TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Wealth is supposed to make enemies because of the jealousy it arouses. Personally, I would like to test the belief since I have been disliked for more unpleasant reasons.

When traveling a new road that unveils remote horizons, I am unable to control a momentary feeling of revolt when I measure the distance by horseback.

At the death of each day when the tapers of stars are lighted and darkness floods the sky, the faith of the world rises resolute from its bereavement. Nature has affirmed through the ages, the plan of rebirth.

Necessity is the turpentine of life which the clumsy hands of circumstance are forever spilling on our vests about the time we get comfortable.

This is the age for the birds. Only a few mornings ago I witnessed a scissors-tail flying tree-ward with a ribbon of aluminum foil in its beak.

Definition of a cocktail party: A meeting where people are so rude you can not hear your own shouting.

Fate Of Building Extended 30 Days

Motley County Independent School Board of Trustees, Monday night agreed to an extension of 30 days before making a definite ruling regarding razing of the old high school building. The action was taken in regular monthly meeting of the board, which was attended by several local residents representing opposition to the proposal to destroy the building.

The fate of the structure was the first item on the agenda after the minutes were read by Tom Ross, Secretary of the Board.

A committee of concerned citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Traweek, Mrs. Billie Dean Smith, Miss Verlin Reeves and Mrs. Robert Darsey met with the board to ask for an extension of the demolition of the old high school building for at least six months to permit the exploration of all possibilities of the future use, maintenance, and restoration of the building through Federal grants.

Mr. Traweek presented the board with a petition containing names of a number of citizens who were interested in the six-month extension period. Bill Hand, a member of the board, pointed out that several signatures on the petition had been duplicated, to which Mrs. Traweek replied that "It very well could have happened as so many people have been contacted, and even though we attempted to check, some duplication could have been overlooked."

Vann Francis, president of the Board, asked the group to name some of the functions the building would be used for. The group named the possibility of the downstairs being used for meeting places for various clubs, restoration of the auditorium for plays and movies for the children, and a community center similar to the one in Turkey, Texas. Hospital Patients

Recent patients in the Motley County General Hospital were Mrs. Turner (Mary) Campbell, Mrs. Ethel Payne, Mrs. Bill (Judine) McCaghen, all of Matador, and Viola Stinson of Flomot.

Leon Smallwood of Meade, Kansas, is a patient at this time.

FATE OF BUILDING

Smith stated that, "A clothing factory in Spur has expressed interest and Texas Instruments have been interested in moving from city to smaller areas and they might be interested in the building for business purposes." Charles N. Johnson, Superintendent, pointed out that, "The safety of the children is our major concern. I feel that legalities will prevent any business interest being this close to the school."

Mr. Traweck told the board that the architect, who had inspected the building, said that it was of sound structure and that it would take approximately $650,000 to replace a building of this type and with this much space. Mr. Johnson asked, "Did he give you a price on the cost of renovating the building?" Mr. Traweck answered, "no."

At this point, Mrs. Wilberta Jackson, board member, asked the group, "have you checked to see what grants were available?" The group reminded the board that this is why they would like to have the six months extension period. They would need time to check on the financial backing from possible grants.

Bundy H. Campbell pointed out that, "since the building is sitting in the middle of our campus the uses of the building has to be one of our main concerns." Board members further went into the discussion of whether the possible uses of the building would interfere with school and if there would be a parking problem. Committee members commented that most functions would take place after school hours and entertainment activities would only be held periodically.

Superintendent Charles Johnson told the group, "The reason we began plans for tearing the building down, was that we couldn't just let the building sit there and fall apart and the school is unable to use tax money on the upkeep of the building." He also stated, "There are no tentative plans for the space such as tennis courts or extra parking. It will be used for extra playground space at this time."

Sut Braselton asked the question, "If the grounds are turned over to the county and later needed for expansion of school facilities, will federal grants allow turning it back over to the school?" The group again reminded the board that this is one of the reasons they would like the six months extension period, in order to have time to check further into the grants.

The board agreed to postpone a decision until the next monthly meeting in order for the group to meet with all persons interested in supporting the project to decide and establish the exact functions the building will be used for, since the uses will have to be stated in their request for grants. These uses are to be presented to the Board at the next monthly meeting, June 12, for further consideration.

In other Board actions, the bus routes for the 1978-79 school year were approved by the board. The board also studied and approved the bills submitted for payment.

