By CHARLES GILLESPIE

TOUCHDOWN-tempered Matador Matadors rolled to their second consecutive region I, class B championship Friday in Plainview's Bulldog Stadium—a brute power show that ripped the Wilson line to shreds and ground out a wind-chilled 51-14 victory.

It was the 10th consecutive victory for Coach Ray Hopkins' Matadors and 11th of the season against one loss (that to Spur in their second outing) and nowhere in that string is there a more convincing triumph.

Full-doing 195-pound fullback Arvin "Porky" Ellithorp was Matador's big gainer. The all-South Plains selection rambled for 160 yards rushing in only 17 carries and scored three touchdowns. However, he had more than enough help from such mates as sophomore quarterback Dayton Graham (77 in 7), halfback Charles Renfro (96 in 10) and little Pat Green and Richard Hamilton, both of whom were past the 40 mark.

No Real Offense

Wilson, except for its brief scoring thrusts, was never able to mount a real offense against the tough Matador line, but Eugene "Mutt" Bruedigam presented one of the greatest individual defensive players the section has seen in years.

Bruedigam, who called his own signals comparatively sparingly, managed to rack up 50 yards in 14 carries to place his team offensively, but when Matador had the ball he was a terror from his middle-line-backer post, receiving credit for no less than 28 individual tackles and almost that many assists and recovering one fumble that killed a Matador threat inside the Wilson five yard line.

Matador scored the first time it had the ball when a Bruedigam punt was short on the Wilson 38. Graham picked up 19 on the first play. Ellithorp added three and Renfro three more before the end of the game.

Advice is its own penalty when the advisor stoops to be another for the use of counsel, society has reached a point of flux from which it is not jellify.

Santa Will Ride Fire Truck Here

A special message from Santa Claus this week advises that he is going to visit Matador Saturday morning, December 24, at 9:30 a. m. He will ride the city's big red fire truck into the downtown area, and Sheriff John Stotts will give him a special police escort. City Secretary L. M. Cox will drive the fire truck.

Santa will visit with boys and girls for a few minutes and then invite them to see a special picture show at the Regue Theatre, which will start at 10 a. m. After the show Santa (and some of his helpers) will distribute gifts of candy, fruit and nuts to all the boys and girls.

Announcement of the arrangement with Santa was made this week by George Cullin, chairman of the Lions Club Christmas party.

During his short visit in Matador Santa will want to meet as many boys and girls as possible. Since he will be here on Christmas Eve, it will be necessary for him to leave early for the North Pole and get ready for the long sleigh ride to bring presents to boys and girls everywhere.

Farmers Ok Lint Quotas

Motley county farmers Tuesday reflected the preference of the majority of the nation's cotton producers in approval of strict marketing quotas for 1956. Returns from 18 cotton-producing states showed 263,585 farmers voted for the crop ceilings and 19,734 against, a majority of 93 per cent for the quotas. The vote last year was 92 per cent.

The vote from 239 of 249 Texas counties which had eligible voters gave the quotas an almost nine to one approval.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson, who requested the stringent marketing quotas, now will set next year's cotton price at 7.30 per cent of parity under terms of the administration's control.

"Flexible" price support law. Motley county's vote in Tuesday balloting was 148 for and 7 against.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone, to attend.

Fire Leaves Ashes And Twisted Metal Of "Palace Coach"

Ghost of glory that once belonged to a "palace on wheels" railway coach, is all that remains after a fire near the outskirts of Roaring Springs early last Thursday morning. Ashes and twisted metal haunt the last mile of the once luxurious car.

The car was said to have been built in 1917 by the Pullman Company at a cost of $35,000 without furnishings for the late S. B. Burnett of the 6666 Ranch. Later it became the private car of Chas. Sommer when he was president of the Q.A.P. Railway. After his retirement it was offered for sale and purchased by S. J. Braselton of Roaring Springs. In the sale the railroad company reserved the trucks and they were removed at a siding in Roaring Springs.

Mr. Braselton planned to make a fishing lodge of the coach but because of its extreme weight (90,000 pounds) he was unable to secure a moving permit from the highway department.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osborn purchased the coach and moved it to a site on Highway 70 (continued on back page)

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR GIVING are being admired by Ann Priddy, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Priddy at a recent party held in the Legion hall by Fleming Post No. 337 and the Legion Auxiliary. Mr. Priddy is Post Commander. Gifts on display were brought as an offering to be sent to the Amarillo Veterans Hospital to provide the veterans with gifts which they might send to their loved ones. The gift tree here is a part of the Auxiliary's activity program which also includes a cash contribution to both the Amarillo hospital and the vet hospital at Temple.

