Lions Applaud Scouts For Colorful Program

Members of Matador Boy Scout Troop 60, with Scout of the Year Larry Hyyle serving as master of ceremonies, Tuesday conducted a colorful program depicting Scout activities, at the regular luncheon meeting of the Matador Lions Club. Lions applauded repeatedly at the conclusion of each "act" depicting some phase of Scout work. Scoutmaster Algie Groves disclaimed credit for the success of the Matador troop with a membership of approximately 60. He said assistant scoutmaster Freddie Welling was responsible for the progress the troop has made in the past year.

Scoutmaster Groves introduced a visiting Scout executive, Lomax Hatfield, deputy regional director of Dallas. Mr. Hatfield made a brief address in which he declared:

"Despite the effects of a severe drought in Texas, we have a bumper crop and boys are a definite Texas resource. I want to defend the youth of the entire nation in the matter of delinquency. According to J. Edgar Hoover and despite all the screaming headlines, less than 2% of the boys and girls of America are classified as juvenile delinquents. I want to defend the 98% of fine boys and girls who never get their names in the papers...."

Error Published In Polio Report

In publishing a final report of the county's polio drive last week, the Tribune made an error in the amounts collected by Whiteflat and Matador. The report should have shown Whiteflat as collecting a total of $178.29 and Matador as collecting $766.89. The Tribune regrets the error and apologizes to its readers, especially at Whiteflat where community workers were given credit for securing $100 less than the actual amount turned in to the fund.

New Phone Company Seeking Franchise

FINE SCORE MADE BY PATTON SPRINGS BOYS IN HOUSTON

Commendable scores were made Saturday by Patton Springs FFA boys entering the livestock and dairy judging contests in Houston. The dairy judging team won 19th place in competition with 175 teams. Morris Pruitt of Patton Springs tied for 10th place in the entire contest with 525 boys competing.

The team consisted of Pruitt, L. N. Dove and Lewis Young. Pruitt had a total score of 262 points out of a possible 300 points, tying with another boy for 10th place.

He was to receive a $200 heifer but due to a mistake in announcing the first results, officials failed to call his name. Later when they tried to find him he was not immediately available and his name was taken from the list, with a boy in a lower bracket receiving the calf. The two teams returned home Sunday afternoon.

No Rate Increase, Free REA Hook-Up Is Promised City

APPLICATION has been filed with the city council seeking a franchise for an independent company to install and operate a new telephone system in Matador.

Promoters of the enterprise said they would install a completely new and modern telephone system in Matador and give good service at the same rates now in effect by the General Telephone Company. In addition they promised officials that they would provide free extension service (on a no charge basis) to any REA lines coming into Matador (or that may be built into Matador).

It would mean that toll charges to connecting REA lines would be abolished and that calls into or out of Matador to rural patrons would be at no extra charge above the regular local or REA rates.

Mayor W. L. McWilliams told the representatives that he believed the council would consider their application. The Tribune has interviewed a part of the board of councilmen and it appears evident that the council will grant the franchise, in view of the General Telephone Company's recent application to again raise rates here.

The two young men who propose the new company may for a brief period remain anonymous as assurance against any miscarriage of their organization plans. They are responsible and experienced in telephone work. The Tribune believes they are sincere and that they will carry out the contract which they have offered the city.

Representatives of the proposed new company said they had sufficient financial support to install the exchange, but that they would attempt to sell shares in their company. The purpose, they declared, was twofold. They could use the operating capital and each stockholder would automatically become a booster for their company.

It was pointed out that the granting of the franchise would probably draw lines for a bitter fight between the new company and the General Telephone Company now serving Matador. Without the sustained loyalty of the people they could not continue to operate, they declared. "We can operate an exchange here and make a living at the present rates," one of the men declared.

Plans Advance For Bridge Tournament

A revived entertainment for residents of this and adjoining communities will be the bridge tournament scheduled for next Thursday, Feb. 24 at the VFW hut. The VFW Auxiliary will be sponsors of the event.

