall and Texas Ranger, Leo Hickman for a job well done.

Sincerely,

B. G. Cocanougher
Cocanougher Ford Sales
Decatur, Texas

Dear Editor,

This is in reply to Mr. Gafford's letter to the editor. Mr. Gafford is mistaken about no one being in Matador that ever saw Indians in Matador. I've lived here since 1897 and I remember Quannah Parker and his tribe of Indians. I heard him when he stood on the north side of the First State Bank and made a long speech.

And there are several living here now that saw him: Verlin Reeves, Mary Keith, Ollie Echols Birnie and others.

Sincerely,

Cora Hobbs Carter

Dear Mr. Watson:

I saw some of the most frightening anti-business legislation this country has ever seen come before Congress this year. To combat this, we have put together a pro-America coalition that is fighting against overwhelming odds, and we are winning some important victories.

What is frightening is that legislation like this could easily become law!

Frankly, if it does, you might as well hand over the keys to your business. I can truthfully tell you that some of the most blatant attempts by anti-business forces to control your business that I have ever seen are in the wings.

And like you, I have seen many. You -- better than most Americans -- know of the enormous pressure being exerted daily in our nation's capitol by those who work constantly to tear away at the foundation of our free enterprise system.

Who will stop them?

At times I must admit that I get discouraged. There have been days when I honestly wondered if there was anything that could stop those who are leading this country deeply into socialism.

But I'm writing to tell you that I have found an organization that offers real hope.

The United States Industrial Council -- USIC -- is a group of over 4,500 accomplished business leaders that have joined forces to accomplish one goal -- preserving the principles that have brought our nation to its present greatness -- free enterprise, strong national defense and individual freedom.

Let me assure you that USIC is having a decisive effect in Washington.

My fellow Senators and Congressmen recognize USIC as being one of the few groups who are attuned to the philosophy and goals of the American business community.

And that's the reason I'm writing you now. Your name has been suggested for membership in USIC and I think you should join.

You can be certain that you are joining a group of committed businessmen who have an impressive track record. For example:

-- USIC was instrumental in helping defeat the common situs picketing bill.

-- USIC helped delay, perhaps permanently, the establishment of an Agency for Consumer Advocacy -- a thinly disguised anti-business agency with government backing.

-- USIC helped defeat the indexing provisions from the minimum wage bill.

-- USIC helped keep several key senators on our side in the thus far successful Labor Law Reform filibuster; and although we are happy this fight turned out as well as it did, the bill will come back and we need to be prepared to fight again.

Like you, I have cried out against unfair and ill-conceived legislation until I could scream no more. One man's voice, even that of a United States Senator, against the constant clamor of Big Labor is barely heard.

But through USIC, you and I and businessmen and women throughout this great country can stand together -- and get tougher -- to defeat the forces that threaten to put a permanent stranglehold on you and the American free enterprise system.

Can I count on you to stand with us?

I urge you to join today and add your voice to the hundreds of other corporations who have said "ENOUGH!"

Dues in USIC are voluntary. I hope you will be as generous as you can. Your dues are used to fund a vigorous information program including special reports, newsletters, nationally distributed newspaper columns and radio broadcasts and more.

Let me hear from you TODAY. Opposing forces are forging ahead and we must, too!

Sincerely,

Orrin G. Hatch
U.S. Senator

(Editor's Note: I don't know anything about Senator Hatch, but have heard something about USIC. Among their goals are Abolishment of compulsory union membership, Place labor unions under antitrust laws, Oppose attempts to nationalize industry and support a tax structure which encourages private enterprise.)

On her way to the Old Settlers Reunion is Mrs. Btrina Williams of Afton.

CRUSHED STONE

Ever since man lived in caves, stone has been his most basic resource. It is even more important today than it was in the Stone Age.

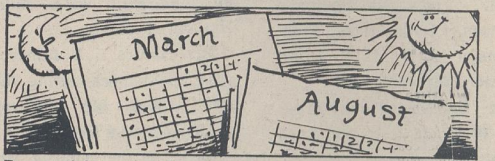

Statistics from the U.S. Bureau of Mines indicate that crushed stone production in 1976 was 900 million tons, valued at $2.12 billion.