Local Male Cage Stars To Meet Girl Red Heads

Some unusual basketball will be played at the school gymnasium here Thursday evening, December 22, when Olson's All-American Red Heads all-girl American team will play by the local boys. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50c for students, with a per centage of the profits going to the school athletic fund. Two preliminary high school games will be played in advance of the professional red heads and the local men.

Billy Wason is in charge of the local team and gave the Tribune the following list of players: Henry Ford, Captain, Jack Case, Tommie Moore, Ben Edwards, Glen Brotherton, Jodie Graham, Roy Smith, George Ray (Calvin of Turkey) and John Barnhill. He said he had not contacted the entire list but felt certain they would play. Wason also said his players would go into training immediately.

The Red Heads have played to over 5,000,000 fans every year and their national publicity for their fancy passing, trick shooting, novelty routines and zany antics. The girls feature the top basketball talent available anywhere.

Employees Feted At Ranch Headquarters

Historic Matador ranch headquarters, Saturday night was the scene of pre-holiday festivities, when Mr. and Mrs. Seth Sager were hosts at a barbecue for ranch employees, their families, and other associates of the enterprise.

Here from out of town were relatives from Chillicothe, Mrs. W. M. Sager and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dan Level and children of Amarillo visited here last week during the Lions Basketball tournament, in which Mr. Level served as an official. They were guests of his grandmother, Mrs. Joe Gaines and Mr. Gaines while here.

VISITING MOTHER

Miss Frances Strickland is visiting this week with her mother, Mrs. Georgia Strickland. Another daughter, Mrs. Homer Starkey and her daughter, Joyce returned to their home at Earth, Sunday, after spending several days with Mrs. Strickland, who has been ill.

TELEVISION SET PRESENTED COACH

When Coach Ray Hopkins' Matadors won the regional championship last week for the second year in succession, they won additional esteem and appreciation of football fans and patrons of football. But for Coach Hopkins the appreciation went further. He was presented with a new Zenith television set, completely installed and ready to tune in.

Assistant Coach Garland Rattan received a suit of clothes and a wrist watch and J. E. Edwards, principal of grade school and coach of the Matador Mavericks received a suit of clothes and wrist watch. Money for the gifts was collected by public subscription. Presentation was made Saturday night at the termination of the Lions invitation basketball tournament in the school gymnasium.

"Christmas Boom" Hits Local Business Firms

With the most important holiday of the year now ten days away, local business firms are reporting a "Christmas Boom" in holiday buying.

Although purchases do not compare with a "boom" year, merchants say buying has been increasing daily. Local stores are stocked with new, high quality merchandise. Some customers have reported to merchants that they find merchandise here of equal or higher quality than that offered by "city" stores and in most instances the prices are lower.

The trend over the country is reflected here in the convenience of small town and neighborhood stores. Customers everywhere are attracted by the lack of formality which the community store offer.

In the meantime Matador is furthering preparation for Christmas with more lights blazing each night. Colored lights were strung Tuesday on the water tower and turned on Tuesday evening.

Indications are that competition is going to be strong for the Lions Club decorations awards. A plaque will be awarded the best decorated business firm and three awards will be presented to the three homes judged the best decorated. Out of town judges have been secured to judge the contest.

Judging will probably be done next Wednesday or Thursday night, the committee has announced.

GREETINGS ISSUE

Annual Christmas greetings issue of the Tribune will be published next week.

Special Events On Church Calendar

Schedule of events through Christmas, at the First Baptist Church, includes the annual Christmas program and tree, Friday night, Dec. 23. Young people of the church will enjoy a social Thursday night when they meet to decorate the tree.

Special services are being planned for Christmas Day, according to the pastor, Rev. Ray Manning.

Services will be dismissed for Sunday evening, Dec. 18, that the congregation might join the community in hearing a specially prepared program by the High School Choir, under direction of Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson, at the Methodist Church.

Training Union will meet at the regular hour, 6:30, Sunday, with the Primary Department, directed by Mrs. C. M. Barton, Jr., presenting the assembly program. It was announced. However, the group will be dismissed in time to reach the Methodist Church in time for that program.

AT GRAND LODGE

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Pitts, Sr., spent last week in Waco, where he attended Masonic Lodge activities as delegate to the Grand Chapter, the Grand Council and Grand Lodge of Texas. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Merle Pitts of Austin, joined them in Waco for several days. En route home the Pitts visited in Fort Worth with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wason.