Interest in bridge has lagged for the past several years, due partly to other games, such as canasta, which came into public favor. Recently however, several clubs have been organized locally, and interest in the tournament has heightened as plans have progressed for the affair.

Everyone is invited to enter the tournament (with a partner) and a charge of $1.00 per couple will be charged. The tournament will begin at 7:30. It was further announced that prizes will be given and refreshments will be served.

We want to elect officers and a board of directors to control the organization's activities at present and in the future. We feel that with the present investment in equipment and the interest shown by youngsters in the work, that it can best be handled by an organization elected by the people."

Announcement was also made that the Drum and Bugle Corps will sponsor a pancake supper on March 1, with the proceeds going to the organization.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Applesauce is more readily acceptable if it is prepared with simple sugar and cooked to a proper consistency.

Contentment is partly dependent on accepting the biological him of destiny which causes mistakes to return to the locale of their origin to spawn their young.

Each life is like a spool of thread on the wide loom of time here the flying shuttle of minutes weave them into a continually extending fabric for the host's long corridor.

Life has drained away from the washed hill where the lone-house stands. Decay is in the cottonwoods and the lilac bush by mother planted. The rose line slings with dry fingers to sagging wire trellis; debris of the chicken house is rotting amid brown weeds and the path to the well is gone. Thick dust covers the organ keys and alters from the broken wall paper. The laughter and songs are gone, mocked by empty ears; muffled by layers of lilies that wrap the fragile ease of memories.

Yesterday's agony is healed by the robust circulation of contentment. For instance a man can now hang his coonskin coat in a safe and eat his dinner with reasonable assurance that the arment will not be molested. Some men in white jackets might watch the customer but they would not take his expensive coat.

Graft is like mistletoe. Despite its known parasitic tendencies it wears a romantic halo that warrants acceptance in the most civilized circles.

My brother who lives over in the eye water country, says a piece of siphon hose long enough to reach in a gas tank is known as an Oklahoma courtesy card.

It is not always easy to cultivate the right kind of friends. They may ask favors which we are not willing to grant, or refuse the favors we ask of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Key and small daughter, Toni, left Friday for California where they will make their home. They will reside at 1096 Laurelwood Drive in San Bernardino. Mrs. Key is the former Geraldine Waybourn.

Still Water Runs Deep

There's a fine young legislator at Austin from Lubbock, Waggoner Carr, who has a chance of becoming speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. The race has narrowed down to him and Representative Houston, Dallas County.

One of these will likely be speaker of the 55th Texas Legislature, according to newsmen who feel the pulse of the solons. The Plains delegation is for Carr, solidly, we hear, although we've not talked with them.

Let's take time to take a look at "our" boys of that delegation. There's Carr himself, a conservative, who sometimes goes with the liberals. That's a means of classification nowadays, which doesn't mean too much. The lines are not too closely drawn. For example, take President Eisenhower. He'd be classed generally as a conservative, having conservative backing. But there are ample examples of his liberal tendencies. As a matter of fact, Ike could have been the candidate of either the Democrats or the Republicans, and it was no fault of President Truman that Ike didn't run behind the mule, rather than the elephant. Herbert Hoover, who was World War I food administrator and an expert in European affairs, had the same choice. He could have run under either banner.

Look at the others of our area in the House. There's Jesse Osborn from Muleshoe, banker, farmer and practical statesman. Odell Gillham from Brownfield, former Plainview man, who married one of the Upton girls. He's a banker and once president of the Texas bankers' association. There's our own LeRoy Saul of Kress, who's doing an excellent job. Elbert Reeves of Matador has the kind of solidarity we all appreciate.

There are others out here in the Northwest who rate high, but we merely mention those who are next-door neighbors.

As a matter of fact, don't sell the Texas legislature short. It's a fine group of men, intently working for their idea of the best public interest. Some are better than others, just as in all human fields of endeavor.

Carr is a quiet sort of fellow.

