RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It is possible that my attitude has developed a mild complex, but I am not in the sudden obliteration of everything associated with the past. Personally, I have no desire to return to the problems of my generation, nor be denied the modern luxuries I am able to finance. But on the other hand, I experience a wave of satisfaction in finding even a tiny thing unchanged. For instance, the label on a jelly glass, the scalding water and detergent with the same stubbornness that the label on a snuff jar to meet dishwasher and eye. Progress needs some restraint.

Year of the future becomes obvious when we look away from the achievement of our dreams.

Ability to bake an acceptable pie, and getting the right ingredients to eat it, is a trade secret, being married women. Ego discovered the romantic fire-power in apple and later it was combined in a pie. Extensive tests of Cupid's proving grounds indicate that it has few equals.

ing of the night wind is whistled with the harps of space and whispers the melancholy of a lover's speak as they drift in the streets of fleeting joy. If there is laughter in the vaulted sky, it is the serene of fate drunken with wine from the fruit of forgotten promises.

Long wagon trains of events, through time's rolling, until the implements of day arrive in time for the strong hands of a new generation.

abit plows deep furrows in the fields of our lives. Many have passed with butters and their hair since I last stepped out in a trough, still continue to have a feeling of going home about spring time.

handle Swept Rough Weather

ized weather Tuesday night the Texas Panhandle and the state as winter a final fling at disrupting across the middle west. snow piled up around the Rocky mountains and drifted across the Texas Panhandle to pile up in the drifts. A scheduled snow shower of Raton, New Mexico and passengers were rescued with no ill effects, except being hungry.

weather variety with emphasis sand and blowing dust prevailed here. Strong northwest winds estimated up to 45 per hour swept clouds from the skies most of the day. At three o'clock Tuesday afternoon a shower fell here and dampened the streets and an odor of rain. Sand was blowing again within a short time. The mercury dropped to 40 degrees here with the north Panhandle. A weather report from Pueblo, Colorado, said visibility was so low the area had received inches of snow.

Polio Vaccination Planned

Parents Asked For Signed Permission

DREADED POLIO has been on a quiet retreat. The electrifying news swept across the nation Tuesday as one of the century's great achievements. Plans are already under way to bring Salk's vaccine to 1st and 2nd grade school children of Motley county as soon as possible. Approximately 225 students of the 1st and 2nd grades are expected to be vaccinated. Age does not affect eligibility. It will be available at present for only 1st and 2nd grade students.

Jack Norman, county chapter chairman for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, said the vaccine will not be administered without a permit signed by the parents of each child. He said, however, that an effort will be made to secure permission of the parents of all eligible children. He said the vaccine has been found effective in preventing paralysis. It was officially licensed for public use yesterday and mass distribution is now under way. Supply for Motley county is scheduled to be brought to Plainview, Monday. While the vaccine is free, a charge of 50¢ will be made for administering by Dr. A. C. Tra-week, Sr., County Health Officer, in charge of the work. The vaccine in mass tests last year proved its ability to prevent up to 90 per cent of cases of paralytic polio. But since then it has been improved and the new 1955 model vaccine is declared to prevent paralytic polio 100 per cent (theoretically) according to Dr. Jonas Salk, brilliant young Pittsburg scientist who developed it. He does not receive any payment from its sale. For All Schools

Mr. Norman said the vaccine will be for the 1st and 2nd grade students in all Motley county schools (including colored). A meeting of school officials and members of the county polio organization met here Monday morning in the First State Bank to outline plans and become familiar with the National Foundation's program.

The vaccine will be offered for sale through physicians. Dr. J. S. Stanley said he is scheduled to receive enough for approximately 30 people. Cost will be about $3.50 to $4 per shot with three shots recommended over a specified time.

TROPHY WINNER D. I. W. Birnie, center, has just received his award at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Matador Lions Club last week. Mr. Birnie was cited by the Upper Pease River Soil Conservation District for his achievements in soil conservation on his ranch northwest of Matador. The award was presented by the Matador Lions Club which sponsors soil improvement work. Left to right are Boss Lion Randall Whitworth, Mr. Birnie and Commissioner James Taylor, who has been a leader in conservation work in this area and only recently resigned as Chairman of the Upper Pease Soil Conservation District.

FIRE DESTROYS AREA LANDMARK

Flames, whipped to fury by a windstorm of near gale strength, destroyed one of the area's oldest landmarks when the Clairemont Courthouse burned to the ground Tuesday night. The 62-year-old Kent County building was destroyed in a fire that lasted three hours, causing estimated damages of approximately $35,000. When the flames were brought under control about 1 a. m. Wednesday morning, only one room was left standing.

At the time of the fire, Clairemont's one fire truck was out of order with a broken pump. By the time the fire-fighting equipment arrived, the building was considered to be lost, but 500 gallons of water were sprayed over the ruins to prevent the spread of sparks to other areas. No other buildings or homes were near enough to be in great danger.