Samnorwood Wins Tourney

Samnorwood ran off with the championship of the annual Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday night, taking both the boys and girls titles in a close game.

The Samnorwood boys took a 49-46 victory from Spur after the two teams were tied at the end of all three quarters. It was 15-15 after first, 21-21 after the half and 35-35 after three.

The Samnorwood girls won the championship via a 45-38 win over Silverton in a see-saw battle which lasted until the final quarter when Samnorwood began to pull ahead to stay.

The Guthrie girls defeated the Matador girls 35-29 for the consolation prize as did the Silverton boys with their win over Childress B-team 62-32.

Survivors include his wife, three daughters, a brother and three sisters.

It will top off a year in which sales already are running ahead of 1954 by 11 per cent.

Two boom problems harass merchants, says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. One is whether they have adequate stocks to meet consumer demands. The other is recruiting extra sales forces.

For job seekers this spells bright opportunities. A record employment peak in December is forecast by the Texas Employment Commission.

Employment in Texas right now is at an all-time high. More than 2,790,800 workers are on the job. Retail stores this month will add 30,000 more employees and postoffices 13,000.

A word of warning for shoppers came from the Texas Safety Association. It urged pedestrians not to pile their arms so high with parcels that they can't see to cross streets safely.

Probation Needs Cited
Lack of a probation staff creates unnecessary hazards and expense to Texas citizens, says the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Many prisoners deserving parole are kept behind bars because the state does not have a staff to supervise them after release. And relief payments to families of such men are estimated at $290,000.

But even without clemency, 95 per cent of those in prison will some day rejoin the outside world. To prevent their returning to crime, the board recommends a rehabilitation program in prison, also supervision and guidance for parolees.

Education Superboard Named
Fifteen Texans will begin their duties next month on the state's newest board, the Commission on Higher Education.

Created by the last legislature the commission is to be a "super-board" of regents. It will set board policy and present a single appropriation request for Texas' 22 institutions of higher learning.

Also it can consolidate or eliminate certain college programs and pass on legislative bills to create additional senior colleges.

Al Muldrow, Brownfield oil man and former secretary of state, was named temporary chairman by Gov. Allan Shivers. Others appointed were W. M. Durham Jr. of Amarillo; R. T. Waddell of Odessa; Killen B. Moore of Vernon; Fred L. Flynn of Harlingen; M. W. Glosserman of Lockhart; Dr. Harry M. Shytle of Sherman, and Dr. H. F. Connally Jr. of Waco.

Also Harris Melasky of Taylor; Hal H. Dewar of San Antonio; John W. Newton of Beaumont; Mrs. J. F. Boren of Abilene; Jack Cox of Corpus Christi; Mildard Cope of Marshall and John Redditt of Lufkin.

Dallas Loses, Others Benefit
Denton, Collin, Kaufman and Navarro counties will get more than three million dollars in road building money, thanks to Dallas county voters who twice rejected a proposed car tax.

This left Dallas county officials at a loss as to how to provide money to buy right-of-way for roads. Right-of-way already had been secured by the other four counties. So Highway Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr. allocated $3,208,000 to the gas county.

Gas Rate Test Scheduled
Whether Texans will have to pay more to heat their homes may be decided in a case to be heard by the State Supreme Court on Jan. 25.

Principals in the suit are the Railroad Commission and the City of Alvin, on one side; and the Houston Natural Gas Co., on the other.

Point of disagreement is whether the original cost or the present replacement cost of company property should serve as a basis in setting rates.

If the gas company is successful in establishing a rate formula based on today's inflated property values, the door apparently will be opened for increases in many Texas cities.

Home Is Where Husband Is
A man in military service can require his wife to move to the various points where he may be assigned.

So held the Supreme Court of Texas in upholding a divorce granted by an El Paso district court to Louis R. Bustos. His wife insisted on remaining in her Maryland home and refused to go with him from one military station to another.

Another Supreme Court ruling of interest awarded a Correll County garage owner $1,000 found in a fruit jar by a workman digging up the foundation.

Money "misplaced"—rather than "lost"—should go to the landowner, said the court—thus upsetting the old "finders-keepers" rule.

Announces For Judgeship
District Judge Jesse Owens of Vernon has announced he will seek the post held by Judge W. A. Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Owens ran for a place in the same court in 1954. Morrison, serving his first term, is senior and presiding judge of the three-member court.