There isn't a blustery one in "our" boys in the House.

"Still water runs deep."

Being as he's what he is and from where he's from, we'd sure like to see Waggoner Carr speaker of the House in the 55th session of the Texas Legislature.

Reserves Exceed All U. S. Production

Billions Of Barrels Of Texas Oil Not Yet Discovered, Researchers Declare

AUSTIN—The Texas Petroleum Research committee said last week that Texas has "hidden" oil reserves totaling 79.6 billion barrels, which exceeds the total oil production of the entire United States to date by almost 8 billion barrels.

The committee said that 94.4 billion barrels of oil had been discovered in Texas thus far and of the total, 14.8 billion barrels had been produced. According to the committee, oil still to be drawn from reservoirs will include 15.7 million barrels to be produced by conventional primary methods of recovery and 10.5 billion barrels that "probably" will be recovered by secondary recovery methods.

Asbestos Siding Adds Eye Appeal

These three attractive homes, constructed in a Philadelphia suburb, use much of their charm to the colorful asbestos-cement shingles with which they are sided. In each instance, added interest is provided by a small area of field stone under the living room window. Shadow lines between the siding courses are accentuated in a manner pleasing to the eye, while a striated pattern in the siding shingles makes vertical joints practically invisible. Located on the same block, the three homes harmonize with one another while each retains its individuality. Because of their beautiful colors and modern styling, architects report, asbestos siding shingles are becoming more and more popular for contemporary homes. Builders like them also for their durability and fire-safety.

With the above deducted, "this leaves 53.4 billion barrels of oil known to be present in Texas oil fields already discovered that lie awaiting the magic touch of the researcher", the committee said.

The research committee is made up of the Texas Railroad Commission, Texas A&M College and the University of Texas. The group has been working to find ways to cause the rocks and sands to give up this known hidden oil.

Proper Planting Reduces Work In Culture Of Shrubs

Many of our common shrubs can be listed as work saving shrubs if they are planted in the right place, and if soil preparation is made ahead of time, says County Agent Bill Palmeyer.

In listing jobs required by shrubs, watering and fertilization head the list. Rated as second and third are the problems of disease and insect control and pruning.

One mistake which many people make, continues Palmeyer, is in the use of young trees as shrubs. This results in later pruning problems and lack of balance in the landscape plan.

With the ranch type house that many people are building these days, he suggests that special attention be given to the use of tree shrubs. That is, shrubs that will not grow over 8 to 10 feet tall if they are neglected for several years. There are many shrubs which will survive with very little water and which have few insect enemies and diseases. Example of such shrubs which might be used near the house are nandina, abelia, rosemary, lavender, fitter juniper, dwarf pyracantha, flowering almond and others.

Attractive plants which require little water and are suitable for use in screen plantings and wind breaks include althea, Arizona cypress, cherry laurel, French mulberry, crape myrtle and desert willow.

Careful selection and placement of shrubs in the landscape plan will result in satisfaction for years to come—and save work too.

JUNIORS ORDER SENIOR RINGS

The junior class were all smiles Wednesday when they learned that they were going to pick their senior rings.
 They had quite a time deciding between a stoned ring and a round one. Finally they decided upon the round ring, which is very pretty. They are all in a frenzy trying to get their four dollars deposit paid. They will receive their rings in September.

Matador "B" Boys Play Turkey "B"

The Matador "B" boys took a 10-9 victory over the Turkey Turks "B" team here Monday. The Matadors built up a 4 point lead in the first half, only to have Turkey come roaring back to take a lead with less than two minutes to go. Then the Matadors made two points and a few seconds later they got the ball and held it till the end of the game.

Football Banquet Followed By Party

The annual Football Banquet was given by the pep squad, Friday night, at 7:30 PM, in honor of the regional champions. It was the crowning event of the "54-55" football season.

The principal speaker was Coach DeWitt Weaver, head coach of Texas Tech. After an interesting talk on "Why Play Football", he showed films of the Texas Tech-A&M at College Station.