No valuable records were kept in the building. The old red stone structure was the Kent County seat for 59 years, from 1893 until 1952, when county residents voted to transfer the county government headquarters to Jayton. The election fell two votes short of the two-thirds majority, precipitating a two-year dispute between Jayton and Clairemont supporters. Following a Texas Supreme Court decision, the records were transferred last summer, under Highway Patrol and Texas Ranger escort, to the vault of the First National Bank of Jayton. The question of where to keep the records has never been settled entirely, and it is not known whether the fire will have any bearing on a decision.

Farmer In Hospital, Neighbors Plow Land

GOOD FRIDAY, April 8, witnessed the meaning of "neighbors" in the Whiteflat community. Farmer and Rancher Bob Martin is in the Timberlawn Sanitarium in Dallas and his farm needed plowing when 13 tractors moved into his fields Friday morning and began work. The tractors belonged to his neighbors. His 375 acres of farming land is plowed now.

Neighbors' wives, Mrs. Alfred Cooper and Mrs. Jack Spray, assisted Mrs. Martin and her daughter, Elwanda, in preparing lunch for the plowhands. The tractors were driven by Mr. Martin's neighbors or their employees, and included Bennie Keltz, Alfred Cooper, Tom Til-

Dry Goods Firm Will Open Here

Matador is going to have a new dry goods store. J. L. Case of Turkey has rented the Moore building (formerly occupied by Harry Willett & Company) and will open a new and modern dry goods store here about July 1.

The deal has been completed for several weeks and the building is receiving extensive repairs and remodeling. A new lighting system is being installed this week.

Mr. Case told a Tribune reporter Tuesday that he hoped to have his stock of new merchandise on the shelves and be ready for business by the first of July.

"We are going to stock a complete line of wearing apparel for the entire family," Mr. Case declared, "including nationally advertised brands of quality merchandise."

At present the "soon to be" new citizen of Matador is attempting to find a house for his family. Mr. and Mrs. Case have two sons, ages three and six. Their birthdays are the same date, April 12.

Mr. Case is no stranger to West Texas. He has lived most of his life in Quitaque, Estelline and Turkey. For the past four and one half years he has been associated with the People's State Bank in Turkey.

"We like Matador very much," he declared, "and we believe it is one of the best towns in West Texas. We have selected Matador deliberately because we like it and because we believe it offers an opportunity for us to earn a living and at the same time become a part of the community and its progress."

Miss Verlin Reeves spent the week-end in Abilene shopping and looking after business.

FAIR CONTENDER for honors Saturday in the annual Motley County Junior Livestock Show, is Jan Barton, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barton of Matador and the steer she will exhibit. She is one of the ten girls who will compete with 30 boys for part of the $250 cash awards. The youthful livestock raisers will exhibit a total of 33 steers and 45 hogs. -Photo by Douglas Meador.

SAND BURIES HEROIC HEN

Here is a story of mother love, a heroic hen and a sandstorm. Since the Tribune missed what was perhaps one of the greatest news pictures since the first atomic blast, it tends credit for the story to County Agent Bill Palmeyer. It was told to him by Bill Slover of the Whitestart community.

During last Thursday's "Lulu" of a sandstorm Mr. Slover had a mother hen and five baby chicks caught in its fury. The mother hen was aware that her babies would be blown away if she attempted to move them to safety. She accepted the only alternative and hovered over the chicks protecting them with her wings and body. The storm continued through the night.

Friday morning Mr. Slover found the mother hen buried up to her neck in drifting sand. He dug her out and one of the chicks had survived. The others had smothered. The hen was apparently none the worse for the experience.

FFA TEAM TAKES 3rd SHOW HONORS

Valdee Goodwin, Patton Springs junior, was high-point man in the Plainview Livestock Show held April 7. One hundred thirty-five boys competed. The Patton Springs judging team was composed of Goodwin, Doc Edwards and Jerry Slaton. Ed-wards won second in judging Milking Shorthorns.

The Patton Springs team won third place in the entire contest. Amarillo took first place honors and second place went to Bovina. Forty-five teams from over the plains and adjoining areas competed. A banner and bronze ideal cow representing first honors in judging in the Milking Shorthorn Division also went to the Patton Springs team.

The next contest will be held at Texas Tech where teams and individuals will compete for the privilege of going to the state contest at Texas A. & M.

Reeves To Address Press Association

Rep. Reeves is working with the Texas Press Association in sponsoring several publication bills and has recently addressed other press groups in the interest of the bills. Rep. Reeves will fly to Amarillo from Austin Friday morning and speak on the afternoon program. He will probably return to Matador with Tribune publisher Douglas Meador.