Short Snorrs—Chances of a special session of the Texas legislature in 1956 are slim. Legislative chambers will undergo a $500,000 air conditioning job between now and January 1, 1957. Now in the Texas House of Representatives is a portrait of the late James Harvey Robertson. He authored the law which opened the door to Texas' present $5,000,000,000 insurance industry. Gov. Allan Shivers appointed Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston and Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah as Texas representatives on the Southern States Regional Education Board's legislative advisory council. Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg has been named chairman of the American Legion's National Foreign Relations Commission for the fifth consecutive year. Five other Texans received vice chairmanships. They are H. Miller Ainsworth of Luling; Ernest S. Goens of Dallas; Ed Riedel of Austin; Frank Steine of Jourdanon, and T. E. Steel of Midland.

Tribune, Matador, Matley County, Texas, Thursday, December 15, 1955

Instead of exchanging individual gifts, members brought articles suitable for Christmas gifts, together with wrapping paper, seals, ribbons, etc., to be sent to the Wichita Falls State Hospital. A nice collection of gifts has been mailed to the institution.

Group singing of Christmas carols was led by Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, and included "Joy To The World" and "Silent Night."

A musical reading, "The Choirs of God" by Leota Hulse Blach, given by Mrs. J. R. Whitworth, with organ music by Mrs. Johnnie Stevens, highlighted the program. Closing prayer was by Miss Amy Glenn.

The group retired to the basement, where refreshments were served from a table laid with a lace cloth, and decorated with an arrangement at one end, of a tall red taper surrounded by seasonal greenery and berries, accented by Santa and miniature reindeer. Cups of hot spiced tea were served from a silver tray by Mrs. W. W. Clements. Fruit cake, topped with whipped cream and red cherries, carried out the club's colors.

Congratulations to Faye (Mrs. W. W.) Clements, Kay Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. (Hortense) Seth Sager and Mr. and Mrs. Kim Wilkinson, all of whom celebrated Sunday the 11th. Faye and Kay had birthdays, while the Sagers and Wilkinsons had wedding anniversaries—20th for the Sagers and 38th (we understand) for the Wilkinsons.

Congratulations also to Miss Bette Fran Montgomery (daughter of the Frank Montgomerys). She was selected from some 400 girls in Knapp Hall at Tech, to represent that dorm in a Christmas style show Sunday.

Sport, formal, street and school styles were modeled at the Christmas Style Show, held at 3 p. m. in the Tech Union ballroom.

The clothes modeled were furnished by Godwins for the girls and S & Q Clothiers for the boys.

The presentation of models was built around the theme of "Christmas Dreams of Tech Students."

Models for the event were furnished by each dormitory and organization on the campus. One girl was selected by a special events committee, from each group.

Bette, escorted by Bob Johnson of Phillips, modeled a gold sports outfit suitable to wear to Tech's Sun Bowl game in January.

Christmas, in its origin, was not meant to create this keyed-up, panicky times-wasting and I'm-not-ready reaction so prevalent today. The joyous season has become one of pent up nerves and ill tempers, and gift-giving has become more an act of duty than one of love to commemorate the gifts which the wise men bore to the manger cradle of the Christ Child, God's gift to the world.

While we don't propose to suggest a solution to the fallacy of the situation, we hope, wishfully, that some day tranquility might be restored and Christmas might be observed with good cheer and happiness in sharing. As the poet, Whittier said, "For somehow, not only at Christmas, but all the long year through, The joy that you give to others is the joy that comes back to you."

Right now we're joining that group who declare they've reached that stage where the only way they can think of to solve the problem, is to go to bed and stay there till it's all over.

Christmas Program Given For W.S.C.S.

With Mrs. Harry Willett as leader, a Christmas program was presented for the Woman's Society of Christian Service, at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. Program participants were young people of the church.

Instrumental prelude was played by Miss Roberta Jameson organist, and a medley of Christmas carols were played by Mike Groves and Gerald Pipkin. Scripture reading by the leader, was Luke 2:1-7. A story, "The Holy Grail of the First Christmas" was read by Ida Lee Fair, and "The Littlest Angel" was given by Carolyn Pohl. A poem, "I Saw the Lights of Christmas" was recited by Mary Jane Hamilton.

As Miss Jameson played various Christmas hymns an introduction and brief history of the song was given by the leader. Included were "Joy To The World", "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem", "We Three Kings of The Orient Are", and "Silent Night, Holy Night."

The program was concluded with prayer.

held their last meeting year, with a demonstration candy making.

Those present were: Works, Peyton Lutz, Paul Dock, M. L. Kelley, Jack Curtis Goodwin, Clark W. M. Hayman, J. R. Cook, Ted McRone, and Gene and Miss Eva Collier.