Joanne Darsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Darsey, was crowned the football queen of the year. She was elected by the high school students. A program was given in music by Raynita Dunning and Kay Norman.

After the program, a party was given for the high school students by the mothers.

"A" Boys Defeat Turkey "A" Team

The game was close the first, although the Matadors were in the lead most of the time. The Matadors, at the first of the second half, could not seem to get rolling, and it began to look like a long night was in store, but then, the Matadors found themselves, and soon stretched their lead to 10, then 15, and finally 20 points, at which the "B" team took over. The Matadors took the final leading score of 58-36.

Daughters Honored At Annual Banquet

The seventeenth annual Mother-Daughter banquet was held in the basement of the First Baptist Church, on the night of February 10th.

There was a very large number, in fact, one of the largest that has ever attended the banquet.

The theme was "Sailing". The room interior was decorated with fish nets, anchors, palm trees, ships, and white life savers on the staircase. The tables were white and blue strips down the middle with styrofoam ships, and candy life savers, as favors for the daughters.

Tribune, Matador, Motley County, Texas, Thursday, February 17, 1955

The program was a medley of sea faring tales, as could be told only by the Mutiny of the Crew, who included Judine and Sue McCaghen, Winifred and Joanne Darsey, Lola and Carolyn Pohl, and Lucretia and Charlotte Campbell.

The menu included baked ham, potato salad, green beans, pineapple ring salad, with pecan, lemon, chocolate, cherry and many other kinds of delicious pie for dessert.

Lucretia and Mrs. Ben Edwards were chosen as the mother and daughter to give the welcome and response. Mrs. Melvin Meason was toastmistress.

Seniors Pick Invitations

The seniors saw more of their hard earned money change hands Wednesday, when the salesman arrived with samples of invitations.

There was a good bit of discussion as to which invitations to get, but an agreement was finally reached. The invitations, name card, and all that goes with it, will cost approximately twenty-four dollars per hundred.

The invitations are very pretty with the picture of Matador High School on front of them and the class roll inside. All of the seniors are very proud of them.

Sons Are Honored At Annual Banquet

The sons of Motley county were honored and fed by their fathers, Tuesday night, February 8, 1955, the forty-fifth anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The 18th annual Father-Son Banquet featured as the program, K. B. Hallmark, Jr., Captain of the Texas Highway Patrol and D. L. Cooper, expert marksman of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Captain Hallmark was introduced by County Judge Vance Gilbreath, who told some tales of Captain Hallmark and his youth. Afterwards, Patrolman Cooper gave an exhibition of his skill with firearms. He fired a 22 automatic, .38 revolver and a .45 automatic.

Mike Groves was master of ceremonies. Henry Pipkin and Curtis Graham were chefs. The banquet, which is sponsored by Matador Lions Club, was enjoyed by both sons and fathers.

GIRLS PLAY TURKEY

The Matador girls, playing perhaps their best game of the year, dropped a close decision to the Turkey Turks, 45-44. The Turks got a fairly large lead the first quarter, but the Matadors fought back and came within a few points of Turkey. They kept it that way all through the second half and had just scored a basket when the horn sounded ending the game.

day, February 11, with valentine boxes and parties in their rooms. A number of parents visited classes and assisted with and enjoyed the parties.

Together—with Faith—you'll build a richer life

"No man is an island —"

The really important moments of a lifetime are moments shared with your family.

These are the hours you remember

They are the ones which linger longest in the memory of your children.

Surely one of the greatest gifts within your power to give a child is your belief in God. And what more natural way to do it than by worshipping with your family each week at your church or synagogue. As they find God, so will your own faith grow.

Joining together in worship is more than an act of faith. It's a link with the future... a point upon which you and your family can build a better tomorrow.

He restoreth your soul... Worship together this week

Church Women Entertain Young People With Sweetheart Banquets This Week

Young people of Roaring Springs, Matador and Whiteflat were entertained this week with Sweetheart banquets given by the Woman's Missionary Union of the Baptist churches of those communities.