Rep. and Mrs. Reeves arrived here Thursday to spend the Easter holidays in Matador with relatives and friends. Their son, Pat, a student at Texas Tech arrived here Saturday to be with his parents until Sunday afternoon when they returned to Austin. Another son, Donald, who travels out of Amarillo for United Carbon, joined them here for lunch on Sunday.

George W. Ratcliff was born June 8, 1869, in Greenup County, Kentucky. He came to Ennis County, Texas, with his parents in 1876, at the age of 7. He moved with his family to Quannah in 1888 and as a young man, ranched in Moore County near the present town of Dumas. He came to Matador and was married to Miss Lydia Meador in 1907.

The couple later moved to Quannah, but returned to Matador in 1930. Mrs. Ratcliff died in February, 1952.

Services were held at the Matador Church of Christ, where Mr. Ratcliff had been a member since 1935. Leonard Dennis, Meador minister, and former Matador resident, officiated. Burial was made in Matador East Mound Cemetery under the direction of Eudy-Seale Funeral Home.

Jr. of Anaheim, Calif.; 11 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Eddie Campbell of San Antonio. Pallbearers were Frank Montgomery, Bill McCaghen, James Renfro, C. M. Thompson, J. E. Jameson and Raby Webb.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM 7000 State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex.—Easter bunny brought the golden egg! That, in a nutshell, describes developments in the Capitol City over week-end.

House members returned to town from the Easter holiday to discover that members of the Senate and taxation committee remained on the job, had fought out a compromise tax bill, and promised $45,000,000 in money.

Chairman Stator Stone and Speaker Jim Lindsey read it as their number-one priority for the week.

Although the committee sided with Gov. Allan Shivers' tax-cut bills and adopted the committee and asked that balance of his "program" be referred somewhere along the line.

Approved by the committee was the one-cent per pack tax increase on cigarettes, asked by the governor. Also included was a one-cent per gallon gasoline tax which was half what the governor suggested. An increase in beer operators license fees was projected into the bill as a session to strong House sentiment to include beer in the new money scheme. A fourth tax item was diesel fuel at 1.5 cents per gallon.

Under the proposed levies, $25,000,000 would be added to highway improvements annually, and $20,000,000 would go into the general fund.

House Speaker Jim Lindsey took a strong stand for the compromise plan. Governor Shivers complimented him for the progress made over the long week-end.

Waiting for nearly $60,000,000 in new money, before it can reach the governor, is the $1,500,000 biennial appropriation now in conference committee.

Governor Shivers regretfully left the scene of action. He went with Mrs. Shivers to Chicago where she will receive treatment for an ear ailment. She had a mastoid operation last year.

Before leaving Texas, the governor stated that he felt the current 120-day session, due to end May 10, might run two weeks beyond the four-month mark. Legislators, now drawing $25 per day, draw no pay after 120 days, unless a new session is called. Shivers has expressed his dislike for special sessions.

Charges Pile Up

Charges continued to mount against Bascom Giles, former commissioner of the general land office.

Latest were four felony theft charges placed against Giles by District Attorney Lee Procter of Travis County. It brought the total charges to date to $1,065,688.

Also charged on four felony theft counts was J. Paul Little, Crystal City attorney.

Giles and Little were each accused separately of theft from the state in four veterans land transactions last year in Zavala County. The total amount involved was $377,344.

Byrd Cattle Company refunded $25,068 to the state on one land deal.

Meanwhile, a Travis County grand jury continued its investigation of veterans land deals.

Giles' trial in the first of the felony indictments against him, to be heard in San Antonio District Court, was postponed until May 23. His attorney told the court that Giles was too busy with new charges and new civil suits to go to trial.

Giles is Defended

Stanley L. Fry, a Reeves county landowner, testified before the Senate investigating committee that Giles was a "hard trader for the state."

"Giles," said Fry, "argued and sweated over land prices and traded just as hard as if it was his own personal money."

Sen. Jimmy Phillips, chairman of the committee, asked Fry: "Did you pay Giles anything, or any employee of the board?"

"Not a dime," was the witness answer.

Land Program's Future

Despite a "no" vote by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd the veterans land program may be extended to veterans of World War I and Korea.

Other members of the land board—Governor Shivers and Land Commissioner J. Earl Ruder—voted to urge the legislature to offer the people a constitutional amendment on the question.

Shepperd said that while he favored the philosophy of veterans land benefits, he would withhold his approval of any new program until the legislature enacts "clear and strict regulations" as to its administration.

Meanwhile, veterans organizations were to decide whether to ask the program's continuation. A hearing is set for April 18 on Sen. George Moffett's bill designed to add another $100,000,000 to the veterans land program, via a constitutional amendment.