In the United States, we now use 8,000 pounds of stone per year for every man, woman, and child. Per capita use of this vital product keeps on growing in highways, buildings, bridges, power plants, waterways, railroads and a hundred and one other uses.

Ex-Officer Suspects He Chased 2nd Gun

Editor's Note: The following story appeared in the Dallas News August 20, 1978. Tom G. Tilson is an ex-Whiteflat resident.

By Earl Golz
Dallas News Staff

An off-duty Dallas policeman says he chased the car of a second man he believes could be involved in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and hopes telling his story publicly for the first time may "help when they re-enact it Sunday" in Dealey Plaza.

Tom G. Tilson Jr., now 59 and retired, said his experience seconds after Kennedy was shot could be an indication to the House Assassinations Committee that not all shots came from a 6th-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository.

From that window, with a bolt-action Italian military rifle, Lee Harvey Oswald was accused of firing two bullets that struck Kennedy in an open-top limousine below.

THE SARREN COMMISSION said Oswald traveled by taxicab after the shooting from downtown to his boarding house in Oak Cliff. He then armed himself with a pistol, which he used minutes later to shoot police officer J. D. Tippit, the commission concluded.

Tippit was covering Tilson's beat that day while Tilson was off work, he said. Three days later, Tilson was a pallbearer at Tippit's funeral.

Tilson, who served 27 years before he retired as a detective five years ago, said he was shortly after 12:30 p.m. Nov. 22, 1963, when he and a daughter, Judy, were going to pick up another daughter who had been watching the presidential motorcade at Main and Houston streets.

Tilson's car was turning east onto Commerce Street from Industrial Boulevard when he heard via his police radio that Kennedy had been shot, he said.

"AND I SAW all these people running to the scene of the shooting," he said. "By that time, I had come across under Stemmons. Everybody was jumping out of their cars and pulling up on the median strip.

"But here's one guy coming from the railroad tracks. He came down that grassy slope on the west side of the triple underpass, on the Elm Street side. He had a car parked there, a black car. And he threw something in the back seat and went around the front hurriedly and got in the car and took off.

"I was on Commerce Street right there across from it, fixing to go under the triple underpass going (east) into town. I saw all of this and I said, 'That doesn't make sense, everybody running to the scene and one person running from it.'"

TILSON SAID he sped up Commerce to Houston Street and looped around west on Main Street to pass back under the triple underpass. By that time, the black car had gone west on Commerce to Industrial, where it was waiting to turn left.

The car went south on Industrial, onto the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike and eluded him, Tilson said, but he got the license number.

He said he telephoned the police homicide bureau with the number and a description of the driver and car, "but they never contacted me or did anything about it." He didn't know who took his information and didn't keep the paper on which his daughter wrote the license number.

City police radio logs for that day do not reflect any alert for the vehicle that Tilson says he pursued.

"HOMICIDE WAS THAT WAY," Tilson said. "If you didn't have a big white hat on, they didn't even want you in the office.

"Here they were solving this case, here they arrested a suspect (Oswald) in one day and cleared up the murder of a president in one day. Man, that was really a super-duper police department.

"They didn't want to have to look for anybody else, and they didn't even want to know about it, really. They wanted to clear up the case. Who else could do better?"

Tilson said the Warren Commission never contacted him.

HE DESCRIBED the man he saw leaving the west side of the triple underpass as wearing dark clothes and with a stocky build -- about 5-foot-9 and weighing 185 to 190 pounds.

Tilson's daughter, Mrs. Judy Ladner, recalls the chase but is not certain her father's car got close enough for her to write down the license number of the speeding car.

"I know there was a man," Mrs. Ladner said. "Seems like I saw him right before he was getting into the car. I think that was about the same time daddy told me to try to get the number down. But by then, we were past (the car) and we couldn't get a good view of the number . . ."