The Roaring Springs W.M.U. honored their young people and the High School senior class on Monday night at the Baptist Church.

Guest speaker was Bill Wadley, a ministerial student from Wayland College, Plainview.

Salad plate refreshments with coffee, were served to approximately 70 guests, at tables decorated with many small and large hearts, and floral arrangements with greenery.

Miss Schuller Is Speaker

Miss Lore Margaret Schuller, instructor of speech and Christian Recreation at Wayland College, was guest speaker Tuesday night at the annual Sweetheart banquet sponsored jointly by the W.M.U.'s of the Whiteflat and Matador Baptist churches.

The affair was held in the Matador church and featured a "Sweetheart Limited" theme which was carried out in a "Time Table" program with Arvin Ellithorp as "Conductor".

Miniature trains, cross roads, warnings attached to red tapers, heart-shaped road signs, pipette passengers with heart-decorated luggage, motto heart candies and many other table and wall decorations formed an appropriate background for the program. The menu consisted of salads, hot rolls, cherry pie, coffee and hot chocolate.

Conductor Ellithorp crowned Miss Patti Craven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Craven, Banquet Queen, after balloting by the group. Ed Clark of Wayland College, gave the invocation, and Mrs. Roy Mitchell, president of the Whiteflat W.M.U. welcomed the guests. Response was by Janey Sue Norman. Mrs. J. L. Woodruff, Matador W.M.U. president expressed appreciation to all who assisted in any way, with the banquet. Rev. Bruce Oliver, local Baptist pastor, presented the speaker, and special music included selections by the "Hep Cats" orchestra, songs by the Harmonaires, songs and vocal arrangements by a quartet from Wayland, and a solo, "It Is My Heart" by Ed Clark. Mrs. Bob Ham, at the organ offered a medley of selections preceding the banquet.

Customs Are Different

"There are differences in customs of my homeland and America—but when it comes to love, it all adds up to the same thing," Miss Schuller told her listeners.

A native of Rumania, she described the customs of love, courtship and marriage in that land, but pointed out that the language of love is the same in any country. "Love is a universal language," she asserted, "It isn't what you say, but how you say it."

Her radiant personality, and mannerisms delighted the audience as she told of the wedding bands being worn by a betrothed couple instead of an engagement ring by the bride-elect alone; of the marriage ceremony (always performed after sundown) in which the bridegroom's mother gives him in marriage as well as the bride's father giving his daughter; and of the good luck which broken dishes are believed to bring to a wedding. A serious note was injected into her talk in conclusion, when she told of the love of God and what it had meant in her life.

The most unusual custom she has encountered in America, Miss Schuller said, is the information

Nautical Background Lends Color For 17th Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet

A South Seas Island setting with a nautical background provided color and atmosphere for the 17th annual Mother-Daughter banquet sponsored by Matador Parent-Teacher Association, held Thursday evening, Feb. 10, in the basement of First Baptist Church.

With a boat off-shore, green crepe paper palm leaves made trees of the columns, and wall decorations included authentic appearing life-savers, anchors, and fish of various types. Table decorations included a variety of ships, and favors were miniature ships of styrofoam, complete with candy Life-Savers.

Pre-banquet organ music was furnished by Mrs. Bob Ham, and Invocation was offered by Mrs. Charlie Keith.

Mrs. Melvin Meason as Pilot of the "Good Ship P.T.A." introduced Mrs. Ben Edwards and her daughter, Lucretia, who gave the "First Mate's Welcome" and "Mid-Shipman's Response".

"Mutiny of the Crew" was staged by "gobs" and their "gals" impersonated by four mother-daughter teams who sang a medley of popular songs. They were, Lucretia (Mrs. R. E. Dixon), Charlotte Campbell, Jr. and Charlotte Campbell, and Joanne Darsey (Mrs. Robert) and Joanne Darsey, and Lola (Mrs. Frank) and Carolyn Pohl. Songs included Anchors Aweigh, Shrimp Boats, Dream Boat, Red Sails in the Sunset and Bell Bottom Trousers.