Short Snorts: Navigation was taken out of the Trinity River Authority bill by the House. Unemployment compensation benefits will be increased from $20 to $25 under a bill passed by the Senate. A bill to permit the state to fix minimum prices on natural gas has failed so far to get House approval. A conservation group won a round when the Senate decided to let the people vote on a $100,000,000 bond issue next September. The House is debating a counter-bond plan. Final action sent to the governor a bill to put "Section 1303-B" trust companies stocks under state securities control. Also passed insurance bills dealing with fire and casualty companies. Both houses have approved an increase in drivers' license fees to $2 (every two years), effective Sept. 1. It will permit the hiring of 200 additional highway patrolmen. A bill to prohibit the carrying of pistols in automobiles was withdrawn after a swarm of protests by motorists. Pensions of $100 per month for teachers, after 10 years of service, are called for in a proposed constitutional amendment passed by the Senate. Passed by both Houses and awaiting concurrence in amendments was a bill to ban objectionable comic books. The House has refused to consider a bill calling for removal from office of elected public officials who refuse to give testimony when their agencies are being investigated.

FAMOUS TEXANS' RECIPES

Baseball Immortal Prefers Beef Loaf All Year Long

Dizzy Dean

Fort Worth—Dizzy's Beef Loaf, hot or cold, is kept in our ice box all year long," Mrs. J. H. "Dizzy" Dean, wife of baseball's most colorful figure, confided on the eve of 1955's diamond season.

"I guess nobody knows better than Dizzy the sustained energy, the muscle-building proteins and the lasting nutritional value to be gotten by eating beef every day," Mrs. Dean said. "He prefers chuck roasts to rib roasts and would rather have his favorite beef loaf, a good round steak or one of the several ways we fix ground beef than any other meat dish."

Perhaps Dizzy Dean, a Texas-by-choice, likes "seasoned" beef recipes over just-broiled-and-served varieties because of the zest and gusto of his own personality. Who can deny this and remember his famous "slud into third" phrase and his continued adaptation of the English language to suit the demands of a vast following over CBS's televised "Game of the Week" throughout the last three baseball seasons?

A resident of Texas since 1938, the great Dizzy was a member of the "gashouse gang" of the St. Louis Cardinals and is recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame as well as in 31 state Halls of Fame.

The "Dizzy Beef Loaf" will be featured in the Texas Beef Council's "Famous Texan" recipe cookbook which is now being compiled. To make it, have on hand:

- 1 1/2 pounds round steak
- 1/2 pound pork
- 2 cups corn flakes
- 1 egg
- salt and pepper to taste
- teaspoon chili powder
- 1 mashed bud garlic
- 1 finely chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- #2 can tomatoes, mashed finely

Grind together beef and pork; add remainder ingredients. Mix well; shape into loaf. Bake in iron skillet at 350° for 2 hours. If gravy is desired, cover loaf for first 45 minutes; pour off juice and return loaf to oven uncovered for balance of baking time. Thicken juice from loaf with basic white sauce before serving.

Formby Addresses Church Behind The Iron Curtain

Avalanche Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written for United Press by the publisher of the Ravenna, Ohio, Record and Courier Tribune, about a Texas radio station group owner Both are members of a group of American editors and publishers that is touring Europe.

By Robert C. Dix

MOSCOW—One of our editors, Marshall Formby of Texas, found a common ground Sunday on which to commune with the Russians—services at the Moscow Baptist Church.

Formby, an outsized Texan with 245 pounds fairly well proportioned around a large frame, had trouble keeping back the tears as he related his experience to me.

A Baptist from Plainview, Texas, he had learned a little about the work of his church in the Iron Curtain capital, so he set out to find it and to talk with the Rev. Jacob Fhidy, president of the Baptist Union in Russia.

Formby Addresses Congregation

He found it—just a five minute taxi distance from the Kremlin—and not only talked with the Protestant leader but made an address to the congregation composed of more than 2,000 persons jammed into an auditorium area that ought not to hold more than 50.

Hearing the prayers and hymns of those people in Russia and then talking with them was about the most touching experience of my life," the big man said.

Formby told the group, which hung on every word he uttered, that its effort was well known among American Baptists. He pointed out that "Christ has died for the sins of the peoples of all nations" and he urged them to have faith and to pray for friendship and peace in the world, "especially between our two great nations."

Russians Sing To Texan

The entire congregation waited until Formby left the pulpit and then, as he was walking out of the room, sang the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", waving their handkerchiefs good-bye.

There are 5,400 Baptist churches in Russia, the Baptist Union President told Formby, with a total membership of 512,000.

Last year, 10,000 new members were added.

Of the evangelistic churches, the Lutherans have the most members in Russia, but the Baptists are the most active. In Moscow itself, the Baptists and the Adventists are the only active Protestant churches.

An intourist interpreter accompanied Formby to the service, an indication itself of the change in the government's attitude on the religious question. Politics, of course, is not mentioned—Lubbock Morning Avalanche.