The most years worked by one person is 86. This record was set by Polly Gadsby who started at the age of 9 and wrapped elastic for the same company until the age of 95 in 1932.

Boll Weevil Program Signup Date Extended

According to Extension Agent Bill Pallmeyer, Motley County producers were given an extra week to make deposits on the boll weevil scouting program. The deadline for depositing funds at Lee's Feed & Seed, Roaring Springs; the First State Bank, Matador; Caprock Gin and Flomot Co-op Gin is Friday May 12th, and unless sufficient funds are obtained by this date, the scouting program will not become a reality and it will be up to individual producers to take steps to keep the weevil under control until the diapause program starts later in the year.

Many know how the proposed in-season management program is designed to work, says Pallmeyer, but many don't. From information gained from the diapause program, it is known that most boll weevils have emerged from overwintering by the middle of June, and if there are no 1-3rd grown squares for them to lay their eggs in, no hatch results that causes weevil population buildups. This is the reason for the requested May 20th or later planting date.

It is also known that boll weevils are like people. Some are on time, some arrive early, and there are always some late-comers. These late-comers are the ones that can cause the trouble, as by then 1-3rd grown squares will be present for egg laying places, and population buildup. This is the reason for the scouting program that is to start the middle of June.

Fields are to be checked for these late emergers, and if found, the farmer will be notified of his situation, and advised to spray. The decision to spray or not to spray will rest with the individual concerned, and past work indicates that by spraying early if necessary, beneficial insects will have time to build up and keep bollworm numbers under control. Many know that if boll weevils buildup, there is nothing left for the bollworm to damage anyway.

This program which will cost 20c per acre is designed to help local producers at the time weevil populations haven't reached damaging numbers, and should assist the diapause control program which is scheduled to start the last of August or first of September by reducing the acreage that will need to be sprayed then.

Don't try to fight the boll weevil by yourself, adds Pallmeyer. Many to the east of Motley County have tried this and found it didn't work. One infested field can 'TRAVELING' CHURCH — A little, white frame mission church building that has served at Rotan, Jayton, and Spur and which was hauled to Turkey recently, will be dedicated today as the new St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Mission Church.

'Traveling Church' Lands In Turkey

TURKEY (Special) — The little "traveling church" of rugged "Big Ranch Country" east of the Caprock, has found a home — at last! Maybe.

The small, white frame mission church structure, constructed in Rotan in 1929, and more recently a parish hall at Spur, before it was moved here in March, has been located at various times at Rotan, Jayton, Spur, and not — Turkey!

Sunday, the structure, spic and span, renovated, and freshly-painted, will be dedicated as the new St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Mission church at 8 p.m., at a concelebrated Mass with Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco as principal celebrant. He is bishop of the Diocese of Amarillo.

The Mass will be preceded by a supper for the clergy at 6 p.m. in the Big T Restaurant.

Father Malcolm Neyland, who leads Catholic services in Kent, King, Dickens, Motley, and now Hall counties, said: "Without the help of pastors, parish councils, and parishioners who made this dream a reality we would still be saying Mass here at Turkey under the trees!"

He is pastor of the St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Mission Church here, which will serve 48 families, who had quite a struggle getting a meeting place.

The structure of the new mission was once the original St. Mary's Church of Spur. Father Neyland said most of the interior and exterior work on the building was done by parishioners. Total cost of the mission was only $5,800 including two lots purchased for future development.

"Funds for the new mission came first and foremost from the Outreach program of the diocese, and so the mission church truly can be said to belong to all of God's people."

The history of the altar in the mission church can be traced back to the first Catholic church in the four-and-a-half counties parish. The cross at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, also is the first cross used in a Catholic church in the sprawling Caprock foothills, where the Catholic faith had a difficult time getting started. It is said to have come slowly to this rugged part of West Texas that spawned some of the largest ranches in the heyday of cattle raising on wide-sky, wide-prairie expanses.

But the Catholics came to stay. And a Sunday will be a time to recall the hardships of the past, look into the optimism of the future, Father Neyland said.

MISSION CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

The St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Mission church was dedicated at a concelebrated Mass at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, May 7, in Turkey. Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco of the Diocese of Amarillo assisted by three priests, Father Malcolm Neyland of Lubbock, Father Harry Waldo of Ralls and Father Malcolm Hemp of Littlefield; two Sisters from the St. Francis Order of Amarillo, Sister Ardelia and another Sister of the Order, blessed the Church. The blessing of the church was followed by Mass.