Swiftly Gets Slowed Down

Swiftly Fisher has a short temper and really hit the roof when he got a parking ticket last week. He wasn't near a hydrant or too far from the curb. There was a big sign saying "ONE HOUR PARKING" and he'd only been gone twenty minutes.

Running to Traffic Court, when Hack Miller was on duty, Swiftly hollered how he hadn't done anything wrong... how he is the most law-abiding driver in town.

But Hack examined the ticket, and smiled. "Slow down, friend," he said. "You're not guilty—except of making a big fuss over nothing. The ticket came from some kid's policeman play outfit."

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions can make anyone appear silly. Another way to look foolish is to make a quick decision on a question of personal preference. For instance, I like class of beer occasionally. You may be a buttermilk man. Best of neither of us ought to "lay down" the law "about the other's choice."

Flomot Baptist Brotherhood met Monday night and heard a talk by Rev. Hershel House, student at Wayland College.

Blood Pressure Is Indication Of Numerous Diseases

AUSTIN—Blood pressure—what does it mean?

Nothing more, says State Health Officer Henry A. Holle during this annual observance of heart disease control, than a measure of pressure against artery walls as blood courses through the body.

Everyone's blood pressure, according to the explanation, is highest when the heart pumps a fresh load of blood into elastic-walled arteries, and lowest when the heart pauses between beats for refilling. The high level is systolic, the lowest is diastolic pressure.

Physicians measure blood pressure by wrapping an inflatable rubber cuff around the patient's arm. When air is pumped into the cuff a column of mercury is forced into a glass tube. The height to which it climbs indicates the pressure inside the cuff and the compression brought against blood vessels in the arm.

Then, using a stethoscope, the physician determines systolic pressure by listening to the sound produced by blood flowing through the artery when the pressure in it is just above that in the cuff. The characteristic change of sound at the diastolic level is easily recognized by the physician.

No clear-cut line can be drawn between "normal" and "abnormal" blood pressure, the health official emphasizes.

"But it is generally agreed that a systolic pressure exceeding 140 or a diastolic pressure above 90 deserves further checking."

Age Affects Hypertension

Although age does not bring an automatic increase in blood pressure, high pressure—called hypertension—is most common in middle or advanced years.

Like temperature, high blood pressure is only an indication of certain diseases, rather than a disease itself. Only a physician, after careful study, can determine what it means.

Blood pressures vary greatly in the same person—during illnesses, and emotional stress, and with rest and sedative medicines. High blood pressure is often due to hardening of the arteries, kidney infections, brain or gland tumors, or to heart defects.

Symptoms of all types of high blood pressure are similar, though in many cases there are no symptoms. Headache, usually a pounding back of the head. Other symptoms include dizziness, fatigue, irritability, loss of memory, and pain.

Many of these symptoms occur in people with blood pressure, so they are automatic indicators of pressure irregularity.

Uncomplicated hypertension need not be a serious disease. Patients often live active lives with good management of their condition. And the best way to avoid complications is to be regularly examined by a physician.

"That's a smart habit for anyone to acquire," Holle concluded.

 sure to make an offer like this on a "bluff" basis," one of the men declared. "We know many other communities are facing the same problem which has been brought to Matador. We have selected this community to launch our enterprise and we hope to expand sufficiently to relieve other areas where higher telephone rates are continuing to be imposed. We have no tricks up our sleeves. We are meeting the problem in the only manner it can be met. We will be an independent company with exactly the same rights that existing companies enjoy.
 "We are neither coop nor REA," the man continued, "but completely independent. We will give the people completely modern service. We will make it possible for our exchange to handle the REA connections without any extra charge. We will cooperate in every way with the community and the area. We have investigated every phase of our venture through qualified attorneys and we are aware of our rights. The only thing we need is the assurance that the people will support us and continue to support us through possible eventualities."