"I was trying to listen to the police calls. And I remember him saying, 'Try to write. Write this down,' or something. And I grabbed a pen." SHE SAID THAT SECONDS before she saw the fleeing man, the presidential limousine had just sped past his car parked on the grass at the north side of Elm Street near the west end of the underpass. Kennedy had been hit seconds earlier by shots in Dealey Plaza -- on the other side of the underpass -- and the limousine was turning onto Stemmons Freeway toward Parkland Memorial Hospital.

About an hour later, the Dallas County sheriff's radio asked all deputies to be on the alert for a car whose license number was obtained from an "anonymous" source.

Minutes later, the car was stopped by police in Fort Worth, which was the direction the Tilson suspect's car was headed. However, the 1957 Ford stopped in Fort Worth was green and white, not black, as described by Tilson.

THE SUSPECT arrested in Fort Worth was questioned by FBI agents and released that day after Oswald was apprehended. He said he had driven 100 miles to Dallas from his home in Ranger, Texas, to visit an old army buddy in Mesquite but didn't find him home.

Rather than fighting the heavy traffic after arriving in Dallas about 10:30 a.m., the man from Ranger decided to stay and watch the motorcade, he told authorities.

Although the timing was right, Tilson said he didn't think the 21-year-old Ranger suspect was the man he chased toward Fort Worth. At 4-foot-4, the young man was about 5 inches shorter and at 130 pounds, about 60 pounds lighter than Tilson's suspect.

Services Today For Mrs. Haney

Services for Mrs. Nellie Lawrence Haney will be today August 31 at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Matador. Burial will be in East Mound Cemetery under direction of Seigler Funeral Home of Matador.

Mrs. Haney died early Tuesday, August 29, in a Stamford Hospital. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beauchamp, Motley County pioneers.

Mrs. Haney was preceded in death by her first husband, John Lawrence, in 1957 and her second husband, Jim Haney in 1972.

Mrs. Haney was a native of Jacksboro. She was a member of the United Methodist Church of Matador and was a fifty year member of O.E.S.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Billie Koon of Fort Worth; one brother, Seth Beauchamp of Odessa; one sister, Lucille McNabb of Matador and two grandchildren; Kenneth Wesley Koon of El Paso and Karren D. Fleming of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and two great grandsons.

Financing Is Assured For Social Security

The social security system is assured sufficient income into the 21st century, a social security representative said recently.

The additional income provided by 1977 legislation virtually eliminates the financial problems faced by social security during the past few years.

At the same time, the additional cost to most workers will be moderate. For example, under the old law, a worker with 1978 average earnings of $10,800 would have paid taxes of $1,201 in 1987 on average earnings estimated to rise to $18,600 by that year. Instead, under the new law, his 1987 tax will be about $1,311, an increase of only $130 for the year over what he would have paid under the old law. This is about $2.50 more a week.

The first year the social security tax rate will be higher under the new law is 1979. The 1979 tax rate for employers and employees each will rise to 6.13 percent from 6.05 percent. The rate will increase in steps until it reaches 7.65 percent in 1990 and after. Under the old law it was scheduled to increase to 7.45 percent in 2011 and after.

Under the new law, as under the old, the maximum yearly earnings subject to the social security tax will rise. The 1979 maximum will be $22,900 instead of $18,900. Additional increases are scheduled until the maximum reaches $29,700 in 1981 under the new law, instead of $21,900 under the old law. After 1981 the maximum will increase automatically as average earnings rise, as it does now.

The 1978 tax rate is 6.05 percent, the same as it would have been under the old law.

A worker who has average earnings, about $10,000 in 1977, will pay total social security taxes of $605 in 1978, the same amount payable under the old law. A worker earning $17,700 or more in 1978 will pay a total of $1,071.

Under the old law the self-employment tax rate of 8.10 percent for 1978 was scheduled to rise to 8.35 percent in 1981. Under the new law it will be 9.30 percent in 1981. Additional increases are scheduled until the rate reaches 10.75 percent in 1990 and after.

People interested in more information about these changes in the social security law, as well as others that were made, can get more information at any social security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest social security office can be found in the Telephone Directory under "Social Security Administration."