The club has had a year and the members are looking forward to a bigger year in 1956, as they wish for a happy and prosperous New Year.

German Refugee From American Air Raids Self-Styled "Girl Without A Country"

HELENE, Dec. 15 (Sp.)—A former Helga Wilde, who speaks English and German and admits that 10 years have passed since she left her native Germany, 12 years since she fled from the American air raids, has self-styled herself "girl without a country." Helga met Ben Bessent while in Nashville, and they were married Sept. 3, this year. Ben is a pre-med student at Abilene Christian College.

Helga isn't a citizen of the United States yet, but she has applied for residence. "Right now," she laughs, "I am a girl without a country. No passport, no visa—I had to send them all to the authorities."

Helga wandered as a refugee in Czechoslovakia and Austria before being confined to a Russian prison camp near Lintz, Austria, the summer of 1945. She escaped eight weeks later, but a Russian bullet pierced her leg while she ran. She still has a scar from the wound.

Helga then wandered some 800 miles, mostly by foot, before reaching her parents in Frankfurt, they had thought she was dead.

Mrs. Bessent returned to school in Frankfurt and taught elementary school there for two years before coming to the United States. In this country she received her B. A. degree from David Lipscomb College, Nashville, and her M. A. from Vanderbilt. Both degrees are in English.

Helga met Ben Bessent while in Nashville, and they were married Sept. 3, this year. Ben is a pre-med student at Abilene Christian College.

Helga isn't a citizen of the United States yet, but she has applied for residence. "Right now," she laughs, "I am a girl without a country. No passport, no visa—I had to send them all to the authorities."

Society Launches Holiday Season Safety Program

A seven-point safety program has been launched by the Texas Society for Crippled Children to help keep Texas safe through the holidays.

"Accident statistics are always emphasized in the light of the number of deaths that result, but even more important are the many youngsters and adults who are permanently crippled during this season each year," Euclid Hudson, president of the Society said today in Port Arthur.

Hudson and the Easter Seal Society are urging children and adults alike to heed these simple rules of safety during the holiday season:

1. Be careful of fire. Lights on Christmas trees, flammable ornaments and mantle and table decorations are hazards. Candles are particularly dangerous and should not be used where there are children.

Tribune, Matador, Morley County, Texas, Thursday, December 15, 1955

2. Guide children in proper use of new toys. Don't buy hazardous playthings. Examine all toys for sharp edges, pointed parts and avoid such toys as pop guns, bows and arrows, and BB guns for young children who cannot be depended on to handle them safely.

Entertaining Hazards

3. Holiday entertaining and gift wrapping offer potential hazards to children. Watch burns and cuts. Be particularly careful of hot pots and pans, and scissors left at opportune spots for children.
4. Be careful in stores and toy departments. Temporary railings or ramps could be dangerous.
5. Follow basic good health rules. Get plenty of rest, good food and enough fresh air.
6. In those areas where fireworks are used in holiday celebrations, be sure that an adult is always present to supervise their use. Do not buy or use "giant" or "super" explosive types. Be sure to observe local ordinances governing the use of fireworks. Use only parks or other large open areas for firing Roman candles, skyrockets or other aerial fireworks. Never use any type of fireworks indoors. Do not pick up "duds" which fail to explode.
7. Be considerate in holiday crowds and patient with the handicapped people you meet. Some persons may be a little slower than you in crossing a street or passing through a door. A little consideration on your part may save them from a fall and certainly from fright or confusion.

Dallas Schedules Musical Comedy "Plain And Fancy"

The Amish people of Pennsylvania, who inspired the gay musical comedy, "Plain And Fancy", will never see themselves portrayed on the stage, for going to shows is against their religion. However Cotton Bowl Week visitors to Dallas will be able to see the hit musical performance on Jan. 1.

Mail order ticket sale for the State Fair Auditorium holiday treat opened Dec. 4. The box office is 1315 Elm St. Dallas.

"Plain and Fancy" stars motion picture star Alexis Smith and her husband, television star Craig Stevens. It will have eight Cotton Bowl Week performances. There will be nightly shows Dec. 26 through Dec. 31 with matinees on Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

The Diary of Mary White

August 15, 1955, Monday.

Did some more wash this morning and ran the reservoir dry so it is back to the bucket brigade until it rains again. About two o'clock, R. W. got out the school outboard motor. He and Andrew Daniels, the storekeeper, took it to the beach and played around in David's boat. Then they had the bright idea of going to the show at Moses Point. Of course the kids were all for it. We started out about five o'clock. Got right out in the middle of the channel and the motor died. The water was rolling heavily and I turned green. Finally with a new mechanical tool called a bobbin pin, Andrew got the motor to puttin' again.