Members from Father Neyland's churches in Motley, Kent, King, Dickens and Hall counties were in attendance at the dedication and services.

Following Mass services, a supper was served to those in attendance by the Ladies Society of Turkey and were assisted by other residents of town. The supper was held in the Bob Wills Center.

He was accompanied from Lubbock airport by his brother, Harry Hamilton and son Charlie, and joining them for the week end were their other brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton and sons, John, Brent and Rob of Plainview. Richard Hamilton also visited his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Craven, while here.

Tom Ross Attends Veteran's Reunion

Tom Ross, Flomot, attended the first re-union of the 726th Battalion, World War II, held in St. Louis, Missouri March 23-24 & 25th, this year.

Ross joined the 726th, an army battalion, shortly after its activation in 1942 at Camp Beauregard, Louisiana. Two of the original members were former marines and had been stationed at Pearl Harbor in 1941 during the attack by the Japanese.

Upon completion of basic infantry training, the unit participated in army maneuvers near Leesville, Louisiana, also at Camp Bullis near San Antonio, Texas during 1942-43. Special training was given troops of the 726th in Michigan prior to the unit being sent over-seas in 1944. Serving in England, France, Belgium and participating in the Rhineland Campaign, the unit was re-deployed in 1945 from the Mediterranean area to the Asiatic-Pacific theater via the Panama canal. The fifty-seven day voyage took the 726th to Guam, Marshall islands, Southern Carolinas, Ulithi lagoon where on Mog Mog, troops were allowed to go ashore for two hours. The troop ship USS General Buckner sailed with men of 726th aboard to Okinawa where men of the unit served until the 726th was de-activated in 1946, at which time most of the men, including Ross were sent home.

About forty former members with several of the wives and relatives of former members attended this memorable event in St. Louis in March this year. Some 1200 to 1500 men served in the 726th during the war years. An all-out effort will be made by those attending the March re-union to contact all living former members to urge them as well as their wives and relatives to attend in 1980.

Ross was elected secretary of the newly formed re-union association for 1978-79.

FACTS & FIGURES

In the southern textile industry as a whole, the extent of unionization is about seven percent. Wages in the Southeast are considered effectively higher than they would be elsewhere because of lower taxes and other relatively lower costs.

Wages at J. P. Stevens plants are significantly above average for the textile industry. In September, 1977, Stevens workers earned six percent more than the industry average on an hourly basis and ten percent more on a weekly basis. Their earnings approximated those of all manufacturing employees in the southeastern region of the country where most of Stevens plants are located.

Softball Season Opens Tonight

The first game of the Little League baseball program, sponsored by the Matador Jaycees, will be tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 when the Panthers take on the Dodgers. At 8:00 p.m. the Rangers will square off with the Bears. The players along with the Jaycees would like to invite everyone to come and support their favorite team.

The new Hamilton Beach Food Processor is the genuine food processor that will slice, chop, knead or grind just about everything—except your budget.

Before you buy a food processor, be sure it can do the basics. The Hamilton Beach can.

Kneading.

The Hamilton Beach Food Processor kneads yeast bread and cuts pastry dough flawlessly. It won't "walk" on your counter when the load is uneven or heavy.

If you've been looking for a food processor, until today you had to choose between the expensive imports and the cheap imitations which cost far less but which are not the genuine article. And while the expensive machine performs beautifully the cheaper imitations often fail to do the basics.

The performance and reliability of a genuine food processor doesn't come cheap. That's why you should beware of the "specials." Many cheap machines cannot perform basic food processor tasks like meat grinding, cheese grating, yeast dough or pastry making. To get the kind of performance you've heard about should cost you what the Hamilton Beach Food Processor costs—but no more. And to top it all off, the Hamilton Beach Food Processor has features you won't find on some others:

— Powerful Super-Torque Motor achieves instant start-up speed using less energy.
— Handy On-Off Panel Switch for easy starting and stopping.
— "Momentary" Pulse Switch for fine control of food processing.
— Blades stop quickly...two separate interlocks give double safety, prevent mishaps.

The Hamilton Beach Food Processor has been intensively researched and tested to assure you power and performance at a sensible price. Be sure to spend enough to get your money's worth—but don't overspend. Get the Hamilton Beach Food Processor.