GREAT MOMENTS IN SPORTS IN A NUTSHELL

Brief Stories Of Long-Remembered Triumphs

A great moment in sports occurred on Oct. 8, 1956, when the Yankee's Don Larsen pitched the world's first -- and so far, only -- no-hit World Series game -- against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was a great moment in sports in 1887 when the all-England Croquet and Lawn Tennis Club at Wimbledon held its first amateur tournament. Young tennis players today can get into the swing with snack bars such as Baby Ruth and Butterfingers, that give them some of the energy they need to play.

A great moment in sports occurred in 1952 when the Winter Olympics first featured Nordic skiing events for women. When the 1980 Winter Olympics are held in Lake Placid, New York, Fleischmann's Margarine will be the major sponsor of the U.S. Nordic Ski Team.

COLLEGE ORNER

Life After Graduation?

If that old saw, "A child does exactly the opposite of what a parent advises," is keeping you from giving sound advice to your college senior, then you're short-changing both of you.

In these days when a college education doesn't always ensure success in the business world, the suggestions you make for the future of your college senior can be of the utmost importance.

For instance, not all graduates are aware that they can join the Marine Corps and go right into Officer Candidate School, where they will learn to lead and organize, or that the Marines can pick up the cost of graduate studies. Besides, when college graduates go into the Corps they are starting a new job -- something that is not in great supply in many areas.

For more information on what the Marine Corps can offer the college graduate call, toll-free, 800-423-2600. In California, the number is 800-252-0241.

and trophies from the school, and for projects of the study club. The building, last year was designated as a state historical building, and future plans are to make it into a museum.

"The depots were major factors in the development of this country - especially the West," Mr. Nelson declared. "The depot was the center of community life... one of the main things to do was to go to the depot and meet the passenger trains."

Mr. Nelson pointed out that the birth and progress of the town of Roaring Springs were marked by the coming of the railroad and construction of the depot, together with the arrival of Melton Thacker to make this town his home. "Melton Thacker was a man who settled in Roaring Springs and put down roots... he established a home and helped the community in developing. He served his community for 55 years and he believed in giving service to his friends and customers whenever possible."

Mr. Nelson recounted several instances that demonstrated Mr. Thacker's dedication, not only to his business and customers but to the welfare of others. One incident involved a time when Mr. Nelson was printing the Reporter. "Two men came in the shop one day to reclaim a motor which I had bought and hadn't been able to pay for. I went to Mr. Thacker for help, but he was busy with a customer, so I went on back to the shop and told the men just to take the motor. Before they finished disconnecting it however, Mr. Thacker appeared, found out my trouble, and paid for the motor - so we could continue getting the paper out."

Born in San Augustine, Texas, Melton Thacker came to this area as a young man. He served in World War I and after returning from service he established the Western Hardware, and married the former Lillian Hoyle. His first business burned, and he re-built it, later naming it Thacker Supply Company.

His customers' wishes held priority over all else, and one day Mrs. Thacker returned home from a visit to find her bedroom furniture missing. Melton had sold it to a friend who wanted that particular type of furniture. Another time he ordered a small part for a plow for a customer, having it sent by train from Amarillo, to arrive the following day. He was out more than he received in profit from the purchase, but he had a satisfied customer.

Mr. Nelson, who lived in Roaring Springs for five years during the 1930's and started the Reporter in 1934, concluded his talk with the declaration, "I don't know a better way to dedicate a building than this. You made a wise choice in the building and you couldn't have picked a better man to dedicate it to."

Mrs. C. W. Palmer, vice president of the Predicta Study Club presided at the program and introduced Mr. Nelson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Nelson and a staff writer from their paper in Dimmitt. Two of the Nelsons three children were born in Roaring Springs. After leaving here, they went to Amherst in 1938 where he published the Amherst Reporter.

He purchased the Castro County News in 1943, and with his son, Don, still publishes that paper.

In her introduction, Mrs. Palmer paid special tribute to Mr. Thacker as a personal friend of her family, and chided Jeff Thacker, a grandson, for not being the great salesman his grandfather was. (The business is under the management of J. M. (Buzz) Thacker and his son, Jeff.)