It was only a ten horsepower so we didn't go as fast as we did with Harry's forty horsepower. We arrived at seven o'clock, had coffee with Bob and Lee and then strolled over to the Butler Hut. We saw "Pa and Ma Kettle on Vacation" and I thoroughly enjoyed the silly thing for I was so amused at the places in the story that the Eskimos laughed at. They got a bang out of it and to close your eyes and listen, you would not have known it was not a movie in the States. After the show we had coffee and fresh apple pie that Mrs. Raines had baked. I really enjoy visiting with her. She is near my age and has had several years teaching experience. Didn't start home until twelve. The school boat got us home at one o'clock. It was almost sun-up. Tish, tish! Such hours. My father used to brag that he didn't get in from the party until sun-up and now I can do the same!

August 16, 1955, Tuesday. Spent the day recuperating from last night's late hour. Read a novel and napped. Cleaned reservoir after lunch then read some more. Kids played on the beach nearly all day.

August 17, 1955, Wednesday. (In a letter to friends dated Sept. 1, Mary White explained that the entry written this day was typed up before the tragic accident which took the life of her daughter, Marelda, shortly after 6 o'clock p. m. when she was all smiles as she hurried away to have fun playing on the beach.)

Nothing in particular happened until about 3:00 o'clock I had finished ironing and decided to shampoo my hair. Then R. W. decided he wanted a haircut. Hadn't had one since we left Texas. He decided he'd survive the catastrophe better if he got a crew-cut because we have a crew cut attachment for the clippers. Well, I ran that over his head. Worked pretty good where there was any hair. Then came the test. With comb and scissors I attempted to make a line across his temples, over his ears and back to his neck—and make a line I did! He remarked that one side was higher than the other. I retorted that one ear was bigger than the other and I was using his ears for measuring purposes. Marelda laughed and laughed at his bald spot. Don't think she realized that he had one. I got behind the door and giggled while he surveyed the results in the mirror. All in all, I think it provided more laughs than the Pa and Ma Kettle picture that we saw Monday night.

The weather is taking on an October look. It is hard for me to realize that it is the middle of August and people are still suffering from the heat in other parts of the world. The sun still comes up in the north however—guess it always does this close to the top of the world.

(Following the tragedy she wrote to friends) I wished in my heart to die too, but death does not come that way and I must continue as best I can. I will try to get started again... school starts the 5th and I hope to be literally 'snowed-under' with teaching... I have read the entire Gospel of John since we returned to Elim and it has dried up the tears and stilled the most of the ache... Heaven is a desirable place and The Father can care for her so much better than I, that if I love her I will rejoice for her sake, as Jesus said to His disciples: 'If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said I go unto the Father; for my Father is greater than I.' I shall bury myself in work and study and perhaps God will open new avenues of service for me as well as new understandings."

August 26, 1955, Friday. Temperature 35 degrees. The mail plans made it through. We were worried because the overcast was pretty heavy and the wind was more than a breeze. Long would this week have been indeed had he not come! We received thirty-one letters of consolation and they did ease the ache some. I even had a letter from a Lena Anderson of Seward, Alaska. She is a native of Elim recuperating in the T.B. hospital there. It was her mother, Louisa Charles and her sister, Mrs. Fredolph Saccheus, who helped me so much and washed and cleaned everything on the place after we were gone. How she got word so soon I've yet to figure out. It was a beautiful and comforting letter and I'm looking forward to meeting her when she returns. The other tells me, Sonya and Beverly, who stay with her mother. One of them must be that beautiful child with the long curls that I saw the day we arrived here.

We spent from 11:00 a. m. on reading and re-reading our cards and letters. A week used to be from Sunday to Sunday but now it is from Friday to Friday. All mail comes by air from Seattle so you guys that are away off from Seattle send it by air that far too. Many of the letters we received were dated 5:00 p. m. 22nd, and we got them here in Elim on the 26th. The telegrams came in about ten hours. They are called out to us from Nome through A.C.A. (Alaska Communication System) by short wave. We have a brand new radio and transmitter, also a set of tubes and parts to repair one we had on hand. So, as soon as the technician arrives we will be all set to go on the air.