Grating.

Grating hard cheese, particularly parmesan, is one of the toughest chores for a food processor. With the Hamilton Beach Food Processor, cheese is grated to uniformly perfect size every time.

Uniform Slicing.

The cutting blades on the Hamilton Beach are double-ground and freeze-tempered to insure longer lasting hardness with precise, razor-sharp slicing—neater and faster than other machines.

ASCS Extends Deadline

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service would like to announce an extension period has been granted to area farmers to file intentions to participate in the 1978 farm program. The new deadline is May 15. If an intention to participate has not been filed by that date, the farm or farms will not be eligible for any program benefits according to the ASCS.

Other important dates this month are May 15 - final day to certify small grains and May 31 - final day required to plant cotton and final day to graze set-aside.

The minimum width of a track of land to be used for set-aside is one chain or 66 feet. The minimum size is two (2.0) acres.

The ASCS is now taking applications for measurement service and the rates are as follows: Staking and Referencing (Measurement before planting) $40.00 for the first plot plus $15.00 for each additional plot, plus $8.00 for each base line, plus $0.17 per mile to and from farm. Early Measurement and Remeasurement (Measurement after planting) $20.00 for the first plot, plus $10.00 for each additional plot, plus $8.00 for each base line, plus $0.17 per mile to and from farm.

Any farmer interested in any of the farm programs is asked to contact Emilio F. Aguilar, County Executive Director, at the Motley County ASCS office.

Meetings Set By Soil And Water Conservationists

Public meetings will be held next week at Stephenville and San Antonio to let interested persons give their views on present soil and water conservation programs and to propose needed changes or additions to present approaches.

The Stephenville meeting will be held May 16 in the Humanities and Business Building on the campus of Tarleton State University. The San Antonio meeting will be in the Fiesta Room of the Convention Center on May 18. Both meetings will start at 9:00 a.m. with registration starting at 8:30 a.m.

George C. Marks, state conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service and Carl Spencer, executive director of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board will co-chair the meetings.

"The meetings are being held as a result of the Resources Conservation Act of 1977, which was signed into law by President Carter last November," Marks said. "The Act recognizes the need for public participation to insure that conservation programs are effective and responsive to public needs."

"Soil and water conservation programs - from their beginning - have sought public participation, and the RCA Act further insures that conservation programs will continue to be responsive to public needs," Spencer said. The Act re-affirms the need for public leadership and we hope to receive public input so that a meaningful appraisal of grass roots conservation programs will provide the means for their improvement.

"However, the right to private ownership and management of land is one of the most cherished privileges of American citizenship," Spencer stressed. "As the general public becomes more involved with the growing shortage of soil and water resources we see more proposals in legislative form concerning what landowners ought to do in the way of erosion control, flood prevention, protection of wildlife habitat and providing public access to private property.

"Any approach to soil and water conservation problems of issues must first consider that a high percentage of farm and ranch land is privately owned and that the interests and the welfare of the owners must be served. Programs must be acceptable to them."

Laws pertaining to the organization and functioning of soil and water conservation districts provide that their programs and plans of work be developed by local interests and be a voluntary program. No program is more acceptable to a landowner than a voluntary type and one in which he had a part in developing."

Spencer said. Individuals or groups with an interest in conservation should attend one of the statewide meetings of the local meeting. Interested persons are being encouraged to bring written or oral statements reflecting the direction they think conservation programs should take in the future. Such statements will be accepted, made a part of the record and considered fully.

The date for the Resources Conservation Act meeting in Motley County is set for June 6. Anyone desiring information on the statewide meetings or the upcoming local meeting should contact the Soil Conservation Service or the Upper Pease SWCD both located in the Motley County courthouse.

Good Environment Seen As Good For Business

No basic cause for disagreement about environmental responsibility should exist between the corporation and society since "the public's environment is business's environment; the people who make up corporations have to breathe the same air, drink the same water, and gaze at the same scenery, as the people they work among. And a deteriorating physical environment will sooner or later result in a deteriorating business atmosphere."

County Agent Pallmeyer Says

TIPS ON PREVENTING POTATO SPROUTS

This is too late to help this year, but if it happened to you, maybe this will help to prevent it in the future!