"Buzz" Thacker gave a brief response to Mr. Nelson's address, and Mrs. Palmer then announced that "At this point we were to move outside for the unveiling of the plaque - which did not arrive. We were assured by Continental Airlines that they would deliver the bronze plaque this morning, but I guess they couldn't find Buzz Field, so the plaque will be mounted upon its arrival."

The inscription on the plaque will read: "Roaring Springs Depot dedicated to the memory of Melton S. Thacker, 1892 - 1975, for his devotion to his community and his confidence in his fellow man. 1978"

A benediction by Jeff Thacker concluded the ceremonies.

Family members present for the event included Mrs. M. S. (Lillian) Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. (Buzz) Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Thacker and small son, Bradley, all of Roaring Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Max Thacker and son Todd of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith and children, Julie and Chad of Houston, and Amy and Melanie Thacker of Fort Worth, children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Thacker, who were unable to attend. Also unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Joey Thacker of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

George Washington had a sweet tooth for ice cream. Records show that during two months of 1790 he spent $200 on it.

County Agent
Pallmeyer Says

Scouts started work June 12th, with five teams having approximately 250 fields to check. To date a few boll weevils and a few bollworms have been found, but no fields have reached the level where controls have been justified. When and if these levels of infestation are found, the scouts are to notify their supervisor, and the Extension Agent in the county involved will contact the producer where the infestation was found and make recommendations as to whether the field needs to be sprayed, part of the field sprayed, or keep a close check on the area to determine if control measures are justified. The decision whether to apply control measures or not will rest with producer involved.

The scouts also provided information on the presence of beneficial insects, beet armyworm presence and grasshopper damage, plus stage of growth of the cotton. To date we know the program has been a success, says Pallmeyer, even if we don't know if the success should be credited to the delayed planting date, a low survival rate of boll weevils that went into hibernation, or a combination of these factors. We do know that infestations weren't there, or the scouts would have found them, states Pallmeyer. Neither have any producers reported the presence of bollworms or boll weevils in damaging numbers, therefore if this condition can be maintained through August it appears that the program should also be conducted in 199.

To assist the producers and scouts, Pallmeyer is currently holding training meetings for producers who are interested in learning how to check their fields for insects and determine when control measures are justified. As there is not time to train each producer individually, those who are interested in receiving this training should arrange for small groups of 5 to 10 to meet with the County Agent at a field of their convenience to learn how to check plants, identify harmful and beneficial insects, and determine if infestations justify control measures. When these groups are formed, call me, states Pallmeyer. If controls are not justified, applying controls can cause problems later, and if controls are justified, they must be applied at the correct time to be of benefit, he adds.

In conclusion, stated Pallmeyer, the ones who stand to benefit from this program are the producers, and the more assistance provided by the producers, the better the chance of the program succeeding.

EPA issued the RPAR against 2,4,5-T on April 21, 1978, and unless support is provided by the users of this material, we may lose it. Until October 21, 1978, landowners and others can write EPA giving the benefits they have received from using 2,4,5-T, for if this material is banned, Tordon and Banvel will also be banned, leaving the rancher with no economical herbicide to control woody plants.

Letters should include such items as number of years the material has been used; change in forage production and plant compositions; change in weaning weights; change in stocking rates; benefits to soil and water conservation; or what will happen to rangelands if herbicides are banned.

Letters should be addressed to: Federal Register Section, Technical Services Division (WH-569), Office of Pesticide Programs EPA, Room 401 East Tower, 402 M Street SW, Washington, DC 20460.

I have written my letter giving the benefits of 2,4,5-T. Have you?

Another chemical that we are about to lose is Arsenic Acid. If this happens, how will it affect you?

Letters on this chemical and advantages of this chemical will also help. List how loss of this chemical will affect your operations and results you have had with other dessicants or defoliants. You might even list other crops that you could grow if we couldn't grow cotton, and how that would affect your income.

These letters should be sent to Dr. Charles Miller, Plant Pathologist, Plant Science Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tx.