August 27, Saturday, Temp. 38. Cleaned house and did the ironing this morning. R. W. decided to put up all storm windows on the east facing the sea, for the driving rain manages to come in. All storm windows are stacked in the basement. There are just 999 by the time we count every window and we discovered something—the windows are all made the same size but where the hinges and catches for the storm windows are, is a complete miss deal. A storm window fits one certain window and none other and they are not labeled. Drat that man again! Why didn't he label them when he took them off last spring? Oh, Job where is thy patience—for they must go up.

August 28, 1955, Sunday. Temperature 44 degrees. A calm and sunny Sunday. Fredolph Saccheus came by from fish camp to tell us how glad he was that we stayed. He lost his 15-year-old son last January in a hunting accident and he can understand to a great degree how we feel. Eva Sears, with her little two-year old Eleanor, came by about 11:00, had a cup of coffee and gathered some rhubarb. I realize these are American sounding names but they are full-blooded Eskimos insofar as I can learn. They have just adopted our names and our language. R. W. went to Moses Point to scout out some duck hunting grounds. He and Ben Daniels plan to go in the next few days. The kids have played outside for a change it isn't raining. I have had a nice quiet afternoon—that is, Kitoole and I've been working on a scrap book of Marelda's pictures, letters, etc. that I am going to keep. It's about time to put my loaves of bread in the oven so I'll go see what kind of luck I have this time.

R. W. and I read nearly all II Corinthians together. This morning and it helped the day to go well. August 29, 1955, Monday. Jessie Amuktoolik came before I had done the breakfast dishes and stayed and stayed. R. W. came in from Moses Point about 10:00. He was having one of his bad nervous days and before the day dawned over so was I. Did not accomplish anything. Jessie brought me two ducks. I baked them and made dressing with them. The kids ate like pigs, so they must be good. I could eat them but did not especially like them.

August 30, 1955, Tuesday. Sorted and got a line on all books in the school room today. There are ever so many interesting looking history and travel books here that I would like to read. They are much too difficult for an eighth grader. Don't understand why they are here.

Roger has caught fish in the creek all day. This is certainly a paradise as far as he is concerned. He has a large starfish and two small ones in a can on my back porch right now. The radio had one of its good days. We heard San Francisco until it went off the air—at 8:00 here but 12:00 there. Then we listened to Anchorage—Amos and Andy and all the usual programs. Wrote several letters before going to bed.

August 31, Wednesday. Worked in school room all morning. Am now ready for the little darlings. Eva came and stayed a while this afternoon. She is good company, intelligent and clean. She is moving to Seward soon and I shall miss her. Her husband is a shovel operator for the highway commission. Harry Moore came about 4:00 o'clock and helped R. W. get all the storm windows on. They were marked! We weren't smart enough to read the markings.

Taking stock in the lunch room I found 200 lbs. of pinto beans. I cooked some and they are the best grade I've ever had the privilege of cooking. We have lots of other kinds of beans and split peas so we aren't going to be hungry. Hope these Eskimos like beans. (Eskimos is what the C.A.A. people call the Eskimos).

September 1, 1955. Cleaned house and wrote letters practically all day. R. W. went to Moses Point to contact Jack Jenkins, about transportation to Mt. Edgecumbe for some high school students. He took a whole box of turnips, turnip greens and swiss chard to Mrs. Raines. They can't have gardens there because of the sandy soil. The tide line is a full quarter of a mile farther out today than it has ever been. It is a strange sight indeed to see so much of the ocean bed. The Eskimos' explanation is that the north wind blew it out. I can hardly believe it. Eva says it will come back in tonight because the moon is full. Maybe so! Guess I didn't study my science lessons enough. I don't quite savy. The sea is calm tonight with the moon shining on it. R. W. saw a display of Northern Lights after I had gone to bed.

Retired Flomot Farmer Reaches 92nd Birthday

L. M. (Uncle Lee) Gunn, Thursday (December 8), celebrated his 92nd birthday at his farm home in the Flomot community. With him were his three sons and their wives, his brother-in-law, Sam Jones, and a niece, Mrs. Neva Graves.

Mr. Gunn has been a resident of Flomot since 1908. Although he farmed all his active life, Mr. Gunn never owned a tractor. After he reached the age of 80, Mr. Gunn was examined for driver's license and passed without difficulty.

Active in civic and church work during his long career, Mr. Gunn was on the Flomot school board for many years. Because of failing health, he has been confined to his home since July.

Leeroy M. Gunn was born in Arkansas, December 8, 1863. He was married to Miss Mollie Jones in 1888, in Howard county, Arkansas, and they moved to Texas. They first moved to Bell county and later to Oklahoma where they lived until 1908 when they moved to Flomot.