Potatoes that are sold for fresh market consumption are treated with chemicals that prevent sprouting in storage, and this will also prevent them from sprouting after planting. Another possibility is that you bought this year's potatoes, and they had not been stored properly to break the rest period which must be broken before the seed will sprout. Cool temperatures or extremely hot temperatures can break the rest period, and allow for sprouting, but the moral of this story is, "buy seed potatoes to plant and eating potatoes to eat".

Are Wood Ashes Helpful?
Many times the question arises, "Are wood ashes helpful?" Generally yes, however they are alkaline and high in potash, calcium and magnesium, all of which most of our soils except the deep sands have plenty of. They can be harmful if too many are used, especially on alkaline soils, plant damage can result as 80-90 percent of the ashes are water soluble and salt buildup can occur. If wood ashes are used, don't apply to garden soils more than once a year, and as they are low in nitrogen, add additional nitrogen fertilizer with ashes.

Joe Louis held the heavy-weight championship longer than anyone else - 12 years.

IN APPRECIATION

To the voters of Motley County I wish to express my appreciation for nominating me to the office of County Judge. I will do my best to be fair and honest in performing the duties of this office.

PLANT CERTIFIED

For Higher Cotton Yields

Yields from certified cotton planting seed were up to 18 percent higher than yields from caught or non-certified seed according to research by Dr. L. L. Ray at the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, Texas. Certified seed has not undergone genetic deterioration in the field. Volunteer plants and undesirable cross-pollination are eliminated. And certified seed from Pioneer is free from pests and weeds which often accompany non-certified varieties. See your ginner or Pioneer brand seed dealer for these certified varieties.

Dependable even in dry country!
Certified LX571
You can't control the weather. So, you need a hedge against drought. . . and that's where the Lankart variety LX571 fits in. It consistently produces top yields of high quality cotton . . . even under tough, dry conditions. And you don't have to give up anything to get this outstanding drought tolerance, either.
LX571 produces fairly long, strong fiber . . . with micronaire normally in the premium range. And storm resistant bolls strip well in one pass through the field. Add up all the good things about LX571 . . . then it's easy to see why this is one of the most planted cotton varieties in the Rolling Plains, Central Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma.
*LX571 is a U.S. protected variety (Plant Variety Protection Certificate No. 7200018). Unauthorized propagation and unauthorized seed multiplication prohibited by law. LX571 cotton planting seed can be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed. It is unlawful to sell non-certified seed of this variety.

Long-time favorite.
Cotton growers in Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico have relied on certified Lankart 57 for consistently high yields for years. This variety has vigorous plants with short main stems and short fruiting branches. Leaves are large and dense. And this medium-early maturity cotton has storm-proof bolls. Lankart 57 is a good stripper cotton, too. . . well-adapted to Texas and Oklahoma dryland production.
Certified LANKART 57

High yielding, early variety.
This cotton variety was developed for the early maturity needs of dryland farming . . . especially in the Blackland and Rolling Plains of Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma. Vigorous plants with short main stems and close fruiting branches produce large bolls of high quality lint. A good stripper cotton for the Southern High Plains on wilt-free soil.

Disease Control in Gardens
Since a plant is subject to diseases from the time the seed is planted until the edible portion is harvested, disease control in the home garden is a season long practice. A site that will allow sunlight to aid in the drying of the foliage in the early morning helps. Vegetables should be planted on raised beds to allow water to move out of the root zone, and many plants require some method of keeping the fruit off the ground to prevent decay. Staking plants is OK, but the use of wire cages is becoming popular. Tomatoes, pole beans and cucumbers are well adapted to cages that are 20 inches in diameter and about 3 feet high.

When watering, avoid wetting the foliage of plants, especially in the evening as this will cause plants to remain wet during the night and provide excellent conditions for diseases to develop. Water in the mid-day or early afternoon, and use furrow irrigation whenever possible.

When fertilizing, use a balanced program. Excessive amounts of nitrogen will make plants more susceptible to some diseases, and calcium, potash and phosphorus are important in developing healthy plant tissue which will to some extent withstand disease attack.

Fungicides for controlling diseases will last from 7 to 10 days, therefore if conditions are favorable for diseases 10 days after a fungicide is used, additional applications must be made. A rain after treatment, will also call for retreatment. When applying a fungicide, make sure all foliage and fruit is covered, and always follow the directions on the label.

The tulip originated in Central Asia and gets its name from the Turkish word for turban.