Their first home in Flomot was built of native rock. Mr. Gunn visioned the country's progress with its system of modern roads. In 1925 Mr. Gunn moved to the site of his present home and bought his first automobile.

Although his schooling was brief, Mr. Gunn has always been a leader in educational movements. Mrs. Gunn died in 1938 and since that time Mr. Gunn's oldest son, Harley, and his wife, have shared his home.

His other sons are: B. W. Gunn of Smyer and Mel Gunn of Bovina. Many friends and neighbors called Thursday to wish the Flomot pioneer a happy birthday.

fore Ellithorp blasted over for the tally three-yards out. Green's attempted conversion failed. The Matadors led 6-0 with eight minutes remaining in the quarter.

Ellithorp, seemingly angered when his fumble stopped one thrust, scored twice in the third period. Two more Matador touchdowns went on the scoreboard in the final quarter—one a finely-executed 35-yard sprint by Green and a one-yard plunge through the middle by Renfro.

Leading defenders for Matador were end Clinton Holman, center Frank Thrasher, guards Stanley Neighbors and Donald Green and linebacker Garland Cartwright.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

New Light on an Old Subject

Mr. Evans from the Lighting Company gave an interesting talk at the Community Hall last night on how farmers can cut electric bills. For those who missed it, here's a short recap.

Don't try to light up the cobwebs in the rafters. Use a reflector and a smaller bulb will probably do the job. Too many farmers use naked bulbs that waste 50% of the light.

Try using moveable projector bulbs that beam light the way a searchlight does. A couple of these "spots" will often give you better illumination than a gang of juice-wasting overhead lamps.

From where I sit, it's amazing how often we misuse the things we have... like electricity. We also make a mistake if we misuse our right of personal choice—about which candidate to vote for, say, or whether beer or coffee makes the ideal mealtime drink—by trying to force our opinions on others. Respect for the other fellow's point of view should be our "guiding light."

adjoining the Roaring Springs school. It was placed on a concrete foundation and opened as a drive-in cafe. Being 76 feet in length, the coach also provided ample living quarters for the Osborn family.

Because of Mrs. Osborn's health the cafe was closed during the summer and the family continued to use the coach as a home. Cause of the fire is unknown. The Osborn family escaped only with the night clothing they were wearing.

Heavy oak and mahogany woods inside the steel shell made an intense heat. Some of the original silver, linen and glassware was lost in the fire.

Roaring Springs came to the immediate aid of the unfortunate family and gave a shower of food, clothing and household goods for them Saturday in the school gymnasium. Women of the community have also been meeting to quilt for the Osborns.

Fire Chief Warns Of Holiday Danger

Fire hazards which accompany the holiday season have brought tragedy to many homes, according to a warning issued this week by Fire Chief Freddie Welling. He said that every possible caution should be exercised to reduce the hazards, especially in the handling of fireworks.

Gift wrapping paper and the added use of Christmas wiring should be treated with extreme caution, he said.

Chief Welling also issued a warning with regard to the burning of trash when any wind is blowing. He said the tinder-dry condition of weeds and grass can easily carry fire to a home or other property. Trash should be burned only when the wind is light and should be watched with a garden hose convenient in event a fire starts out of control, he declared.

Injured Hunter's Condition Better

Condition of Don Calloway of Turkey, Hall County deputy sheriff, who was seriously injured Sunday about 3:30 p. m. is improved.

Mr. Calloway's right arm was almost blown off by a shot gun blast which also blew his hat off barely missing his head. He was rushed to Stanley Hospital here for treatment.

Details of the freak accident as reported to the Tribune were that Mr. Calloway was riding in the back of a pickup with his arm over the cab, when a gun held by a companion inside the cab was accidentally discharged. The blast of bird shot went through the top of the cab, the report said, tearing away a portion of flesh from the back side of the deputy's forearm, resulting in the loss of much of the muscle.

Cadillac Found East Of Malador

A 1955 air-conditioned Cadillac automobile was found in an abandoned caliche pit about 10 miles southeast of Matador early Monday. The car was seen by County Judge Vance H. Gilbreath late Saturday. At the time he believed it belonged to bird hunters. When the car was in the same place Monday, he summoned Sheriff John Stotts.

Investigation showed the expensive automobile had been damaged in an attempt to burn it. Upholstery in the front was destroyed, windows were smoked and several broken by heat.

A check of license plate BA800 showed the car belonged to F. Morris of Littlefield and had been stolen November 29. The almost new car had less than 8000 miles registered. No estimate of the fire damage was made.

The car was brought to Matador and is awaiting claim of the owner.
